THIRTY-NINTH YEAR.

First Automobile Trades Day Monday Draws Big Crowds

A large crowd of people thronged the streets of Haskell all day Monday, as was the first of a series of Automobile Days for this city. Many prizes were offered by the merchants and business men to the visitors and of these were called for and given to those entitled to them.

Ed Mullins living east of town, won the greatest number of prizes. The largest family coming to town brought his entire family of thirteen to the city in a Ford car. All were seated inside the car.

Ed Davis proved to have the oldest Ford in actual service. He bought his in 1915, and it has been in the possession of the whites. He lives near the fair grounds and the faithful Jitney is still in dependence for travel.

The first Monday in March there was another Trades Day and better arrangements will be made for the year to register their claims. Those offered prizes that were not called for were disappointed and wished to give them to any one who would give them and prove their claim. We now give the names of those winning prizes and the parties to whom the prizes were awarded:

Prizes offered by R. V. Robertson, Fouts & Mitchell and the Adol. Filling Station were given to P. Mullins who brought his family of seven to town in a Jitney seated in the car. From R. V. Robertson received a $5.00 pair of shoes, from Fouts & Mitchell he received a dress and from the Adolphus he received 5 gallons of gas and a quart of prize offered by R. J. Reynolds for the car that had been used was given to West Davis who used a 1915 model Ford which had in daily service up to the present.

Mr. Reynolds gave a sack of flour and a sack of meal to Ed Davis and John Cox & Co. inner tube.

The Meat Market offered $1.00 of meat to any one who had run the longest on the least expense. The call for the prize.

Ed Mullins' Grocery Store and the Shaving Parlor offered a prize for the man driving a car to town on a day. Mr. Orison offered a 50 cent sack of Ghisole Flour and the Shaving Parlor a hair cut and shave. He made application for these prizes which were being offered by the Well's Furniture Company to the oldest lady driving a car into town on trades day. No one asked the prize. Ladies are reluctant to be the oldest woman in the city.

The Haskell Bargain Store gave a Prize to the man or woman bringing the car family to town on trades day. Ed Mullins received a pair of silk hose.

Waters Filling Station awarded the prize of a tank of Magnolia gas to Ed Davis driving the old model car the city on trades day.

An running Dodge Car farthest distance was awarded to M. O. from Kennedy's Garage. He received a 5 gallon can of motor oil.

Ed Mullins offered a prize for the best man in town on trades day. The prize was received by Perry B. Patton. Miss Lydia Tonn was given a present of young lady. Lunch served at noon as the prize.

The Cafe offered prize for the oldest married couple in the city which was not taken. Also a prize for the youngest married couple but no one asked for prize.

The latest married couple were offered a prize by Payne Drug Company but no one put in appearance for the prize.

The Shaving Parlor offered a prize for the first girl over 16 years of age to enter their shop who had never had her hair bobbed before but no one appeared to claim the prize.

English Motor Company offered a prize for the oldest Ford Driven the greatest distance, but no claim was registered.

McNeill and Smith offered a set of silver spoons for the latest married couple coming to their store, but no one came for the prize.

W. W. Fields and Son gave a 50 pound sack of Supreme Flour as a prize to the man raising the greatest number of bales of cotton by his own force and ginning it in the county. J. E. Evans received the prize. He grew and ginned 80 bales of cotton a few miles west of Haskell. McCollum Ellis & Couch gave a Dairy churn to Mr. Evans as premium on the greatest number of bales of cotton grown and ginned in the county on same conditions as the prize given by Mr. Fields.

Elam Parish gave Mrs. W. G. Pope a 50 pound sack Cherry Bell Flour for the largest amount of money received from poultry in the year 1924. Total number eggs laid by her flock of 80 hens 13,751 eggs. Total number of dozens sold on market, 954. Cash received for eggs sold, $216.63. With other produce sold from the farm added making a total of $322.48.

HASKELL BARGAIN STORE MOVES INTO NEW HOME

The Haskell Bargain store moved into their new home the first of the week, located three doors south of their old stand. The building has been thoroughly overhauled and remodeled throughout, making one of the most attractive business houses in the city. The postoffice will be moved in a few days to the corner building vacated by the Haskell Bargain Store.

GUY MAYES HOME UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Guy Mayes who is connected with Grison's Store of this city is erecting a new modern bungalow residence a few blocks west of the square on Walton Street. The wall of the building is about complete and the roof will be put on in the next few days. This nice home will be another splendid addition to new home building boom that has been going in Haskell for the past several years.

AMUSEMENT PARK PROPOSED HERE

Roads are being grubbed and graded around the entire Fair Park and Race Track, also in and through the Booth English tract of land just south of the Fair Park which we learn is to be made into a most beautiful amusement park, with a lake covering several acres, concrete swimming pool adjoining, children's wading tank, swings, teeter-totters, etc., making it a children's playground as well as an amusement park.

It is hoped that this project goes over for there is nothing more needed in Haskell county as there is not a bathing pool conducted under the State Board of Health within fifty miles of Haskell. When we get it, let's support it and make it worth while. This will bring more people to Haskell this summer than anything we have, also people that seldom if ever visit our city.

SINGING CONVENTION WILL MEET AT ROCHESTER

The West Side Singing Convention will meet at the Baptist Church in Rochester the fourth Sunday afternoon February 22, at 2 p. m. All singers are requested to be present. A good program is being arranged for your entertainment. Come.

Boy W. Neal Moves to the City

Boy W. Neal has moved his family from the farm to the city during the past week. He has been farming for the past several years, but has rented out the farm and will follow other employment. The city of Haskell welcomes this good family to a place in her progressive circles.

W. W. Rhodes and family of Hawley spent the week end with W. R. Cook.

Mr. Rhodes and Mrs. Cook are brother and sister.

Inspiration

Board of City Development to Launch Membership Drive

The entire Board of City Development and business men of our city will soon make a drive for membership, headed by the Finance Committee of this organization, composed of Mr. R. V. Robertson, Oscar Outes and John A. Couch, and it is hoped and urged that these "Minute Men" that call on you will get all the support possible. Let's make our town one hundred per cent for our Board of City Development that is working for our town and have been getting the most favorable comment from all West Texas.

The Board has many projects ahead of them that will mean millions in money to not only Haskell but to the county. They have functioned thus far without calling on you and it takes money to put over these things. Look back the past eight months and see if you don't think their efforts are worth while.

The thing that has put Haskell ahead and that is going to keep it ahead is the dynamo that generates the notable spirit that has manifested itself lately. That dynamo is the Haskell Board of City Development with its efficient manager. It is the agency that keeps Haskell looking forward and keeping Haskell people on their toes, ready to go forward. Haskell is today standing on the threshold of what probably will be one of her greatest years of opportunity and the unification of interests can best be brought about through a general membership in such an organization.

The opportunity of membership in such an organization affords not only the progressive business men, but every member of associating himself with other enterprising business men, which as we all know is helpful. Every citizen in Haskell is profiting by the Board of City Development, which in turn is enlarging our city and making it a better place in which to live. Money lubricates the wheels of fortune and our commercial organization cannot function smoothly and develop the necessary power to serve itself, the city and surrounding territory unless it is properly financed.

Support those that support you and when you are called on do not hesitate for it will prove to be the best money you ever invested.

ELDER HANKS WILL PREACH AT WEINERT NEXT SUNDAY

Services will be held by Elder L. L. Hanks in the High School building at Weinert next Sunday February 8, at 2 p. m. Everybody invited to come and hear Elder Hanks, who is a great preacher of the Church of Christ.

R. L. Penick of Stamford was a Haskell visitor Friday. Mr. Penick is one of the old timers of his home town and has always been a booster and a promoter of every good cause. He is the pioneer poultry breeder of West Texas, having made the Rhode Island Red famous in this section of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Yates of Weinert were in the city Saturday shopping.

NEW DEPUTY IN THE COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE

Some changes have taken place in the County Clerk's office since the first of the year. Jason C. Smith, who has been deputy clerk for quite a while, resigned and will be manager of the Cash-Meat Market, taking charge March 1st. Mr. English has sold his interest in the market to Mr. Smith. Reynolds Wilson, who has been with the Farmers State Bank, has accepted the place in the Clerk's office made vacant by Mr. Smith's resignation. Also Mr. Menefee has added the assistance of Miss Linnie Mae Turner of Weatherford who has been in the office part of the past month.

BAND WILL USE ELKS CLUB ROOMS FOR PRACTICE

The Elks Lodge has very generously tendered the use of their club rooms to the Haskell band boys as a practice room, to be used every Friday night. This will give the boys a very attractive place to practice and will be appreciated by them as well as those who are backing the band financially.

BAYLOR COUNTY KILLING

Fred Heartsell, 51, was shot and killed on Main Street in Bomarton, Baylor County, Sunday afternoon, Dr. W. L. Gaines, a Bomarton physician, surrendered to Sheriff J. B. Seif, following the shooting.

Heartsell was shot through the left lung and abdomen with a 16-gauge hot-gun and lived only a few minutes. He died before medical aid could reach him. The shooting took place in front of the Gaines Drug Store and is said to have been the culmination of a feud of long standing. Heartsell is survived by his widow and one daughter.

FARMERS URGED TO PLANT FOR FAIR

The Haskell County Fair Association urges the farmers to look forward to this year's fair and the exhibits that Haskell County will have at Abilene, Wichita Falls, and the Dallas fair. And you remember we won first at Abilene and eighth at Dallas against the most keen competition known in the entire south. This year it is hoped that we shall be able to show at all three fairs in a most creditable manner and run second to none in Texas or Oklahoma. We have a wonderful seasoning to go with and there is no reason why we can't open the eyes of the world as to what Haskell county can produce. Plant, cultivate and take care of your prize fruit, vegetables and agricultural products.

BOARD OF CITY DEVELOPMENT TO MEET THURSDAY FEB. 12th

There is to be a regular meeting of the Haskell Board of City Development at the Library building Thursday night at 7:30, February 12th. All members of the Board are urged to be present without fail.

COUNTY AGENT DISCUSSES THE GRASSHOPPER QUESTION

Since the snow of a few days ago I have noticed articles in several of the State papers in reference to the grasshopper damage expected this year. Most of the articles have stated practically all the grasshopper eggs have been destroyed by the cold weather, so no damage is to be expected from the pests this year. It may be true that the grasshoppers will not do any damage to the crops in this section this year, however, too much faith should not be placed in the cold weather destroying the grasshopper eggs. It is often to remember that grasshoppers often do considerable damage in Canada although winter temperatures fall far below zero; also that Montana has to be prepared to wage a grasshopper fight every year, here too, the temperature falls very low, Kansas is often thought of as experiencing severe grasshopper damage, and the temperature sometimes falls as low as 31 degrees below zero.

Sever cold weather is not so disastrous to grasshopper eggs as alternate periods of freezing and thawing, especially if there is a great deal of winter moisture. There are such a large number of different factors concerned in this matter that it is hard for anyone to say just what the outcome will be until later in the season. The extended season of wet weather through last winter, in itself, would have led us to believe that most of the eggs would be destroyed, and yet we had a severe outbreak in 1924.

W. P. Trice, County Agent

Lease Glenn Blacksmith Shop

H. S. Highnote, Frank Martin and W. H. Starr have leased the R. P. Glenn Blacksmith Shop south of the square and will operate the shop along the same lines. They took charge the latter part of January and expect to do a prosperous business.

WILL KEEP TAB ON PRODUCTION OF FLOCK

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moore of near Rochester motored over to Haskell Monday and while here Mr. Moore called at our sanctum as is his usual custom when he comes to town. He stated that he was going to keep tab on the production of his poultry flock this year and then he could know what his flock was paying. His January egg production was very satisfactory selling on the market $28.00 worth of eggs besides what was used in cooking and a few supplied to neighbors from which no charges were made. He does not have one breed of fowls, but began with White Leghorns and crossed them with Reds, later adding Wyandotte blood to his flock which he says has developed into excellent layers of large size.

RURAL SCHOOLS GET $14,440 STATE AID

State Aid Inspector J. B. McClung of Austin has completed the work of inspecting schools in Haskell county and his report is very favorable indeed according to County Superintendent A. A. Heathington. Twenty-five rural schools and three independent districts were given State Aid to the amount of $14,440. This according to a statement given out by State Inspector McClung was about $80.00 per school above the average state aid given to schools over the state. There are forty-five rural schools in the county but only twenty-five asked for State Aid. This report gives to Haskell county schools quite a boost and Mr. Heathington is dated over the excellent progress that Haskell county schools are making.

MR. AND MRS. T. J. LEMONS VISIT DAUGHTER AND FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lemons Sr. returned Sunday afternoon from a visit to their daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Jenkins of Tuscola. Uncle Tom says that he had been wrestling with the flu for quite a while and he believed a trip would help him so he cranked up his coupe and made the trip. He found the roads fine after he passed Stamford and was only about three hours driving from Haskell to Tuscola. He has been on the wagon for Haskell Laundry Company and knows just how to pull the throttle of a Ford. He says the trip has helped him wonderfully and he is now back on the job with renewed energy.

SORRELLS APPOINTED CITY MARSHAL

City Marshal J. E. Holmesly resigned his place here, which took effect February 1st, and has entered the garage business in Weinert. He has purchased the old Weinert Garage and took charge of same after his resignation. W. T. Sorrells, former deputy sheriff, accepted the place made vacant by Mr. Holmesly and took up his duties last Sunday morning.

$10,000 FOR NAME FOR THE NEW AMUSEMENT PARK

The management of the new and proposed Haskell Amusement Park to be situated in the old Booth English pasture south of the Fair Park will give to the person sending in the most appropriate name for the park, $10,000.

There is to be constructed a tourist park, lake, swimming pool, children's wading tank, pavilion and band shell, tables, benches and drives and you are asked to take a drive down Sunday and look the park site over, then submit your suggestion as to its name. Only persons living in Haskell county are eligible to contest.

The judges in this contest are Mrs. J. V. Fields, and Mrs. Hardy Grison, and you will be expected to send in your suggestion to either of these ladies. Contest closes Saturday, March 14, 1925. The winner of the contest and the name selected will be published in the Free Press on March 20th. Not over two suggested names from any one person.

Returns from Hueket

I. V. Murrel and Huey Cook returned from Dallas Wednesday morning where they had been to buy stock for the new dry good store of I. V. Murrel & Sons. The goods have already begun to arrive and just as soon as the building is completed they will open up the store.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mcelford and children were visitors to Haskell Saturday from the Howard community.

FARMERS INTERESTED IN LAND TERRACING

We are glad to note that a large number of farmers in the county are taking interest in conserving their soils and enriching their farms by terracing their places to prevent the water from passing off so rapidly. According to the County Agent interest is being shown in this work from all portions of the county to the extent that it will be impossible for him to do all the work before it will be necessary for the farmers to get their land in condition for the coming crop. He informs us that Sam Sorenson, who farms a large tract east of town has ordered him a farm level and is to run his own terraces. Also that Henry Druessdow, who lives out near Roberts School, has had a "V" drag made to use in the construction of terraces on his place.

These men are, we believe, the first in Haskell county to speciality to conserve their farms and which we hope will be repaid to them many fold, in the years to come, in the form of better crops.

GOOD ROADS COMMITTEE TO GO TO ASPENMONT SATURDAY

The Haskell Good Roads Committee is to meet with the Chairmont Good Roads Committee at Aspenmont on Saturday. Mr. O. E. Patterson, R. M. Whiteaker, Courtney Hunt, Prof. H. D. Neff and Turner Camps will be in the party.

The outlook for the designation for the East and West Highway from Graham to Post City looks most promising.

4361 POLL TAX RECEIPTS ISSUED

According to Chas. M. Conner, Tax Collector for Haskell county, he has issued 4,361 poll tax receipts up to February 1 of this year, for the 1924 taxes. There were 4,770 issued for 1923, showing a loss in receipts issued of 409 for the year of 1924. The total number assessed last year was 5,214, which was the greatest number of poll tax ever assessed in Haskell county and up to the present more than 1,000 of the assessed remain unpaid. Mr. Conner reports quite a number of substitutes collected in the poll tax list collected, which are included in the above list of poll taxes paid.

A DANCER WHO HAS INTERVIEWED THE PRESIDENT AND SAYS THAT HE IS NOT SILENT 'WAL.'

Photo shows Dorothy Dilley, seventeen-year-old dancer in the Music Box Review, who was received in private audience by President Coolidge during a recent engagement at a Washington theatre. Miss Dilley went to the White House alone, fortified with a letter from her uncle, the Hon. Guy E. Dilley, representative of the 40th District in the Minnesota Legislature. After a half hour with the President, Miss Dilley confided to newspaper men that Mr. Coolidge is not silent, stern and distant. "Why," she exclaimed, "he laughed and talked all the time I was there, and when I asked him how he liked being President, he replied, 'How do you like being a dancer?'"

Some who stand for progress are apparently content to remain standing.

PROBLEMS COME IN WITH ADDED YEARS

Provision Must Be Made for Life's Extension.

That the "average man" is now in possession of a considerable span of life in excess of that enjoyed by his "average grandfather" is emphasized anew by Sir George Newman, chief medical officer of the ministry of health, in his annual report for 1923, published recently. The facts and figures, moreover, which he submits, justify the conclusion that this greater expectation of life is likely to be permanent, a writer in the London Times comments. It may even be extended as the years pass. The bounty has come suddenly, within the space of a generation; so suddenly, indeed, that few of the recipients appear to know what to do with the unexpected gift. The majority go aimlessly to this new country of old age like so many "trippers." They are ill at ease; almost, it would seem, apologetic of their presence.

That perhaps is always the attitude of the "new rich," whether their riches be measured in sterling or in days and years. Yet the world is agreed in regarding it as an attitude of transition, a clumsiness of behavior and mind to be overcome as speedily as possible. Thus there is within sight a revision of the outlook upon old age. Not much longer will this period be regarded as a gambler contemplates his unexpected winnings; the time has arrived when the "feeling of luck" old age is supposed to cherish must be exchanged for a sense of right. Old age will be counted on, like youth and middle age. It may even be pledged in advance to definite aims and purposes.

This sense of a new inheritance in years, and all that it implies, has nothing in common with the old idea of growing old gracefully. Indeed, it is rejection of that doctrine of passive resistance to the inevitable. To have planned the later years as the earlier are planned is to have filled them beforehand with the spirit of enterprise, which is the spirit of youth. It is to refuse to grow old at all. Such an attitude was impossible a generation ago; it is inevitable in these days. Indeed the whole scheme of living is now in process of transformation. For the added years exert an influence which extends back almost to the schoolroom. They make youth and the thoughts of youth longer, and they amplify and deepen the significance of maturity.

Thus men and women are able to take wider views and to build their hopes higher. The footholds of pursuing Time have lost something of their menace. There are signs, in the present world, of the march of this process of evolution. Superficially the pace may appear to be quicker; actually there is less hurrying towards achievement. And resentment is keener against the charge of "growing old." Youth and age, indeed, seem to be discovering fresh bonds of sympathy in the general quickening of enthusiasm which is the accompaniment of an assurance of longer life. Age has so very much to give to youth and is so much more capable now of giving it effectively. The complaint is often made that each year of added existence tends to create an "older outlook" in the general mind by altering the proportions of recruits and veterans. But that complaint becomes groundless when the spirit of youth remains alive and active in the hearts of the old campaigners. Divided no longer by an impassable physical barrier, age and youth can meet on terms of equality in the common service of humanity.

Plant Trees to Save Birds

Three hundred coconut palms are to be shipped immediately to Bird Key, one of the Tortugas Islands off the southwest coast of Florida, to protect the noddy tern from extinction, according to Dr. Paul Bartsch of the Smithsonian institution. This tiny island is the only place under the American flag where this species of gull-like birds breed. Several years ago a tropical hurricane swept across the island and destroyed the trees in which they used to nest. Now it is planned to grow new trees to provide apartments for these rare terns.

Jewelry From Hard Coal

Polished hard coal as a substitute for jet in the production of rings, necklaces, watch fobs, ornamental hat trimmings and similar articles, is being experimented with by a German inventor. Selected hard coal is used and after the substance is cut as near to the required dimensions as possible, it is finished off with fine files and then polished. Monogram rings inscribed with initials inlaid in white enamel present a smart appearance, and few are said to be able to guess the nature of the substitute.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

BUNKER HILL

If Mr. Ground Hog was awake and made any effort at all he had no difficulty in finding his shadow this time. Now we are all going to see if he is an accurate weather prophet for West Texas.

Quite a few of the young folks from this community attended the party at Mr. Childers of the Post community Saturday night. Everyone must have enjoyed themselves immensely for they are still telling us about it.

Our first elimination contest in Decimation was held at the school house last Wednesday night and was well attended by the patrons of the school and by visitors from several other schools.

Mr. Reed, Mr. Fourquaren, Mr. Purdom, Mr. McIntyre and their families met at Mr. E. J. Boedeker's Saturday night and enjoyed a real hard fought forty-two game. They don't seem to be satisfied for they are planning to try it again this week end.

A number of the boys and girls paid Mr. Martin a surprise call at his store about ten o'clock Saturday night. Mr. Martin proved to be a congenial host. He entertained with music and jokes. Then offered to treat the crowd if one of them could eat five crackers in five minutes and whistle. McKenzie accepted the challenge. He ate the crackers and whistled quite a bit before his time was up. The crowd accepted the treat.

You should see our school yard now. Mr. Robert Fourquaren finished dragging the road Monday and came over and dragged our ground. "Thanks awfully, Bob."

Quite a few of us were fortunate enough to attend the musical recital given in Stamford by Mrs. B. C. Burrow last Friday night. Miss Lena Boedeker is a member of the class and was one of the participants.

Mr. J. B. Beard of Roscoe was visiting relatives here last week end.

ELECTRIC COOKERY is better cookery!

The evenly regulated heat eliminates the guesswork of cooking and substitutes scientific exactness. Cooking failures are rare—success the rule. The same heat which produces a satisfactory result one time will duplicate it every time.

Heat from the electric speed units is evenly distributed under the entire cooking utensil. There is no fluctuation in intensity, and no cool spots where food does not cook, nor hot places where it burns if not constantly stirred. This uniformity removes the danger of under-cooking as well as burning.

The heat-insulated, air-tight oven prevents evaporation with consequent shrinking of roasts and loss of natural juices and flavor which always take place in an oven that must be ventilated in order for the fuel to burn. Nor are there any fumes or soot to contaminate the food.

Meats are richer, juicier; bread is more moist, keeps longer; cakes are more delicate in flavor and of finer texture; biscuits more beautifully browned; everything has a more delicious taste. Good cooks become better; inexperienced cooks quickly learn to cook with assured success.

SOCIETY and Club

Mrs. Wayne Koonce Honored

Mrs. Bill Hills gave a very pretty tea carrying out the Japanese motif, Thursday afternoon at her home in Rule, Texas, honoring Mrs. Wayne Koonce. The rooms were darkened and the lights hung with Japanese lanterns. All the members of the house party except the receiving line wore beautiful and colorful Japanese robes.

The guests were welcomed at the door by Mrs. Lennis Jones who introduced them to the following members of the receiving line. The hostess, the honoree, Mrs. T. A. Pinkerton, Mrs. Jesse G. Foster, and Miss Ella D. Koonce. The pretty little Japanese maiden who held the end basket was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buford B. Hills. Mrs. Jim Lindsey and Mrs. Server, Leon sat on cushions behind the beautifully appointed tea tables and poured the tea. Refreshments were passed by the following attractive young women: Mesdames Marlin Wilson, Jess Campbell, J. B. Pumphreys and David B. Earnest. Mrs. Buford B. Hills played the victrola in the guest room.

Magazine Club

The members of the Magazine Club seem very interested in the club work and in the course of study this year, as there is a large attendance at every meeting. Mrs. O. E. Oates, first vice president, presided over the meeting Friday afternoon and after the business Mrs. H. S. Post directed a splendid program on "The Forest Lovers," a novel by Maurice Hewlett. Mrs. R. C. Montgomery gave a short sketch of Hewlett's book "Richard Yea and Nay". Mrs. O. E. Oates talked on Maurice Hewlett "The Man and the Novelist". Mrs. Flewellon of Big Spring sang "Voices of the Woods." Those already mentioned and the following answered roll call with very interesting bits of current news. Mesdames C. L. Lewis, John Oates, H. M. and N. T. Smith, Irene Ballard, Virgil Meadors, Roy Shook, Ben Hardy, Jno. Ellis, N. I. McCollum, H. D. Neff, R. E. Lee, W. H. Murchison, Ed Sprowls, Bailey Post, J. E. Bernard, A. H.

Attend Convention in Dallas

Mrs. H. M. Smith accompanied her husband to the Hardware Men's Convention last week and was made to feel very proud of her home town as she was invited by one of the largest clubs in Dallas to hear Miss Long lecture on "Interior Decoration." She had heard the same lecture here several years ago. She saw "The Fool" played and had heard Miss Day's beautiful rendition of it so recently here. Do we all appreciate the very good things that we have right here in the home town?

Harmony Club

The Harmony Club met in a business session Wednesday afternoon with the president, Miss Eunice Huckabee presiding. Plans were made for the Easter songs. When the Harmony Club begins practicing for any special occasion Haskell people have learned to look for a musical treat.

Easter Sale

The Parent-Teachers Association will have a miscellaneous sale on Friday and Saturday April 17th and 18th. The place of sale will be announced later.

Gambrell of the First Baptist Church pronounced the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Steele will make their home in Plainview, Texas. Our congratulations and best wishes go with them to their new home. May their happiness be sweet and their joys complete as the years roll by.

Missionary Society in All Day Meeting

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church met last Monday with Mrs. Ben Hardy at the parsonage in an all day meeting. The foreign mission study book, "China's Real Revolution" in eight chapters was given in detail. Mrs. J. U. Fields, in her usual efficient manner, directed this study course and taught the first chapter. Mesdames T. A. Williams and I. W. Kirkpatrick gave chapters two and three after which Mrs. Fred Sanders led the devotional and read scriptures that especially emphasized the Heavenly Father's love for all people. A delicious plate luncheon was served at the noon hour. Then the president, Mrs. I. W. Kirkpatrick, called the meeting to attention when words of love and appreciation for Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Patterson, who have so faithfully served the Methodist Church over a period of years in various capacities, were spoken by everyone present, and Mrs. Charles Parsons and Mrs. Leo Southern were delegated to present them with a cedar chest, a Kiddie Koop, with beautiful silk coverings for their little son born February 1, 1925, from the church membership and the missionary society. Mrs. Fields then introduced the District Secretary, Mrs. J. H. Rutherford of Stamford, who addressed the society on phases of her work. Then the following ladies had a part in bringing out the high points of the remaining chapters of the study book on China: Mesdames Leo Southern, Burl Cox, Calvin Henson, Chas. Parsons, R. C. Montgomery, and Ben Hardy. This was voted to be an unusually fine and instructive meeting. Two out of town guests were numbered with the thirty members present, they were Mesdames J. R. Pratt and J. H. Rutherford of Stamford.

Mrs. Wayne Koonce Entertains

Mrs. Wayne Koonce invited a number of friends from Haskell and Rule to the home of her father and mother Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Price and Oscar Oates of Haskell and Messrs. and Mesdames Jess Campbell and Marlin Wilson of Rule.

Fields and was brought to Haskell to lecture on Art by six enterprising club women. Mesdames J. E. Fields, S. R. Rike, Fred Sanders, W. H. Murchison, Hardy Grissom, and H. W. Bryant. Then is apt to come lameness, soreness and stiffness; constant backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and irregular or painful passage of the kidney secretions. Don't risk serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills before it is too late. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

THE MISSING CYLINDER OF A COMMUNITY.

The progressive town is like a fine six or eight cylinder car, purring along evenly as it carries its passengers, the residents of the community, over the hills that stand in the way of prosperity. But sometimes a good looking town, like many beautiful cars, will roll along evenly while the roads are level, but upon reaching a hill of business adversity, will slow up, knock and jerk, and finally come to a dead stop before it reaches the crest. A missing cylinder, you say? Yes, and that missing cylinder is the man or woman who shows no interest in home town business or in the welfare of the community.

TEAMWORK FOR OUR TOWN.

In every city, town and hamlet we may find strong competition in business, differences in politics and religion, social rivalries and personal antagonisms—and these will probably always exist to a greater or less extent. But there is one common ground of which all should be willing to meet, laying aside personal grievances and prejudices—that is, where the common welfare of "our town" is concerned. In other words, no matter how much we may disagree and fight among ourselves, we should stand up for our town against all opposition. This sort of teamwork is what makes a town worth while, insures its progress and a better understanding among its people.

By joining with an enemy or rival in some movement for the betterment of the community, we often find him to be a pretty good sort of fellow, after all. Development of a strong community spirit is essential to community advancement and no personal feelings should be permitted to stand in its way. Loyalty and teamwork are the things that count.

GROWING.

Haskell has never experienced a mushroom growth, but is now forging ahead with a steady growth. Her resources are unlimited, and opportunities many for those who have faith in her future, and are willing to join those who are doing everything in their power to make it a better town. Our citizens are not looking to outside capital to develop our resources—though it would be welcome—they are backing their faith in the future with their own resources, and when men are willing to do that—any town's future is assured. The Board of City Development is to be congratulated on their work of bringing our citizenship into one working unit, and to a realization of the fact that anything that will benefit Haskell as a whole, is good for every individual in the town and surrounding country.—Haskell Free Press

Haskell has got the right idea about growth. There is a unity of effort there that you do not always find in towns, and because of this unity, Haskell is going to go ahead and grow just as Haskell has been steadily growing. And what is true of Haskell, is true of all other towns in this part of the state. They're going ahead and growing all the time.—Abilene Reporter.

KENTUCKIAN TYPICAL AMERICAN SOLDIER

His Record Speaks, but He Himself is Silent.

Kentucky has the most modest hero of the World war. She also has the "heroest here" of the same war in the self-same individual, and her claim to this distinction is attested by General Pershing and Marshal Foch, says a special dispatch from Lexington, Ky., to the Washington Star. Kentucky's star hero is Sergt. Willie Sandlin, from Devil's Jump branch, Hell-fel-Sartin creek, Leslie county, and he looks the part, with a wiry frame, determined jaw and keen eye, fearless as a fighter, but extremely shy at all attempts to exhibit his deeds.

Willie—not a nickname, but a full-fledged monicker—was induced to come to Lexington for a celebration as the honored guest of Hugh McKee post 677, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and was introduced by R. E. Lee Murphy, state commander.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars elected him to membership in that organization for 20 years without payment of dues, with the promise that his membership would be renewed at the expiration of that time "if he lived longer than 20 years on the $10 a month allowed him by the veterans' bureau for the support of his wife, two children and himself."

Here is the story, as it happened in one day:

The general advance was on. Six divisions were participating. Sandlin was in command of a platoon.

About seven o'clock in the morning the advance was checked by a hot fire from a machine gun nest. An order to halt and lie down came along the line. Sandlin's men heard it and obeyed. Sandlin did not. He advanced directly on the machine gun nest, and at 30 yards threw a grenade. Three others followed, and he then jumped into the pit. Three of the eight men were alive and gave battle. Sandlin killed all of them with his bayonet.

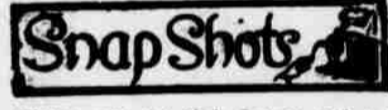

The line came up and Sandlin resumed command of his men. Half an hour later machine gun fire again caused the order to halt. Sandlin did not. He rushed this nest as he did the other, employing the same tactics. This time, when his grenades were all spent, there were four men still defiling the nest. Another single-handed battle—and they were all dead except Sandlin when the line line came up.

The third nest encountered was not reached until two o'clock. Just as before, Sandlin advanced upon it. His grenades in this instance wounded every man in the pit, but he had to dispatch two who still gave fight, as well as the others whose wounds had not proved immediately fatal.

Later that day Sergeant Sandlin participated in taking the strong point which was German battalion headquarters.

BE USEFUL.

There is but one straight road to success, and that is merit. The man who is successful is the man who is useful. Capacity never lacks opportunity. It can not remain undiscovered, because it is sought by too many anxious to use it.

Your kind expressions of sympathy is deeply appreciated, and gratefully acknowledged.

Qualities That Make for Happy Marriage

If you ask half a dozen friends which quality is most likely to make for happiness in marriage you will probably receive half a dozen different replies. And all will be illuminating.

The man much occupied with business may regard common sense as supremely important. An imaginative woman will tell you that sympathy is the first essential, while a less sensitive minded woman suggests good temper. The grace of cheerfulness, the benediction of that "ordinary" kindness which, because so rare, is so extraordinary, the sunshine of a merry nature, the tender appeal of usefulness—all these qualities make for happiness in marriage.

But what is the final test? Which of all the varied characteristics of human nature is, if developed and cherished, most likely to bring enduring happiness in marriage?

The answer is to be found in an observation not of new marriages, but of those which have known years of storms, of disappointments, of disillusion, says Jane Traversor in the London Mail. In happy marriages, which might so easily have been unhappy, it is not the power of being companionable which has kept husband and wife together?

Marriages have often come to a tragic end because the man and the woman have not learned to be friends. In a marriage where the joys of companionship have been incompletely realized a disappointment in marriage as such may lead to permanent estrangement. But where there is real friendship, a happy companionship, a joy in doing things together, the desire to continue a great comradeship may prove stronger than the wish to end a disappointing marriage.

Modern women expect much more from life than their mothers expected. I am always surprised and a little envious when, reading the novels of the later Victorian days, I find how contented women were with a little happiness. They made a little joy go a long way.

The women of today might take a lesson from those unconscious heroines. If marriage as a romantic relationship has proved a disappointment, there is inspiration and refuge in the knowledge that friendship between husband and wife may be the most beautiful relationship in the world, becoming a more lasting bond than the marriage tie itself.

Spelling Reform Needed

An elderly gentleman from the East was visiting his daughter in San Jose, Cal. Of course, he pronounced the name according to the spelling, until they impressed it upon him that in Spanish j has the sound of h.

By and by he started to see a son in Watsonville, on a branch line a mile or so from the junction at Pajaro, and as the cars from Pajaro to Watsonville passed directly by the son's house the old gentleman's railway ticket was for Pajaro. He looked at it in a puzzled way, then threw it down in disgust, exclaiming:

"Well, sir! They can tell me that 'j-o-a-r-o' spells 'Hozy,' but they needn't tell me that 'P-a-j-a-r-o' spells Watsonville!"—Kansas City Times.

Model Convict Prison

One of the most up-to-date penitentiaries in the world is to be found in Switzerland. The old idea of solitary confinement is eliminated altogether and the institution is practically self-supporting. When the level of Neuchatel lake was lowered by the drainage of Jura waters in 1878 a vast tract of marshland between the lakes of Neuchatel, Biene and Morat was laid dry. The canton of Berne then had the idea of establishing on the unutilized land an agricultural penitentiary colony. The colony was to make the land arable. Within 30 years an unutilized stretch of marshland and of quagmire has been turned into a flourishing farm of 2,500 acres, solely by the work of convicts.

Public Gatherings of 1924

Describing the mobilization of Pullman cars for special events, the Pullman News gives some interesting statistics. It is stated that for five months of the year 1924, June to November inclusive, there had been scheduled 116 large conventions and special gatherings. The figures run: June, 57; July, 16; August, 8; September, 20; October, 11, and November 4. For the fifth running of the American turf classic, the Kentucky derby at Louisville, May 17, 305 extra Pullman cars were necessary; for the meeting of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine at Kansas City, June 2 to 5, 468 extra cars were needed; for the Republican convention, 130 extras, and for the Democrats, 200.

Brain of Anatole France

Criticism has been raised in the French press over the fact that, after the body of Anatole France, the great writer, had been embalmed his brain was taken out, chemically treated, photographed and measured. It is pointed out that the last time this operation was performed at Tours it was on the head of a decapitated criminal.

Professor Guillaume, who examined the brain of Anatole France, states that he has never seen a finer brain. It is remarkable for its convolutions and the depth of the fissures.

Ther' Ought to Be a Law

An old-fashioned Eldorado man has suggested that some one write an essay on the passing of the doorbell. He is an electrician, incidentally. "When your friends come to call on you they don't bother to get out and ring the doorbell, they just race their motors and honk their horns," he wails. "Every time we get the baby to sleep some 'bun buster' stops his car across the street to honk out his flapper queen," the o. f. m. laments.—Eldorado Times.

LADIES REST ROOM IN COURT HOUSE NOW FURNISHED

In the county court house in this city there is now a ladies rest room neatly furnished with many conveniences for the ladies of the town and country who visit the city. This room has supplied a long felt need for the ladies to have a place while shopping in the city that they can rest, read, and enjoy the comforts of this room.

Much is due to the credit of the retiring officers of the county court and those who remain in office for the co-operation given in making it possible for the use of the ladies. There was considerable expense in the changing of doorways and other work which had to be done to perfect the arrangements, but it was arranged by the County Court officials and the rest room is now a fixture in the court house.

Mrs. Henry Alexander, Mrs. Hugh Smith and Mrs. Hardy Grisson were appointed to select and purchase the furniture and furnishings. Their taste has been completely and the most suitable selection possible was made. The suite of furniture is fashioned after that used in the Southland Hotel at Dallas and is both beautiful and durable. Through the courtesy of the business men and others of Haskell liberal donations were made and the room is now completely furnished and paid for. The County Commissioners, looking after the last payment, this is something which everyone should appreciate and the ladies are not only invited but are urged to use this room for a place to rest. It is yours and every lady visiting the city from anywhere is welcome.

Below we give the names of those who contributed to the funds for the equipping of the rest room for the ladies:

One For All and All For One

EVERYWHERE PEOPLE ARE COMING TO REALIZE MORE AND MORE HOW INTER-DEPENDENT WE ARE UPON EACH OTHER. THE ONLY INDIVIDUAL WHO IS SELF-SUFFICIENT IS A HERMIT.

THE KEYNOTE—THE FOUNDATION OF CIVILIZATION—IS THE FAMILY. WE ALL CONCEDE THAT. AND WE'RE RAPIDLY COMING TO REALIZE THAT OUR OWN HOME TOWN—IS A HOME TOWN FAMILY—SIMPLY THE FAMILY UNIT A LITTLE BIT EXTENDED THROUGH NEIGHBORLY CORDIALITY, FRIENDSHIP AND PLEASANT SOCIAL INTERCOURSE.

COMMON GOOD WILL AND RECOGNITION OF OUR HUMAN OBLIGATION IS A DEEPER CURRENCY THAN ANY MONEY SYSTEM EVER INVENTED. BUT IT IS ALSO TO OUR ADVANTAGE ON THE MATERIAL SIDE OF LIFE—IT REDOUNDS IN BETTER PRACTICES, LIVING CONDITIONS, MORE GENEROUS IMPULSES. IT MAKES HASKELL A BETTER PLACE TO LIVE.

LET'S MAKE OUR HOME TOWN UNIT CLOSER KNIT. LET'S BE GENEROUS WITH OUR GOOD WILL—REALIZING THAT THE PROSPERITY OF THE INDIVIDUAL IS DIRECTLY REFLECTED IN AN ADDED PROSPERITY TO OUR COMMUNITY. YOUR HOME INDUSTRIES AND MERCHANTS HAVE ADOPTED THIS CREED. WILL YOU CO-OPERATE?

STRAIGHT TO THE GOAL.

The world gets out of the way for a man that knows where he is going they say. At a lecture the speaker started fervently: "He drove straight to the goal." He looked neither to the right nor to the left, but pressed forward, moved by a definite purpose. Neither friend nor foe could delay him or turn him from his purpose. All who crossed his path did so at their own peril. What would you call such a man? "A truck driver shouted a man from the audience."

G. R. Loyl of Throckmorton was a business visitor here Tuesday. He reports bad roads between Haskell and the Throckmorton county line. He says that he favors Haskell as his trading point, but believes the bad roads are standing in the way of others coming to Haskell.

Evens Lee Park, G. A. Brannan and S. E. Youngblood all of Knox City were given the order of Red Cross in the Haskell commandery No. 40 K. T. Tuesday night at the Commandery meeting. They were accompanied by S. M. Clonts. Good attendance was reported.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general strengthening tonic to the whole system. Nature's will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 5c per bottle.

Human Head or Stone? Scientists to Decide

Whether a skull-shaped silica stone, unearthed at Canton, Ohio, is the head of an infant of 20,000 years ago or a clever carving done by nature may be decided by recognized anthropologists, members of Canton's medical fraternity have indicated.

The stone, center of an interesting word war among medical authorities in Canton, was unearthed by J. J. Paris, proprietor of a gasoline filling station, when he was excavating, preparatory to erecting an air tank. Paris says he has refused an offer of $500 made by a physician for his find.

If the stone is declared to be the petrified head of an infant of prehistoric time, new light may be thrown on the mystery of the race of men who inhabited the American continent generations before the Indians, since, it is said, no find has dated back that far.

The skull, if it be one, is unlike that of modern men. It is flat, long and narrow. It gives the impression of having been crushed by two opposing forces.

In weight it does not exceed five pounds. The length from front to back is about seven inches, the width about three and a half inches, and the thickness about three inches. The general shape is oval.

Deep down in the mouth cavity, those who believe it to be a petrified head point out, is the vestige of a tongue. In the lower part of the mouth, where the teeth of a human would be, there are faint impressions, as of tooth marks. There is a small hole at the rear of the base of the stone.

As one looks at the stone, the possibility of it being a petrified head grows in one's mind, those who have examined it say.

On the left cheek there is an indentation that resembles fossilized bone. This point has been the subject of many debates on the part of the physicians who have examined the stone.

Belief that the stone may be the work of a man of long ago is generally discredited by the doctors, who point out that man would have made the carving more regular and not in the "crushed" style.

Crater Is Snake's Home

A short time ago government naturalists in Yellowstone park discovered a pair of bluebirds nesting in a geyser crater. Now they have turned up a snake that lives in a steam-heated cave. Slim, as he has been nicknamed, is a five-foot bullsnake, whose home is on the terraces at Mammoth Hot Springs. He has often been seen, but little attention was paid to him, for bullsnakes are harmless and rattlers do not exist in Yellowstone park. However, he was recently observed in his own home den, which is in a cave in hot spring crater. The hot water has long since ceased to flow from this place, but hot gases and steam still issue through the opening. The dwelling, in spite of its suggestion of the infernal, seems to agree with Slim, for he is sleek and in good condition.

Bringing Up Baby

Six-year-old Walter's patience was at an end. "Mother," he demanded, "don't you want baby sister to be a good wife when she grows up?"
"Of course, I do, dear."
"Well, then, why don't you start her right? You keep giving her my playthings just because she's a girl an' littler'n me, but you're a lot littler'n daddy, an' yet every night when he comes home you jump up out of the armchair an' get his slippers and his magazine an' everything."
Before his surprised mother could frame a reply, Walter swooped down and tore his favorite toy from the hands of the screaming baby.
"She'll be a turrible wife if we don't begin to train her," was his parting shot as he strode from the room, his treasure under his arm.—Boston Transcript.

Warned of "Dead" Light

A new device to replace instantly any lamp that may be burned out in lighthouse service, at the same time ringing an alarm to warn the keeper, has been tested in the custom house, and found to work so well that it will be installed in the Cape Henry light.

Frederick C. Hingsburg, first assistant superintendent of the lighthouse district, developed the device by the application of a new type of thermostat. The burning out of the incandescent fiber causes changes in the current which cause the thermostat to operate the spindle on which both the active and reserve lamps are mounted, throwing the reserve lamp into position for service. The warning bell in the keeper's quarters tells him that a fresh lamp is needed.

Hen Nests in Tree

A hen in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, selected a tree in which to lay her eggs and hatch a family. She belongs to Ephraim Newcomer of Glen Manor and she chose an apple tree in the orchard. Newcomer saw the hen fly out of the tree and, on making investigation, he found that the hen had made her nest in a decayed crotch, eight feet from the ground. There were ten chicks about four days old in the nest.

EX-GOVERNOR TELLS OF THE AREA OF TEXAS

EX-Governor Pat M. Neff, who has made a close study of the greatness of Texas, gives in detail some examples of the size of Texas which we reproduce below in his own words.

"The size of Texas may probably be more clearly appreciated by the following statement: If one will take a geographically correct map of Texas and stick a pin through the center, and put it over Nashville, Tenn., the eastern end of Texas will reach to Raleigh, the western end to Little Rock, the northern end to Chicago, and the southern to the Gulf of Mexico. It is true that the state is not square and not all of the section reached by these projecting points of Texas would be covered as with a solid block. Nevertheless, the illustration gives one an idea of the immensity of this state, whose resources are commensurate with its area. The total area of Texas is 265,886 square miles, of which the land area comprises 262,398 square miles and water 3,488 square miles. The total farm land area of Texas amounts to over 178,000 square miles. Texas is 33,000 square miles larger than France, 85,000 square miles larger than Germany and 144,000 square miles larger than the United Kingdom. Texas farm area is nearly equal to the total area of Germany. Nature seems to have planned Texas, and so richly endowed it with resources of soil and climate and minerals that it is well nigh impossible to venture any forecast as to its development in the future without creating the impression of wild optimism, but none but those who have made a personal study of Texas can have any conception of what the future may bring forth in this vast domain."
