CWE CHAT WITH THE EDITOR

By Louis C. Stea

The 67° weather was a welcome relief this morning when I reported for work.

— Cwe—

And, the mid-afternoon temperature of 83° is also nice.

— Cwe—

Final arrangements are being made for the 'Wild and Free on 83' festivities. Sounds like it will be a lot fun and informative.

— Cwe—

Hard to believe it is time to start listing school activities on the monthly calendar again.

— Cwe—

I notice I have a few web worms in the trees at the house. I got a sprayer to spray them with dish soap.

STORM REPORT

As Reported by...
Stormie Meriwether,
Ninth Grade Student

Dear Friends, On Saturday I went to the Tree Dedication at Mobeetie. We got there early because we needed to help Ms Ada (Lester) get things ready. Kaden Boyd was with Ms Lester. She put us to work and we had a fun day! The tree was planted over a hundred years ago by Temple Houston to remember his little daughter that died when she was a baby. That is sad, but I am glad the tree is still there.

After the dedication at the tree we went to the museum in Mobeetie for cookies and punch. I got to see Lucy Ruth (Moudy). She is adorable! Her little brother was there too. Then we went to Maxey's. Mr. Ed Benz is one of the cavalymen that helped with the tree dedication. He wants Kaden to be in the re-enactors too. He wants me to

Quilts Entries Needed For Hidetown Labor Day Festival At Mobeetie

The Old Mobeetie Museum will be hosting the Hidetown Labor Day Festival and Reunion on Labor Day weekend, Thursday, August 29 through Monday, September 2. Many activities are planned to entertain families over the course

HISTORIC TREE DEDICATION: The Old Historical Tree on the Old Mobeetie Jail Museum grounds was dedicated Saturday, July 20, 2019; the dedication was sponsored by the Wheeler County Historical Commission and the Old Mobeetie, Texas, Association. This mulberry tree has been recognized by the Texas Historic Tree Coalition as being more than 130 years old. It is known as "the Temple Houston Tree" and was planted by the youngest son of Sam Houston, when he lived in Old Mobeetie as a memorial to his daughter. Pictured (l. to r.) are Joe Van Zandt, Old Mobeetie Jail Museum Board President; Sara Beckleman, Texas Historic Tree Coalition; Ada Lester, Wheeler County Historical Commission; and Bill Seaman, Texas Historic Tree Coalition.

Allison Community Youth Group Takes in Groom Cross, Sod Poodles Baseball: Sunday, July 21, 2019, the Allison Community Youth Group enjoyed an outing that ranged from solemn and moving to fellowship and fun. Youth, youth leaders, pastor, parents, and church members combined for a group of seventeen to travel to the Groom Cross, viewing the massive structure to faith in God, the stations of the cross, the empty tomb, and the replica of the shroud of Turin. From there most of the group went on to see an Amarillo Sod Poodles game, experiencing the sun, the crowd noise, the ballpark food, and all the rest that makes American baseball such a unique summer experience. The Last American Highway, Chronicler of U.S.83 History/Culture

Book Signing by Stew Magnuson—August 1-4

Author Stew Magnuson, whose nonfiction work "The Death of Raymond Yellow Thunder" was named 2009 Nebraska Book of the Year, will be back in Texas in August with his latest book series, "The Last American Highway: A Journey Through Time Down U.S. Route 83."

Nebraska native Magnuson, who now resides in the Washington, D.C., area, spent summers along the 1,885-mile-long route that stretches from the Canadian border in the north to Brownsville, Texas, in the south. When he returned as an adult to drive the highway and discover what set it apart from other transcontinental routes, he determined that the north-south 83 was the longest remaining US highway that had not been largely paved over by Interstate, or swallowed up by urban sprawl.

His compelling stories and images from multiple journeys along the highway are represented in three volumes: "The Dakotas," "Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma," and "Texas." With the longest stretch of mileage along the route, Texas rates a book all its own.

Magnuson will give a narrated travelogue accompanied by his photographs, and sign books, at several locations during a book tour sponsored by the Texas Plains Trail Region. The events are part of the "Wild and Free on US 83" promotion by Childress, Wellington, Shamrock, Wheeler, and Canadian, all situated along US 83 in the eastern Panhandle of Texas. Most events take place in historic locations along US 83; admission to all events is free. All three books in the series will be available for sale and signing.

Thursday, Aug. 1, 2019

"The Last American Highway" presentation and signing with Stew Magnuson, Ritz Theatre, 902 East Ave., Wellington, 3-4:30 p.m. The restored 1928 Ritz was the first in the area to show talking pictures.

ABOUT THE BOOKS

Descending 1,885 miles straight down the center of the United States from Westhope, North Dakota, to Brownsville, Texas, is U.S. 83, one of the oldest and longest of the federal highways that hasn't been replaced by an Interstate. In his Texas volume of the U.S. 83 Chronicles, award-winning author Stew Magnuson takes readers on a trip through the Lone Star State's sparsely populated ranchlands, its scenic Hill Country, and the historically rich Lower Rio Grande Valley. "Every town has a story to tell," says Magnuson. A massacre in Menard marked the beginning of the end for the Spanish Empire in America. Wellington is where the notorious criminals Bonnie and Clyde sent their car careen-

Time Gets Better With Age

I've learned that regardless of your relationship with your parents, you miss them terribly after they die. Age 53 *

I've learned that life sometimes gives you a second chance. Age 62 *

I've learned that making a living is not the same thing as making a life. Age 58 *

I've learned that if you pursue happiness, it will elude you. But if you focus on your family, the needs of others, your work, meeting new people, and doing the very best you can, happiness will find you. Age 65

"Wheeler: town of friendship and pride"

(Etidor's Note: I found this on facebook. Tim Haynes was the name attached.)

Checking out at the store, the young cashier suggested to the much older lady that she should bring her own grocery bags, because plastic bags are not good for the environment.

The woman apologized to the young girl and explained, "We didn't have this 'green thing' back in my earlier days."

The young clerk responded, "That's our problem today. Your generation did not care enough to save our environment for future generations."

The older lady said that she was right our generation didn't have the "green thing" in its day. The older lady went on to explain: Back then, we returned milk bottles, soda bottles and beer bottles to the store. The store sent them back to the plant to be washed and sterilized and refilled, so it could use the same bottles over and over. So they really were recycled.

But we didn't have the "green thing" back in our day. Grocery stores bagged our groceries in brown paper bags that we reused for numerous things. Most memoorable besides household garbage bags was the use of brown paper bags as book covers for our school books. This was to ensure that public property (the books provided for our use by the school) was not defaced by our scribbles. Then we were able to personalize our books on the brown paper bags.

But, too bad we didn't do the "green thing" back then. We walked up stairs because we didn't have an escalator in every store and office building. We walked to the grocery store and didn't climb into a 300-horsepower machine every time we had to go two blocks. But she was right. We didn't have the "green thing" in our day.

Back then we washed the baby's diapers because we didn't have the throw away kind. We dried clothes on a line, not in an energy-gobbling machine burning up 220 volts. Wind and solar power really did dry our clothes back in our early days.

Kids got hand-me-down clothes from their brothers or sisters, not always brand-new clothing. But that young lady is right; we didn't have the "green thing" back in our day.

Back then we had one TV, or radio, in the house -- not a TV in every room. And the TV had a small screen the size of a handkerchief (remember them?), not a screen the size of the state of Montana.

In the kitchen we blended and stirred by hand because we didn't have electric machines to do everything for us.

When we packaged a fragile item to send in the mail, we used wadded up old newspapers to cushion it, not Styrofoam or plastic bubble wrap.

Back then, we didn't fire up an engine and burn gasoline just to cut the lawn. We used a push mower that ran on human power.

We exercised by working so we didn't need to go to a health club to run on treadmills that operate on electricity. But she's right; we didn't have the "green thing" back then.

We drank from a fountain when we were thirsty instead of using a cup or a plastic bottle every time we had a drink of water. We refilled writing pens with ink instead of buying a new pen, and we replaced the razor blade in a razor instead of throwing away the whole razor just because the blade got dull. But we didn't have the "green thing" back then.

Back then, people took the streetcar or a bus and kids rode their bikes to school or walked instead of turning their moms into a 24-hour taxi service in the family's $45,000 SUV or van, which cost what a whole house did before the "green thing."

We had one electrical outlet in a room, not an entire bank of sockets to power a dozen appliances. And we didn't need a computerized gadget to receive a signal beamed from satellites 23,000 miles out in space in order to find the nearest burger joint.

But isn't it sad the current generation laments how wasteful we old folks were just because we didn't have the "green thing" back then?

Please forward this on to another selfish old person who needs a lesson in conservation from a smart ass young person. We don't like being old in the first place, so it doesn't take much to piss us off... Especially from a tattooed, multiple pierced smart-ass who can't make change without the cash register telling them how much.

be an Indian. That would be so much fun! I'm not sure if I get to do that, but if I do it will be beside the museum at the Wild & Free on 83. I hope we can do it.

On Monday I had the best day! We went to Hinton and kept Adalyn and Daxton all day! Clark was there for a little while, but he had to leave. He is going to Disneyworld for his birthday. He will be five on the twenty-fifth of July! Happy Birthday, Clark! That's it!
