BODY OF JOHN LAYNE BURIED IN ILLINOIS OFFICERS SEIZE

The body of John W. Layne, who died at his residence west of town Friday night January , was shipped to Brockton, III., Saturday from Haskell, recompanied by Mrs. Layne. The body arrived there Sunday morning at 3 o'clock after a six hour delay at Kangas City. He was buried Tuesday in the Brockton Cemetery in the family lot. Mr. Layne had only lived here about three years but during that time he had made many friends who learned to love him because of his genial disposition. He carried a smile and gave a kind word to all. Mr. Layne had been a sufferer for some time with some form of stomach trouble but was never heard to complain. He was stricken with illness in W. M. Mask's store a few days before his death but revived and was carried home, but grew worse until the end came Friday of the New Year and first we'd had in some time and each lady came with renewed energy and enthusiasism.

Several items of business were transacted, the most interesting being the final report from the bazaar. Each one was delighted with the splendid report and felt repaid for their efforts.

After the business session Mrs. R. E. Sherrill conducted a very interesting and instructive lesson in the Bible Study of Exodus.

During the social hour Mrs. Robertson assisted by her attractive daughters Galen and Ruth served a most delicious refreshment plate consisting of sandwiches, almond cake and hot chocolate.

The ladies were loath to leave as they had spent a pleasant as well as profitable afternoon.

A Unique Wedding

"A unique wedding was that which occurred last Friday afternoon when Judge I. P. Metcalf united in marriage Mr. Clyde Briley and Miss Beatrice Tankersley, eleven miles west of town.

"The wedding ceremony occurred in the home which Mr. Briley had built for himself and the bride, in the presence only of Judge Metcalf who performed the ceremony and county clerk "Happy" Smith who issued the marriage license. The groom, according to Judge Metcalf, had purchased a section of land and built a neat and substactici cottage thereon. He had fur-nisted this "love-nest" with handsome furniture throughout, and had made everything ready for the great event. Then, when all was ready, he sent for the Judge and clerk, went and brought his bride into the new home, and there the wedding ceremony was quickly and unostentatiously performed. young couple set up house-keeping im-

"The Judge was so impressed with the novelty of the performance that he says that in all his many years of ex-perience he has never performed a marriage ceremony that afforded him keener pleasure than this one did."-Lynn County News.
