Route 66 Motor Tour “Kick Off” Oct. 6

Thursday and Friday night games kickoff District Football Play. LET'S GO TEAM!

— cwe —

Thanks to Matt Gary for all the game pictures and Kara Richardson for her game and individual pictures. You are appreciated.

— cwe —

CONGRATULATIONS, to the students named on the first six weeks honor roll. Hard to believe the kids have been in school over six weeks.

— cwe —

Thanks to our chauffeur, William Thomas made it possible for my sister-in-law, Jean Mason, and I to take a six-day trip 2,060 mile to Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin to visit family homesteads and relatives. I left Tuesday afternoon.

— cwe —

Barbara stayed home to get Seth back and forth to school and hold down the fort.

— cwe —

Wednesday morning was pretty chilly up north.

— cwe —

Our 30 mile trip to Wisconsin was for William's benefit. Wisconsin was one of the two states he has not touched, so we crossed the Mississippi and drove east along the border for a ways before we turned and headed back south.

Merely Mustard

I sometimes wish we could walk more slowly. The frequency that I experience this thought corresponds to how frequently I walk, and/or how frequently I recognize I am walking, because it seems like there is always some form of motion going on, only I don't always recognize it until we have traveled a bit and I find that the scenery has changed, and that I am out of breath.

So, walking more slowly seems desirable to me. Who set the pace anyway? Is that person known? And if so, is that person someone we really should be striving to keep up with? If yes, why? If they are not someone we should strive to match, the question, “Why?” screams all the louder. If they are not someone we even know, why on earth does it matter if we keep up with them or not? Not everyone walks at the same pace, you know. Does every hamster run the same when they are placed in the wheel? And what is the consequence of those who run more slowly than the rest? What is the reward for those who run the fastest, or the longest? Often it comes in the form of more running time. Quite an incentive exists there, to say the least: “You are a great worker. Thus I laden you with more responsibilities and expectation.” “You are a responsible child; thus I give you a disproportionate share of the household chores.” “You are the non-prodigal son (I will refrain from commenting further on the paradox that there is no such thing as a non-prodigal son); thus I do not allow you a lavish party.” “You are a taxpaying citizen. Thus I burden you with additional taxes and will crush you if you don't pay them.” Analogies such as these summarize the prevailing logic of the world. Sure is motivating, isn't it? Anyway, I found myself wanting to walk more slowly recently, and that simple desire spawned those questions. It might have been less complicated to simply walk quickly until I collapsed as a result of the pace.

OLD TIMES NOT FORGOTTEN

By: Roland Miles

It occurred to me recently that I can't ever recall my mom doing any whining. As a matter of fact, she didn't tolerate listening to it very well either. If I had to define whining, here's my unlearn and opinion: whining isn't meant to accomplish anything, just want you to listen to how I'm being mistreated. no matter if I deserve it or not, you need to feel sorry for me equally as much as I do.

I tried it on mom a few times when I was a small kid, but got nowhere. For example, "Momma, Darrell kicked me." "Oh, he did? And what did you do to him?" "Just threw a little bit of water on him. It was only a little bucket and didn't hardly have any in it. Didn't rain that much last night. The bugs had all ready drowned." "Well, I don't blame him for kicking you. I'd have done a lot more than that if you threw that "buggy" water on me."

Another example: "Momma, Darrell made me get a hold of the electric fence. He said it would tickle my hand." "So you learned something there, didn't you? He helped make you a little smarter. You need to thank him for that."

Mom came from a family of seven kids. Grandma didn't tolerate whining either; didn't have the time to listen to it.

Did you know? William Howard Taft was the heaviest of all presidents at over 300 pounds. James Madison was the latest at 100 pounds.

weather too, we have quite of few of those for you to browse through take home and cozy down in your favorite chair! I have a reading chair that consists of lots of pillows (in case I snooze off), 2 Corgis, and 1 large chocolate lab that just loves to read! They enjoy Christian author's the best but every once in a while we will read something along the line of a clean romance. If you haven't tried it I suggest you have a session or two with your book/pets and you will find out how relaxing it can be (be sure you have plenty of pillows) we end up taking a little nap!

The Book Room that has millions of reads is still open and ready for you to load up a bag or two. It is open every day from 11:30 until 5:00 Monday through Friday. We ask that you give a Donation when you leave with your bag

Our trip also included going to Iowa City, Iowa, to have breakfast with the granddaughter, Dr. Dorcie Gillette, who is in her first year of internship. She has the night shift at this time.

We were not too sure when we would be in Iowa City, so we had not made reservations. When we called for reservations, we learned it was a home game for Iowa State. Everything was booked except for the two rooms we needed as far away as Rapid Springs, some 30 miles away.

Our lunch was a little late having breakfast.

We stopped in Bartlesville, OK, and got to see my brother, Raymond, his wife, Darla, and niece, Alicia Gardella and her husband, Steve.

There is a lot more to the story which I may print later.

Happy Birthday, Barbara! The big day is Thursday, Oct. 6, I won't tell you her age, but the birthdate ends in "0".

worth it when we sing in the theatre!

I am thankful that my dad is feeling better. He still has to go to Houston. I hope he doesn't have to have more chemo or blood transfusions.

Last weekend I stayed in OKC. I had a surprise, at the house. A very special friend sent me two dozen, long stem, red roses! They are beautiful! Thanks, HB! That's it!

or bags of books. This money goes to books for our library and really helps us stay on top of the rising costs to purchase new reads. We don't have children's books for sale but we have plenty for you to check out for a 2-week time period for your children. So take some time to bring your family in and get a card and check out books. We check all reads out for 2 weeks at a time and if you can't make it in we take calls to recheck for another 2 weeks so you won't have a fine.

I would like to say Thank You for the condolences each of you sent for the Home Going of my Mama, Virginia Becker Greer on the 22nd. She was 91 almost 92 this month. It was a wonderful celebration with family from all over and friends close by. It will be hard to not talk to her every morning and evening but I'm so thankful for the Wisdom she bestowed on me every time we talked. She was the Godly Roll Model and Rock in our large families life!

320 +/- acers of secluded recreational land located 19 miles SW of Shamrock. Salt Fork of the Red River and Doxier Creek flow through the property. Spring fed ponds. Prime location for a home or cabin. Extreme topographical changes throughout. Excellent hunting for deer, turkey, quail, dove and wild hogs.

160 acres 5 miles NW of Shamrock. Excellent stand of grass, 3 water wells, pond, cross fenced, loading pens, cattle barn. Easy access to I-40 and FM Road 3075. This property would be excellent to start a new ranching operation or would be a good addition to an existing operation.

Beautiful 640 +/- acres with scenic views located 15 miles NW of Shamrock. The property can be easily accessed off County Road 9. The topography is level to rolling with five ponds located on the Red River bottom in the NE corner. It has 100 acres of newly established love grass, and the rest is in native grasses. It has been cross fenced into 5 pastures with some new fencing, making it excellent for livestock grazing. It has new water well with a new pipeline between the north and the south water tanks. It has the potential to be irrigated with easily accessible electricity throughout the ranch. There is an abundance of wild game. This property is ideal for hunting, farming, grazing and weekend retreats. There are several potential homesite locations.
