TABA'NA YUAN'E

As the rosy eastern horizon turns to brilliant yellow, a buckskin-clad figure dances around the ceremonial fire. His moccasins barely touch the grass as he swirls, bells on his costume keeping time with a rhythmic chant and beat of a tom-tom.

Outside the council circle, several hundred watchers shiver in frigid winds to await the year's prediction as told by Taba'na Yuan'e, the sunrise wind.

As the east brightens, the dancer's pace accelerates, and entranced watchers hold their breaths. A few glance away long enough to check the growing brightness in the east. Others fix their eyes on another figure, standing stoically in beaded buckskins with a full headdress trailing to his heels.

"Chief" Frank Runkles stands just inside the council ring, staring eastward across the smoke of the ceremonial fire.

Smoke, which had been blowing from the southwest, now dances first this way and that, swaying in seeming rhythm with the dancer. The wind seems to be holding its own breath in indecision, teasing with promises from all directions.

At last, Runkles moves into the circle, around the fire, and drops to one knee, pointing a feather at the west.

Taba'na Yuan'e has just predicted a bad year ahead.

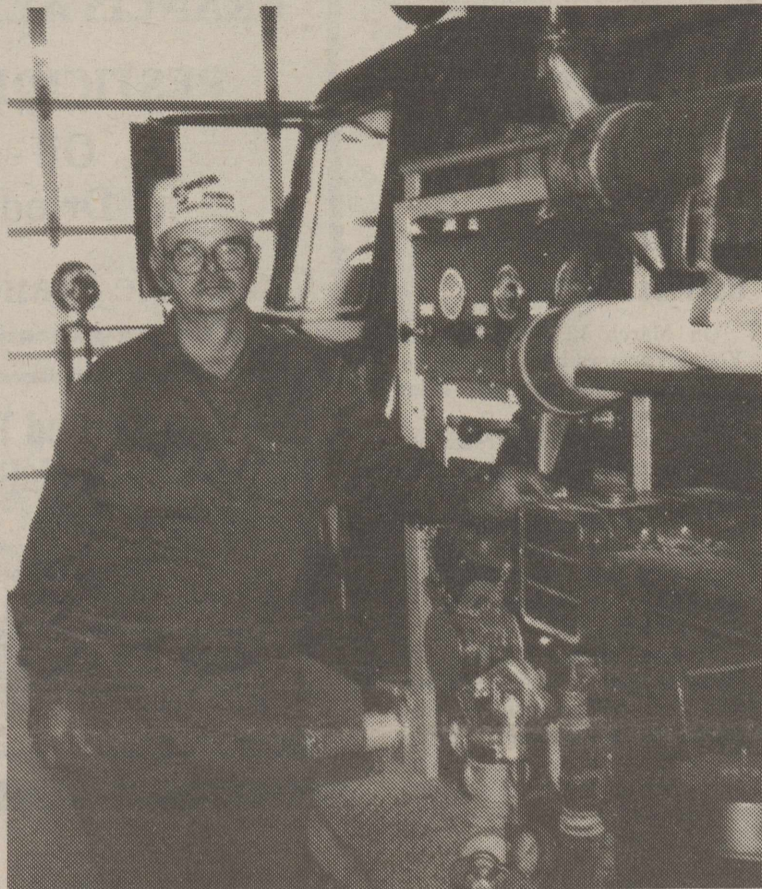

"Be kind to us today," Runkles, student of Indian folklore for a lifetime, had petitioned each point of the compass—the east, which sends sign of a good year; the north, with its average year; the west, with a bad year; and the south with a very bad year.

The chief then offers his peace pipe to Mother Earth and the Great Spirit with the same plea.

But the spirits apparently were unwilling to grant answers to prayers to those gathered in Post City Park, some of whom traveled more than 100 miles to join the annual ceremony.

The South Plains, already gripped by bad medicine in the farm and oil industries, can only hope that this prediction might be among the six percent in the past 80 years which proved incorrect.

It could have been worse, Runkles said later. With a wind from the south or southeast, he said, "you might just as well forget it."

Fire Dept. Banquet Held Here Last Saturday Night

Members and guests of the Silverton Volunteer Fire Department enjoyed the annual banquet at the City Hall Saturday night. Calvin Shelton and A. R. Martin prepared food for the meal.

James Edwards was honored as Fireman of the Year during the banquet program, and Doug Bradford received the Bonehead Award, a presentation made to the one who has committed the biggest blunder during the year.

President Emmett Tomlin made the awards presentations, assisted by Perry Brunson, who gave the Bonehead Award.

Vance Childress was recognized and presented a plaque for his 36 years of service to the Fire Department. He entered the department January 1, 1950 and retired February 28, 1986. He is the first officially retired member of the Silverton Fire Department to qualify for benefits from the Firemen's Relief Fund.

David Tipton, who joined the department in 1962, was presented a 20-year service award.

Previous winners of the Fireman of the Year Award, begun in 1973, are Charles Sarchet, A. R. Martin, F. E. Hutsell, Emmett Tomlin, W. J. Copeland, Anthony Kingery, Lynn Frizzell, Jerry Patton, Vance Childress, Dwight Ramsey, Jeff Tiffin and Perry Brunson.

Previous Bonehead Award winners are F. E. Hutsell, three years; Stan Fogerson, two years; W. J. Copeland, Charles Sarchet, Bruce Tiffin and Perry Brunson.

Brunson had the distinction of winning both the awards last year. He mentioned during his presentation to Bradford that this year's award was won the day Bradford was on his way to a fire in the fire truck with lights and sirens on in the fire engine garage with the door closed.

Young Farmers Have Have Banquet

The twenty-second annual Silvertown Young Farmers Awards Banquet was held Saturday, March 8, in the Silvertown School Cafeteria.

Master of ceremonies was Rick Hester. Wayland Fitzgerald gave the invocation, and Tobe Riddell led the pledge of allegiance.

A delicious meal was served amid decorations honoring the Texas Sesquicentennial.

Special guests were recognized. The Young Farmers honored and recognized the Briscoe County 4-H Gold Star Award winners, Clay Schott and Todd Reagan. Cal Brannon was recognized as the Outstanding FFA Member. Honorary membership was presented to Gary Martin.

Following the meal and awards program, Zobie Self reviewed the novel, "Texas," by James A. Michener. Miss Self said there were several things that determined the character of Texas. Some of these were the size, weather and cultural inheritance. The cultural inheritance included Indians, Spanish Mexicans, the Kentucky-Tennessee settlers, the Southern (slaves and cotton plantation owners), blacks, cowboys, German settlers, as well as at least 20 other nationalities and religion. She presented the review in such a way as to make listeners want to learn more about this great state.

Chris Hale Dani Whitfill
 Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Whitfill, 520 Conestoga, Yukon, Oklahoma are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dani, to Mr. Chris Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mack Hale of Hartley, Texas. The couple will be married June 7, 1986 in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the campus of West Texas State University in Canyon. The bride has been on the dean's honor roll at WTSU four years and will receive her bachelor's degree in social sciences with concentrations in history and archeology in May 1986. She is currently employed by Robey H. Clark, consulting geologist in Amarillo. Her fiance is an allied health major at WTSU and is employed by the Texas Commerce Bank in Amarillo. They will be moving to Galveston this summer where he will be attending Physical Therapy School at The University of Texas Allied Health Branch beginning in the fall of 1986.

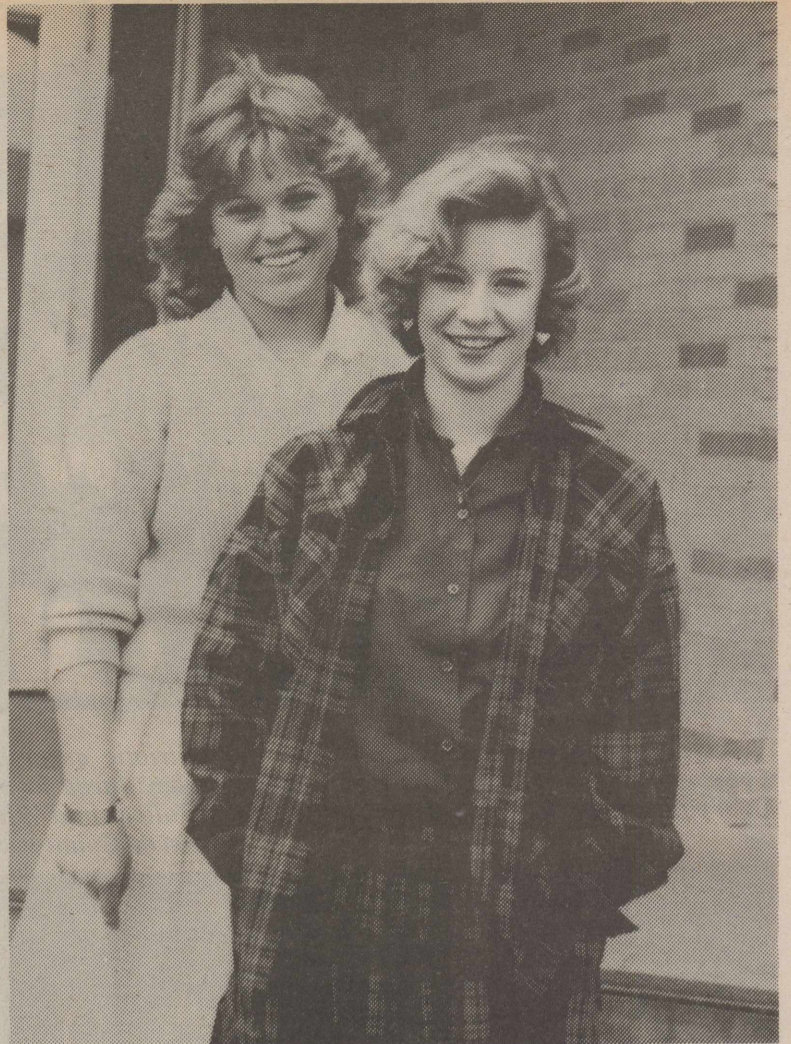

fertilizer is one that has nitrogen, phosphorous, potassium; this will promote leaf and root growth. A good rule of thumb is to use one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. This is equal to 12 pounds of 8-8-8 or eight pounds of a 12-4-8 fertilizer. Also repeating applications in the early summer and fall will help substantially. But remember to use less at these applications to avoid leaf burn.

Last year I noticed some yellowing in lawns, trees and shrubs that had adequate fertilizer applied. Close inspection showed they had iron chlorosis. Monthly applications of iron chelate or iron sulfate during the spring and summer will help promote a lively green color.

Your next problem, of course, is those unsightly weeds. If your weeds are in one location or in clumps, I would recommend you just remove them by hand. But if you have a large problem with weeds there are several products on the market for pre-emergence of the weeds. They contain benefin, dacthal, or bensulide and should be applied in early spring after the grass has recovered from winter. If you apply them too early you could damage and weaken the grass. Also available are combinations of herbicides with fertilizer. They are convenient to use but please be careful with these, as with all herbicides, and apply them according to the label recommendation.

Following these three courses I have outlined can help you in establishing a healthy lawn this spring.

If you need any assistance concerning your lawn or home garden, please feel free to call the place to go when you need to know, the County Extension Office, 823-2343.

KIMBERLY BURSON TARA NANCE

Students Rank High In Competition

Kimberly Burson and Tara Nance were among several hundred other music students to compete in the Regional UIL Solo-Ensemble Music Competition held recently in Lubbock. Both performed quite well, according to their teacher, Mrs. Ross Herrington of Quitaque.

Kimberly played Noctourne by Field and received a Superior I rating in her division and a medal.

Tara played Sonata No. 2 by Clementi and received a rating of II which is excellent.

Both girls had the same tough judges as the larger schools of Lubbock, Plainview, Brownfield, etc. Their piano selections must be from the State UIL Music List and meet all requirements listed.

Both girls were entered recently in the West Texas State University Piano and Organ Festival. This is the seventh year for this festival and attracts students from all over the Texas Panhandle. Both girls received an Excellent Rating and certificates of achievement from the university.

Congratulations are in order to these fine young ladies for representing their school and community in such an outstanding way.

Spring is here, and the grass and weeds have begun to grow in our home lawns. Many of you energetic types are thinking about giving the lawn a boost to get it in shape. I recommend three operations that can get a lawn off to a good start: scalping, fertilizing and weed killing.

Scalping a lawn in early spring helps to revitalize it and promote early spring green-up. Begin by lowering your mower blade to 1/2 to 1 inch below your normal cutting height. An added touch would be to mow it twice, once in one direction and the second in a right angle to the first. Also remember to remove the clippings after each mowing. You might also keep cutting your lawn at this lower height for a month or two.

After scalping the lawn, apply a complete fertilizer. A complete

Members Learn of Prospective Economic Developments at Meeting

During their 46th Annual Meeting on March 15, members of Swisher Electric Cooperative heard promising news of prospective economic developments that may materialize in the next few months. Manager Lyle Robinson introduced Bob Carter, chairman of Panda Energy Corporation in Dallas, who told members about the $22 million co-generation facility Panda has proposed to the board of directors and manager of Swisher Electric Cooperative.

Panda Energy's proposal to Swisher Electric, according to Carter, is to put in a power plant in conjunction with the ethanol plant (Alcohol Cooperative, Inc.) owned by Swisher Electric. Under the Panda proposal, Panda would acquire the ethanol plant and expand it to about 20 times its present capacity. The ethanol plant would use waste heat from a small power plant built in conjunction with it. This co-generation process would actually give Swisher Electric its own power plant, producing its own electricity. Carter described the power generator of the proposed plant as a natural gas-fired turbine similar to a jet engine on a 747 aircraft. Tumbling oil prices since November have caused natural gas prices to crack a little, Carter said, which he says presents a very unique opportunity for both Panda Energy and Swisher Electric. Carter said, "We have an opportunity to capture these fuels at very low prices for long term periods of contract."

Carter cautioned that there are still many things that have to be done in order for this plant to be feasible. Some of the obstacles include government regulations, environmental considerations, and fuel transportation agreements that would need to be put in place. None-the-less, Panda is excited about the possibility of putting in this facility, Carter said, and he believes "we have a very good fighting chance of putting this facility in Swisher County." Carter said that Panda Energy and their bankers believe so strongly in this project that they are willing to commit $22 million to this project. Panda foresees increasing markets for ethanol since lead has been prohibited from future use in gasoline.

In addition to the power plant, Panda's Carter had more good news for members of Swisher Electric. Carter said the ethanol plant would use grain grown in the fields of Swisher and surrounding counties to the extend possible.

In the Cooperative Manager's Report, Robinson mentioned that there has been renewed interest from the tannery that the Tulia Industrial Foundation has been trying to locate during the last three years. The renewed interest from the tannery has resulted from the tannery learning about the co-generation facility and that there would be enough waste heat available for a tannery also from the co-generation process. Robinson said this is of interest to a tannery because it would cut their steam costs in half. Other reasons that attract this tannery to this area are the fact that they are buying 40,000 hides a month from slaughter houses in this area which are shipped to their present tannery in Kentucky. After processing, one-third of the leather is sent to El Paso. The location of the tannery in this area would bring in close to 300 good-paying jobs, Robinson said.

Robinson also talked about the Reagan Administration's continuing attempts to phase out REA. The Administration's new 1987 budget calls for phasing out REA between 1987-1990 and raising loan interest rates in the meantime to the cost to the Treasury plus 1 1/8% (about 16 1/2% interest in total). Robinson indicated this would have a disastrous effect on rates and said he felt it was just as right to loan money to you (the members, as a co-op) as it is to give it to a foreign country. He encouraged members to find out where political candidates stand on rural electrification.

In other reports, Bob Bryant, general manager of Golden Spread Cooperative, the generation and transmission cooperative Swisher Electric is a member of, told members the purpose of Golden Spread Electric Cooperative (GSEC). Bryant listed several purposes and objectives of GSEC: to look at the wholesale power supply situation and determine what can be done in both the short term and long term to insure a reliable supply of electricity at a reasonable cost from our wholesale power supplier. Bryant said much of Golden Spread's work is legal, intervening in rate cases where the wholesale power supplier asks for more money than they really need, etc. Golden Spread also is involved in planning to try to better serve agricultural loads such as irrigation, and trying to look forward as to future needs of its cooperative members, a tougher task than hindsight, according to Bryant.

In other business, directors Cone Johnson, Charles Kay and Ray Tomlinson were re-elected to three-year terms on the board, and Barbie Word of the audit firm of Bolinger, Segars, Gilbert and Moss gave the audit report. Mr. Word noted that Swisher Electric had an operating deficit of $110,000 for fiscal year 1985, but felt that this was not necessarily cause for serious alarm. He felt that if KWH sales in 1986, particularly from irrigation, recovered to a near normal pattern from the sharp drop that occurred in 1985, the cooperative's financial condition would improve.

Some people believed they could frighten off storms by shouting and waving weapons.

Pointing the way

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Early churches used steeples to make the building higher than all others in the city. People could see God's House from any direction, and could easily find their way to a place of worship. Today, with many office buildings towering into the sky, churches are not always the tallest buildings. However, churches still point the way to God, and provide a place of worship.

Bullock said that there are some 1.3 million persons in Texas eligible for federal food stamp assistance and that in 1986 an estimated $714 million in food stamp payments will be made.

He said that unless Congress is willing to bend on the issue and make changes in the law before the deadline the state's food stamp eligibility will be threatened and another source of state tax revenue will be cut off at the knees.

Texas Faces $150 Million In Lost Sales Tax Revenue

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday warned that new rules of the federal food stamp program could cost Texas government $150 million in lost sales tax revenue on candy and soft drinks.

Bullock said reauthorization of the federal program contained new provisions that forbid states from participating if they collect taxes on food-stamp purchases.

"We don't tax meat and potatoes, but we do tax candy, soft drinks and diluted juices," Bullock said.

Bullock said the Legislature will have to look at an option of creating a two-tier system to exempt these products when they are purchased with food stamps or totally exempt taxes on candy, soft drinks and diluted juices.

He said the state has until September 30, 1987, to exempt the items or be forced out of the food stamp program.

"It's a real dilemma for the state and another financial head-

Annual reports of 1985 earnings must be filed by April 15 by people receiving social security checks who earned more than the annual exempt amount in 1985.

The 1985 annual exempt amounts were $5,400 for people who were under 65 all of 1985 and $7,320 for people who were 65-70 in 1985.

People who received some benefits in 1985 and who earned more than the exempt amount are required to file a report of those earnings by April 15. Those who received no benefits in 1985 are not required to file a report, but, those people should file a report to make sure that any benefits that might be due for the year are paid.

A person who earned less than anticipated, for example, may be due some benefits. The only way these benefits can be paid is if the person files an annual report.

The general rule is that $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings above the exempt amount. A person can have substantial yearly earnings before all benefits are withheld. For example, a 65-year-old person whose monthly benefit rate is $500 could have earned $19,320 in 1985 before all benefits were withheld in 1985.

People who are required to file an annual report should have received a copy in the mail. If they have not, they should contact the social security office to get a copy. Those not required to file, but who wish to do so, can also get a copy of the form at the office.

ON THE ROAD—A long line of wagons and mounted horsemen who make up the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train inches its way west into Fredericksburg. After days in the relative flat region of southeast Texas, the pioneer-like procession was enjoying the scenic diversity that the rolling hills of Central Texas offers. Participants spent Thursday night in Fredericksburg before proceeding on their 3,028-mile trek to help Texas celebrate its 150th anniversary.

A team of oxen pulled this wagon into Fredericksburg recently in the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train. The driver called and shouted and cracked a whip loudly over their heads to keep them moving in the 80-degree heat. The Wagon Train will camp at Turkey the last weekend in May, and this is something everyone should see.

The county was organized in 1892 and by wise management of the financial affairs of the county we are in the best financial condition of any county in the Panhandle. No heavy taxes, no burdensome loads to carry, no big jail or court house debt to carry; on the other hand, low tax, good people, good land, public spirit and universal enterprise.

Silverton, the county site, was laid out in 1892. Now we have stores, hotels, blacksmith shops, drug stores, physicians, livery stables and lawyers; also a six column all home print newspaper published every Saturday, subscription price $1.25 a year—don't take it if you don't want to keep posted on everything. We have daily mails, lodges of the different secret orders and in fact everything that goes to make up a progressive thriving town. We have strictly a cosmopolitan population. We have people from everywhere. Here the small truck farmer from the north meets on a common level the big cotton planter from Dixie. Here the fruit man from north Arkansas clasps hand with the big ranchman of the Panhandle. Here the genial, jovial Irishman converses with the matter of fact German about Gladstone's home rule policy; here the conventional Englishman greets the hardy emigrant from the land of the ill-fated Mary Stuart and asks him what is the news across the "gloomy sea;" here the dreamy eyed and ever chivalrous Spanish knight tells of his adventures in his ancestral hills of Andalusia, and here in fact all meet on a common level and work for the upbuilding of the town and county. Capital finds safe investment and labor has sure reward. The soil will produce anything that will grow in the temperate zone and responsive to the plowshare may now be seen all over Briscoe county fields of waving grain such as wheat, oats, millet and everything that satisfies the temporal wants of God's creatures. Aladdin has thrown the rays of his wonderful lamp across our "Garden of the Gods" and civilization and progress have sprung up as if by magic. The wand of the magician has swept over us and truly the spirits that hover o'er this favored county seem to possess the whistle carried by the Danish boy with Jason in his celebrated trip in the Argo in search of the Golden Fleece.

A cordial invitation is extended to homeseekers to come, the land is inviting to the man who wants to live in peace and plenty, the people say come, the county says come, the newspaper says come and whosoever will let him come and share in the healthy development of a country that has attracted the attention of two continents and must at last be the land where the lion and the lamb shall lie down together. Come! Come!! The very birds will meet you and in their sweetest notes bid you welcome, thrice welcome to the land of hospitality, generosity and enterprise.
