ROBERT KENNEDY DIES THURSDAY

...of the death angle to our city... the people a greater shock or distress than when Robert L. Kennedy after a brief illness passed away at 1 o'clock, July the 12th, in this city. He was 23 months and 26 days old when he came. He has lived in Haskell his life and his friends are loved by his acquaintances. A finely soul never lived than that of Robert L. Kennedy, there was kindness in his disposition and it was always ready to meet him. The earth purer and holier realm when he came. His voice was kind and a song of beauty on the ears of his friends and acquaintances. He was wherever he was known for his contracted Small Pox and owing to the disease took away his vitality at last the silver thread of life snapped and he passed to the here.

...writer is constrained to believe that no greater sorrow than to look upon the case of the marble form of one so dear, stealing the hours of morning and robbing the radiant spring when the details of the voice of young man calls the light from the home, a time grief can not find pallor can there be succor of consolation in the arms of Him who is too wise to mistake or too good to be unkind to a noble young man has passed in absence tears the heart strings who loved him, but we at he lives in a fairer realm in cometh not and death can. As the flowers are housed unfriendly elements as the day approaches, even this young man gathered in to the great the Lord, where he is safe. Where he will forever voice with the Angelic choir the songs of redeeming grace the Great White Throne.

...services were conducted at 10:30 o'clock after remains were laid to rest in Willow cemetery. Sweet memory of this young man came as a flower to smile and then go away. The deceased was a member of the Methodist church for several years and was a worker in his church and school and his life was being the service of his master. He was married to Mrs. J. F. Keenan, several brothers and sisters, and was banked with flowers and sweetest fragrance and of many loving friends, of their love and sympathy. His earthly remains are in the fragrant flowers of the cemetery; in heaven cherubim have sung songs of rejoicing over the coming of his spirit.

...Union Office Overhauled... Western Union Office in this city has been repaired, repaired and furnished with new light fixtures and other conveniences which to the comfort of this city. A new desk has been ordered and will be installed and will be one of the most complete between Wichita Falls and Haskell.

...RESPOND TO CLEAN-UP CALL THURSDAY... to the call of Mayor... committees appointed in the campaign the stores and houses closed their doors at 11 o'clock Thursday morning. Every available man in the city engaged in weed cutting and the vacant lots in the city. The best organized campaign was launched, in the making a cleaning of the unsightly places. The action of all are to be thoroughly demonstrated in the work. Our city can no longer be a wilderness. Instead will hear the mark of the inspiration they should receive citizenship lives in the greatest of all is the cleaning our city is a clean means a healthy population greater prosperity individually.

DAUGHTER OF T. S. GRIFFIN DIES VERY SUDDENLY

The little 19-months old daughter of T. S. Griffin died Sunday night at 8:10 o'clock at the home of its grandfather, B. Wingham, of this city, after a brief illness. Funeral services were conducted by Elder Early Arceneaux of San Antonio at the home of Mr. Wingham at 4:30 p. m. Monday, after which the body was given burial in the Willow cemetery.

The father T. S. Griffin was away in California and the mother of the little one was not able to attend the burial of her babe. But loving tender hands came to the loved ones in the dark night of sorrow and administered unto them. The little one was cared for in every way with the tenderest sympathy of loving friends who followed the remains to the grave and a beautiful floral offering was laid upon the little mound. And now just the memory of the soft prattle and the features of a baby's face asleep is grafted in the hearts of loved ones that quiver yet calmly submissive to the touch of Him whose hand doeth all things well. The little one cannot return again but what a comfort to know that there is room in the Heavenly Father's house for all. Some day the longing hearts of loved ones can reclaim their own in the land beyond the setting sun. The Free Press join in extending the deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

A FISHING CLUB SPENDS 10 DAYS ON CLEAR FORK

A letter of correspondence reached us from Sagerton telling that a ten days fishing trip was enjoyed by the following fishing club which they claim J. P. Cottle to be the "Big Chief." The following gentlemen and their families were present and spent the time very pleasantly on the Clear Fork of the Brazos near Buffalo Canyon. Tom Clark, Ben Hess, E. D. England, Mr. Luck, all of Sagerton, John Martin, of Anson, J. J. Sumers of Rochester. They report plenty of fish for two meals each day and the largest captured weighed 28 pounds. But the story goes, "The Big one got away."

Sacred Harp Singers Here Sunday

The Sacred Harp Singers met in this city last Sunday at the Church of Christ and enjoyed a few hours of singing in the afternoon. A large crowd of interesting listeners were present and many of the younger folks took part in the singing. Several were heard to express themselves that they were going to learn to sing the old songs. There is no mystery about the songs in existence and everybody can sing some of them, if they would try. Come next third Sunday afternoon and help the old folks sing.

TECH LOCATING BOARD TO VISIT HASKELL JULY 28

Saturday July the 28th could mean more to Haskell and Haskell county and this section of West Texas than any other day in the history of this great country. The locating board for the Technological college will be in the city on that morning for the purpose of inspecting what Haskell County has to offer in the locating of this great institution of learning. We feel confident that the site selected, the water, the climate and the central location of our county will be given due consideration from the locating board. It has been the custom of the board to scrupulously inspect the sanitary condition and the civic pride of the cities visited thus far and special mention has been made by them along these lines. The inspection will be so close that no camouflaged condition will get anywhere before the eyes of the locating board, who will be here to give to us the greatest gift in the power of the state of Texas, provided they deem our proposition worthy of such a cherished trust. When we consider what it would mean to Haskell county and this section of West Texas to have this great institution located here, is it not worth the supreme effort on our part to have everything in the best possible condition to greet those who are to make the location. If we are not prepared we can not hope to get due consideration from the locating committee. We should let nothing stand in our way of having a spotless city, shined and polished for this occasion. It is really our duty to have the condition thus at all times but just at this time more effort should be put forth. Other cities are doing this and why not Haskell show them one better.

and we ask you to give us your presence early Saturday morning July the 28th. COME!

MAN BURNED WITH HOT WATER FROM RADIATOR

G. S. Medford from the Howard community was burned about the face Monday, at the Texas Filling Station, on Depot street, while uncapping the radiator of his car. While running the car, the water had gotten so hot that after taking the cap off the radiator a volume of hot water and steam was forced upward striking him in the face. Fortunately, he is not seriously burned and it is thought that he will recover from the effects very soon. Later, we are glad to report Mr. Medford was able to be in the city Tuesday and is getting along nicely.

HASKELL'S EDIFICES AMONG FINEST IN STATE

The following write up of Haskell's beautiful churches and public improvements appeared in the Star-Telegram of Monday, July the 16th, with the cuts of the three best churches of this city appearing at the head of the article. Haskell prides itself upon its piety. This pride is revealed in the pretentious, commodious and attractive church edifices the pious have built in Haskell in the last few years. With a population of 3,000 Haskell contains some of the best church structures in West Texas. Some towns point boasting to a large church of splendid architectural beauty, but Haskell can point to three or more. The most recent addition to this list is the Christian Church, just across the street from the handsome Methodist church. It was completed a few months ago. The cost was around $35,000. Haskell is also the possessor of a beautiful ladies' club building that would be a credit to any city in the State. The ladies themselves arranged bazaars, suppers and socials in order to secure the money with which to construct it. Public buildings in Haskell are permanent, attractive and convenient. The public square was only recently paved. It is probably the best paved square of all squares in West Texas. Haskell is held up as a model for many towns in Central West Texas for the beauty of its buildings and the lofty spirit of its people in upholding and erecting institutions of learning and religion.

Draper former assistant cashier of the Farmers State Bank of this city who will conduct a filling station with a double drive way and other up to date appliances. The rear will be used for storage of cars and accessories.

THE PEOPLE LIKE SCOTCH EVANGELIST

That the people still love the old time Religion is being demonstrated every day of the meeting. Dr. Cunningham is a great Bible Scholar and he knows how to present the truth to others. His messages are deep but not the kind that go over the heads of his audience. Another thing that the people like about his preaching is that he is fair to all. No words of abuse or narrowness escape his lips. He has a great big heart that beats true to his Lord, and his messages show that he is here to help men see Christ, and not merely to add members to some visible church. The meeting closes Sunday night. This Gospel feast is now open for you to enjoy. If you are a Christian, work for your Lord. If you are not a Christian, you will be helped to get in the right way if you will come. Services at the Presbyterian Tabernacle. Morning services, 10 o'clock. Evening services at 8:15. "You need the Saviour, the Saviour needs you." Come!

Marshall Pierson, State Food Inspector who lives in this city, spent several days at home this week. He has been working with other inspectors in the city of Dallas and according to Mr. Pierson a very close inspection of all food stuff is being made. More than 75,000 pounds of can goods were condemned and burned in the city of Dallas by the officers. Of course that does not mean that the merchants of Dallas are selling impure food.

The greater part of the can goods had already been set aside waiting to be taken up by whole sale people as it is the custom of the wholesale merchants to the retailer and fresh goods given in the place of the spoiled products. But the inspector has the power granted in them to condemn and the retail merchants get his credit on the slip given him by the inspector that the goods were not marketable. Mr. Pierson said where they found a man in any city or town that was not complying with the sanitary laws in regard to food stuff that they did their duty without fear or favor that the people might have the certainty that the laws were being enforced.

Child Seriously Burned

The little three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ivey of the Throckmorton road eight miles east of Haskell was seriously burned about the breast Saturday morning about 6 o'clock. The little fellow was playing with matches when his clothing became ignited and had it not been for timely aid the burns might have proved more serious. The little fellow was brought to town and given medical treatment by our local physicians and on last report he was doing nicely.

Mrs. B. B. Hulek who has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Walden left Sunday morning with her little daughter Jeanette for El Paso. She will join her husband there and they will go to Long Beach California, to make their future home.

Just Before the Battle Mother

Papa said: "Bill, look at the oil." Bill said, "We need some." Papa said, "Get some." Bill said "What kind?" Papa said, "Any kind."—and they went on their way. But POP! BANG! BIFF! goes their bearings. Bill said, "Papa if you had got Pennant Oil this would not have happened." Always have some PENNANT around.

If the rain keeps up Mr. Self thinks it will surpass the year of '71. He says that it has rained so much that no one regards the rain if he wishes to do a thing he goes right ahead and does it in the rain, men women and all. He says that despite of the rain that section will make a good crop that the boll weevil is not bothering them much yet.

IT'S YOU

The old swimming hole is callin'! You can see the signs on every hand. Freckles and Skinney and Redhead are holding up two fingers as they meet in front of the butcher-shop. Shoes are being cast aside and the old two-piece suit—pants and the shirt have taken the place of the school suit. Vacation days are here and the gang will meet on the lot just as they met forty years ago, for boyhood never changes. The green foliage along the creek and rivers beckons the old tin can with the lump of earth and wriggling worms has the same lure for the boys today that it had for you in the days gone by. "The last one in knows what he is," causes the wild scramble to clothing that it did when he was a pup. It's the same old war that it used to be. The frolic night, the sun shines into the window at morn. There are no and dirty feet to wash. The circus poster has the same attraction.

"No, Tom, it isn't the time changed—it's you."

POULTRY

SIMPLE ELECTRIC EGG TEST
Device is Most Desirable Piece of Equipment for Dealer—Pays to Candle at Home.

The egg tester as a necessary or desirable piece of equipment is receiving more attention than ever before. It has always been a handy thing for the farmer and housewife, and an absolutely necessary thing for the egg dealer. With the passing of laws by states and the establishment of regulations by health departments, candling is becoming compulsory for all egg buyers. This means that the country store which formerly accepted at a flat price whatever the producer brought in is compelled to be more particular. It means that the producer who brings in eggs, will decide that it pays him to candle his eggs at home.

For the general farm producer, the tester shown, improvised from a flashlight of the familiar long, round type, is entirely satisfactory. It furnishes a good, intense light, making testing a task without undue eye strain. Moreover, the fact that the light is under control, and is only "on" intermittently, is a real advantage, as it prevents the testing device from becoming hot.

A quart tin can is used, in the bottom of which, centrally, is cut a round hole just large enough for the flashlight to enter. Over the open top end of the can is stretched tightly a piece of felt cut from an old felt hat. In the center of that felt piece is cut a one and one-fourth inch hole. This is the egg hole.

For the base an inch board several inches wider and longer than the tin can is obtained, and the tin can fastened to this with two pieces of light wire, as shown. Parallel with the bottom end of the can, an inch board as high as the center of the hole is attached crossways, and a slot cut in it where the flashlight, placed through the can hole to within an inch of the felt end, can rest.

It will be noted that the flashlight is not made an inseparable part of this egg tester. When not required for this purpose it can be used for any other.—J. T. Bartlett, in Farm Mechanics.

POTATOES AS CHICKEN FEED

Fed to Best Advantage When Boiled or Steamed—Should Be Supplied in Limited Quantities.

Potatoes should be boiled or steamed before being fed to fowls and are fed to best advantage when mixed with mash. Since potatoes are quite fattening, they should be fed in limited quantities, preferably to laying hens or growing chickens, and should be used in connection with other feeds. One hundred hens will consume about ten pounds of cooked potatoes daily, and these potatoes can be used to replace cornmeal in the poultry mash. If so used, an equal weight of potatoes and mash may be mixed together. A laying mash for this purpose may be made of: One part meat scrap, one part middlings, two parts bran, and four parts potatoes, by weight.—Extension Service Colorado Agricultural College.

GOOD REMEDY FOR SOREHEAD

Silts of Canvas Well Greased With Antiseptic Hung Over Feed Hopper is Favored.

Here is a new method for keeping sorehead out of the chicken flock: Hang a piece of canvas over the opening of the feed hopper. Cut silts in this canvas, and keep the silts well greased with an antiseptic salve. In feeding, the birds get the salve on their heads, and this means no sorehead.

The hen with capacity and vigor should be retained.

A good layer has a large, open, moist vent.

Skim milk is thin-looking stuff, but it may be put to good use in the poultry yard.

Banking earth up around the foundation of the poultry house is a reasonable job now.

Whitewash is excellent for cleansing the poultry house. Cover every interior surface with it. The easiest way to apply is with a spray pump.

Mrs. J. P. Berry and little daughter Virginia Bell, of Fort Worth, are visiting Mrs. Berry's parents Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Cummins of this city.

I would rather fill my purse with money that keeps it's beautiful gates ajar to my happy girls while yet they linger under my roof, than to clutch it with a Miser's hand until the harp strings of youth are broken, and all its music forever fled. I would rather spend my last nickle for a bag of stripper marbles to gladden the heart of my barefooted boy, than to deny them their childish pleasures and leave them a bag of gold to quarrel over when I am dead.

The Common Mind
Suppose you had a great idea which you wanted to plant in the world, would you plant it on a snow-capped mountain top or in the valley of life?

It seems strange to us that Jesus Christ, instead of taking his message to men and women of vast influence, instead of taking it to Augustus Caesar and the influential fishermen...

When Christopher Columbus convinced himself that the world was round and that there were undiscovered islands and continent on it, he spent several years trying to get a hearing at the Spanish Court...

Out of money, out of friends, but changed like a electric dynamo with his great idea, Columbus, with his little flag, started off on foot to try his fortune in France...

These who think that the common mind is incapable of appreciation, incapable of discerning good and evil, incapable of winnowing truth and falsehood, have a few more things coming to them...

What Is Love
A true renovator—Goethe. The greatest fancy weaver—Taine. The wisdom of affections—Hare.

Short of Help
It seemed that when Rastus and Sam died they took different routes, so when the latter got to heaven he called Rastus to the phone. "Rastus," he said, "how you like it down there?"

and horses and on foot. By ten o'clock the streets fairly swarmed with people, and those who sold red lemonade and pop-corn did a thriving business...

The common people never "weep they know why." There is sound reason in what they think and do. The best government in the world is one made by the people...

So long as schools are open to the public, and newspapers and magazines are freely circulated among the people there is absolutely no danger of Error having much influence.

But a great Truth, a great Idea, planted in the hearts and minds of the plain people will grow, will become immortal. Humanity claims it, guards it, while it develops into action and power.

A Kansas girl who was about to graduate was given the theme, "Beyond the Alps lies Italy, and this is what she had to say." I don't care a cent whether Italy lies beyond the Alps of Misourio...

And I will agree to cook good meals for him, that will not send him to an early grave, and lavish upon him a whole lot of wholesome affections and see that his razor has not been used to trim corns and cut broom wire when he wants to shave.

In view of all of this I do not care if I do get a little rusty, on the rule of three and kinder things as the years go by.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?
How many times have you been asked that identical question by the editor of this paper? Too many times to remember, perhaps.

Now let us suggest that you change the accepted order of procedure for one that would be a vast improvement.

Instead of waiting for us to ask you, suppose you just take the initiative and tell us, or write us, or phone us at 207, what you know in the nature of news.

That little piece of information you have been involving around in your cranium may not be of great importance to you, but to others it may be of vital interest may even be of considerable value.

Every piece of news you read in this paper we have received from some source or another. The efforts of these people make the paper of greater interest and value to you.

Now, suppose you reciprocate and do as much for them. Tell us what you know.

A sweet girl graduate from a Boston school thus describes the manner in which a goat butted a boy out of a front yard in the neighborhood: "He hurled the previous end of his anatomy against the boy's afterwards with an eagerness and velocity which backed by the goat's avardopuls imported a momentum that was not relaxed until investigation of the vehement exasperation was lodged on terra-firma beyond the Pale of the Goat's Jurisdiction."

6 CALVIN HENSON LOCAL CORRESPONDENT HASKELL, TEXAS

"Well! Strong!"
Mrs. Ann Clover, of R. F. D. 5, Winfield, Kans., says: "I began to suffer some months ago with urinary troubles, and I was afraid I was going to get in bed. Each month I suffered with my head, back and sides—weak, aching, nervous feeling. I began to try medicines as I knew I was getting worse. It did not seem to find the right remedy until someone told me of CARDUI The Woman's Tonic. I used two bottles before I could see any great change, but after that it was remarkable how much better I got. I am now well and strong. I can recommend Cardui, for it certainly benefited me."

SOCIETY and Club

COX-SOUTHERN

A quiet, but very beautiful wedding was solemnized Sunday evening, July 22, at 9:30 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burwell Cox, when their daughter, Miss Anna Mand, became the bride of Mr. J. L. Southern of this city. The attractive home was decorated with flowers and ferns, and made a very pleasing setting for this joyous occasion.

The bride entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, and carried a bouquet of Bride's roses. The Maid of Honor wore a gown of orchid and rose changeable tulle, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. And the mother's dress was of grey-blue crepe.

Besides Mrs. H. R. Jones and Miss King, only the immediate family of the bride was present.

The bride is known and loved by all in Haskell and is very popular with the older people of the city as well as with the young folks. The groom is a resident here, having been transferred from Jayton in June, 1921. Although he has only been with us two years, he has won the respect and admiration of all who have been associated with him either in a business or social way.

Mr. and Mrs. Southern left immediately after the ceremony for Paulsboro, Okla., where they will visit the bride's parents for a few days, then they will be gone for a few weeks trip through Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, California and other points of interest, after which they will be at home in Haskell.

This young couple have many friends who wish them a long, happy and prosperous life.

The table for playing 42 were arranged on the long porch, where the cool morning breezes were blowing, and where pretty vines clambering up the pillars and over the balustrade formed natural decorations. Bowls of lovely sweet peas and shasta daisies, placed at intervals along the porch rail added to the attractiveness of the setting.

Immediately after the guests had arrived score cards were passed and soon everyone was engaged in playing. At the close of the games Mrs. W. M. Reid, with very fitting words, presented Mrs. G. W. Waldrop, honoree of the occasion, with a cut grass basket, filled with sweet peas, as a token of appreciation from the club members. Mrs. Waldrop, who is a charter member of the club will soon move to Abilene, where they will make their home.

Along the Way

Rather Risky.

A movie queen approached the manager with a momentous question. He was unprepared for it.

"Don't you think I can make just as good pictures if I marry?"

The big boss deliberated and made measured reply. "It's risky, girlie."

"Why so?"

"Well, you won't get so much help. As things stand, the author, the director, the camera operator, the press agent and the property man are in love with you."—Los Angeles Times.

On Equal Terms.

A rookie who had been assigned to the cavalry much against his will approached the sergeant and remonstrated "Say," he objected "I never rode a horse in my life."

"Oh, that's all right," countered the sergeant, easily, "We've got a horse that's never been ridden in his life. We'll start you off together."—American Legion Weekly.

An editor has evidently seen a thing or two, sputters forth thusly, says the Abroona Kausas, Tribune: "Give us the good old fashioned, God-fearing devil hating, sock darnin', beef stake frying pant patching mothers. Not any of those frizzled-haired, pencil eyebrowed, gum chewing, novel reading, card playing, ragtime and jazz singing, society ones for us."

Well Parried, Doc—

Doc—My dear lady you are a little melancholy and depressed. Ready your ought to marry again—

"Oh, dear doctor, then you will marry—?"

Doc (hastily)—No-no, no, no, no, doctor prescribes medicine, but it doesn't take it!"

Said the advertising manager of a big mail order house, in a recent address: "We have a bureau whose duty it is to read each week the county newspapers from all over the country. There is not a paper of any consequence in our trade territory that our bureau doesn't get. This bureau looks over these papers and when we find a town where the merchants are not advertising in the local paper we immediately feed that territory with our literature. It always brings results for in excess of the money effort put forth in territory where the local merchants use their local papers."

On The Wrong Road.

The history of some boys is worth a few minutes study.

When very young their mothers teach them that there is a God.

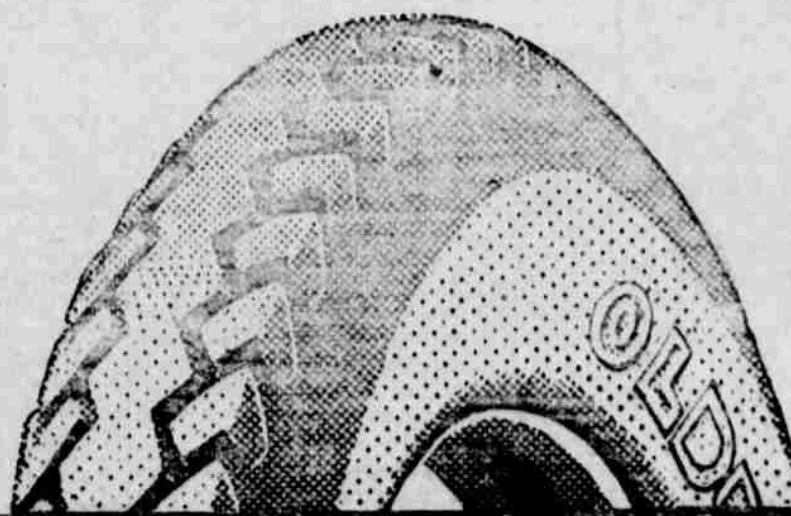

Later they learn that there is a devil and he appeals to them.

When well along in their teens they become young devils themselves.

As men they try to outdo the devil.

When death overtakes them and the devil gets them they realize he is a friend of theirs.

False friends are of no value whether in live or death.

Arrangements Completed for Fair and Rodeo Sept. 25-6-7

A contract was closed this week, whereby H. A. Johnson will stage a rodeo in connection with the Haskell County Fair on September 25th, 26th, and 27th. Mr. Johnson had charge of the Rodeo here last year, which contributed much to the success of the Fair.

According to Mr. Johnson, plans are under way to make this year's Rodeo the largest and best of all rodeos staged in this section. A number of new events have been added to the arena which will make the program this year a world-beater. One event which will be added this year that will bear special mention is the Novelty Race, in which thirty cowboys take part—one of the biggest laugh-producers ever presented.

Another new event prepared especially for this year is the "Stagecoach Hold-Up", showing the abduction of the pretty girl and the rescue. There will be lots of shooting in this thrilling event, both cowboys and Indians participating. This is a real sensation, and looks like danger.

Mr. Johnson also plans to have at least fifty Indians from the Quannah Parker tribe, Lawton, Okla., here during the Rodeo, and they will put on a big Indian War Dance each night of the rodeo, dressed in their native costumes and war paint.

The Mexican Horse Thief act will also provide a thrill for all who witness it. This is a real sensation, with lots of pep, dash and thrill, and has made a big hit every time it has been presented. A Mexican is captured after stealing a cowboy's horse and the usual Western punishment is meted out to him—he is hanged. He is afterwards identified as one of the most prominent men in the city.

The riding attractions this year promise to be the big feature of the Rodeo. In addition to a large number of man-hating outlaw horses and steers, the management has recently secured a bunch of wild Brahma steers, and they will warrant the prediction of a "sudden rise in beef" when an attempt is made to ride them.

There will be cowboy clowns, trick ropers and lady broc busters, forming the largest aggregation of cowboys and cowgirls ever assembled in Haskell. Large cash prizes will be offered in each day's contests.

Mr. Johnson, more familiarly known as "Hackberry Slim," has contracts all over Texas and parts of Missouri for rodeos, and has a reputation as a rodeo promoter who makes good, who stages his entertainments just a little bit better than the rest.

Further announcements will appear in the Free Press from time to time concerning the Rodeo and Fair.

HALF OF WORLD'S WORKERS ENGAGED IN AGRICULTURE

Fully one-half of the workers of the world are now engaged in agriculture, according to figures published by the United States Department of Agriculture. Of all occupied men and boys in 23 leading countries, 51.4 per cent are engaged in agriculture, and, of all occupied women and girls, 50.6 per cent follow agriculture pursuits, statistics show. The figures do not include the large agricultural population of Russia, China, Serbia, Hungary, Argentina and Brazil.

The largest number of both male and female agricultural workers in the countries covered is in India, where 71,000,000 males and 34,000,000 females are so employed and comprise 72 per cent of the total number of workers. The United States is second with 11,000,000 male and 2,000,000 female agricultural workers, or 29 per cent of all employed persons.

The figures were compiled to show that problems concerning agricultural workers affect a larger number of workers in almost every country than those engaged in manufacturing, mining, lumbering, or commerce, and in a few countries more than all these industries combined.

HASKELL TEAM WINS VOLLEY BALL GAMES

The few lively citizens who have in the evenings after work, been engaged in the favorite pastime of playing volley ball for the recreation and sport, not only livened up the boys and men of the city but, as we go to press we receive the news of the victories of the team sent to the Baptist Encampment at Lueders, Thursday.

This team being gotten up the very last minute played three very strong teams of West Texas, Lueders Stamford and Rotan, and as the tale goes "The Haskell boys just had 'em outclassed and skunked 'em." Although the scores could not be obtained we are proud of our Citizen Team.

NOTICE

Prof. R. M. Chamber who has been teaching voice to a large class in this city is away this week at Lueders Encampment conducting the song services for that body of Baptist. He will be at home next week and began teaching his class on their same periods as before. Hymenial

The wedding of Miss Marth Jane Zelisko to Mr. Otto Pleser on Wednesday the 18th, was a very pretty affair. Miss Zelisko is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Zelisko, living 15 miles east of Haskell and Mr. Pleser is a prosperous young farmer in the same neighborhood. Father Paul Mosler, Catholic Priest of Bomarton performed the wedding ceremony and in connection with the ceremony Holy Mass was celebrated. The bride wore a beautiful gown beige Spanish lace. Many friends and relatives attended the wedding, including a number from distance parts of the state. Soon after the ceremony which was at High Noon, dinner was served to the guests and it was truly a wedding feast. The long table was laden with excellent food and while it accommodated more than thirty guests, it was necessary to clear away and reset four times to accommodate the many guests present. To make the occasion more pleasant a family reunion was held and the entire family of Mr. and Mrs. Zelisko was present, eight sons and daughters and many grandchildren. Another pleasant feature of the occasion was the fact that it was the birthday of Mrs. Zelisko.

A platform was erected in the yard for dancing and in the evening a large crowd of young people enjoyed the splendid music and dancing. The entire day was very pleasant and all the guest went away praising Mr. and Mrs. Zelisko as ideal hosts.

Mrs. F. A. Trice returned to her home in Weinert Saturday after spending three weeks with her son F. P. Trice.
