

Don't Come Home A Failure.....

Several years ago an eighteen-year-old country boy left home to try out for a minor league ball club. He wrote his dad shortly thereafter, saying he was being fired. The old man had probably never been on a psychiatrist's couch and learned how important a feeling of "security" is. He sent his son just a five-word telegram. It said: "Don't come home a failure." The boy stuck it out—stuck it out to become the greatest ball player of all time. His name is Ty Cobb. I think his old man is due part credit for those records.

There are very few born geniuses. Genius is usually the power of making continuous effort. As Isadora Duncan said: "Great art is 75% perspiration." You have to want something very much—and then work for it. Ty Cobb was great not because he had the most native ability, nor the best coaching, nor lucky breaks. He was the greatest because he had a burning desire to be great, and worked at it unceasingly.

Has Security Become America's Obsession?

Practically every child today—farm and non-farm—has a greater opportunity than Ty Cobb—or than Abraham Lincoln. I can't help but wonder, sometimes, what Lincoln would have done if he'd had the opportunities our children have. Hardship builds character, like forging makes steel. Character is neither married nor inherited. It's a victory over one's environment and one's self.

Memorial Day Was Originated In 1863

While the South was fighting to free itself from the Union, its women were planting the beginnings of the most reverent national holidays of the U. S. — Memorial Day.

The nation was still torn by the Civil War when Southern women began to honor the dead from both sides of the Mason-Dixon line by scattering flowers on their graves.

According to research experts with The World Book Encyclopedia, the women of Columbus, Miss., decorated the graves of Union and Confederate soldiers in 1863. Two years later, Mrs. Sue Landon Vaughn, a descendant of John Adams, second president of the U. S., led some women in strewing flowers at a military cemetery in Vicksburg, Miss.

As the custom spread, General John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was persuaded to set a uniformed date on which to honor the Union dead. In 1868, Logan issued a general order to all Grand Army posts, setting aside May 30th "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country."

The first celebrations in the North exalted the Union armies for their victory over the South. But the theme of victor and vanquished gradually disappeared.

As the U.S. passed through the Spanish-American War, the World Wars and the Korean War, Memorial Day became a tribute to the nation and to all those who have died for it.

Law Passed Isolating Contagious TB

AUSTIN, May 26 — An updating of laws pertaining to a disease almost as old as mankind was accomplished today in Texas by the signing of the Texas Tuberculosis Code by Governor Price Daniel.

The bill (House Bill 412) makes plain the enforcement of compulsory isolate upon those who have contagious tuberculosis and who refuse to isolate themselves and protect others. Such enforcement has been had in various parts of Texas for two years, but it was felt procedure for enforcement needed to be clearly spelled out. This act does that.

Also contained in the code is provision for penalty of fine or imprisonment of anyone — physician or otherwise — for failure to report a case known to them as contagious tuberculosis.

Also provided is that premises occupied by people with infectious tuberculosis shall be disinfected before the property is sold or rented to anyone else.

Draft of the act, sponsored in the House by Representatives Don Kennard and Don Gladden of Fort Worth, and Representative Robert H. Hughes of Dallas and Senator Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, was reviewed by various agencies concerned with TB control before its presentation in the House and Senate. Those agencies were the Texas Medical Association, the State Department of Health, the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools and the Public Welfare Department, the Vocational Rehabilitation Division and the Texas Tuberculosis Association, a voluntary agency. The later, and the Texas Medical Association, cooperated to aid the senator and representatives in drafting the legislation, bring together all laws having to do with tuberculosis some dating to 1909 — and making them up-to-date and adequate.

Destroying The Dollar

"The fiscal situation deteriorated faster during the past year than in any comparable peace-time period to my knowledge."

That grim statement came from one of the top Congressional authorities on government finance and taxation — Senator Byrd of Virginia.

The Senator summoned up what has been going on, and it would be hard to find a darker picture. Deficit financing has been the rule rather than the exception for more than a quarter of a century. In January of this year the federal debt hit an all-time high, exceeding the World War II peak by more than $6 billion. We have reached a point of serious reluctance to invest in the bonds of the U. S. government. Chronic inflation has reduced the purchasing power of our money by 25% since 1939.

So much for the statistics. Their significance is found in something else said by Senator Byrd: "Our free enterprise democracy is the greatest system the world has ever evolved. But there is one controlling requirement, and this must never be overlooked. The system is based on solvent government and sound money."

When debt, deficits and inflation reach a certain point, one thing inevitably happens. Government becomes a dictatorship. The printing presses are turned loose, and the currency is ultimately debased, as in post World War I Germany, to worthlessness. And the liberties of the people, like their savings, are destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Day and Cathy of Abilene spent Sunday here with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Dono Day.

Memorial Day Reminds What Farmers Want Of Debt To Servicemen

This Memorial Day, we again pay tribute to those who gave their lives in the service of our country. Lest we forget, it is well for us to be so reminded of the heroic ones who gave their lives that ours might be lived in freedom. By our wise use of the freedoms earned, we pay greater tribute every day.

During these years after the guns of "hot" war have ceased, we pay tribute not only to the dead, but also to those who still play the vital roles in our own defense.

Those in the Armed Forces today are conscious of a more tangible salute of appreciation from the American public each day of the year for keeping strong the Red Cross services in their behalf.

Our contributions to Red Cross last year made possible services to the armed forces, veterans and their families amounting to $32,824,308. These services were rendered to men and women on insular and foreign soil as well as those stationed in this country. They included counsel and help with personal problems, swift communication facilities, assistance in securing benefits and resources, financial assistance, and recreation programs.

Reviewed constantly to ascertain that changing needs were being met, the clubmobile program, reminiscent of war years, was continued at the request of the military in Kor-

What Farmers Want

Farm Journal, the leading magazine in its field, has polled its readers to find out just what kind of a government farm plan they really want.

The results will come as a big surprise to those who think farmers as a whole want more and more government aids, controls and supports.

Here's how the vote adds up: 55% want total abandonment of supports and controls, and a return to the free market; 15% favor supports on an emergency basis only; 8% want adjustment supports which would permit a gradual return to normal markets over a period of time. In sum, therefore, 78% favor plans calling either for no support or for less support.

By contrast, only 14% say they want high price supports, of 90% to 100% of parity, and only 8% favor the production payment plan.

The percentages were pretty much the same in all sections of the country. Among the different commodities, farmers specializing in poultry, beef, or fruit and vegetables are the most inclined to get rid of supports. Wheat and grain producers are least disposed to do this—but, even so, close to half of them consider it the thing to do.

Farm Journal has done the country a real service—and the hope is that the lesson learned will find its reflection in future policy. Farmers, like the rest of us, know past programs have been monumental failures, and that billions have gone down the drain with no return. And farmers want to stand on their own feet.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.

HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D.
Commissioner of Health

The discarded nail was hidden in tall grass. The mower blade hit it and suddenly it was buried an inch deep alongside the shinbone of the 23-year-old Williamson County secretary.

Accidents of this type will be on the increase now—this is lawn-mowing time, you know—until fall weather brings a welcome respite from the weekly chore.

The State Department of Health does not keep statistics on non-fatal accidents, so the extent of injuries from carelessly handled power mowers is unknown. But a random check of private physicians and an emergency hospital confirms the fact that the number is considerable.

Like the man who stopped his car at the curb, intending to say hello to his perspiring neighbor busily mowing the grass. Neighbor wheels up with mower to return the greeting. Man in car—elbow resting on window—finds his forearm pinned to bicep with a five-inch piece of wire flung at him by the whirling blade.

Power equipment is a tremendous boon to the man who likes to keep his yard neat with a minimum of effort. But it takes constant concentration to do the job safely. Even experience is no substitute for concentration.

A garden club member in a major Texas city used to pride himself on his safe and sane use of power tools that helped him maintain the sharpest yard in the block.

But no more. One afternoon recently, while trimming his driveway with a power trimmer, he reached down to lift a bloom-laden branch of a rose bush out of the way. When he withdrew his hand two fingers were missing. "I wasn't alert," he wryly explained.

One of the most frequent mower accidents has this sequence:

A stick or wire or rock jams between cutting bar and blade. The operator attempts to clear the jam without going to the trouble of killing the motor. Result: Badly cut or severed fingers when the surge of power spins the freed blade.

Most power mower come equipped with safety guards. Trouble is that guards are removed by owners for one reason or another and never replaced.

But use one carelessly and you're liable to become a candidate for a quick trip to the emergency ward of the Hospital. (A weekly feature of the Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

'As It Looks From Here'

Omar Bursleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C.—IN THE LAST several years "Special Days" officially proclaimed has become a vogue.

WE ARE NOW DESIGNATING ENTIRE YEARS to special purposes to place emphasis on special subjects.

THE GEOPHYSICAL YEAR has just been completed. Special efforts were made in the scientific field, but particularly the publicity was stepped up to inform the public on certain phases of research and experiments.

A NEW ONE — A REAL DILLY — has now been dreamed up. It is to be a "World Refugee Year."

THE PRESIDENT HAS JUST PROCLAIMED the year beginning July 1 as World Refugee Year, and pledged increased Government aid for more than two million refugees.

THE PRESIDENT SET FORTH a five point program which includes easing immigration restrictions, permitting an additional 65,000 so-called Refugees and Escapees to enter the United States.

LEGISLATION HAS BEEN INTRODUCED to authorize the Attorney General of the United States to admit an unspecified number of refugees "fleeing oppression."

WHILE WE LOOK UNDER EVERY STONE AND CHIP to find Communists; while we attempt to stamp out disease; prevent crime; reduce unemployment; clear slums; it becomes Government policy to open up our doors to a lot of people, who under our immigration laws are considered "undesirable" and not permitted to enter.

ALL THESE PEOPLE WILL NEED TO DO is leave their country for any reason, say they are a refugee, and they become eligible to enter. All they need to do is start a riot such as occurred in Hungary in 1957, run out on it, and they are eligible.

THE SO-CALLED HUNGARIAN REFUGEES permitted to enter in 1957 and 1958, are mostly congregated in the ghettos of the big cities, and this is about as definite as our officials know of their whereabouts or what they are doing. Their only responsibility is to register as an alien the first of each year, but many have failed to do so. They are not U. S. citizens and have no responsibility by reason of being here. Yet, we propose to open our doors to more of the same.

OUR PRESENT IMMIGRATION LAWS provide quotas from various countries. These quotas are set to permit immigration for the most desirable people. A certain number is provided for those nations supposedly more nearly like the United States.

SENATOR JOHN F. KENNEDY has introduced a bill which would remove these quotas entirely and allow 250,000 immigrants each year on a first-come, first served basis.

The Rotan Advance

Thursday, May 28, 1959 No. 19

THE PRESENT LAW PROVIDES that visas should be allocated to countries in proportion to their share of the U. S. population in 1920. This provision would be eliminated, and unused quotas assigned to other areas.

AS SURPRISING AS IT IS, the bill to authorize the Attorney General to admit an unspecified number of refugees on a parole basis, is authored by Congressman Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee and also Chairman of the House Immigration and Naturalization Subcommittee of the Judiciary.

THIS IS THE SORT OF SENTIMENT generated by a few big organizations in this country, led by prominent people in disregard of the opinion of the ordinary citizen who is not in the ranks of the professional "do-gooders" and who has seemingly no voice in keeping out these thousands of people, many of whom should have no place in this nation.

WE SHOULD ONLY HAVE TO LOOK in the daily newspapers of crime reports in the big cities, the riots, the political picketing, and other actions inimical to our standards, to have an idea of what it means to compound a serious situation already existent.

THE LEADERS OF THIS POLICY as it is "humanitarian." It probably is in some cases, but the risk is great in many others. (It is also just possible that the bloc votes of the foreign elements in the big cities may also have considerable influence in places.)

THOSE WHO OPOSE SUCH ACTION are labeled "narrow," "unsympathetic to the oppressed" and even "bigots."

LET THEM SAY WHAT THEY WILL, but the welfare of America, not to consider millions of taxpayers' money, is more important.

Mrs. Stella Morrow, Mrs. Lois Smith and Mrs. A. C. Dotson of Colorado City visited Miss Beatrice Chiles and Mrs. W. J. Berry Wednesday of last week.

Christian Science Service Sunday

1001 Cane St. Sweetwater

How the armour of righteousness enables man to withstand the attacks of evil will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

In the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," passages read from the Bible will include (Ephesians 6:11): "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

Correlativ passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include (571:15): "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. Clad in the panoply of Love, human hatred cannot reach you. The cement of a higher humanity will unite all interests in the one divinity."

Swaddling Clothes Rules

The jet age of international air transportation is here, with its revolutionary steps forward in speed, comfort, range, and convenience. But certain of the rules and regulations under which our airlines must operate belong, to speak, to the "tri-motored Ford" era.

The global route patterns of this nation were largely established years ago, when commercial aviation was still in swaddling clothes. The situation is particularly bad in the all-important Pacific service pattern. Because of obsolete requirements and regulations, planes must take long needless detours, of up to 2,000 miles. They are required to make stops that technological advancement has made unnecessary. In many cases, through, direct one-plane service to principal traffic centers doesn't exist. There is a lack of normal, desirable competition, which results in unjustified slowness in making improvements in service and equipment. Fares are often higher than need be.

Here is a situation that must be corrected if U. S. — Flag air carriers are to retain their rightful position of leadership. And there's little time to waste. The Soviet government plans to take full advantage of the jet age in the interest of communist influence and prestige. They are planning, for example, to place high speed cargo and passenger planes on the increasingly popular Polar routes. If out-model rules prevent our own air carriers from going ahead, while the Soviets have a free hand, the damage to this nation will be heavy. For, today, the airplane is an instrument of policy, as well as an instrument of commerce.

How Much More Taxes

Just how much additional tax burden can the people of this country stand?

This is no idle question. State and local taxes are soaring. And current proposals would swell the federal tax bite by heavy amounts.

Take, for instance, the plan to provide government medical and nursing home payments for elderly people through the Social Security System. It would be financed by raising the Social Security taxes on both employees and employers.

The cost of the program, according to the Health Insurance Association of America, would be $1,883,000,000 a year. Another estimate, from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, places the bill at more than $1 billion a year. Incidentally, this report is a factual character, and makes no recommendations. But it does include a significant statement — that "in our society the existence of a problem does not necessarily indicate that action by the federal government is desirable." The intimation is that the Department is highly dubious of the virtues of the proposal.

That aside, if the government is to spend a billion or two a year on medical aid for one group of people, is it reasonable to suppose it would stop there? No one with any knowledge of the history of such governmental undertakings can believe it would. The door would open wide to socialized or government-dominated medicine on a limitless scale. The tax cost would be incredible. Worse still, if the experience of England and other nations is of any value at all, we would pay an enormous price in deteriorating medical standards and inferior medical care. That always happens when the bureaucrats take over, write the rule books, and call the tunes.
