

'As It Looks From Here'

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C.—In May 1958, this column discussed the virtual impossibility of deporting foreign hoodlums, Communists and other undesirables as long as money was provided to hire lawyers. At that time there were pending in the courts between 7,000 and 8,000 orders for deportation, but not a one of them had been deputed.

The House of Representatives has now passed a measure to prevent these long delays. The bill provided that the Appellate Federal Courts shall have exclusive review of administrative decisions in deportation cases.

This means that an alien cannot continue to file frivolous and repeated petitions in crowded courts for the purpose of delaying and remaining in this Country indefinitely.

In some cases, as many as 10 separate courts have been filed by one individual. Certain aliens are in the United States today, against whom proceedings for deportation were started more than 10 years ago. Murderers, narcotic peddlers, extortioners and those in organized crime across the Country are able to secure unlimited funds with which to stay in court. The legislation just passed by the House of Representatives will end this sort of abuse.

This column in 1958 described the so-called William Heikkila case which was then current in the news. A more recent one is a character by the name of Marcello, ordered deported five years, 9 months and 24 days ago, but who is still in the Country. He appeared before the McClellan Ricketts Committee and admitted that in all the years he has been in the United States he has not been naturalized. He is involved in a whole series of crimes. He also admitted before the Committee he is wanted in Italy on criminal charges. He took the Fifth Amendment before the McClellan Committee investigating racketeering.

He and many others have remained in the Country by repeated court action. As soon as one case was decided against him, he simply moved into another court and went through the same procedure. At present, there is no limit under existing law and not even a requirement that a judge to whom an alien makes application for relief from a deportation order, shall be informed that there was a previous determination of his case. The bill passed by the House this week will prevent this sort of action.

Under a Supreme Court ruling in 1956, should an alien be denied entry into the United States, he could file a lawsuit, claiming the privilege. No such thing was ever heard of in law until the Supreme Court made this decision. This is cured by this bill.

A second provision requires an alien to start any court action within 6 months from the time it has been administratively determined that he is to be deported. Under the present system, the alien can wait around for years while the Government is trying to obtain a passport for his departure.

A third provision is that court action must be started in the Appellate Courts and not in Trial Courts where dockets are exceedingly crowded. The alien must bring his suit in the vicinity where he lives and where deportation proceedings were conducted, and not select a court all the way across the Country in order to delay.

Repetitious court actions are prevented.

We can hope the United States senate will also pass this measure and that the President will sign it in order to meet an extremely serious situation.

Christian Science Service Sunday

The divine, eternal source of all life and action will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" is the Golden Text from John (5:26): "As the Father hath life himself; so hath he given to the son to have life in himself."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read (289:32): "Because Life is God, Life must be eternal, self-existent. Life is the everlasting I AM the Being who was and is and shall be, whom nothing can erase."

Scriptural selections include this passage from I John (2:25): "And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life."

County Agricultural Agent Texas A. & M. College Extension Service

Half of the 3,152 counties in the United States and its possessions are now modified certified brucellosis areas, said Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. This means that tests show less than one per cent of all herds and five percent of all herds within the country are infected with brucellosis.

Of this number, he said, only 3 counties in Texas—Jeff Davis, Brewster and Presidio—are certified. Officials have noted that the program's greatest gains have been made in those areas where livestock producers have cooperated by using the two main features of the program simultaneously — blood testing of animals to identify infected herds, and protection of calves through vaccination, Patterson said.

In addition to the 1,576 counties already certified, another 546 are currently working toward that goal and are expected to be certified soon. Up to the present time, 18 entire states, plus Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, have been certified, the veterinarian said.

When the national program first began in 1934, more than 11% of the cattle in the US were infected. However, as a result of the present program, the infection rate among all cattle tested has been reduced from 2.6% in 1954 to 1.3% at the end of February this year. This reduction in animal infection has also reduced the incidence of undulant fever, the form the disease takes in humans, from 6,321 known cases in 1947 to 802 in 1958. Contact with infected animals or animal products is the only source of human infection, the veterinarian added.

Dr. Patterson discussed the new animal health and brucellosis laws at a sub-district meeting in Haskell last Monday. James Cave and Glenn Jamison attended the meeting with the county agent.

Cottonseed now has a market as a high protein feed for poultry and swine, says the USDA. Improved processing techniques have made this new use possible by lowering of the free gossypol content in the meal.

Prior to 1947, says the USDA, use of cottonseed meal for livestock rations was limited largely to cattle because of the gossypol, a pigment that is toxic to poultry and swine.

Although variable from year to year, the new market for cottonseed meal has been estimated by the USDA to have reached 300,000 tons annually in recent years. California, at the present time, is the largest market for the improved cottonseed meal, where in 1958 an estimated 200,000 tons went into

"Summerize Your Dog"

Dog-days are here and it's time to give some thought to keeping your pet cool. According to the Pet Food Institute, a dog's coat protects him from sunburn and mosquito bites so this isn't the time for a haircut! Brush your dog daily to remove the dead hair which he automatically sheds at this time of year. Your pet will be more comfortable when the temperature shoots over 90°, if you give him lots of water, don't overfeed, and exercise him in the cool of evening or early morning. If you take your pet on an auto trip, be sure to pack up his favorite food and feeding dishes, his grooming equipment, and a blanket or cushion for him to sleep on. At intervals during the day, stop at a pleasant roadside spot and exercise your dog. It will do you both good. Feed your pet lightly on traveling days—a single meal in the evening is best.

poultry rations.

In the past, even when fed to laying hens at low, no-toxic levels, gossypol in unimproved cottonseed meal caused egg yolk discoloration. The improved cottonseed meals, however, can be fed at levels up to 10% of the total diet of hens with no adverse effect on yolks of eggs produced for the fresh egg market. USDA's Agricultural Research Service began work in the 1940's to improve cottonseed meal. Studies of the chemical and physical properties of cottonseed and of the pigment glands containing gossypol gave scientists of the ARS Southern Utilization Research and Development division, New Orleans, an understanding of the role played by gossypol and laid the groundwork for producing cottonseed meal with a low gossypol content.

Further work indicated that the glands containing gossypol could be captured during processing by several means, and a large part of the freed toxic material could be then inactivated at a much lower temperature than was previously thought possible. Also, low processing temperatures favor high protein quality in the meal. However, low processing temperatures favor high protein quality in the meal. However, achievements to date do not complete the research required to realize the full feeding potential of cottonseed meal, the USDA added.

Area Man Appointed To Marketing Service

A native farm boy of this area and a graduate of Leuders High School, B. B. Manley, Jr., takes charge of the Agricultural Marketing Service, July 19.

This was announced today by John L. McCollum, manager, southwest area cotton division, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Dallas.

The post was held for many years by H. J. Matejowsky until he passed away in June.

Mr. Manley has eight years of experience in classing cotton at Lubbock, various south Texas points, Memphis, Tenn., and most recently, Little Rock, where he was a supervisory classer.

A graduate in agriculture from Sam Houston State Teachers College, Manly also attended Abilene Christian College. He served two years with the US Navy.

The Abilene AMS cotton office serves farmers, ginners and members of the cotton trade in 29 west Texas counties. Fisher county is in this group.

In this area, there are 24 cotton improvement groups organized under the Smith-Dooley Act, representing more than 16,000 farmers, Mr. McCollum said. They send their cotton to 172 gins.

Last year, the Abilene AMS cotton office classed more than 434,000 bales of cotton, most of it for farmers in cotton improvement groups, which get this USDA service plus market news without cost.

The office is located at 248 Leggett Drive. Mail should be addressed to PO box 2001, Abilene.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner of Health.

"School days, school days. Good ol' golden rule days!"

Here they come again, and if you're a wise parent you'll get ready ahead of time.

There is lots to do—buy clothes, fit shoes—and if your child is entering the first grade, chances are you need a birth certificate copy.

School districts in Texas require that entering students be six years old before September 1. Otherwise they must wait until the following year.

The best means of proving your child's age and birth date is to have a certified copy of his birth certificate.

In many areas of Texas, copies are available from local registrars of vital statistics in health departments or county court houses.

You may also obtain a copy from the Division of Vital Statistics of the Texas State Department of Health in Austin.

To do so, you must send one dollar requesting a copy. Be sure to include the child's name, date and place of birth and the parents name.

It is important that parents take care of this chore as early as possible.

During August and September the Division of Vital Statistics is swamped with literally thousands of requests each week for birth certificate copies.

If you want to be sure your child has his birth certificate when school starts, request it now.

Rough estimates place the number of upcoming first graders at about 250,000. That makes for a lot of birth certificate copies.

In addition to birth certificates, it would be wise to check with your school district regarding any vaccinations that may be required.

It would be a good idea—if you have not already done so—to get your child started on his series of three Salk polio shots before school starts.

Also, a fourth shot or "booster" is generally recommended for added protection a minimum of one year after the initial series.

Another smart idea that will pay off, is adjusting your child's schedule to approximate that of school time including bedtime, meals and especially waking time.

Corner on Cotton

BY BOB COLLINS

Think you won't be affected by crop support limitations recently voted by both houses of Congress because you are a "small" cotton farmer? . . . we'll bet you are wrong . . . first, limitations on loans can seriously disrupt orderly marketing processes and depress prices, forcing many small farmers to use the loan when they would not otherwise (and this could mean more cotton will go into the CCC rather than less) . . . it would work like this: Loan limits could force the sale of much of the crop as it comes from the fields since it would be entirely unsupported and the producer would need his money immediately . . . of course storage charges and interest are paid . . . this selling the unsupported crop as it comes from the field could drive down the prices and all cotton farmers could get hurt . . . of course, the ideal thing is to have a cotton crop that stands on its own feet without having or needing supports, but it can't be done this way . . . in the past not so disturbing disruptions of established commercial procedures have started tragic chain reactions in our overall economy . . . the politicians are playing with fire.

Added Strength

Research is underway to add strength to cotton linters . . . these are the short fibers that stick to seed after ginning . . . when this is done the linters will have a greater use in papermaking . . . right now they have a limited use because they are weaker than the long cotton fibers . . . USDA research division is at work on the project.

New Weed Killer

Experiments with diuron during the past two years give some promise of eliminating cost of a couple of cultivations . . . this weed killer was applied early in the season when cotton was six to eight inches high.

The Cost

Diseases, weeds, and, of course, insects are the biggest headaches for cotton farmers . . . cost of these is about 12c per pound of cotton . . . no estimate is available on what politicians are costing farmers.

Dear friends of Fisher County:

This is your invitation to attend the GOSPEL MEETING to be conducted by Austin Siburt, of Hamlin, Texas, at the church of Christ building, Rotan, Texas, July 17-26.

Brother Siburt is capable in every way to present the TRUTH in an acceptable manner. The plea that he will make is new to many people, we grant, but we guarantee it to be the BROADEST plea the WORLD has ever known. It includes EVERYBODY. It is designed in heaven to bring together all believers in CHRIST upon the only platform ALL can ACCEPT.

The Gospel of Christ WAS "the power of God unto salvation" (Rom. 1:16), in Paul's life time. If Peter told the truth (and he did), "The word of the Lord liveth and abideth forever." (1 Peter 1:23). Hence, it is still true, and will continue to be true until time shall be no more, and even then it will not cease to be so.

The word of God is the standard that will JUDGE each of us in the last day (John 12:48), therefore, we ask you to BELIEVE nothing, DO nothing, BECOME nothing that is not DEMANDED in the New Testament of US ALL. Here WE stand if the heavens fall. This sort of foundation is the only one that can stand the floods of criticism from a world of unbelief.

Services daily at 7:00 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. Except Sunday the regular time, 9:45 a. m. 7:00 p. m. Congregational Singing.

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where pifon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction® rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped ½-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

About Your HEAL

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.

"School days, school days. Good ol' golden rule days!"

Here they come again, and if you're a wise parent you'll get ready ahead of time.

There is lots to do—buy clothes, fit shoes—and if your child is entering the first grade, chances are you need a birth certificate copy.

School districts in Texas require that entering students be six years old before September 1. Otherwise they must wait until the following year.

The best means of proving your child's age and birth date is to have a certified copy of his birth certificate.

In many areas of Texas, copies are available from local registrars of vital statistics in health departments or county court houses.

You may also obtain a copy from the Division of Vital Statistics of the Texas State Department of Health in Austin.

To do so, you must send one dollar. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Martin of Oklahoma City are announcing the arrival July 8 of Nita Sue, weight 6 pounds, 3 ounces. She is the first granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Martin. Mrs. Martin is in Oklahoma City this week helping spoil the young lady. The J. D. Martins have a son three and one half years old.

Mrs. C. J. Race and children and Becky Strickland went to El Paso Monday. Dr. and Mrs. Race are moving there and Becky will visit a few days.

Helpful Hints Make Summer's Screens Easier

How are your window screens? Do they have the twists, warps, or splits? Fit to be discarded and replaced are those whose frames are rotten, split or warped, or whose screen is either rusty so that water flowing from it stains the house or so painted over that the holes are almost closed.

Speaking particularly to the millions of home owners whose houses have wood double-hung or single-hung windows, the Screen Manufacturers Association gives assurance that measuring to replace unsightly old screens with bright new all-aluminum ones is easy for the home-owner to do himself. All he needs is a steel measuring tape or a rigid measuring stick and strict adherence to a few simple directions.

While most screen retailers and fabricators offer professional measuring service, the S.M.A. says, the home-owner can save time and labor costs by measuring, himself, wood windows for screens. The S.M.A. advises:

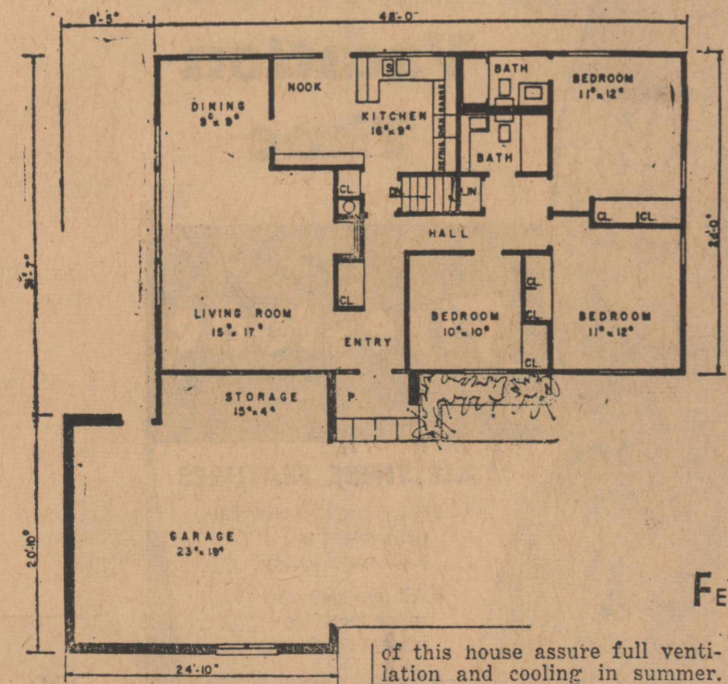

They can be painted if desired. Their light weight permits them to be carried several at a time even by a child, while the space-saving thinness of their sturdy aluminum frames allows them to be stored in only a fraction of the space needed for heavy wood screens.

A HOUSE TO FIT MOST ANY LOT

The major problem of satisfactorily orienting a house — adjusting it by compass direction to the most favorable exposure — often is solved more readily by accommodating design. Designer Richard B. Pollman has achieved that end with this one-story L-shaped home. Attractive from all points of view, it may be built upon almost any terrain and occupy a lot of any shape. It has 1,344 sq. ft. of livable floor area. This house has a large living room with fireplace, dining area, kitchen, three bedrooms, two bathrooms, seven closets and tremendous storage space in the two-car fireproof brick garage. A side door in the garage invites protected storage of lawn, garden and sports equipment. The front and back windows of this house assure full ventilation and cooling in summer. Its compact design reduces winter heating costs. An important feature is Luxtrol Light Control for the valance lighting over the wide window expanse in the living area. Turning a dial adjusts room lights, and floor and table lamps if desired, to any selected intensity of illumination. This house may gleam for parties, yet at other times relax with subdued light. The most flattering light can be selected to match changing moods and activities. Color tones in furniture, draperies and rugs can be accentuated or subdued to alter the character and spirit of the surroundings. Lighting can be brightened to the most comfortable level for reading or entertaining, softened for a more relaxed setting for quiet conversation. Professional construction blueprints for Plan HP-902 may be had for $20 or $35 for four sets from Home Planners, Inc., 16310A Grand River Avenue, Detroit 27, Michigan.
