

'As It Looks From Here'

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C.—“There Ought To Be A Law!” How often have we heard this. In some instances it would be entirely appropriate to say there should not be a law.

That is about the situation connected with efforts to produce some sort of a labor reform bill in the Congress. The so-called Kennedy-Ervin Bill recently passed by the United States Senate by a vote of 90 to 1 seemingly pleases no one. On the other hand, at the time of passage the only real opposition was to the so-called McClellan “Bill of Rights.”

Since the bill is now in the House of Representatives, it is opposed by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers and the large labor unions. This all makes for very strange bedfellows. Of course, they oppose it for different reasons. The National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce say the Bill is too weak. Many labor union leaders say it is too strong. All of them say they are opposed to corruption, but supposedly everyone is also against crime and sin, unless it is Jimmy Hoffa. Just being against corruption does not require much courage, nor does it say in specifics what is being opposed or advocated.

Comparatively few people have had occasion to read the Kennedy-Ervin Bill or the several bills pending in the House of Representatives proposed as substitutes for the Senate measure.

Sweeping generalities made for the purpose of arousing the emotions among various segments of the population is not something on which legislation can be based. Legislation must deal with the exact and technical language which is to become law. Platitudes are not that kind of language.

Unless one looks at the situation realistically and from the standpoint of enacting a good law, he will reach conclusions only on what he hears and what he reads. If what one hears and what he reads if from only one source and based only on the proposition “there ought to be a law,” the opinion may be based on emotion.

For practical reasons legislation is usually a matter of compromise to attain the possible.

The need for labor reform legislation is clear and indisputable. On this point most can agree, but exactly what is needed and the method of attaining it is a matter of law is something else. To burn down the barn to get rid of the rats has proved not to be the best method of rodent control.

Any labor bill should allow the rank and file union member to vote secretly by ballot for his officers. The member of the union should know for what his union funds are being spent and have some control over them. He should be afforded his individual freedom from within his organization and protected against racketeering and unscrupulous leaders.

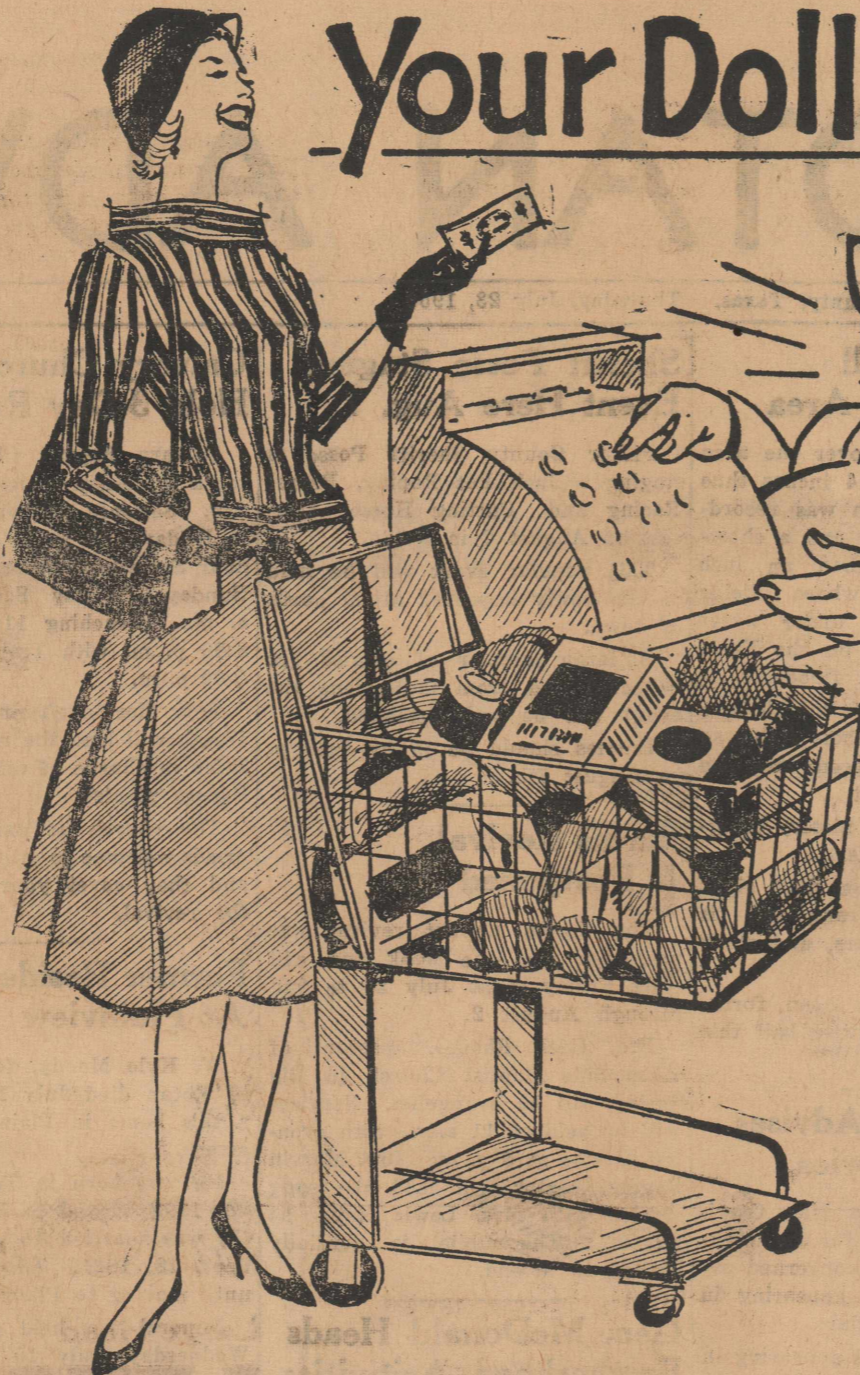

It should not be to break and destroy honest unions. Both management and labor should have protection under the law from hoodlums and their criminal actions. It follows, of course, that the general public would be protected.

“There ought to be a law”—strong enough to get the job done; realistic enough to be enforced; and fair enough to both management and the unions to be respected.

It is too much to expect that the Congress can enact labor legislation wholly acceptable to labor and wholly acceptable to management. Human nature being what it is, this could hardly be expected. If everyone is to be pleased there will be no labor bill. If the public is to be protected from those who act bigger than the Government itself, then reform legislation is of vital necessity.

Susan McWhirter, granddaughter of Mrs. Walter Collins has returned home from a visit with her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Eunice McWhirter in Rising Star. They also visited in Temple. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell McWhirter met her in Abilene Sunday and she returned to her home in Roby with them.

Among those attending the Methodist Youth Camp at Camp Butman last week were Rev. Bill Pearce and Mrs. Pearce, who were counselors, and Cyndy Berry, Myra Burrow, Connie Sumerlin, Bill Stinson, Neal Lyles and Stephen Baugh.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Truman Black, Manager

Many times clubs and organizations are hard pressed to find interesting and entertaining programs. If you're a program chairman and this happens to you—just call your telephone company at 282.

One of our most interesting programs is a tour through the equipment office. One of our trained specialists will be on hand to explain how each piece of equipment works to provide you with telephone service. So for an interesting and entertaining program—just call Mrs. McGrew at the telephone office.

Vacations and Telephones

When you think of vacation, about this time of year, you probably think of fishing, swimming, visiting, or just plain relaxing at some nice vacation spot.

Well, I'm happy to say that more and more people are using the telephone to have more fun on their vacation trips.

Here's how it works (and you can do the same if you're one of the lucky people still looking forward to a vacation):

First, call ahead to reserve your accommodations, or to let the family know when you'll arrive.

Next, call ahead to make overnight reservations along the highway. This way, you can drive longer and still be sure of a place to stay.

I think you'll find that this "calling-ahead habit" will help you and your family have an even better vacation.

Why not give it a try? And remember, call station-to-station—it's about one-hird cheaper.

Ten Rings

With backyard barbecues so popular nowadays, people are spending more and more time outdoors. So when you call your friends, remember it may be quite a run from the backyard to the telephone.

Give them time to make the dash by letting the telephone ring ten times.

Who knows? They may ask you over, too, for some of those hamburgers on the grill!

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Korean War Vets
Urged To Start School
Plans Early As Possible

"Apply now. Don't get caught in the rush."

This is the advice that the Veterans Administration gave today to all Korea veterans planning to start school in the fall under the Korean GI Bill.

By applying now, a veteran can beat the rush and can eliminate any chance of a delay at the last minute, VA said. To help veterans get started, VA issued this check list.

- 1. Since the law allows a veteran to change his GI course only once, he should give plenty of thought, in advance, to his goal.
- 2. If he is undecided about what to train for, he may ask for VA vocational counseling.
- 3. He should be sure that his course has been GI-approved by the state in which the school is located.
- 4. He should make all arrangements for gaining admission to his school before he even files his application with VA.
- 5. The GI training application should be completely filled out and signed. The veteran should send it, along with a photostat or certified copy of his separation paper, to the VA regional office.
- 6. A veteran with dependents should have the necessary proof of dependency.
- 7. A veteran should take along enough money of his own to tide him over the first two months of training. It takes about that long, ordinarily, for his first monthly GI check to reach him.

One of 7 Big Bests Chevy gives you over any car in its field

Open invitation to excitement, the Impala Convertible... and America's only authentic sports car, the Corvette.

You've got more to go on than our say-so: Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard passenger car and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED says it this way: "... surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." And if you want the thrift of a six, you still get the best of it in a Chevy.

BEST ECONOMY No doubt about this: a pair of Chevy sixes with Powerglide came in first and second in their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run—getting the best mileage of any full-size car, 22.38 miles per gallon.

BEST BRAKES Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy out-stopped both of the "other two" in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research

BEST RIDE A few minutes behind the wheel will leave no doubt about this. MOTOR TREND magazine sums it up this way: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

BEST TRADE-IN Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.* Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

*National Automobile Dealers Association

BEST ROOM Official dimensions reported to the Automobile Manufacturers Association make it clear. Chevy's front seat hip room, for example, is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

BEST STYLE It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

SHOULD CHRISTIANS TITHE?

It is well known that under the law of Moses, the Israelites were required to give a tenth unto the service of God, (Mal. 3:8), in addition they gave other gifts. In contrast, when one studies the New Testament law for Christians in regard to giving, no such requirement for tithing will be found. Each Christian is instructed (1 Cor. 16:1-2), to give on the first day of the week as he has been prospered, and (2 Cor. 9:6), as he hopes to be prospered. Instead of specifying any certain percentage, the New Testament instructs "each man to do according as he hath purposed in his heart, not grudgingly, or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver." (2 Cor. 9:7). In following God's word, each Christian will decide for himself and decide privately how much he plans to give, then he will give cheerfully, not grudgingly or of necessity.

From these plain New Testament teachings, it would seem improper for anyone to put pressure on a Christian to give, or tell him how much he should give. Giving is a personal affair between each Christian and his God.

When Christ's church follows these teachings, funds are not raised by having entertainments, suppers or sales. Business men of the town are not solicited. It is possible that more money could be raised by high pressure or unscriptural methods but our first consideration must be to please God by following his word and leave the results with Him!

By following God's plan, Christ's church today has prospered and is growing rapidly both here and abroad. Here are some references on giving of our money to the Lord. (Matt. 6:3,4, 19-29. Mark 10:17-22. 12:42-44. Luke 6:38; 12:15-21; 18:24, 25; Acts 2:42. 5:1-11, 11-29. Rom. 12:8. 15:25-26. 1 Cor. 9:14; 16:1-2; 2 Cor. 8-5, 7, 10-15. 9:1-11. Gal. 6:10; Eph. 4:28. 1 Tim. 5: 8-10; 16-18. 6:6-10, 17-19; Heb. 13:5, 6; Jas. 1:27, 5:1-6.)
