WWI Leader Urges Vets Cooperation

Hugh V. Huckaby, Commander of 17th dist. of WWI Barrack organization issued the following statement to veterans this week: "Buddies, let us have a heart to heart talk. For the first time in our history we have had a public hearing on our own pension bill. This is an outstanding victory in itself, and membership has played an important part in bringing about such an accomplishment. Many of our buddies do not realize that membership plays such a political roll in our legislative fight, or each member would get one or more members. April should be our biggest month of the year in membership."

Your Department Commander has just returned from Washington where our $100.00 per month pension bill was given a hearing. The bill is now being studied by the committee, and every Barrack should take a pride in supporting this accomplishment, (the first in the history of the organization) by putting on a membership drive that will add thousands of new and reinstated members. Buddies, we have only a few more weeks in this session of Congress to get our bill out and passed. The Department will keep the Veterans Affairs Committee informed as to our membership growth, and surely you would not want your barrack left out if you have any eligible veterans in your area.

We cannot expect Congress to be liberal in its decision to grant a pension on our present membership. We have something over 2,700,000 veterans of WWI left, and our membership is less than 200,000, less than 10% of the eligible veterans. No wonder we are having to fight our way into the hearts of our Congressmen. Let us put some of this effort into a well planned membership campaign, the largest and most effective ever staged in Texas. If we really want this Pension Bill put over, we are going to have to show an increase in membership.

My Buddies, after your membership drive is set up, if the Commander will ask for enough volunteers to form teams of two or three buddies to each team you will get results. Are we going to let our Congressman think we are satisfied with Bill 7650, or, are we going to go all out for Bill 9336. Our action on membership will let our Congressman know.

You ask the question, What can I do? I say, pay your dues and be a Buddy to a Buddy, or reinstate now.

Let me say this in closing, don't sign that slip you got in your March check, stay as you are."

Several names were omitted last week in the list of neighbors who assisted Rev. Marvin Rogers with field work. Finley Eaton and Marvin O'Brian helped in the field and Mrs. Finley Eaton and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hancock assisted with dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rives went to Kermit Friday in response to a message that their son-in-law, Troy Adams was injured Thursday in an oil rig accident. His right ankle was crushed. Mr. and Mrs. Rives returned home Saturday.

Red Cross Has Many Training Courses

Since the beginning of Red Cross Safety Services in 1910, 50 years ago, the types of training and numbers of persons participating has changed constantly. According to Frederic S. Laise of St. Louis Mo., last year 133,820 residents of Texas received some kind of Red Cross safety instruction, including proper use of boats and motors, as well as the more familiar training in first aid, swimming, and life-saving techniques. Laise is manager, Midwestern Area Office, American Red Cross.

Because of the accident potential attending the greatly increased popularity of recreational boating in nearly all areas of the country, Laise explained, the additional courses of particular value to boating enthusiasts were added by Red Cross to the already proven safety courses which have been taught with timely changes for many years.

In Texas there are over 7,000 volunteer instructors authorized to conduct various courses. As a result of their efforts and the materials and methods Red Cross has been able to develop and provide, 127 persons received certificates for completing courses in boating; 369 earned canoeing certificates; 42 persons received certificates for completing courses in sailing; 73,462 were formally trained in swimming; 10,271 were certified as lifesavers; and 49,549 were trained in first aid. In addition, Laise estimated, 117,470 got some kind of informal first aid or water safety instruction through demonstrations film showings, and educational

The Family Farm Income Act of 1960, sponsored by Rep. Bob Poag in Congress, was heartily endorsed by National Farmers Union President Jim Patton recently.

Patton outlined principles which should be included in any good farm legislation and noted that this House bill was based on these principles. These were: an expansion of the Agricultural Conservation Practices (ACP); measures to strengthen the bargaining position of the family farm; the marketing order approach, which has worked

Texas A. & M. College
Extension Service

The two county-wide extension educational meetings held this month were well attended.

Forty-five attended the first meeting on livestock feeding. The second meeting on livestock marketing was attended by twenty-four livestockmen from the county.

The Brucellosis (Bang's disease) program was discussed at both meetings. A concentrated effort is being made by cattlemen here in the county to make Fisher County a modified certified Area.

The first step is the circulation of a petition asking that the county be designated as a Type II Control Area.

The petition has to have 75% of the cattle owners having cattle listed on the tax roll. The petition will have to have 422 signers. As of now 150 have signed the petition. A deadline of March 25 has been set to have the petition signed by the required 422 cattle owners.

Dr. Raymond W. Cook, of the Poultry Diagnostic Laboratory, Texas A. and M. College, this week called attention to the services available to Texas poultrymen at the regional laboratories located at Center, Gonzales and College Station. These laboratories, operated by the Experiment Station, have qualified Veterinarians available for consultation each weekday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on Saturdays from 8 a. m. until 12 noon.

When a disease strikes your flock, your main interest is to get a quick, accurate diagnosis to insure early recovery and an exact treatment program. Dr. Cook suggests that you first contact your local veterinarian or one of the three regional laboratories for this help.

Shortages of adequate and quality roughages and protein supplement have caused excessive weight losses in beef cattle. These shortages coupled with the rough weather of this winter have left cows in such condition that calving and after calving troubles can be expected, says U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. He suggests that cows be given a daily minimum of 2 pounds of 41% protein supplement and additional good quality roughage may be needed in some instances. Cows should also be checked for vitamin A deficiency.

Before those baby chicks come, the successful poultryman has several things to do. The performance of these chicks, when mature as broilers or layers, will depend on the care they receive during brooding.

The most important thing is to have the brooder house prepared, says Ed Kosarek, poultry supervisor, Texas A and M Poultry Science Department. Several steps should be followed carefully. Kosarek explains them as follows.

Clean out all old litter and disinfect the house and equipment before putting down new litter. This is a good way to stop disease outbreaks before they occur.

Turn on the brooders a day or so in advance of the chicks' arrival to check for needed repairs and then adjust the hover temperature to 95 degrees. Thereafter cut the heat down 5 degrees each week until it reaches 70 degrees or until heat is no longer required. Also, set chick guards up about 3 feet from the brooder edge so chicks can spread out.

After the chicks come use paper plates or filter flats to provide one and one-half inches of feeding space per chick for the first few days. A high quality mash is recommended for debeaked chicks for the first few days. It is easy to eat and should be plentiful.

Provide plenty of fresh, clean water, Kosarek emphasizes. In winter, warm water should be used. Two one-gallon waterers per 100 chicks is sufficient.

Keep the chicks warm but be sure there is enough fresh air in the house, Kosarek points out. And last but not least, a good disease preventative measure is to keep chicks at least 300 feet away from older birds.

1st Water Conservation Postage Stamp Issued

"Soil and water conservation leaders here are looking forward to issuance of the world's first water conservation postage stamp by the Post Office Department in Washington, D. C.," C. C. Roach, supervisor of zone 1, Upper Clear Fork Soil Conservation District, said today.

The fact that water is a vital and limiting natural resource is dramatized by the latest in a series of conservation commemorative postage stamps—the 4-cent water conservation stamp to be issued in Washington, D. C., on April 18, 1960.

No other resource so directly affects the welfare, comfort and happiness of all the people.

Our national and personal need for water for domestic use, for sanitation, for manufacture and for agriculture is multiplied each year by our expanding population.

Without water, soil cannot produce the food and fiber needed to nourish and clothe our rapidly increasing population.

More and more people each year are turning to water and water sports for leisure-time enjoyment.

But there is just so much water. The earth's supply remains constant. We can meet these vital and rising demands for water only by better use of what we have—by reducing needless waste and pollution—by protecting the watershed upon which our water falls as rain and snow—by finding more efficient ways for its use.

Most problems of water shortage, poor water, or floods trace back directly to the land.

Whether or not the land in each watershed is eroded or is mantled by protective cover of grass and trees—whether there are small dams and other flood-preventing structures along the channels—whether steps have been taken to reduce pollution—these determine in large measure whether water supplies are ample and reliable.

It is because of the dependence of water supply on watersheds, that the commemorative stamp will be formally issued at the 7th National Watershed Congress in the Nations capital on April 18.

The new water resources commemorative stamp will be available in local post offices on April 19, the day following its official issuance.

The unique two-panel stamp portrays a closeup view of a drop of water falling from a leaf, which symbolizes watershed influences upon water supply. This design leads the eye to a righthand panel depicting an actual watershed panorama. A town and farm in the foreground are dependent of the upstream watershed with its well managed farm and forest lands and small dams for flood prevention and water storage.

Proposed City Ordinance

The proposed ordinance on regulation of livestock in city limits of Rotan, below, will be voted on in regular City Election April 5, 1960.

An ordinance making it unlawful to keep livestock or poultry within the city limits of the City of Rotan, Texas, without a license; providing regulations for keeping livestock or poultry; prescribing procedures for granting and revoking licenses; providing for inspections; defining the term livestock and poultry; prescribing penalties; providing separability of sections; and providing that such ordinance shall become effective thirty days after its passage.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Rotan, Texas:

Section 1: The term "livestock" as used herein shall be construed to mean any horse, mule, jack, jenny, cow, cattle, hog, sheep, goat, rabbit, or guinea pig; and the term "poultry" shall be construed to mean chickens, turkeys, geese, ducks, and guineas.

Section 1 A: That the term "person", as used herein shall be construed to include both singular and plural and shall mean and embrace any individual, corporation, association, partnership, or society, and their agents, servants and employees.

Section 2: No person shall keep livestock or poultry within the city limits of the City of Rotan, Texas without first obtaining and thereafter keeping in force a license permitting him to do so.

Section 3: Licenses shall be granted or allowed to remain in force only when regulations as follows are observed:

A. The livestock or poultry shall be kept within structures or enclosures and not be permitted to run at large.

B. To prevent the same from serving as breeding places for insects and from emitting noxious odors, the manure or dung incident to the maintenance and care of the livestock or poultry shall be removed from structure in a reasonable time not to cause a health menace. The manure or dung so collected shall either be placed in containers or disposed of so as not to cause unnecessary odors or flies.

C. The structure or enclosure within which any such livestock or poultry are confined shall not be less than 75 feet from any dwelling house.

Section 4: The procedure and requirements for the granting and keeping in force of licenses shall be as follows:

A. Any person desiring a license permitting him to keep livestock or poultry within the city limits shall file an application with the City Clerk on a form provided by him for that purpose. Said application shall among other things call for the name and address of the applicant, the estimated average number and types of livestock or poultry to be kept, a description of the structures and facilities to be used for the enclosure of the livestock or poultry and for the disposal of the manure and debris incident to their maintenance and care and the distance to the adjacent residence from the outside boundaries of the structure or fence in which the livestock or poultry are to be enclosed.

B. The application shall be accompanied by a fee of the amount of (1.00) one dollar. The funds derived from such application fees shall be used by the City to defray the cost of inspections and other expenses incident to the enforcement of this ordinance.

C. When an application has been filed in due form, the City shall turn the same over to the City Health Officer who shall inspect the facilities wherein the livestock or poultry is to be kept and prepare an opinion as to whether the same are in compliance with the regulations hereinbefore provided.

D. The application with the opinion of the City Health Officer attached shall be submitted to the City Council, which shall then pass on the application.

E. The City Health Officer may periodically on his own initiative and shall upon complaint of the City Marshall or any resident of the City make an inspection to ascertain whether the regulations as hereinbefore provided are being observed. If he finds that aforesaid regulations are violated, he shall prepare and file a statement to that effect with the City Clerk. The City Council shall then given ten (10) days notice by publication of hearing. If after a hearing the City Council finds the aforesaid regulations have been violated, it shall then order the permit cancelled.

Section 5: Any person who violates any provision of this ordinance shall be fined not less than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars nor more than one hundred ($100.00). Each day that such violation occurs shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 6: If any section of this ordinance is found to be unenforceable, the same shall not affect the validity of the remaining sections.

Section 7: The City Clerk is hereby directed to make publication of the caption of this ordinance together the penalty provision hereof as required by law; and it is hereby further ordained that this ordinance shall become effective thirty days after its passage.

Every day...every meal...every farmer feeds this crowd

In 1960, every farmer will produce food aplenty for 25 people—27,375 square meals in all! This record productivity is now possible with the help of science, farmer know-how, chemicals, and electric power.

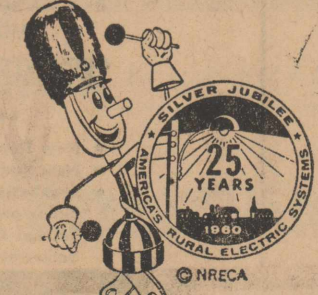

Yet, electricity, which has helped triple food production in only 25 years, was just a dream for most farmers as late as 1935. People, living in the country, were scattered . . . supposedly too costly to reach with light and power.

To get electricity, rural people organized into non-profit local groups, borrowed money at interest from the REA and built their own lines. Today, nearly 1,000 locally-owned Rural Electric Systems operate 1½ million miles of line serving 16 million Americans.

As workers leave farms for other jobs, farmers are using more electricity to produce better food at lower cost. This means lower grocery bills for you and promises adequate food even when our population doubles in the years ahead.

Best of all, owner-users bear the cost of rural-electricification. Already they've paid more than $1 billion in principal and interest on their $3½ billion loans,
