Soil moisture in some sections of Texas is adequate to excessive with the entire potential plant root zone filled to capacity. However, points out Wayne Keese, extension irrigation specialist, moisture is adequate for optimum crop yields and the less favorable conditions in the lowland areas.

Keese says most irrigation from can effectively use moisture in the top 3 feet of soil in good soil condition. Deep-rooted crops such as alfalfa and cotton, will draw moisture from depths of 5 to 6 feet. Planting a crop with a shallow effective plant root zone supplemented with moisture, adds the special benefit of starting the season with half enough operating capital. Keese cites the following advantages of pre-planting irrigation: Evaporation rates are lower during the winter months and this means more of the water will go into the soil. Too, water can be stored in the soil on more acres than can be irrigated during the summer months where limited amounts of water are available. This stored moisture will go a long way toward producing a good crop. Thirdly, more time and labor are available during the winter months for doing a good job.

The amount of water to apply depends upon the soil type and crop to be grown. Since most crops take from 80 to 90% of the water used from the top 3 feet of soil, it is important that this zone be filled to capacity. In exceptionally deep soils in good physical condition, deep-rooted plants may take significant amounts of water from depths of 4 to 5 feet, reminds Keese.

U-357, "Soil Moisture Storage," is available at the extension office. This final reminder from Keese, water is one of our greatest and most useful natural resources. Use it wisely.

Texas cotton producers saved an estimated $55.5 million by harvesting about half of their 1959 crop with machines. Another $15.9 million was saved by using chemical and machines for controlling weeds in their fields, reports Elliott, extension cotton specialist. While these savings were being made, growers also posted the State's second highest yield of lint per acre—337 pounds. Elliott credits the county 7-Step Cotton Committees for these achievements.

The use of liquid fertilizers is becoming widespread and they are proving to be a good source of plant nutrients. But, points out W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, liquid or dry fertilizers are generally of equal value for improving yields. The main considerations for making a determination of which type of plant food to use are cost and ease of handling and application.

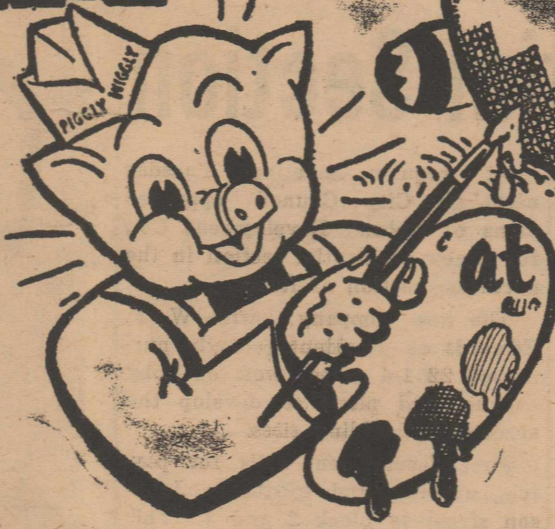

Texas ranked third among all states in acreage and production of fresh market vegetables in 1959, according to Clyde Singletary, extension horticulturist. Onions was the top income producer for Texas with 49,800 acres harvested and worth $14,192,000. Texas had 11.3% of the nation's commercial vegetable acreage and 8.2% of the production.

Electric data processing machines are now being used to process DHIA records. A. M. Meeke, extension dairy husbandman, says use of the machines will relieve DHIA supervisors of much tedious and time-consuming book work and at the same time provide dairymen greater accuracy and more complete and up-to-date production and feed information. It represents a major change in DHIA record keeping, he said.

Diseases took an estimated $147 million bite out of the 1959 Texas cotton crop, according to 15 cotton specialists located throughout the state. This loss occurred, says Hirlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, even though 1959 growing conditions were generally good and near record yields were harvested in many areas. Major diseases were bacterial blight, root rot, verticillium wilt and seedling disease.

Dr. and Mrs. O. W. English of Lubbock visited her sister Mrs. H. T. Fillingim and Mr. Fillingim Monday.

VFW Auxillary Gives Scholarships Annually

Los Angeles.- A $500 scholarship, given annually by the Ladies Auxillary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars for outstanding work in conservation was awarded some time ago to Ray Dunlap, 17, of Jayton, Texas, during the Auxillary 46th national convention.

The Auxillary scholarship was established as a memorial to the late James E. West, long-time Chief Scout and conservation enthusiast for a Boy Scout majoring in conservation work at an approved college or university. Dunlap was recommended for the scholarship by the National Boy Scout Council for "leadership, scholarship, service to others, and sincere interest in conservation."

An Eagle Scout, Dunlap was salutatorian of his class last spring at Jayton High School. Since the death of his father in 1949, he and his mother, Mrs. Lulu Dunlap, have farmed a model 500-acre spread near Jayton, using advanced conservation methods to increase crop averages, conserve scarce rainfall, and keep down mesquite, the pesky soil-depleting shrub that abounds in that area.

Besides several state and national 4-H Club conservation awards, the youth has also won the Hornaday conservation medal and has published several articles on conservation. In an essay his entry in the Auxillary scholarship competition, he warned that if America is to maintain a high standard of living "everyone must take responsibility for conserving our nation's resources."

The Auxillary also gives $2,000 in cash prizes to winners of an annual national high school essay contest, aids dependent children of veterans, and sponsors thousands of Boy and Girl Scout troops and other activities for young people in some 6,800 U. S. Communities. Members of the Auxillary are wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of U. S. veterans who have served overseas, or women who have themselves had overseas service in the armed forces.

Mrs. A. D. Turner and Elaine were joined here by her sister, Mrs. David Strayhorn and Thomas, of Snyder and they went to Fort Worth Friday afternoon to visit their sister, Mrs. Fred Harlan, Mr. Harlan and their three months old daughter, Suzie. They also visited relatives in Eastland county as they were returning home Sunday.

Jack Kennedy visited his son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harold Kennedy and children in Deming, N. M. and his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Martin and two son in Silver City, N. M. last week.

Expands Without Government Aid

Z. Oswalt, president of the Board of Directors of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, announced today the immediate construction of a $26,000 speech wing for the Center. Rose Construction Company is the general contractor. He also announced that after due consideration the Board of Directors had voted unanimously to not apply for Hillbton funds for the expansion.

Oswalt pointed out that a $46,000 therapeutic pool wing was originally in the building plans and the Center had $15,000 in the fund for the pool. $31,000 in addition to all funds is needed to construct the therapeutic pool.

When asked why the center was not using government funds, Oswalt pointed out that the medical services and supervision at the Center were provided without charge by members of the Jones-Taylor County Medical Society. He stated that the Center was established building locations are needed, and is in the process of completing engineering on the development.

This splendid location should prove very popular, and considerable activity is expected in the future.

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (18:1-5): "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father and for this we owe him endless homage."

The closing Scriptural selection to be read is from John (3:17): "For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner of Health

A thin black line on a graphic chart at the State Department of Health is beginning an inexorable climb upward, getting higher and higher each week as summer progresses, then turning into a slow downward curve in mid-September. The chart is the department's way of keeping a weekly tally on polio. By referring to charts for previous years, Dr. H. E. Smith can predict when the line will begin its upward swing.

"The last week in April is when polio starts to increase in Texas," says Dr. Smith, chief of the department's preventative medicine section.

The line reached its high point during August last year when 145 cases were charted. At the year's end 526 cases had been tallied, a high toll but still a fine estimation for polio vaccine when contrasted to the 3984 cases during pre-vaccine 1952."

Extending the line each week is a painful chore for statisticians. Each time it advances one square on the chart they mentally hear a physician speaking to someone, somewhere in Texas and making his dire diagnosis: "Polio".

That someone thus becomes a statistic with his name and facts surrounding his illness filling blank spaces on Form No. 68-R5732, the department's cold and impersonal polio case record.

An analysis of 273 case record forms completed with a clinical thoroughness during the polio season last year, is a dramatic study in human frailty.

It shows that nine of every ten cases had had less than the three basic vaccine shots recommended for maximum protection. It shows that three of every four cases had not received a single dose of the vaccine proved effective beyond all expectations.

More than half of last year's victims of paralytic polio were under five years of age, the analysis reveals. And among these youngsters as among older age groups, nine of ten had not received the recommended three shots.

Now they're part of a black line on a sheet of graph paper.

"It would only add hurt to injury," says Dr. Smith, "to ask their parents why, in the face of almost daily urgings, they ignored the chance of giving the youngsters an infinitely better chance to escape polio."

In a brief few weeks the thin line will begin its seasonal climb.

"We hope it won't go as high this year," Dr. Smith says. "But we've got plenty of case record forms on hand, just in case..."

FB Leader States Misunderstand On Trailer License

A meeting held in Roby by Farmer's Union during which the licensing of farm trailers was discussed has caused considerable misunderstanding of a news release I made in the Feb. 4 issue of our local newspapers.

The news release did not state that farm trailers do not require a license if used for hauling only the owners products. The article as printed states: "Farmers do not have to comply with a new state law requiring title certificates on trailers of 4,000 pounds gross weight or more when the trailers are used for hauling their own farm produce to market."

Farm Bureau supported a bill that would have exempted farm trailers from licensing and registration up to 10,000 pounds gross weight. This bill passed the Senate and was voted out favorably by House Road's Committee then it was killed on floor of House by a point of order raised because this

CHEVY! YOU CAN'T BUY ANY CAR FOR LESS ... UNLESS IT'S A LOT LESS CAR!

Anyone who's looked around knows the majority of Chevrolet models—6's and V8's together—list for less than comparable models of other low-priced cars. But the price tag alone is only one of a whole raft of reasons a Chevy does better by your dollars.

Nothing near Chevy's size and price can match the Full Coil cushioning of its ride, or the fine, finished workmanship of its Body by Fisher. That even applies to some cars that cost a lot more. You're up in the higher price brackets before you find a car that moves as quietly as a Chevrolet or offers the inner space that Chevrolet does.

Or look at the extras Chevy gives you—at no extra cost—that others in its class can't offer at any price. Shock-cushioned steering. Safety Plate Glass in every window. Keyless locking of all doors. Crank-operated vent windows. Chevrolet offers the widest choice of power teams, too. Drive a Chevy just once. You'll have a tough time settling for anything less.

The Gamma Tau Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma met in the Texas Room of the Mathison Hotel in Sweetwater Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served to guests from decorated tables.

Mrs. Oddis Brown, president, called the house to order and introduced Mrs. C. L. Monk who had charge of the program.

Mrs. Monk introduced Mrs. Pete Watson who reviewed her trip and showed colored slides made while on her trip to South America, by way of Cuba, Jamaica and Panama Canal.

Mrs. Monk, chairman of the "Intercultural Relations Committee" had charge of the program which included the Origin and Meaning of Pan American Day which is April 14th.

Mrs. James B. Day using a very unique bulletin board, with pictures made an interesting talk depicting and emphasizing Peace, Friendship and Culture. Mr. Martin and his 8th grade Spanish Class of boys prepared the bulletin board that was used.

The business meeting followed. Minutes read and approved. Items of business were discussed and disposed of. Announcements and reports were given.

The nominating committee submitted the following names as officers for the Gamma Tau Chapter, for the ensuing term, and all were unanimously elected: Mrs. James B. Day, president; Mrs. Joe Benson, 1st vice-president; Mrs. P. H. Buster, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Olaf South, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Witherspoon, corresponding secretary and Mrs. H. L. Melton, parliamentarian.

The following members attended from Rotan: Mesdames James B. Day, J. R. Strayhorn, Robert Witherspoon, C. E. Leon and Miss Jo Heathington.

The meeting adjourned with May meeting to be held in Rotan.

Velez In Exercise Near Pau, France

Mainz, Germany (AHTNC)-- Army Pvt. Richardo G. Velez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Esteban Velez, Rotan Texas, recently participated with other personnel from the 8th Division's 505th Infantry in Operation Fer De Lance, an airborne exercise conducted near Pau, France.

The exercise included a daily air drop of a company size unit followed by field training maneuvers conducted under realistic combat conditions. The operation was designed to determine the effectiveness of small airborne units deployed in isolated missions over unfamiliar terrain during hours of darkness and periods of low visibility.

Velez, regularly assigned as a machine runner in the infantry's Company D in Mainz, Germany, entered the Army in March 1957 and arrived overseas in January 1959.

The 22-year old soldier attended Rotan High School.

Preston Morrow Jr., of Lubbock spent the weekend here with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Preston Morrow. Also, the Preston Morrow's daughter, Judith, a Texas Tech student, and a friend, Bob Alexander of Breckenridge were here for the weekend. Judith will spend the Easter holidays here with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fillingim, T. Ann and Alice of Crosbyton visited their parents here Sunday.

Value of Resting Ranges Shown On Range

One of the most important tools of the rancher in his grazing plan is resting his ranges. As the rancher knows, range resting is the regular potponing of grazing on rangeland for a prescribed period of time during the growing season.

One of the most important reasons for the rancher to rest his pastures is to promote natural revegetation by increasing the vigor of the stand of grass and to permit desirable grasses to produce seed. The rancher would also want to rest his pastures in order to provide a feed reserve for fall and winter use; and to protect newly seeded grasses until well established.

Each different type of range condition, wether poor, fair, good or excellent, requires different type of management system. Grazing systems for range improvement should be based on the specific range condition and feasibility of application.

The rancher should analyze his pastures to determine the need for resting of the range. If his pastures are characterized by low vigor or few grasses, poor and fair range condition, basence of litter, 50% or less of ground cover occupied by good grasses, ranges being set back from drought, fire, or heavy use, he should install a resting system in his grazing plan.

The Upper Clear Fork Soil Conservation District, with the technical assistance of the Soil Conservation Service, can assist the rancher in determining the range condition and the deferment system needed on his unit. Some of the cooperators of the district who are carrying out a range resting plan are John Cox, Glennon Jamison, James Green, Mrs. Connie Tutt, Jim Beck, Alice Cross, A. P. Kennedy, B. D. Bryan and C. D. Albert.

Boys Ranch Holds Annual Field Day

More than 2,500 West Texans attended the Annual Field Day at Boys' Ranch of West Texas, at Tankersley, 17 miles west of San Angelo.

Highlight of the all-day affair was an address at the noon barbecue lunch by John White, Austin, Commissioner of Agriculture. He spoke on "What Place Does Farming and Ranching Have in the Growing Economy of Texas."

This third annual Field Day at Boys Ranch displayed the latest and most efficient of ranch and farm equipment used in seeding, planting, cultivating, installation of an irrigation system; digging an irrigation ditch; and root plowing. In addition there was livestock demonstrations and numerous other projects under way all day long.

Visitors got a chance to inspect the Ranch buildings, met the boys and saw a first class ranch and agricultural program that has been made possible through the generosity of the implement dealers and other interested West Texans.

The Ranch is especially grateful for the continuing interest of a growing number of West Texans, Morris H. Craig, executive director said. So many individuals and groups have helped the Ranch it's hard to single out anyone. He expressed special gratitude to Dan Gibson, second vice-president of the board, who recently donated a seven year old 2,400 steer named "Pumpkin Seed". "Pumpkin Seed" was on display field day and was auctioned off.

GUIDED MISSILE XI

The major farm bill before the House Agriculture Committee, the Poage bill, received a big boost from organized labor in March. Andrew J. Biemiller, AFL-CIO, testified that American labor does not want low food prices based upon the exploitation of farm proprietors, tenants, sharecroppers or hired farm workers. Biemiller said many powerful corporations minimize their risks and increase profits through price arrangements and self-imposed production quotas. But farmers are one of the few remaining unorganized groups with little or no control over the price they receive for their services, except when the government provides a helping hand.

Latest big donations are the steer and playground equipment from the citizens of Snyder which will be installed as soon as a clearing is completed.

WSCS Sees Slides On United Nations

After a short business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Clarence Huckaby, when the WSCS met in the church sanctuary, Monday afternoon, the opening prayer was by Mrs. C. R. Polk. Mrs. Huckaby read a part of the 5th chapter of Matthew and an article on "Who is My Neighbor" and "Peacemakers Reward", for the devotional.

Mrs. R. T. Williams showed slides on the United Nations and discussed the location, size, the duty and the beauty of the United Nations building. The first slide showed a council room, where some of the councils were held, the second was a mural, showing the struggle of man, woven in Belgium, showing the sun dial, the time and the wheat of plenty, all woven in gold. Mrs. Richard Ray then taught the lesson on the study of the United Nations. This study will be completed at the meeting next Monday afternoon. The meeting was dismissed with a short prayer.

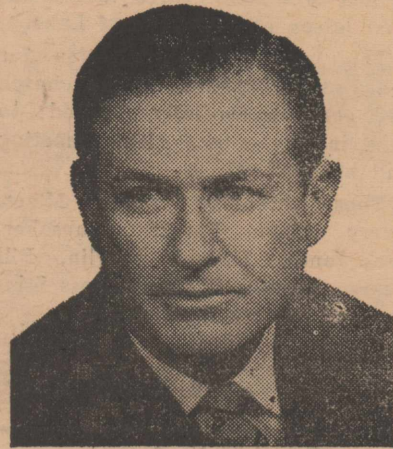

Present were Meses. W. A. Rives, R. T. Williams, W. A. Shope, W. A. McCright, Richard Ray, Nancy White, C. R. Polk, Clarence Huckaby, Homer Aaron, Joe Kiker and Phil J. Malouf.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Whitfield of San Angelo visited Miss Lucille Smith and his mother, Mrs. C. E. Whitfield, who went home with them and will spend several days there for treatment of an ear trouble.

Gerald Murff, a junior at Texas Tech visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Roach Friday night as he was going to his home in Abilene to spend Easter holidays. He is a mechanical engineering student and recently was elected to

Years ahead in style... that's why Ford is far ahead in sales!

The "bug" bites thousands of people every week. They've been driving high-priced cars year after year. But suddenly they sprout out in 1960 Ford Galaxies, pleased and proud as punch. They're switching to Galaxy because they want that years-ahead Thunderbird look, with a glamour and grace that won't ever wear thin. They're going for Galaxy because Galaxy gives them—in look and in deed—an elegance denied to all but costlier cars. And Galaxy gives them all this for far less than what they've paid in the past . . . plus a high resale value! And these selfsame values are crafted into every car we sell—from Thunderbird to new Ford Falcon! Come let us prove it!
