

FROM THE FIELD

By W. M. Free.

Last Friday we drove to the home of J. E. Moore near Rochester for the purpose of looking over his good farm and also making good a promise which County Agent Trice and myself had made a long time ago. Mr. and Mrs. Moore live on their hundred acre farm and enjoy many comforts of life. They live happy, are satisfied with each other, respecting each others rights and the word home means what it implies in this case. The nice bungalow residence is neatly painted and well furnished, and also the out buildings are dressed up with new coats of paint to preserve and beautify them. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have two fine gardens and a flower yard, orchard, vinyard, berry vines and chickens galore of the White Wyandotte breed, friers are already ripe. Mr. Moore has rented his place out to good tenants all except six acres of feed which he is cultivating along with his gardens and patches. Mrs. Moore sold 100 hens this year for $100.00 and last year she sold more than $300 worth of chickens and eggs. We enjoyed our trip and our visit with Mr. and Mrs. Moore.

We drove from the Moore place to the home of J. A. Rose in the Foster community. Mr. Rose was away from home on business, but we note that he was a good farmer owns a good home and has one of the largest orchards in the county, but the late freeze killed all the fruit. Mrs. Rose has the Plymouth chickens and has some nice birds on the yard. Mr. Rose is testing out some commercial fertilizer. He is using it in the growing of cotton. He has 7 or 8 acres planted to cotton using the fertilizer and expects to give it a thorough test.

We next came to the home of J. C. Halliburton who is a real good farmer living in the Foster community. He has a fine stand of cotton and good feed growing. We noticed a fine Poland China sow with a number of fine pigs which Mr. Halliburton expects to sell to his friends. He is also a breeder of the Rhode Island Red Chickens and has some of the best birds in the county. He and Mrs. Halliburton are partners in the raising of chickens and she is a great help to him in this work.

Accidentally Injures Eye

Mary Cioe Morgan of The Center Point community suffered a painful injury to her eye last Thursday when a rock from a negro shooter in the hands of her brother Fred struck her in the eye. It was purely accidental, one side of the rubber on the negro shooter breaking and throwing the rock side ways.

TWO PARTIES TO PARTICIPATE IN JULY PRIMARIES

All candidates for county offices must file their names, occupation, post-office address, their street and number if resident of a city, and the office for which they are candidate with the county chairman of their respective political party before the Saturday preceding the third Monday in June in the election laws for 1926. As the republican party polled more than 100,000 votes in the last general election this party also must hold a primary election this year. The law requires that all primaries be held in the fourth Saturday in July, which this year is July 24.

Under the new laws neither party can have its voting box within 100 yds of the polling place of the other party. If the county chairmen are unable to agree on the location of the respective places then the county judge shall determine the matter and shall publish this selection.

In previous years the law has required that the election judges shall be poll tax payers. The new law makes no stipulation in regard to this. A special article has also been enacted whereby negroes are expressly forbidden from participating in a democratic primary. The law does not name the earliest date that a candidate may file his name with the chairman but does stipulate that it shall not be later than Saturday preceding the third Monday in June.

Under the new law no candidate for state senator or representative shall be required to pay more than $1 for filing his name in any county. The other candidates shall be charged in proportion to the remuneration received from the office and the cost of holding the primary.

The county committee of each party is directed by law to meet on the third Monday in June and to determine by lot the order in which the names of candidates shall appear on the ticket.

The county tax collector also is directed by the election laws to prepare lists of poll tax payers and to furnish the election judge in each precinct with a copy. The judge is instructed to make the notation after the name of each person voting "primary-voted. All mutilated ballots that were discarded by a voter must be preserved and a strict accounting made of these to the county chairmen.

The county executive committees in their meeting on the third Monday in June also will levy assessments against each candidate. These assessments must be paid by the fourth Monday in the month, of the candidate's name is to be placed on the ticket.

TEST HEADLIGHTS BEFORE TOURING

Every summer a large number of Texas motorists spend their vacation in their cars, traveling over the State and frequently to other states, and they form a large portion of the heavy traffic so in evidence on our principal highways, especially at night, states C. R. Granberry, Engineer, Automobile headlight Division of the State Highway Department.

We will appreciate your calling the attention of your local motorists to the necessity of having their headlights properly adjusted before starting on a cross-country trip. Certainly after a long trip they should be inspected and readjusted if necessary.

Such matters need only to be called to the attention of your motorists, and in this way you can serve them and others in various parts of the State.

New cars should be inspected and head lamps inspected before auto license plates are issued by the County Tax Collector, and explicit instructions have been issued these officers in his section.

Accidents continue to happen because of motorists being blinded and such accidents can be avoided. It is practically murder in the first degree when a motorist knowing his lamps are not properly adjusted will continue to use the public highways and cause others to risk their lives when they are blinded by their improperly adjusted lamps.

Texas Peace Officers will do the public a favor that can never be repaid if they will notice these head lamps and enforce the State Laws.

Co-operate with the State Laws governing headlamps and the traffic regulations of town and county and state and avoid the many accidents and deaths that continue to occur in the country.

CANDIDATES MUST FILE NAMES BEFORE JUNE 19

The Texas election laws state that all candidates for precinct or county offices must file their names and the place for which they are running on or before June 19. Monday was the last day in which candidates for state offices could file their name for a place on the ticket.

L. N. Lusk of Rose Chapel was seen on the streets of Haskell Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Waldrop of Abilene were in Haskell Tuesday visiting relatives.

DEMANDS GROWING FOR INFERTILE EGGS

The consumers of poultry products are rapidly being educated to ask for infertile eggs. There is a growing prejudice against the other kind, and for that reason infertile eggs are commanding a premium in the larger markets of the country. Now is the time to segregate the roosters. If they are being held for breeding purposes, put them in a yard by themselves. If not, dispose of them by the ax method, or sell them. Roosters are not useful birds except when worthy of occupying the breeding pen. They are an expense in that they must be fed, and the most of them are hearty eaters. The greatest loss, however, comes from the decrease in the price of fertile eggs. Get rid of them.—Texas Farm & Ranch.

Mr. E. H. Davis, State Manager for the John Hancock Farm Loan Department, in company with E. E. Gose, their loan inspector, were in Haskell Monday on a visit to their representative here, Mr. R. D. Bell. They made a trip over the west and north section of the country and while this was not Mr. Davis' first visit to the county, he says each trip impresses him more with this section, and believes this part of Texas is destined to be the leading farming section of the State.

S. A. Moser and family of Midway spent the day in the city Saturday. Mr. Moser is one of the foremost planters in the county. He was planting cotton seed this year when other farmers were baking their shins around the stove and he is making a success with farming by being on time with seed time and harvest.

Golden the husband and father who is in the Sanitarium in that city. Also Mr. Golden's sister Mrs. Emma Graham of Alvord who was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ratliff accompanied them.

McPherson of Chillicothe, in the home of her sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pierson. Baskets and vases of sweet peas and ferns made the bride rooms more lovely and at the appointed hour when relatives of both bride and groom and a few close friends had arrived, Mrs. John W. Pace took her place at the piano where she presided throughout the entire ceremony, first accompanying Miss Marjorie Whiteker who sang. At Dawning, by Cadman and then Lohengrin's Wedding march heralded the coming of the bride and groom who were preceded by two lovely little flower girls, Louise Pierson and Marie Ballard, nieces of the bride, in dainty pink and yellow frocks, carrying baskets of sweet peas, to the waiting Rev. W. B. Vaughn, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who read the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony while Mrs. Pace played, "McDowell's 'To a Wild Rose'." The bride was lovely in an Ashes of Rose georgette gown, with hat and other accessories to match, and carried a shower bouquet of Bride's Roses and Lillies of the Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. McPherson left at once for Dallas for a fortnight's visit to friends before being at home in Vernon, Texas where the groom is in the hardware and implement business and where a lovely new home, completely furnished and equipped, awaits them. After the supper was finished and the fragments that remained were removed the congregation gathered in the church where Prof. Lawrence acted as chairman and the candidates present were given time to speak to the audience assembled. County Superintendent A. A. Heathington made a short talk followed by Judge Jno. Lee Smith of Throckmorton after which Rev. W. B. GET AN EMERSON AND
FORGET THE HEAT

Emerson Fans are the accepted standard equipment in many office buildings, hotels and theatres throughout the country, where fan service is supplied during the Summer, just as heat is furnished during the Winter. Such wide recognition of Emerson dependability evidences in a big way the qualities you need in a fan for personal use.

Emerson Fans are guaranteed by the factory against defects for five years from date of purchase. With ordinary care, Emerson Fans will last indefinitely. Many are still running after 20 or more years of service to their owners.

McCOLLUM, ELLIS, & COUCH

His word is his bond!

A "personal guarantee" means very little to you. Unless you know the man who makes it.

Ninety per cent of the things bought for your home are selected by the lady member of the firm. She is the purchasing agent. Most men admit that she is a capable buyer, and the reason is this: She must be shown — convinced by proof — that an article is what she needs and is worth the price!

For that reason, she sees the advantage of dealing with a local merchant — a man whose "personal guarantee of satisfaction" means just what it says.

She knows that what he advertises in this paper is entitled to her consideration. Because she has confidence in her neighbor—the local dealer—she can safely invest the family funds in what he guarantees.

BROTHER OF M. A. CLIFTON DIES IN FORT WORTH

Thursday at noon Mr. M. A. Clifton of this city received a message that his brother, W. H. Clifton, had passed away. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton left immediately to attend the funeral services, which were held at the home of the deceased's daughter, Mrs. Lee Henderson of 1647 West Magnolia St., Fort Worth, at 2:30 Friday afternoon. Mr. W. H. Clifton was among the first settlers of Haskell, in fact, he taught the third school that was taught in the county. Some of his former pupils, such as Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Post, Mrs. Tom Ballard and Mrs. J. F. Posey will recall him as a steadfast christian man. After leaving here he was superintendent of the Buckner's Orphan Home and his wife matron for six years being there during the big fire. He lost his wife four years ago, afterwards leaving for Utah to preach among the Mormons. The change was too great and he came back home to die, arriving in Fort Worth Wednesday morning and passing away Thursday morning May 10th. He left four children, all of whom are married with families. Aldin Clifton, the youngest, is today preaching at Livingston, Pocke county, where his grandfather, R. A. Clifton, father of M. A. and W. H. Clifton, preached years ago, having to carry a gun for protection from the Indians. The deceased also leaves behind one brother, M. A. Clifton of this city, and one sister, Mrs. J. M. Stokes of Waco, both younger than he.

"To My Uncle, W. H. Clifton"

(Dorothy Clifton Wilson)
I did not see you
When death had closed your eyes,
For I wanted to remember
You under blue skies,
I will not think of you as dead
Only as one gone on before,
Some day I know I too
Will open wide the door
You have just passed through,
And O I will find
In a beautiful mansion there,
My best beloved uncle
With his soft grey hair.

"LILIES OF THE STREET" AT HASKELL THEATRE

More than two score of incidents, situations and cases out of the thousands personally handled by Mrs. Mary E. Hamilton yearly, were utilized by her aide, Elizabeth J. Monroe, in writing the dramatic story of the thrilling melodrama, "Lilies of the Streets", the current attraction at the Haskell Theatre Tuesday.

As New York's first policewoman, whose work among girls and woman has made her internationally famous, Mrs. Hamilton's experiences with the forces of vice and crime has come to her at first hand. How dramatic these incidents are may readily be imagined from the fact that there is not only one life story but that of a whole family in every one of the 4,000 runaway or missing girl cases registered in New York City annually. Mrs. Hamilton is the avenging angel of those who make it a business of preying upon women, and her squad of more than a hundred policewomen, have an enviable record in crime prevention and the saving of girls.

PLAN MARRIAGE BANNS PUBLICATION IN TEXAS

Posting of the marriage banns, the ancient custom of America's first settlers, may become a law in Texas. Jack Burke of San Antonio, chairman of the legislative committee of the Association of County and District Clerks of Texas, left Wednesday for the State convention of the organization at Houston, carrying a proposed bill which includes the posting of marriage banns as a principal feature. Under the bill, couples ten days before the date set for their nuptials, must publicly announce their intention of marriage. This would be done by publication in a newspaper of general circulation. The ten-day period is for the purpose of allowing a complaint in regard to the age or health of either of the couple. Only court action could dispose of a complaint. Another provision requires an examination of the man by a reputable physician and a certificate from the examiner, declaring that the examined was free from communicable diseases. The bill also would provide that the couple at the time of the issuance of the license would have to give a complete history of former marriages, if any.—The Dallas Morning News.

It Delayed The Play
"Othello" was being played by colored home talent. At the place where Othello asks Desdemona where the handkerchief is which he had given her the Moor approached Desdemona and cried: "Des-de-mo-na, wha' is dat han'k'chief?"
No answer.
Louder: "De-De-Des-da-mo-na, wha' is dat han'k'chief?"
Still no answer.
Still louder: "De-De-Des-da-mo-na, I command yo' to give me dat han'k'chief!"
Just then an old negro woman arose in the rear of the room and exclaimed, "Look heah, nigger, wipe yo' nose on yo' sleeve an' let dat play go on!"

GULF NO-NOX MOTOR FUEL STOPS KNOCKS PUTS CARBON TO WORK

PUTTING the old demon, carbon, to work sounds like a paradox—nevertheless that's just what GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel does and here's how it happens: Compression is power. The more compression the more power. Greater compression is secured by reducing the displacement or space in the combustion chamber. Carbon deposits materially reduce this space—old time gasoline would not withstand this added carbon compression—clicks—knocks—pings or detonations of distress quickly following sudden acceleration or heavy pulls.

No-Nox withstands higher compression—stops the knocks or detonations, thereby increasing engine efficiency. GULF No-Nox and Carbon Deposits work together for more power and greater mileage.

Turns Mountains Into Mole Hills

This guarantee goes with it: GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline—that it contains no dope of any kind—that the color is for identification only—that it positively will not heat the motor, winter or summer.

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is priced three cents per gallon higher than ordinary gasoline—and is worth it.

THE OLD COUNTRY SCHOOL

The pioneer who came to this country in the early period of its history, seeking new land, new environments and new conditions, brought with them that deep conviction and sincerity of purpose to guide wisely and lay that foundation for moral and civic growth and development that would rebound to the happiness and prosperity of their descendants and establish a citizenship upon a foundation that would forever insure respect and obedience to the laws of a Divinity that shapes our destiny. Along with the clearing of the forest and the building of the homes, the community spirit prompted the building of the rural churches and the country school houses; and invariably these rural buildings were jointly used for religious worship and teaching school. In those days to which we are referring, the state appointment was about one dollar per student capita, and the remaining funds to extend the school term were supplied by voluntary contributions from the citizens of the community. School teachers were about as scarce in those days as girls who have not "bobbed" their hair at the present time. Three months in the year constituted a school term and rarely did the same teacher perform his cultured service two years in succession. The qualifications exacted by the citizens for undertaking this duty were a strong physique, rigid discipline and a temper sufficiently virile to apply corporal punishment intermittently all through the day. And by mere chance, or intentionally, these school houses were built on hills in the midst of a very densely populated thicket of chinquapin timber which supplied ample shade and other requisites. The old-fashioned teacher invariably wore long hair, a prolific five pointed beard and had heavy shaggy eyebrows and that pulled far down over his expansive ears. The curriculum in those days consisted of "Webster's Blue Back Speller," Davies' Arithmetic, McGuffey's Second and Third Readers, and occasionally you would find a school advanced so far as to use the proverbial "Dictionary." The water was supplied from a spring, generally located about two hundred yards from the building and this was served by bringing it to the school house in an old cedar bucket, with a drinking gourd floating on its surface. There were three periods of recreation granted during the days teaching—recess in the morning, dinner and recess in the afternoon; and during these periods of rest from the irksome mental labor during school hours, the boys and girls would engage in various games and plays for amusement. The boys would retire to their play grounds and engage in town ball, "bull pen" and leap frog; the girls would "jump the rope," sing songs, gather wild flowers and wade the branch. In the employment of these patriarchal teachers, the trustees would always have it understood that the teacher would promulgate his own rules of discipline and rigidly enforce the same. At the beginning of the school, the trustees and patrons would gather in the school house and take pack seats and listen to the salutatory address of the new "professor" with that degree of earnestness and interest characteristic of a thoughtful and serious citizenship. After the "professor" had finished his inaugural address he would take a piece of chalk and proceed to write his rules of discipline on the top of the rudely constructed blackboard. These rules read something like the following:

- "The boys and girls shall at no time be allowed to associate together."
- "The boys shall not, at any time be allowed to go on the girls' play grounds."
- "The boys shall not be allowed to go to the spring while any of the girls are there."
- "No student shall leave the school room during school hours without permission from the teacher."
- "No student shall go to the water bucket for water during the school hours, without first getting permission from the teacher. This permission may be granted by the pupil raising his or her hand and getting the nodding assent of the teacher."
- "There shall be no chewing of sweet gum or pine rossum during school hours."
- "There shall be no fighting on the school ground, nor on the way to and from school."
- "The boys and girls shall not, during school hours, smile at each other."
- "Every Friday afternoon each boy and girl shall make a speech before the entire school body and the public."
- "The teacher reserves unto himself the right to inflict such punishment as the infraction of either of the above rules that his judgment may dictate."
- "When all of these formalities were over the trustees and patrons would praise and congratulate their teachers; prophesy one of the very best terms school that the community had ever known, and then retire to their homes congratulating themselves for having secured such a wise and courageous professor," to lead the youngsters from ignorance into the super stages of knowledge and culture. After teaching about two weeks, the process of raising out the young growth of the chinquapin thicket would begin, and others and sisters were employed not to tell tales out of school, and occasionally information would reach the same and an irate father or mother would call upon the teacher for explanations; and then the beginning of the night of this teacher's career would be told, and at the end of the term he would be told that his services were no longer needed; and he would shift onward another community and undergo a similar experience with the same result.

Thus has come and passed the old country school and its joys and happiness have been interwoven into the lives and characters of the middle-aged citizens of the present day. The philosophy of life, the hardships of early toil, the endurance of conditions surrounding these early periods of our lives, have the more instilled into us the fundamentals of common sense and the love of knowledge and the deep appreciation of the privations and sacrifices made for us by our ancestors in order that we might be prepared to meet the obligations of life and render that service to our country, our fellowman and God that their ambitions had in store for us. A new era has come and progress has decreed the passing of the old country school and its eulogy has been pronounced and its funeral dirge has been sung by another generation. The sacred hills that once boasted of their proud possessions have now grown up with pine trees, and the once charmed chinquapin thickets have now grown into trees that will make three or four falls to the cut; the coveted spring has sunken and its crystal water has hidden beneath sacred ground; and the play grounds have grown up with trees that stand as silent sentinels guarding a sacred and hallowed spot of ground dedicated to the fond memory and recollection of the days that have passed and gone into history. Wild flowers are still growing on the girl's play ground, and their petals look into the sun of each June morning, kissed by the lips of the morning dew and marking the hallowed ground of a generation of innocent girlhood that has come and blessed a land and country with the sweetest memories and recollections that ever charmed a boy's heart. Gentle be the summer rains that fall upon these hallowed grounds; sweet be the recollections that bring back to us the joys of other days; and blessed be the memories of the old-fashioned school teacher and the happy associations and friendships formed at the old country school.

Church and Sunday School

Church of Christ
There is a very common opinion that God has given to us many lessons that he did not intend for us to understand. In the estimation of many people the Revelation is the mystery book of all the Bible and there are those who say you had just as well not read for you cannot understand. If God did not intend those things to be understood why did he give them? Jesus said, "Blessed is the man that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand." How can a man "keep the things written therein" and not understand. We maintain that God intends that all his word should be understood and obeyed. With H. D. Neff as teacher we expect to begin a class in the study of the Revelation of Jesus Christ. We extend a cordial invitation to every person interested in the study of this book to be at the Church of Christ promptly at 10 a. m. June 27th for the first lesson. If you come for the first lesson we are sure you will come for the next. We will arrange for the one class to have the use of the church if necessary. We want you to come and hear these mysteries unraveled.
Our meeting will begin on June 27th. It will be under a tent near the church. Other announcements will be made next week.

REASONS WHY EXPERTS CHOOSE THE HERRICK

Here are a few feature facts about Herrick Refrigerators—some of the points of superiority that convince all who make careful comparisons that Herricks are the master refrigerators of the world.

PROVABLE ADVANTAGES—

- SAVES MOST ICE
There are no conflicting warm and cold air currents, therefore requires less ice.
- DRY AIR CIRCULATION
The circulation of dry air is perfect, insuring freedom from disease-breeding germs and food-spoiling conditions.
- PURE COLD AIR IN ALL PARTS
Nothing but a forced current of cold, dry, pure air ever reaches the food and food chambers.
- FOOD COMPARTMENTS DRY
The air inside is kept drier than the air in a room, due to the Herrick's perfect system.
- NO MOLD OR TAIN
Due to the forced dry air current, foods can never mold or taint in a Herrick.
- FRESH FRUITS NEVER DECAY
The Herrick principle of cold, dry air circulation keeps fruits fresh and prevents decay.
- NO MIXED ODORS
There is no food contamination in the Herrick.
- DOUBLE INSULATION
Genuine Mineral Wool is hand packed to full thickness in all walls and doors, insuring maximum insulation.
- NO "DEAD AIR" SPACE
Excelsior or dead air spaces are never found in Herricks. Experts concede the superiority of mineral wool as an insulator.

THE LEADER FOR OVER 28 YEARS—

The Herrick has consistently set the highest standard of refrigerator construction for over a quarter of a century. It truthfully can be said that it is the most copied refrigerator in America today.

But superior facilities and an ever rigid policy to use only the best materials throughout, keep the Herrick Refrigerator far superior to other makes.

Just as the work of a master artist, a master musician or a master sculptor far excels the efforts of many imitators, so does the work of the Herrick Refrigerator Company far excel the product of other plants.

This performance is even more remarkable when you consider the terrific speeds at which the cars traveled over this fifteen-year-old, rough brick track. Experienced race drivers will not risk their lives or chances of victory on any other tires. And in the commercial field, large truck, motorbus and taxicab fleet operators, who keep careful cost records are among the big users of Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.
