

BUILD... HASKELL

SANITATION

Our attention is directed to an article handed us this week explaining the extension of the sewer system. How it is to be financed and what it is all about.

From where we sit there seems to be no logical reason for this splendid opportunity to be lost. The plan is equitable and after carefully considering the plan and the need of the system the co-operation of the people seems assured.

Haskellites have always stood shoulder to shoulder when it came to a need demanding their undivided assistance. We are sure that the plan presented by our City Council and Commercial organization is going to appeal to each and every one and when the time comes to sign up we predict a 100 per cent score.

May we solicit the most careful thought on the part of all; don't draw a conclusion that might mislead you; ask your neighbor or a member of the town and financial condition of the City Treasury.

There are several views to take in giving this plan your honest opinion. The sanitary condition resulting, the conveniences and the view others take of your hometown not alone as home seekers but visitors.

The first impression we make on visitors is usually the lasting one; exceptions, of course, prevail, as in all matters, whether in connection with your town or yourself.

When we think of a benefit to our city we must also consider the general benefits, while considering the personal gain, whether commercializing or building a city, from any point of view.

The City Council has stated just what conditions are, as to needs of the town and financial condition of the City Treasury.

If we are to avoid higher taxes or higher valuations and place the expense where the service is rendered, as is only the proper way to distribute an expense, the plan in mind seems unusually satisfactory.

We would not attempt to speak for the entire citizenship nor appear suggesting what each citizen should do in this sewer program, but we cannot refrain from stating our opinion as to the value of the improvement and asking careful consideration in keeping with a bigger and better local condition and a city advancing in keeping with her opportunities.

We have selected the City Councilmen to look after our interests; to guide our city's destiny along business lines; practically each member of this body has made a success in his respective vocation. With this before us we can satisfy ourselves as to the businesslike value of the plan, as well as understand those suggesting the plan will share alike, with you and me, so they are not passing the "buck" as might be done in projects presented under some conditions or propositions made to a community from outsiders, those not our neighbors and fellow townsmen.

Co-operation is the spirit, sanitary improvements, general satisfaction the result and in the uppermost, each of us will know, we are just helping ourselves while we BUILD HASKELL.

HASKELL IS BANNER TRADING POINT

There is no doubt that the city of Haskell is the best trading point to be found in West Texas today. Compare the prices of merchandise offered in the Free Press this week by the merchants of Haskell through their ads and see for a fact that you can buy cheaper in Haskell. Our local merchants are making prices that will compare with any town or city in West Texas and the very best merchandise is offered for sale. Look over the list of bargains offered by our merchants this week and come to Haskell and do your trading and take the difference home in your pocket in cash. They are offering these special prices to the trade and if your misfortune if you fail to take advantage of the bargains offered.

BAPTISTS CONVENE IN FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

The Fifth Sunday Meeting was held at the First Baptist Church in this city last Sunday beginning Friday night and closing with the evening services Sunday. Dr. J. D. Sandifer of Simmons University, Abilene, was present and spoke during the day. Other noted preachers were present and a splendid program was given and the meeting was a pronounced success. One feature of the program which was enjoyed immensely was a song by the male quartet Sunday morning. Lunch was served to the visitors both days and no one went away hungry. The Haskell Association has a large membership and all Fifth Sunday meetings are excellent services.

HON. R. Q. LEE WILL SPEAK HERE FEB. 18

Following a luncheon, he will speak to rural citizens and business men at the court house, promptly at 1:30 p. m. Mr. Lee's stay is limited so those interested are urged to make a special effort to reach the court house on time. Chairman C. V. Payne of the Entertainment and Convention committee of the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce is arranging for a luncheon at noon, with Mr. Lee and party as guests.

J. S. ABARNATHA FOR COMMISSIONER PREC. 1

We are authorized this week to make the announcement of J. S. Abarnatha as a candidate for re-election as Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, Haskell County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary. Mr. Abarnatha makes the following statement: "In offering my announcement for a third term as Commissioner of Precinct No. 1 of Haskell County, I do so believing that I am better prepared to serve the interest of the people now that I have ever been. The mistakes that I have made in office would not be justified in a third term for the reason that the experience I have had would cause me to profit by any former mistakes that I have made, and enable me to give better service than I have done in the past terms."

"I respectfully call the attention of the voters of this Precinct to the present financial condition of the County, and the good condition of the roads in this Precinct. I do not attempt to take all the credit for the splendid condition of Haskell County, but believe that I can point with pride to this condition, and assume some of the responsibility for this showing. In asking for this office the past two terms, I have done so upon the sole promise of service to the people. I have tried hard to render this promised service, and come again to you with this same promise of more experienced and better service if elected for the third term."

"My official record is a matter of public knowledge, and the records of the Commissioners Court is open to any one that might care to investigate. I would appreciate the investigation of my past official record by my friends who have supported me, and by my friends who have not supported me, believing that I can point every voter in the Precinct a friend on the basis of this record. I am asking you for this office subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July, and will appreciate the earnest consideration of every voter during my candidacy and at the polls.

Yours respectfully,
J. S. Abarnatha.

The Ground Hog

The five county group meeting at the First Christian Church last Sunday was well attended and the whole day services were interesting and impressive. Dr. T. T. Roberts president of Randolph College Cisco and Rev. J. B. Holmes of Fort Worth head of the Missionary department were the principal speakers of the day. Rev. M. B. Harris of Stamford and Rev. A. G. Abbott of Rule were also here and took an active part in the program. Special music was enjoyed. Mrs. Wayne Koonce rendered a vocal solo during the morning services. Lunch was served to visitors in the basement of the church at the noon hour and again at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and all were royally entertained.

EMORY MENEFEE ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

Emory Menefee, a long-time resident of Haskell County, who needs no introduction to the public makes the announcement that he would be a candidate for re-election for the office of County Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July. Mr. Menefee has efficiently served Haskell County as County Clerk for several years and probably is the best versed man in the duties of the County Clerk than any other man in this section of the state. Throughout his tenure of office Mr. Menefee has served the public in an unselfish manner and has won the friendship and esteem of everybody in the county who has ever had any business with the County Clerk's office. Mr. Menefee promises if elected to give the same efficient service in the future; he has endeavored to give during the past. The Free Press asks that you give Mr. Menefee due consideration when you go to cast your vote in the July primary. He may not have an opponent, but if he should not have he will appreciate your vote and influence just as much as if the office was being contested by an opponent.

MIKE B. WATSON ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

Mike B. Watson makes his announcement this week as a candidate for re-election to the office of Tax Assessor of Haskell County to succeed himself, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July. Mr. Watson is now serving his first term as Assessor and has made the county a good one and according to Democratic custom, where an officer has made good he is entitled to a second term, and the Free Press believes that the voters will re-elect Mr. Watson to the office on the record he has made. He is always courteous and accommodating to all those who have business with the office.

Mr. Watson may not have an opponent in the coming primary, but if he does not he will appreciate your vote and influence just the same.

D. G. Griffith of Pleasant View was in town Tuesday.

B. C. D. HOLDS AN INTERESTING MEET

The regular meeting of the Haskell Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce was held Thursday evening January 28, 1926. Committees reported work in hand progressing nicely and completed projects would be presented the body at an early date. Among the work to be taken on as details are completed is a Clean-Up Campaign, Courtney Hunt, Chairman of Civic Development, Streets, Parks and Sanitation; to begin details at an early date. Better Cotton Seed, More Hogs in Haskell County, Educational Program for Rural Activities, along Dairy Cattle, Poultry and Pigs, publications and bulletins, distribution; R. C. Couch, Chairman, Rural Activities and Trade Extension Committee, in charge of details.

LOCAL THEATRE SHOWING FIRST-CLASS PICTURES

Haskell citizenry and surrounding trade territory are fortunate in having the class of pictures that the management is bringing to the Haskell Theatre. In an interview with Mr. Trammell, the manager, he stated that it was his intention to show only the best pictures, but in order to do this, there must be co-operation on the part of the public. The management has already shown a co-operative spirit in producing benefit plays for local clubs and societies. In bringing to Haskell such pictures as have recently been shown; "Keeper of the Bees," "The Iron Horse" and "As No Man Has Loved," based on the story "A Man With Out A Story" to be closely followed by "Lightning," "Cobra, with Rudolph Valentino," "Flowers of the Night" and "King of Main Street," assures the public of continued first class pictures. And then Haskell is to have a first class theatre building, too. In next week's paper we will tell you all about the size, specifications, designs and so-fourth. Be a "booster" for the Haskell Theatre and watch how it grows.

FARMERS LEARN THAT RAISING TURKEYS PAYS

M. J. Lain of Midway has shipped out to turkey breeders over Texas, 45 White Holland gobblers for which he received $800 each. Mr. Lain stated that he had sold all of his birds and could have sold several hundred dollars worth more if he had had them. Mr. Lain received $300.00 for these birds which is in fact as much as the profit on as many acres of cotton at the present prices.

NEW DEPARTMENT FOR BOARD CITY DEVELOPMENT

There has been added to the Information Bureau of the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce, a Public Relations Service. The service is rendered those who lose their 1926 auto license plates. When a plate is found, hand it in at the Board of City Development office and the owner will be found and the plate sent home. A letter will also go to the owner explaining the service as well as have him feel the pleasure in Haskell's. Put yourself in the other fellow's shoes and save him a dollar and make a friend for Haskell. If you are too busy to deliver the plate to the office of the Public Relations Service, phone 405 and it will be called for.

KNIFE WOUNDS PROVE FATAL TO YOUTH

A fatal tragedy occurred near McCaulley last Monday when Day Mayberry, age 16 years, received a knife wound which later in the day caused his death. His older brother was charged with thrusting the knife into his body. It is not known whether the affair was accidental or not. The young man who was wounded was carried to the Stamford Sanitarium soon after the cutting but he is reported to have passed away about 3:30 o'clock that afternoon.

Now is Best Time to Select Poultry for Breeding Stock

All poultry raisers who are contemplating improving their flock during the coming year should start preparations to this end at the present time. Select your breeding pen now, mate your best cock with 12 to 15 hens. These hens to be the best layers you have. If you haven't a good male bird buy one. Save all hatching eggs from this mating. These 12 or 15 hens will provide enough hatching eggs for your use and from this mating you will get a bunch of pullets that will lay about 50 per cent more eggs on the average than your present flock. That alone will pay you big.

Then since you are to get all of your hatching eggs from one pen, you have no business with the other old roosters on the place. Sell them now. They will bring more than they will next summer. The fact is they will bring enough to build a pen for the good mating. Hatch early so all the cockerels produced can be disposed of early when prices are high. This is a good business and good poultry management. Returns come quickly. There! you have solved the young rooster problem. So with all the roosters you have, you automatically have nothing but infertile eggs which are in great demand and bring an average of 5 cents more per dozen, through the summer.

SEE THE COUNTY AGENT TRICE FOR MAIZE SEED

Farmers wishing to order maize seed from the pure line selection should see County Agent Trice. He states that he can obtain some maize seed from the Experiment Station at Lubbock which has been bred pure for years. This seed planted on most any farm in Haskell County will greatly improve the type of maize being planted.

JESSE G. FOSTER ANNOUNCES FOR COUNTY JUDGE

Jesse G. Foster who is now serving his first term as County Judge of Haskell county makes his announcement this week as a candidate for re-election, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July. Judge Foster has served the county during the past year as County Judge in a very satisfactory manner and will probably not have an opponent in the coming campaign. As he makes the announcement at this time on the record he has made since assuming the duties of the office a little more than a year ago. During the past year there probably have been more important cases tried in his court than at any time since the organization of the county. In the handling of these cases he has won the esteem and friendship of every attorney in the county as well as all citizens who have had any dealings with the county court.

He will appreciate your support and promises the same courteous and efficient service in the future he has tried to render during the past.

SHALL WE ENLARGE OUR SEWER SYSTEM?

For several months the Haskell City Council and Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce have been working on a plan under which Haskell might enjoy a larger sewer system and disposal plant.

The fact that a larger disposal plant will have to be erected soon and the calls being made by property owners for an extension of the sewer has been a problem before these bodies for some time.

Hog to finance the improvements needed has also been the problem requiring the most thought, but after much consideration, and after hearing from several representatives who make sewerage systems their business, the following plan was thought to be equitable and best for all and is presented for the careful consideration of the property owners of Haskell. The co-operation of everyone is necessary or the plan cannot be carried out.

Should it be carried out there is no possible way to extend the system or build a needed disposal plant, under the present tax rate and valuations of city property.

In order to avoid voting bonds, raising taxes or valuations, the present plan is to have those enjoying the service, pay for it, and those not connected not paying anything towards its cost and upkeep.

The plan for financing is this: A charge of not less than $1.50 per connection, per month, and not more than $2.00, for residence property. The charge in the business section to be $2.50 for the average store.

This rate will finance the actual cost; i. e., interest and annual payments. The interest is 6 per cent and the total debt about $35,000.00, payable annually, in installments, and running over a period of 20 years.

As patrons increase, and as payments lower the total amount, say five to seven years, the rate will be reduced, and so on until the city is owner of the plant, when a rate necessary to properly operate and care for the plant will be set.

The contractors agree to place a "Y" at each lot, whether the lot is vacant or a house is erected thereon; the same applies in the business section. A map showing just where the connecting "Y" is located will be furnished the City and the City Secretary will have the desired information when a property owner desires to connect.

The old system will be connected with the new. The new disposal plant will be of capacity suitable to care for our growth for some time to come.

The sanitary advantages, the encouragement for others to come to Haskell and enjoy these conveniences appeals of the best side of the natural make-up of a citizenship, and no doubt suggests a co-operation worth while and the program in hand be realized.

After all, when it is remembered that there is a charge of 50 cents per month for sanitary service at this time (some larger families pay $1.00) and consider the inconveniences occasioned by the present method of disposal the difference in the cost per month is not high, especially when the convenience and general sanitary and satisfactory conditions that result are considered.

The plan will be assured if enough property owners sign to connect. If additional lines are found necessary and the proper number of signers can be secured to finance the lines it is probable the City Council will take steps to extend the lines over additional territory.

Where the lines go depends upon the signers. If sewer connection is wanted, the opportunity awaits those interested. When approached each property owner will have an equal opportunity to co-operate. The City Officials and the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce officers are under the impression, knowing Haskellites pretty well, that there is no cause to doubt securing enough signers to this contract agreement, and they will be glad to discuss the plan with any one desiring to learn more about the plan, at any time.

SOCIETY and Club

P. T. A. Program on Thrift.

A one hundred per cent interesting and instructive program on Thrift was given before the Haskell High School student body and patrons last Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the Parent-Teacher Association. The public was invited and if you were not there you were the loser, for not only was there not a dull moment, but every number was discussed by a picked "man" who knew his or "her" subject by actual experience. And such vital facts were presented that if you were not there and will peruse this article carefully, you can then look into the daily schedule of your boy or girl and find out whether or not they conserve and use time and opportunity or are a menace to those students who try to do so. Mrs. Date Anderson directed the program. Miss Mabel Baldwin discussed thrift in school and in a graphic comparison between a boy who lives in the country, rises at five o'clock every morning milks a number of cows, delivers the milk to local cafes, does a number of other chores through the week, such as getting one or two loads of wood, never treads, good lessons, follows the school schedule, conserving his own time and naturally wastes no one else's, good sport on athletic field, does not have time for more than one picture show a week, if that, and always on Friday evening, the time set by the school laws; and then Miss Baldwin continued, time eight o'clock, high school girl just rising, too late for anything to eat, has to take time to rouge her lips and cheeks, and set waves in marcelled or permanently curled hair, rushes to school only to find that she is tardy, can not go to her first class, so must wait in the study hall until next period, tires of that and saunters into the library, then back in the study hall she finds that she still has a few moments so she gets out her vanity, case and gives herself a facial, no lessons are prepared, she finds that she must stay in after school for being tardy, at last when she gets out of school around five o'clock she is tired and hungry, so she hurries home and eats a good substantial meal that mother has prepared for her just in time to answer the telephone and make a date for the picture show that night, she gets home about 11 o'clock "maby" and of course she is too tired all of the time to co-operate with the school program. Miss Baldwin then read four themes on Thrift in school by a freshman, a sophomore, a junior and a senior, they were all splendid, but lack of space forbids our using all of them, the freshman and sophomore papers are given in this issue of the Free Press. All papers made the point that waste of time, (the pupils wasting time and causing the teacher to lose time), waste of paper, ink, books and a criminal waste, by facing building and furniture, were practiced by a large number of pupils. Mr. Alfred Pierson of the Haskell National Bank, talked on Thrift in saving, and left it to the audience to answer the question as to who were the substantial, dependable men of any community, the men who saved or the spendthrifts and careless speculators? He cited a concrete example of a given number of farmers who over a period of six or seven years had made between twenty-five and forty bales of cotton every year and who did not have anything and on the first of every year had to borrow money, and compared them with the same number of farmers who had made the exact number of bales in a given number of years, who had payed out their farms or were in a fair way of doing so. Thus Mr. Pierson proved the old statement "that it is not what a man makes but what he saves."

Next were two selections by the High School Orchestra. Then Principal M. B. Lebo of the High School discussed thrift in time, and cited that misconduct in school, necessitating the errating out just who are to blame and giving and reading out demerits, not only caused a loss of time to the delinquent pupil, but also for the teacher and for those students who desire to avail themselves of time and opportunity. Miss Glenda Wingo then gave a short sketch of the life of Benjamin Franklin. The program was closed by a magnificent appeal for play grounds for Haskell children, by B. C. T. Scott of the West Texas Utilities Company.

Among the many statistics and articles read on what the play ground had done for schools, communities, and "gangs" in the cities, Mr. Scott cited an instance where a tab was kept on 12 men who worked their way through high school and college, working all of the time, without recreation, for ten years after they were out of school and in the business world, and it was found that there were only three successes out of the twelve, and a committee decided that the only cause they could find of the tiring of life's struggle on the part of the other nine, was the lack of recreation, or taking time to play. Mr. Scott stated that ground has been donated for a play ground, and that for five hundred dollars, a good equipment could be gotten. In response to the question by Mr. Scott, who would be willing to help clear the ground and prepare it, the High School boys stood enmasse. Formal plans have not been developed for raising this fund, but every patron of the Haskell Schools will be given an opportunity to contribute,—we fell sure that you will do so gladly. If there is anyone who is not informed or who is mis-informed about supervised playgrounds for children, please consult any teacher, the president of the Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Chas. Parsons, or Mr. Scott. And while Haskell's splendid business men are looking to the building of Haskell, literally with brick and mortar, commercially and civically, let us take care of the most precious cargo of all, the future citizens.

Magazine Club.

Mrs. A. H. Wair was hostess to the Club members Friday afternoon. She was a very gracious hostess, meeting all the ladies at the door.

Mrs. F. T. Sanders, president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. R. E. Sherrill chairman of the house committee reported having the club building re-roofed and painted. Mrs. Lewis read the constitution and by-laws after being revised. The Club has voted to have it printed in pamphlet form. Mrs. Lewis directed a very interesting lesson, "Texas a State."

Roll call and response: If you could visit but one spot in Texas which would this be? Why? Mrs. Whitaker gave a splendid talk on Cause, Progress and Result—War with Mexico.

Mrs. Meadows in a very clear and concise way gave a map talk—disputed boundaries.

Magazine Club House Under Repairs.

The Magazine Club House is undergoing some repairs. A new roof is being put on and all of the wood work on the outside will be given a new coat of paint. This is one piece of property, building and ground, that is always kept in good repair and of which all of Haskell are justly proud.

Schedule Clock for Haskell Schools.

A Free Circuit Schedule Clock, costing two hundred and eighty nine dollars, has been purchased by the Haskell High School Faculty and P. T. A., and is on the ground ready to be installed. When this is done it will be set by Western Union time, and all classes, both in the High School and North Ward School will be regulated by it.

Social Life of the Working Girl of Haskell.

In last week's issue of the Haskell Free Press, this department carried an article on "opening our hearts and homes to the teachers and High School pupils," and Lo! the echo came rebounding from our own home girls, and we were asked if we were cognizant of the fact that the social and club life of the working girl was negligible? On questioning a number of these young ladies, we found that they unanimously and all together felt the same. So we sent the following "questionnaire" to twelve or fourteen young ladies. Four called up on the telephone, and the gist of their remarks was to the effect "that somehow they were left out of social affairs and supposed they were accustomed to it by now." The others who responded by mail are exact duplicates in sentiment of the three examples printed below. Only one stated that she enjoyed all of the social life that she had time for but said that she knew others who did not. The "questionnaire" follows:

A number of young ladies working for the mercantile stores, offices and garages are sending in statements as to what they think of social life in Haskell; whether or not they think things are run in a rut, if they feel left out of things, and if they would enjoy intimate things to do, such as being joint hostesses, taking character parts, and helping with the serving of the refreshments? Or generally are they too tired? The best of these letters will be published, of course with holding the name.

Here's one answer:

"The Social Life of the Business Girl in Haskell." Well, good night, why did you mention such an embarrassing subject? Come to think of it, there is hardly enough to mention. About the only society thrill we get is reading the social "write-ups" where possibly Mrs. So and So was hostess to such and such a crowd, with this one and that one at the house party, receiving line, or filling some other place equally as important. Sometimes, by some means, we are included in the guest list, and Oh! Boy! when we are—what a thrill!"

Another answer:

"Dear Society Editor: How do we know whether the social and club life in Haskell is run in a rut or not?—all we know about it is what we read in the Free Press. Working girls and women are social beings as much as are the other girls and women of the town. Of course we should like to have some social life and be invited to things. Sometimes we are too tired to go and we could not get away from our work to go to every club meeting or social affair, but there are times when we could go and we should be delighted to be remembered with an invitation occasionally. Out-of-town girls who come to Haskell to work have little chance to meet the people because most of the social affairs come in the day time when they are at work and they are not invited to those things. The social functions that come at night are not much better for the new girls for they have no way to go nor anyone to go with them."

What the Working Girl Thinks of the Social and Club Life of Haskell. The social life of Haskell, I think, is pretty dull for the average working girl. One thinks the working girl is highly entertained by working six days out of the week, fifty-two weeks out of the year, from eight o'clock in the morning until six in the afternoon and then is probably too tired to enter into any social event that may be on in the evenings. This seems to be a very excellent excuse for the social leader to say, "Oh, she works and is too tired to come, let's not ask her," and then the working girl is left out.

How do these people know that these girls would not be overjoyed in going out in the evenings, freeing her mind of the constant word, "Work." Of course she is tired after hours of working, who wouldn't be? Naturally doing one thing becomes tiresome. But, one forgets how tired one is when they are enjoying themselves, when having a good time, work is forgotten. You know the old saying, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." Then why say a girl who works does not enjoy a social and club life when she surely does. Give her a chance and find out.

The Cemetery Association Has Meeting.

The Cemetery Association met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. R. B. Fields and dispensed with some very important business. Mrs. J. L. Odell the president states that work will begin next week on putting the new fence in line with the old on the east side and taking up the partition. The association urges every body to pay their dues early in the year as they need cash to carry on the splendid work of keeping the cemetery in the good repair that they have always done, and with the added work of fencing it will readily be seen how urgent it is that all co-operate in paying dues, and indeed no worthier cause can be found to which to contribute than to the Cemetery Association. Mail your check to Mrs. J. L. Odell, Mrs. Travis Arbuckle or leave it with Jones Cox & Co. The public is cordially invited to be present at Willow Cemetery on Tuesday, March the 2nd, in an all day basket dinner meet. When needed co-operative work will be done, trees planted and a deeper interest in the work of the association will be instilled.

Every one come in the morning and bring a basket lunch and spend the day. There were fourteen ladies present at the meeting.

Kaigler read, Life's Service, a dedication to Miss Bennett. With an unusual pathos, Mrs. W. A. Kimbrough sang, Others. During the business session, Mrs. W. A. POULTRY PAYS.

The results of some of our poultrymen have been much greater than ever before, and their margin of profit has been much wider and the market has furnished a more ready sale with less effort.

We recall a statement made by Andrew Josslet, a breeder of Rhode Island Reds in the Howard community in which he said that he had sold over fifty cocks and cockrels for breeding purposes and ran out long before the demand was satisfied.

We have cited only a few of the many breeders over the county who have realized satisfactory sales and hundreds of others over the county can give the same testimony.

THE LEAGUE IN RURAL SCHOOLS

The rural school is an isolated school, and the inspiration which comes from close association with other schools is denied it.

The same is, in a measure, true of the rural school children. Social intercourse among town and city children is easier and therefore more general than it is among the children of the open country.

It is for this reason that recreational activities should receive special stress in the rural school. Plays, games, school fairs, exhibitions, music, student organization, and contests of all kinds should be utilized in the rural schools to overcome the handicap of its isolated position.

And, since the average rural school does not contain within itself sufficient numbers for the activities suggested, it is necessary to combine with our rural schools for recreational ends.

tional program in mind is frequently confronted by the indifference or opposition of the community which he is serving.

The Interscholastic League is a division of the Bureau of Extension of the University of Texas organized for the purpose of promoting educational contests among the public schools.

In the League organization, the competition does not cease with the county meet, but a larger contest organization is provided comprising groups of counties, which are called districts.

A contest offers the surest means available for securing the interest of patrons in the school, and it is an instrument which the wide-awake teacher is not slow to use.

Three automobile loaded with Haskell County farmers left Haskell on January 20th to attend the State Convention of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association at Dallas January 21st and 22nd.

This was the annual gathering of members and agricultural leaders from over the United States, and this convention was of exceptional importance from the fact that some of the largest bankers in the United States were there and discussed the new venture that is being put into operation by the Association, namely, Production Credit.

This class of loans are intended to extend over a period of twelve months, so that the member can take advantage of the orderly marketing of his cotton as is done by the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, instead of dumping it on a glutted market.

The Association has available for immediate use $3,000,000, and has the entire resources of the Intermediate Credit Bank at its disposal if it should need that amount.

The unfair attitude in some localities of business men and bankers toward the financing of members, for the reason that they considered it unsafe and just another farm movement, was entirely dispelled for those who attended the convention from Haskell county, and all came back with a better understanding of cooperative marketing in general and the Cotton Association in particular.

They were all given a banquet in the Sanger Bros. dining room in the evening. Mr. W. W. Works of the Federal Reserve Bank was toastmaster, and many interesting subjects were discussed, and all left too full for utterance.

SOCIETY and Club

At the meeting of the Haskell Harmony Club on Wednesday January 28th work was begun under Mrs. H. D. Neff on the Cantata to be given Easter Sunday.

On March 3 the Club will observe Texas Composers Day, sponsoring a concert to be given by Mr. Frank Renard of Dallas. The Haskell public will undoubtedly be much interested in this concert, and give it hearty support.

Frank Renard, Dallas pianist, composer and pedagogue, was born on the border of the German State of Baden and Switzerland in 1865. His education was both broad and varied.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bland entertained a number of friends with a "42" party Thursday night. Those present were Misses Fay Campbell, Bell and Lydia Lawrence, Retha Moody, Ruth Deisman and June Miller, Messrs. George and Sam Harrison, Arthur and Dewitt Moody, Douglas Reed and Louis Kohout.

The Foster girls won another victory Saturday night when they defeated Stamford High School girls by a fifteen to fourteen score. The game was played in the Stamford High School gymnasium, and was the first time that the Foster girls had played on an indoor court.

J. B. Bradley, a tenant farmer of the Pinkerton community was in the city Saturday and stated that he gathered 46 bales of cotton last year from 105 acres of ground and also made 24 tons of good maize. He stated that his maize made him more money at the prevalent price than his cotton.

Mr. Nathan Adams of Dallas, and perhaps one of the most outstanding bankers in the state spoke before the Convention regarding the banker and the producer, and urged a better understanding between the country banks and the Association.

Mr. C. D. Makepeace, vice president of the Seaboard National Bank of New York City, told of the business relations of his bank and the Association and urged the farmers to do his business in a business way to orderly market his crops.

Haskell Minister Receives News of Death of Father and Brother. Rev. G. Robert Forrester, pastor of the First Christian Church of this city received the sad news of the death of his father and only brother last week which occurred in East Tennessee the first part of last week.

SCHOOL NEWS

From a set of Senior themes on the subject "Why I Like to Live in Haskell" the following was selected, with difficulty by teachers not in the English Department, as being the best. We feel sure that all will enjoy reading this theme for it expresses the sentiment of every true citizen of Haskell.

"Why I Like to Live in Haskell"

(By Lewis Pearsay)

There is somewhere within the soul of everyone a love for the place called home. To some this home is a mansion fair, or a cottage by the sea; to others it is only a humble shack, cherished nevertheless. As for this it does not matter; it is all the same. It is their home, and they love it.

If for no other reason, I like to live in Haskell because it is my home. It is a place I have learned to love; it is the only place I know.

There are, however, countless other reasons why I like to live in Haskell. The history of Haskell—although some might not think so—is one that might well be envied. During the past forty years Haskell has sprung from a mere settlement to one of the most progressive small cities, or to be brief, its history has magnified itself in progress.

There are a few students in our school whose fathers came to Haskell as the first settlers. These especially should be glad to live here; they should be glad to call the town of their fathers, home.

Then, I like to live in Haskell because of my friends. I believe that there are as true friends to be found in Haskell as one would find anywhere; I believe that if one spent a lifetime wandering over the world, he would not find any truer friends than those in Haskell. When one is among his friends, he is contented and happy; so, here among my friends, I delight to live.

Again, I like to live in Haskell because of the opportunities which are available. A well-developed man is one who is developed spiritually, mentally, physically and socially. There are in Haskell mediums through which we can develop ourselves along all these lines. Our churches and schools are among the best, thus giving us the best spiritual and intellectual training.

Anyone should be glad of living in a Christian land and of enjoying a Christian education. Of the social nature of the Haskell people, it might suffice to say that in Haskell are to be found some of the merriest, the jolliest, some of the best sports on earth.

Then, I am glad to live in Haskell because of the quality of its people. There are people here who are true Christians; there are those who are well refined and educated; those who have talent and understanding. I am thankful to live among such people, and I delight to call them my friends.

Then, I like to live in Haskell because of its school life; because of the spirit of its young people. There is a spirit which links together the students of our school; a spirit of friendliness which shall transform the classroom of youthful days into a true friend of old age; a spirit of gladness which shall make us linger over the memory of our school days. This is the spirit and life of our school, and, as I have said, I am glad to live amidst such a spirit.

There is much more I could say about why I am glad to live in Haskell. Any one of the reasons I have mentioned should make me glad to live here. I shall only say, in conclusion, that I like to live in Haskell because of its history, its opportunities for development, because of my friends, because of the quality and refinement of its people, because of its school life—and because it is my HOME.

Two weeks of our last term have passed, and we trust that in this new term everyone will show the same spirit of co-operation as has been manifested in the past. We appreciate very much the co-operation of both parents and teachers.

Below is found a list of those making a general average of 90, including department, for the term just ending.

The group should be larger, and we hope that more will strive for this goal during the present term.

"Let us all be up and doing."

Night Coughing Quickly Stopped

Now Way Simple But Very Effective

Night coughing, with its distressing loss of sleep and dangerous sapping of strength and vitality, can now be almost instantly checked through a simple but wonderfully effective treatment that is economical, too.

This treatment is based on the famous prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. For astonishing relief make this test tonight before retiring—Simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in the throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. So with the cause removed, coughing stops quickly and you sleep the whole night through.

The Dr. King's New Discovery prescription is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. At all good druggists. Ask for

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE OPERATION OF Carnivals and Tent Shows Within the City Limits of the City of Haskell, Texas, Defining Same, Providing a Penalty and Declaring an Emergency.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF HASKELL:

SECTION ONE: It shall be and is hereby declared unlawful for any owner, agent or representative of any carnival or of any amusement of like character, or any tent show to open, run or operate a carnival or similar amusement or tent show within the corporate limits of the City of Haskell, except on the fair grounds and the grounds designated as "English Park" as shown and described on the map or plat of the said City of Haskell, Texas.

SECTION TWO: The term "carnival" shall have its usual and ordinary meaning. The term "tent show" shall be broadly construed so as to embrace and include all places of amusement or exhibition held under any tent or tents where admission is charged for entrance therein, whether same are called by either of the terms "carnival" "tent show" or "tent theatre" and shall include all exhibitions given under tent or tents regardless of the name by which said exhibition, show or theatre is called.

SECTION THREE: Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be prosecuted in the City Court of the City of Haskell, and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum of not less than FIFTY ($50.00) DOLLARS nor more than TWO HUNDRED ($200.00) DOLLARS, and each performance or exhibition shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION FOUR: Should the Court hold any section or part of any section of this ordinance void for any reason, such holding shall not effect any other part of this ordinance.

SECTION FIVE: All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION SIX: The fact that there is at present no ordinance regulating tent shows and carnivals to be held within the city limits, and the further fact that several tent shows are now contemplating coming to Haskell and erecting tents within the city limits for the purpose of giving performances, thereby increasing the fire hazards within said city limits, creates an emergency and a necessity that the rules requiring ordinances to be read at two stated meetings and not to become effective until ten days after publication, be suspended, and such rules are suspending and this ordinance is passed on second reading and final passage and shall take effect and be in force from and after final passage and publication, and it is so enacted.

Passed and approved this 16th day of January, A. D. 1926.

OLIVER NO. 23 TWO-ROW CULTIVATOR

With the Oliver No. 23 two-row cultivator one man can care for double the usual cultivated acreage with no more time and effort than is required to operate a single-row cultivator. It does good work and twice as much of it.

Built just for use in cotton, corn and other South-western crops, this cultivator has the wide range of adjustability which fits it for the variety of planting widths encountered where both single and two-row planters are used.

By means of convenient levers the gangs can be set to work in 22 to 60-inch rows and each pair of gangs can be shifted to work close to or away from the plants.

We will gladly explain the many other advantages of the Oliver No. 23. They are now on display.

MCCOLLUM, ELLIS & COUCH

"Where does all the money go?"

YOUNG Mrs. Henshaw was almost in tears. She had been telling Mrs. Blair something about her failure to "get a few dollars ahead."

"Where does all the money go?" she asked hopelessly.

"Do you really want me to tell you, dear?" Mrs. Blair replied, in the kindly voice of mature experience.

"Like so many other young people," she continued, "you and Jack are 'always broke'—as you say—because you have no systematic, intelligent buying plan. You need to adopt a budget! You should study your problem—know exactly what you must have each week and buy accordingly."

"There comes the big test! Do you know how to buy—what to buy, and when, and where? You simply must learn, and the best way in the world is to study the advertisements in your newspaper. Read the ads carefully; apply their suggestions to your own needs, and you will save money! I know, because for many years I have done so."

Review of Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce Activities

In reviewing the activities of the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce since organization, it seems suggestive that through this organization's collective activities it is proper to include the Haskell County Fair Association, as, through the organization plan, though the actual work might have taken on a satisfactory or staple basis before the birth of the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce, the continued growth or continued organization spirit prevailed, rendering a service complimentary to all.

Following this program Haskell seemed to awaken to her task, realizing, no doubt, in unity there was strength, and if the town and community must progress and develop into the city all hoped to see it become, co-operation must be the spirit if results were enjoyed.

This was followed by the Hotel Campaign; the presentation of Haskell's claims and advantages at Mineral Wells, when the West Texas Chamber of Commerce met in annual convention; then the improvement of roads leading into Haskell; the conventions and meetings held here; Teacher's Institutes; County School Trustees; and publicity stunts credited to the body in presenting the town and community through press and magazine, exhibits at Fairs and general introductions through conferences of business and professional men on various occasions.

The sending of representatives to State and Regional meetings, support of the Haskell Booster Band and its splendid record on all occasions and the general atmosphere of advancement taken on by the citizenship in building of homes, extension of water service mains, and on to the good roads campaign, and two successful County Fair entertainments, successful in the co-operation of a citizenship as well as successful in the financial term accrediting such movements and organizations.

The spirit of development cannot be overlooked when it is known that the improvements in every direction already enjoyed and those to follow, under plans in the making, no doubt assures those who have served and given, time and money, that every effort and every dollar has brought unlooked for results and upon which it would be a task to estimate the value.

Encouraged by a united citizenship, home after home has been erected during the past two years; 1925 being especially a record year; and 1926 promises to surpass even this surprising record, and following in line there seems no doubt, the commercial organizations looking to Haskell's advantages and needs, will present and complete many projects worthy of the co-operation of every citizen.

As each activity is completed, large or small, as the case may be, others will follow in turn. The desire being to properly present, carry out and set aside, each project in itself before attempting to take on labors that detract or present a burden in expense or labor, demanding unsatisfactory calls from business and profession and generally disrupting the usual vocations of the membership.

The financial support accorded the organization is evidenced by the annual report published by that body. The careful inspection of each member is invited to this report. Apparently not a dollar was wasted nor business judgment forgotten in the authorizing of the expenses shown.

Whether the commercial bodies present the exciting attitudes some would desire, or whether a steady tread of business and conservative practices are followed, is in the keeping of the men serving at Board members and using judgment not unlike that judgment accorded their own business.

The Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce presents the entire community to the prospective customers. No individual business is considered as a direct point of view in desiring to establish homeseekers, and, unless this is followed the activities of the body are in danger.

To properly present a front, a line of wares, as it were, the citizenship must stand behind the organization. Must act as a unit and when action is due, show co-operative spirit and forget personal gain.

When a homeseeker is sold Haskell, each and every business and professional man, as units in the town's make-up, share alike in such benefits as accrue to the town or the community.

During this period steps have been taken to secure highway designations; re-establish the burned oil mill; go into a plan under which streets might be improved; street light circuit installed; sewer extension; water service improved, and supply increased; meetings of various kinds have been held; the Manager's Office has kept the correspondence passing promptly and maintained at all times an office in keeping with the intentions of the position, putting as complimentary as possible and as conditions permit, Haskell's introduction to strangers or visitors on every mission, as brought to the headquarters for attention.

The marking of highways and by-ways; traffic suggestions; the desire for careful driving; the hope of a playground for the children of the town; the beautification of homes and public grounds; the desire to serve and in serving render a service that might stand as a monument to those who have labored faithfully without hope of direct reward, has been the general tread of the co-workers.

As the fiscal year closes and new activities, as well as new pledges for the 1926 budget are necessary, it is the desire and hope of the Board that the citizenship will stand in line with financial support equal to the past record, or, even show an increase in the pledges, as they should realize by this time the value of the working body and feel inclined to give their support accordingly.

There are a number of projects ahead that Haskell can add to those already accomplished. Each citizen realizes Haskell's needs. Every suggestion presented will have careful consideration and with the proper co-operation, Haskell continue to go forward and become a city in keeping with the citizenship's desires.

Co-operation will do it, backed by a strong financial support, and both are solicited, with every promise that the careful judgment and best thought of the Board will be given, as in the past, in all matters looking to the development of Haskell and her trade territory.

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will catch the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Parents will then throw off or digest the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 50c per bottle.

seeking the proper channel of interest and parties.

That the Street Committee had not given up plans, at yet, under which the streets of Haskell might be improved.

A visit to Stamford, where several street improvement contracts are under way, is planned by the committee.

That the Street Lighting plan was under way and announcements would be made within a reasonable period.

A part of the program would probably be put into use if not all at first.

The Manager presented facts and figures relative to the valuable and selective publicity Haskell was enjoying at the hands of the various correspondents for state newspapers and special writers for various associations and organizations.

That Haskell could look forward to a steady presentation of needed improvements as well as being permitted, among them, the sewer extension, street improvements, rural activities, cooperation with the County Agent, street lighting extension, trade extension, clean up campaign, crew and modern telephone exchange, fire station, and water service extension and other needed improvements Haskell deserved and needed.

Mr. Clifford reported conference with representatives from the Haskell Booster Band, whereby it was decided the band would take steps to organize, establish a membership fund, and take care of half the amount now being paid by the Board of City Development for the Director's salary, namely, $150 per month.

The Board felt the band being well in hand and having been especially fortunate in being schooled by an able Director and having noted the splendid demonstrations made by the band, at various times, that becoming an organization in themselves and assisting with the financing would bring about an interest that would suggest a stronger general body.

A committee from the band has the matter in hand and it was planned to perfect organization Monday evening, the regular meeting time, February 1st.

Mr. Clifford reported, Director Collum having discussed moving to Spur and to Haskell, if his plans were completed, but before the proposition he made Haskell could be acted upon.

Spur made a stronger offer and Mr. Collum accepted the position as tendered him. At first he felt he would give up the Haskell band but the boys prevailed upon him, through Manager Clifford, and long distance telephones were put into service and Mr. Collum promised to stay with the Haskell band, to Spur or not, and give up other bands instead, should the Spur engagement suggest it was necessary.

The band members feel decidedly better since this agreement and in addition to their taking care of half the Director's salary they hope to secure funds enough to purchase snappy uniforms and when they attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting in Amarillo they are going to let the hands in the usual contest know Haskell was there with the goods.

This explanation, Mr. Clifford stated was presented because reports had the details all mixed and the band boys wanted it to reach the public correctly.

Every member of the band holds Mr. Collum in the highest esteem, and numbers stated, at the time, if he gave up the Haskell band leadership they would not take interest in another band under another leader, it was stated by several members.

Mr. Collum has expressed himself as being decidedly well pleased with the Haskell band and promises, if the boys organize and get down to business and keep their pep, as they have in the past, he feels sure they need have no fear of being very far from the First Prize, if they don't surprise everybody and bring home the highest awards in their class.

The Board looks forward to a strengthened financial support this year, and every member is to be asked to hold his 1925 pledge as it has been enjoyed, and where possible, increase it, and not to decrease it. There is work ahead and funds are needed and expenditures as reported have been carefully made and every possible saving followed, in keeping with a desire to save, yet accomplish work in hand.

Adjournment was taken subject to call, until the next regular session February 11th.

HOG IMPROVEMENT CAMPAIGN SURVEY

Following a visit from Col. C. C. French, Industrial Agent, Fort Worth Stockyards Co., Fort Worth, and a conference held at the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce and County Agent W. P. Trice, a survey is being made to secure expressions from Haskell County and Haskell Trade Territory farmers, as to whether they are interested in bringing brood sows into this section.

The plan will be to furnish these sows at actual cost, purchased from reliable breeders, by the Fort Worth Stockyards Co., after a selection to be made by their expert buyers in the proper market.

It is suggested those interested fill in the following form and mail to County Agent W. P. Trice, Haskell, Texas, and when all reports are in steps will be taken to perfect organization and a plan under which the pigs can be handled to the satisfaction of all will be given into and submitted to all interested.

The Rural Activities Committee of the Board of City Development, R. C. Cook, Chairman, and of which County Agent Trice is a member, will await the survey results and advise what will be done in a reasonable period.

Mr. W. P. Trice, County Agent, Haskell, Texas.

Please enter my name as desiring to know more about the Hog Importing Campaign, and if carried out I will be one of those to purchase a brood sow, under the plan submitted, subject to my accepting the plan when presented to me when completed. This is not to bind me in any manner, until I sign such agreement as might be submitted to me when the plan is perfected.

Local Elks Lodge Observe Initiation and Regular Session

Monday evening the Elks Lodge presented a very encouraging attitude, to say the least, when many who had not attended for some time and several visiting Elks grazed the reception room and attended the regular session and initiation.

Four candidates having been duly elected, were admitted to the order in full form.

Several applications were reported on by the membership committee and others presented for the usual first reading and committee assignment.

The interest being taken at this time is very encouraging to the officers and the new members pledged their regular attendance and promised to bring in their friends. Several members presented names for consideration and expect to hand in applications at the next meeting, it was stated.

Word has been received from the District Deputy that the proposed entertainment program seems assured and as soon as all lodges act on the plan dates and numbers will be announced so that each lodge might give publicity to their members and assure a representative attendance.

Sayles Ball Team.

Sayles boys have been making quite a "rep" playing ball the past week.

Tuesday the Plainview team played on the Sayles ground and were defeated by a goodly score. Wednesday night Haskell met Sayles at the gymnasium at Stamford and lost the game the scores being 13 to 7 in favor of Haskell. Thursday the Post boys came to Sayles and were defeated by a good score. Sayles hasn't lost a game except the one lost to Haskell Wednesday night, and needless to say, we are proud of our boys.

W. H. Gibbs and J. L. Bissell of Seymour were here on legal business Monday.

HASKELL BAND MEETS AND ELECTS OFFICERS

The Haskell Boomer Band members met in the Board of City Development rooms Tuesday evening when organization was perfected officers elected and a committee from the Board of City Development named.

Eugene English was elected President, Ross Woodall, Vice President, Mrs. Eugene English, Secretary Treasurer.

Chairman F. T. Sanders, H. D. Neff and C. V. Payne, as a committee, presented suggestions and a proposition to the organization. The band will meet again Monday evening and take such action as may be agreed and report back to the Board of City Development in time for the regular session of the Board on the 11th.

Due to the absence of President English, Vice President Woodall presided. Twenty-one of the twenty-five active members of the organization were in attendance. Announcement was made that the band had decided to take steps that would suggest bringing home one of the big prizes when the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual meet will be held at Amarillo, this year and it had been agreed that members missing meetings and practice would have to give a very satisfactory excuse or be deprived of the Amarillo fun. It was stated, a member penalized in this manner would not be prohibited from practice with the band nor membership cancelled, but the penalty of missing the trip to Amarillo and helping win, would be applied.

Following adjournment a concert was given near the Haskell Theatre, followed by the acceptance of the Theatre, Manager's invitations to take in the show.

A business session will be held Monday evening before the practice period is taken up, stated Vice President Woodall, and a full attendance of the organization is urged, and an early arrival will be appreciated, he said.

In addition to the business discussion, Messrs Sanders, Payne, Neff and Clifford made short talks to the organization, assuring them of the loyalty of the citizenship and extending cooperation in every possible manner in the desire to see the band grow stronger, in numbers, retain their present satisfactory reputation as a band and urging their business relations be kept up and the organization be as loyal to the officers as the band had been to Director Collum.

Mr. Collum asked to be quoted as stating he had no intention of giving up the Haskell band but his change in connection with the Spur organization was but a matter of business with him and Haskell's band would not suffer because of it. He was pleased to note the steps taken to organize the band in a businesslike manner and stated this suggested even a better cooperation condition than ever.

Farmer Sows Grain and Makes a Success of His Farming

G. M. Sims of the Gaunt community west of the city was here Saturday and while in conversation with a Free Press reporter said that he had sown 55 acres of wheat this year and would not the acreage of his cotton crop down considerably this year. He always grows his feed and makes his living from the farm. This year pigs and sheeps have been scarce and high priced but Mr. Sims began a search for some sheeps for his meat next year and he never let up until he found enough for his needs. The farmer who determines to succeed, his needs is the one who wins in the final success.

Foster vs. Center Point.

Center Point school boys and outside girls motored to Foster Friday afternoon and played two very interesting games of basket ball. The girls of Foster came out winners, the score being 27 and 4, while in turn our boys stepped over the Foster boys by winning in a score of 42 to 6. The games were refereed by Mrs. Brown of that school. Most everyone of Foster and Center Point watched the games.

"Uncle Billy" Cox Building New Home.

"Uncle Billy" Cox, a pioneer Haskell county man who lives on his farm in the Howard community is having a modern six-room bungalow erected on his farm where he expects to live. Uncle Billie is well known and has many friends who will be glad to know that he is having a real bungalow built.

Farmers Should Plant Only the Best Grades of Seed

Planting time will soon be here. Only the best grade of proven seed should be planted. It is a proven fact that an inferior grade of seed which cost less in the beginning of the season are much more expensive in the end than a good grade of seed which cost more in the beginning. The failure to get good stands of feed and cotton can be traced in many instances, to the quality of the seed that were planted. It costs no more to cultivate two acres planted to good seed than it does to cultivate the same amount of land planted to inferior seed; yet the returns in dollars and cents will be greater on the plot of land planted to good seed, under the same cultivation.

Floyd West Ill With Pneumonia

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. West of the Post community were called to the bedside of their little nephew, Floyd West of the Pleasant Valley community who is seriously ill with pneumonia. Little hopes are held for his recovery as his condition is serious.

General Motors' New Six is here!

GENERAL MOTORS now presents through its Oakland division the New Pontiac Six—the first six-cylinder car it has ever named and sponsored from the original design.

Representing the supreme embodiment of the corporation's almost limitless resources, this new Six is destined to compel a complete revision of existing ideas in motor car value.

The Pontiac Six is not another of the so-called "revolutionary" cars.

It is simply and solely a car of high quality developed to dominate a definite market... and as such represents an achievement no less significant, no less unprecedented, no less epochal than the invention of the first six-cylinder engine.

In the Pontiac Six you are offered a new order of beauty—that grace of line and balanced proportion characteristic only of Fisher craftsmanship. You are offered precisely the enduring body construction that is used on cars selling for $2,000 or more, finished in rich Duco colors.

You are offered a roadability of extraordinary scope—exhilarating power for hills, refreshing agility in traffic, a maximum speed you will use only in emergencies.

Add to this new order of beauty and this performance of unprecedented brilliance, the equally important matter of accessory equipment, and the preponderance of Pontiac value becomes literally irresistible—

—for the Pontiac Six comes equipped with full balloon cords, tickled radiator, Fisher VV windshield, automatic windshield cleaner, indirectly illuminated instrument panel, rear vision mirror, high-speed window regulators and other important essentials to pride of ownership.

The Pontiac Six is now on display in our salesrooms. Demonstrations may be arranged for. We not only invite you to see this newest creation of General Motors at the earliest possible moment—we urge you to come prepared for a new and unique experience—for here at last is the Six you have always wanted... at a price so unexpectedly low that only General Motors could possibly achieve it.

The Pontiac Six, companion car to the Oakland Six, is built and distributed by the
