VOLUME 79 NUMBER 27

All Around
The Town

BY MARY ANN SARCHET

The newspaper office will be closed from Wednesday through Sunday of next week. We hope this won't inconvenience our customers if they make plans in advance.

We are looking forward to a very special event to be held on my cousins' ranch west of Barksdale. (If you don't want to take time to look it up on your map, that is west of San Antonio.)

The cousins, who will be gathering at the Carson Ranch, are the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of my mother and her sisters and brothers. My mother was the youngest in a family of eight children, one of whom died in infancy. She was the last survivor, though one sister-in-law still lives at San Marcos and is planning to attend the reunion.

These are members of the Worrell family, and they've never been known for keeping in touch through letters, much less for getting together for a reunion. One cousin lives with her family in Saudi Arabia, and was planning to attend the last I heard. Others are scattered over Texas, from the Fort Worth area to Houston to San Antonio, from San Marcos to Barksdale, Uvalde, Rocksprings and into Kansas. Some of them I've never met, but I'm looking forward to meeting them. A couple of "adopted" cousins are even planning to attend from Indiana, I understand.

Ken and Jonann and their kids, my brother, sister-in-law and their sons are all planning to attend. We were there for a reunion several years ago, so I know what to expect—lots of good food, and a barbecue grill loaded with beef, mutton and cabretta. They've had lots of rain this spring, and the countryside should be just beautiful.

Something Big Coming July 31

Something BIG is coming to Silverton's First United Methodist Church Friday, July 31, from 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. You can see it, feel it, hear it, smell it, taste it, enjoy it.

All boys and girls who are five years old through sixth graders are invited to plan to be there.

Big Fourth Of July Celebration In Silverton

Jimmy Ross Sworn In As Briscoe County Judge

Jimmy H. Ross was sworn in as the Briscoe County Judge Tuesday morning, after the Commissioners Court had received Judge Fred Mercer's resignation in a special session.

Ross expressed a sincere desire to serve all the people of Briscoe County, and said "his office door will always be open and he will be receptive to the constructive ideas of the people." He plans to have an open meeting soon, at which residents will be invited to voice their opinions about the future of Briscoe County.

"Not having campaigned for this office, I have not had an opportunity to get acquainted with them prior to assuming this office," he said, "and I do want to get to know them and learn what their priorities are for our county government."

Ross is married to the former Velda Woods, daughter of Duke and Mary Woods. They have three daughters, Julie, Janet and Sammie Dee.

They are members of the Methodist Church and he is affiliated with the Democratic Party.

He is a graduate of Flomot High School with the Class of 1961 and received his bachelor's degree at West Texas State University in 1965. He has also done graduate work at the University of Arizona.

He was employed in public relations and education for High Plains Underground Water District in 1967-68, and was a member of the staff of Governor Preston Smith in 1969-70. He has been self employed since 1971.

He will be retiring soon as District Governor of Lions Club District 2T-1. He has served during the past year as secretary of the Lions Club statewide organization, and has been chosen as the state parliamentarian.

Ross was a Sunday School teacher in 1979-81, was chairman of the Administrative Council of his church in 1982-86, and is currently a Lay Leader.

He has been active in the Flomot Homecoming Association, serving as president in 1972-75, was Motley County Democratic Chairman in 1976, is serving as secretary of the board of directors of Water Control and Improvement, and has been a member of the board of directors of Lighthouse Electric Cooperative since 1984. In 1979, he was selected as one of the Outstanding Young Men of America by the United States Jaycees.

Mercer stated his health as the reason for his resignation and said, "I've really enjoyed these 8½ years I've served as County Judge."

He has also served in the Commissioners Court, on the board of the Silverton Independent School District, on the ASCS county committee, as Scoutmaster and as Mayor of Silverton. He has been active in community service through his involvement in the Lions Club and other civic organizations.

No Meeting Friday For 4-H Horse Club

The Briscoe County 4-H Horse Club will NOT meet this Friday due to the Fourth of July holiday weekend.

The Briscoe County Activities Association has made plans for a community celebration on the Fourth of July, with a variety of activities planned for those of all ages at the County Show Barn and ballpark area.

Plans have been made for recreation to include volleyball, horseshoe and washer pitching, croquet, games of 42 and a lot of plain-old fashioned visiting.

At 6:00 p.m., the food committee will open the concession stand in the Show Barn to sell chopped brisket sandwiches and iced tea for $2.00.

The quilt and saddle to be given away at the Briscoe County Birthday Celebration in August will be displayed, and donations on these give-aways will be accepted. The quilt was donated by Mrs. Joe (Ruby) McWaters and the proceeds from its sale will go toward renting the tent to provide shade for the County Celebration in August.

The young people will have an area designated in the parking area for shooting fireworks Saturday, and it is hoped that everyone will come and have a good time.

Fireworks are still being sold at the Briscoe County Activities Association's stand at Mike Pigg's Automotive Shop.

The Silverton Fire Department has donated $200 raised in their brisket sale to the Activities Association. This amount was in excess of the total of the insurance on the Show Barn.

June Rainfall Totals 3.15 Inches

Rainfall during June had totaled 3.15 inches Tuesday afternoon as this paper was being prepared for printing, according to the official measurement recorded by Fred Strange.

During the past week, 1.40 inches has fallen on Silverton, with some pea-size hail about noon Monday.

The June rainfall brought the 1987 total to date to 12.37 inches, 1.81 inches above the normal for this time of year of 10.56 inches.

Only .60 of an inch of rain fell at Lake Mackenzie Monday and Monday night, but 2.25 inches fell along with a large amount of hail at the John Wyatt and Mrs. G. Mayfield homes. Mrs. Wyatt said that when she returned home after work, the hail was still drifted in banks like snow.

ness and residential telephone customers across the nation, including those served by General Telephone, will be subject to an increase in their interstate Subscriber Line Charge from the current $2.00 per month to a $2.60 per month charge.

This 60c increase in the interstate subscriber line charge is effective July 1, 1987, and is the third phase of a federally mandated process that is intended to gradually eliminate the practice of charging customers more for long-distance service in order to keep local rates artificially low.

Business customers with more than one line have been paying a $6 interstate subscriber line charge since May 1984. This interstate subscriber line charge will not change.

Under the Federal Communications Commission plan for implementation of the interstate subscriber line charges, the total revenues of the local telephone companies will not increase since the FCC in turn will reduce by an equivalent amount charges to long-distance carriers for use of local facilities and equipment. It is the intent of the FCC that this decrease in long-distance carriers' expense will be passed through to consumers in the form of reduced interstate long-distance rates. Some interexchange carriers have already announced plans to reduce interstate long-distance rates.

General Telephone officials said the interstate subscriber line charges are designed to shift from long-distance users to local customers, a larger portion of the actual costs of providing the line from their residence or business to the telephone switching equipment. It was pointed out that long-distance rates have been artificially high to pay a portion of these costs, thus benefitting local exchange access rates by keeping them artificially low.

Depending on the amount of interstate long-distance calling, the reductions for interstate rates could offset the $2.60 interstate fee for many customers, especially high volume users.

The $2.60 interstate subscriber line charge applies to all residential and single line business customers of all exchange telephone companies providing local exchange service.

Scouts Have Fun On Camping Trip

Silverton Boy Scouts of Troop 262 enjoyed their camping trip to Lake Mackenzie over the weekend. They swam, hiked, fished, though no fish were caught, and there was very little sleep. They killed a rattlesnake in the late afternoon that was found under a big rock. When it got dark, they caught fireflies.

"I want to thank Tommy Davis for helping and Wayne Nance for the use of his pickup," said Scoutmaster Mark Eddleman. "Our mowing project wasn't successful because we got only four lawns to mow, so we won't do lawns any more. We thank those people for helping the troop."

Due to things being abused and returned late, there will be no more equipment loaned from the Scout Hut. All equipment there belongs to the Boy and Girl Scouts, and if you have any equipment that belongs to the Scouts, we will appreciate it if you will please return it to the Scout Hut or give it to one of the Scouts.

The next meeting will be Monday at 4:30 p.m. at the Scout Hut. All of the boys need to bring their handbooks.

Eat like a bird? Not likely. Birds eat at least half their own weight in food every day.

Post Office Closed Friday Afternoon

The Post Office will close at noon on Friday, July 3, 1987.

If you have mail that must go out that day, please have it in the office by noon.

The mail truck will pick up the mail in the outside box at 2:00 p.m. that day.

There will be no mail put up on July 4. The office will be closed, and the routes will not run, according to the announcement from Postmaster Fred A. Strange.

Bass Fishing Excellent During Week

Black bass fishing was good to excellent during the past week at Lake Mackenzie, with most fish being caught on top water lures and plastic worms up Tule Creek and Cope Creek. The late evening hours seemed to be the best time. Scott Lester and Glenn Maddox of Amarillo brought in nice stringers of bass weighing two to four pounds.

Tommy Platt of Canyon hooked a 9¼ pound striper while fishing in deep water in the main part of the lake. Stripers are still surfacing in the early morning and late evening hours. Trolling or casting with a shad colored lure seems to be the best.

Catfishing picked up a little this past week. Tom Martin of Lubbock landed a four pound channelcat and a five pound bluecat using cut shad and live perch.

Crappie and walleye fishing is slow.

It was once believed in Spain that copper grew in the ground and a mine left alone would regenerate itself.

ARB To Hear Protests Starting July 8

Taxpayers in the Briscoe County Appraisal District will have an opportunity to protest values proposed for their property for local taxes. The district's appraisal review board (ARB) will begin hearing taxpayer protests on July 8.

After the ARB concludes its hearings and approves final property values, local governments will use these values to assess property taxes to property owners for 1987.

The ARB is a group of citizens who live in the appraisal district and are appointed by the district's directors. Their responsibilities are outlined by the Texas Constitution, which requires that property be appraised equally and uniformly and that exemptions and productive valuation are properly granted.

Property owners appear before the ARB and may protest any of these seven specific actions of the appraisal office:

- *the appraised or agricultural value of the property;
- *unequal appraisal of the taxpayer's property compared to other property in the district;
- *inclusion of the property on the appraisal records;
- *denial of a partial exemption, such as a homestead exemption;
- *denial of agricultural-use, open-space or timber productivity exemption;
- *identification of the taxing unit or units in which the property is located;
- *determination that the taxpayer is the owner of the property; and
- *any other action of the appraisal office that adversely affects them.

Mrs. Carlye Fleming, chief appraiser for the district, outlined the steps for a property owner to file a protest. First, the property owner must file a written "notice of protest" with the ARB. This must be filed by June 30 or within 30 days after the taxpayer receives a notice of appraised value from the chief appraiser, whichever is later.

However, if the ARB sends a property owner a notice of any other kind or change in the appraisal records, the property owner has only 10 days to file a protest.

Official forms for a notice of protest are available at the appraisal district office. "A letter from the taxpayer is also acceptable," Mrs. Fleming said, "as long as it identifies the property owner and the property which is the subject of the protest and indicates dissatisfaction with some decision or action of the appraisal office."

Each protesting taxpayer may offer evidence or argument either in person or by filing an affidavit with the ARB. Taxpayers should be aware that the ARB has no authority over tax rates or taxing unit spending and will not hear protests of those matters.

The ARB will schedule hearings as property owners file protests and will inform them of the time, date and place of their individual hearings at least 15 days before the scheduled appearance date. Mrs. Fleming said that protest hearings will be held for one (1) day and that the ARB expects to approve the final appraisal roll soon thereafter. State law requires the ARB to review and approve the appraisal records by July 20.

After the ARB approves the records, it can hear a protest under only circumstances which affect the owner's tax liability.

The State Property Tax Board has issued a pamphlet called "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities," available at the Briscoe County Appraisal District office, which explains how to prepare and present an appeal to the ARB. ### Attend Ombudsman Task Force Meeting

Mrs. John Francis and Mrs. J. D. Nance attended the Ombudsman Task Force Training Meeting in Amarillo last week.

Mrs. Gennell York, administrator of Cold Water Manor Nursing Home in Stratford, gave an informative talk on "Making Things Work." She complimented the Ombudsman volunteers.

Mike McQueen, director of the Panhandle Area on Aging, informed the Ombudsmen of changes that had been made in the program.

Ola Kid, Ombudsman for the PRPC, reviewed the role of the Ombudsman volunteer, and showed a video on "Examinations of the Issues."

To brief the volunteer Ombudsmen on how to handle difficult situations, role plays of a number of hypothetical cases, that they might encounter, were used.

Mrs. Francis and Mrs. Nance are certified Ombudsman volunteers working with nursing homes.

Most VA Money Goes Directly To Veterans

Most of the money expended by the Veterans Administration (VA) in Texas went directly to veterans during fiscal year 1986, according to Waco VA Regional Office Director Stephen L. Lemons.

"Of the $1,757,553,147 expended in Texas during fiscal year 1986, more than 54 percent, or $951,756,049, went directly to veterans as compensation for disabling injuries or diseases incurred while in the armed forces, or as pensions for wartime veterans with limited incomes," Lemons said.

He added that the VA spent $88,826,144 for readjustment and vocational rehabilitation benefits, $88,738,148 for insurance and indemnity payments, $32,471,840 for facility construction, and $595,760,966 for medical services and administrative costs in Texas.

"The Veterans Administration proudly serves those who served our country," Lemons said. "For more than half a century, the VA has been a deliverer of benefits, a pioneer in medicine, a financier in education, a guarantor of home loans, and an advocate for Texas veterans."

Estimated VA expenditures for Briscoe County veterans totalled $111,101. This figure includes $102,227 for compensation and pension and $8,874 for insurance and indemnities.

Social Security In Briscoe County

by Terry J. Clements

Millions of young people will work this summer, many for the first time. If you are one of them, there are some things you should know about Social Security.

First, you need a social security card as most work today is covered by social security. Most teenagers already have cards. If you don't have one, contact the Social Security office.

While you work in 1987, a little over seven cents from each dollar is deducted for social security taxes. Your employer matches this amount. These taxes help to finance monthly retirement, disability, survivors benefits for about 38 million Americans, as well as medicare hospital insurance for most older people and some with long-term disabilities or permanent kidney failure.

Someday benefits also may be paid to you and any dependents if you have credit for enough work covered by social security. In 1987, you earn credit for one-fourth year of work (called a "quarter of coverage") for each $460 in earnings, up to a maximum of four credits for the year.

The Santa Claus we know today was first drawn in 1863 by cartoonist Thomas Nast.

"If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." Romans 10:9

If an individual has ever spent any time reading the Bible they know that one of the main doctrines is that of salvation. In fact, without salvation all else is useless. Man's only hope of redemption is through the shed blood of Jesus, the Son of God. Salvation is received through repentance and for faith in Jesus. Over the years many have tried to change the doctrine of salvation: some teach predestination, in other words, the belief that some are chosen to be saved while others are not. But the Bible declares, "that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have eternal life." John 3:15 and, "the Lord is... not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." II Peter 3:9

Others teach eternal security; that is the belief that once you are saved, you are always saved. But once again the Bible says, "I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway." I Cor. 9:27 and, in the parable of the sower Jesus said, "they on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away." All in all, we must remember that God loves everyone; and our salvation is dependent upon a proper relationship with the Lord, day-to-day. And I say to you, "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16.

Producers Invited To Second
Insect Scouting Workshop

Cotton, corn and sorghum producers in Briscoe County are invited to the second part of the annual High Plains Scout Training Workshop to increase the effectiveness of their pest management programs.

The last of two workshop sessions will focus on mid- and late-season pests and will be held Tuesday, July 7 at the Mabee Regional Heritage Center (Llano Estacado Museum) on the Wayland Baptist University campus in Plainview, Dirk Aaron, county Extension agent, said.

The first workshop, in June, covered early to mid-season crop pests.

The workshop, conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, was first held in 1973 to train scouts in the pest management programs conducted by Extension, part of the Texas A & M University system.

The workshop will begin at 8:30 a.m. with Dr. James Leser, Extension entomologist, outlining the scope of the training and explaining general concepts. Dr. Pat Morrison, Extension entomologist, will then open the corn pest section with information on Southwestern corn borers. Spider mites and other corn pests will be discussed by Allen Knutson, Extension agent-entomology, based in Dimmitt.

The cotton session will include a brief discussion of cotton growth and development and bollworms by Leser and beneficial insects by Knutson. Mark Brown, Extension agent-entomology in Crosbyton will provide information on armyworms, aphids and other cotton pests. Morrison will discuss greenbugs in sorghum. Greg Cronholm, Extension agent-entomology headquartered in Plainview, will conclude the morning sorghum session covering midge, headworms and panicle feeding bugs.

The daylong workshop will conclude with a field session in which participants will identify pests and beneficials and practice scouting techniques.

For more information, contact the County Extension Office at 823-2343.

Traps baited with a synthetic sex attractant have caught over three times as many boll weevils this spring as were caught in any prior year. That's the word from Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, the organization that has conducted the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program since its beginning in 1963.

That statistic raises a warning flag on two fronts, Dean says. "It warns those of us responsible for the program that our job this year may be a bigger job than it's been in a long time. And it should alert producers in the control zone that individual early season control measures may be needed well before our program spraying begins."

Target date to begin aerial application of malathion in the High Plains program is September 20, Dean notes, while it's possible, "even probable," that developing weevil populations in some fields will pose an unacceptable crop risk at a much earlier date.

The September start of operations is consistent with the primary program objective of reducing to the lowest possible number weevils reaching the diapause stage required for winter hibernation, Dean explains. This strategy coupled with the normal winter survival rate of only one to 2.5 percent, he continues, has kept weevils out of the concentrated weevil-free cotton fields above the Caprock as the program is designed to do.

An added program benefit has been a delay in the development of economic weevil infestations in the control area. But officials expect the delay this year may be less effective because of higher beginning numbers.

Program officials estimate that the mild winter of 1986-87 permitted a surprising 16 percent of weevils to survive until warm weather brought them out of hibernation this spring. Because spraying within the control zone last fall held down the number of weevils entering hibernation, the increase in trap catches this spring within the control zone was nothing like the explosion of catches in area adjacent to the zone on the east. Dean points out that per-trap catches inside the zone were 84 percent below the number trapped outside.

So program entomologists say the concern for crop damage early in the production year comes mostly from the danger of rapid population buildups outside the zone, resulting in heavy migration into less infested fields within the program area.

To guard against production losses experts are advising constant vigilance and immediate control measures when weevils are found in economically significant numbers.

"Protecting the early fruit set in cotton from boll weevils and other insects this year is going to be important," Dean concludes, "and the responsibility for that protection before mid-September rests with each individual producer."

RAINS PREPARE
FOR TREATMENT

Abundant rains on the High Plains have contributed to the growth of Johnsongrass, always a serious problem for cotton growers. But the rains also have primed the grass for herbicide treatments, said a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"A combination of mechanical tillage, soil and foliar applied herbicides and hand hoeings are required to effectively eliminate the weed," said Dr. James Supak, Extension cotton agronomist.

"The recent rains have Johnsongrass in prime condition for treatments with herbicides, especially the Poast or Fusilade type materials that can be applied over the top of cotton," he said.

Breaking up the rhizomes and pulling them to the soil surface during chiseling and other fall-winter tillage operations helps to set the stage for an effective herbicide control program, said Supak. Desiccation and weathering will weaken or even kill exposed rhizomes.

Breaking the rhizomes up into fragments limits the amount of food reserves available for the development of new shoots. Supak said the amount of herbicide needed to kill a short root segment is less than that needed to eliminate a large, intact rhizome.

Supak warned that over-the-top applications of DSMA and MSMA on Johnsongrass may cause "burn down" and suppression of the grass.

"Such treatments can cause damage to the crop and slow its growth and development," Supak said.

Roundup applied as a spot spray, with wipe-on applicators or with recirculating sprayers provides an effective and economical means for controlling Johnsongrass once the height of the weeds exceeds that of the crop, said Supak.

"Permanent control is more likely if the grass is in the boot or early flowering stages of development," he noted. Supak warned that grass in the boot or early flowering stages is often delayed in growth because of weed competition.

Supak said Poast and Fusilade 2000 were introduced as post-emergence herbicides that can be applied over-the-top of cotton to control annual and perennial grasses. These herbicides are applied as broadcast or spot spray treatments to control Johnsongrass in its early developmental stages, said Supak.

"A crop oil concentrate or surfactant must be used at designated rates to insure herbicide penetration into grass tissue," said Supak.

Supak warned that in some instances a second application will be needed to control escapes and late emerging plants.

People once mistakenly believed eating carrots would aid asthma.

Conservation Corner

by John Crowell
CONTROLLING WEEDS
ON CRP LAND

Recent rains have given us perfect conditions for growing grass on Conservation Reserve Program land. Most of the grass is up and growing. However, when conditions are good for growing grass, they are also good for growing weeds.

This is not all bad. At least the grass has a good start and, with any luck at all, we will get the rains needed to keep it growing. The best time to control weeds with a herbicide is right now, when the weeds are growing rapidly. Recent applications of Ally have resulted in very good control on weeds up to about a foot tall. We have seen much better weed control since the rains than we did when the chemicals were applied early in the spring when conditions were dry. No chemical works well when we have dry conditions because the plants stop growing and taking in the chemicals.

If you have land in the CRP that is planted to grass, you must do some kind of weed control now. There are several chemicals on the market that will kill weeds, but some will kill the young grass too. The only herbicide we know of at this time that is labeled for application on the young grass seedlings is the herbicide "Ally". Other chemicals such as "Banvel" and "Glean" are labeled for grass but should not be applied to the small grass seedlings. These chemicals would be considered later in the summer if the grasses continue to grow.

Shredding is an alternative that should be considered if you have tall weeds that chemicals cannot control. However, shredding alone will only limit the height of the weeds. It will not affect the small weeds or keep any new ones from coming up. If you shred, we recommend you follow with any application of "Ally" if moisture conditions are good and the young weeds are actively growing. When applying "Ally" it is recommended that you increase the amount of water and surfactant. This seems to improve the control. Contact our office if you have any questions.
