Briscoe Nixes, State Approves Parimutuel Question

Briscoe County voters turned thumbs down on the controversial question of legalizing parimutuel wagering on horse and dog racing 334-265 in Tuesday's election, but voters across the State of Texas approved the question. The issue was approved by absentee Briscoe voters and those in precincts one and three.

Local voters expressed a desire to see the State Board of Education members elected rather than appointed, 447-129, and statewide voters concurred with this vote. This question was defeated in all Briscoe voting boxes.

Turnout was heavier than anticipated for the general election, with city voters standing in long lines to voice their opinions. Briscoe County Clerk Bess McWilliams said 621 of the county's 1,315 registered voters cast ballots for a 47.2 percent turnout.

Most election officials attributed the unusually high turnout to the two controversial referendums on the ballot.

Amendment 1: To provide state funds to guarantee a self-insurance pool for grain storage facilities carried 401-168 in Briscoe County and was approved by more than 55 percent of statewide voters.

Amendment 2: To allow rural fire prevention districts in counties with more than 400,000 residents to raise property tax rates failed 353-198 in Briscoe County and also appeared to be failing across the state. The vote was close on this one.

Amendment 3: To allow a surviving middle-aged (at least 55) spouse of a deceased elderly person to keep homestead tax exemptions was approved 405-159 in Briscoe County and appeared headed for easy passage statewide.

Amendment 4: To allow the legislature to make loans and grants to encourage economic development in Texas was approved 328-211 in Briscoe County, and though voting was very close across the state, it appear-

Club Has October Meeting In Amarillo

The Century of Progress Study Club met early on the morning of October 27 to travel to Amarillo for a tour of Harrington House which was built in 1914 by John and Pat Landergrin, and was acquired in 1940 and preserved by Don and Sybil Harrington, leaders in the oil and cattle industries who are generous contributors to numerous philanthropic causes.

Harrington House is a fine example of the Neoclassical style, with exquisite materials and workmanship prevalent throughout the home. Part of the home is resplendent with original tapestry wallcovering, 18th Century parquet de Versailles floors, quarter-sawn oak paneling, leaded glass detail and parget ceilings. Architectural details include a limestone fountain and arched ceiling in the music room. The Harrington collection of decorative art represents the best from artisans past and present. Fine French and English furniture, exquisite porcelain, crystal, silver and fine paintings represent the Harrington's interest in preserving fine art.

Following the tour, the club members enjoyed lunch at Maison Blanche, where the business meeting was also conducted.

Attending were Annell Davis, Loretha Rhoderick, Jackie Mercer, Polly Montague, Barbara Knowlton, Faye Rampley and Junis Hutsell.

The next meeting will be on November 11, a trip to Childress to visit Hutsell Jewelry where Mark Hutsell will host the club in his new store in Greenbelt Plaza. He will discuss new trends in jewelry and demonstrate some of his techniques in custom jewelry work. Lunch will be at the poolside restaurant. Hostess will be Faye Rampley.

PTA UPDATE

At last Tuesday's PTA meeting, we heard a very informative program about financial aid given by Rick Renshaw, head of Wayland's financial aid department. Mr. Renshaw stressed the importance of starting early in seeking and applying for the various kinds of aid available. He stated that this year's seniors should begin in February. He also strongly recommended that students take both the SAT and ACT, and emphasized the importance of scoring well on these, because the higher scores bring better academic scholarships. At the close of his talk, Renshaw gave two numbers to call for help with financial aid questions—800 33 INFO is the number to call for answers to general questions about financial aid, and 319-337-3788 for checking on applications made for Pell grants.

Our thanks to Lynda Fogerson for the information she presented on the 4-H scholarships available. She pointed out that it is very important to start now to keep accurate records of everything your child does in 4-H if a scholarship is his goal.

In addition to the program and regular PTA business meeting, Stan Fogerson gave the principal's report and David Cavitt gave the superintendent's report. We really appreciate both of them for taking the time to keep us informed about school activities.

The date of the next PTA meeting has been moved to Monday, November 30.

Jo Ann McFall reports that there were enough Campbell's Cousins labels turned in by the deadline to earn 600 bonus labels. Deadline for entries in the Reflections competition is December 1.

There were 55 entries in the PTA Halloween Costume Contest Saturday night. Winners were:

Preschool—1. Brooke Garvin and Kurby Garvin; 2. Monty Wood; 3. Eric Minyard

Kindergarten - First Grade—1. Martin Younger; 2. Misty Wilkinson; 3. Lacy Shely

Second-Third Grades—1. Shanna Kingery; 2. Trey Wyatt; 3. Michael Reagan

Fourth-Fifth Grades—1. Christina Stephens; 2. Brandi Brunson; 3. Dewayne Juarez.

We would like to thank John and Maebelle Francis for doing the judging for us. Proceeds from the Costume Contest were presented to Mike Settle's Fifth Grade class. This money will be given to a different elementary class each year.

Congratulations to the Junior High Owls on a great season!

Owls Move Closer To Playoffs By Beating Three Way 52-6

The Owls moved one step nearer the playoffs by defeating Three Way 52-6 last Friday night. After a shaky beginning, with high winds, rain showers and exploding field lights, the weather settled down and it became another nice night for football.

The Owls remain in second place in the district behind New Home who is undefeated this season. Southland, who comes to Silverton this week, is close behind the Owls and would like nothing more than to knock us off and move into the runner-up position. It promises to be a great game—a must-win situation for both teams. It is very important that all Owl fans pack the stadium to cheer for the home team. Plan now to wear your red and white and to be there for the 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

Silverton took the opening kickoff at Three Way, and Neal Edwards carried it back to the Three Way 30. The Owls ran for a first down on the six, Clay Schott moved the ball to the three and Edwards carried the first score of the game with 8:00 minutes remaining in the first quarter. There was no PAT, and the score stood at 6-0.

The intermittent showers made record keeping at the first of the game almost impossible, but the next excitement came for Silverton fans when Edwards intercepted a Three Way pass with 6:40 remaining to be played in the first period. Edwards made a good run which was called back due to a holding penalty, and Silverton was forced to punt. With 3:05 remaining in the quarter, Wayne Henderson intercepted a Three Way pass on the Silverton 28. The first down for the Owls came on a penalty against Three Way to the Eagles' 22. Edwards carried for eight and Bradley Brunson ran for six yards. Schott picked up a first down on the Three Way three, and Edwards carried the touchdown with 45 seconds remaining in the first period. Ryan Smith kicked the extra points, and the Owls held a 14-0 lead.

The Owls kicked off to Three Way, and as the second quarter began the Eagles picked up a first down on their own 22. They passed for a touchdown on third down with 8:29 remaining in the first half, and there was no PAT. The score stood at 14-6.

The Owls fumbled the kickoff, and Three Way took over on offense again. This time the defense held, and the ball went over on downs on the Silverton 28. The Owls picked up a first down on the Eagle 35, Kendal Minyard passed to Edwards to move the ball to the 22 and a pass to Robbie McWaters netted six points more for Silverton. Smith kicked the extra points, and with 5:55 remaining in the second quarter, the Owls held a 30-6 lead.

Three Way took the ensuing kickoff in the end zone for a touchback, and on second down their fumble was recovered by Smith. On first down, Minyard passed complete to Jamie Frizzell for another touchdown.

Smith kicked the PAT, and with 2:07 remaining to be played in the first half, the Owls led 38-6.

After the kickoff, Three Way was held to little gain on good defensive plays by Schott and Frank Lowrey, who had one of his best games.

The Owls kicked off to open the second half, and defense by Smith and other Owls caused the ball to go over on downs on the 35. On first down, the first time he ever carried the ball for the Owls, Will Rowell went all the way for a touchdown with 8:16 remaining in the third period. Smith kicked the PAT, and the Owls led 46-6.

After the next kickoff, Edwards intercepted Three Way on second down, giving the Owls another offensive series. The Eagles snapped to life at this time, apparently desperately fighting against being 45ed, and caused the ball to go over on downs at the Three Way 7 with 6:05 remaining in the third quarter. Proceeding with determination, Three Way made a couple of back-to-back first downs in spite of good defense by Lowrey, and completed a pass before being intercepted by Henderson on the Silverton 20 with 2:52 remaining in the third quarter.

Silverton was unable to capitalize on the turnover, and lost the ball via the fumble route on third down.

Three Way's coach was needing his players a lot, and the Eagles took over and picked up a first down on the 15, before defense by Smith and Bryan Ramsey, who suffered a pulled muscle in the game, caused the ball to come back to the Owls on downs on the Silverton 20.

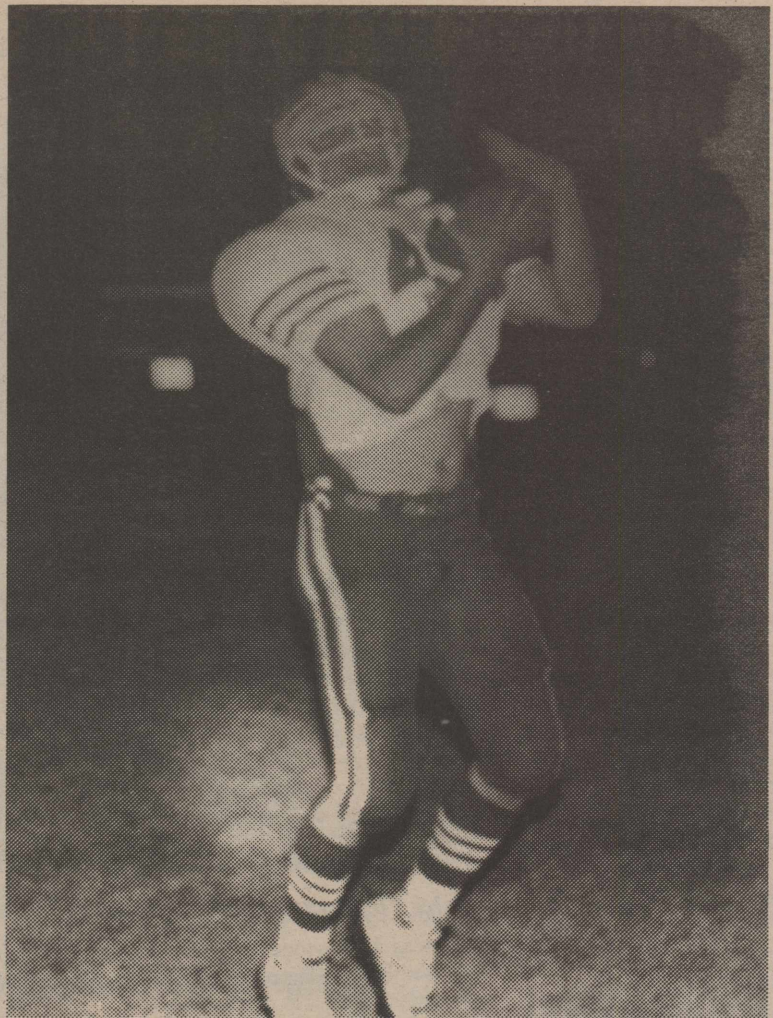

The Owls were unable to move the ball and saw it go back to Three Way at midfield. The Eagles were also unable to gain a first down, and the ball went back to the Owls at their own 34 with 4:56 remaining to be played in the game.

On first down, Minyard handed off to Rowell, who went all the way for his second touchdown of the game. With 4:41 remaining on the clock, the referees signaled the end of the game and the Owls had 45ed another district opponent, 52-6.

Rowell, who had started to school here with the boys who are juniors this year, then had lived several years and played football two years in California, was playing in his first game of the season since he wasn't eligible for his first six weeks back. He notched a mark for himself with his two touchdowns, and showed some speed to the game that Silverton fans hadn't been accustomed to seeing.

Friday night's game with Southland is the last home game of the regular season. The last game will be played at Cotton Center, and if they win the rest of their games, the Owls will be looking toward a state playoff berth. Don't miss any of the excitement—be there!

Junior High Owls Close Season With Miami

The Junior High Owls closed their season with a big Miami team here last Thursday on another beautiful football evening, playing the warriors a much better game than when they played at Miami earlier in the year. This time the Owls came close to beating the Warriors, suffering a 14-12 defeat which felt like a victory to the home crowd after Brian Martin ran to within inches of the goal on the last play of the game.

Miami opened the game by kicking off to the Owls, and Josh Brooks carried out to the 35. The Owls were unable to gain a first down, and the ball went over on the Miami 36. Miami ran a touchdown on their first offensive play, had their PAT kick blocked by Brian West, and held a 6-0 lead with 4:37 remaining to be played in the first quarter.

Silverton's next offensive series was nipped in the bud by a fumble which the Warriors recovered on the Owl 29. Miami was penalized back to the Silverton 37 and then passed complete for a touchdown with 3:06 still showing on the first-quarter clock. They kicked the PAT and held an early 14-0 lead.

Once again the Owls were unable to move the ball, and punted to the Miami 35. The Warriors picked up a first down on the Silverton 30 with six seconds remaining in the first quarter, but were held to no gain by Brian Martin on their next down. As the second quarter began the Owls were playing good defense, and the ball came back to them on the Miami 24.

Silverton's next offensive series was cut short by a pass interception on the Owl 29, but Bryan Breedlove recovered a Warrior fumble on the next play and the Owls were back in business from their own 37. Brian Martin went all the way for a score for the Owls on first down, the Owls failed on their PAT attempt, and with 3:45 remaining in the first half, the Miami lead had been cut to 14-6.

After the kickoff, defense by Breedlove, Brooks and Frizzell held the Warriors to little gain, and Frizzell prevented a touchdown on a pass completion to the Silverton 11. Martin, Breedlove, West and Langdon Reagan combined talents along with Brooks to stop the Miami offense, and the ball went over on downs to the Owls on their own five-yard line with 1:18 remaining in the first half.

Miami's defense was playing well, and the Owls were thrown for losses back to near their goal until a fourth-down pass completion to Breedlove moved the ball to a first down on the Silverton 25. The first half ended before the Owls could gain much more.

The Owls kicked to Miami to open the second half, and the kick was returned all the way for an apparent touchdown, which was called back due to a penalty and the ball placed on the Miami 10. This time the Owls forced a punt, which was taken by Brooks, and a face-mask violation on Brooks against Miami moved the ball to the Miami 33. The Owls moved to the 20 on a pass from Brian Martin to Casey Frizzell, and Martin ran to the 18 before the ball went over. Frizzell nipped the next Warrior series with a second-down pass interception which he carried to the Silverton 35. The ball went back over on downs to Miami just after the fourth quarter began. The Warriors made a first down on the Silverton 10, and on next down ran for an apparent touchdown which was called back by a penalty and the ball was placed on the Owl 17. Defense by Reagan held the Warriors at the 14, a penalty wiped out a touchdown pass on second down and the ball was moved to the Brian Martin had an outstanding game for the Junior High Owls against Miami here last Thursday. He scored twice and missed making the winning touchdown by just a few inches on the last play of the game.

Miami 31. On the next play, Brian Martin almost intercepted a Warrior pass, tipped it up and Brooks grabbed it at the Silverton 15.

Reagan made a good run for the Owls on first down, and a penalty against the Warriors added to it. Reagan carried to the 25 and Brian Martin carried a touchdown with 2:23 remaining on the game clock. The PAT failed.

The Owls kicked off to Miami and allowed a first down before knuckling down and stopping the warrior offense. Brooks caused a loss back to the Silverton 14 with 49 seconds remaining in the game, and an incomplete pass caused the ball to go back to the Owls. On second down, Abel Maciel passed complete to West, who played one of his best games last week, for a first down on the Miami 32 with six seconds remaining, and as time ran out in the game, Brian Martin carried to very near the goal. The game ended with the Owls on the short end of the 14-12 score but with fans very satisfied about the way the season had gone. This was their last football game this year and the Owls have had a very successful season under Coaches Gary Childs and Kevin Cleveland.

Attorney Takes Part In Marathon

The New York City Marathon isn't for everybody, but Briscoe County Attorney Tom West was among the 22,000 who took part in this event last Sunday.

The race began at 9:30 a.m. (CST), with West and Jim Douglass, assistant director of the Texas Tech Ex-Students Association, each with different designs on conquering the 26-mile 385-yard course.

They considered it an exciting course to run, since it goes through all five burroughs of the city and finished in Central Park. There's constant congestion all the way through the race.

It was the second marathon for Douglass, who also ran in San Francisco three years ago. West, on the other hand, was competing in his eighth marathon.

Preparing for the race, West ran about 60 to 75 miles a week. "The mileage varies every day, but I like to keep it in that range. Ever since May, I've been thinking about this race," West said.

More than 100,000 persons applied to run in the race, but only 22,000 are accepted—15,000 U. S. runners and 7,000 foreign runners. The selection is done by lottery.

Douglass' best time in a marathon is 3:49 and West has a best of 3:22. Both expected to be well behind the winner of the race whose time was in the two-hour, ten-minute range.

"That's just beyond me," West said. "I have no earthly idea how people can run that fast."

There was no creative strategy on Douglas' part when he competed in the marathon on his 41st birthday. "Basically, you just have to go with the flow," he said. "The start of the run is so exciting that it just overtakes the nervousness. If I can finish the first 20 miles, I can crawl the last six if I have to."

"When you cross that finish line, there's no rush any more exciting than that."

Immunization Clinic To Be Held Soon

An immunization clinic offering vaccines that give protection against several childhood diseases will be held from 12:30 until 1:30 p.m. Friday, November 13, in the Silverton Elementary School.

Protection is against polio, diphtheria, lock jaw (tetanus), whooping cough (pertussis), measles, rubella and mumps.

The Texas Department of Health is charging money to help with the cost of keeping the clinic open. The amount of money charged will be based on family income and size, and the ability to pay.

4-H JUDGING IS

IN NOVEMBER THIS YEAR

4-H members who want to participate need to call the Extension Office, 823-2343.

Volunteer leaders to coach these teams for juniors and seniors will be needed until an Extension agent for agriculture is hired.

Only a little more than two years remain before the 1990 deadline for farmers of highly erodible lands to get a conservation plan approved by USDA's Soil Conservation Service (SCS). And farmers might do well to seek an approved plan as soon as possible.

That's the opinion of Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Failure to meet the deadline will render a producer ineligible for virtually all farm program benefits, including payments and all types of loans.

As of now, Johnson points out, SCS is approving conservation plans that meet "field office technical guide" requirements. But that could change. USDA earlier had announced that plans would have to control erosion to the extent dictated by much more restrictive "T" values. "T" value is an inflexible number that, theoretically, reflects the soil loss a field can tolerate without jeopardizing future productivity.

Field office technical guides give some consideration to economical and practical as well as technical feasibility of conservation plans. "T" values don't

The change in requirements came as a result of a barrage of protests from PCG and others, stating that compliance with the "T" value rule for many farmers would be economically fatal, with dire consequences for agricultural communities.

The announcement permitting plan approval under field office technical guides went into effect following an interim ruling published in the Federal Register on June 29. The most recent Federal Register notice September 17 left that interim rule in effect, but stopped short of making it final. Public comment on the ruling is still being accepted and SCS says a final rule will be issued "at a later date."

The failure to make acceptance of technical guides final, Johnson notes, indicates there is still a lot of opposition to it. The June interim ruling generated 2,696 letters and 8,400 comments, he says, "and it's obvious many of them were from environmental groups not at all concerned with the well-being of agriculture or farmers."

Should the ruling be reversed, Johnson reasons, more strenuous and more expensive conservation plans would subsequently be required to meet rigid "T" values, "so producers would be well advised not to take a chance on a change, and to get a plan approved while the current ruling is in effect."

BOLL WEEVIL CONTROL PROGRAM OFF TO MEAGER START

What may be the final application of insecticide in the 1987 boll weevil control program got off to a meager start October 22, according to Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the grower organization conducting the program.

This will be the fourth application of low volume malathion since this year's program began September 21, Dean says, "and if we have a killing freeze about the first of November as is normal, it will wind up this year's operation." But if warm weather continues to preserve the weevil's food supply much beyond that date, he adds, "we may need to keep going to prevent that last batch of weevils from going into hibernation."

The first three applications, beginning September 21, October 1 and October 12, covered about 284,000 aggregate acres. The fourth is expected to be the largest by far, involving an estimated 130,000 acres, bringing the total for the year to something over 400,000, Dean thinks. He cautions, however, that this figure could grow if windy or other adverse weather delays completion of the final application, allowing weevils to spread into fields where weevil numbers currently don't justify spraying.

Dean uses the word "meager" to describe the opening day's start of the fourth application "because it almost didn't happen." Less than three hours after the first of 11 planes took off at first light, gusty winds brought the operation to a halt. Only an estimated 10,000 acres were treated, compared to a full day's work of around 40,000.

In pre-season and during the early weeks of this year's program, Dean and program entomologists were guessing it might be necessary to spray 500,000 to 600,000 acres instead of the 400,000 to 450,000 now anticipated. Trap catches that were double and even triple those recorded in previous years apparently were misinterpreted, they say. Traps baited with pheromone (sex attractant) are used every year in the control zone along the eastern High Plains to gauge weevil numbers for program planning purposes.

But treatment decisions are not based on trapping information, Dean emphasizes. Instead, field-by-field manual surveys are used to determine which have enough weevils to justify treatment.

“My Heritage” Is Topic Of Girl Scout Program

The Junior Girl Scout Troop #164 met October 19 at the Scout Hut, for a program on “My Heritage” by Betty Stephens and Fay Perkins. We learned how to trace back to who our ancestors were. We went over a book, “My Backyard History Book,” by David Weitzman. Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. Perkins made each of us a folder with an ancestor chart and family group chart to fill out so we can start finding out where we came from and who our ancestors were.

Those attending were Carrie Baird, LaToya Baker, Staci Hill, Christi McWaters, Sonya Ramirez, Christina Stephens, Vici Baird, Betty Stephens and Fay Perkins. We would like to thank Betty and Fay for helping us to find out where we came from.

On October 20, Lois Hill and Vici Baird went to a Service Unit meeting at the Girl Scout House in Plainview. It was discussed that each troop in the Service Unit area needs to donate $10 or paper towels, toilet paper, trash can liners, dish soap and hand soap for the Girl Scout House in Plainview. The Service Unit Christmas Party will be held in December, with further information given later. The Badge Workshop was held October 24 in the park behind the Girl Scout House.

On October 24, the Junior Girl Scout Troop #165 met at the Scout Hut at 9:00 a.m. to go to Plainview for the Brownie/Junior/Cadette Badge Workshop at the Girl Scout House. Group leaders in charge were A-Lois Hill; B-Sue Looney; C-D'Linda Mason; D-Latress Baker; E-Mary Franklin and Renee Rudd. The girls learned to cook on Grasshopper stoves, Box ovens, Buddy Burners, Dutch ovens and over campfires. The Group A girls fixed Toasted Cheese Wraps, Egg Drop Soup, Pioneer Drumsticks, Mixed Veggies, Green Salad and Cherry Turnovers. Lois Hill, Vici Baird and Leslee Weeks were in this group. The Group B girls fixed fruit basket, Mock Enchiladas, Pinto Beans, Mexican Cornbread, Salad and Apple Goodie. Christina Stephens was in this group. The Group C girls fixed Cheese Crispies, Tomato Juice, Ham and Potato Casserole, Salad, Indian Fry Bread and Gingerbread. Carrie Baird was in this group. The Group D girls fixed fruit basket, Rice and Phony Chicken, Green Beans Bundles, Peanut Butter Stuffed Celery and Carrot Sticks, Dutch Oven Biscuits, Pineapple Upside Down Cake. LaToya Baker was in this group. The Group E girls fixed Turkey in the Straw Soup, Individual Meat Loaves, Potatoes and Carrots in foil, Walking Salad and Mock Angel Food Cake. Staci Hill was in this group. Each girl received a Junior Exploring Foods Badge and a Junior Outdoor Cooking Badge, plus a Specialized Cooking Booklet the leaders used for this workshop.

Those attending were Carrie Baird, LaToya Baker, Staci Hill, Christina Stephens, Leslee Weeks, Vici Baird and Lois Hill.

On October 30-31, Lois Hill will be going to Reese AFB west of Lubbock for a Program/Training Conference.

November 2 is our next meeting at the Scout Hut at 4:00 p.m. We would like to say a big “thanks” to the Boy Scouts and the other men who re-roofed the Scout Hut. The new roof sure looks good. And a Texas-size “thank you” to George Long for buying the new shingles and to Bud Couch for ordering them. We really do appreciate big people who help with the little people in our community.

Staci Hill, reporter

Boy Scout News

by Scoutmaster Mark Eddleman

This weekend we re-roofed the Scout Hut and we want to thank Roger Younger for helping out. Tommy Davis was a real big help and we appreciate all the time he's putting in for our troop.

Terry Miller, Frank, jr., Kirk Couch, Brian West, Lance Smith, Stan Gamble and Jeff Smith all participated in taking off and putting on the new roof; some did more than others but it was still a good job done.

Last week Lance Holt, Jeff Smith, Stan Gamble, Frank Ramirez, jr., Tommy Davis and I went camping east of here. Saturday morning I picked up Lance Holt at the Scout Hut and we waited for some of the rest to come but none showed up, so we went to the Camporee at Haynes Scout Camp. There were several troops already there. Lance and I watched and talked to some Scouts and their leaders. There were troops from Lubbock, Amarillo, Plainview, Tulia, Dimmitt and several Scouts from other towns. There were about 250 to 300 Boy and Cub Scouts there, and it was a nice day for it.

We already had made plans to camp elsewhere for the weekend, so Lance and I went to find some wood for the camporee. They didn't have much wood, so we said we would get them some. We want to thank John Burson for the wood and the camping spot; he's a good guy and a good Scout.

Lance and I dropped off the wood at the Scout Camp and came back to town to pick up the rest of the boys who wanted to go camping. We all packed our stuff and left. We stopped at the camporee again to see what was going on; we stayed there a little while and left so we could get our camp ready. As soon as we got there, all they wanted to do was go fishing, so we did. Frank, jr. cast his reel and the hook wasn't in one minute till he caught a fish. It wasn't a real big one, so we let him go. That started the fishing fever—everyone wanted to go fishing. Later we set up our tents, started our supper. Dark came and we all sat around the campfire telling scary stories. Lance and I hit the sack early, and the rest stayed around the fire and talked. Later they all went to their tents, so I got up and aggravated them for awhile. I lay down again and they got up and let down Tommy's tent on him. I knew he would pay them back and he did later that night. Tommy let their tents down and tied them up so they would have a hard time getting out. That morning they all managed to get out and went to the pond to fish. No one caught anything so we packed up and went to Lake Theo to fish some more. No one caught anything there, either; I guess the fish were on a holiday. We took the boys to the showers to clean up and then headed for home. We were all a little tired from the trip. I think every camping trip is tiring, but there's a new experience in every trip. This was about our last trip for awhile. We will camp maybe a couple more in the months ahead. We will hike more now that winter is coming and the snakes will be gone for awhile.

We want to thank the Senior Citizens for inviting us to their monthly luncheon. There was a lot of good food there and the boys loved it. We want to thank Bud Couch for the felt paper and getting our shingles for us. Also Gary Dean for teaching us compass and getting the rope and compass games. We appreciate it.

This weekend we will be roofing the Scout Hut. Everyone is invited to help. We will have lunch and drinks there, so come by and help if the weather is good.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ila Mays at 7:30 p.m. in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church in Childress.

Attending from Silverton were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mercer, grandparents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Flute Hutsell.

The couple will make their home in Childress where the groom owns and operates a jewelry store.

During the Middle Ages, the year began at various dates in different times and places. In England it was not until 1751 that January was restored to its place as first month, as it had been during the Roman era.

Recipe Contest Finalists Named

Finalists in the Texas Heritage Pecan Recipe Contest were invited to take their recipes to the State Fair of Texas for judging on October 14. The contest, sponsored by The Dallas Morning News, Southwest Airlines, Hilton Hotels and the State Fair of Texas, began at noon that day in the Creative Arts Building at the Fair.

Judging was done by members of the Food section staff, as well as local cooking professionals and media personalities.

A winner was chosen in each of eight categories; the grand prize winner was chosen from the eight first-place dishes. The grand prize was a trip for two to New Orleans.

From more than 800 entries, the field was narrowed to 113 recipes.

Among those chosen in the pies division was a recipe for Apple Pecan Pie submitted by Merlene Stephens of Silverton.

Her daughter, Judy Towe of Bonham, submitted a recipe for Texas Pecan Pralines which was chosen in the candy division.

Greg Towe Receives Award

True Quality Pharmacies, Inc. and associate stores, a chain of 45 retail pharmacy outlets, recently held their 15th annual meeting.

During the August gathering for pharmacists and their spouses, awards were presented for business and professional excellence. Managers were judged on a system evaluating managerial skills in ten specific business categories.

Greg Towe, pharmacist at the Bonham Wal-Mart, won in three of the ten associate store categories including inventory turns, prescription sales, and inventory as a percentage of sales.

A former Silverton resident, Towe is a graduate of Silverton High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Verlin B. Towe and is married to the former Judy Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Stephens.
