Singletary-Brannon Vows Exchanged In Amarillo

Miss Kathleen Dawn Singletary became the bride of Cal Mack Brannon in a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Roy Wheeler at the Paramount Terrace Christian Church in Amarillo at 7:00 p.m. June 11, 1988.

Vows were exchanged before 15-branch candelabra and two spiral candelabra holding white tapers and accented with fresh greenery, silk flowers, peach and white ginger blossoms, baby's breath and roses.

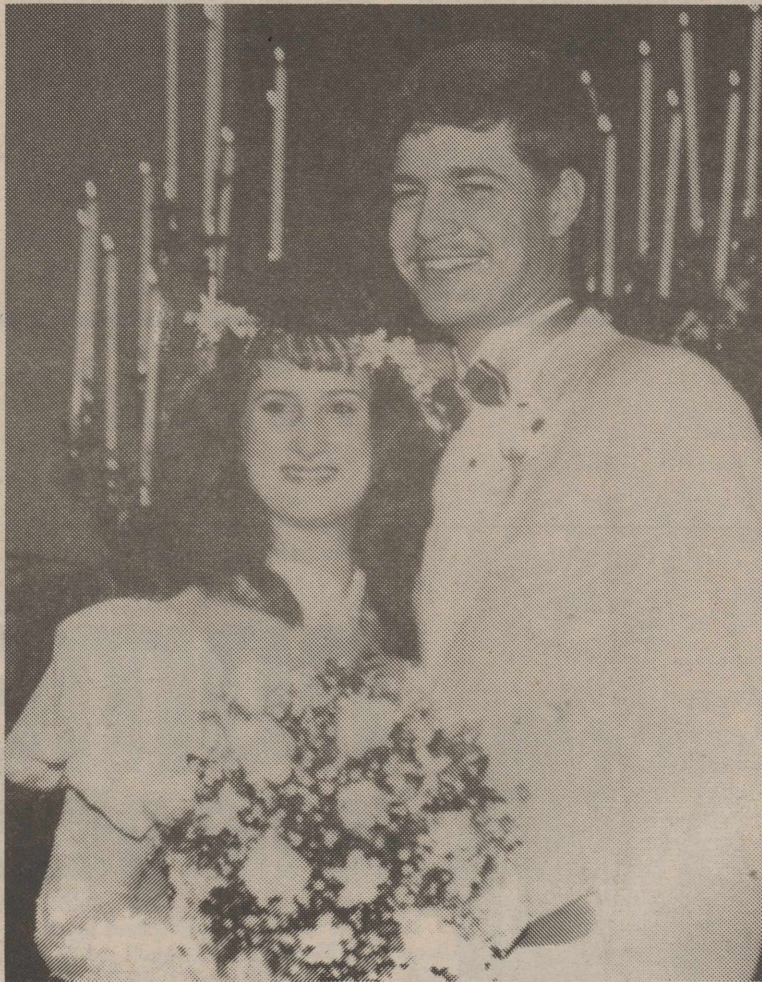

Parents of the couple are Bob and Nancy Singletary of Amarillo and Joe and Vaughnell Brannon of Silverton.

Pews were marked with arrangements of fresh greenery, roses, ginger blossoms and baby's breath.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown designed by Antonio D'Nucci of Paris. Her shimmer white organza gown featured a Victorian collar. Her sleeves were French satin puffs crowned with lace and pearl ornaments. Her princess bodice was heavily decorated with beaded European laces on top of shimmering white satin. Her waistline was cinched to a point and attached with a full and flowing organza skirt. Her train featured a sunburst of white sparkling satin and European cutout lace-work in the center of rows and rows of cascading white satin ruffles. Her train flowed to Queen's Court cathedral length.

She carried a formal cascade of peach roses, white stephanotis, pearl sprays and pearl streamers.

To carry out bridal tradition, she carried her grandmother's lace-trimmed handkerchief;

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Mack Brannon

something new was her wedding gown; she borrowed diamond earrings from her mother, and added a blue garter.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Amy Singletary of Amarillo. Bridesmaids were Susie Brannon of Amarillo, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Tammie Curly of Panhandle, a friend of the bride.

They wore gowns of peach taffeta which fell to carpet length. Their off-the-shoulder puffed sleeves were accented with peach bows on the shoulders. The dresses featured boat necklines. They had full wreaths of peach flowers and peach satin ribbon in their hair, and they carried long-stemmed peach roses arranged with baby's breath, ginger blossoms and peach satin ribbon.

Candles were lighted by Jess and Lori Brannon of Silverton, cousins of the bridegroom. Lori wore a dress designed like those worn by the bridesmaids and had a quarter wreath of peach silk flowers caught in her hair.

Guests were seated by Russell Simpson and Joe Ted Edwards, Tulia, and Scotty Harris, Lubbock.

Groomsmen were Paul Brannon of Amarillo and Brent Brannon of Silverton, brothers of the bridegroom.

Serving as best man was Corey Robertson of Amarillo, a friend of the groom.

Mrs. Kaye Malone is proud to announce the approaching marriage of her daughter, Kathy Eugene, to Michael Wayne Byrum, son of Justin and Donna Norred of Odessa. Wedding vows will be exchanged on July 15, 1988, at Vigo Park, with the Rev. Roland Moore performing the ceremony.

Traditional wedding selections were provided by Lydia Grey of Amarillo, and included "Never Thought" played during the lighting of the couple's unity candle.

The bride's mother wore a turquoise brocade dress with jacket and added a corsage of peach roses and stephanotis.

Mother of the bridegroom was attired in a mint green silk two-piece dress, and she also wore a corsage of peach roses and stephanotis.

RECEPTION

A reception followed the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The refreshment table held the three-tiered wedding cake accented with peach flowers and topped with a miniature bridal couple standing underneath an archway. A white candle and peach flowers accented the table decor, and silver appointments were used.

Presiding at the refreshment table were Tammy Brannon and Mary Jo Brannon, both of Silverton, sister-in-law and aunt of the bridegroom.

Velvet Lucas of Amarillo was in charge of securing the guests' signatures in the wedding book.

Following a wedding trip to Red River, New Mexico, the couple is at home at 4438 South Fannin in Amarillo.

The bride is a graduate of Temple Baptist High School and attended Amarillo College. She is employed by Amarillo Eye Associates.

advertisements being shown across the country. They tell consumers about how easy it is to start the bankruptcy process and encourages them to consider it as an alternative to high levels of indebtedness.

It's not an easy process and in many cases it's not the best way to get rid of excessive debt. The Independent Bankers Association of America, a trade group representing the nation's community banks, is concerned about the rising level of personal bankruptcies in the country.

Why? Bankruptcies hurt everyone involved—consumers and lenders. Everyone except the people running the television advertisements—bankruptcy lawyers.

They're the ones who say declaring bankruptcy is an easy route to a debt-free future. But there's a heavy cost—bankruptcy has a tremendous impact on a consumer's personal financial future.

A bankruptcy declaration remains on a consumer's credit report for 10 years, making it nearly impossible for someone declaring bankruptcy to get any credit in the future.

For many people, there are options available before declaring bankruptcy, including credit counseling and debt restructuring.

During the year ending September 30, 1987, there were 482,300 personal bankruptcies. But, according to Purdue University's Credit Research Center, 50 percent of those people who filed for bankruptcy could have paid their debts off in a 36-month period.

Non-profit consumer credit counseling centers are located in many cities throughout the country. These centers specialize in helping people put together debt repayment plans and financial budgets. In 1987, they counseled 170,000 families and returned $186 million to lenders.

Before declaring bankruptcy, consumers should take a close look at their personal financial situation. Credit counseling centers, personal bankers and others can help examine the options. By formulating a financial plan, consumers can work their way out of debt.

It may not be easy, but neither is bankruptcy, which can be a 10-year mistake.

The Independent Bankers Association of America is the only national trade association dedicated exclusively to representing the nation's community banks.

REMEMBER THESE SAFETY TIPS

- Watch for power lines when climbing in trees.
- Do not climb electrical poles, towers or structures.
- Do not trim trees near power lines.
- Do not set ladders or scaffolds near power lines.
- Do not shoot at insulators on poles, towers or structures.
- Never climb on or go inside a substation fence. Call SPS to help you retrieve anything thrown into the substation or caught in its fence.
- Avoid using electrical tools like lawn mowers or hedge clippers when grass and leaves are wet.
- Be careful when digging. Call SPS to find out if there are any buried electrical lines in the area.
- Electrical cords should not be spliced or taped. Repair by shortening them or replace them entirely.
- Beware of exposed wires.
- Don't touch portable appliances (coffee makers, radios, hair dryers, etc.) with wet hands or while standing or sitting in water.
- Don't post signs on utility poles. A lineman hitting a nail with his cleat could slip and fall. Also, nails can snag protective gloves and destroy their insulation value.

Local FCL Team Member Attends National Farm Forum

"Farm women should not take their political power for granted. They can and should play key roles in the upcoming elections and the next administration," noted Sara Wyant, coordinator of the Farm Women's Leadership Forum (FWLF). Throughout the four-day event, a variety of speakers taught participants how to be more effective as lobbyists, as agricultural spokespersons, and as coalition builders. Women from 32 states and New Zealand participated in the event.

"This is a unique program that allows women from many different commodity groups and farm organizations to work, share, and grow together. As a result, they gain a greater appreciation for issues facing all agricultural sectors," explained Wyant.

Virginia Hardin from the Briscoe County Extension Homemakers was one of over 100 women who attended the June 1-4 meeting in Washington, D. C. The diverse group of participants included leaders from American Agri-Women, American Farm Bureau Federation, Associated Milk Producers, Inc., National CattleWomen, National Extension Homemakers Council, National Pork Council Women, National Wool Growers Auxiliary, Women Involved in Farm Economics, and several other organizations.

The four-day meeting was designed to help participants become better informed on key agricultural issues and better prepared to deal with some of today's agricultural challenges. Speakers included Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Peter Myers, Federal Reserve Board Governor Wayne Angell, Congressman Tom Tauke, and Kathy Buskin, Director of Editorial Administration for "U. S. News & World Report."

During the Forum, participants also heard from experts on biotechnology, farm labor, and agricultural exports. Special training sessions focused on media relations, improving public appearances, and how to develop a legislative strategy. On June 11, participants attended a Congressional reception and visited with many of their Congressmen and staff members. In addition to the regular program, several participants also toured DuPont's research facilities in Wilmington, Delaware on June 1.

The Forum was sponsored by several companies who contributed time, money and other valuable resources to make this unique training program possible. Sponsors included American Cyanamid, Monsanto, American Council of Life Insurance, Chicago Board of Trade, DuPont Company, Deere & Co., Case IH, Pioneer, ICI Americas, Cargill, Elanco Products Co., FMC Corporation, Ford New Holland, Geo. A. Hormel & Co., Dow Chemical, CENEX, National Agricultural Chemicals Association, Northrup King, The Upjohn Company, Rhone-Poulenc Ag Company, Sandoz Crop Protection Corp., National Pork Council Women, Farm Progress Publications, Agri-Pulse Communications, and Kent Feeds, Inc.

Mrs. Hardin expressed disappointment that Congressman Beau Boulter was unable to attend the Congressional Reception because he was back home campaigning. Many of the Congressmen were on vacation, she said, since the Forum took place following Memorial Day.

The opportunity to attend the Forum was extended to Mrs. Hardin as a result of the efforts she and FCL team members Lynda Fogerson and Jackie Mercer made in sponsoring the Briscoe County Citizens Forum before Super Tuesday's Election. It is possible that the plan used by the local team may be put into use by other communities because of the unique way the Forum was conducted.

Mrs. Hardin will be glad to share with Briscoe County citizens the information she gained at the Forum. Call 823-2096 for more details.

A few days before last Christmas, a pair of "Wall Street Journal" staff reporters set out with a budget of $2,000 bent on buying Christmas gifts made only in the United States.

The results of their experience in trying to eschew imported goods were sadly reported in the Journal's December 23 paper in a front-page article headlined, "Why Uncle Sam Has an Ax to Grind with Santa Claus."

"Though the draining of dollars to satisfy the American taste for things foreign is a perpetual problem," they wrote, "we had never exactly searched the shelves for made-in-the-U.S.A. labels. After our experience, we probably never will again."

The reporters spent "long, wearying hours at the job, with results that aren't entirely satisfactory." In the end, after two days of "rigorous shopping," they gave up after spending only $1,870 of their $2,000 budget.

It wasn't just in the apparel category that the reporters had difficulty finding U. S.-made goods, of course, but nevertheless, Grown and Made director Liz Warren of Phoenix, fired back a letter to the editor of "Wall Street Journal," lauding the efforts of the hapless reporters and encouraging others with facts and statistics to support her stand.

"Hooray for (the reporters') efforts to buy American!" Warren wrote. "It is sometimes difficult to find Made in the U.S.A. labels in certain categories, but in textiles, apparel, and shoes, we are literally being inundated by imports."

Warren urged the newspaper's readers to "voice their desire for American-grown-and-made products," pointing out that "consumer demand will eventually have the desired and necessary effect on our retailers. They must stock what their customers ask for or find themselves left with large inventories of unsold items."

The letter closed with a plea to continue searching for Made in the U.S.A. goods and the warning to "Buy American, the job you save may be your own."

WHAT DOES LOCAL BUSINESS DO FOR YOU?

Who supports school organizations' fund-raising projects? Who buys school annual ads? Who makes donations to the stock show, buys Girl Scout cookies, and supports other youth organization activities?

Who unlocks their stores on weekends and holidays to get something for you that you could have gotten during regular business hours? Who extends credit—many times with no interest charge? Who donates supplies and/or equipment for community functions?

Who provides tax dollars to support city and county government and community services? Who promotes local functions by allowing posters to be placed in their windows? Who delivers groceries to senior citizens who phone in their orders?

You guessed it—LOCAL BUSINESSES.

We talk about the bargains we get in Lubbock, Amarillo or Plainview, but do we fail to realize that these towns do not contribute one penny to Briscoe County's economy? Products and services in our communities may cost a little more in some cases, but look at all the "fringe benefits" these businesses provide to our communities. Can you put a price on the personal service of these businesses?

We want to attract new industry to the county and create new jobs and new business, but let's not forget the businesses we already have and the business people who strive year after year to meet the needs of our people. As you know, some of these have not been able to continue and we have lost a valuable service as a result.

According to market penetration figures, Briscoe County was capturing 66.9% of the local dollars in 1980, while getting only 33.1% of the local dollars in 1984. Let's support the businesses we have by helping them out at every opportunity. Tell them you appreciate their services.

Come out and attend the "Economic Development Opportunities" program next Wednesday, June 22, at 10:00 a.m. at the First State Bank in Silverton.

Quilt, Afghan To Be Given Away Soon

A quilt and an afghan which have been handmade and donated to the Briscoe County Activities Association will be given away on Saturday night of the rodeo during the county birthday celebration in August.

Donations of $1.00 (11 for $10.00) will be accepted by the sponsoring organization beginning on the Fourth of July, and from the donation receipts one lucky winner will receive the afghan and another will take home the quilt.

The afghan is in the Jacob's Coat pattern and has 25 different colors. It is about 60" x 80" and was made by Mrs. Bill (Lucy) McDaniel.

The quilt is made in queen size in the Grandmother's Flower Garden pattern. It was made by Mrs. Joe (Ruby) McWaters.

Proceeds will go to the Shelter Fund.

Both will be on display at the Fourth of July celebration, and after that date they will be displayed in various stores around town.

Letter to the Editor

Enclosed is my annual renewal fee for the Briscoe County News, which I enjoy immensely.

However, as I endeavored to emphasize in the heart-felt poem, I'm very regretful that I am unable to also renew my mother's subscription this year.

But the inevitable happened and I can only say that I miss her terribly and will until I die. Yet, at the same time, I thank our Heavenly Father that she was a solace, comfort, joy and "rock of Gibraltar" to me for what could be considered "a life-time." (since I'm 67)

Anyway, I also enclosed some cards, poems, drawings, etc., that you can look at, print or whatever you desire . . . and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for you to return them to me.

They were just tokens of love I sent Mom in my better days and were given back to me after her death by Esther Rose Miller, one of my sisters.

If there's any extra money required, please let me know and I shall gladly send it to you.

I just wanted, in my twilight of life, to share some of the thoughts and feelings I extended to Mama in years gone by with other kinfolks and friends.

Thank you kindly,
Loney Stout
1609 N. Fairfield
Amarillo, Texas 79107

For the first time in years the renewal is for me alone . . . and it floods my eyes with tears to realize that she is gone

I'm referring to my mother with both hurt and pride . . . 'cause there'll never be another like "ESTHER" on my side
She was with me all my life until March of this year—and sustained much joy and strife with the grit of a "Pioneer"

Only memory now remains . . . but I can tell you for sure even my now-existing pains she'll still help me to endure

She was thoughtful and kind;

an inspiration for us all—and had a terrific mind . . . as many people will recall

She loved "that Newspaper," too and shared articles with me about people we both knew—and how things used to be

But now that she is gone, with only memories left behind, I shall try to struggle on with those "Treasures" in my mind

I know her loss is very great—and many will love and pine . . . but, in my present mental state, I'm just trying to express mine
GOD bless her!!!
Loney Stout

Note of explanation: The reason I'm sending the renewal payment early is because I may have to go in the hospital at any time now, and, needless to say, my already befuddled mind may be occupied for the next few weeks trying to cope with medicare, insurance, the hospital bills, doctor bills and receiving a statement from just about everybody who looks at or touches me.

Oh, I think I'll survive, God willing, but I don't want to forget renewing my subscription.

Yours sincerely,
Loney
