These are a few of the world shaking events of the past few days that are leading to the unconditional surrender of all German armies to the plugging American and Allied troops. Rumors have spread premature surrender news already several times, but when that news is official it will be announced by radio to the American people by President Truman.

CLOTHING DRIVE BRINGS LARGE AMOUNT
The request for used clothing to be shipped overseas to Allied nations brought in hundreds of pounds, according to Mrs. D. T. Harbison, chairman of the drive. It was hauled to Silverton Tuesday morning, when it was to be included with car load from that city and surrounding towns.

FARMERS ASKED TO REPORT WINTER COVER CROPS
May 1, 1945 has been established as the closing date for farmers to report the extent of winter cover crops, seeded in the fall of 1944 as conservation practice in the 1945-46 season.

DISTRICT QUOTAS GIVEN FOR SEVENTH WAR LOAN
The Seventh War Loan will officially open May 15, 1945. The Briscoe County has an overall quota of $100,000. Of this amount, $10,000 must be Series E bonds. All Series E bonds bought this month will count on the quota. The Treasury Department has announced that there will be only two war loans this year, and therefore save everyone the trouble of buying them over before. The war with Germany is over, and it is going to be very costly to move all the troops home.

Letter to
The Editor

Dear Editor,
This coming Sunday, August 6, 1989, I will preach my last sermon as pastor of the First Baptist Church. I have resigned as pastor simply because I believe God is calling us into the active duty Air Force chaplaincy. By September 1, 1989, I will report to Loring Air Force Base near Caribou, Maine. As I have told the church, this change in direction has come as a great surprise to us for we were not planning to leave.

I write this letter simply to tell the people of Silverton how much we have enjoyed being a part of the community. I have enjoyed being the pastor of the church and in many ways the community. We have felt very welcomed by you. Even though Silverton is small, it has many things to offer. Silverton has some great people in it. It is equally a very caring community. I am impressed on how people seek to take care of the widows and elderly.

I encourage the people of Briscoe County to continue to work together to better the whole county. The economy has been very difficult for Silverton the past several years. Therefore, the whole community must pull together in seeking ways to revitalize the area. When people believe in themselves and are willing to work together, great things can happen. Take advantage of the natural beauty God has endowed the area. I hope the tourism trade will flourish. Few counties in Texas can boast of the natural beauty this county has. I encourage you to develop everything you can. Silverton is too precious to become a ghost town.

Thank you for allowing us to call Silverton home. We have enjoyed being a part of you for unfortunately such a short period of time. Until we are able to visit again, may God grant you blessings and prosperity.

Tracy Tomlin Reflects On Her Trip to Russia

Tracy Tomlin has recently returned from the Hugh O'Brian Fellowship Conference that was held in Russia June 25 to July 11, and is sharing her trip with friends who sponsored her as an international good-will ambassador. She will be making a number of appearances during the coming year before various clubs and organizations.

She says that her trip was a tremendous experience that she would not have missed.

"My great excursion began on June 21, when I boarded the airplane in Amarillo. From Dallas I flew to Philadelphia where I was met by the Harper family. Rene Harper is one of the very good friends that I made last summer when I went to St. Louis. The Harpers live in Cape May, New Jersey, a very beautiful old town that sits along the beach. I felt fortunate to have the opportunity to stay in such a town. The architecture is Victorian, and very beautiful. I owe a great thanks to the Harpers for showing me around their state, for taking such good care of me, and for seeing that I got safely to New York and located the Hugh O'Brian group.

"Once I was at JFK Airport with my HOBY companions, I began actually to accept that I was on my way. It was no longer a dream.

"In the airport, we had orientation that gave us all a little time to get to know each other and relax a bit. Everyone was nervous as we boarded our plane for Helsinki at 7:30 p.m. The flight to Helsinki was a very long and tiring eight hours, but it gave us an opportunity to get to know each other better. We arrived in Helsinki at 10:30 a.m.; therefore, we lost eight hours and suffered extreme jet lag.

"I was very impressed with Helsinki. It was beautiful and very clean, and there wasn't a great culture clash when compared to home. Adjusting to Finland's 24 hours of daylight was somewhat difficult. We were given time with some Finnish students and were reunited with two students who had joined us at St. Louis last year. While we were in Helsinki we were given the opportunity to visit the U. S. Embassy.

"The next morning, June 27, everyone was a bit fidgety. Our next stop, Moscow, was only 1 1/2 hours away.

"While we were in Moscow we had the opportunity to meet young Soviet students who participated in our seminars and then went with us throughout the day. The students were very intelligent, and most of them could speak a little English, but some were very fluent.

"Moscow has beautiful churches restored from as long ago as the 12th century, but they are not used for worship. There are many monuments decorated with different landscaping and art work. Our group was one of the few American groups to sit in on a session of the Supreme Soviet, Russia's newly-elected parliament, and we also were the first American group to go through a Soviet nuclear plant.

"A very special part of my trip to Moscow was the time I was allotted to stay with a Soviet friend and her family. Everyone lives in a flat. The flats are similar to apartments. The buildings are all about 15 stories high and all the apartments have the exact same layout. They are anywhere from one to five rooms. The biggest flat was probably about the size of my dining and living rooms. The buildings were poorly cared for. The grass was not mowed, and there were no flowers or nicely-groomed trees. I stayed with a wealthier family, with a flat of five rooms. Once in my friend's flat I was very impressed with how different the outside surroundings were compared to the inside of her home. It was very lovely and everything was well kept. I actually felt like I was a little close to home. The family was very nice to me and became very special. My friend's mother cooked me so much food and made sure that I was well fed, because she knew that the government-owned cafeterias where we had been eating did not serve good food. Although the family could not speak English, we found our ways of communicating.

"On July 2, we departed Moscow for Yaroslavl by train. It was a neat experience. In Yaroslavl, we toured churches and art museums, but we were given some free time to walk through the town. It was interesting to see how the shops operate. First, a customer gets in a line and tells the clerk what he wants, then he must go pay for it, get a receipt, take it back to the clerk and finally receive his merchandise. With this set up, you need to arrange for at least 1 1/2 hours to make a purchase if the store is crowded.

"On July 4, we went from Yaroslavl to Rostov where we stayed inside the Kremlin. Rostov was a very small village, and everyone was aware of our arrival since they rang the bells and raised the Soviet and American flags together. We were further welcomed by an old custom of taking bread and wine as a sign of peace. The people in Rostov organized a dance for us, and showed us Russian games and folk dances, and we allowed them to celebrate the Fourth of July with us with sparklers. The hospitality there was great.

"The village surroundings were different from those in Moscow. The stores in Rostov were very poorly stocked and many people set up little fresh food markets on the streets. The people live in simple small, small

1989 Property Tax Rates in Briscoe County

This notice concerns 1989 property tax rates for Briscoe County. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

	General Fund	Farm to Market/ Flood Control Fund	Special Road/ Bridge Fund
Last year's tax rate:		N/A	N/A
Last year's operating taxes	$ 331,461.23	$ _____	$ _____
Last year's debt taxes	$ -0-	$ _____	$ _____
Last year's total taxes	$ 331,461.23	$ _____	$ _____
Last year's tax base	$ 79,870,176	$ _____	$ _____
Last year's total tax rate	$ .4150 /$100	$ _____ /$100	$ _____ /$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 331,461.23	$ _____	$ _____
This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting taxes on new property)	$ 80,611,840	$ _____	$ _____
This year's effective tax rate for each fund	$ .4118 /$100	$ _____ /$100	$ _____ /$100
Total effective tax rate	$ .4118 /$100

A county that adopted the additional sales tax in a 1989 election must include the following lines:

• Sales tax adjustment rate	$ N/A /$100
= Effective tax rate	$ N/A /$100

× 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ .42351 /$100
---	------------------

This year's rollback tax rate:

Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 331,461	$ _____	$ _____
÷ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 80,611,840	$ _____	$ _____
= This year's effective operating rate	$ .4118 /$100	$ _____ /$100	$ _____ /$100
× 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ .44407 /$100	$ _____ /$100	$ _____ /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$ -0- /$100	$ _____ /$100	$ _____ /$100
= This year's rollback rate for each fund	$ .44407 /$100	$ _____ /$100	$ _____ /$100
This year's rollback rate	$ .44407 /$100

A county that imposes the additional sales tax must include these lines, regardless of when it held the election:

• Sales tax adjustment rate	$ N/A /$100
= Rollback tax rate	$ N/A /$100

houses, with outdoor toilets. I was very impressed with how well the people tried to keep their homes. They had them painted in bright colors with a different color of trimming, and sometimes yet another color of fencing around the home.

"On July 7, we travelled on to Leningrad, which was very beautiful and had many tourists. Leningrad's surroundings were similar to Moscow's. While in Leningrad, we visited the Winter Palace, St. Issiac's Cathedral, and also Peter the Great's Summer Palace. All of these places were beautiful and had a great history from the time of the Czars.

"After visiting all four places, my overall impressions were that the people have a lot of pride in their land and in themselves, not so much in their government. The people are lacking incentive, but there really is no need for it since their lives are controlled by socialism. I also noticed that the buildings that the government provided for the people to use were poorly kept. Yet, any building having to do with Russian history or culture was beautifully done and could be marveled at. This is the hardest thing for me to understand.

"On July 10, we were to depart for Helsinki once again. I think I can speak for everyone and say we were all ready. As we turned toward home, it was very interesting to watch all of my companions readjust. In Helsinki we tried our best to gain back all the weight we had lost, and we pampered ourselves to the extreme. The next morning everyone was very excited to get on the plane to come home.

"I was met in New York by the Harpers once again. It was so wonderful seeing an airport full of American people speaking my language. The Harpers took me out on the town. New York is crowded and made me appreciate Silverton so much more. I slept over at the Harpers and the next morning I got on the plane to bring me to Amarillo.

"I think that I can truly say that there is no place like the 'Good Old U. S. A.'; there is no place like Texas, and there is no place like home, Silverton!"

Pioneers' Trip to Briscoe County Took Much Longer Than is Needed Today

When Daniel Grant and other Montagues arrived in Briscoe County in 1892, the trip took days. But when the Montagues gathered for their 1989 reunion, they came by car or jet plane and the trip was only a few hours.

The reunion was held on July 29 at the home of Nina Martin and Earl Cantwell in the Rock Creek Community. Hostesses were Nina, Shirley Durham and Marsha Brunson.

Early arrivals enjoyed an authentic campfire breakfast prepared by Wayland Fitzgerald and a few assistants.

Family members and their guests spent the day visiting, looking at pictures and albums, admiring the new babies, and eating, of course. The young and agile ones enjoyed swinging, tree climbing and playing badminton.

Dana Martin was the chief cook who prepared barbecued brisket and sausage. Tables were laden with salads, casseroles and desserts brought by other family members.

The Montagues always enjoy having visitors at their reunions. These included maternal cousins of the Dan Montague family, Elbert and Rose Bryant of Panhandle and Melva Pierce and her daughter, Fern, of Colorado Springs and Denver, Colorado. Blanton and Virginia Garrison and granddaughter, Katie, of Amarillo were with the family once again. Ethel Roberson of Amarillo drove her brother-in-law, Ralph Montague, down. Jessie Bomar and Jeremiah Brooks of Silverton also visited.

Family members attending were Ralph Montague, Ward, Arkansas; Althea Hutchison, Canyon; Michelle Smith, Amarillo; Amber Schrandt, Hereford; Roy and Lanell Montague, Tulia and Silverton; Ray and Nelda Teeple, Plainview and Silverton; Gabriel McGavock of Plainview; Debbie, Erica and Grant Montague, Plano; Freeda Henderson, Plainview; Betty and Norvell Breedlove, College Station; Kimberly and Amber Oldham, Samnorwood; Suzette and Brian Nistler, Amarillo; Amanda Kennedy, Wichita Falls; Roger, Shannon, Devin and London Cantwell, Canyon; Jack, Brenda and Holly Beth Gaskins, Seagraves; Celia and Marshall Syme, Waxahachie; Roma, Wayne, Ky and Bobby Martin, Grandview; Joe, Ninette and James Zorger, Oklahoma City.

Also, Elsie Brown, Jerry Smith, Perry, Marsha, Bradley, Brandi and Lacy Brunson, Rhett Montague, Polly Montague, James and Lavelle Henderson, Bill, Shirley, Kirk and Lee Ann Durham, Guinn, Pat and DeLynn Fitzgerald, Wayland and Flo Fitzgerald, Elton and Lanita Cantwell, Dana, Dorothy, Brian and Kami Martin, Earl Cantwell, Nina Martin, all of Silverton.

The family decided to have a reunion in 1990 with the time and place to be decided by Dana Martin and Elton Cantwell, who are to be the hosts.

TRIBUTE

Our ancestors came to this good land,

In wagons, cars and trains.
They built for us a new frontier
Of grass and cattle and grains.

Working hard from dawn to dusk,

And longer — if need be,
Our pioneering parents
A bright future they could see.

Some lived to see the good times,
But all endured some bad.

'Twas faith that kept them going,
Whether they were happy or sad.

We could tell so many stories,
Of the good they did while here.
But the greatest tribute ever
Is the life WE live THIS year.

For our godly, loving parents,
Much honor there is due.

But serving and honoring God ourselves,
Is a tribute each day anew. LC

New Regulations Will Affect Many Farmers, Truckers

Farmers and other owners and operators of trucks in Texas need to be aware of regulations passed in the recent legislature which will go into effect September 1, according to Warren Chisum (D), representative from the 84th district.

Chisum said that the legislature had tried to make the new regulations as simple as possible for the industry. "Since I was in the trucking business for a long time, I know what a problem new rules can be. I hope these will cause as little disruption as possible," he said.

SB 1204 requires trucks and drivers to comply with Federal Motor Carriers Safety Regulations with the following exceptions: vehicles under 26,000 GVW and farm vehicles under 48,000 GVW, (providing they are not hauling hazardous material); oil well service and water well service rigs; and mobile cranes. Drivers will be allowed to drive 12 hours following eight consecutive hours off duty (10 for interstate) and drivers employed prior to September 1 are exempt from medical standards. Also drivers who operate within 150 mile radius are not required to keep a log book provided records of hours on duty are kept at the dispatch office.

In addition, the following exceptions will apply if approved by the Department of Public Safety: allow 18 years old drivers (21 for interstate); not require a driver to read and speak English (holding a Texas drivers license will suffice); not require vehicles manufactured prior to September 1 which transport seed cotton modules or solid waste to have rear end protection (bumpers); and allow a driver to drive and/or work 70 hours in seven days.

Mandatory drug testing requirements will be delayed from December 21, 1989 to December 21, 1990, and the date for companies to have driver qualifications files set up will be January 1, 1990.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Stodghill's Experience Shows in Stands Of Native Grasses He's Seeded

His grass drills are 20 years old and he has rebuilt them many times, but Clifton Stodghill's Nisbet drills have probably drilled more native grass than any other drills in the Panhandle of Texas.

Stodghill got his start in the grass drilling business back in 1958 during the first "Soil Bank" program when he bought his first Nisbet drill. Since that time, Stodghill has owned eight Nisbet drills and seeded over 50,000 acres of grass in 11 counties and two states.

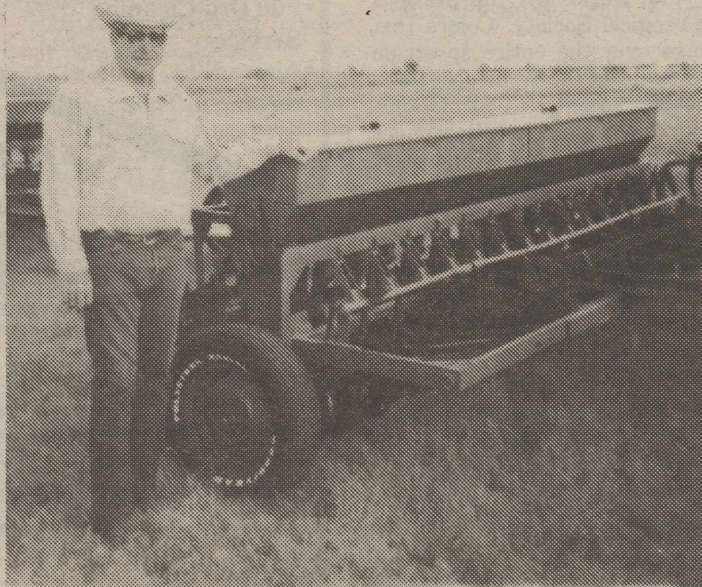

The Nisbet drills have served Stodghill well over the years. He, in turn, has provided a valuable service to his friends and neighbors in Briscoe County and the surrounding area. He not only has been one of the most reliable sources of grass seed and drilling, but also he has been a great source of experience and help to the Soil Conservation Service offices in the area.

"When the CRP program hit Briscoe County a few years ago, we relied on Clifton for valuable information on what would, and would not, work in Briscoe County," said John Crowell, District Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Silverton. "We have lots of books, research data and experts available to tell us the best way to get a stand of native grass. But our most reliable source of help was Clifton's 31 years of experience and know-how."

Stodghill recommends using a sorghum dead litter crop to drill the grass into. He feels it works best because you can control the weeds better and you retain more soil moisture than you would with a wheat dead litter.

"The main thing is to have a firm, weed free seedbed to plant the grass into," says Stodghill, "and a moderate amount of cover is better than having too much or too little."

"The ideal grass mixture for the clay loam soils in our area is Clifton Stodghill, with one of his Nisbet drills, with which he has drilled over 50,000 acres of grass in eleven counties and two states.

probably 70% Blue grama, 20% Sideoats grama, and 10% Buffalograss," says Stodghill, "especially if you plan to keep the grass and graze it after the 10-year CRP contract expires."

Stodghill is often asked about sideoats grama. Some ranchers say it is not a good grass and claim the cattle won't eat it.

His reply is, "Look under the mesquite trees and around machinery where the cattle cannot get to it and you will usually find sideoats growing. It's one of our best native grasses but cattle tend to graze it out first. It's also a very good grass to plant on the steeper, shallow soils because it tends to cover those areas better than other grasses."

With the Conservation Reserve Program winding down in Briscoe County, many grass drillers have sold their drills. But not Stodghill. He has drilled grass through three "Soil Bank" programs in his 31 years in the business. You never know, another program may come along in a few years and he will be ready.

But for now, the results of Stodghill's experience can be seen covering CRP fields to keep them from blowing, holding waterways to keep them from washing, and providing grazing for livestock on rangeland throughout the area.

Gonzales, settled in 1925 by James Kerr, is the site of the largest number of episodes of the Texas Revolution. The town is home to the cannon that fired the first shot of the Revolution on October 2, 1935. The first battle flag of Texas depicts the cannon and the words, "Come and Take It," in response to Mexico's demands for its possession. Gonzales was the only town to come to the aid of the men of the Alamo. Three Texas armies were formed at this site. Today, Texans can visit a museum in Gonzales commemorating its role in the Texas Revolution.

Cancer Answers

by Guy R. Newell, M. D.

Q Can just breathing other people's smoke cause lung cancer?

A Yes. No less an authority than the U.S. Surgeon General has said so. The smoke given off by a burning cigarette and the smoke exhaled by a smoker actually contain more of some cancer-causing chemicals than the smoke that is inhaled directly.

Several studies from around the world have found that nonsmoking women who are married to men who smoke heavily are more likely to develop lung cancer than women who are married to nonsmokers.

More than 97 percent of recorded migratory species of birds can be seen in the Surfside Beach area. ## 1989 Property Tax Rates in CITY OF SILVERTON

This notice concerns 1989 property tax rates for City of Silverton. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 38,111.55
+ Last year's debt taxes	$ -0-
= Last year's total taxes	$ 38,111.55
÷ Last year's tax base	$ 14,006,450.00
= Last year's total tax rate	$ .2721 /$100

This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 38,111.55
÷ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting taxes on new property)	$ 14,192,937.00
= This year's effective tax rate	$ .26852 /$100

A city that adopted the additional sales tax in a 1989 election must include the following lines: N/A

- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ /$100
= Effective tax rate	$ /$100
x 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ .27658 /$100

This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 38,111.55
÷ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 14,192,937.00
= This year's effective operating rate	$ .26851 /$100
x 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ .29000 /$100
+ This year's debt rate	$ -0- /$100
· This year's rollback rate	$ .29000 /$100

A city that imposes the additional sales tax must include these lines, regardless of when it held the election:

N/A
- Sales tax adjustment rate	$ /$100

Volunteer Fireman Attends School

Doug Bradford, volunteer fireman of the Silverton Volunteer Fire Department, attended the 60th Annual Texas Firemen's Training School July 23-28. The school, attended by nearly 2,000 students representing about 750 cities from more than 25 states, was held on the Texas A&M University campus last week.

Firemen choose their course at the school from a list including Fire Fighting, Fire Prevention, Fire Department Officer Training, Fire Department Pump Maintenance, Specialized Fire Protection, and Disaster Rescue Training.

Fireman Bradford was sponsored by Briscoe County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school. Since volunteer firemen are interested in attending this school to help do a better job of fire fighting and fire prevention, 100 County Farm Bureaus and the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies in the statewide program sponsored 100 firemen at the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe Volunteer Fire Departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas," said President S. M. True, jr., of Plainview. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the fireman will help the Silverton Volunteer Department to better serve the residents of Briscoe County."

About 500,000 craters on the Moon can be seen from the Earth through the largest and most powerful telescopes.

During the era of the Texas Republic, land promoters advertised it was cheaper to raise a cow in Texas than a chicken. It was . . . because of the hardy characteristics of the Texas Longhorn. She needed no government trapper to guard her calf from wolves. In times of drought, she could walk many miles from water to grass. If there was no grass, she could eat brush and prickly pear. The Texas Longhorn became the foundation of the American cattle industry and there may never be another animal which has had a greater influence on the culture and economy of a people.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

South Plains Health Provider is once again submitting a proposal to the State of Texas for a primary health care clinic for Silverton. The clinic would operate on a full-time basis utilizing a family nurse practitioner, with physician coverage two days weekly. We plan to work with existing agencies and providers in the area, such as the WIC program which the Department of Health operates out of Memphis, and the dentist who currently works in the clinic. The SPHPO staff would be trained to provide radiology services and we plan to open a Class D pharmacy on-site.

The State has informed us that perhaps only two projects will be funded this fiscal year. Hopefully, with the support of your community and Briscoe County, the Briscoe County clinic will be one of them. We realize how long the people of Briscoe County have been without primary health care locally and want to do everything we can to change that.

One thing we are asking is that the citizens of Briscoe County and southwest Hall County send letters of support for the Briscoe County clinic. Letters may address any or all of the issues, such as the difficulty you have experienced in recruiting a physician to practice in Silverton, the distance residents must travel for health care, the high rate of poverty or the large elderly population. Also, local agencies, governing officials, and others could emphasize how the clinic would be a community-based effort along with South Plains Health Provider. Lastly, we ask that letters demonstrate broad support of the citizens it will serve.

In order to receive the letters in time to be included in our grant application, they should be received on or before Monday, August 14, 1989. The letters should be addressed and sent to: Mr. Henry J. Hawley, Executive Director South Plains Health Provider Organization, Inc. 2801 West 8th Street Plainview, Texas 79072

We really appreciate the support we have received from Briscoe County citizens for our previous effort to establish a clinic in Silverton, and are counting on that support to continue.

If anyone has questions regarding this application, they may contact Mr. Hawley or me at (806) 293-8561.

Sincerely,
Sue Terry

Lake Mackenzie Fishing Report

Large fish weighed in at Cactus Cove Marina on Lake Mackenzie during the past week have included a 1 1/4-lb. largemouth bass caught on a black and white spinner by Gloria Barrera of Amarillo in Tule Creek on July 23.

Lawrence Jaramillo of Claude and Ray Byard of Canadian caught a 7 1/4-lb. flathead catfish and a four-lb. channel cat on cut perch on a trotline July 30.

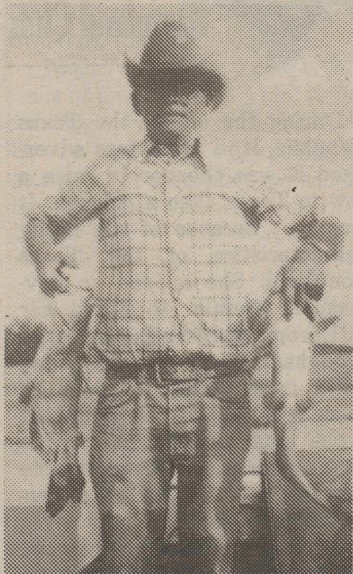

That same day, Red Jennings of Amarillo caught an 8 1/2-lb. channel cat and four channel cat weighing two to three pounds each on waterdogs in Tule Creek.

Also that day, David Littlejohn of Amarillo caught a 1 1/4-lb. and a 3 3/4-lb. largemouth bass in Tule Creek using a Rattletrap lure.

Buck Thomas and Joe McWaters were fishing together when Buck caught a 4 1/2-lb. and a five-pound channel cat on live perch in Tule Creek July 31.

Water temperature at a four-foot depth is 80° and water depth at the dam is now 111.6 feet.

Buck Thomas shows the 4 1/2 and 5-lb. channel catfish he caught on perch in Tule Creek at Lake Mackenzie Monday.

Eleven experienced two-person teams working for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. of Lubbock by August 4 will have completed detailed maps of almost a half million acres of cotton. The objective: to delineate the size, shape and location of about 4,000 fields situated in 12 weevil-prone counties along and on either side of the Caprock that forms the jagged eastern High Plains boundary.

As every year, mapping is a key step in the meticulous job of preparing for PCG's High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program now going on its 26th year. All fields planted to cotton in the area's "control zone" are pinpointed on maps for quick location by spray plane pilots in the Fall.

Every county through which the Caprock passes, from Briscoe on the north through Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Borden, Dawson and Howard on the south will be mapped, plus Motley, Dickens, Kent and Scurry Counties to the east.

All fields in the zone aren't expected to require spraying, program officials say. But when weevil populations begin to build, they explain, treatment can't wait for mapping.

Weevil emergence from winter hibernation has been monitored by traps baited with pheromone, a synthetic sex attractant, throughout the control zone and in adjacent fields to the east since early Spring.

Trapping gives preliminary indications of where manual surveys should be concentrated prior to the initiation of spray operations this Fall. And, by comparing trap catches inside the zone with those outside, officials also can gauge the effectiveness of the previous year's program.

Reports show that 30 traps in untreated territory outside the control zone through July 19 this year have yielded 49,267 weevils while less than a third as many, 14,184 were retrieved from 45 traps where control was exercised last year. Average weevils per trap, in-zone vs. out-zone, PCG officials note, make the success of last year's control effort look even better. Outside the zone, each trap caught an average of 1,642 weevils, more than five times the 315 per-trap catches inside.

Manual surveys, involving 35 two-person teams, are set to begin September 5. Spraying will start in late September or early October as dictated by survey results.

Accumulative trap catches below the Caprock this year (63,451) are significantly greater than in 1988 (38,593). But program operators cite three reasons why they don't think these numbers indicate a larger program than the 600,000-acre, $1.9 million program of 1988.

First, under this year's government program, permitted acreage is 12.5 percent below the acreage permitted in 1988. Second, late planting this year delayed the availability of a food supply for weevils, probably causing a heavier-than-normal "suicidal emergence."

Lastly, there is a growing possibility that some control zone cotton won't survive the drought. So unless something drastic happens to change the circumstances, officials say, the odds now seem to favor a somewhat smaller program.

The program is jointly funded by High Plains cotton producers and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Producers furnish 70 percent of the total, USDA 30 percent.

High Plains Cotton Farmers Benefit From New Videotape

Texas High Plains cotton farmers may want to add a television and VCR to their farm inventory—or at least a videotape titled "Profitable High Plains Cotton Production."

The videotape is targeted specifically for cotton producers in the Texas High Plains, where one-half of the Texas cotton and one-fourth of the U. S. cotton is grown. Current research and the newest cotton production techniques are explained and demonstrated in the videotape.

The videotape is comprised of nine segments, each five to ten minutes in length. Topics discussed include land preparation, seed testing, varieties and stand establishment, growth and development, fertility, weed control, insects, irrigation and termination.

James R. Supak, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX) and committee chairperson for the project, said qualified experts wrote the scripts and consulted in the production of the segments concerning their areas of expertise. Contributors' names are listed after each segment so viewers can contact them for additional information.

The 70-minute program is a joint venture between TAEX, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Tech University College of Agricultural Sciences and the U. S. Department of Agricultural Research Services. The Foundation for Agronomic Research funded the video project.

Pam Creel Alspaugh, manager of the broadcast bureau at Texas Tech's Office of News and Publications and producer of the series, said the program draws from 27 hours of footage obtained from area cotton fields, test plots and gins.

"The videotape is not just a review of standard production practices. Each segment focuses on new research and new techniques," she said. "For instance, the segment about irrigation demonstrates the new Low Energy Precision Application (LEPA) irrigation system and the segment on land preparation deals with conservation tillage."

For more information about the videotape or to obtain a VHS copy, write to Cotton Video, Texas Tech University, News and Publications, Broadcast Bureau, Lubbock, Texas 79409-2022. A $10 check payable to Texas Tech University covers the cost of the videotape and postage.

COTTON IS THE STAR—James R. Supak (left), cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Pam Creel Alspaugh, manager of the broadcast bureau of Texas Tech University's Office of News and Publications, recently completed work on a videotape titled "Profitable High Plains Cotton Production." The 70-minute program examines current cotton research and demonstrates new cotton production techniques especially for farmers in the Texas High Plains. The program is comprised of nine segments that address topics such as land preparation, seed quality and stand establishment, growth and development, fertility, weeds, insects, irrigation and crop termination. The program was supervised by Supak, produced by Alspaugh and funded by the Foundation for Agronomic Research. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the U. S. Department of Agricultural Research and Texas Tech's College of Agricultural Sciences also participated in the project. Copies of the videotape can be obtained by sending a $10 check made payable to Texas Tech University to Cotton Video, Texas Tech University, News and Publications, Broadcast Bureau, Lubbock, Texas 79409-2022.
