Owls Open Season Here

City of Silverton and Rhode Pipe Company employees continued their work of replacing city waterlines on Labor Day, in an effort to spare the people as much inconvenience as possible from having their water turned off while the work was being done. It was hoped that most of the people affected were away from home at that time. New water lines are being installed with a Community Development Program grant, in an effort to improve water pressure and to meet State Fire Marshall's requirements as they apply to fire hydrants. The city's key rate for fire insurance should be reduced with the completion of this work. Briscoe County News Photo

New Permit Required For Oversized Load

Beginning September 1, a new annual permit allowing certain vehicles to exceed the maximum allowable weight will be issued by the highway department. The permit was authorized during the last regular session of the Texas Legislature.

The new law applies to vehicles carrying loads that can be "reasonably dismantled." Loads that cannot be broken down into smaller units are covered by current permit classifications.

Weight limits are set to protect Texas roadways from damage due to heavy loads. Permits allow heavier vehicles to travel designated routes upon payment of a fee, which helps cover road repair costs.

The new permit costs $75 a year and requires a $15,000 bond. It allows vehicles to exceed the maximum axle weight by up to 10 percent and the maximum gross weight by five percent. It applies to trucks operating on state highways, on county roads and bridges, and on other roads designated by the counties. It is not valid on the Interstate system.

Ice Cream Scream Set For Graded Choirs

An Ice Cream Scream will kick off the graded choir year at First Baptist Church in Silverton.

All youths, ages four through grades six, are invited to attend Sunday afternoon from 4:45 until 5:45 p.m.

HIGGINS-THREE-WAY

There will be a football game between Higgins and Three-Way here tonight (Thursday). Higgins will be a conference opponent of the Owls later in the season, and everyone welcomes the opportunity to watch them in action here. The Booster Club concession stand will be open.

This law also allows agricultural commodities, shipped in their natural state, to exceed axle weight by up to 12 percent and gross weight by five percent without a permit or bond.

Application for this permit will be by mail only. Further information and applications are available at highway district offices and tourist bureaus.

Rules to implement this new law were passed by the highway commission August 29 and will be posted in the Texas Register for public comment.

Silverton's varsity Owls open the new football season here Friday night by hosting the Amherst Bulldogs. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m., but there will be some pre-game activities, not the least of which is the Booster Club's hamburger supper beginning at 6:00 p.m.

The players and their parents will be introduced before the game.

The Owls finished their scrimmages in good condition, and the junior varsity Owls scrimmaged well at Valley last Saturday. Both the coaches and Owls are anxious to get the season underway, since all have been working out hard to compensate for the valuable players they lost by graduation last spring.

Heading the list of players are the seniors, Kendal Minyard, Joey Leal, Denny Hill, Bryan Ramsey, Frank Lowrey and Teddy Hubbard. Listed on the roster from the Junior class are Kirk Couch, Wayne Henderson, Bradley Brunson and Rob Weak. Sophomores are Brian West, Bryan Breedlove, Jeff Smith, Brian Martin, Josh Brooks, Langdon Reagan and Lyndell Ivory. Joining the team for the first season are freshmen Frank Ramirez, Stephen Cavitt, Wil Bomar, Casey Frizzell, Lance Bradford, Lance Smith and Stan

Gamble, all of whom looked promising in junior high school.

Amherst has a new head coach in Royce Petty, who knows what it takes to be a winner. He is a former all-state quarterback from Highland, who led his own team to the state championship in 1982-83. In his four years of high school, his team compiled a 48-2 record.

The Bulldogs are returning five starters, but will have to mature quickly because they have a tough non-conference schedule, as do the Owls. They face powerhouses Bovina, Lazbuddie and Three-Way in their own district.

Booster Club to Sell Hamburgers

Silverton Booster Club will be selling mesquite grilled hamburgers before the Amherst football game Friday, September 8.

The charge for a hamburger, chips and coke will be $3.00. Hamburger sales begin at 6:00 p.m. at the concession stand at Payne Field.

ATTENTION PARENTS!

If your football player doesn't have a sign in your yard, please contact Jeanetta Bradford before Friday.

WE'D LIKE YOU TO RESERVE THE WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 17th FOR A MIRACLE.

George Washington said its creation was "little short of a miracle." James Madison said, "It is impossible for the man of pious reflection not to perceive in it a finger of that Almighty hand" when describing the process that created it.

Washington and Madison were commenting on nothing less than the document that created our government: The Constitution of the United States. The Constitution is the foundation of our country and the means by which we achieve the rule of law and protect our freedom.

The week of September 17th is Constitution Week. Many libraries will have displays and information on this incredible document.

Why not take a look at it. After all, it isn't often you can hold a miracle in your hands.

MAKING THE GRADE

"Give a man a fish and he can eat for a meal; teach a man to fish and he can eat for a lifetime."

As school gets underway for a new year, the teachers begin their job of trying to "teach kids to fish". Education provides a means for youth to become self-sufficient as adults.

Parents also have a key role in this education process, since our goal as parents should be to train a child to be a worthwhile person who can support himself and be a contributing member of society—to be a giver rather than a taker.

Education is a three-way cooperative effort among the child, the parents, and the school. If any one of the three "partners" fails to uphold their responsibilities in the educational process, the child's education will suffer.

Education and literacy are receiving even greater nationwide attention because of First Lady Barbara Bush's crusade for literacy. School dropout, substance abuse, juvenile crime, teen pregnancy, youth unemployment, and illiteracy all are critical problems that can result when the three-way educational support of child/parent/school breaks down.

An ABC-TV news special, "Making the Grade," is scheduled to air on September 14, to address these problems and concerns. We like to think in our small rural schools that we do not have the severe problems that urban families face. I believe that a majority of our families are supportive of their children and the school, but we realize that there are a few families who have some of the problems mentioned above.

Education is a valuable asset that can never be taken away from you. Parents, you do your child a disservice if you do not value education and its potential to improve the quality of life for your child.

I was blessed with parents who valued education and expected us to do our best and to appreciate the opportunity we had to go to school. I encourage each of you parents to give your children that same priceless gift during this new school year. It will pay long-lasting dividends.

Social Security In Briscoe County

by Mary Jane Shanes

You can contact Social Security in a variety of ways. Choose whichever is most convenient to you. You can call, write or visit. You can also make an appointment to file a claim.

Social Security recommends calling before coming to the office for a variety of reasons. You may be able to complete your business by telephone. If you do have to visit the office, you can find out what to bring with you when you come.

Before calling, you may want to have some information with you to help complete your call efficiently. You should have your social security number and, if you receive benefits or have medicare, your claim number. The claim number is shown on all correspondence and is on the medicare card. A telephone number where you can be reached also is helpful.

The best times to call Social Security are Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. The first week of each month is a very busy time and many people try to contact Social Security on Mondays. You may want to avoid these times.

Of course, you can contact social security at any time. If you have a question about a specific letter, or notice, you should have it with you when you call, or bring it with you if you come to the office in person.

If you are calling to report an event which will affect benefits, have the information ready. For example, to report a change of address, have the full new address, including ZIP code. To report a death, have the beneficiary's social security and claim numbers as well as the date of death and information about the surviving spouse, if there is one.

Whether you call, or visit in person, social security employees will try to give you friendly, efficient service. A recent study shows that most people who contact social security by telephone prefer to call if they have to contact us again.

For more information or to file a claim, call 1-800-2345-SSA.

Silverton Raises Money For Muscular Dystrophy Association

Silverton citizens raised approximately $500.00 in pledges and special events during the twenty-fourth annual Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association. In the Panhandle area, a total of $100,940 went up on the toteboard and nationally over $42,209,727 was pledged.

Hosted again by Jerry Lewis, MDA National Chairman for 40 years, the 2 1/2-hour entertainment marathon featured some of the most popular personalities in show business including stars of TV, film, stage and the concert world—all of whom contributed their talents to help in the fight against some 40 neuromuscular diseases. Ed McMahon served as Lewis' anchorman for the 16th straight year, backed up by Casey Kasem and other celebrity co-hosts.

KFDA-TV carried the local portion of the show which was aired from Fifth Season Inn West and began at 8:00 p.m. Sunday and went off the air at 6:00 p.m. Monday. The Silverton Pledge Center was located at City Hall under the direction of coordinators Betty Stephens and Fay Perkins.

The Association currently sponsors some 500 individual research projects worldwide. It also supports some 230 outpatient clinics nationwide, where people with any of the 40 muscle disorders covered by MDA programs receive medical care, orthopedic aids and related services.

The local MDA coordinators said early this week, "We would like to thank each and every one who contributed to Silverton's Pledge Center for MDA. A special thanks to those who cared enough to donate their money; for those who gave of their time—Vici Baird, Lois Hill, Jeanetta Bradford, Christina and Jeannita Stephens. A special thanks to Lynn for the delicious ice cream. We could not host a Pledge Center if it were not for Jerry Patton and City Hall. God bless each of you who cared enough!"

Meagan Welch of Amarillo and Greg Hunter of Midland have been recent visitors in the home of their grandmother, Carrie Dickerson.

All other quilts including antiques will be in the exhibition category. An entry form including a list of rules may be obtained from the Swisher County Museum or you may call the museum at 995-2819 and a form will be mailed to you. Please fill out one entry form per quilt to be shown and return the entry form ONLY no later than 5:00 p.m. Monday, September 18, to the Swisher County Museum. Quilts will be received on Thursday, September 21, ONLY between 9:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m.

Whether it be Grandma's labor of love, made of scraps which gave warmth to her family or be it color coordinated for the perfect decor, each quilt is a unique creation of fabric, color, design and workmanship and many have a story to tell. The Swisher County Museum invites you to be a part of this show with your entries and/or your attendance.

The quilt show is held in conjunction with the Tulia Arts and Crafts Fair which is also September 23 and 24 at the National Guard Armory in Tulia. The Arts and Crafts Fair is under the direction of the Women's Division of the Tulia Chamber of Commerce.

Caprock Jamboree Again Well Attended

Approximately 300 attended the Caprock Jamboree held Saturday, September 2, at the community shelter in Silverton. Among a large group of local citizens were people representing 16 towns and two other states.

The Jamboree organizers and the Silverton Volunteer Fire Department would like to say thanks to everyone who ate and attended the show. It is with your help that each show has become a success.

Don't forget that the next show will be in the County Showbarn on October 7. During the fall and winter months, the shows will be held in the Show Barn the first Saturday of each month. There will be alternating sponsorship between Silverton and Quitaque clubs. Quitaque will be the sponsors in October. Be sure to attend!

For all the indoor shows there will be a $1.00 cover charge for everyone over six years of age. This money will be used to pay for the use of the building and to purchase a public address system. Donations have been received during the other shows, which are appreciated very much.

It is hoped that before too long, the Jamboree can afford to own its own public address system and that with a new system some of the difficulties with the sound can be eliminated.

Please continue to support the Jamboree with your attendance, and improvements will continue to be made.

GARLIC OIL
With Parsley and Chlorophyll

Garlic contains potassium, phosphorous, a significant amount of B and C vitamins, as well as calcium and protein. It's generally accepted that garlic acts as a diuretic, stimulant, expectorant, and sweat promoter. For centuries, it has been a common European remedy for colds, coughs and sore throats. European physicians have reported that garlic has two outstanding medical properties. One is that it tends to open up blood vessels and reduce blood pressure in hypertensive patients. The other property is antibiotic, and several researchers have found that garlic in large amounts can be effective against bacteria that may be resistant to other antibiotics. The addition of parsley and chlorophyll helps remove the aroma of this natural herb wonder, leaving no after-taste or bad breath. Contains no preservatives, no artificial color or flavor, no sugar and no starch.

People Who Own 'Em Love 'Em.

Maybe that's why the number of people who own 'em is growing so fast.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture via the August 16 Federal Register has invited public comment on pending upland cotton program decisions. In turn, Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, is inviting input from its members on the comment PCG plans to submit to reflect the views of producers on the High Plains.

Interested parties have until October 16 to submit comment for USDA's consideration in formulating 1990 program details, some of which by law must be announced by November 1. According to Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, PCG initiated development of its comment at an Executive Committee meeting August 22. But committee members, Johnson says, agreed to delay the finalizing of program recommendations until near the deadline. "Meanwhile we'll have an opportunity to discuss the issues with more of our people, plus we'll have the advantage of the information available in the September and October crop reports and supply-demand estimates."

Two major components of next year's program, the loan level and target price, are not up for debate. The loan level is set by a statutory formula at 50.06 cents, and USDA will consider no alternative to the 72.9-cent minimum target price set by law.

What PCG considers the most significant issue on which the Department requests comment concerns acreage reduction—whether there should be an acreage reduction program (ARP), what percentage reduction should be required, and whether it should be supplemented by a paid acreage diversion program. The PCG group, pending receipt of future reports on

U. S. and world production, domestic consumption and exports, settled on a tentative recommendation that a 15 percent ARP be required and that producers be given the option to divert an additional 10 percent for pay.

Other major program provisions under consideration include:

*Which of two marketing loan programs should be implemented, Plan A or Plan B. Plan A calls for a fixed loan repayment level applicable for the entire season. Plan B, the plan in effect for the past three years, entails a variable loan repayment rate set each week at the adjusted world price.

*Whether loan deficiency payments should be made to producers who, although otherwise eligible, agree to forego obtaining loans. The payment rate equals the difference, if any, between the loan and loan repayment rates.

*Whether to implement the inventory reduction or "half-ARP" provision. This feature offers loan deficiency payments to producers who forego both the loan and deficiency payments and plant no more than their crop acreage base minus one-half the announced ARP percentage. Payments must be made from government-owned cotton stocks and are based on the quantity of cotton otherwise eligible to be placed under loan. There would be no payment if prices remain above the loan rate or if, as is currently projected, government stocks are inadequate to operate the program.

On these provisions, the PCG committee favors recommending (1) continued use of the Plan B marketing loan program, (2) continuation of loan deficiency payments on a bale-by-bale basis and (3) implementation of a "half-ARP" program.

Regulations that will reflect the ultimate interpretation of the 1989 Disaster Assistance Act won't be written until sometime in September. But already there's a budding effort on Capitol Hill, sparked by the protests of affected producers, to correct what appears to be a glaring inequity. And it's already known that at least some of the early information released on the law wasn't quite correct.

In error were statements, in this space and elsewhere, that producers with multi-peril crop insurance could substitute their insurance yield for their program yield in proving eligibility for payments and the amount of those payments. That option is in the law, but it's a discretionary authority given to the Secretary of Agriculture, not a mandate. And since substitution would increase the government's cost, it's most likely that all loss eligibility and payments will be based on established farm yields.

Another misconception has surfaced involving the $897 million widely quoted in news releases. Early on it was presumed by many that the figure was a dollar cap on total disaster expenditures. But PCG is now told that it is only a cost estimate agreed to by the Agriculture Committees and the Congressional Budget Office; that no dollar amount appears in the law, and that there's no provision for earned payments to be pro-rated

Notary Seminar to Be held in Amarillo

The Texas Notary Public Association (TNPA) presents its "Texas Notary Law and Procedure" seminar Wednesday, September 13, 1989 in Amarillo from 1:00 - 4:00 p.m. at the Harvey Hotel, 3100 West I-40, according to Charles Huff, State Education Director. TNPA is a non-profit education association, composed of notaries, headquartered in Austin.

Huff said the seminar will cover all the duties and responsibilities of the commissioned notary, all the laws affecting notaries and the new laws that become effective in September of 1989. Course and reference material are provided for complete understanding.

Completion of the seminar not only assures the individual notary of knowledge, professionalism and legality of service but also assures the public and employers that notaries know how to competently perform the duties of an individual State Officer appointed by the Secretary of State. Notaries successfully completing the course will be designated "Certified Public Notary". Individuals who plan to become notaries should also attend, Huff said. Procedure to become a notary is also explained.

Businesses and other entities as occurred under the 1986 disaster program.

The provision of the law under protest concerns producers who planted and will harvest alternative crops after the total loss of cotton or other primary crop.

A release from the House Agriculture Committee says the law "directs the Secretary to reduce disaster payments by an amount that reflects the value of any crop planted to replace the crop for which disaster payments are received." That release is said by the National Cotton Council and most others to mean the amount deducted from disaster payments will equal the replacement crop yield times the average market price.

And therein lies the inequity, says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock. With no allowance made for the cost of producing and harvesting the alternative crop, he explains, farmers who followed cotton with soybeans, grain sorghum, sunflowers or other short-season crop will be severely penalized.

"They'll be out the early expense of trying to produce a cotton crop and all the production and harvest expense of an alternative crop, show only a meager profit or actually lose money when the alternative crop is sold, and for their trouble they'll be denied most or all their disaster payments."

That provision should never have been a part of the law, Johnson contends, "but since it's there the next best thing to do, and what the Secretary is being urged to do if the language of the law will permit, is for the Secretary to rule that only the value of alternative crops in excess of production and harvesting costs will be deducted from disaster payments."

should especially be interested in seeing that notaries in their establishments attend, since "the best protection against business liability is education of notaries that handle the thousands of business transactions in this state daily," Huff reminds.

Record maintenance, proper charges and posting of fees, proper steps of notarial service, authority for acknowledgements, oaths, certification, identifying instruments and proper recording and identifying of signatures and the use of stamps and seals will be thoroughly covered. Many business, governmental agencies and educational institutions and other private and public entities in the Amarillo area will get a mailing about the seminar but those who do not should call TNPA (512) 346-7428 for further information and registration. Preregistration is $55.00 or $60.00 at the door.

TNPA is the only organization sponsoring notary educational training that has for its members, notaries from throughout Texas. TNPA's annual meeting will be held in Austin September 9, 1989. Please call TNPA for details.

Dear Bob Bullock:

We sell and lease copy machines. One of our customers, who sells copies made on his machine, won't pay tax on the lease amount. He has given us a resale certificate instead. His reasoning is that because he makes copies on the machine then sells the copies to customers, he owes no sales tax on the lease. But we think he does owe sales tax. Please help us resolve this difference of opinion.

S. S.
San Antonio

Dear S. S.:

Your customer is not reselling the machine. He is using it to make copies, and owes sales tax on the lease amount. However, he may use a resale certificate to buy paper and toner because they are part of the copies sold to customers.

Dear Bob Bullock:

I own a pet supply store. I sell special pet food, toys, traveling cages and other products for pets and their owners. I also board cats and small dogs. Do I need to collect tax on the boarding fee?

T. G.
Waco

Dear T. G.:

Boarding dogs, cats and other pets is not a taxable service. But you should collect tax on any charges for pet grooming as well as for products you sell.

TREATMENT MUST BE PART OF DRUG WAR

WASHINGTON — Based on what is being said by government officials these days, one might assume smashing the South American drug cartels is the key to winning the War on Drugs. Break those drug rings, and the war is over. We win. Right?

Unfortunately, the solution isn't quite that simple. Oh, breaking the cartels would be a good thing; putting drug lords out of business always is. But, by itself, stopping known supplies of drugs won't win us the war.

The demand for drugs, you see, won't go away just because one source of drugs is eliminated. In fact, smashing the known cartels in the short run would make addicts' demands more acute. Supplies would be scarce, and desperate addicts would pay anything for a hit or fix of their favorite product. Prices would rise, and crime almost certainly would rise as well.

Therein lies the basic flaw in our nation's drug policy. We tend to focus on only one facet of the drug problem at a time. This month, the spotlight is on the drug supply. We cannot seem to remember that the drug business in one respect is like any other business; it is driven by supply and demand. Those two forces are deeply intertwined, never to be separated.

Supply never will be eliminated as long as there is demand. Existing supplies can be eradicated, but if there is a customer willing to pay a premium price, some innovative dealer will take huge risks and find a way to supply the customer.

Similarly, demand will not be eliminated as long as a ready supply of drugs is available. If drugs are too easy to obtain, the task facing recovering addicts becomes almost impossible, and the lure for potential new addicts becomes all the more difficult to resist. Anyone who took high school economics can grasp these concepts.

Put another way, drug abuse is like a two-headed monster. Both heads must be severed to kill the beast. Cut one head, and the monster will live and grow a new head to replace the one lost.

Clearly, we are moving in the right direction with regard to the first head, which is supply. Our initiatives in South America have caused problems for the powerful drug lords there, and interdiction efforts along our own borders yield increasingly positive results.

But what of the monster's second head? There, our efforts still are sorely lagging. As recently as last year, nine out of every 10 addicts voluntarily seeking treatment were turned away because there simply weren't enough treatment facilities available.

To Congress' and the administration's credit, they began to reverse the trend in 1986 with the passage of an omnibus bill to combat drug and alcohol abuse. That bill led to an increase in substance abuse treatment funding from less than $500 million in Fiscal Year 1987 to $643.2 million in FY 1988 and $806 million in the current fiscal year. The House has voted to keep funding at the same level for FY 90.

More importantly, the FY 1989 bill appropriated $75 million specifically to help reduce the waiting lines at substance abuse treatment centers, and Congress hopes to appropriate another $25 million for that purpose in FY 1990. We need more, but in tough budget times, this will do for a start.

Just as important as money, though, is perception. The perception right now is that our government is concentrating solely on stopping the supply of drugs coming into this country and spending little or no time contemplating what we must do to reduce demand. There is reason to be concerned that our drug policy is not balanced.

The time has come for the president, his drug policy advisor and Congress to put that needed balance into the program.

If you have any questions, comments or suggestions regarding the nation's drug policy, please contact us at 1223 Longworth House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Some Vehicles
To Get Tax Rate Reduction

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said that drivers whose vehicles run on liquified gas will see a welcome reduction in their tax rates beginning September 1.

"Legislators lowered the tax rate on this fuel and they made it a fairer one," Bullock said. "That's always good news to take to the taxpayers."

Since liquified gas is most commonly used for nontaxable purposes such as home heating or chemical processing, the tax is not collected at the time of sale, Bullock said.

Instead, those using the fuel for taxable purposes such as driving on the public highway must buy a decal annually from the Comptroller's office. The decal is then displayed on the vehicle as proof that tax has been paid.

The decal price is based on the registered gross weight of the vehicle and the mileage driven during the previous year.

Legislators lowered the decal price to allow for the increased fuel efficiency of today's vehicles. The decals will cost less even though the driver reports the same mileage as last year.

"Drivers were paying today's taxes on yesterday's mileage," Bullock said. "It was unfair and I'm glad our legislators changed it."

As of September 1, decal prices start at $30 for a vehicle weighing less than 4,000 pounds that was driven 5,000 miles or less the previous year. Decal prices peak at $744 for a vehicle weighing 43,501 pounds or more that was driven 15,000 miles or more the previous year.

There are about 26,000 vehicles in Texas using the decals, according to Bullock.

as the sponsoring business or in a building provided by that business, which saves on construction costs and rent.

Also, as non-profit corporations, they do not pay income taxes.

These factors help keep the overhead low, enabling credit unions to offer loans of even small amounts at very attractive rates.

Accounts are insured up to $100,000 at both state and federally chartered credit unions through either the Texas Share Guaranty Credit Union or the National Credit Union Administration.

I have been shopping around over the past few months for a low rate on a car loan. I have found that the credit unions in my area seem to have better rates than the banks. Why is this? Are credit unions a safe place for my money?

Credit unions were originally set up during the Depression. Workers at a company or plant pooled money to make loans for fellow workers.

Credit unions today are usually housed in the same building

I put a stop payment on a check three months ago. Do I have to renew my request, or will the bank honor it indefinitely?

In Texas, stop payments are in effect for six months, unless they are renewed in writing. This rule applies to any bank, credit union or savings and loan in the state.

If the check is written against an account in another state, you will need to ask the bank for its policy on stop payments.

WARNER SEED CO.

CROP REPORT

Cultural Practices For

TRITICALE

FOR WEST TEXAS, OKLAHOMA, KANSAS

AND SURROUNDING AREAS

Being a cross of wheat and rye, Triticale can be handled almost the same as these crops with good results. However, there are some differences that top managers should be aware of to maximize forage production.

1. Fertilizer: Triticale uses nutrients in approximately the same ratio as wheat. It appears to be at least as efficient as wheat, but it is more sensitive to fertilizer imbalance. Test the soil to be sure the correct amount of each nutrient is available. Since Triticale produces more forage than wheat, higher fertilizer rates are recommended. Generally, it is economical to use 25% more fertilizer than for wheat. Split applications of nitrogen are recommended.

2. Grazing: In the fall, do not let the Triticale get too lush before starting the grazing. Measure the leaves, and start grazing before they are eighteen inches long. Do not over-graze. Using a rotational grazing system will increase the amount of beef per acre by using 20%, and reduce the danger of "wheat-pasture poisoning". In the spring, let the Triticale get lush, but not jointed, before adding extra cattle. This also increases the total beef gain, and decreases the danger of grass tetany. Generally, use a 20% higher stocking rate than with wheat.

3. Forage Triticales usually do not produce high grain yields. Triticale hay will return more cash dollars in most years than selling seed to your neighbor. Most Triticale varieties are protected under the Plant Variety Protection Act. Trit I & Trit II brands are blends of several varieties of Triticale.

4. Adding legumes to the Triticale is an excellent idea.

5. Handle your cattle mineral program just as you would with wheat.

6. Planting dates and rates: Handle like wheat on land preparation and depth of seeding. Plant the same pounds of seed per acre as wheat, but remember, Triticale has a larger seed than wheat, and you must open the drill 25% wider to plant the same amount of seed per acre as wheat. It is best to plant 2 weeks earlier than wheat, and you can plant as early as August 10th. On intermediate varieties like A208W (spring x winter crosses), delay planting until September 20th to reduce the chances of winter kill. Planting in moist soil is better than dry planting. When fall grazing is not important, Triticale can be planted until mid-December. True winter varieties planted after September 20th may not out-grow wheat until the following spring.

7. For hay, be sure to cut the crop in the boot stage. This makes an excellent hay to feed stressed stocker cattle.

Armour

"Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God" ...

In Paul's letter to the Ephesians, he makes a comparison of the children of God and warriors. He says that our loins should be girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness. He makes many more comparisons that exhort us to a proper life. Another thing that Paul urges is that we gather together and worship the Lord. No part of our armour is greater than regular church attendance. Much strength for the week is derived from worshipping with others.

Complete your suit of armour ... attend church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
