Midland Gets Federal School Funds

$66,000 Allotted Project

Elementary School Will Be Built On West Midland Block

The Federal Works Agency in Washington Saturday allotted $66,000 for the construction of an elementary school at Midland.

First word of the allotment of the funds came from Congressman R. E. Thomason in a telegram to The Reporter-Telegram. A few minutes later the Midland School board received telegrams from Senators Tom Connally and W. Lee O'Daniel.

The federal government will handle the construction of the building which it authorized to aid Midland in providing school facilities for children who came here since the opening of the Midland Army Flying School.

Thomason's telegram said the new building will contain thirteen class rooms, a library room, an activity room and a principal's office suite.

President's approval An Associated Press dispatch said Presidential approval was given the Midland project and 49 other war public works projects in communities which are expanding swiftly under the war production program. The fifty projects are estimated to cost $6,200,549. Other projects in Texas receiving allotments and the amounts follow:

Dumas, schools, $39,600; Paris, health center, $37,814.

Midland school officials said the new building probably would be erected on a block of land bounded by Missouri Avenue, O Street, Indiana Avenue and N Street. The West Midland block now is owned by the school district.

Nothing of very much importance has happened this week. The curfew really DID come to pass!!! This is rather a handicap for some of us party boys, but it is in fact for our own benefit. A few extra hours sleep will do wonders for our efficiency and health. Lack of efficiency is the greatest "bottle-neck" in the Army today, and the curfew may be a large step toward breaking this bottle-neck. "Anything we can do, men to help whip the enemy will be one more step toward the victory. I'm sure we don't mind coming home just two or three hours early, do we. If any of you find a lack of something to do when in Midland you might drop in to see the nice people in the WPA Soldiers Recreation Center. They have table games such as cards, checkers, chess, etc., and also have four ping pong tables. Every Tuesday night is "Bingo Night" at the Recreation Center. The grand prize is a long distance telephone call to any point in the U. S. This is really worth trying for so how about going to see them.

According to what I hear the Post Library will be open soon. In fact, up the very near future. That will be a splendid place to spend a lot of spare time. There are supposed to be about 350 books including fiction, reference, religion, photography, literature, history, and several others. That's a fine collection, so let's start using them as soon as they are available.

Here's an idea handed to me by one of the soldiers—how about putting hostesses on the bombers out here; maybe then we wouldn't mind staying on the line so many hours. I betcha that we could get a lot more bombs dropped. Reckon ???

Wilson (Billy) Bryant said here Saturday derrick is being built for the new 5,500-foot wildcat test on his ranch 13 miles south of the city to be drilled by Broderick & Calvert, Inc., Fort Worth, and George P. Livermore, Inc., Lubbock. It is the first test in Midland County in more than 11 years. Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 960 from the west line of section 24, block 39, township 3 south, T. & P. survey.

MacArthur Escaped From Japanese Plots

Heart Attack Fatal To Pioneer Citizen; Funeral Here Monday

W. B. Elkin, 69, pioneer Midland banker and ranchman, died Saturday of a heart attack in an El Paso hotel. His body was found at 3:30 p. m., about an hour after he had gone to his room. He had gone to El Paso for medical treatment.

Funeral services will be held at the First Christian Church in Midland at 3 p. m. Monday, and he will be buried here in the family plot.

Elkin is survived by his widow, a daughter, Miss Lula Elkin, of Midland; and two brothers, Frank F. Elkin and Terry Elkin, both of Midland; and by two sisters, Mrs. Jack Beard of Dallas, and Mrs. Percy Gilson, Jackson, Tenn.

Helped Form Bank He came to Midland in 1903 and helped in the organization of the Midland National Bank, with which institution he served as cashier until 1914. In that year he felt it necessary to be out of doors more, and retired from active association with the bank to enter the cattle business.

He carried on very extensive cattle ranching for many years, and then turned his principal attention to sheep. From that time, till he virtually retired from active business in 1939, he was one of the largest sheep ranchers of West Texas. His sheep ranching was centered on large holdings in southwest Midland and northwest Upton counties.

Elkin was born in Collin County in 1872, and resided there until 1892, when he went to Abilene to enter the livestock business. He later entered banking in that city, and in 1898 organized a bank at Roby, where he and his brother Terry remained until he moved to Midland.

Active in Church Work He was a student at the old Add-Ran Christian College, Thorpe Springs, which has since become Texas Christian University. He married Nola Kate Boyd of Abilene in November, 1896.

At the time of his death, Elkin had considerable holdings in various enterprises, though he was active in only one of late months, the Midland Production Credit Association, of which he was a vice president and director. He was an active member of the First Christian Church of Midland since the time of his moving here.

Ellis Funeral Home will have charge of the services. A coach from the Home left Saturday for El Paso to return his body to Midland.

Cannibals And Head-Hunters Take Warpath

By Bill Boni Associated Press War Editor

Savage head-hunters and cannibals of New Guinea who in times of peace were kept confined to the sparsely-settled island's interior, were reported Saturday night to be taking to the warpath against invader and defender alike in the mounting struggle for this outpost of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's new command.

On a battleground already made difficult by towering mountain ranges, deep-cut ravines and malaria-infested jungles, this uprising of fierce natives was a threat both to the Japanese, seeking to extend their foothold before undertaking the direct assault on Australia, and to the Australian forces whose chief task is to keep the south coast harbor of Port Moresby, a potential invasion base, from falling into enemy hands.

What progress the Japanese were making in their thrust up the Markham River Valley in quest of new airfields was not clear. One roundabout Tokyo claim, however, was that another force of shock troops had driven to the Gulf of Papua, on which Port Moresby is situated.

Bombers Sink Cruiser In the aerial warfare which has raged over Australia's approaches for weeks the score definitely was in favor of the Allies—and MacArthur. A fresh daylight attack on the harbor of Rabaul, Japanese stronghold in the island chain to the continent's north, left one heavy cruiser probably sunk and another badly damaged, boosting to 28 the number of vessels which U. S. bombers have helped batter or blast.

Japanese planes, causing comparatively slight damage, attacked two of the isolated ports on Australia's barren northwest coast. From the usually-unreliable Vichy radio, meanwhile, came an otherwise unsubstantiated report that a new enemy invasion fleet was moving against Southwest Australia and already was approaching Perth.

All of these actions were by and large indecisive. There were strong

There will be an auction sale immediately following the calf show for calves and lambs. Pigs will be sold on the local market.

Show Judges Judges for the show include E. R. Budgeley, dairy extension supervisor of Texas A&M; G. O. Gibson, assistant dairy extension supervisor under Budgeley; D. T. Simons, field representative of American Jersey Cattle Association. Decisions of the

The first day of the show, March 30, will be open to 4-H and FFA club boys of Midland County only, while the second day will be open to producers and club boys from anywhere.

Several out-of-town entries are expected in the Dairy Day division, and local entries, which are still coming in, will bring to a large total the attractions for the class.

Depth Bombs Strike Twice, Wreck Raider Off The Atlantic Coast

Texas Boy Bombardier On Plane Which Blasted Enemy Submarine; No Survivors Seen In Wreckage

NEW YORK (AP)—With depth charges and machine gun fire an American bomber destroyed an Axis submarine off the Eastern United States, Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commander of the Eastern Army Forces, disclosed Saturday night.

After depth charges had scored two direct hits on the conning tower, the plane pilot reported "the submarine was a clay pigeon... it looked as if we had struck an oil well."

"It is considered improbable that there could have been any survivors."

Four depth charges were dropped by the bomber, which spotted the sub from about two miles away while the plane was bound home from a photographic mission, the general said.

Second Lieut. E. H. Epperson of Scott City, Kas., the bomber's pilot, declared:

Made Four Runs "We could see the conning tower of the submarine. We made four runs over the submarine, and dropped one depth charge on each run. The first two were direct hits on the conning tower.

"Crippled by the first hit, the submarine was a clay pigeon for the following runs. The third blast as a 'short,' the fourth was an 'over' (a near miss).

"It looked as if we had struck an oil well. The submarine disappeared from sight. My report reads: 'complete destruction of enemy submarine.'"

The co-pilot, Second Lieut. Barney L. Johnson of Fort Worth, said the bombing was from an altitude of 100 feet.

"We were on a photographic mission," Johnson said. "We went immediately to the submarine to launch our attack. The submarine was destroyed."

In addition to the depth charges, the plane machine-gunned the U-boat.

Spring Is Here, But No Sign Of Hitler Offensive

By The Associated Press Though officially Spring had begun, there was no sign Saturday night that Adolf Hitler's Spring offensive had started. There was, in fact, not even any hint that Russia's winter offensive had been halted.

Instead Soviet pressure was mounting in five critical sectors of the defense line the Germans are attempting to hold around Leningrad, that line's northern anchor; around Staraya Russa, some 150 miles to the south; near Orel, 200 miles below Moscow; around Kharkov, key to the Northern Ukraine, and in the embattled Crimea.

For the moment the sharpest of these thrusts appeared to be that against Orel, in Nazi hands for more than five months. Driving down from the North, the Russians were reported within 35 miles of the city.

Nazi garrisons defending Kharkov faced a double-barreled threat. Many Red Reserves To add to the burden of the hard-pressed Nazi high command, already straining every effort to rush new reserves to the front, sword reached Moscow from Siberia that "tens of highly-trained divisions" are on call in Siberia, ready to move to the front.

There was little likelihood the Russian war machine would run short of materials, either. British observers reported United States and British-made tanks, guns and planes were being brought in constantly.

In the all-important battle of the Atlantic, meanwhile, the U. S. Navy announced two more American ships had been torpedoed and sunk off our Atlantic Coast—and the German high command, in a special announcement, claimed two U. S. Coastal Patrol ships and 11 freighters had been sent to the bottom in the past week.

WAR BULLETINS

MOSCOW (AP)—The midnight Russian communique reported the occupation of "several populated places" during continued offensive operations Saturday and said that 35 German planes were brought down Friday for the loss of five Russian planes. Two German planes were shot down near Moscow Saturday.

NEW YORK (AP)—The torpedo-sinking of a Honduran passenger liner on March 16 off the New Jersey coast with a probable loss of 44 lives was disclosed Saturday by the Third Naval District. Six battered survivors reached here.

MANDALAY (AP)—Strong Japanese forces were reported massed Saturday night for a crosswise drive through the Sittang River defenses near Toungoo toward the Irrawaddy, 80 miles to the West, on the Burma flank where Chinese troops of the fiery American commander, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, already have gone into action.

MELBOURNE (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur swiftly marshaled Allied Forces on this embattled continent while planes of his command sank a heavy Japanese cruiser and damaged another in Rabaul harbor and the enemy struck back at Northwest Australian ports.

DO OUR LIVES SHED LIGHT OR DARKNESS? In Him was life and the life was the light of men.—John 1:4.

No Sacrifice Too Great—But!

This is no time for niggling over matters of definition. President Roosevelt says he does not find the American people complacent or apathetic toward our war effort.

Most of our people are demanding that this nation shall give and work and suffer to the limit of the other fellow's capacity for endurance.

On the whole, our people believe that no sacrifice can be too great to defeat the Axis, as long as it does not interfere with personal comfort and pleasure.

The West Coast has been all upset about the menace created by huge Japanese populations living and working close to vital war plants.

Labor unions were among the earliest and loudest in expressing their hatred for the Hitler-Mussolini brand of totalitarianism.

Capital appreciates that the American system is doomed unless we defeat the Axis. Yet the unwritten books report specific instances in which industries have been and still are delaying all-out production.

The list could be extended and particularized, and always the story would be the same. We're all awake more or less to the danger.

Before this war is won, stern necessity is going to teach us national sacrifice is made up of the individual give-until-it-hurts-like-hell sacrifices of each of our more than 130 million men, women and children.

Spring is one time when we don't admire pluck—that ruins nature.

Eight Records Are Smashed In Southwest Track Meet

Texas U Wins In University Loop; Aggies In Second

By Harold V. Ratliff
FORT WORTH (AP)—The University of Texas won a closely-fought battle for honors in the Twentieth Annual Southwest Exposition Track and Field meet Saturday but Lanky, bespectacled Pete Owens stole the show.

The thin man from Howard Payne won four events and while so doing twice set meet records in his specialty, the 120-yard high hurdles.

Despite curtailment of travel due to present conditions, eleven colleges and high schools in Oklahoma had entries in Saturday's meet in addition to the usual large list from Texas.

The three-way scrap for the title of the University division was a dog-fight until the final events when Texas began to draw away. The final standing showed Texas again champion with 47 points, the Aggies second with 38 1/4 and Rice third with 38.

In the other divisions the results were not close. East Texas State swept through the college class with 42 points while North Texas State and Howard Payne were fighting it out for second place with 33 and 32 points respectively.

Schreiner Institute captured the Junior College division with 59 points, with North Texas Agricultural College finishing second by scoring 30.

Texas A&M spread-eagled the field in the preparatory and freshman division with 76 points. The University of Texas was far back in second place with 19.

Sunset repeated with the high school championship, the Dallas school rolling up 30 points. Alamo Heights (San Antonio) was second with 15, Edgewood third with 13 and Highland Park (Dallas) fourth with 10.

The mightiest effort came from Early Marshall, who pitched the javelin 217 feet 3 inches. He represented Sheppard Field at Wichita Falls. This grassed all meet marks, the best of which was 214 feet 7 inches set by Gilling Graham of Texas in 1939.

Record Breaking Results
120-yard high hurdles high school division: James Compton, North Dallas, with a time of 15 flat in preliminaries. This bettered the mark of 15.4 set by Alfonso Valls of Laredo in 1941.

Shot put high school division: De Witt Coulter, Masonic Home, 53 feet 1 1/4 inches, bettering the record of 51 feet 2 inches set by Andros of Central (Oklahoma City) in 1940.

Discus throw high school division: Keith Vineyard, Edgewood, 161 feet 4 inches, bettering the record of 147

Interscholastic League Meets Are Big Problem To Schools This Year

By Cleddie Sheiburne
The biggest problem confronting athletic directors and officials of Texas High Schools at the present time is that of County and District Interscholastic League meets. Should we hold these meets this year—would that be a patriotic move, or should we refuse to take any part in them and stand a chance to lose them forever? That is what is going on in the mind of school officials—especially those of towns where meets are to be held.

Midland has been host city to a district meet for more than a decade, and will be host to another this year. But the problem of times in them and stand a chance to lose them forever? That is what is going on in the mind of school officials—especially those of towns where meets are to be held.

First Round Of WT-NM Bowling Meet Saturday

Initial matches of the second annual West Texas-New Mexico bowling tournament were started in Midland Saturday night, with teams representing Midland and one team, Palo Duro Drive Inn, from Amarillo, playing.

Five-man class and class B competition composed the first matches, while competition of the five-man division and singles and doubles will be bowled on Sunday. Out of town teams are to bowl on the second week-end of the tournament and in the final session on the third week-end.

A masterful display of the art of bowling is to be seen Sunday when the singles and doubles divisions turn on the heat.

SPORTS--BOMBER

The average bombardier weighs 160 pounds. When that weight ever to dan a grid suit, said: "If these 160-pound bombardiers are Nile Kinnick, we'll do all right!"

The captain scored. Nile Kinnick, pound for pound, was perhaps the greatest "grid great" America ever made. All-American. The University of Iowa quarterback will long be remembered in the minds and hearts of sports followers, not only for his football antics but his gentlemanly conduct off the field of sports.

The stories are many about Kinnick. He is the fellow who gave his All-American jacket to a football player of another school whose leg was broken and with it was lost the chance to ever play football again or make All-American (the player's ambition). Kinnick visited him at a hospital and pitched his jacket on the bed, saying: "here you are fellow, you ARE an 'All-American.' And this same Kinnick, feted by thousands and receiver of the award as the outstanding football player in the nation, never forgot his team-mates. One trophy he won he put in the field house of his university with the explanation "it belongs to the boys same as me."

Prize tale about Kinnick, as Captain Laffer remembers, is: Eddie Anderson, coach, who went to Iowa from Holy Cross, was asked to compare Kinnick (160 pounds) and Bill Osmanski, 197-pound All-American full-back from H. C., and tell which was the best player. Anderson said: "I don't know, but I think that he said: 'If Nile Kinnick as big as Osmanski, it would be illegal to play him.'"

We hope its catching! The spirit of the Big Ten Conference is scheduled football games with service eleven. Let this column be the first to ask the Southwest Conference: "will you do it?" If the S. W. moguls will schedule service teams in Texas and the south they will have gone a long way to make a lot of fellows happy, besides keeping sports in trend with the times—all out for the war effort. Sports are a great morale builder of the service. With the co-operation of the universities and colleges the program of sports this fall and from then on is going to include top-notch events between our schools and our service teams. Big Ten schools recently extended their football schedules from eight to ten games per season in order to play service teams. Even Minnesota, tops in football, altered its 1942 card. Along this line take a look at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station's card for this fall.

Oct. 10—Minnesota.
Oct. 21—Missouri.
Nov. 7—Purdue.
Nov. 14—Marquette.
Nov. 21—Iowa.
Dec. 5—Notre Dame.
Sept. 26 or Nov. 16—Northwestern.

That's a schedule that cannot be equalled by any university or college in the nation. And it's all for the good of sports for the men in service. Another American action which shows we are on the job.

Prairie Fire! Scourge Of The West Conquered By Midland Bombardiers

Prairie fire!
Once the sweeping menace to the West Texas cattlemen and scourge of the plains country, not to mention the ordeal in fighting it is not so feared a menace to Uncle Sam's Air Corps.

Prairie fire fighting 1942 style, is practiced by the "minute men" of Midland Army Flying School with such rapidity and efficiency the ranchers wonder how they ever did it.

Within the miles of stretching grasslands where the bombardiers drop their bombs on day and night schedule and in the path of the fanning March winds, there is, of course a danger from prairie fires. But the Army Air Corps has realized this danger and minimized it. When it breaks out the air men get to the blaze in such a systematic and fast manner, the West Texas natives are applauding.

Plane Spots Fire
A circling observation plane detects a fire. Quickly the information is radioed to the field. Men there are on the alert for fire fighting duty 24 hours per day. The fire warning is taken upon the instant and action is spontaneous.

A detail of fire fighters quickly forms. The men pile into trucks and a convoy moves out. A circling plane able time saving.

The prairie fire meant hours of toll and the danger of life and property to the ranchers. On their same grassland, prairie fire to the air men means a job to do, and they do it quickly and at any hour of the day or night.

One thinks of ravaging prairie fire in terms of the dangerous menace. It was once, to appreciate another task the American boys are doing in the speeded war effort and doing it quickly.

Today's hand occurred in a duplicate game, dealt in the usual way. All North-South pairs got in trouble on the hand. Some doubled East-West at four hearts. I give the bidding as it occurred at one table, where South realized that East might be wild of spades and tried to save at five diamonds.

But five hearts was too much for him and he felt safe in doubling. West ruffed the second round of diamonds and led a spade for dummy to ruff. A trump lead was won by the jack, North discarding a club. Another spade was ruffed and West got back with a second trump to lead a third spade, on which dummy's last trump was used. Then West regained the lead by a club ruff, cashed the ace of trumps to pick up the king, and exposed four good spades.

The remarkable thing about the hand is its resemblance to the well-known "Duke of Cumberland" hand. This hand has been used for many years by card sharps to fleece unwary players. The first victim is supposed to have been the Duke of Cumberland.

The idea is that the victim is given the South hand—touched up to look like a rock crusher. He may hold AKQ in each of two suits, AKQJ in the third, and KJ9 in the fourth. This fourth suit is bid by West, the sharper, who keeps on to a grand slam.

The victim is lured into a side bet that the contract cannot be made against his powerhouse. Of course the whole deal is arranged so that West has two long suits and two voids, while East has just enough trumps to ruff out one of South's AKQ holdings and also to lead trumps twice through his KJ9.

The hand from the duplicate

Hitler's Private Income Millions

LONDON (AP)—The Sunday Times said Saturday night that German heavy industry provides Adolf Hitler with a private income of at least $12,000,000 annually, a portion of which is used for social payments he makes to those whose support can be bought.

The paper said industry raised the fund from concealed taxes on wages. Deposited in a private banking account, it supplements Hitler's other income of between $21,000,000 and $40,000,000 annually.

"I expect to be in Australia until the war ends," she said quietly. General MacArthur is a man who enjoys the comforts of home even in time of war and Mrs. MacArthur has done her best to provide them.

NEW FRIENDS

CHAPTER XXXIV "GOOD AFTERNOON, SIR."

Parris jumped.

"Oh, I didn't mean to frighten you!" The girl was young, and slight. He saw that her hair was a very pale silver-gold, that her eyes were smoky blue, that her mouth was singularly red, her complexion strangely golden.

"Your name isn't Renee, is it?" She looked startled, and drew back a little.

"My name is Elise."

"And mine is Parris Mitchell."

"The one that plays the piano?"

Farris laughed. "How on earth did you happen to know that I played the piano—or hear of me at all?"

"Herr Dr. Berdorff often spoke of you."

"Are you German?"

"She shook her head. "Viennese. You studied medicine in Vienna. Herr Berdorff told me much about you."

"I was very sorry he had to go."

"Yes. I miss him still. I saw him, though, in Germany, last summer."

"Oh, did you? And how is he?"

"Well, he has a church, and he has married."

"What is she like, his wife?"

"Quiet little German hausfrau who will mend his socks, and sew on buttons. You studied piano with him?"

"I was a dunderhead."

"Don't believe it."

"How could you know? He said you were a genius."

"That I was not. Have you been here all of the time, here in this house?"

"My father is the chief of this experimental farm. It was bought by the Liberty Plant and Seed Company. He is really a famous horticulturist—more of a scientist, but that's what he calls himself."

A sudden silence dropped over them for a moment.

"I was in Vienna myself, last year."

"I know it."

"You know everything, don't you?"

"Some people get talked about!"

"What do you mean, exactly, by that, Miss—"

"Sandor."

"What was I saying? Oh, yes. You said some people get talked about. You heard stories—probably that I robbed the state of immense sums of money."

"You couldn't do that."

"Thank you, Miss Sandor. How did are you? Do you mind?"

"Nineteen."

"Oh, you're just a baby."

"Did you think you were a baby when you were nineteen?"

Parris was silent for a moment.

His face clouded. "No, I suppose not."

"Will you sit down, Dr. Mitchell? My father should be here any moment now."

"I came to see the place. I used to live here."

"Oh, no! Really? Here? How nice! Why have you never been here before?"

"I couldn't bear to come back."

"Did you live here a long time?"

"Ever since I can remember, until I went to Europe. I had no parents. I never remembered them. My grandmother was everything."

"I can imagine. But my father—wait till you see him! He is a great dandy."

"I think you mean a compliment, but I do not know why. I am not used to compliments."

"Well, I am going to acquiesce you with some compliments. Did anyone tell you, ever, that you are as lovely as a spring day?"

She shook her head, and her short curls flew like sunlight about her head.

Parris followed Elise into the house.

Elise's father came in presently. He was an amiable giant, with eyes like Elise—the same youthful blue. He had a great beard that spread over his chest. There was something elementally good-humored about him, and gentle.

"You must come often, if my child is not tiresome."

"Elise?"

"She is a little lonely sometimes, and talks too much when she finds someone to listen."

AFTER supper Elise played. Parris listened critically. She had been well schooled. It was good playing.

"I'm not a teacher, but I can show you some things, I think."

He drew back with mock seriousness. "Will you practice?"

"Six hours a day, if you say."

"Heavens, no! But now—where's that sonata? No, the first one. Here, now. Let's look at the slow movement. Your tone is thin..."

"My child, it is eleven o'clock! I had no idea. Please forgive me."

Mr. Sandor, looming through heavy strata of jobacco smoke, laughed warmly.

"It is good to have company, Dr. Mitchell. I hope you will come many times."

Elise broke in eagerly. "Yes, you must feel that it is a little of my home again—if you will."

"You're awfully good. That goes to my heart, Elise."

"You'll come often?" Elise held her hands clasped together like a child.

"Yes. You may be sure."

DARRIS was surprised one evening by a visit from Peyton Graves. Peyton sat for a while, smoked, dined, and made some comments on the weather. It was really evident that he was under some severe strain.

He crushed out another half-smoked cigaret. "Say, how's old Drake getting along?"

Parris raised his eyes slowly and looked straight at Peyton, who flushed uncomfortably.

"Drake McHugh? Well, I suppose you mean in his business. I should think you'd know about that."

Peyton's color deepened painfully.

"You know, I just never did get down to see him. You know how it is."

"All of Drake's old friends seemed to find it difficult to see him. Not a single one of his old acquaintances ever went to see him at all—not one."

Parris wasn't making it easy for Peyton to go on, though it was clear there was something Peyton wanted to say.

"I hear Drake's going to branch out quite a bit."

"I'm a doctor. I have no idea what Drake and Mrs. McHugh are planning."

All at once Parris was sorry for him.

"What's on your mind, Parris? You're in trouble."

"Business, Crescent Hill. I believed it would go after a while. If Thurston St. George had lived—"

"And when you had to deal with the executors, you found you were in over your head? Then sell out."

"I've used a lot of money that the St. Georges let me have for improvements. Use it—different ways."

"Peyton?"

"Yes, I did. I'm in a terrible fix."

"How much of this money did you misappropriate?"

"Eighteen thousand."

Parris whistled. "Well, what do you want me to do?"

"Speak to Drake. I ought to be good on the selling end—handle some business on commission. Through my own office, of course."

"Why don't you go to Drake, yourself?"

"I can't, Parris. It sounds pretty bad, but one time—he came to see me. He asked for a job."

Parris' voice was icy. "What did you say?"

"I had to turn him down. Hated to do it. But Drake was drinking a lot. He—he looked pretty seedy and all that. If he'd straightened out, I needed somebody to..."

It's A Rollicky Bunch Of Boys To Care For, But Sergeant Orsak Keeps Bombardier Cadet Clothed Right For His Work

The man who keeps the budding bombardiers at Midland Army Flying School from sleeping on bare beds, sitting on the floor, running around without any clothes and freezing their frames on high altitude flights is Staff Sgt. James W. Orsak.

He is the cadet supply sergeant at the bombardier college, and it is his job to see that the hundreds of bombardiers-to-be now in training get the proper clothing, bedding and equipment in the correct amount and the right time.

Sergeant Orsak's supply room handles repair of cadet shoes; it handles all cadet dry cleaning and laundry; it issues cleaning implements and materials for the cadet messhall and cadet barracks. Under the supply sergeant's direction are the ten janitors who keep cadet living quarters spot and span.

Even the rifles used by the new cadets in their military drill formations are issued by Sergeant Orsak's supply room.

If you still think it's not a big job, consider the complete equipment for the hundreds of cadets now in training, preparing for the issue to hundreds of new cadets as they arrive, keeping track of the whole business while it's in use and finally seeing that it's all turned in or accounted for when the cadets graduate, just talk to the cadet supply sergeant some time.

But the "headache" of the job says the sergeant, is answering questions. "Fifty times a day somebody is asking when his laundry, dry cleaning is coming back, or what he is to do about this piece of equipment or that. Sometimes it's enough to drive you crazy."

Sergeant Orsak, however, is not new at the job. Before being assigned to Midland Army Flying School he served as supply sergeant for the 11th Air Base at Randolph Field. His home is in San Angelo.

Sergeant Orsak runs his cadet supply room under the direction of Cadet Supply Officer Leut. W. G. Bell, and has for assistants Pvt. Bernard Zielski and Pvt. Jacob Norby.

Ship 500 Tons Scrap Metal From McCamey

MCCAMEY (Sp.)—Harry W. Carter, chairman of the Upton, Crabb, Peocos and Crockett couples scrap collection committee, has announced that over 100 tons of additional scrap have been shipped this past week to bring the total to over 500 tons. The drive is sponsored by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. This scrap is being shipped to the East to mills for the manufacture of oil field equipment.

However it is believed that the Federal government is going to take approximately half of the metal brought in and use it in actual war production.

Carter has received a letter from the War Production Board in Washington in which it was stated that the Industrial Salvage Section of the Bureau of Industrial Conservation is distinctively appreciative of the patriotic service which all of the operators in this territory are rendering as contributors of this scrap drive which is to relieve the present critical shortage of scrap metal.

Eunice Flush Producer And Eddy Discovery Highlight New Mexico

HOBBS, N. M.—Completion of a large flush producer in the West Eunice pool of Lea County and opening of a new shallow area in Eddy County four miles west of the Getty pool were features of Southwestern New Mexico oil developments Saturday.

In West Eunice, Wilson Oil Company No. 8 State, 990 feet from the south and 2,310 from the east line of section 13-21-34e, gauged natural flow through open 7-inch casing of 1,250 barrels in six hours. The big well is producing from only eight feet of pay lime, having entered the oil zone at 3,752 feet and halted drilling at 3,790 feet.

As an indirect west offset, Wilson has staked No. 10 State 63 feet from the south and 1,980 from the west line of section 13-21-34e.

Eddy's new prospect is Nell H. Wills of Carlsbad No. 1 Wills, 1,980 feet from the south and 660 from the west of section 13-20-29e. The strike logged oil in the Yates sand from 786 to 793 feet, the total depth, and filled at an hourly rate of one barrel. Owner has cemented string of 7-inch casing near the top of the pay sand.

Semi-Wildcat Location

A semi-wildcat location for Eddy is the Archer & Jones No. 1 State, 620 feet from the south and 1,980 from the west line of section 7-16-31e. It already has been spudded.

In the North Grayburg pool of Eddy, Harry Tellyer No. 1 State was completed for natural flow of 60 barrels of oil per day through open 2-inch tubing set at 3,037 feet. Located in section 36-16-30e, it logged first pay at 3,032 feet and drilled to 3,114 feet in lime.

Western Gas Company No. 1-A G. W. Toby, in the Cooper area of Lea, also was completed naturally, flowing 75 barrels of oil daily through open 2-inch tubing set on bottom at 3,807 feet, with a packer set at 3,475 feet. It showed first pay at 3,485 feet. The well is in section 12-18-34e.

Lea's Maljamar pool also added a staked as Maljamar Oil & Gas

They Fall Down And Go 'Boom' In A Second, But Men Who Load Midland Army Flying School Bombs Have Ticklish Job

From bombing plane to target in only twenty seconds or less as the bomb flies, but the "boom" that reverberates over these flat West Texas plains takes no seismicographic chart to record the painstaking, exact care that makes the bombardier's feat possible.

Here at the Midland Army Flying School, the world's largest bombardier training school hundreds of bombs hurtle to their own and the targets' destruction each 24 hours, and on the ground, cover-clad soldiers of the 437th Ordnance Company, the army's largest, work long day and night hours loading, carrying and otherwise readying the 100-pound practice missiles for their final "firing."

Bomb Blasts--

"technician". Well, fellows, wonder what they'll do next: give us poor "pressure" privates' $42.00 per month? That would be mighty fine, for me at least.

Heard that Staff Sergeant Rogers, attached to 486th has a little brown headed nurse up at Amarillo. If I was staff sergeant I would get wedded plenty quick. How about it, sergeant?

Got a letter from the gal friend, Liza Jane, at Critters Crossing yesterday. She said all the folks were doing okey except my cousin Willie Williamson. It seems that he was milking ole Spot, (that's my Uncle Fibber Williams' milk cow) the other day, and she kept switching him in the face with her tail. Well, he got mad and tied a cross-tie to her tail and she knocked him over the head with it. So Liza says, it took two hours to dig him out of the ground, he was hit so hard. Too bad, Willie, hope you are O. K. soon.

The Post Cafe is now to remain open 24 hours a day for the night crew. Be kinda nice to have a steaming cup of coffee around 2 a. m., I betcha this West Texas air gets sorta chilly along about then. Will go a long way toward keeping us awake nights, too.

Have heard several compliments on the 437th Squadron Area. Maybe some of the other organizations should follow their example more carefully and get a few of the compliments themselves. Wouldn't that be a good idea?

FLASH!!! Hot off the wire! Private Rush of the M. P.'s is about to "dive off the deep end". Yeah, from a very reliable source I just heard he was going to commit matrimony in the near future—who's the lucky one, Rush?

Sergeant Reigel of the 488th has changed duties. Which had you rather do, issue clothes or issue instructions to recruits?

Wonder why Sergeant Phenehy, post headquarters, is changing from a blue Buick to blue denim this week-end. Could it be he likes his bed too well? Tah, Tah, sergeant!!!

It seems to me that the morale of the field has raised considerably since General MacArthur has transferred to Australia. His men have really been getting the job done lately, and who knows, some of us may have helped train some of the men who have been doing the excellent bombing. That should be an inspiration for us to surge forward to do better work than ever before the new building will be a basic type structure of fireproof construction, but lacking ornaments and refineries of the modern school building.

May Add Improvements Later

They understand funds for decorations cannot be allotted during war time, but that after the National Emergency the district may be permitted to spend its funds to improve the appearance of the building and put it in keeping with the other fine schools of the Midland system.

The federal construction program provides only for the bare needs of a school.

School officials hope work on the project can be started soon so the building will be ready for the opening of the September term of Midland schools. Indications from Federal officials are that the construction may start in April.

Midland school officials have worked closely with Federal authorities in an effort to relieve congestion in the schools here due to the increased population. Superintendent George Heath went to Washington recently to confer with Federal officials.

Scholastic enrollment in Midland increased 27 per cent over last year and the facilities of the system are overtaxed. L. C. Link, head of the school board, said.

Details of the plans for the new building are expected soon by officials of the system.

Wildcatting--

edly is of considerable merit. "On the face of it, it will be seen that processed products could be transported away from Midland, leaving the useless and valueless residuum at the source. This efficiency, eliminating the waste motion of transporting raw material to be processed at the market centers, to say nothing of the invulnerability of a refining center located in Midland as compared to the admittedly vulnerable Gulf Coast and Eastern Seaboard refineries, will bear close scrutiny by the federal petroleum coordinator and the War Production Board.

"Under present conditions by which the oil industry is confronted," Baum said, "a company or individual who opens a new field in the vast but remote Permian Basin is unable to produce his oil and thus the incentive is removed."

"Exploratory drilling could be carried on by the independent wildcatter, to whom a majority of the discoveries in the Permian Basin must be credited, and when a new producing horizon is found, reserves could be established from core-analyses, bottom-hole pressure and reservoir viscosity tests.

RPC Could Advance Funds

"The federal government, through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, could advance the money for the drilling of wildcat wells. When production is found, the operator would be recompensed for the cost of exploration in the amount he otherwise would lose under the present cooperative system. By this system, major companies contribute money to defray the cost of drilling a well, but rarely assume obligation to aid the operator in the event he finds oil. This is where the incentive to find new reserves would apply directly to the independent wildcatter, with the federal government protecting him against financial losses.

"The interest charges to carry the project until the reserves would be needed in the national emergency could rightfully be called a defense necessity and absorbed by the War Production Board."

Urging Permian Basin oil men to face the facts, Baum declared the waste from deterioration and obsolescence of idle drilling rigs is costing an enormous sum and could be averted by adoption of his plan.

Robert Walker Is Made Eagle Scout

Robert Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Walker, a Junior High School Senior student, near 14 years of age, was awarded the Eagle Scout badge Friday night, in a regular Court of Honor ceremony held in the County Courtroom. He is the youngest Eagle Scout in the Buffalo Trail Council, which covers a large area in West Texas.

Awards were made to 18 other Scouts at the program. Second Class Scout advancement awards were made to Van Cummings, and Robert Sutton of Troop 51, and to Billy Dillon of Troop 53. Dana Secor presented the awards.

Bobby Booth was advanced to a First Class Scout, and the award was presented by Stanley Mate.

Merit badges were presented to Jack Cox, George Edwards, Charles Funk, Louis Hartwell, Charles Hunter, Bobby Norris and Robert Walker of Troop 51; and to Frank Aldrich, Billy Dillon, William Paul Elledge, and Walter Smith of Troop 53. Private Tanner Laine, formerly sports editor of the Midland Reporter-Telegram, and now stationed at the Midland Army Flying School, made the presentation to this group.

Star Scout awards were made to Jack Cox, George Edwards, and Charles Hunter, all of Troop 51. Police Chief Lon Tyson made these presentations.

Berte R. Haigh, who heads the air raid warden training activities for the county, spoke briefly of that work and of the part which Scouts may take in it. The meeting was opened with the usual ceremony, with Chuck McAdams administering the Scout Oath.

Seems Newbie Ellis Has Something Here

If he lives to be 105 he will have a perfect numerical set-up! He is Newbie Ellis . . . and he has a long way to go to reach that 105 . . . but he has long-since been "branded" with 105's.

Punny how a fellow will get a hunch that a number is "lucky", or gets set on keeping a number running through his activities . . . just like a good-luck symbol.

Now, Newbie was started on the 105 trend nearly 35 years ago, when he got his first telephone. It was 105 then . . . and it is today. A few years later, 20 year ago, he needed a larger post office box, and it occurred to him that 105 would be good, so he got that. When he needed to put a few valuable papers away for safe keeping, he rented a box at the Midland National Bank, 20 years ago, and it is 105!

Ten years ago he took out licenses for his automobiles with numbers ending in 105, and they have been that way ever since. Near the same time he started that practice with his personal car, too, and keeps it up.

And, now, the laundry somehow got started marking his shirts "105" . . . and that runs the number into some pretty sizeable figures, if you were to add those 105's.

So, 105 must be his lucky number . . . and he has his aim set to climb life's long hill up to that score . . . just for luck!

One Of Four Dead In Crash Has Not Been Identified

At midnight Saturday the youth killed in the accident reported dead had not been identified, an official of the bus line reported to the Reporter-Telegram. However it was thought by investigators that he was a West Texas youth.

COLORADO CITY (AP)—Authorities Saturday sought to identify a youth who was killed with three other persons in a head-on collision of an automobile and a bus three miles east of Colorado City Friday night.

The other dead were: Walter Hutson Kokernot, Longview oil broker; William H. Fletcher, 19, of Big Spring, and Vaughn A. Pate, about 22, of Brady.

Four persons in the eastbound Greyhound bus suffered minor injuries.

The unidentified youth was burned almost beyond recognition by a fire which followed the crash. A laundry mark found in the car bore the name "S Hart," the "S" being the initial or the last letter in the victim's first name. Also found were bits of brown tweed cloth and green and white underwear.

indications, however, that in Burma, on the other flank of the Japanese are of conquest, the invaders were preparing for a new move in force.

This was expected to be launched against the eastern wing of a British-Chinese line that is anchored on the highway points of Promé and Toungcoo—against the wing being held by the Chinese armies commanded by Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, USA. These veterans of four and a half years of war against Japan already were credited with inflicting 700 casualties in a preliminary skirmish, while to the west a tank-supported British regiment beat off another testing enemy thrust.

Free Oil In State-Loar

One mile southeast of the Abell field in Northern Pecos County, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 State-Arthur M. Loar indicated possibility of production from the Waddell sand of the Simpson, middle Ordovician, when a 30-minute drillstem test was run from 5,878-90 feet. Operators reported a fair blow of air throughout the test and recovered 60 feet of oil-cut drilling mud, with some free oil. Coring ahead to 5,900 feet the well yielded seven and one-half feet of slaty green shale. It now is shut down for orders at 5,900 feet. The Waddell (formerly called the Sharp) sand was topped high structurally at 5,854 feet.

In the southwest part of the field Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 4 Sidney Silverman gauged natural potential flow of 1,459.12 barrels of 43.7-gravity crude per day, with gas-oil ratio of 887-1. It is bottomed at 5,309 feet in green shale and is producing through 48 gun-perforations in casing from 5,272.88 feet. Oil originates from the McKee sand, upper Simpson.

Anderson-Fritchard Oil Corporation No. 1 Charlotte Gregg Ogjrie et al. scheduled 6,000-foot Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, wildcat test five miles west by southwest of the Apo-Warner pool in Northern Pecos, logged a heavy showing of oil and gas in the Yates sand from 1,130-80 feet. It halted drilling at approximately 1,225 feet in lime # run 8 5/8-inch casing to the top of the sand pay. For the present, operator will not test the shallow pay but will drill the well on down to fulfill deep contract. If Ellenburger production is not attained, hole will be plugged back and a test made of the Yates zone.

Andrews Failure

In extreme Southeastern Andrews County, Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company and Seaboard Oil Company No. 1-D Midland Farms Company recovered two feet of porous lime carrying sulphur water by coring from 5,122-42 feet, total depth, and is preparing to plug and abandon.

Brown lime was topped favorably at 3,970 feet by Seaboard No. 3 M. A. Thornberry, extension test one mile north and one-quarter mile east of the West Fuhrman pool of Andrews. It is drilling ahead past 4,051 feet in lime.

Midland Stores And Shops Now Are Presenting Spring Fashions Which Are More Appealing Than Ever

To look your loveliest is good for everybody's morale—your own included—and that is just what Midland women are determined to do.

Stores of the city are presenting Spring fashions which are more appealing than ever.

In stores and shops of Midland are the clothes milady wants for Spring. Buyers have been careful to select types and styles desired by the women of the Permian Basin area.

Your part may be one of the various Civilian Defense activities or like millions of women, your part may be that of running a home smoothly and efficiently... keeping a family well nourished on a carefully balanced diet... or taking over a man's job.

Keep Fashion Flying

Whatever your part—keeping calm, cool and courageous under all circumstances is indeed a most important contribution to victory.

In Midland's stores are simple, functional clothes for all types of war activities; and gracious, feminine clothes for those precious moments of relaxation. Make the selections of the clothes you'll need. They are "all out" to make you look your loveliest every hour of the day and night.

Casual and "dress" coats take the lead for Spring with wearability, versatility and flattering lines stressed.

A quick glance at the new coats will convince you that for all their fashion news, simplicity and long lasting style are underscored in Spring coats. The two coat silhouettes which lead are "dress" coat and casual coat, both of which are a "must" for a well rounded Spring wardrobe. You may want to put your money on a short coat this Spring. Breezy, young and nonchalant as a nod, they're perfect atop everything from print dresses to suits to slacks to evening clothes. And they may be the American women's favorite this Spring.

New Print Textures

The style story for 1942 Spring fashions has been printed on yards and yards of new rayon weaves which are as much a part of the mounting interest in prints as the character of the designs. America's favorite creators have drawn design inspiration from world-wide sources, but have employed the advantage of their country's own man-made yarn to achieve new ways of setting off the print themes.

From a look at all of the new clothes this is going to be the most colorful Spring ever. From your hat to your shoes, you'll be wearing bright, eye-catching colors which are spirit-lifting to wear as well as to see.

Suits, suits and more suits is the fashion cry for Spring and repetitive as it may sound, they are headed for a record-breaking success. There is a suit designed for every occasion, for every hour of these busy days and nights. Suits for defense work, suits for business wear and suits for afternoon and evening.

The classic three-button longer jacket suit is highlighted for tremendous success in ice cream pastels as well as pastel plaids. Featuring smooth shoulders, flat patch pockets and flattering long jackets

In the dry-lot division of the annual classic, places awarded were as follows: W. D. Chandler, first; L. A. Baker, second; Leroy Baker, third and fourth; Ralph Coates, fifth; H. A. Baker, sixth; and William Woolsey, seventh.

Besides taking grand champion honors with his entries, Elmer Anderson won all places in the milk-fed calf division of the show.

275 People View Model Airplanes Monday; Col. Davies Commends Work

The Industrial Arts Department of High School exhibited their model planes to a crowd of approximately 275 people Monday in the workshop in the gym. Many visitors were interested and amazed to find the students doing such work and observed the progress the class was making in the construction of model airplanes. All visitors reported the Industrial Arts Department was most interesting. The department was honored by having Colonel Isaiah Davies, the commanding officer of the Midland Army Flying Field, Colonel Davies talked about several American type planes, pointing out the outstanding points of interest on various models. He was very pleased with the model planes constructed and said they would be a benefit to the Midland Army Flying School. "It is much easier to recognize and learn ships from models rather than silhouettes," Col. Davies stated. A number of other officers went through the department.

Homemaking Girls Display "Vittles For Victory Foods" In Grocery Stores As Their Part Of National Defense

Teachers Attend Lubbock Meeting Of State Association

Midland High School teachers attended a two-day session of District 4 meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association in Lubbock Friday and Saturday. Outstanding speakers for the meetings were Dr. John E. Brown, President of John Brown University, Siloam Springs, Arkansas; Dr. George William Frasier, President Colorado State College of Education; and Dr. Homer P. Rainey, President University of Texas. A welcoming address was made by W. T. (Tunlac) Strange of Lubbock. A band concert was presented by the Westerner Band of Lubbock High School at the opening session. Friday night a symphony concert was given by the symphony orchestra of Lubbock Senior High School and Texas Technological College. Teachers attended sectional meetings Friday afternoon. Midland teachers are members in this district for the first time this year, previously being enrolled in the El Paso district. Officials asked for a transfer because of the greater distance to El Paso meetings.

In an effort to assist the American people to know the "Vittles for Victory Foods," the Midland High School Homemakers will display defense foods in three local grocery stores through the month of March.

Through the cooperation of the commercial department in high school, 1,500 copies of the victory foods were mimeographed. These foods were compiled by the Texas State Nutrition Committee for an adequate well-balanced diet for an average individual.

Beginning the program on March 7, the homemaking girls, through the courtesy of Mr. Deibert Downing, Safeway Store manager, displayed the "Vittles for Victory Food" to customers.

The homemakers again exhibited the foods on March 14 in the Piggy Wiggly Shopping Village through cooperation of Mr. Bill and Ellis Connor, owners.

Starting March 28, the display will be given in the West Texas Food Store through the permission of Mr. John Caselman, manager.

"Foods to promote self defense for national defense" is the slogan adopted by the Midland Homemaking chapter. In keeping with the selected slogan, the girls are studying nutrition, conservation in sugar, flour, and other foods, care of sick, how to establish well equipped housing facilities during an air raid emergency, and how to make others aware of the responsibilities placed upon the American people to win the war.

Clubs sponsors, Miss Iva Butler, foods instructor, and Miss Jeanne Logan, clothing instructor supervised the work.

April 10 Date For District Inter-Scholastic Meet

The District Interscholastic League will be held it was announced in assembly Thursday. Due to the tire shortage it was doubtful for awhile if this meeting would be held; however enough schools signed to justify its being held.

It was also announced that the same sponsors as last year would be in charge of the various events. Mr. J. C. Moore, debate, Miss Gladys Penson, extemporaneous speaking, Miss Pauline McMurrey, one-act play, Mrs. De Lo Douglas, declamation, and Miss Ella Lunday, essay.

Second Order For Senior Rings Arrives

The second order of senior pins and rings arrived Wednesday morning at high school and Gerald Nobles, senior president, distributed them to anxious students.

This was the last order to be taken for this school year. The sets are blue instead of red this year, because the red stone used in previous years cannot be obtained on account of the war conditions in Russia. Gerald sighed with relief as the last ring was handed out.

Supt. Heath Talks To Club On Ways Of Financing A School

"Financing a School" was the subject of Supt. George A. Heath's talk to the Science Club Wednesday morning. In his speech Supt. Heath pointed out the different sources of revenue, where the money is spent and for what purpose it is spent. He said as an example, each student, much of this derived from gas taxes, and because of the shortage of tires people will be buying much less gasoline, therefore the amount allowed each student will very likely be lowered. He stresses the fact that with the increase of taxes and the decrease of various types of businesses, the school would have to be run on a more economical base. "The youth of today must pay the debts of tomorrow," he stated, "and should because of this learn to be more conservative."

Mr. Gardner, director of the new musical programs sponsored over KRLH took a picture of the girls' chorus club. The chorus club has been asked by Mr. Gardner to present a complete program over the air sometime before May. The N. T. S. T. C. presentation of the A-Coppella choir in Odessa drew quite a number of Midland people Monday night. Several teachers including Mrs. De Lo Douglas, Miss Merle Smith, Miss Jessie S. Price, Miss Iva Butler, and Miss Helene Miley attended, and also a number of high school students; Jacqueline Theis, Faye Dublin, Gene Hays, Marion Midkiff, Billy Joe Stickey, Bradford Clendennen, Leon Beyer, Betty McCarroll, Doris Cain, and Daisy Barney. Mrs. Douglas talked to Dr. W. Bain about bringing the choir to Midland. The choral contest, which was to be held in Odessa in April, has been canceled for region B; the contest was canceled because of the distance that some organizations would have to travel and the tire rationing program deems this unadvisable.

Model Airplane Makers Go Through Sloan Field

A large number of model airplane makers made a trip to the Midland Flying Field Wednesday afternoon. The group was conducted through the field; an officer pointed out various works that were under way. They went through the school, the barracks, and mess hall. The group was amazed to see such large containers and such large quantities of food. The officers told how they worked in shifts and the manner in which they ate.

The Midland F. F. A. Chapter returned Sunday night from the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show where they took part in F. F. A. day there Saturday. The group left here early Friday morning, stopped over in Cisco for lunch, and reached Fort Worth late that afternoon. Friday night was spent at various shows and previews.

Saturday morning the group saw T. C. U., and then spent the rest of the day at the stock show seeing various exhibits, the rodeo, and the carnival.

Saturday night the boys went to an ice hockey game and skated afterwards. R. C. Vest said, "It was real ice, too, and hard—just ask any of the boys." It was the first trip to Fort Worth for several of the boys.

Students Go In For Yoyos; Easier Said Than Done, Try It

Midland High School students are taking up a new fad—yoyos. Each day during the noon hour, you will find juniors, seniors, freshmen and sophomores, having a yoyo on a string and doing fancy tricks. Patky Collins has been trying, but a junior boy said that she didn't have the right grip. Belva Jo Knight seems to be an old hand at this kind of sport; she can do a few fancy tricks. The freshmen have all gone yoyo crazy. After school while walking down the street you see girls and boys of the freshman class with yoyos in their hands. They seem to know all about the different hand turns to make the tricks neat. Between classes you will see a boy here or there yoying. When asked if it is an easy job, the reply is "Oh it is very simple." But did you ever try yoying?

Members Receive Honor Society Cards

Members of the Midland Chapter of the National Honor Society received their membership cards Thursday morning. The card has the seal of the society on it, the name of the society, the name of the member, and is signed by the society secretary, Mr. Church.

Appear Neat; Keep Up Civilian Morale

"The first impression is a lasting one." Interest in personal appearance is in the news now more than ever because it helps keep up the morale of the people around us. Expensive attire doesn't make a person attractive, although it may help. A student was heard to say, "I had rather be neat in inexpensive clothes than slouchy in expensive ones." Attractiveness may depend on a person's habits in speech, walk, posture, and attitude, as well as his way of dressing. The personal opinions of one's friends rise with his ideals in appearance.

Dr. H. D. Morgelock Speaks Thursday To High School Students

Dr. H. D. Morgelock, President of Sul Ross State Teachers College at Alpine, Texas, spoke to the students of Midland High School Thursday morning in assembly.

Dr. Morgelock said, "We often make mistakes when we're tired; if we make a great deal of mistakes we should change our program of education and living."

"After the war is over, the youth of America will have the greatest opportunity they have ever had before, but they will also have a great responsibility," Dr. Morgelock said. "Your life is what you make it, and in school what you learn is determined on what you put into it, because the teacher can't make you learn. The thing for you to do is to digest the knowledge you learn. Find what you are best in and keep at it."

Dr. Morgelock said, "Take subjects that keep your nose to the grindstone and that you enjoy most; there isn't a person who can't do a thing worthwhile; be happy in whatever he is doing, and find something in which he can excel." Superintendent George A. Heath introduced the speaker.

Midland Hardware and Furniture Co.

Do you know the three great services advertising renders You?

To SURVIVE, an industry must serve the people and serve it well.

There are many ways in which advertising serves, but here are three of great benefit to you.

Advertising constantly operates to improve our standards of living by lowering prices.

It does this by making the economies of mass production possible.

You can make 500,000 of an article for much less per article than if you made only, say—100. So you can sell it for less.

With these lowered prices, more people can buy things and the standard of living of all the people goes up.

In other countries automobiles are almost unheard of in middle-class families. But, today over 20 million automobiles are driven by our people because with the aid of advertising their prices have been brought down within the means of more people.

Advertising makes possible free competitive enterprise.

Through advertising a small business man can expand to the full limits of his value to society. He can take his case before millions, whereas without advertising only a few hundred could be reached.

This creates healthy competition between business.

The consumer is always the gainer because competition forces quality and service to be better and prices to be lower.

Consider the automobile, radio, mechanical refrigerator or almost any product of 15 years ago and these products today. In every case you'll find quality improvement along with the lower prices.

Advertising helps vitally to perpetuate our Bill of Rights—our Freedom.

It does this by helping newspapers, radio stations, magazines, and other means of expression to remain solvent from the advertising revenues received. Without a free press our Bill of Rights would be next to worthless, because we would never be sure of what was going on. This would leave us wide open for the dictators—much the same as in Germany, Russia and Italy today.

WHAT TO DO

Mention these points if you run across an uninformed fellow who misunderstands the importance of advertising in our American Way of Life.

And make advertising your daily buying guide—because if you see a firm or product consistently advertised you can be pretty sure that firm or product is delivering you the greatest value for your money in quality, service and price.

Senior Play, Drama Of 17th Century, Starts Rehearsal

The senior play, "The Imaginary Invalid," which is to be given some time in the future, is rapidly getting under way.

It is a 17th century costume play written by Moliere and adopted for High School use by Merritt Stone. It is one of Moliere's most delightful satires.

"The most delightful thing about the 17th century period drama is the artificiality of 'mannerisms,'" Miss McMurry, director said. "I am having a great time teaching the cast to laugh with the characters instead of at them."

The students of the play find that although our ancestors had a different type of humor from ours, it is just as amusing, and far more subtle.

Here And There On The Campus

Jean Schottlander sat down in chewing gum, in clothing class, and said, "Well, at least someone will get a laugh out of this, but I fall to be the one."

Miss Miley has held out her hand for "ad" money for the annual so long, that she unconsciously holds out her hand when talking.

A loud applause by students and bashful looks by Midland High School English teachers were the results of Dr. D. H. Morelock's statement, "If the English teachers would write on some of the subjects they assign, they might not assign them."

Veneraeal Clinic Has Gone Far In Ridding Midland Of Disease

The program for the prevention and cure of veneraeal diseases in this area is meeting with marked success, records of the Midland County Health Unit indicate. Working with the medical unit of the Midland Army Flying School, as well as with local medical authorities, the health authorities have kept the spread of disease to a minimum. Police have cooperated in picking up transients from whom infection might be transmitted.

Employers of maids and other household helpers have been asked to see that such employees have health certificates, and to otherwise cooperate in stamping out diseases. All cases are investigated and where necessary are picked up by police and properly disposed of, said Dr. W. S. Brumage, county health officer.

At the present time the Health Unit is handling a larger number of cases of veneraeal disease, as old cases have been recalled for further treatment and some new cases have been found. Every attempt is being made to see that infected cases are not left to be a menace to the community at large.

The romance comes when each makes a play for lovely Margaret Lindsey who has the constant task of trying to keep them from committing mayhem. Frank McHugh plays the part of an ambulance driver who is sad because no one gets hurt.

Like his famous predecessor, "Here Comes The Navy," this picture was produced under the special arrangement with the U. S. Government.
