Experts Say Airmen To Prepare Way For Army To Move On Germans

By The Associated Press WASHINGTON (P)-Enthusiastic American airmen, hailing Britain's massive bombing attacks on Germany as a demonstration of the true meaning of aerial warfare, predicted Wednesday that the growing might of British-American air forces could reduce the Nazis to virtual military impotence without the opening of a second front on the continent.

The flaming devastation dropped on Cologne and Essen, these experts said, were only the preliminary to a campaign of strategical bombing which could cripple the German land assaults.

Military men holding more traditional concepts of warfare did not go nearly so far in their appraisal of results, although they agreed that attainment of some immediate objectives by the use of air power alone was entirely feas-ble. Mainly, these were: Mims Named To ible. Mainly, these were:

Other Centers Hit By Protective Forces Which Clear Skies For Major Armada, As British Declare Air Assaults To Increase

By The Associated Press

LONDON.-Strong British air squadrons blasted again at the munitions center of Essen Tuesday night, mopping up areas which escaped destruction in the 1,036-plane raid Monday night, and striking at other objectives in the Ruhr Valley.

On the home front, the British said a small number of enemy planes dropped bombs in southeast England, starting small fires and causing some damage and casualties.

The German high command, in its broadcast communique,

Steel is the bottleneck of bottlenecks in our war production and strategy.

Ship shortage is cramping us, both in importing raw materials and in exporting the materiel of war, including armies. Rubber is cramping us by depriving us of a recreational escape and by threatening to keep men away from work for lack of transportation.

But if we had enough steel we could solve these other shortages. We don't even have the steel with which to build the plant to make the steel we need.

GREYHOUND SCHEDULES

EFFECTIVE JUNE 7th (Call Agent for Detailed Schedule Information)

Greyhound buses will operate on new war-time schedules. This change in service is being made in order to cooperate to the fullest extent with the war-time plans of the Office of Defense Transportation. The purpose is to make every bus work full time - keeping vital traffic on the move.

America's war program has the right of way! The great majority of the people Greyhound is carrying today and intends to carry efficiently are selectees traveling to examination centers, fighting men on leave or furlough, war workers moving to their jobs, businessmen traveling on essential work. The trips they take are necessary to keep the war program rolling.

With increased service demanded for war production areas and little increase in buses available-it is necessary to divert equipment to routes where it is most needed.

Conservation of rubber is all-importantand Greyhound is taking every possible step to increase the big savings already effected. Today buses use only a fraction as much rubber as private cars per passenger, per mile-and they average more than 40,000 miles per tire.

We hope that these war-time changes will not cause you inconvenience, crowding or delay. But if you don't find travel as comfortable and easy as in normal times, please make allowances! The war effort comes first with Greyhound as it does with you!

STAMFORD, Tex. (UP)-When the chuck wagon cooks yell "come an' git it" they aren't fooling at the Texas Cowboy Reunion, to be held here July 2-4.

And sugar rationing won't rear its sour-looking head to ruin the menus. Fancy sweets just don't have a place in the average cowboy's eats.

The chuck wagon cooks are among the world's most accomplished professionals in their line. At the reunion, they dish up the grub and folks wander from one wagon to another getting their fill.

For one meal ticket entitles the guest to chose any or all of the wagons in the field. It's one of the few places where one really can get all he wants to eat at one setting.

Sit On The Ground

Menus run the full scale, including barbecues, deep pot fried steaks, beans, stewed fruits and always onions.

The wagons are the real things, being used throughout the year to trail the riding ranch hands. The cooks are ready to serve the chuck, regardless of place or whether conditions. The wagons that'll be parked at the reunion grounds are battered and weather-scarred but strong and sturdy, a real picture of the Old West.

Tarps will be stretched from the wagon to afford a bit of shade but guests are not furnished cushioned seats or folded linen napkins. The squat on their haunches or sit cross-legged on the ground-or eat

Here is one of the interesting hands that came up in their game recently. While it was not a spectacular hand, I was much impress-ed by the accuracy in detail dis-played by all four ladies at the table

On the opening lead declarer, after some thought, played low from dummy, and East played the ten, which held the trick. She then cashed the king of diamonds, and a third round forced out the ace. dummy discarding a heart. A spade was led for a finesse of the nine, which fell to the ten. East led back the queen of hearts, a well-con-sidered effort to clear an entry to the West hand. South jumped up with the ace to lead another spade. On a finesse of the jack, East held up the ace, to force declarer to guess how to continue. Declarer led a low spade. East won, then led another heart. On the spades East was then forced to discard her last heart. Declarer took an accurate count of the hands, figured that East had been dealt four clubs, finessed against East and so made the game.
