Nazi Attack Opens Battle For Egypt

Heavy Bombardment Heard; Tanks Dash Down Border, Outflank British As Major Battle Of Nile Shapes Up

By Roger D. Greene
Associated Press War Editor.

A violent all-night bombardment by Axis artillery indicated that the battle of Egypt may already have started Wednesday as the British reported that "very strong" enemy columns of tanks and motorized infantry were racing along the coast toward the Egyptian-Libyan frontier.

While definite word was lacking that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had launched his offensive into the ancient land of the Pharaohs, military observers pointed out that a heavy artillery barrage usually signals an imminent land attack.

Throughout the night, dispatches said, big Axis field guns shelled the British defense lines and enemy patrols stabbed repeatedly for "soft spots."

"Much enemy movement was observed southward from Gambut," British Imperial headquarters said.

Gambut lies forty-five miles west of the Egyptian border.

A Cairo communique said British mobile columns roved the desert west of the main British lines Tuesday and engaged small Axis forces beyond Salum, Egyptian border port.

An Italian war bulletin, claiming the seizure of 33,000 prisoners in the fall of Tobruk, reported tersely: "There has been local activity of our advanced elements on the Egyptian-Libyan frontier."

The British said Axis armored forces moving up along the Mediterranean coast were relatively fresh, since they had not been engaged in the fierce assault on Tobruk, and said Rommel's big push toward Egypt and the Suez Canal was expected to start when these reinforcements had reached the forward zone.

Warships to Take Part

Dispatches hinted that British warships were maneuvering off the coast, prepared to turn their devastating fire on the Axis invasion armies.

Meanwhile, London newspapers predicted that Prime Minister Churchill's return from the United States would be marked by the bitterest criticism of his career but that he would retain firm control of the government.

"This is the most serious personal issue Mr. Churchill has faced since becoming Prime Minister," the London Mirror said, in the wake of Tuesday's angry complaints in Parliament over British war leadership.

But stung as they were by the swift disaster in Libya, Britons generally were agreed they had only one possible leader: Pudge, indomitable Winston Churchill.

Argentina Boils As War Fever Mounting

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The resignation of the ailing and inactive President of Argentina, Roberto Ortiz, was expected momentarily Wednesday, complicating further a tense diplomatic situation created by the sinking of an Argentine freighter by a German submarine.

Additional police guards were sent to the German Embassy Tuesday night as a foreign office spokesman announced that Argentina was taking a serious view of the destruction of the Argentine freighter Eto Tercero and the killing of five of her crew.

Acting President Ramon Castillo, whose "policy of prudence" has kept Argentina one of two South American countries maintaining relations with the Axis, conferred with Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu and the Ministers of War, Navy and Interior after announcement of the German attack, about 100 miles from New York.

Prayer For Victory And Guidance In War Asked By Stevenson

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson in a proclamation Wednesday called upon the people of Texas "to pray fervently that God will direct the President and the Prime Minister and all those in high places in their decisions."

Stating various churches and Christian organizations in Texas have expressed concern over the increasing gravity of the world situation, the Governor said:

"The founders of this Republic acknowledged the sovereignty of God and sought His guidance in establishing a land where freedom and justice and, above all, righteousness should prevail.

"Our national leader, President Roosevelt, is at the present time deliberating with Prime Minister Churchill concerning problems of our common defense and plans for the successful conclusion of this conflict for freedom and right."

Protests Lodged Against House Tax Bill Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means committee put minor finishing touches on its $6,640,000,000 tax bill Wednesday as protests piled up against its decision to grant certain corporations postwar refunds and to impose a 5 per cent tax on transportation of freight and express.

Members said that they should take the final vote on the record-breaking bill by nightfall. Debate on the floor probably will begin early July.

The postwar credit was inserted Tuesday by a vote reported to have been 11 to 10. Several members were prepared to fight it to the finish on the theory that it would nullify the committee's decision to boost corporate excess profits taxes to a flat 94 per cent.

The refund contemplates issuance of bonds to corporations after they pay their excess profits taxes, which would be redeemable after the war in three installments. The bonds would be issued in amounts equal to 14 per cent of the adjusted net income subject to excess profits and therefore would make the long-range excess profits taxes 80 per cent, compared with a present maximum of 60 per cent.

Merchants Further Stamp Sales Plans

Plans for the "Retailers for Victory" campaign here next month were furthered at a meeting of committee chairmen Tuesday afternoon.

A committee headed by John B. Mills Wednesday started contacting all local merchants to urge 100 per cent participation in the campaign which is designed to sell one billion dollars in War Bonds and Stamps through retail stores during July. Placards will be distributed and merchants will be asked to display the publicity material in their stores.

The campaign will open at noon Wednesday, July 1, when stores will sell only War Bonds and Stamps from 12 to 12:15 p.m. A parade will be staged through the downtown section at 11 a.m. on July 1.

The drive will continue through July. All merchants wishing advertising material should contact the chamber of commerce.

Miss Fannie Bess Taylor will be in charge of registration at the courthouse, and B. C. Girdley will handle registration at the Parish Hall.

Men may register between the hours of 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. The questions to be answered by registrants are the same as those in other registrations.

Sub Toll Grows Rapidly; Allies Taking Beating

By The Associated Press

Wholesale death and destruction the like of which the Spanish Main never saw in pirate days was wrought by enemy submarines which over a 12-day period sent 13 United Nations merchantmen to the bottom of the Caribbean.

This was disclosed by the Navy Tuesday on the blackest day of its announcements of ship sinkings since the war began, and with the announced loss of two more vessels in the Atlantic swelled to 309 the war total of Western Atlantic area sinkings.

Casualties ran high, with 48 known dead and 87 missing in the Caribbean sinkings occurring between June 3 and 14; three dead and 85 missing in the June 15 sinking of a medium-sized U. S. merchant vessel off the New England Coast; and five in the torpedoing of a British freighter the same day in the same area.

The Caribbean victims were five U. S. ships, two medium-sized and three small; five British merchantmen, four medium and one small and one Honduran, one Norwegian and one Dutch vessel, all small.

Midland Lions Install Officers

Rubber Scrap Total Growing Fast Here

More than 100,000 pounds of scrap rubber have been assembled in Midland to noon Wednesday, in addition to large amounts that are assembled adjacent to the city in field camps, ready to be brought in when it is time for shipping.

The daily gathering here in the city, in small articles, by the citizenship is as lively as ever, with no letup. This type of scrap is reaching large proportions, and directors of the drive Wednesday were high in their praise of the steady and consistent work of the people in general.

Hot Oil Act Made Permanent Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt signed Tuesday afternoon a bill making permanent the Connally hot oil act.

The legislation, originally passed in 1935 as a temporary measure, forbids interstate shipment of oil produced in violation of state laws. It was planned at first to cope with the Texas situation, but was made national in its scope. Enacted first for two years, it was extended to 1937.

Allotment, Allowance Bill Signed By President; Terms Are Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt signed the service men's pay allotment and allowance bill Wednesday, paving the way for financial aid to dependents of fighting men and reclassification of married men for the draft.

Providing for Federal payments to supplement allotments from service men's pay checks to support their dependents, the legislation also contains a provision enjoining a Congressional policy that selective service should "not break up the institution of the home."

To carry out this policy, Congress wrote into the bill authority for Selective Service officials to defer any and all categories of men having dependents with whom they maintain a bona fide family relationship in their homes.

Under this provision, members of the House Military Affairs Committee said, selective service probably would set up separate groups within the registrants now in class three. In the first group would be men with a working wife, in the next men with a non-working wife, then men with one child and on down the line. Before any men in class three would be inducted, all eligible registrants from classes one and two would be called.

The legislation recognizes the financial aspects of dependency but departs from existing policy in that it stresses the family relationship. The allotment and allowance provisions apply to men in the Army up to and including the rank of Lieut. Colonel and in the Navy to men up to and including Third Class Petty Officers.

Tanks Crush Defense As Nazis Drive Wedge Into Red Main Lines

Sevastopol Holds Off Massed Attacks In Heroic Defense; Nazi Planes In Incessant Bombing, Machine-Gunning Of Red Soldiers

By The Associated Press.

For the second day the Red Army conceded Wednesday that the Germans had driven a wedge into Russian defenses on the Kharkov front, using a massed force of 200 tanks at a single point in an onslaught constantly increasing in fury and power.

The Germans apparently are oblivious to immense losses as they throw in ever greater numbers of tanks, planes and infantry, but they still have not managed to achieve any real success, declared Red Star, official Army paper.

While the defenders of the besieged Crimean port of Sevastopol staved off superior enemy forces in a battle now in its 20th day, the strong attack in the Kharkov area began Monday and had gained in vigor ever since, the Russians said.

"The enemy is supporting his troops with large numbers of aircraft, raiding many advanced lines of our defenses and the adjoining rear," said Red Star.

"Our fliers patrolling over the strong area are repulsing the enemy in the air... they are greatly assisted by our reinforced anti-aircraft defenses."

"The Germans are using big tank masses to clear the way for their infantry."

"Yesterday 200 enemy tanks followed by several infantry units attempted to break through in one sector."

"Our troops staunchly met the enemy's blow. The experience of previous battles with German tanks helped them correctly to organize anti-tank defense."

Hitler's field headquarters asserted that Axis troops had "annihilated" remnants of Soviet forces still resisting on the extreme tip of an isthmus north of Sevastopol Bay, and listed 11,000 prisoners taken from June 7 to June 22.

The Nazi command pictured German warplanes as blasting incessantly at Russian field and artillery positions while Axis shock troops stormed concrete bunkers, earthworks and other fortifications.

Chinese Recapture Strategic Center

CHUNGKING (AP)—The Chinese command announced that its armies in Kiangsi Province had recaptured Kweiiki, thus pushing back the western claw of the Japanese pincer which had come within 50 miles of closing on the strategic Chekiang-Kiangsi railway.

At the same time a communique said that 15,000 Japanese troops had started a new drive in Chekiang Province, east of Kiangsi, aimed toward Lashui, important highway center 175 miles south of Hangchow and midway between the coast and the rail line where fighting previously has centered.

Call Pacific War Council To Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt Wednesday called a special meeting for Thursday of the Pacific War Council, which Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain and Prime Minister MacKenzie King of Canada will attend.

Stephen Early, a presidential secretary, in announcing the call, did not say for what purpose the meeting was arranged. There was to have been, however, a regular meeting of the council.

It was announced that MacKenzie King was en route here for the meeting. Special importance was believed to be attached to the meeting because of his planned appearance, since Canada usually is represented in council meetings by its minister here, Leighton McCarthy.

Hoarded Silver

Out of Washington comes word that we are risking power shortages, which would slow down war production, because we can not spare copper from munitions for use in electricity installations.

The power shortages are problematical. They lie somewhere in the future. We may get by without increased power facilities. But we can not get by without shells for our soldiers and those of our allies.

Under such circumstances few will question the War Production Board's decision to take the shells now and worry about electricity later, if we have to.

But what burns up the WPB, and most others who know the facts, is this:

There is no need to risk having to shut down vital war plants for lack of power. We could have munitions and also plenty of electricity, if we put on the pressure.

The Treasury now possesses 120,000 tons of silver. There is being produced in the United States 2000 tons of silver each year. This could be used to assure the electricity we may need badly before long.

Silver is one of three metals particularly suitable for use as a conductor of electricity. One is copper—which is so scarce we can not spare it from direct war material. One is aluminum—which is so necessary for planes that we have used vital steel to build plants to multiply our aluminum output.

The third is silver, of which 120,000 tons lie idle in Treasury vaults and 2000 more tons are added annually. Some idle silver has been released to replace copper in electric power busbars and transformers. Donald Nelson is trying to obtain another 37,000 tons, on condition that after the war it shall be returned to Treasury vaults.

Why must we go through all this rigmarole in order to persuade the Treasury to permit the use of silver to help win the war? Because that's the law.

On the open market silver is worth 35 cents a troy ounce. The Treasury is required, however, to take all that is offered from domestic mines at 71 cents an ounce, regardless of the market, or up to $1.29 if, by some miracle, the market price were to exceed 71 cents. Naturally, domestic silver goes to the Treasury, not to industry.

The Treasury is forbidden to sell silver, for any purpose, for less than $1.29 to reach troy ounce.

So, willy nilly, while we risk the disaster a real power shortage might bring, the Treasury hoards enough silver to relieve the danger. Nothing can be done unless Congress is willing to override the silver bloc's bitter-end opposition.

That, briefly, is the tragedy of silver.

Feldspar Said Cheapest, Effective Protection From Incendiary Bombs

A cheap and easily obtainable material effective in extinguishing incendiary bombs is feldspar, the Geological Survey of the Department of the Interior reports. Because the handling of such bombs may become of common concern to all people, the department has made a special study finding feldspar most effective as well as economical. Several products have been put on the market which it is found are unsatisfactory, and people should be sure that they have reliable information before purchase of any item. This can be supplied by the department. Feldspar is recommended because, first, it is inexpensive, and should not cost more than 30 to 75 cents per 100 pounds. This is enough for the average small home to have on hand. Secondly, feldspar is readily available, as it is common to many of the ordinary rocks, such as granite, syenite, pegmatite, apatite, orthosite and monzonite. Third, feldspar is easily handled. Its use requires no expensive equipment or special training. Once feldspar has been applied to burning magnesium, the bomb requires no further attention. In the fourth place, feldspar is effective. With a lower melting point than sand, feldspar quickly forms a protective coating over molten magnesium, which cuts off the supply of air and stops the burning. It is better than mixtures containing salt, pitch, ashes or fine powders that do not burn, for feldspar does not burn, does not throw off smoke, blow out, or scatter badly. Bombs have been set on ordinary pine floors and have burned hardly any into the floor after application of feldspar, for the fire was put out so quickly. It cuts off the oxygen entirely, and snuffs out the fire.

Bobby Jones Now Heading 800,000 Plane Spotters

NEW YORK (AP)—When a fellow shoots close-to-par golf and still winds up 19 strokes back of the top money, it's time to admit the other guys may be getting "too hot" for him, but that's not the reason Bobby Jones is hanging up his clubs for the duration.

Bobby—it's Captain Robert Tyre Jones now—was still slightly shell-shocked today as he recalled last week's Hale America tournament at Chicago, during which Ben Hogan left him far back, although he was right up near regulation figures all the way.

But he pointed out emphatically that the big idea in trading in his sticks for that soldier suit and those double silver shoulder bars was that he figured he could use his eyes for something more important than lining up putts.

So did Uncle Sam's army. And, as a result, the round-faced man with the Peachtree Street accent started out today on an assignment that will make him the biggest pair of eyes among the 800,000 pairs that will be spotting enemy planes for the army's fighter aircraft along the Atlantic Seaboard from Maine to Key West.

Fresh from the Chicago shot-making, he was ordered to start a course here in the Aircraft Warning Service, which mans observation posts along the entire coast line.

"After completing this course," explained Brig. Gen. John K. Cannon, commanding general of the First Fighter Command, "Captain Jones will be assigned to organizing and instructing volunteers in this vital observation service.

The service comprises more than 800,000 civilian volunteers. They have truly been described as the eyes of the First Fighter Command. They release for combat duty thousands of soldiers—as many as 30,000 or 40,000—who would otherwise have to man the observation posts.

Clubwomen Plan Fruit-Canning Budget

"Know what you are buying is going to cost you before you get to the checker's desk," advised Miss Alpha Lynn, county home demonstration agent, at a meeting of the Cotton Flat Home Demonstration Club in the assembly room at the courthouse. She helped each club woman plan a fruit canning budget to suit the need of her individual family.

There should be one serving of fruit a day, fresh, dried or canned, in each person's menu. If five or six fruits are canned, the family will not have to eat any one fruit so often as to tire of it. Cantaloupe, cabbage, kraut, and tomatoes are good sources of Vitamin C and can be used when they are in season instead of citrus fruit.

Kitchen attraction through luncheon cloths, aprons, curtains, and tea towels was discussed by club members.

Miss Lynn served "sugarless cake" made by Mrs. A. L. Gilbreth to: Mmes. Johnnie Graham, O. D. Bevel, Roy Collins, R. D. Byerley, Bill Collins, Floyd Countiss, Jr., Floyd Countiss Sr., and Mrs. Tom Moore.

The club will meet July 2 with Mrs. O. D. Bevel.

Allen, and the two will go first to Amherst to visit Mrs. R. L. Mays and family and then to Vaughn, N. M., to visit Mrs. Frank Adams and family, en route to California. Imported Canned Beef Is Frozen For Army

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The War Production Board Tuesday froze all large stocks of imported canned beef in the United States for 90 days and made them available to the Armed services. At the same time, WPB indicated that after July 2 all canned beef imports probably would be diverted to the Army or Navy.

Hunt County Gets First Oil Well

GREENVILLE, (AP)—Hunt county's first oil well was brought in Tuesday at 2761 to 2773 feet in the Woodbine Sand. Earl Hollandsworth, driller, and W. F. NEWTON'S DISCOVERIES

Today's hand is No. 16 of the contest. It illustrates a simple point in timing. North and South can earn par by bidding and making four hearts. If a diamond is led, declarer must avoid the error of taking the finesse. He can win six heart tricks, two spades, and two other aces, provided he does not let the defenders win too many tricks in the meantime. If he puts up the ace of diamonds, takes out trumps, and takes the spade finesse, he is sure of game even if the finesse loses. He will lose one diamond, one spade and one club, the second club loser in the North hand being discarded on the ace of spades.

If the diamond finesse is taken and loses, West will surely shift to clubs. Then the contract cannot be made unless the spade finesse wins.

The correct play was made by both North-South pairs of the University of Wyoming, Henry Skinner, Jr., and Wallace Tafford, Eldon House and John Bander.

Man With Hoe Is Going To Profit From His Garden

CHICAGO (P)—Swing that hoe, you victory gardeners, it's going to pay big dividends!

Prices quoted indicated the earnings so many Americans are straining muscles over for exercise as well as economic benefit would turn into a neat wartime asset if good weather conditions prevail.

While most of those fighting the war with garden tools will not sell their produce but will consume it themselves, market prices showed the value of their time and effort.

Prices of major garden items quoted on the commercial market here to professional truck gardeners, ranged up to double those a year ago in some cases. Virtually every vegetable is higher and in instances the highest on record.

War Contracts To Be Investigated; Charge Big Waste

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sharply split House Military Committee was put on record by its chairman Wednesday as determined to continue an investigation which it reported already had revealed "a sordid picture" of extravagant waste in War Department contracts.

Whether the investigation would continue to be conducted by three sub-committees remained to be seen, but Chairman May (D-Ky.) intimated he was considering consolidating the inquiry into a single unit.

His intimations followed disclosure that a minority report would be filed soon by Representative Thomason (D-Texas), chairman of one of the sub-committees.

The minority report, members who planned to sign it said, would not disagree so much with the committee's findings as made public in a lengthy report filed Tuesday, as with the manner in which it was conducted.

Approved at a session marked by sharp clashes between May and Thomason, the majority report made these recommendations:

"That war agencies eliminate 'topheavy organization' and 'endless red tape'; that the War Department tighten its supervision over accounting and auditing, strengthen its contract policies, enforce prohibitions against the payment of excessive commissions on cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts, re-adjust management fees, and require employees of contractors to remain in connection with the procurement of contracts to file monthly expense and compensation statements.

"Citizens of this country cannot be expected to be faced indifferently with indifference in spending on the part of the officials of their government after the period of initial necessity has passed and continue buying bonds with enthusiasm, overlooking the extension of bureaucratic domination and suffering deprivations with a complacent attitude," the report said.

Representative Kilday (D-Texas) and Thomason, who were among the nine committee members voting against the majority report, told the House they had not been given an opportunity to read it and could not understand why it had to be acted on so quickly.

"Why in God's name this undignified haste?" asked Kilday. "This statements carried the implication that Donald Nelson is doing nothing to promote this war. He may be only an individual to you as he is to me, but to the American people he stands as a symbol of a man who is going to lead the productive efforts of this war and win it or lose it for the people. He needs the confidence of the American people."

Men Married In 1941 Temporarily Deferred

The Midland Draft Board received a wire from State Selective Service Headquarters Tuesday, stating that men who were married prior to December 8, 1941, and who now are carrying on a bonafide family relationship will be postponed temporarily for induction into the armed forces. Pending legislation on the subject was given as the reason for the temporary postponement.

A man must have a wife or children or a wife and children, and be in a state of bonafide family relationship before he is eligible for the postponement.

"Citizens of this country cannot be expected to be faced indifferently with indifference in spending on the part of the officials of their government after the period of initial necessity has passed and constitute buying bonds with enthusiasm, overlooking the extension of bureaucratic domination and suffering deprivations with a complacent attitude," the report said.

Representative Kilday (D-Texas) and Thomason, who were among the nine committee members voting against the majority report, told the House they had not been given an opportunity to read it and could not understand why it had to be acted on so quickly.

"Why in God's name this undignified haste?" asked Kilday. "This statements carried the implication that Donald Nelson is doing nothing to promote this war. He may be only an individual to you as he is to me, but to the American people he stands as a symbol of a man who is going to lead the productive efforts of this war and win it or lose it for the people. He needs the confidence of the American people."

SERIAL STORY

SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR.

BY BLANCHE ROBERTS

CHAPTER I

JUDITH pressed the cocky little hat over her red curls and reached for her purse. It was 12 o'clock and she was in a hurry to be off, but as she turned to leave the office, the buzzer on her desk rang. Reluctantly she flipped the button with a perfectly manicured finger.

"Yes, Mr. Watson?"

"I want to see you at once, Miss Kingsly," said the president of the Watson Airplane Corp. His voice was crisp and urgent.

"Yes, sir," she replied, her tone lacking its usual enthusiasm.

She could have removed her hat and put down her purse but she did not. It was her lunch hour and he might as well know she expected to eat. She picked up her note pad and pencil and started for his office. When she entered the spacious room, Watson looked up, a deep frown between his eyes.

"Sit down, Miss Kingsly," he instructed, and motioned her to the chair on the other side of the flat-topped mahogany desk.

She hesitated, thinking if she sat down the interview might be too long. He smiled, relaxing his soberness for the moment.

"I know—it's 12 o'clock and you have a date for lunch."

"Not a date, Mr. Watson," she answered smilingly and dropped her slim and graceful figure to the chair, "but I am disgustingly hungry for a girl who has to watch her diet and count her calories."

"He chuckled."

"I won't keep you long and you will have no use for that," he informed, indicating the note pad. He leaned back in his chair and studied her intently with his dark eyes. "How would you like a trip to California?"

Judith straightened her shoulders and looked at him questioningly.

"I think there is a leak in this organization somewhere and to put my fears at rest, I am sending you to San Diego. I want a check-up on the office force out at the factory. Do you want to go?"

Judith's eyes sparkled and she leaned forward eagerly.

"Of course, I want to go." Her voice was swift with decision.

"It might prove to be a dangerous assignment," Watson informed her gravely. "You understand that? There is time to back out and it isn't compulsory, you know. It won't mean your job if you do not wish to go."

"But I want to go, and I love danger and excitement," she told him, and there was a brightness to her tone that gave truth to her statement.

"I know," he smiled with understanding. "That is why I thought of you immediately. You have never seemed to be afraid of anything or anybody." There was admiration in his eyes. Judith was valuable to the company and he knew it. "You're cool-headed and not easily excited when you get in a tight spot. And you have plenty of determination to see a thing through. I've had my eye on you for a long time, young lady."

"Thank you for the nice compliments, Mr. Watson," Judith said, blushing. "But when do I start for California?" Eagerness trailed her words. "I'm terribly excited."

"At exactly 3 o'clock," he glanced quickly at his watch. "You haven't too much time. You will take the plane for San Diego, and no one here is to know you are going. Just walk out to lunch without a word and don't come back. I'll say you phoned in your were sick. A place will be reserved for you on the liner, and you can pick up the ticket at the field office."

He leaned over the desk and his voice was suddenly very low.

"The plans for that new bomber are being carried out to the west coast factory on the same plane. It's a secret. So keep your eyes open."

"How am I to know who has the plans?" she asked. With her red hair peeking saucily from beneath her hat she looked more like a debutante than an investigator. "After all I don't want to protect the wrong man."

"Tall, dark and handsome, I would say," smiled Watson. "Nice, quiet sort of fellow. The name is Tom Burke."

"Tom Burke!" echoed Judith, startled, and color rose to her cheeks. She looked away quickly. Even if she had fussed with Tom and they had parted ways in anger, the mere mention of his name still had the power to send her heart racing. But that was no reason why she should let Watson suspect anything existed between them.

"I thought you would recognize the fellow. Seen you two together on occasions. What do you think of him?"

A deeper flush burned her cheeks and made her furious with embarrassment. She answered a bit curtly.

"Nice on the eyes but conceited and stubborn as a mule."

"Well, never mind." He smiled as if from some inner knowledge and stood up. "Keep your eyes open. I want to nick any sabotage in the bud that might be developed."

Illustrated by E. H. Gunder

As Judith walked through the airport gates, the loudspeaker announced the approaching departure of the westbound plane.

ing in this company. By the way, Burke is remaining on the coast as consulting engineer for the plant." He let that bit of information sink in, then reached for her hand and pressed it. "I am depending on you to carry through for the company."

"Then I'll be on my way, Mr. Watson." Her red mouth curled in a mischievous grin. "I shall have a very good time and spend the company's money freely."

"You have a free hand on expenses. And happy landing."

Judith fairly raced from the building and did not stop to eat lunch. She hailed a taxi and rushed to her apartment to pack a hasty bag.

As she walked through the airport gates, the loudspeaker announced the approaching departure of the westbound plane. The afternoon sun sifted through her red hair, and the light of adventure glowed in her eyes. She hurried aboard the big silver ship and took a seat in the rear. She did not have time to look around at her fellow-travelers for a few minutes. There was the task of adjusting the safety belt and making herself comfortable.

But once in the air, she settled down and let her eager eyes rove the ship in search of Tom Burke. In a moment she saw him, up one seat and across the aisle. She studied what little of his head she could see, wondering if he would sense her presence. But he did not turn. A little sigh passed her lips. She knew in her heart that she still loved him, regardless of what had happened or been said.

With an effort, she pulled her gaze from him and looked around at the others she could see. The man in front of her had his head turned to the side. His eyes seemed to be focused on Burke, but she could not be sure from where she sat. The man across the aisle from her was either very frightened or very interested. His stare was glued to the back of Tom's seat. She studied the man for a long time from veiled eyes.

Just as she settled down to read a magazine, a sudden alarming thought came to her.

"Those men are watching Tom. They must know he has the plans for the bomber."

Stamford Asks West Texas To Name Sponsors

STAMFORD — Every city and town in West Texas is being invited to name a cowgirl sponsor for the Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held here July 2, 3 and 4, according to H. G. Andrews, sponsor chairman.

The cowgirl sponsors again will be a colorful part of the arena shows this year, with the judging taking place at regular performances. Judging will be done this year by the regular rodeo judges. Riding ability of the sponsor will rate 40 per cent in the judging, while her riding togs and equipment will be judged at 15 per cent. The performance of her horse will be considered at 30 per cent, and its confirmation and equipment at 15 per cent.

First place winner will be given a $135 saddle by the Texas Cowboy Reunion, and second place winner will receive a belt with a special ruby-set sterling silver buckle. This prize is being awarded by Holland Jewelry Company of San Angelo. Bits will be awarded for third place and spurs for fourth.

All sponsors must be over 16 years of age and no appointments can be accepted after June 30.

Mrs. G. H. Zachary has been named hostess for this year's show by the Texas Cowboy Reunion. She will be assisted by Annette Carothers.

Sponsors will be honored with a ball in the Sponsors Pavilion on the opening night of the Reunion when only they, their escorts and invited guests will attend. Open dances will be held on the nights of July 3 and 4.

In addition to being part of each regular rodeo performance, the cowgirl sponsors will add a colorful section to the big opening parade on July 2, and will also be a part of the grand entry parade at each show.

Shreveport Takes Stronger Hold In Second Place

By The Associated Press
The Shreveport Sports, who have been going along playing a good brand of baseball without much publicity, all of a sudden find themselves in the second spot in the Texas League.

The Sports last night climbed two full games ahead of third place Houston by drubbing the Indians at Oklahoma City 5-0. Doyle Lade allowed Oklahoma City two hits while the Sports were collecting ten bingles off Elmer Singleton and Alex Weigand.

Meanwhile, Houston was losing 1-0 to the Cats at Fort Worth, the Rebels blacked out San Antonio 2-0 at Dallas, and the Oilers continued in a slump, the league-leading Beaumont Shippers beating them 6-4 at Tulsa.

The Houston-Fort Worth contest was a 12-inning affair, Bonnie Ronaldson's smash to left center in the final frame with Bill Lillard on base giving the game to the Cats. Hank Oana was the winning moundsman, and Aldred Berley, who went out in the eleventh for a pinch-hitter, the loser.

Sal Glatto, pitching for Dallas, permitted the Missions only two hits, disposing of his opponents in one-two-three order thereafter. Roy Clark and Frank Masters held the Oilers to seven hits, while Beaumont was musing eleven. Tulsa's five errors helped Beaumont to victory.

Pepper Martin Has Cut Eye-Teeth, Now Is Settled Manager

SEATTLE (AP)—Pepper Martin, having shed his baby teeth as a Class AA league baseball manager, has learned to quit worrying—and his Sacramento ball club is up there on top again.

It's no novelty for the Pepper Box's team to lead the Pacific Coast League. It had a 15-game margin over the field in mid-season last year, the first for the former St. Louis Cardinal star as a manager. Then, long before the year of the big rubber shortage, the Sacs lost their bounce. They collapsed in the stretch to finish behind Seattle.

"I worried all the time last year," he drawled. "Even when my team

Dodgers, With Flag In Hand, Will Have All The Most Valuable Men

By Judson Bailey Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers have erased virtually all question of their retaining the National League pennant, but they are giving their fans something to ponder in the way of batting and most valuable player honors.

Pete Reiser and Joe Medwick are away out in front of everyone else in the league in batting and it is generally conceded that they are the two foremost candidates for recognition this year as the most valuable player in the league.

But the records would seem to show that Larry French is just about as valuable as any other one man on the Dodgers. He stepped into the breach again Tuesday night in a relief role to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2 for his sixth triumph without a defeat this year.

French always has been around when needed and Tuesday night when Whitlow Wyatt couldn't get his throwing arm loosened up, Larry was flagged in from the bullpen at the start of the third inning. The score was 2-2 and French pitched shutout ball for the rest of the way and also set off the winning rally.

With two out in the fifth the pitcher singled. Two more hits landed the bases and then Reiser singled two runs home and Medwick knocked another pair across with a double—extending his batting streak to 26 games.

The New York Yankees came out of their slump by nosing out the St. Louis Browns 6-5 with a 14-hit barrage including three safeties by Joe Gordon and a like number by Joe DiMaggio.

The Boston Red Sox smashed the Detroit Tigers into submission 6-2 with Oscar Judd scattering eight hits and himself getting one of Boston's three home runs. Ted Williams hit one, his 16th of the season, and Jim Tabor the other.

The Cleveland Indians also collected three homers in overpowering the Philadelphia Athletics 7-5. The Tribe's roundtrippers were by Oris Hockett, Les Fleming and Ken Keltner. The A's made four runs in the fifth inning when Bob Johnson homered with two aboard.

The Cincinnati Reds, who had won 13 of their last 17 games and were hopeful of getting within sight of the Dodgers during their Eastern was on top, I'll bet I worried more than the rest of the managers together.

The Chicago Cubs captured a free-hitting affair from the Philadelphia Phils 8-4 although outfit 13-12. The big blow in the Bruins' assault was a three-run homer by Lou Novkoff.

"But this year it's different. We got off to a terrible start. We couldn't hit and we were doing everything wrong. But while we were way down there in the standings (and Sacramento scraped the bottom) I never worried. I knew we had a good ball club, a good fighting ball club, and now it's beginning to show."

Martin still plays and pinch-hits frequently.
