Ship Sinkings Exceed New Construction

U.S. Subs Sink Three More Japanese Ships In Aleutian Area

By John M. Hightower. (AP)—Bluff, out-spoken Admiral William D. Leahy became President Roosevelt's chief of staff Wednesday amid discussion of a grave crisis in the shipping situation and of sharpening warfare off Alaska.

There was immediate speculation that the President would create a supreme Army-Navy general staff and that the granite-faced sailor and diplomat who listens long and talks short and who represented at Vichy America's friendship for a broken France.

Confronting the chief of staff as he took office was a report by the War Shipping Administration that shipping losses during the week of July 12 were the highest since the war began and that sinkings of United Nations vessels have greatly exceeded new construction.

Sink Three Jap Destroyers

The Navy, meanwhile, announced the sinking of three more Japanese destroyers by United States submarines in the vicinity of the Aleutian Island of Kiska. This brought Japan's losses in the Aleutian area to six destroyers, one transport and one cruiser sunk; one destroyer probably sunk; and four cruisers, two destroyers one aircraft carrier, one gunboat and one transport damaged.

These 18 ships sunk and damaged went to pay for Japanese occupation of three islands—Kiska, Attu and Agattu—all at the western extreme of the Aleutian chain. The Navy said Army bombers recently made several attacks on the Japanese encampment at Kiska and on ships in Kiska harbor.

Salaries And Wages Increased By Humble

HOUSTON (AP)—In a joint statement, the Humble Oil & Refining Company and the Humble Pipe Line Company Wednesday announced an increase for all hourly, salary and wage earners. The wage increase benefits the 13,000 employees of the two companies.

Hourly workers get an increase of 5 1/2 cents an hour; salary and wage earners an increase of $10 monthly.

The increases are retroactive to July 16.

Voting Places, Hours Are Set For Election

Polls will be open in Midland from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. Saturday, in the Democratic primary election, said Fred Wemple, county chairman. Voting boxes will be at the courthouse for Precinct 1, at the Stokes School for Precinct 2, at the Stephenson school for Precinct 3, at the Warfield school for Precinct 4, and at the old Presbyterian Church building on West Wall for Precinct 5.

Election judges are Mrs. Harry Tolbert, C. Flowers, Jay Franklin, W. M. Stewart, and Homer Epley. Judges for the special election, in addition to fill the unexpired term for state legislator, are Otis Ligon, Curtis Fisher, Dick Midkiff, Miss Christine Moore, and Neal Klaff.

T. A. Fannin Dies At Home After Illness

T. A. Fannin, 73, veteran Midland druggist known to many oldtimers as "Doctor" Fannin, died at 11 p. m. Tuesday at his home, 1605 W. Illinois. He had been in ill health about two years. Death was attributed to a malignant illness.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church, with the Rev. W. Carl Clement officiating. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Widow And Son Survive

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Lulu Spain Fannin; a son, Oliver W. Fannin, of Fort Worth, and three grandsons, Oliver, Jr., now in the Naval Reserve Corps, and twins, Bill and Bob Fannin, now at the University of Texas. The Fort Worth man arrived here Tuesday and the twins will arrive Wednesday night.

A native Texan, T. A. Fannin was born in Kaufman County and moved to Rannels County when he was 9 years old. He came to Midland in 1906 and was in the drug business here about 34 years. He was active in work of the Methodist Church and also in civic projects. He formerly was a member of the school board and served as county commissioner for a short time. He was a Scottish Rite Mason.

Bombardiers Start Fires In Duisburg

LONDON (AP)—The Air Ministry announced Wednesday that many large and widespread fires were started in an attack Tuesday night on Duisburg, Germany, by a strong RAF force during widespread operations from which 13 bombers failed to return.

An RAF informant said more than 300 planes took part in the assault upon the German industrial center. They were favored by good bombing weather.

Duisburg, a large industrial town at the junction of the Rhine and the Ruhr rivers, was the main objective among targets in the Ruhr Valley. It was last raided at night July 13 and the Germans announced it was attacked by daylight last Saturday.

Maintain Patrols

Intruder patrols were maintained over enemy airdromes in France and the low countries by aircraft of the bomber command and the fighter command, it was announced.

"Thirteen of our bombers are missing from these operations." A communique said German aircraft dropped a few bombs at scattered points in the East of England Tuesday night, causing some damage, and one raiding bomber was destroyed.

There was no exact figure on the bombers the RAF sent against Germany.

Child Slightly Hurt When Struck By Car

Madeline Roberts, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts, was injured slightly Tuesday afternoon when she was struck by an automobile on Wall Street near the intersection of Main. She was given emergency treatment at Ryan's Hospital.

No charges were filed in the accident, which was said to have been unavoidable.

Worn by a year of costly fighting, German forces haven't swept forward during the first month of the second year of war in Russia with the speed they made during the first month of invasion in 1941. Map compares progress of initial drive with current campaign.

Mahlon W. Alcorn Is New Courtney Superintendent

COURTNEY — Mahlon W. Alcorn was elected superintendent of the Courtney School at a meeting of the board of trustees, Tuesday night. Alcorn, who accepted the position, was principal of the school last year and has been acting superintendent during the absence of Supt. Nolan J. Robnett this summer.

The new school head will assume his duties August 1.

Robnett resigned to go into vocational agricultural school work.

Alcorn has a B. A. degree from East Texas State Teachers College at Commerce and is working on his master's degree from the same school. He came to Courtney as a member of the teaching faculty four years ago and previously had taught in other schools of this area.

With Mrs. Alcorn, who also has taught at Courtney for two years, and their son, Troy Gene, the superintendent-elect now is living in Midland and is associated with the Western Auto Store.

Courtney, one of the most progressive schools in this part of West Texas, has an affiliated high school with about 20 credits. Twelve grades are taught and last year's enrollment was more than 200. Nine teachers were in the system last year.

Allied Bombardiers Hit Jap Transport

GEN MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia (AP)—Allied bombers scored a direct hit on a Japanese transport in an attack Tuesday on a convoy off the Southeast New Guinea Coast, a headquarters communique said Wednesday.

The convoy was spotted off Amba Bay, 100 miles across the Popuan Peninsula from Allied-held Port Moresby, indicating, possibly an enemy effort to broaden holdings below Salamaua and Lae.

Chinese Recapture Kienteh After Battle

CHUNGKING (AP)—The Chinese have recaptured Kienteh, 65 miles southwest of Hangchow, main Japanese base in Chekiang Province, after a five-day battle, the high command announced Wednesday.

Young Couple Take Taxi Wedding Tour, Snap Photos Here

So they took their wedding trip in a taxicab, in Midland. Miss Mary Biener from Washington County, near Brenham, and Sergeant Stanley J. Bedynek of the 33rd Air Base Squadron, Midland Army Flying School, were married Wednesday morning in the post chapel.

Then they toured the city, with a good kodak, taking pictures on the courthouse lawn, at various other points in the city, with bride and groom being snatched by the driver of the taxicab. The groom made a few particular poses of the bride, and the bride of the groom; and they will be real wedding pictures, too, for the bride wore her beautiful wedding gown and veil as they toured the city.

The happy young couple had been sweethearts for years at Brenham, and soon after he joined the Army Forces some eight months ago they put off their wedding for a while. But Wednesday morning they were married, and recorded the happy occasion with the picture-taking tour of Midland.

Mrs. Bedynek is the daughter of Mrs. Esther B. Boenker of Washington County, and Sergeant Bedynek is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bedynek of Yorktown, Texas.

Rain Very Valuable To City And Ranges

A slow and valuable rain fell in Midland late Tuesday for a total of .94 inch. It brought a drop in temperature and relief from a several-day heat wave.

Rain was spotted over the area, and northeast, north and northwest was of wide covering and fair fall, and was said by many ranchmen to have been of great benefit to the ranges. South of the city it was very light, and extended only a few miles. Notward, however, it was reported very good for as far as 15 miles.

East Extension To Clara Couch Pool Makes Large Flow

By Frank Gardner, Oil Editor. Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-B Mrs. Clara Couch, short east extension well in the Clara Couch pool in Western Crockett County, gauged natural flow of 162 barrels of pipe line oil the first 20 hours of a scheduled 24-hour potential test. Production is natural. The well is bottomed at 1,917 feet in lime and 2-inch tubing is swung 10 feet off bottom.

Pure Oil Company No. 1 Paul LeGros, Peecos County well 20 miles southwest of Fort Stockton, Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Ada G. Price, is drilling at 470 feet in lime. Simpson Oil In Andrews?

Showing oil in a core from 7,690 to 7,702 feet, Phillips No. 4 University-Andrews indicated it might open the first Simpson, middle Ordovician, production. Andrews. Formation has not definitely been identified but is believed to be Simpson. The well is in the Embarras pool, which produces from the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician.

In the same area, Phillips No. 4 University-Andrews is pulling core. (Continued on page five)

Bomb Axis Supply Base In Crete

CAIRO (AP)—Allied bombers and fighters ranged far over and beyond the El Alamein front Tuesday to blast large concentrations of Axis vehicles and attack Marshal Erwin Rommel's supply base in Crete as the desert ground fighting settled into artillery duelling, British general headquarters reported Wednesday.

Said Bay, Island of Crete, was attacked "in force" and direct hits were scored on two vessels, the communique reported. A near miss was scored on a larger ship and a pier was set afire.

United States air men probably took part in the raid, RAF sources said. American Liberator bombers have been employed frequently on assignments in the Mediterranean and the mention of "heavy Allied bombers" indicated that Americans had participated.

The Axis desert positions at which British artillery units were firing lie from two to five miles west of Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck's El Alamein line, British military sources said.

In the central sector of the 40-mile desert front, the Allied bombers attacked a concentration of about 1,000 Axis vehicles and started many fires, the communique said.

Large forces of German parachute troops have been reported concentrated on Crete.

Texas Senatorial Race Has Plenty Of Pyrotechnics

By The Associated Press. The fast and furious U. S. senatorial race, highspot in a Texas political campaign which lacks none of the pyrotechnics of other years, approached a climax Wednesday with the Democratic primary election only three days off.

Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, running to succeed himself, appeared at Texarkana for a radio address. Dan Moody, another senatorial candidate, addressed audiences at Wharton, Edna, Victoria and San Antonio.

James V. Allred, the third senatorial aspirant, scheduled a talk at Austin.

At Dallas Tuesday night Allred ridiculed O'Daniel's charges that Texas newspapers and radio stations were discriminating against him, saying "even the President and Mr. Churchill have been the subject of cartoons and editorials, but Senator W. Lee O'Daniel has denounced the newspapers of Texas because they have commented editorially on the inconsistencies of the senator."

"Since when," asked Allred, "did a senator become such a sacred personality that it is a sacrilege to speak of him except with reverent admiration?"

Moody Issues Challenge

Moody in a talk at Fort Arthur besought his opponents "to bring their campaigns up to the level on which I have pitched mine, and discuss the issues."

Attacking both O'Daniel and Allred, Moody asserted that "what they have been doing indicates that it takes something more than what they say to draw and hold a crowd." He added that Allred has been conducting sing-songs and giving away War Bonds at his rallies, bringing "his campaign down to the level of O'Daniel's street-corner show."

O'Daniel For Farm Aid

O'Daniel told a Suphur Springs audience that farmers should make reasonable profits and "we haven't started to give the farmers and ranchers of this country a fair break. I am proud of the fight I made in the U. S. Senate in support of Sena-Bankhead to give the farmers a fair break."

"Denouncing what he termed the 'corporation-controlled' charge that he was an isolationist, the junior senator declared "my record shows I've been for all-out support of the war effort."

Hal Collins, gubernatorial candidate who has been campaigning with O'Daniel, directed shafts at "corporation, lobbyists and racketeers."

Responding to the praises of friends who spoke in his behalf over the radio from Austin, Gov. Coke Stevenson, a candidate for re-election, said that "since becoming governor a little less than a year ago, I have tried in all respects to be worthy of it."

Told Admiral Nimitz Where To Head In

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Frank C. Hall, 40-year-old Oklahoma City pharmacist's mate, told Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, hero of the Battle of Midway, where to head in and get away with it.

In the confusion attending a West Coast plane crash in which the admiral escaped injury, Hall, a member of a rescue crew, did not notice the naval officer's rank as occupants were being moved to a field hospital.

The admiral stood up. "Hey, you, sit down and be quiet," Hall shouted.

Then he became aware of the admiral's rank and apologized.

Southwest To Have Five Companies WAAC

DALLAS.—Construction of housing and other facilities for five companies of the Women's Auxiliary Corps in the Southwest has been authorized by the War Department, Colonel Stanley L. Scott, Dallas, Southwestern Division Engineer, said.

The buildings will consist of troop type barracks, mess halls and administration buildings. They will be located at Fort Sam Houston and Fort Bliss, Texas, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and Fort Huachuca, Arizona.

Germans Threaten 2 Large Russian Cities; Reds Stop One Column

By Clyde A. Farnsworth, Associated Press War Editor. The Germans proclaimed Wednesday that they had crossed the lower Don on a broad front, a deep step on the invasion route into the Caucasus, and that "organized" Russian defenses near Rostov, at the mouth of the Don, had collapsed with the guardian city half-encircled.

Russian and British advices agreed with the enemy on the trend of the battle but not to such a degree as to admit that the strategic waterline had been breached and Rostov half surrounded.

British military sources conceded that small German armored forces may have reached the lower Don and said "there is no denying the danger to Rostov" from this and related operations.

Another Grave Threat Against Russia Develops

By DeWitt MacKenzie, Wide World War Analyst. While Soviet Marshal Timoshenko coolly manipulates his hard-pressed forces under a terrific assault of a million-man Nazi army at the gateway to the Caucasus, way up on the northern extremity of Russia's two-thousand mile front there is developing against the Reds another grave threat which is correlated with the southern offensive.

I am reliably informed the Germans are concentrating heavy forces in Finland, preparatory to a major attack against the Soviet Arctic port of Murmansk. Hitler's hope is to make a quick conquest of this vital rail-head and thereby cut one of Russia's two remaining feasible lifelines to the outside world, the other being the cumbersome route through the Persian Gulf.

Economic Strangulation.

The Fuehrer's strategy is to apply to the Muscovites that fierce economic strangulation which the British blockade has inflicted on the European Axis countries and occupied territories.

To put it bluntly, our mighty Russian ally, which covers a sixth of the entire lined space of the globe and is blessed with a diversity of resources which make it virtually self-contained, is drawing terribly close to a dangerous lack of supplies, both military and foodstuffs. The time may come when she will need bread from Uncle Sam.

As you know, the Allied blockade of Europe has squeezed Hitler so hard that the chief reason for his present great offensive is to break through to fresh supplies.

Whipping Boy

We feel sorry for Leon Henderson. We think that the record, considered dispassionately, will show he is getting a raw deal.

We have disagreed with something which Henderson has said and some which he has done. Obviously he has made mistakes. But if ever a man stood on a keg of dynamite in the midst of a fire, and tried to save his fellows, the price czar is that man.

All that Henderson has to do is prevent inflation. The simple task handed to him is that of keeping retail and wholesale prices down, while wages, raw materials and transportation go up, without destroying the nation's mercantile fabric by bankrupting its merchants.

If the price czar lets prices go up, he has failed on his job. If he suggests "stabilizing" wages, he is on enemy of the working man.

If he advocates an effective ceiling on farm prices, he is the farmer's foe.

The War Labor Board can approve a pay raise for steel workers—and later perhaps for all in similar jobs. But Henderson can't let prices go up to absorb such raises.

When gasoline distribution among dealers works undue hardships and a plan is evolved by Henderson's staff to correct the evil, he must get WPB and Petroleum Administration approval and co-operation—if he can.

It was obvious to some from the beginning that ceiling prices can't be maintained without subsidies unless we are prepared to let all but the biggest businesses go out the window.

When Henderson asked Congress to authorize such subsidies he was turned down.

The OPA is expected to do one of the biggest jobs of inadequate appropriation with which to do the job.

If Henderson fails, who gets the blame? Organized labor, the farmers, Congress, the WLB, the WPB, Mr. Licks—or Leon Henderson? That's right, Leon Henderson is the goat.

Henderson and the public.

Educating The Germans

Emil Ludwig offers a worthwhile idea about something we can do, when we have won the war, to help prevent another in two or three decades. He suggests that, for a certain period, the United States must assume control over the Reich's arms, education and government.

We aren't certain about government. We feel that when any people is deprived, by force, of certain fundamentals of self-government, great harm is inevitable. About control over German arms we can't imagine any controversy.

Ludwig's contribution is the suggestion concerning education. It is his idea that only by inculcating a whole generation of Teutons with Christian principles of religion, philosophy and history, can we hope to eradicate the Hunlike characteristics which long have made Germany the scourge of the western world.

Speaking Of Czars

When the conversation turns to dictators and their scorn for public rights, how about Jimmy Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians?

Petrillo has announced that his 140,000 union musicians will not be permitted, after July 31, to make records or electrical transcriptions. The instrumentalists will lose $3,000,000 a year in royalties, but Jimmy thinks they will pick up $100,000,000 from minor radio stations and juke box joints which will be forced to hire live musicians instead of buying canned tunes.

We believe Petrillo is very wrong. Most of the smaller broadcasters would not have opened and could not survive if they had to pay orchestras. Most of the juke box places never did have live musicians and never will.

All that Petrillo will accomplish is to cost his followers three millions a year and deprive homes of the pleasure of good music (and bad) records.

Yankee Ingenuity

From cities as far removed from each other, and from New England, as Brooklyn, N. Y., and Memphis, Tenn., come clever Yankee stratagems to beat the gasoline shortage legally.

In Brooklyn a motorist is using illuminating gas. In Memphis a chemical manufacturer is powering a truck with carbon monoxide gas generated from charcoal.

Both work. But, also, they suggest the futility of trying to save irreplaceable rubber by rationing gasoline. Cars powered by a substitute wear out tires just as fast as cars using gasoline.

"Come Back After the Election"

Czech War Ace Pounces On Prey On Lone Missions

LONDON (WW)—The Czech ace, Karel Kutelwascher, who has what colleagues call the "uncanny knack of smelling out homeward-bound German bombers" is recognized by Air Ministry officials as Britain's best night fighter.

Week after week the stocky, fair-haired flyer, 27, is mentioned in Air Ministry bulletins for night-fighting exploits. Sometimes he reports shooting down one, two or three German planes on lone night patrol, sometimes only breaking up a raid by inflicting damage.

His Score: 21
In ten days he was credited with destroying seven bombers at night and has an official bag of 15 destroyed at night, six in daytime.
Fellow pilots like the quiet, "Old Kutel" envy his gift for finding Germans.
Since his arrival in England he has married a Welsh girl. On leave, he putters around in the garden at his Mill Hill (London) home.
But flying a four-cannon Hurricane, he is reckoned a deadly killer. Other pilots in his squadron say he'll look at a map in the operations room, point to perhaps a small, unimportant German air-drome and say: "I'll go there tonight."

It's odds on, pilots say, that the Germans will be using that air-drome that night and that "Old Kutel" will relieve the Luftwaffe of a plane or two.
RAF Tactics
His tactics are simple. He developed them himself, but now they are widely used by RAF "intruder" pilots.
He lovers high over a German air-drome waiting for landing lights to be switched on, then pounces on a German bomber when it is only a few hundred feet high, preparing to land. The German plane, it is reckoned, will crash even if not badly damaged because of the low

Asks Federal Say-So On Guayule Growing

AUSTIN (AP)—Commenting on an offer for free use of 6,000 acres of Texas ranch land for experimental planting of rubber-bearing guayule, Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald Tuesday called upon federal authorities to "tell us whether they'll put money into guayule production in this state."
"It's not a question of whether we can produce rubber in Texas, but whether the government wants us to grow it," the commissioner declared, stating that O. W. Kilham, Laredo oil producer, had offered half of his 12,000-acre ranch at no cost to the government to conduct guayule experiments.

John Hix Wins High Sales Prize Again; Seventeenth Time

It was War Bonds instead of a vacation trip that John Hix received this year for winning his seventeenth consecutive membership in the $100,000 Dollar Club of the La-Mar Life Insurance Company. For the other 16 years, Hix had been given a vacation trip, but this year the company officials advised that travel was too congested, and that it wished to put its prize money into War Bonds.
Hix took another prize also, at the end of this year, having run 672 consecutive weeks without missing getting an application, or sale, of a policy. This places him as second to none in the company, and among the top group in volume as well as inconsecutive sales.
Hix won membership in the $100,000 Dollar Club in his first year with the company, and has been hitting a high mark every year. He has worked for the same company since starting in the business.

The summary of operations for June, shows drilling last month was about half as active as in June 1941. This week's report suggests that July's drilling will fall considerably below 50 per cent of last year's activity. Last week there were only 365 completions, of which 170 were oil wells or 35 per cent of the number completed during the corresponding weeks of last year.

Four areas show signs of increasing activity for various reasons: Illinois, where production is declining slowly but steadily; California, where more heavy oil is required; Slaughter, where a large lease has been confirmed by the courts; and Andrews County, Texas, where a major field is in the making. In two of these areas, the oil is urgently required and is near transportation facilities and markets. In the two West Texas areas, the oil is not needed but lease requirements must be met and the spacing normally followed is the 40-acre spacing required by M-68.

Any relief to Illinois' production decline afforded by increased drilling would seem merely to promise a deceleration of the decline. In the light of the trend of production which is now apparent, the industry faces two major problems in connection with getting the oil to market. The first is to get oil from the east-central states to the Atlantic seaboard and the other is to insure a supply to the western end of the system. These objectives must, of course, be obtained with the use of a minimum of steel, and it may be considered that in meeting the demands of a dislocated system, during the war, the postwar requirements should also be borne in mind. The Government's estimate of reserves, which confirms The Oil and Gas Journal's totals, indicates that getting oil into the east-central states will be a major problem after the war when normal tanker movement to the East Coast can be resumed. The retardation of development drilling in areas where it would result only in a further decline in allowables which are now too small and the organization of transportation facilities which will serve these areas promises a minimum of readjustment in the post-war period. In the meantime, development of flush fields on a wide spacing will lessen fears of shortage in the near future.

Louisiana Gulf Coast.
Tests are under way in an attempt to locate oil on the aEyes gas-distillate structure. A new deep sand showing oil has been found on the northwest flank of Anse La Butte.

California.
The Wheatville discovery well has been completed and its position on the Helm-Riverdale trend suggests the likelihood of another field to the southeast. Conversion of a gas pipe line from the San Joaquin Valley to San Francisco has caused the further development of the northern gas fields. Exceptions to operators in the Wilmington field are permitting the drilling of a number of wells to the upper pays. Santa Maria Valley is also becoming active owing to the demand for heavy crude.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS: The Petronilla field, Nueces County, has been extended so as to link with North Lubbock, although in deeper pay than those in the latter field. De Witt County's Wilcox test near Yorktown showed gas distillate in the 8,300-ft. pay and higher showings will be tested.

NORTH TEXAS: The Turner area, Montague County, may be extended by Continental's well which has reported two showings but is drilling deeper. A pool opened southwest of Nocona may prove to be an extension to the Clinging-smith area.

OKLAHOMA: A new pool has been opened on the Granite ridge between Crescent and Navina. Pay is in the Layton, Hunton production has been found midway between Brooksville and West Hotulke in Pottawatomie County. Another large gas well was brought in in the Chickasha field.

KANSAS: Arbuckle production has opened the Hazel pool 2 miles west of Drach, in northern Stafford County. Snayres is extended to the North, South and West.

WEST TEXAS: A new pool northwest of Slaughter may eventually prove to be a major extension to that field. Andrews County is booming with 17 new locations in 15 sections of the southwestern sector. Recent production on the Sand Hills Ordovician area is reported by Gulf from their 41 Waddell.

Pacific Coast May Provide Outlet For Permian Basin Oil

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pacific Coast may provide an outlet for New Mexico and West Texas crude oil in the next six months, Robert E. Allen, assistant deputy petroleum co-ordinator, told a Senate sub-committee.
Allen said the West Coast demand had increased "by leaps and bounds" from 623,000 barrels daily in April to an estimated 769,000 for August.

California production, he commented later, was falling short of the current demand by about 20,000 barrels a day, because of requirements of the Navy and other sources.
Distances from New Mexico oil fields to Western centers, he said, were no greater than those to the East where oil from that area has been shipped.
Allen was one of several government men who participated in a round table discussion of petroleum problems, held by the mineral resources subcommittee of the Senate Public Lands Committee.

WINK PASTOR WILL MOVE TO SMITHVILLE

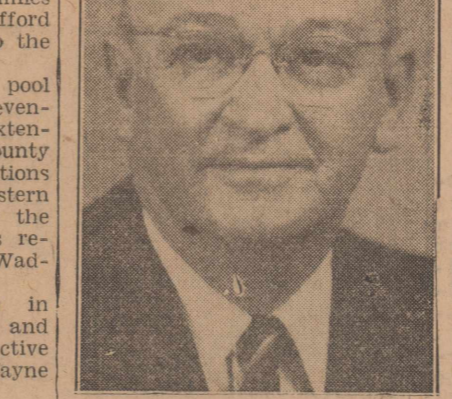

WINK—The Rev. R. C. Brinkley, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, for the last two years, has tendered his resignation to his congregation to accept a call to the First Baptist Church in Smithville.

reached the Paluxy pay zone in the new Black Oak field and three more are underway. Club Lake has two wells testing and two others starting.

ARKANSAS: Porosity has been found in the Smackover line of a deep test near Lisbon. Tokio production has also been found west of the old East El Dorado area.

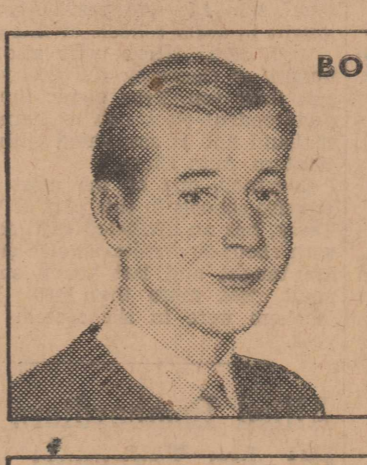

TEXAS GULF COAST: After many years of testing, a small gas well was completed on the Shepherds Mott area, Matagorda County. A test between Mayo and West Ganado, Jackson County, made dry gas. North La Ward may be extended 1 mile in a new deeper pay.

LIFE WITH FATHER

FATHER: I've called this family council to get our living program adjusted.
MOTHER: What's the trouble, Father?
FATHER: Well, the way living costs are up, I'll give a dollar to anybody here who contributes a suggestion to save money. How about it, Bob?
MARY: For goodness sake, Father, you know Bob never saved a cent in his life... he...
BOB: Silence, worm! I've got an ad here. It's about motor oil and it says: "You can hardly think of one working part in your engine as cheap to replace as dirty, thin oil—a jinx to precious parts."
FATHER: I get it, son... and that car of ours has to go another two years at least. What oil is it?
BOB: It's Conoco Nth motor oil and the ad tells how the six engines were run to destruction in a Certified Death Valley Test. This Conoco Nth oil made twice the mileage averaged by the five other big-name oils.
FATHER: Son, you get the first dollar. Take the car down tomorrow and get Conoco Nth oil.

More Than 100 Women Present At Coffee-Bridge

Increased attendance was shown at the coffee and bridge for officers' wives held at the officers' mess at Midland Army Flying School Tuesday morning. Approximately 110 to 115 women were present.

Mrs. I. Davies was chief hostess for the day, assisted by a hostess-group including Mrs. D. K. Bennett and Mrs. E. P. Anastasio of Odessa, and Mrs. C. W. Allen, Mrs. J. R. Callihan, Mrs. K. H. Goetzke, and Mrs. Byron Foster of Midland.

The coffee course was served from a table centered with Shasta pastries.

After the coffee hour, about 15 tables of bridge were played, prizes of War Saving Stamps going to the winners.

Give Yourself Mouth Appeal

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer.

Your mouth is commonly supposed to indicate the personality you have acquired. However, right that is, you can—and many women do—change the appearance of lips.

You can do a great deal to enhance the charm of your mouth with lipstick. Examine yours critically—look at it and see whether it turns down at the corners, suggesting fretfulness, anxiety, irritation. Whether it is thin and pinched and tense, whether it is coarse, insensitive looking.

USE LIPSTICK CAREFULLY

Hollywood changes all that by a flick of the lipstick, and so can you, particularly when you are dressing for a party or other special occasion. The drooping corners seem to be almost eliminated when you apply the lipstick in the center portion of the upper and lower lip. Color should extend a shade wider on the lower lip for an upturned effect, and you can build the line of the upper lip out—horizontally, no accentuated cupid's bow—a trifle, too.

Too-full lips should be rouged lightly, color kept well within the natural outlines. Too wide lips need corners wept well away from the corners.

Regardless of shape, any mouth will be prettier for exercise, which increases the look of flexibility, and suggests pleasant qualities of disposition such as generosity. And your best, as well as a simplest, exercise is—grin.

Apply night cream or some other rich cream generously. Then, keeping lips tightly together, lift the mouth corners and grin. Don't just smile—grin until your mouth corners push up against your cheek bones. Then relax and repeat a dozen times.

Grandfalls Schools Lose Many Teachers

MONAHANS. Seven of last year's faculty at the Grandfalls-Royalty school have resigned, said Mrs. J. O. Head, newly elected superintendent. Mrs. Head succeeds Bluford F. Minor, who resigned to do war work for the duration.

Miss Will Blagg, elementary school teachers, has resigned to teach elsewhere. Miss Loveta Reed, music teacher, has accepted a position in the Amarillo schools. Miss Dorothy Gray and Miss Laura Francis Murphy, both of the elementary schools, have accepted civil service appointments. Miss Gray having gone to work at the Fort Stockton flying school, and Miss Murphy having become a U. S. mail censor.

Former football coach Sam Fowler has been elected head coach at Lampasas, and band director Lewis K. Moffatt is in a civil service position in a Mississippi Army camp. J. W. Coppege, high school teacher, has joined the Navy.

Several vacancies are yet to be filled, said Mrs. Head. Miss Geraldine Ferver has been employed to teach music, but other teachers have not been elected.

Old Rivalry Pops Up At Bombardier College

It pops up in the strangest places that Aggie-Longhorn rivalry.

The latest was at Midland Army Flying School, world's largest bombardier training school, when University of Texas bombardier cadets "refused" to be photographed with Texas A&M future bomb droppers, and vice-versa!

A public relations photographer won this time. He persuaded the "factions" to get together just once for a picture, by pointing out that Aggies and Longhorns, they're still Texans.

fended the title this year. They won the Allentown women's pairs in both 1941 and 1942. Mrs. Peterson also holds the Pennsylvania State women's pair title with Mrs. A. M. Sobel of New York.

Mrs. Peterson is an accurate bidder and clever player, as demonstrated in today's hand. Her bid of three diamonds over two no trump was made to show the stopper, and it gave North the inference that South held no spade stopper. Thus the ladies avoided the contract of three no trump, which some pairs bid, only to lose five spade tricks.

Mrs. Peterson made five clubs by leading the queen of hearts, which West had to cover and North won. Then leading the ten of hearts back through East, East properly ducked to force Mrs. Peterson to guess, but she discarded a diamond.

Some jumpers are made for practicality, others are made just to be pretty. Today's is the latter kind. The wide belt which buttons in front, the full skirt, the soft blouse combine to make this one of the most appealing, colorful, prettifying frocks you've worn in a long time. Try it with a white, sheer blouse and a cherry red skirt—for instance.

Pattern No. 8225 is in sizes 11 to 19. Size 13 suspender top skirt requires 2 1/2 yards 35 or 39-inch material, long sleeve blouse 2 yards.

Beat Death By A Nose

NORMAN, Okla. (WW)—Doctor Ralph Bienfang, Oklahoma University's chemist who is famous for recognizing 1,000 odors, is making some scents for soldiers.

Some are fit to grace a lady's handkerchief or scarf. But all of them represent a deadly purpose—to teach soldiers how to recognize the smell of death which is poison war gas.

At military request Dr. Bienfang has imitated, in harmless scents, six poison gases. It is necessary for men to recognize these scents, and not altogether safe to learn by sniffing the real article.

Mustard, foremost war gas, was well imitated by use of synthetic oil of mustard on activated carbon. For the attractive geranium scent of lewisite gas a dozen trade scent chemicals were mixed, and the smell would fool the geraniums themselves.

The apple blossom smell of chloroacetophenone, gas that causes tears and headache, is likewise a mixture.

Marines Really Bring Them Back Alive

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Marines at Camp Elliott have organized a club with membership restricted to those who have gone into the hills and brought back a rattlesnake—alive.

The club was formed after several leathernecks, decided they wanted a cheetah for a mascot. San Diego zoo officials indicated that they might spare one, but also hinted that the zoo's supply of rattlers was low.

On latest reports the club had a membership of four.

One of the toughest to imitate is phosgene's musty hay or green corn scent.

Chloropicrin is supposed to smell like fly paper and anise. Adding a little chloroform helped to make this one. Adamsite was easy. It smells like coal smoke and hot burned coal makes the practice scent.

that more than 10,000 of the foe had been killed in one week of fighting there.

The qualified successes of Russian counter-attacks at Voronezh, however, seemed to have little effect on the German drive across the Don Steppes toward Stalingrad and through the industrialized Don Basin toward Rostov.

New Tanks And Planes Arrive
 Russian dispatches in fact said that fresh tanks, planes and infantrymen were pouring into the Stalingrad thrust.

The German communique claimed the crossing of the Donets River effected east of the Donets River. "Organized" resistance of the enemy in the Rostov region has collapsed," the high command reported.

"German and German-aided troops are standing before a defended bridgehead position which runs in a semi-circle outside the town."

Chain Gains in North
 Rostov, a city of a half-million normal population, lies for most part on the north bank of the Don Estuary.

In the far north, the Germans reported collapse of Russian attacks on a bridgehead across the Volkhov River, south of Lake Ilmen and destructive bombings of Russian batteries on the Rybachy Peninsula.

The destruction of 829 Russian airplanes in operations from July 8 to July 20 was reported in the German war bulletin. The communique said 70 planes were lost during the same period.

So He Got Divorce

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Charles H. Roland, a bus driver, asked Judge Ralph H. Smith for a divorce, saying his wife threw at him "everything she could get hold of" when he returned home from work.

"How was your luck?" asked Judge Smith.
 "I got caught quite a few times," Roland replied.
 The judge granted the divorce.

SERIAL STORY

MURDER IN FERRY COMMAND

BY A. W. O'BRIEN

TRAGIC NEWS CHAPTER XIII

THE three days after Carole Fiske's escape to St. John's were the longest Clyde Dawson had ever known. A blizzard was rolling in over northeastern Newfoundland and it was already "ceiling zero" at the airport where he must land.

Shortly after 3:30 in the morning of the fourth day, the telephone awakened Dawson. An Eastern Air Command officer informed him crisply that the weather was clearing and a plane was ready to take off.

By noon Dawson was interviewing the veteran captain in command of the St. John's port.

The officer's face was grim. "The Fort Gleggery was torpedoed off Cape Race, Newfoundland, two nights ago!"

Dawson grasped the arms of his chair, his knuckles showing white.

"Are there any survivors reported?" His voice sounded strange to his own ears.

"Yes, but not many. There was only one woman, in fact—a major's wife en route to join her husband here."

A numbing sensation of tragedy enveloped Dawson as he rose, with a mumbled word of thanks, and left the office.

If only he had revealed his identity sooner, Carole Fiske would not have continued to Newfoundland on her pathetic search for Darwin Lemoy and her brother. It was useless for Dawson to argue that Carole's actions had left him no other choice than to regard her as an enemy agent. Somehow he should have gleaned some inkling of the facts before Paul Dixel, in his confession, had disclosed that Bernard Skrol—really Bernard Fiske—was Carole's brother and the Dexels were her half-brothers.

THE mother was German and had married twice. Her first husband, father of the Dexels, had died shortly after coming to the United States from Germany. Her second husband, Fiske, was of German-American stock.

The two Dixel boys and Bernard Fiske had become enthusiastic Bund members in Chicago. With the outbreak of the war abroad, the girl repeatedly protested to them about their continuing Bund activities. When her brother Bernard enlisted and went to Newfoundland her letters to him were returned, and she suspected he had enlisted under a false name. That was why she had not been notified of his death.

Paul Dixel had rushed to St. John's and arrived the day after the murders. Darwin had found Fiske was cultivating the friendship of a Ferry Command official in an important post. When approached by Darwin, Fiske boldly admitted he was after some technical data that the official had.

Fiske told all this to Paul Dixel upon the latter's arrival. That night Dixel trailed the Ferry Command official and Fiske to the speakeasy and was amazed to see Darwin Lemoy slip in after the pair. Obviously Lemoy was shadowing them without seeing Dixel on the same mission.

In his confession Dixel stated that Darwin could not have been more than halfway up the stairs when a shot sounded from a second floor room. A moment later he saw two figures—whom he identified as Darwin and Fiske—struggling against the drawn shade. Another shot was heard and Fiske dropped.

THE rest Dawson knew already. Darwin had run from the speakeasy into the arms of a constable. On him was found the gun that had killed the two, and the official's wallet. In face of other disclosures it was evident to Dawson that Darwin had intended returning the plans to the Ferry Command, and that he pocketed the gun which Dixel had given Fiske to clear Carole's brother of a murder-suicide stigma.

In view of all this there was only one course for Darwin Lemoy to follow on being captured—absolute silence. Otherwise the whole story would come out, including his own association with the ring.

Back in Chicago, consternation had followed the discovery that the highly secret filing cabinet had been tampered with. A fingerprint was found, and it was decided to investigate the spy ring personnel to find its owner.

Dixel was ordered to secure a set of Lemoy's prints, but his only opportunity came after the hanging, when the body went to the vault. He had to work fast, and he found it impossible to unbend the fingers and work in the cramped, ghostly quarters. So he hacked off the hand. But, as Dawson had deduced, Dixel had been forced to hurry off when the investigator left St. John's suddenly.

Back in Chicago, John Dixel hadn't dared tell Carole Fiske about her brother and Darwin Lemoy. If she had known that Bernard was dead and Darwin was in prison awaiting execution, she might have confessed everything in the hope of getting Darwin off with a jail sentence. So, to explain Darwin's silence, John had faked a story that Darwin had killed Paul Dixel in an argument over the spy ring and was hiding from the police.

There it was, a superb case, thoroughly ironed out, Dawson had started with a snapshot of a girl and a piece of beefsteak on a hanged man's heel, and uncovered a major spy ring. But there was no satisfaction now.

Boston Braves Battle Chicago Cubs 17 Innings, Win Season's Longest

By The Associated Press Underneath the sign that says "Braves Field" at the National League ball park in Boston there should be added a line "home of extra-inning ball games."

Marathons disguised as baseball are the specialty of the Braves. For this reason that 17 inning struggle of the Braves and Chicago Cubs Tuesday was bound to happen. It wasn't quite as historical as the 26-inning 1-1 tie between the Braves and Brooklyn in 1920, the most extended game in National League records, but it was the longest game this season and the Braves won 4-3 with a unique finish that made it entirely satisfactory to Boston fans. The Braves tied the score in the eighth with two runs and after eight more scoreless stanzas they leded the bases with none out in the 17th on three successive bunts. Then John Cooney stepped to the plate and rapped a single to right center to finish the fracas four hours and 17 minutes after it started.

While this was going on the Brooklyn Dodgers curbed the Cincinnati Reds 6-4 with 12 hits in six innings against Paul Derringer. Johnny Allen limited the Reds to half a dozen blows, one of them a circuit clout by Eric Tipton.

inning. New York's homers included one by Mickey Vitek in the third and two in succession by manager Mell Ott and Johnny Mize, their 13th and 18th of the season, in the sixth.

The New York Yankees extended their winning streak to ten games and Joe DiMaggio stretched his hitting string to 18 games in an 8-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians. Lefty Gomez received credit for the victory, his fifth, although Fireman Johnny Murphy worked the last three frames.

The Boston Red Sox dropped a 10-inning 5-4 decision to Chicago to let the Yanks slip another game ahead. Bobby Doerr hit his 12th homer, a double and two singles and Ted Williams made three hits. The St. Louis Browns were held to four hits by Luman Harris and Phil Marchildon but beat the Philadelphia Athletics 4-3 on Walt Judnich's three-run homer in the first inning and a roundtripper by Harold Clift in the second.

The Detroit Tigers broke Buck Newsum's spell with a 6-4 triumph over the Washington Senators on the five-hit hurling of Hal White.
