Use 2-Ton Bombs In Big Raid

LONDON (AP)—The RAF scoured the Rhine-land munitions city of Duesseldorf Friday night with 150 two-ton block-buster bombs and a great weight of other explosives and incendiaries in a concentrated 50-minute attack probably without destructive precedent in aerial warfare.

The usually reserved Air Ministry announced the raid was made in very strong force and added that the deluge of destruction was a "ceaseless rain" of bombs and fire-busters.

Fires Still Burn

Smoke billowed up almost four-fifths of a mile from the industrial plants crushed under the weight of the two-tonners and daylight reconnaissance found fires still burning in the city of 350,000 population in mid-day.

The number of planes was not specified beyond the mention of a great number of 4-motored bombers as well as a great force of all other types of heavy and medium bombers.

But from the announced loss of 31 British planes it can be guessed that there were hundreds participating; perhaps as many as 500 and 1,000.

Duesseldorf is heavily defended against an air attack, being a Nazi arsenal of prime importance.

Birthday Present For Byron Is Commission As First Lieutenant

Master Sergeant Andy Byron, sergeant major at the Midland Army Flying School, Saturday was commissioned a first lieutenant in the Army of the United States. The commission arrived on his birthday.

Birthdays seem to have a special significance for Lieutenant Byron, for his Army career began just 23 years ago, when he ran away from his home in St. Louis and signed up with Uncle Sam. The recruiting sergeant must have looked the other way when he asked about age, because Byron was only 15 years old.

The official listing of Lieutenant Byron's service reads like a Cook's tour. He was in France and Germany from 1919 to 1922; the Hawaiian Islands from 1927 to 1929; the Philippines from 1935 to 1937. Somewhere in between, he managed to squeeze in service or travel in Greece, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, Panama, Mexico, Guam and China.

Knows Answers

The only people who didn't chime in with wholehearted congratulations were several second lieutenants around Headquarters. They've been accustomed to run to the sergeant major for advice on knotty Army regulations. Usually he could rattle off the rule in question from memory without digging into the reference books. This knowledge of Army ways was gleaned through service as a personnel man, platoon commander with the 6th infantry, battalion sergeant major with both the 6th and 21st infantry, sergeant-instructor, Air Corps, school sergeant major at Kelly Field, and a side excursion into public relations.

Lieutenant Byron has been associated officially with Brigadier General Davies, his commanding officer, for seven years, serving with him in the Philippines, at Kelly Field and here.

Lieutenant Byron has been supervising the MAFS Civilian Personnel Office. And he's also classified by the Army as a pistol expert and rifle sharpshooter. He held a second lieutenant's commission in the Officers Reserve Corps from 1931 to 1941 but stuck to the regular Army.

Dean Spies Discharged By Regents

AUSTIN (AP)—In a quadruple move to sweep away disension in the medical branch at Galveston where members said a "grave emergency" existed the University of Texas board of regents Saturday night:

Dismissed Dean John W. Spies, effective immediately.

Declared all headships of teaching departments vacant at the end of the current fiscal year, Aug. 31.

Named Dr. Titus Harris, professor of neuro-psychiatry, as acting dean.

Appointed Dr. E. W. Bertner of Houston as temporary director of the university's new cancer research program.

The board unanimously adopted resolutions removing Dr. Spies and department heads, said University President Homer P. Rainey.

To Name Vice President

The president added "substantial progress" had been made toward the selection of an executive vice president of the medical branch, a position created by the board after an on-the-scene investigation of the medical branch which has been raked by an administrative controversy for several years.

Board members emerged from an all-day closed meeting wearing broad smiles and freely congratulating each other on what they described as decisive steps to clarify the medical branch turmoil.

Issue Statement

In a formal statement authorized by the board Dr. Rainey declared: "The board feels regretful that it had to take such drastic action, but it appeared that this was the only way to clear up the long-standing controversy and to lay the predicate for a great medical program for Texas."

All were taken to Ellis Island for internment hearings.

1-B Selectees Are Accepted For Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first of an estimated one million men holding a deferred 1-B classification in the draft because of minor physical defects were accepted Saturday for limited military service.

Undisclosed quotas to be filled by men with faulty eyesight, teeth and other defects which disqualified them for many regular duties, went out July 3 to local boards, to become effective Saturday.

Those accepted under the relaxed standards will be assigned to duty with corps area service commands and the War Department.

Included in the total are 14 enemy ships—seven naval craft and seven merchantmen—whose destruction by United States air and sea forces in the Far East is based on reports received between July 18 and Aug. 1.

Albaugh Stakes Wildcat Location In North Dawson

BY FRANK GARDNER, Oil Editor

Location for a 5,200-foot wildcat test in extreme Northern Dawson County less than three-quarters of a mile south of the Lynn County line was announced Saturday by Ray A. Albaugh of Lamesa.

It is his No. 1 T. L. Higginbotham, 660 feet out of the southwest corner of section 5, block H, E. L. & R. R. survey, eight miles west by southwest of O'Donnell. The well will be drilled with rotary and is scheduled to start operations next Thursday. It is said to be on a geophysical "high."

Albaugh said he has sold spreads of acreage to Sun Oil Company, Tide Water Associated Oil Company, Kewanee Oil Company and Magnolia Petroleum Company. Superior Oil Company also holds offset acreage.

Depth of 4,765 feet in line has been passed by Amos G. Carter No. 1 Walter M. Clear, Northwestern Martin County wildcat. In Southeastern Martin, Magnolia No. 1 Earl B. Powell is drilling ahead below 7,077 feet in black lime after a brief shut-down while mixing mud.

The Texas Company No. 1 J. Bay Robertson, Southern Gaines County deep test, is drilling in hard lime at 7,170 feet.

Second Embur Producer

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 4 University-Andrews, extending five-eighths of a mile to the northwest the Embur Ellenburger pool of Southwestern Andrews County, is testing natural production through 2-inch tubing using at 7,838 feet. Total depth is 7,860 feet in Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, dolomite. On a preliminary two-hour gauge the well flowed 174 barrels of oil and 25 barrels of wash water through open tubing, making 48 barrels of oil and five barrels of water the last 30 minutes of the test. Gas-oil ratio figured 690.

Making slow progress through hard cherty section, Phillips No. 3 University-Andrews, indicating one-quarter mile southwest extension of the Embur pool, is drilling below 7,864 feet.

Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-A Texu, deep wildcat in Southwest Central Andrews, is drilling dolomite past 8,540 feet. It is believed by some to be in the Simpson, middle Ordovician.

Drillstem Tests Fail

Second and third attempts to get a drillstem test in Magnolia No. 1 D. K. Glenn, Southwestern Crane County Ellenburger prospect, failed when packer leaked. The first try also had ended in failure. At last reports operators were replacing leaky drillpipe preparatory to making a fourth attempt to test oily porous Ellenburger dolomite logged from 5,340-50 feet. No. 1 Glenn topped the Ellenburger high at 5,258 feet but showed only water on drillstem tests of the upper part of that formation.

Skelly Oil Company No. 1 E. R. Richardson, Southeastern Crane Ordovician wildcat, is making hole below 1,395 feet in anhydrite.

Texaco No. 1 G. C. Fraser-TXL, Northeastern Crane wildcat, remains shut down for orders at 4,790 feet in lime. It struck an estimated three barrels of sulphur water hourly from 4,758-62 feet.

Navy Plane Scores Two Hits On Sub

AN EAST COAST PORT (AP)—Diving within ten feet of the ocean, a U. S. Navy plane scored two direct hits with depth charges on an Axis submarine immediately after the undersea raider had torpedoed a large Panamanian cargo ship off the Atlantic coast more than two weeks ago, survivors of the merchantman reported on arrival here.

Announcing the attack by submarine and the vengeance taken by the plane, the Navy said Saturday survivors related a big oil slick and a mass of debris appeared on the surface where the depth charges were dropped.

Statements to this effect, the Navy said, were made by Robert E. Gibson, officers messman, of Akron, Ohio, and Z. W. Csiniski, junior assistant engineer of Philadelphia, who were among 56 survivors landed at this port the day after the attack.

Ceiling Prices For Lamb, Milk And Cream

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Price Administration broadened its control over food prices Saturday by placing wholesale and retail prices of lamb and wholesale prices of fluid milk and cream under ceilings.

The ceiling on lamb, effective for a 60-day period beginning Aug. 10, set maximum prices of carcasses and cuts at the highest level prevailing between July 27 and 31. The order does not apply to live animals.

The OPA said that, due to a seasonal shortage of meats, there was danger of a "violent price increase in lamb at retail."

The new price order does not affect farmers' prices or sales of milk and cream, in bulk.

Reds Say One Drive Is Halted

By Richard McMurray, Associated Press War Editor

Soviet Russia grimly acknowledged Sunday that German armies questing for the oil of the Caucasus had pushed steel spearheads at least 50 to 75 miles south of Rostov and the Don River in extremely bitter battles.

The Russians announced fierce battles were being fought by Soviet forces in the area of Kushchevka, 50 miles below Rostov on the major rail line to the oil fields, and Slask, about 100 miles southeast of Rostov and 75 miles due south of the Don River.

The Germans were said to be throwing numerically superior forces against the Russians in those western Caucasian areas and the Russians said their troops were pressed back slightly in the Salsk sector.

Nazis Make Gains

The Nazis claimed the capture of Salsk, which is on the Krasnodor-Stalingrad rail line.

The Germans also have claimed their troops were pouring across the Stalingrad-North Caucasus rail line on a wide front.

The Russians indicated the German drive on Stalingrad—a push of the Germans in the great Don bend—had been stalled.

Reds Counter-Attack

The midnight communique said Soviet troops in the Kleitskaya area, some 80 miles northwest of Stalingrad, "withstood enemy pressure and in places counter-attacked."

Heavy fighting also was reported from the Tsimlyanka area, the other half of the German drive against the Don Bend.

The Russians reported they had thrown back German counter-attacks in the Voronezh area, the northern end of the great battle line. They apparently hope in the Voronezh action to relieve German pressure to the South.

Kill 1,500 Men In Battle

The ferocity of the fighting in the Caucasus was indicated when the Russians reported that in stubborn fighting near a river crossing, 1,500 German officers and men were killed and "several dozen" enemy tanks were destroyed.

Hardy Cossacks and marines were thrown into the Russian lines in the Western Caucasus and along the Sea of Azov.

Ship Sinkings Increase

The equally critical battle of shipping was marked by the 40th sinking in American waters. The Germans said 128 ships of 815,900 tons were sunk in July and the U. S. Maritime Commission said 71 ships and tankers of 790,000 tons were launched by American shipyards alone during the month—a world record. But coming with British, Canadian and other Allied output, the United Nations were barely keeping pace with Axis submarines and planes. And without favor.

WAR BULLETINS

CHUNGKING (AP)—United States fighter pilots shot down nine Japanese planes over Hengyang, raising the Japanese losses over Human Province air base to at least 17 in two days, Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell announced as the Chinese reported a new Japanese landing on the coast of Chekiang Province.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy announced Saturday that three merchant ships were attacked by enemy submarines in the Atlantic more than two weeks ago, but only one was sunk, the others being damaged.

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia (AP)—Allied planes bombed and machinegunned a Japanese cruiser south of Kamboina in the Banda Sea, a communique said Sunday.

VICHY, Unoccupied France (AP)—One Frenchman was killed and 12 persons were injured, including a German soldier and two French policemen, in Paris during a food store riot which authorities blamed on "a communist woman speaker," a dispatch from the occupied capital said Saturday night.

Take Care Of Yourself

More Americans will die this year, because of civilian accidents, than were killed by the Germans in the first World War.

More will be injured than were in the biggest army we ever raised, the World War I army, including front line fighters, service of supply workers, and those who never got further than preliminary training camps in the United States.

As many will be permanently incapacitated by injuries as the total of American soldiers wounded during the first World War.

Individually, there is nothing sensational about most accidents. The victim suffers. So do his wife, his children and his other relatives. His friends are sorry. Perhaps the community helps care for his dependents. It's too bad, we say, but he should have been more careful.

In the aggregate, the time has passed when we can take this dispassionate approach to accidents. The National Safety Council, with the expressed approval and support of President Roosevelt and Donald Nelson, is trying to reduce the accident trend as a war measure.

Last year four million workers were injured, three-fifths away from their jobs. Fifty thousand of them died. Another 170,000 were permanently disabled. The rest were kept from work for greater or lesser periods.

This year, with employment up, the first five months' experience forecasts 4,400,000 injuries, 52,000 deaths, 180,000 permanent injuries.

From the war production standpoint this is mighty serious. It means, the National Safety Council computes, that we shall lose five hundred million man-days of labor, at a time when we are pressed to find enough workers to care for our military needs.

Half a billion man-days is equivalent approximately to two million men working fifty 40-hour weeks.

Those two million men are enough to provide the labor for building 71 battleships, or 625 destroyers, or 24,000 flying fortresses, or 120,000 fighter planes, or 312,500 light tanks.

In time of war we can't evaluate lost labor in terms of man-days, or even in humanitarian terms. We have to think in terms of armament and munitions—the tools with which civilization, as we have come to know it, is to be saved from the Huns.

It is up to every worker, and every worker's family, and every employer—and then to the public as a whole—to fight the mounting curse of accidents, both within the factory and outside.

Permanent Draft

The description applied to Congressman Wadsworth's latest proposal, "permanent draft," is unfortunate, but the idea behind it is sound. It is the sort of thing that should be enacted now, while we are awake to past errors, and not left until the war is over and we have been hit by the inevitable wave of revulsion against everything military.

Wadsworth proposed that all American youths be given military training for a year, and then placed for five years in an organized reserve. Teaching a million youngsters, between 18 and 21, each year, this would give a five million man nucleus ready for call in any future emergency. This is more than we have been able to get into service in a year and a half since the current need for a real army became obvious.

We shouldn't have needed this war to teach us how dangerous it is for a rich nation to scorn all protective measures. The fact that chief of staff Marshall is behind the Wadsworth proposal suggests that we may have learned our lesson.

Soap Is Frozen

The news column heading "Soap is Frozen" must have gladdened the heart of many a boy and girl. Too bad that the reality of the story brought so great a let-down.

The freezing is merely to assure that the cleansing content of a cake of soap is not lowered or its price raised. There isn't any shortage, nor will there be. The big chiefs in Washington point out that so long as we need glycerine for making explosives, the war won't excuse dirty ears or necks.

Glycerine is a byproduct of soap manufacture—or vice versa. Baths still are in order.

Goebbels Explains

The Russians lack courage, Nazi Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels has explained to the German people. They have to be pushed into battle by commissars with revolvers. They find a million Germans in front less terrifying than a few thousand commissars in the rear.

This intriguing thesis might serve as the basis for any number of speculations. For instance—what he-men those commissars must be, that each is more compelling from behind than a few hundred thousands Nazis in front.

Perhaps it will suffice to paraphrase Abraham Lincoln's remark about U. S. Grant [and his whiskey drinking. Let's find what Stalin gives his cowards to make them fight as they do, and send cases of the same to all the anti-Axis armies.

S. Y. Wong, Young Chinese Engineer, In Midland Studying Oil Development Methods For China

China is confident of winning the war, and of retaking all areas and properties lost during the last five years to Japan. And it is laying careful plans for the development of its natural resources, as quickly as victory is won.

That is why S. Y. Wong, young Chinese engineer and representative of the Chinese government, is spending a few weeks in Midland and the oil fields of this area. In his room at the Scharbauer Hotel, the young man spoke in high praise of the people of the United States, and asked that his appreciation for a multitude of courtesies be expressed.

Flew To America

He flew to the United States from China, entirely around the world. He went first to India, then to Cairo, then to the west coast of Africa, across to South America, and on up to Miami. From there he flew to Washington. But even that took 80 days, for plane space was reserved for weeks in advance at most ports.

In Washington, Secretary of State Cordell Hull arranged for him to make the special study of oil pipe lines and adjunct equipment, and requested the Humble Company to give him their assistance in studying West Texas equipment. The fields in China, as expected to be developed, are in much similar terrain, and the conditions and equipment in this area are about what will be required there.

To Study This Area

Wong is making detailed studies of lines, pumping equipment, operating methods, as well as of design and maintenance. Humble officials and field personnel are lending him every assistance.

The young Chinaman was educated entirely in China, but he has studied English all of his school days, in grade school, in high school and in engineering college. He was born and reared in the home city of Chiang Kai-Shek, and personally knows the great leader. At Tangshan College of Civil Engineering, Wong graduated with honors.

Built Railroads

Immediately, he was assigned as assistant construction engineer on the railroad from Hankow to Canton, then on that from Hunan to Kwangsi. He then designed the railroad that is under construction from Sufi to Kuming. For the last three years he has been engineer in charge of the construction of a railroad which when completed will replace the famous Burma Road.

Now he has the assignment for China's next great engineering job—that of preparing for development of her oil resources.

Knows Chinese Aims

He is closely associated with all modern China, for his father, W. H. Wong, has been a national leader for many years, and at present is minister of economics, or secretary of industry, for China. His brother, S. H. Wong, age 25, is an assistant chief of a large Chinese air squadron, and in charge of combat training. The brother has flown for four years, fighting against the superior Japanese, but, like the Flying Tigers, raiding where possible and taking a constant toll of Jap planes and equipment.

CHICAGO (P)—Rounders defeated Whirlaway by three lengths in the $25,000 added Arlington Handicap to the surprise of 30,000 spectators Saturday.

The Irish bred Rounders, Valinda Farms entry ridden by Jockey F. A. Smith, led from start to finish.

Whirlway, turfdom's leading money winner, was top weighted with 130 pounds and was further handicapped by the condition of the track. Rounders ran the mile and a quarter in 2:04.

Whirlaway, ridden by Jockey Eddie Arcaro, closed at 1 to 3 in the betting, and $39,462 was bet on him to win.

Staretor, second to Whirlaway in the 1941 Kentucky Derby, finished third, with Pump Gun fourth.

The land front in Egypt was stagnated by dust storms, but the Axis raided Cairo again. U. S. bombers were disclosed to have struck successful blows during the week at Axis supply bases in North Africa and Crete and convoys moving across the Mediterranean.

The Japanese extended their hold on the Solomon Islands by seizing Guadalcanal Island, suitable for air fields. No further advance on Port Moresby, New Guinea, was recorded and Allied bombers probably hit a Japanese cruiser.

U. S. Air Force planes destroyed nine Japanese craft which tried again to raid their Chinese nest at Hengyang. At least 17 were downed in two days at the cost of four U. S. ships, all of whose pilots were saved.

The Japanese landed anew on China's Chekiang coast 30 miles south of Wenchow and started driving inland.

SPORTS-- BOMBER

It's "fite nite" Wednesday at Midland Army Flying School—the first boxing event of its kind for the Bonharder College. An outdoor area is being set up on the triangle near the bowling alleys. Your khaki uniform is the price of admission. Representatives of most of the organizations on the field will be mixing 'em up in exhibition bouts. There will be three classes of "fitters": 1. experienced boxers; 2. boxers with some experience; and 3. inexperienced scrappers. Ten events are scheduled.

—SB—
In Army boxing events, competition usually is hot. Spectators are not bashful and boo or boast their dislikes and likes with gusto. They want action and generally get it. The sluggers themselves go at the job with seriousness. But sometimes there is "planned" clowning.

Let's start stamping our feet for a Vindish-Sprouse set-to! That would be a natural. Hard-hitting Bob Sprouse of MAFS slugged his way to the semi-finals of the Texas Golden Gloves tourney last fall. To Vindish, who has fought not a little in the squared arenas up in the Rocky Mountain area, Sprouse's reputation with the mitts means not a thing. Vindish will take Sprouse on and we imagine vice-versa. We could get the scrap by setting up a howl so Sportsbomber lets out the first one—"We want Sprouse and Vindish." Another word about Sprouse—he won the Odessa Golden Gloves district event with ease and knocked out every opponent up to the semi-finals of the Fort Worth fisticuffs show.

—SB—
Young Lieutenant Colonel B. C. Harrison, will you referee Wednesday night? And, boys, why not give a loud one for the colonel for he was intercollegiate heavyweight boxing champion in 1938 while at West Point. That's an impressive record and one that will give "weight" to "break that clinch, you guys, and mix it up."

—SB—
BOMBSIGHTS... Cadet Fred Gass, of one of the new classes at MAFS, is a national record-holder in the backstroke. The Westminster, Calif., swimmer attended Fullerton Junior College and then came to Texas U. to splash for Tex Robinson. And while in the water, Cadet Walt Cooley was crew manager at the University of California. Cadet Richard C. Mijerski won varsity letters in football and track at Notre Dame. He holds the shotgun record at Kelly Field. Cadet Jerome Barnes earned nine athletic letters at Carroll College, Wisconsin U. and Northwestern U. Basketball was his specialty. He played in the 1936 Olympic tryouts in that sport. He formerly coached at Beaver Dam, Wisconsin. Hold on Aggies, Cadet Joe Allen Carr has some husky buddies. He was student-manager of the mighty Texas University Longhorns.

Canada shipped goods worth $558,000,000 to the United Kingdom in 1941.

Sgt. Ivan McKinster has returned from his furlough in Portland, Oregon.

Piggly Wiggly Shopping Center Is Bought By R. N. Morris From Conners

R. N. Morris, for 15 years owner and operator of grocery stores in West Texas, has purchased the Piggly Wiggly Shopping Village from Conner Brothers, and will take over active management Monday, August 3. Owner of the Morris System grocery stores in Monahan and Odessa, Morris will make his home in Midland and will manage the grocery department here, while Ellis Conner will continue as manager of the market.

Morris has been trying for some time to get into the grocery and market business in Midland, he said, and feels that in purchasing the store from Conner Brothers he is entering the Midland field with the greatest possible advantage and opportunity.

In purchasing from Ellis and Bill Conner, Morris is buying out two "boys" whom he trained in the grocery and market business, for it was in Breckenridge in the early 1920's that both Ellis and Bill started working for him. When they decided to move to Midland, back in 1929, he assisted them in selecting some of their equipment and in making their plans.

Conner Brothers opened their first business here in 1929, a market in connection with the Hokus Pokus Grocery & Market, the grocery department of which was owned and operated by Roy Stockard and J. M. Speed. In 1934 they purchased the grocery department of Stockard, and continued in the same building, at North Main and Texas. Another store was opened later, but in 1938 they completed the present building and combined their two stores there in the most modern setting, at 411 West Texas.

The new building was constructed on a large site, which affords an ample parking lot adjoining the store, as an extra convenience for customers. The store is air conditioned and otherwise comfortable and roomy. The refrigeration and other equipment is of the most modern and affords the trade the fastest and most convenient service.

Continues Franchise
In opening the new building, they took the Piggly Wiggly franchise, and have continued the highly efficient and satisfactory self-serving conveniences of that system. They likewise adopted the use of the Green Savings Stamps, which have been very popular with the trade. These features will continue to be part of the service of the business, under the ownership and management of Morris.

It was in moving into the new building that the luncheonette was opened, and has continued open daily, except Sunday, from 6:30 a. m. to 8 p. m., serving hundreds daily with popular priced meals and cold drinks and ice cream.

There will be little if any change in personnel under the new management, said Morris. Ellis Conner will continue the operation of the efficient market. W. E. King, who has been manager of the fountain service, and Doyle Whitefield, manager of the produce department, will continue in these positions. Alfred Conner and Hansel Fields are to continue as checkers. Eddie Conner, who has been manager of the grocery department has made no announcement of whether or not he will continue with the firm. All other members of the personnel will continue there.

No Change In Policies
The store will continue the same name, Piggly Wiggly Shopping Village, said Morris. "We want the people to know that there will be no change in the policies or plans of this splendid business," said Morris. "I have sought for sometime to establish a fine grocery in Midland, and feel that in purchasing the Conner Brothers establishment that I have made a splendid move. This is a great little city, and we shall operate a fine store to meet the ever-growing requirements of Midland."

"Please express to the public the deep appreciation that we have for the wonderful patronage that they have given us through the years," said Ellis and Bill Conner. "Folks have been good to us and have helped us build this splendid business. We wish to thank them for it. Now, as we sell to Mr. Morris we want to tell the public that he is a fine man and a splendid groceryman. He will deeply appreciate your business, and will do his utmost to give you the very best service."

Softballers Of 83rd Snatch League Lead

The 83rd Air Base Squadron softball team wrested the summer league lead from the 486th S. S. by dropping the 487th S. S. Squadron in the week's feature at Midland Army Flying School.

The 97th Materiel aided the cause by topping the 486th squad, 18-8, Thursday night. In that tilt, Clyde Nickle, playing-manager of the 97th was lost for the season with a dislocated finger.

A flurry of runs in the seventh frame won for the 97th. They broke an 8-8 tie and went on a 10-run streak.

It was a hit-fest, 97th getting 21 clouts and 486th collecting 15.

Millard, of 97th, hit in his twenty-sixth consecutive game.

trump over one spade. South has no way of knowing whether North is strong or weak. North may have the minimum for a response, or may have enough intermediates to go game with South's high cards. South properly bids two diamonds, asking North whether he has any real strength.

North makes a mistake which is very common. Hypnotized by the pattern of his hand, which is the weakest possible for any suit bid, he tries two no trump.

North's hand is strong enough for a response to two diamonds, but the no trump bid is absurd. He must assume that South has values only in the two suits he has bid. That leaves the partnership wide open in hearts. And two no trump will surely trap South, for the bid ought to show real stoppers and strength in both hearts and clubs.

North should bid two spades over two diamonds, showing his preference. South will probably bid three spades, counting on North for some real strength. Now North should pass, as he has a bad pattern with the barest minimum for his responses.

Red Cross To Teach Making Of Surgical Supplies In Midland

Classes in instructions for making surgical dressings will begin in Midland as soon as a proper room and equipment can be obtained, Red Cross officials announced.

The Red Cross has agreed to furnish 90 per cent of the surgical dressings for the United States Army. Midland's quota, although the exact size is a military secret, will be large and each succeeding month will be 10 per cent larger. Red Cross officials said. The first quota will arrive the first of September and there is only a month in which to train instructors and workers in how to make the dressings.

Workers Wanted
All Midland women who have considerable leisure time are urged to assist in the war effort by enrolling in the classes, which will be instructed by Mrs. A. N. Hendrickson.

son and Mrs. W. P. Trappell. The course is a difficult one and the rolling of surgical dressings will be actual work, sponsors said, but Midland women are assured that the work is necessary and urgent. Those wishing to enter the classes are asked to contact Mrs. A. N. Hendrickson.

Business firms or individuals in the city who will supply tables and chairs are assured their donations will be appreciated by the Red Cross. Such equipment, however, must be standardized to meet rigid qualifications: Tables must be four feet wide and eight feet long and approximately 29 or 30 inches high. Chairs must be fairly comfortable. Collapsible ones may not be used.

With a 16-month program opening with the first quota in September, the Midland Red Cross urges women to prepare themselves for service in making the dressings.

SECOND HONEYMOON

CHAPTER VIII

"I've taken a bath. I've brushed my teeth. I've shaved and dressed. But before I tackle my hair, please tell me whether I have a date with you or not—"

Bart stood in the doorway, grinning at her. Christie laughed, letting her eyes dwell admiringly on her handsome husband.

"You've a date with the family—a luncheon date. And you won't mind because you'll be the big shot. They're so proud of your uniform, the brass buttons and especially the wings. Get set to tell them how good you are."

Just as she had foreseen, Mrs. Colton asked scores of questions. "But isn't it lonesome, Bart? All those boys had wives, sweethearts, mothers. They've been accustomed to going about, doing things. Then, suddenly, they're dumped into some place with nothing to do."

"Nothing to do!" Bart laughed. "Have you a hostess house?" Mrs. Colton continued, "and do you have any fun?"

"Yes," Bart answered both of her questions. "We have shows, field meets, tea dances, suppers—oh, yes, we have fun in between practice flight, saber drills, aerial reviews, and the regular routine."

"That reminds me," Bart added, "Sandra drove to the field the other day. She has an idea that she'd be a good entertainer."

Christie didn't speak for a moment, afraid her irritation would every right to visit the field, every right to become an entertainer if she wanted to. If this were not Bart's field, she'd probably agree that it was a good idea.

She lifted her eyes from her plate and smiled at Bart. "I imagine Sandra would be pretty good at that," she said. She thought Bart looked relieved.

A moment later, Christie glanced at her wrist watch, "Hate to run," she said. "But there's a meeting of my surgical dressing unit. I'm the instructor, Bart."

"Good for you," Bart looked doubtful. He added, "What am I supposed to do?"

"Jan, you and Mother keep Bart amused," Christie commanded. "I'll be through about 4:30."

BART was at his mother's the next morning when Jan came by the apartment.

"You're all bones again," Christie said seriously. "You and that cigaret habit—and I don't know why. Something on your mind?"

Jan was staring out of the window, moodily. She wheeled around: "Why don't you run around more with Bart when he's at home, instead of letting Sandra amuse him?"

"You forget I have a quota to meet... committee work—" she broke off. "Sandra! What in the world do you mean?"

"We all landed at Sandra's yesterday afternoon. She was having a party—a good one, too. You should have seen the ridiculous skit she put on... and you should have seen her showing your husband a new jilt-stip."

Christie frowned. "It doesn't sound dignified for an officer." "I think he forgot he was an officer and was just a man," Jan replied.

"Why are you talking like this, Jan?" Christie asked in a low voice. "Because I feel all mean inside. I guess," Jan's voice was bitter. "You've been quarreling with Stephen."

"No, it's worse than that. Stephen doesn't care enough to quarrel." Christie said. "Maybe he does care. Men have a lot of pride when they feel they can't support a girl."

"It isn't that, either," Jan's voice was so low it was almost a whisper. "I think he cares for someone else."

"I shouldn't let it worry me," she said quickly before Christie could speak. "He's really an awful fool, Christie. He says the most awful things, and he is going to lose his job at the Wainwrights if he isn't careful."

He talks about Versailles and what the Allies didn't do to stop future wars when they had the power... things like that. Betty Wainwright said he would make a perfect fifth columnist and she wasn't joking when she said it.

"It is silly of Stephen to say things people might misunderstand," Christie agreed. "He's as loyal as we are. But he will lose his job. I'm going to speak to him."

"I'm leaving my coat," Jan said, turning to go. "It's turning hot as blazes." She looked at Christie levelly. "Stephen is fortunate in having you for a little girl scout."

Christie hung Jan's coat up mechanically. Funny, Bart hadn't told her they had stopped by Sandra's. Maybe he didn't think it was important. Then, there was Stephen, spouting off things which might not have sounded unpatriotic before the United States got in the war, but which had an almost treasonable sound now.

On an impulse she went to the telephone and called the Wainwright Chemical Co. She must warn Stephen. He was a nice boy with a mother to support—and Jan was certainly in love with him.

STEPHEN was out, the girl at the office said. She took the number and said she would ask him to call.

Christie was in her bath when the phone rang. Bart had come home, and she heard him answer. "When she came into the living room later, Bart was bowed over the afternoon paper. 'Hello,' he said. Christie stood near him waiting. Then she stooped and kissed him.

"Hello, yourself. Your welcome is as cold as my shower. Did I hear the phone ring?" "You did. It was your friend, Stephen. I was about to tell him he had a damn lot of nerve calling my wife, but just then he said he was answering your call."

"He was," Christie said. She was about to explain why she had telephoned, and then decided against it. It would give Bart another reason for disliking Stephen.

Something in the deepening silence made Christie very angry. "Why didn't you tell me that you went by Sandra's?" she asked. "I didn't think you were interested," Bart answered. "You were so deep in that lecture business."

"Coming from a fighting man who should know how essential all that 'business' is, your remark is a little strange," Christie said. They were quarreling. She must be very careful. This was the first rift, and it could be widened by the wrong words.

"Bart," Christie said, "we're silly." She sat down on the arm of his chair. Bart reached up quickly, pulled her down on his lap and smothered her with kisses. "I'm sane and sensible," he said. "But sometimes I think you haven't a brain in your head. I don't know why I love such a dim-wit."

"For the same reason that I love you," Christie laughed. She sat up straight. Forbidden words were still so tantalizingly near the tip of her tongue.

"Bart, you like Sandra." "Of course. She's a nice girl—she's fun."

"Why don't you think up some superlatives," Christie flamed. Anger was darkening in Bart's eyes. "I won't have you going to Sandra's. I don't like her—and I don't trust her," Christie said. "What I'm going to say has nothing to do with Sandra," Bart said, steadily. "I'm an individual, even though I'm married. And I don't take orders from anyone except a superior officer."

Midland County's Battle Against Rats To Be Held August 22

A one-day's battle against the rat, mankind's most destructive pest, will be waged by Midland County citizens August 22 when an effort will be made to rid the county of these pests. The campaign will be sponsored jointly by the Midland Chamber of Commerce and the Midland County Agricultural Agent's office. Ira O. Sturkie, county agent, will direct the drive.

Loss caused by rats each year in Midland County amounts to many thousands of dollars. It is estimated that a rat will destroy or consume property worth at least $2 annually. In addition, the rat is a health menace and spreads disease.

Order Bait In Advance
Under a cooperative arrangement, bait for the campaign will be available at wholesale cost, and will be furnished to any citizen of the county. It will be necessary, however, to reserve the bait in advance. The date for registering or enlisting in the campaign will be announced later. Methods to be used will make it easy for everyone to get rid of rats with little effort and expense.

As rats are migratory, it is essential that all residents of the county cooperate in the campaign if it is to be a success.

New Style Twist: Mother Sewes Her Old Frock Into New One For Child

This checked gingham frock that dresses daughter so charmingly used to be part of a dress of mother's. When she couldn't wear it any longer, mother re-cut and re-made it for daughter, thereby helping conserve materials as well as dressing daughter fetchingly.

By NEA Service
War and the need to conserve materials has given a new and practical twist to the old custom of hand-me-down clothes — and there's nothing second-hand looking about them. No patriotic mother in these conservation days, is consigning to the rag bag a dress which no longer fits her.

Instead, she's re-cutting it and, with the help of a pattern and her sewing machine, is stitching it into a charming frock for her daughter.

Even a rank beginner can master short-cuts in sewing that will show the way to make the most of every precious bit of fabric.

You'll soon discover, too, that dressmaker finishes of distinction can be easily achieved with fool-proof modern sewing machine attachments. And if you want to be sure to do your mending, patching and darning the quickest way, use the clever gadgets on your sewing machine so that you will still have time to devote to outside affairs.

When you make over a garment, make a few preliminary preparations before you start your dress-making. First, be sure that the garment is absolutely clean. Rip the seams carefully if material is scarce so that you won't lose even a quarter of an inch by careless cutting.

Every piece should be pressed flat so that you will have no trouble in pinning the pattern to the very edge of the material. Of course, you'll have to use your ingenuity in placing the pattern on the material. If you find that some of the pattern pieces do not fit you can often piece the material so that it is not noticeable.

When you make a child's dress from an adult garment, you can nearly always count upon cutting the sleeves from the blouse of the dress. The blouse and skirt of the child's dress can be cut from the skirt of the large garment. It's important in figured or checked material to be sure that the pattern is placed on the material so that the design runs the right way.

Mark the notches carefully, so that the joinings are accurate and you will find that fitting a child's dress is as simple as A B C. Now you are ready to stitch. When you have stitched all skirt seams together, use the gathering foot attachment and shir the top of the skirt to fit the bodice. For professional looking buttonholes, use an apple or an animal and with the buttonhole attachment on your sewing machine and you will find that they can be made in jig time.

The last thing to do is to turn up the hem. You can, if you have enough material, make a two inch hem by turning and stitching with the adjustable hemmer or if material is scarce you can give a firm, neat finish by using the edge-stitcher and making three or four even rows of stitching along the bottom.

If you have difficulty in finding enough good usable material in old garments, use a little strategy in placing the pattern so that worn places or stains can be covered with pockets or by decorative applique designs. Cut out pockets or designs in the shape of a heart, an apple or an animal and with the zigzag attachment stitch the piece of fabric over the spot you want covered. The result is so effective that even the wearer won't guess your clever trick.

Complete Scrap Metal Program

A central location to assemble scrap metal and the appointment of an agent to accept and purchase salvage materials for an authorized scrap dealer were announced Saturday by R. E. Kinsey, chairman of the Midland County Industrial Salvage Committee.

P. F. Bridgewater, agent for the Sinclair Refining Co., here, has agreed to handle the scrap material—accepting donations of such materials and purchasing for an authorized dealer such scrap that is brought in for sale.

The material will be stacked on railroad property west of the Sinclair bulk station. Salvage material must be delivered to the site, and will be shipped out as soon as sufficient tonnage is accumulated.

Industries Cooperate
Kinsey said the various industrial concerns of the city and area were being asked to appoint salvage managers authorized to dispose of scrap metal, and to survey their properties for any and all salvage materials. He said the Texas and Pacific railway had agreed to the use of some of their property as a gathering place for the scrap metal and that Bridgewater had volunteered to accept and purchase the salvage material for an authorized junk dealer.

MAFS Theater Is Declared Finest

Midland Army Flying School has the finest temporary theater among the service camps in five states, according to W. E. Crist, Southwest District Manager of the Army Motion Picture Service.

Crist recently inspected the MAFS showhouse and made his statement to Lt. Raymond A. Fitzlar, theater officer.

Lower prices of admission now are in effect at the post theater, which offers nightly recreation to enlisted men and officers.

New opera seats have been installed in the theater and the floor-tilting laid. Special lighting effects were put in a few days ago.

LOCKLAR ASSUMES DUTIES AT WILL ROGERS FIELD

Will Rogers Field, Oklahoma—Pvt. Ernest P. Locklar, son of Mrs. Alice E. Locklar of Midland, has been assigned to signal corps duty at the Army Air Force at Will Rogers Field.

Before his induction into the army last April, Pvt. Locklar was employed as a salesman with The Texas Company.

'The Auk' Sees His Men Off to Battle

Under the watchful eye of Gen. Sir Charles Auchinleck, commander of the embattled British 8th Army, troop convoy rolls across sun-bleached Libyan desert to the fighting front. (Passed by censor.)

The red letter event of the week occurred Saturday night as another super dance was held at the air depot with music by the swinging "Hell from Heaven Boys".

The dance was attended by several hundred pretty West Texas girls who were all really "Keeping 'em Smilin'".

To the squadron news: 493rd School Squadron
Pfc. Jim Teresky will take your picture at the drop of a hat—and then give you a picture of yourself with your hat in mid-air. As a photographer, Jim clicks a mean shutter.

Speaking of hats, let's take ours off to S/Sgt. Bob Woodruff and S/Sgt. Morris Halpin, two of our outstanding radio men. All static beware! And keep your hats raised for S/Sgt. E. T. Winn, good bomb-drip maintainer.

Congratulations to Sgt. Roman Pedrazzini, who recently was promoted to first sergeant of the 499th, Sergeant Lippe, the previous first sergeant of this squadron, already has assumed the duties of first sergeant of the newly formed 818th S. S.

Pfc. John Wiczorak, Pfc. John J. White and Pvt. Donald Wright recently returned from a trip to Carlsbad Govern. They say it's swell to sleep again in the squadron's barracks after spending a night in a Carlsbad haystack.

Our nominations for the quietest fellows in the squadron: Pvt. "Gaby" Steadman, Pvt. Dave Clark and Pvt. Bill Wesley. Personally we still think that Pvt. Nat Rothenstein uses fewer words than any of them.

Pvt. Johnny Downs spent the past weekend exploring Carlsbad Canyon and environs. Pfc. Shaw Morrison, back from a furlough in the hills of North Carolina, reports the only feudin' the folks in those parts have in mind now is with three varmints named Adolf, Benito and Hirohito.

Promotions this week included those of Henry E. Cardy to first sergeant of the 497th, Jewell E. Germany, Keith E. Johnson, Hubert C. Meyer, and Hollis P. McHenry to staff sergeants, Woodrow W. Wingo to sergeant, and Charles McManus to corporal.

That strange feeling of folding money in khaki "jeans" followed the flight of the Eagle across MAFS last week. Boys of the 488th are happy with the rest for the feeling of financial security.

The entire personnel of the 488th missed Major Bennett, when he recently was ill, and hopes for a quick recovery were expressed.

Although First Sergeant Ted W. Preston, our well-liked topkick, has become that of the 814th, we still claim him and the friendship of the Mrs., too.

The squadron is pulling hard for Lieut. Joe Bailey to be chosen on the all-service football squad. He was a star four years at Kentucky U. and was one of the greatest centers ever to play for the Colonels. We will be "listening in", huh?

Rumors again, but why doesn't MAFS have a Non-Com Club? The stripe-wearers of this organization would be glad to join in such an organization.

97th Materiel Squadron
Has anyone seen Charley Corbin—Charley, who, by the way, has a joke for every slice of beef, rare or no!

Incidentally F. Disco is now recuperating from a furlough. "A Dream" is the title for dashing Sergeant De Priest's girl-friend. Pvt. Bisiciglia recently serenaded the topkick with tearful and expressive music, a la harmonica.

Corp. Norman L. Broscoe, who is well acquainted with the mysteries of the collection sheet of the 97th, is interesting when you watch him eat.

The commanding officer is Capt. C. E. Bissell of Providence, R. I., who is the naturalization officer and in charge of officers' mess in addition. The captain is interviewing every man in the squadron to better know his charges.

The adjutant is Lt. R. R. Anwyll, Des Moines, who formerly was the assistant post exchange officer. Lieutenant Anwyll came to MAFS from Ellington Field last January. In civilian life he has an insurance man.

First Sergeant F. D. Covell is from an Army family. He was born in the military hospital at Fort Sam Houston. His father was a master sergeant and is retired. Covell's home is in San Antonio and he has been in the service about three years.

Red Cross Notes

How about that knitting you haven't finished? All knitting out at this time must be completed and ready for shipment by August 15. If you haven't finished your garment, please do so at once. This is urgent.

A Red Cross meeting was held Thursday night at the city hall. Those present were: Mrs. Arthur Yeager, Mrs. F. E. Lewis, Mrs. John Rettig, Mrs. George Kidd, Mrs. E. H. Davidson, Mrs. A. N. An American soldier, somewhere in Australia, has sent his thanks to Red Cross contributors in the United States for making it possible to open a club for service men in Australia. He was especially impressed with the restaurant in which he said, "I had hamburger, apple pie and a cup of real American coffee." In addition to the restaurant there is a 150 bed dormitory, hot showers, first aid rooms and a clothes-dressing service.

There, too, may be found a soda fountain and a store which stocks American cigarettes and toilet articles. There is also a hospitality desk where soldiers who so choose may accept any of the scores of invitations to private homes or private parties, and there, too, they enjoy extensive recreational facilities.

Heading the honor roll of Red Cross workers for July is 13-year-old Mary Nell Moran with a total of 97 hours. The youngest knitter for the Red Cross, she made and donated an afghan, besides making two Navy helmets and an Army sweatshirt.

Others on the honor roll with the number of hours they worked are: Mrs. Georges Vorbe, 82 hours; Mrs. Ralph Barron, 65 hours; Mrs. I. E. Daniel, 64 hours; Mrs. C. G. Cooper, 60 hours; Mrs. Fred Fromm, 60 hours; Mrs. J. A. Andrews, 52 hours; Mrs. R. L. York, 52 hours; Mrs. Gordon Holcomb, 47 hours; Mrs. N. B. Larsh, 47 hours.

Where Government Wasted Millions

Throwing away $20,000,000 in federal funds, the Maritime Commission canceled an order given the New Orleans Shipbuilding Co. Pictured are a few of the $2,000,000 worth of logs, part of the material ordered but not to be used, because construction of the company's plant addition has been halted.

Bombardiers On Air Over State Network

The program, featuring talent from MAFS, originated at KRLH in Midland and was carried over 14 stations.

The "Hell from Heaven Swingers" were featured on the musical part of the program.

In the absence of General I. Davies, Colonel John P. Kenny addressed the radio audience.

The program featured a skit in which Lou Zamperini, famed track star now a bombardier cadet, spoke. The public relations department of the bombardier college prepared the program.

Revenue Tax Man To Be Here Monday For Check On Car Taxes

Priest attached summons notices to more than 25 cars on Midland streets Saturday afternoon. Owners of all these must appear Monday.

Don't Want To Be A WAAC? Then Be A WAVE For The Navy

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's Lieut. Cmdr. Mildred H. McAfee, U. S. N. R., if you please.

Within the next few days Secretary of the Navy Knox is going to let out the secret that he, the admirals and Commander-in-Chief Roosevelt have agreed on Miss McAfee, Wellesley College's 42-year-old president, as head of Uncle Sam's sallorettes.

President Roosevelt has signed into law a bill creating a feminine Naval Reserve, designated as women appointed for volunteer emergency service—and promptly dubbed the "waves"—to release men for active sea duty.

The new naval service will include 1,000 commissioned officers and about 10,000 enlisted members. The corps will be shore-bound sailors and the law prohibits their being sent outside the country.

Banner Entering Army, Going To Camp Wolters

J. W. Banner, who has been manager of the Firestone Auto Supply Store in Midland, has enlisted in the Army. He will enter the volunteer officers candidate training school at Camp Wolters August 8.

Mrs. Banner will remain in Midland until he has completed his training and been assigned to active duty.

Neil Smallwood, who has been with the firm here for five years, has been named manager to succeed Banner.

Cowden Trains For Air Patrol Duties

R. B. (Bum) Cowden, well known Midland resident, now is in training at Corpus Christi, after having become a member of the civil air border patrol service. He will be a pilot in the patrol service, and is taking a special course of instruction.

Cowden, a leader in Masonic work here, has been a licensed pilot more than three years. For sometime he owned his own plane.

Heidelberg Inn will be open Friday morning from 9 o'clock until 12.

Valley View Home Demonstration Club will have a picnic at Cloverdale, Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock.

Bows and braids are fashionable for wartime girls. This popular style is worn now in vacation, and will go back to school, too. Braids, of course, can be pinned up.

Doug Corrigan Still Insists He Was Wrong

Doug Corrigan still insists he was wrong.

The man who in 1938 flew a patched up, nine-year-old "crate" across the Atlantic to Ireland in 28 hours, stopped overnight at the Midland Army Flying School on one of his many flights for the Army Ferrying Command. He insists his original story is right and he was wrong, that he had intended to go to California, got lost in "soupy" weather and ended up in Ireland.

Notwithstanding, Corrigan has been very much on the beam since Dec. 7, 1941. He's been taking multimotored Army aircraft to their destinations without a hitch.

Where he takes the planes is, of course, a military secret. But you can be sure that if he starts for California he gets there. And the same holds true for Ireland.

Ranchmen, Gen. Davies Discuss Fire Hazards

Plans are being worked out through the cooperative efforts of Midland Army Flying School officials and representatives of cattlemen of the area for increasing the grass fire patrol and fighting units. Dry conditions on the ranges, and the hazard of bomber flares dropped by men in training at the school, have increased the necessity for quicker action in case of fires.

Meeting with Brigadier General I. Davies and members of his staff were Leonard Proctor, Roy Parks, John Dublin, Stanton Brunson, and Hilory Bedford, representing ranchmen.

Cattle Theft, Labor Shortage Are Big Problems This Area

Methods of combating the increasing theft of livestock, and of meeting the labor shortage in ranch workers, were discussed Saturday morning at a meeting here of directors of the Midland, Ector, Andrews Cattlemen's Association. Hence Barrow, of Odessa, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Aldridge Estes, inspector of the association, and Jeff Dunham, inspector in this area for the Texas Cattle Raisers Association, were commended for their work in checking cattle sales and shipments for stolen animals, and for their police work throughout the area. The association voted an expression of appreciation to the state organization for the assistance of Dunham.

Labor Shortage
The cattlemen reported a critical shortage of trained men for ranch operations, a shortage of truck and tires for proper movement of livestock, and lack of adequate pipe and other equipment for maintenance of water supplies.

Routine matters of associational finance and operations were discussed, following the regular report by Estes on work of the last few weeks.

Sherwood Foster, west Midland County cattlemen, was elected to membership on the directorate. Present for the meeting were Barrow, Sam Hurt and J. E. Parker of Ector, and Hilory Bedford and Foster, and Estes and Dunham.
