Japs Prepare For Big Scale Attack

Russia's 'Back Door' Is Likely Objective For New Jap Thrust

By The Associated Press.
A mysterious slump in Japanese aerial strength in the Southwest Pacific, coupled with the continued withdrawal of enemy invasion armies in China, renewed speculation Thursday that Japan was preparing to spring a big-scale attack elsewhere in the Pacific.

Russia's "back door" in Siberia, India and even the United States have been cited as likely objectives for a new Japanese offensive.

The apparent withdrawal or diminishing of Japanese air power in the Southwest Pacific was reflected in a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reporting that Allied fliers were unchallenged by enemy planes in attacks on two big Japanese bases.

A spokesman for Gen. MacArthur said he had no explanation for the recent lack of Japanese aerial activity, but it was apparent that any major Japanese offensive would call for the marshaling of all available air power.

South Outpost To Abell Deep Pool Staked; Humble

By FRANK GARDNER, Oil Editor.
A three-eighths mile south outpost to the Abell Ordovician field in Northern Pecos County is being staked by Humble Oil & Refining Company as its No. 1 T. R. Parker of Midland, et al. It will be in the center of the north quarter of the north quarter of section 6, block 3, H. & T. C. survey. The location is a diagonal south offset to the nearest producer, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Sidney Silverman, and also a direct southwest offset to Tal-Vez Oil Company No. 1 Hal Burnett, producer now in the process of completion. Humble later plans to drill No. 2 Parker et al one location farther southeast, offsetting the Tal-Vez No. 2 Burnett, a 1,214-barrel producer.

Four miles east of the Wentz Cambro-Ordovician pool in Northeastern Pecos, M. D. Bryant, Bryce Mousness et al. No. 1 J. A. McDonald was cored from 5,185 to 5,205 feet, recovering seven and one-half feet of detrital red shale carrying some Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, pebbles. The well is drilling ahead at 5,230 feet, still in detrital.

Allies Sign Aid Agreement For Common Struggle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand and Fighting France concluded Thursday a series of reciprocal aid agreements designed to clarify the principles of mutual assistance in their common struggle against the Axis.

Signed on the third anniversary of the French and British declarations of war against Germany, the agreements specify and formalize the principles and procedures covering aid to the Armed Forces of the United States by the other parties to the agreements on the same terms as those under which the United States supplies lend-lease aid to them.

Such reciprocal aid already has been furnished to the United States also by the other signatories without conclusion of formal agreements and, a State Department commentary points out, "This aid is rapidly increasing in importance as the intensity of the American war effort increases in the various theaters of operations."

All of the agreements emphasize that the general principle governing mutual aid is that the war production and war resources of each of the signatories should be used in ways most effectively utilizing the available materials, manpower, production facilities and shipping space.

Bombardiers Of Allied Nations Graduate In Dramatic Ceremonies Today From Midland Army Flying School

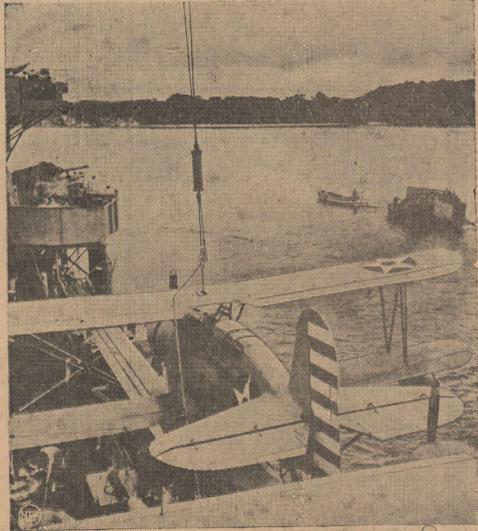

International aspects of the World War came to the fore in a dramatic program at the Midland Army Flying School Thursday morning, when Netherlands Empire bombardiers and United States bombardiers joined to form the largest graduating class in the history of the school. Young stalwarts of the two nations marched side-by-side to receive their wings, and then marched out of the crowded post theatre building to disperse to the ends of the earth to take up their battle stations.

Colonel Fredericks speaks "This is an international group," said Colonel Linus D. Fredericks, in command at the Hondo Navigation School, who made the principal address. "There is a strong bond that exists between you young men of Allied Nations. You are fortunate to have had this privilege of training together, it will cement the bonds of unity."

"As a representative of the school for navigators, I wish to greet you bombardiers, and to assure you that navigators are training to carry you to those places where you can carry out your missions. The navigator has a high regard and respect for you, and he will have a great personal liking for you when you have become an actual team. The Allies are depending on such teams to win this war."

'Allied Cause Is Hope For Youth'—FDR

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt told young people of all the world Thursday that German Nazis, Italian Fascists, and Japanese militarists have nothing to offer them but death while "the cause of the United Nations is the cause of youth itself."

His words were broadcast internationally and were directed to young men and women in the United Nations and in Axis nations and Axis-dominated lands as well. But Mr. Roosevelt remarked he fully expected the Axis to jam the airwaves to drown out his message.

The President's immediate audience was the International Student Assembly gathered in Washington. "The cause of the United Nations," Mr. Roosevelt declared, is "the hope of the new generation and the generations that are to come—hope for a new life that can be lived in freedom, and justice, and decency," he added.

British Strike Flank Blows, Upsetting Nazi Mainline Drive Plans

By The Associated Press
CAIRO, Egypt.—Cautious probing by Marshal Erwin Rommel's African Corps has encountered a fury in air attack, artillery fire and harassment by mobile forces, and four days after the British expected an Axis offensive the showdown battle for the Nile had failed to develop.

Britain's desert armies lashed out at Axis forces massed in the southern sector of the 35-mile El Alamein front, 80 miles west of Alexandria, countering the offensive.

British G.H.Q. said British mobile columns, striking from the east and southeast, "attacked and harassed the enemy, destroying many vehicles."

The attack, strongly supported by artillery and aircraft including U. S. Army planes, centered in the El Himeimat-El Ruweinat sector on the rim of the Great Qattara Salt Basin where Rommel's preliminary thrusts had penetrated eight miles through British minefields.

British headquarters said Rommel's mechanized armies were subjected to a record-breaking bombardment Wednesday, with American and RAF planes sweeping over the battle area from dawn until after dark.

Bombing Furious
Never before, a communique said, had so many bombing sorties been carried out in one day since the start of the African campaign.

With still no sign of a major breakthrough, such as marked Rommel's tempestuous offensives in the past, it began to appear that the Axis chief had met stiffer opposition than he had expected and that his hopes of a lightning drive to the Nile and the Suez Canal would be difficult to fulfill.

"In no place and in no part of the Eighth Army area have the enemy penetrated our organized area," said a message from Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery, British field commander.

Gen. Montgomery made it clear that so far the battle was still in its opening phase and that the main armies had not yet collided.

Russia Loses Ground
German steamroller assaults drove the Red Army farther back upon the southern approaches to Stalingrad Thursday, Russian headquarters acknowledged. The Berlin radio said Nazi siege guns were now within range of the already bombed Volga metropolis.

Soviet dispatches said the German attack from the northwest was checked "at the very approaches" to the city and that massed Nazi tanks driving from the southwest had cut a dangerous new wedge into the (Continued on Page 2)

Score Indifference Here To War Effort

The indifference of some Americans to the all-out war effort was scored by speakers at the meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer.

Ily Pratt, club secretary, in a "tribute of respect, admiration and praise" for the men in the Armed Forces urged all Rotarians to pledge themselves to war work so that when the men come back they can look into their faces and say "we too did our best."

Shirley Carter Is Missing In Action

Sergeant Shirley B. (Buddy) Carter is reported missing in action in Africa. Carter, brother of Sheldon Carter, who was in Midland for more than a year with Riley-Coates, was a tall gunner on a United States bomber, and had been in Africa for several weeks, after having first been in Palestine. The War Department did not report him as killed, but as missing in action.

He had visited here with his mother and Sheldon and was known to many Midland people. His mother telegraphed Miss Reba McGuire of Midland late Wednesday telling of the War Department report.

Private Sheldon Carter is now at Camp Robbins, Georgia, where he is connected with the finance department.

Heavy Rains Hit City At Midnight

A spectacular electrical storm and a heavy rain hit Midland Wednesday night blowing in from the southwest, and lasting for more than an hour. Rainfall was 1.43 inches. Sidewalks were overflowed for a few minutes, as streets were filled by the sudden downpour. Lights were shut off several times for brief intervals; and many individual telephones were out.

Rains east of Midland were reported very heavy, with several inches falling at Big Spring shortly after sundown, the rain coming in from the east.

There was no damage of importance in Midland, as there was little wind and no hail with the rain.

Our Boys Interested In Production That Will Fly And Shoot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of the American Armed Forces are interested not in figures on war production but in "the kind that will fly and shoot," Lieut. Commander Eugene Worley said on returning from eight months of active service in the Pacific.

The Democratic representative from the Texas Panhandle, who saw service in Pearl Harbor, Australia and New Guinea, returned to his office Wednesday.

He said the figures on how superior our production is to that of the enemy aren't "altogether true" and expressed dismay that controversies continue in war industries. Americans should realize, he added, that their boys were fighting with odds favoring the enemy.

Need Better Result Plans
"Our heavy bombers are unquestionably superior," he declared, "but our pursuit planes don't fill the bill by a wide margin, and that observation is direct from the boys who are doing the fighting."

Americans, he went on, were fighting with great courage and ability, but everywhere in the Pacific they were outnumbered by the Japs.

He accompanied American fliers in flights from an aircraft carrier, and talked with the men fighting from land bases. He was determined, he said, to get their views across to the highest Washington officials. He said his war experience, which included duty on a submarine and in a surface vessel on convoy duty, should make him a fervent legislator—and if it didn't he would be keenly disappointed.

Soldiers Behave

It now develops beyond any doubts that this new U. S. Army is good—and by "good" in this case is meant well-behaved, disciplined, law and order abiding. This fact comes out through studies of the Army's court martial record as compiled by the Judge Advocate General's Department.

Principal cause of this apparent improvement in behavior comes from the Army's new ideas on how to administer military justice to the men in service who do occasionally break over the traces.

Today the Army doesn't have the old idea that every time a soldier breaks one of the Articles of War, which is the military code of laws, the offender should be haled before a court martial, tried and given appropriate sentence as provided for in the table of maximum punishments in the Manual of Courts Martial. There is a punishment tailored to fit every crime in this tabulation, from death for sleeping on post in time of war or desertion in the face of the enemy, down to minor offenses which call for forfeiture of pay, confinement to quarters or a few days in the guard house.

A short time before the defense Army began to be built up, the Army brass hats came to the sensible decision that in order to give maximum training to every soldier, the only kind of a guard house which did the Army any good was an empty guard house, and furthermore it was silly to take up the time of a lot of officers conducting courts martial.

Instead of preferring formal charges and bringing soldiers before a military court on all petty offenses, commanding officers now award administrative punishment such as a reprimand or extra duty unless the soldier demands trial by court martial. The soldier naturally chooses the former. Punishment is swift.

Still Speeding

There must be some way of impressing upon motorists how close to treason it is to ruin tires by speeding and needlessly sloppy driving. Yet apparently none has been discovered.

A 10-state survey shows that more than half the drivers still exceed 40 miles, the speed limit recommended by the President, which still is too fast in view of the emergency we face. The most casual observation demonstrates that the jackrabbit start, the brake-slaming stop, the scraping of curbs in parking, the fast turn that makes tires squeal in protest—all continue just as though we were not at war.

It is all very, very discouraging to those anxious to win.

Wartime Oil Head Demanded; Says Ickes Is Favored

By Francis M. LeMay
WASHINGTON (AP)—Growing demands for a single government wartime oil administrator, to end the division of authority already blamed in several quarters for public confusion, appeared headed Thursday toward a showdown at the White House.

Creditable but unquotable sources said meanwhile that the oil industry's choice for such a powerful job was Harold L. Ickes, the Secretary of Interior who now bears the title of "Petroleum Coordinator."

Ickes himself, nettled by involvements with the Office of Price Administration headed by Leon Henderson, joined with those insisting that all regulatory authority be placed in the hands of one official. He stated his position to members of the petroleum industry war council.

Ickes Now In Favor
The industry's favor of Ickes for the job presented an ironical picture, as the Interior Secretary only a few months ago was regarded as a dangerous "meddler" by many oil men who accused him of trying to "federalize" the industry, under his control.

A resolution was placed before the Petroleum War Council Wednesday asking that all federal oil powers be placed with Ickes, but this was reported to have been tabled when a point was raised that such action might offend other federal officials now having a hand in oil matters.

The council, composed of many leaders of the petroleum industry, is headed by William R. Boyd, Jr., president of the American Petroleum Institute.

Demands for a single oil authority grew out of conflicting statements emanating from Ickes and the Office of Price Administration, as to the need and prospect of rationing.

Pete Halford Wins No-Hitter, Takes Post Softball Title

Pete Halford fire-balled the 83rd Air Base into submission Wednesday night, pitching a perfect no-hit, no-run ball game and leading his 487th mates to a 10-0 victory.

The Memphis, Tenn., red-head struck out 17 men and was never in trouble.

A comedy of errors in the fatal fourth inning cost the 83rd eight runs.

The game decided on the playing field the undisputed softball champions of Midland Army Flying School.

Although they were required to act only four times, the 487th in-field and outfield stayed right with Halford all the way.

Braverman, who caught for the 83rd, was the only man to advance past second base for the 83rd in the third inning. He was put out sliding to the plate after he had walked and stolen two bases. Only two balls were touched, and they were handled by the second baseman.

Until the fourth inning the 83rd made a fight of it, but seemed to lose heart with the eight-run salvo.

Stressing the necessity of bringing in every available piece of scrap metal, Hendrix said the gathering of scrap is "the most important job any Americans can do today. Hendrix urged close cooperation between the industrial and general salvage committees of the county in the important program.

"It is not fair for our frontline soldiers to suffer from lack of equipment when the production lines at home are being slowed down because citizens will not bring in the scrap as they should," Hendrix said. ## OPA Files Action On Alleged Meat Price Violations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Price Administration announced it would file actions in Federal Courts in 16 cities Thursday in connection with a campaign against alleged violators of price ceilings on beef and veal. More than 100 meat packers and wholesale distributors are involved.

Most of the cases, OPA said, involve so-called "up-grading" of beef and veal, although many were "concerned as well with plain and simple overcharging."

The packers and wholesalers also will be charged with issuing incorrect invoices, and failing to issue invoices, as provided for by regulations, OPA said.

Seek Injunction

OPA will seek injunctions to compel compliance with its regulations.

There have been complaints from all parts of the country, OPA said, that packers and wholesale distributors were ignoring price regulations and "are palming off inferior cuts above OPA ceilings."

The OPA defined "up-grading" as stamping and selling meat of inferior grades at prices established for higher grades. Under the regulations, all carcasses and wholesale cuts of meat must be accurately stamped and sold at prices not exceeding the legally established maximum prices for the particular grades.

Radiomen, Mechanics Needed At Midland Army Flying School

Mechanics and radio men are now being hand-picked for the Air Service Command of the Army Forces. Major R. E. Lassiter, commanding officer, of the Midland Army Flying School Sub-Depot, announced Thursday. At the same time, Major Lassiter explained how any man between the ages of 18 and 44 inclusive from this vicinity whether he is single or married may enlist directly now into the Army Air Corps if he has the qualifications to become an aircraft mechanic or aircraft radio man.

Opportunities in the Air Corps are more inviting than ever. Experienced men in the mechanical and radio fields have the chance to become non-commissioned officer specialists rapidly. There now are family allowances for married men, with increased pay being given the American soldier, from back private through master sergeant.

How To Proceed

Young men here can make sure they get into the Army Air Forces, by going to see Lt. R. I. Langford, personnel officer, of the Midland Army Flying School Sub-Depot. He will then certify these young men to the local recruiting officer and after they are inducted at the reception center, they will be sent directly to San Antonio Air Depot to train.

Major Lassiter stated that men should be able to qualify who have worked at any of these trades: airplane mechanic, appliance serviceman, automobile mechanic, electrician, farm mechanic, instrument maker or repairman, jeweler, locksmith, maintenance mechanic, radio mechanic, radio operator, telegrapher, welder, and other similar trades.

Aussies Bomb Japs With Beer Bottles Just To Scare 'Em

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Australian fliers, their bombs racks emptied, dropped empty beer bottles on the scurrying enemy at Tulagi in the Solomon Islands because "they whistle on the way down; it scares hell out of those below."

The incident was related to newsmen Wednesday by Lieut. Commander George Whitt of San Francisco, the first U. S. Navy man to arrive from the Solomons since their occupation by Allied forces.

The bombing of Tulagi with explosives and beer bottles was just a preliminary to actual invasion of the strategic islands. Commander Huff said in paying glowing tribute to Australian pilots.

"They are a great bunch of aviators," he said. "They're absolutely happy-go-lucky. Our men are a lot more serious."

In the preliminary bombing of Tulagi, American fliers went along with the Aussies to drop a few bombs.

"Our boys were ready to come home when the job was done, as it was the first action for most of them," Huff related. "But those Australians had brought along a couple of cases of empty beer bottles."

They stuck around another half hour to drop them.

Last year there were 20,393 automobile "graveyards" containing 916,000 junk cars.

Hatred--

British Home Secretary Morrison Wednesday declared in a speech that "the United Nations would accept no peace offer from Hitler unless it took the form of a promise, with guarantees of performance, a collective suicide pact by the whole German leadership." I suspect the Secretary was in part "spoofing," as our English friends say, although there's no reason to doubt that he meant Hitler and his captives must be removed from the picture.

Anyway, with all these things done the Allies must then undertake the elimination of militaristic tendencies among the defeated people by a long and difficult process of education. Our success in this epochal experiment in remodeling the world will depend largely on the attitude in which we approach it.

Golden Rule or Hatred

Are we to undertake it in hatred and bent on revenge? Or having melted out just punishment, are we to deal with it from the viewpoint of the Golden Rule? It's important that we make up our minds in advance.

I raise this issue because the cultivation of hatred is being advocated in some circles. The idea is not only to defeat and punish the enemy, but smash hell out of him for all time. In order to make this spirit effective, those who belong to this school of thought advocate the deliberate creation of hatred in the hearts of our soldiers, that is, the "savage" of our young troops. That, of course, would pave the way for post-war savagery in our effort to change the world.

Hated Unbalancing

Dr. A. H. Martin, of the Institute of Industrial Psychology, Sydney, Australia, has called the turn on this proposition. He says soldiers into whom bloodthirst and hatred are instilled in training are likely to suffer from intellectual blackout. He approves the recent order by British Army Commanders that the use of strong language in attempts to produce blood-lust and hate during battle-training must be stopped.

Hatred is one of the most unbalancing of primitive emotions. The soldier who is obsessed with it is the one likely to be killed, and the commander likewise afflicted would be unsuited for leadership.

Now of course a soldier must be taught to kill, though he should be schooled to work coolly. But once he has it fixed in his mind that war means killing and perhaps being killed, he doesn't need hatred to steel his arm.

As regards hatred, Dr. Martin says "We can very well stimulate higher mental processes which will help us win the war." If that is true, then it strikes me that the stimulation of cool and collected thought, rather than the hysterical due to unbridled hatred, will help us win the peace. It will help us help the other fellows get rid of the militaristic spirit which has been torturing the world. And right now is the time to begin to cultivate that idea.

HENRICH JOINS COAST GUARD

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Tommy Henrich, 27-year-old New York Yankee outfielder, slipped the legs that helped him cover the grassy reaches of Yankee Stadium into a pair of belted trousers Thursday and began service as a specialist, first class, in the U. S. Coast Guard.

The Son Also Rises

When Norman Wendling, Lexington, Mich., golfer, entered the recent Michigan Open he decided that his 14-year-old son, Jack, was getting good enough to be taken along for the experience of playing a tournament. Jack didn't do so badly, considering that he was the youngest player in the event. He turned in an 82 for the first round. . . . Wendling Senior had an 84.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton Jr., Wide World Sports Columnist

1-7 W. YORK (AP)—Fun with a gun: J. M. McConkey, who works in a Wichita, Kas., airplane factory, comes up with a new version of trapshooting that has made a big "zap" out that way. He calls it "Jap-Shooting." . . . Instead of the conventional clay pigeon being tossed from a trap, a guy with a bow shoots a target consisting of a dummy with unmistakable Japanese features rolled up in a parachute. . . . As the Jap glides toward the ground, the marksman with a shotgun gets his crack at it. . . . The Notre Dame football ticket office reports receiving an order from the Solomon Islands. . . . Merely a Marine who wanted to make sure his parents and his girl would see some games.

Stars And Gripes

Here's one reason baseball scouts go nuts: The Cincinnati Reds recently received a letter from a Kentucky village taling of the feats of a local 16-year-old who was hitting .332 and had belted 30 homers in 14 games. . . . A scout was dispatched immediately. . . . A day or so later he came back with a very red face to report that the hero's team averaged eight years in age and the opposition nine.

Boosting soccer as a sport to toughen athletes, Lieut. Frederick E. Triani of the Norman (Okla.) Naval Base told prep coaches that the average soccer forward runs from eight to ten miles a game.

Today's Guest Star

Dan Parker, New York Daily Mirror: "The MacPhail hesitated until the last possible moment before letting himself in for such competition. . . . Jack didn't do so badly, considering that he was the youngest player in the event. . . . He turned in an 82 for the first round. . . . Wendling Senior had an 84."

RESCUE AND REMORSE

CHAPTER XII

"SEE you Sunday," Hank Holiday said as he bid Enid good night. "You're to do another portrait of Sonny for me, remember?"

Enid smiled. "Yes," she said.

She waited with her key in the door and watched him go on down the hall, slim, blond, carrying himself with that easy assurance she admired so much. He turned at his own door and waved a careless hand at her.

She had no way of knowing that before she saw him again many, many things would be changed.

The chat wave lasted until Sunday morning, and then just at dawn it broke in a terrific storm. Enid sat up in bed frightened and dazed. The wind was whipping through the open bedroom windows and the curtains were flying back into the room.

She slid out of bed, stumbled in the darkness against a chair and ran to close the windows. It was still raining when the telephone rang at 9 o'clock. It was Hank Holiday calling. Enid hadn't seen him since the night she had gone on the consultation trip with him.

He said it looked like the rain had spoiled their plans for another picnic with Sonny. They'd have to postpone it until another time. Enid said, "Yes," and waited expecting him to suggest other plans for the day. But he didn't. Said he was awfully sorry, and that he'd be seeing her, and hung up.

She dressed and got her breakfast, and wondered what she was going to do with the long day ahead. Well, she could go home and pick up her mail.

She saw the telegram fastened to the door knob as soon as she reached the porch. She tore it open hastily.

"Pop and Mom lost on lake in storm. Come at once, Letty."

ENID'S knees sagged with fright. It wasn't hard to imagine what had happened. Mom had written that she and Pop usually went out on the lake just before day-light, because the fishing was at its best then. And they had been caught in this morning's storm.

She looked at the time at the head of the telegram. Eight a. m. She'd already lost nearly three precious hours.

It was strange how, in this sudden emergency, her mind reverted to his old channels. Not once did she think of Hank Holiday. . . .

was Tom—Tom. He'd take her. Enid felt calmer at once and her dazed mind began to function.

Tom said he'd be right over when she explained things over the telephone to him. "Now don't worry," he told her. "There's a lot of small islands in the lake. They're probably quite safe on one of them."

The 100-mile drive to the lake seemed endless although Tom drove as fast as he dared on the wet and treacherous road. They didn't talk much.

Once Tom said, "Gee, I'm glad you're back. I missed you like hell." He broke off abruptly, remembering that she didn't like to hear him swear. "Well, I missed you," he finished sheepishly, throwing her a sideways grin.

only move to a window and sit staring out through the thickening darkness toward the lake.

If only she had spent this last month with Pop and Mom here at the lake as they had wanted her to do, instead of going off by herself. She'd never be able to forgive herself now.

She didn't at first realize that the bobbing lights moving up the muddy road were lanterns carried by a crowd of men, and when she did she was afraid to move for a moment. The search was over. What had they found?

Tom was ahead of the crowd. He dashed up the steps to the cottage porch where Enid and Letty and Faye Luxon had crowded. He put steady arms around Enid.

"It's all right, honey. They've found Pop—Pop! But they're weak and sick. They've been wet to the skin and without food all this time. We've got to get them to a hospital."

The hospital waiting room had drab gray walls. To brighten it up, the wicker furniture had been lacquered a yellowish pale green. Enid knew that she'd never again see that sickly shade of green without feeling ill, without smelling the odor of disinfectants and drugs, without feeling the leaden heaviness of that long hour of waiting outside the emergency room.

The doctor, when he finally appeared, was grave. He said that Mom was rallying splendidly, that she'd be all right without a doubt, but that Pop—the father of the girls frankly, "It's a bad case of pneumonia. I can't give you any hope. We'll do what we can."

A few minutes later a nurse beckoned to Enid and told her that the superintendent wanted to see her downstairs. Enid couldn't find the elevator, so she walked down two flights of stairs and located the office. The superintendent motioned her brusquely to a chair beside her desk.

"We are going to have to send to Cleveland for some oxygen," the woman explained. "Your father's life depends upon it. Can you pay for it?"

Enid stood up. "He must have it," she said desperately. "I'll get the money."

She was thinking frantically. She had less than $25 left of her savings—just the amount she had counted on for food and small items during the last week of her stay in the apartment. If only she hadn't spent all her savings—$350. She needed the money now to save Pop's life. And it was gone. What was she going to do?

the work throughout the state and the southwest. "We especially invite the general public to this meeting," said Davis. ### Air Power To Be Given Full Test In Drive On Nazi CINCINNATI (AP)—The United States plans to make a full test of a "good fling at bringing Germany to her knees by concentrated use of air power," assistant secretary of War John J. McCloy says, but he adds that it still must rely on ground troops to win the war.

McCloy, in an address prepared for delivery before the Veterans of Foreign Wars encampment here, related how United States planes already "are fighting effectively all over the world" as he outlined "the facts" about the quality of American war planes.

He reported that Army fliers had shot down 234 Japanese planes since Feb. 1 while losing 109 of their own craft, not including planes lost on the ground, by anti-aircraft fire, nor the 218 Jap craft destroyed by the American Volunteer Group.

Telling his audience that Americans should "feel more encouraged" about new and improved United States warplanes soon to be in action, McCloy emphasized the work of flying fortress planes over Europe—"they have been in all important daylight missions, x's, and thus far all planes have come back."

Many persons, McCloy says, call for a "shortcut to victory." That, he continued, cannot be readily found. Despite the damage done by aircraft, McCloy says, "the great achievements have not been the bombing of London, Tokyo, or Berlin, but the march through France and the Low Countries, the march down the Malay Peninsula and across the Ukraine and through the Balkans."

"We would be most negligent," he added, "if we did not have a good fling at bringing Germany to her knees by concentrated use of air power and we intend to give it a full test but we must also be prepared to go out, fight and occupy."

Many In Action
"Already we have outside the United States over a half million men and the John Paul Jones on the Bon Homme Richard we have not yet begun to fight."

"To show that we are not operating on a descending curve," he added, "the figures for the last week in August for all Army planes in all theaters are 41 enemy planes destroyed, 26 probably destroyed, and six damaged—a total of 73 casualties against one American plane destroyed, three missing, three damaged, for a total of seven casualties."

Dodgers Gain, But Durocher Nervous As Drives Into That Final Stretch

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Brooklyn Dodgers now have a 4 1/2 game lead in their National League pennant prancing, so whose nervous?

Well, Mr. Leo Durocher, the Dodgers' peerless pilot, appears to be for one.

Wyatt taking over in the tenth finished strongly and gained his 17th victory when a walk, a sacrifice and a single by Arky Vaughan scored a run for Brooklyn in the twelfth.

The defeat was charged to plucky Bucky Walters, who himself made three hits, batted in one Red run and scored the other.

Brooklyn Gained One
The triumph added another game to Brooklyn's slender margin because the New York Giants slugged out an 8-2 win over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Boston Braves beat the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, in ten innings, after Lon Warneke had held them scoreless for seven frames.

The Pirates stopped the Phils, 5-2, by scoring four runs without a hit in the eighth inning of their night game. Frank Hoerst held the Bucs to two singles, one of which drove in a run in the fourth. In the big blowoff, Hoerst walked four men and threw low to the plate on a grounder. Then relief pitcher John Podgajny hit two batsmen.

Yankees Take Two
At New York the Yankees swept a double header from the St. Louis Browns, 3-2 on Charley Keller's 25th homer in the tenth inning and 6-0 on Hank Borowy's masterful one-hit hurling.

The Cleveland Indians rose into a virtual tie with the Browns for third place in the American League by overwhelming the Philadelphia Athletics, 12-3. The Tribe scored eight runs in the first inning.

The Boston Red Sox kept pace with the Yanks by taking a double bill from the Detroit Tigers, 3-2 and 4-2. Charley Wagner pitched five-hit ball in the first game, which was decided by Ted Williams' 23th homer in the eighth inning. Williams also doubled three runs across in the second game to win that—boosting his runs batted in total to 121 and giving the Sox the 22nd victory in their last 26 games.

The Chicago White Sox whipped the Washington Senators, 8-2 and 7-6, making 17 hits in the first game and 12 in the second.

This May Be Last Year For National Tennis Tournament

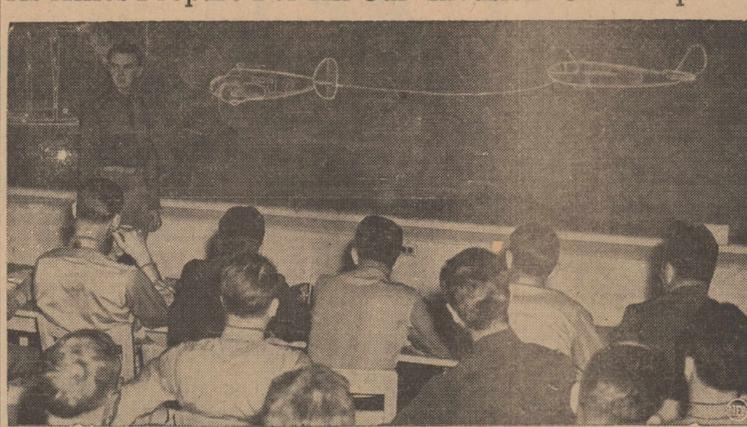

By Gayle Talbot
NEW YORK (AP)—The end of the National Tennis Championships was faintly in sight Thursday as the five-barreled event moved into its second week and a hesitant start was made toward playing quarter-final matches both in men's and women's singles.

Although the attendance had not been disappointing, everything considered, there were unmistakable indications that this might be the last championship until after the war.

The USLTA officials say that they will put on a championship every autumn as long as they can buy tennis balls, but their voices do not carry great conviction.

Thursday's feature match—the first to bring together two men considered championship possibilities—saw Pancho Segura, the highly-publicized Ecuadorian, facing a real baptism of fire from Billy Talbert of Cincinnati, who beat him the last time they clashed at Southampton. Neither player had lost a set in reaching the quarter-finals.

Winged Commandos Will Likely Show Up As Next Step As Allies Prepare For All-Out Invasion Of Europe

Army Air Corps glider candidates spend hours of "skull practice" in classrooms. Above, Lieut. Archie Adair, of Clinton, S. C., instructs a group at Twenty-Nine Palms Glider Academy in California.

By NEA Service
WASHINGTON — The Winged Commandos are organizing. With its recent call for thousands of pilots to take special training in handling gliders, the Army Air Forces opened its doors to men who have been itching for a crack at the enemy on his home grounds.

Coming so soon after Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, Air Forces commander, and other top-ranking Army men conferred in London with Allied military leaders, the announcement indicated the manner in which the Yanks now in North Ireland might soon participate in a gigantic air-borne offensive into Axis-held Europe.

Glider Pilots Must Be Alert
A promise of early action was seen in the statement that the courses just started would run only six weeks each. The first four weeks will be spent on light, powered planes at pilot training schools of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, with emphasis on dead-stick, power-off landings. Then comes a week on a light maintain his place in the "V" with absolute accuracy, lest his tow cable get snarled and imperil the whole train.

ful piloting will be required to land at the right spot. Or they may be towed close to the objective and their cargo dropped by parachute.

The cargo may be equipment as well as men, providing maximum fire power for the initial blow, and later, a fast and steady stream of supplies. General Arnold has declared that we must have gliders "capable" of carrying at least 15 men each with full equipment including rifles, machine guns and even light cannon. A glider on which a small tank can be carried is expected soon.

Big Reservoir Is Available
In training glider pilots, the United States starts with a nucleus of almost 35,000 persons holding CAA licenses as private pilots of powered airplanes. It is from this group that the Army expects to draw candidates ready for action after taking its six-week glider courses. Deemed particularly qualified among them are the 70,000 graduates of the CAA elementary pilot training courses.

The men who qualify as Winged Commandos will be rated as staff sergeants with flight pay, their compensation approximating $180 a month. Because of their exceptional opportunities for demonstration of leadership qualities, they will be in line for quick promotion to commissioned rank.

Missions, Buffs Scrap For 4th Place Berth
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
San Antonio and Houston remained tied Thursday for fourth place in the Texas League and a coveted chance in the Shaughnessy playoffs.

The Missions walloped the Rebels 7-3 at Dallas Wednesday night, but while they were doing it Houston was winning its third straight game over the Cats at Fort Worth 2-0.

In the only other game of the day Beaumont eked out a 5-4 victory over the Oilers at Tulsa. The Shreveport at Oklahoma City contest was cancelled.

The Padres had no trouble in solving the chunking of Joe Isaacs and Eddie Marleau, nicking them for 11 hits. Marleau augmented his three league records—he appeared in his sixty-sixth game, accomplished his sixty-third relief job and finished his fiftieth game of the season. The Rebels gathered eight hits off John Pavlick, three of them doubles.

George Kleine, Houston moundsmen, allowed his opponents only three hits, one of them a triple in the ninth by Bill Lillard. He tightened up and held Lillard on base.

Streamline Your Appearance With Helpful Exercises

By Alicia Hart NEA Service Staff Writer The summer is just about over—it's time to take stock of figure facts. On the whole, you're in pretty good form. You've swum, played tennis and golf, bicycled, hiked, ridden. There's no excess poundage, curves are just right, flesh is firm, muscles and joints supple.

Now to keep them that way. Tendancy is to let down on active sports once the play season is over, and you are back into the routine of workaday living, particularly so now that every spare minute you have will be devoted to some sort of war or defense activity.

Here are three exercises that will help to keep muscles supple and firm and won't take too much of your time either.

Lie flat on the floor; cross arms over chest. Now, keeping shoulders flat, raise both legs, ankles close together, until they are perpendicular to your body. Lower. Twenty times is about right. This exercise should be done very slowly and should be one of your standbys, because it is designed to keep stomach muscles youthfully firm and legs limber.

Second routine calls for standing barefooted with hands stretched forward, touching lightly the back of the chair. Check your posture. It should remain perfect during the entire exercise. Lift right leg backward, swing it slowly out to right as far as you can; swing back to position. Repeat with left leg, swinging backward to left, of course. Twenty times is good for this also.

Announce New Rules For Car Purchases WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Office of Price Administration has tightened its regulations covering the sale of automobiles by inductees and members of the armed forces.

Unrestricted sale of new (1942) cars by inductees will be permitted hereafter only when it becomes certain the seller actually will enter the service.

Previously, an inductee could sell a 1942 model, even to a buyer who could not qualify for a certificate under rationing regulations, as soon as he received notice to report for induction.

The change was made necessary, the OPA said, because of a greater number of rejections under a draft board practice of making on-site, advisory medical examinations and leaving through checkups to Army and Navy doctors at induction points.

In another ruling, the OPA said members of the Armed Forces who acquire new automobiles after entering the service will be permitted to transfer them only to certificate holders or to members of their own family. Previously, they could sell to anyone without restriction.

The OPA also ruled that new automobile purchase certificates will not be granted hereafter to applicants who since January 1 have disposed of cars adequate for their needs, unless there were "justifying circumstances" at the time of the sale.

Official comment was lacking, but it was reiterated unofficially that Britain has scrupulously obeyed the Geneva convention concerning treatment of war prisoners.

Irving Berlin's Career Is The Story Of The Rise Of An Immigrant Youth

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Irving Berlin, what a musical comedy could be written around his life. What a movie could be made. His patriotism and his sincerity are so well known that it starts you to remember that he was born in Russia, that he came to the United States when he was only four, and that he was selling newspapers and listening under the doors of Bowery saloons when he was only eight years old.

Helping to earn a few dimes for shoes and for the rest of the kids at home. The Bowery was a blowsy thoroughfare in a sentimental era of drooping and handlebar moustachios and foaming beer mugs when Irving Berlin trooped its stalls, winding up, eventually, at Nigger Mike's.

It was at Mike's that he wrote his first song, "Marie from Sunny Italy." . . . and until the day of her death it remained his mother's favorite song. Irving Berlin's favorite, he once told me, was "Alexander's Ragtime Band," but his wife's, the former Elin Mackay, is "Always."

One cup elbow macaroni, 1-2 cups hot milk, 1 cup medium fine dry enriched bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon chopped celery leaves, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 cup cream cheese, 3 eggs slightly beaten, 1 tablespoon melted butter.

once led the jack of diamonds, which rode to the king. East led back the deuce of hearts.

Now Crawford could have captured this with his ace to run in ten tricks. But he made a snap judgment that West would not continue spades if let in with the heart. He hesitatingly ducked and West made the jack. Sure enough, back came the king of hearts and Crawford won.

When the clubs were run, East found it impossible to keep his diamond stopper as well as the master heart. He actually let go the latter and Crawford won an extra trick with the seven of hearts.

Texas Farmers Boost Income Sixty Percent

AUSTIN, (AP)—Texas farmers pocketed $34,342,000 for the first seven months of this year, boosting their income more than 60 per cent above last year, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported.

The Bureau's July index of Agricultural cash income rose to 148.4, a gain of 48.4 per cent over the July average for the period 1928-32.

This margin of gain was not as spectacular as the June index of 177.2 compared to the June average for 1928-32, but was almost double the index of 85.5 for July a year ago.

After he escaped he stole an automobile at Pueblo, Colo., the car had the new style gear shift and Hathaway couldn't operate it smoothly. Officers captured him.

Navy Sets Quota For Midland In September Drive

Midland County has been assigned a quota of 12 Naval recruits as a September quota, in a drive to enlist 3,600 men in the North Texas district, which includes the north half of the state. During August the quota of 3,000 was exceeded by 100 men.

Six men were enlisted here in August, but the doubling of that amount will offer opportunities for more men who have been considering this move, said recruiting officials.

Lieutenant L. H. Rideout, district recruiting officer, stated that he expected West Texas soon to be as representative in the Navy as are some of the other sections of the state.

"We can enlist 3,600 men in thirty days because we have only started our campaign to sell the Navy," said Lt. Rideout. "The country is becoming more war conscious every day. Washington says that the 3-A classifications will be tapped before Christmas. Increasing numbers of men are convincing themselves daily of the immediate need for all the manpower we can possibly muster."

He expressed sincere thanks to the many of the area who have assisted in the campaign.

Livestock Marketings Double Over Last Year

CHICAGO, (AP)—A rush to unload livestock has sent nearly twice as many meat producing animals to major markets in the first two days this week as in the corresponding period of last year, agricultural department statistics disclosed Wednesday.

Hog, cattle and sheep bins from Buffalo to Denver, and as far south as Fort Worth, have handled a huge number of meat animals for this time of year. Normally the runs during the first week of September are only slightly from the low months of July and August.

Factors combining to create the heavy outpouring were the large numbers of meat producing animals on farms and ranches, the unprecedented demand for meat and the threat of ceilings over livestock prices.

This Is What Happens To Soldier's Pay When He Is 'Missing In Action'

By Robert Ruark
WASHINGTON—This brand-new war, with its lengthy lines of communications and scattered fighting fronts, has brought a new problem to the Army Finance Office—that of the man who is neither officially dead nor captured.

In previous wars the "missing in action" lists were relatively small, as compared to the clean-cut groups of "killed in action" and "captured." But now, with the Japs refusing to release prisoner lists from the Philippines and other fronts, hordes of soldiers are entered in the indefinite "missing" groups.

Many New Factors
Air warfare also has complicated the matter. A plane takes off over the sea or jungle, and doesn't come back with the rest of the flight. Is the pilot dead or captured? Is he floating on a little raft or hacking his way through a jungle? Nobody knows, so he goes into the missing rolls too.

This inability to determine actual fates has a direct effect on the missing man's dependents at home. Here is what happens to the family of Corp. Jerry Jones, missing since the fall of Bataan.

Jerry's pay status continues for one year after the date he is officially termed missing in action, which means that Mrs. Jones gets the care of his family. Then Jerry is declared officially dead.

When a man is officially dead, granting of course his death occurred in line of duty, his wife, children or any other designated dependents are entitled to an amount equal to six months' pay, plus any arrears due the soldier. When his heirs' claim for further pension goes to the Veterans' Bureau.

Prisoners Continue On Payroll
So Mrs. Jones gets her allotment for a year, but during the final six months the allotment is understood to be deductible from the final settlement. What she has in the end is: A year's pay, plus any arrears, minus the final six months' allotment.

But, if the Japs finally release full prisoner lists, and it is discovered that Jerry is captured, there is no change from his pay status on active duty. For the duration—unless Jerry dies in prison camp—his wife gets her allotments, and the balance of Jerry's salary accrues to his credit on the Army payroll.

The third possibility is that Jerry will turn up after being declared officially dead. Say he's been wandering around in the wilderness, and finally is able to beat his way back to the Army.

In that case, Jerry is restored to regular pay status, and a simple accounting job is necessary to make his ledger balance. If the Army owes him money, he gets it immediately, and if his death settlement has put him in Army's debt, then it's paid back as painlessly as possible.

After considerable conjecture, this is the method Army has adopted as the fairest to the man and his family. All three eventualities sketched are sure to occur, numbering in the thousands. Keeping up with them has added another load to the neck of Army's Finance Office, already swaying under the weight of the new family allotment.

Lamesa Man Cited For Action In Philippines

WASHINGTON, (AP)—When Corregidor fell a 31-year-old Texan named John Samuel Stringer of Lamesa was a machinist's mate aboard the minesweeper "Quail" when the captain gave orders to scuttle the ship. She had done her duty. There was no escape for her now. So the Yanks did a pretty thorough job of seeing that their ship did not fall into Japanese hands.

When he helped send his ship to the bottom, "Texas" Stringer had no idea what his own fate would be.

He lived. And Stringer was one of the many heroes from Texas rewarded during the month just closed.

Stringer was one of the "Quails" crew that travelled from the Philippines to Australia in a motor launch. It took them a solid month to make the 2,000-mile journey. On the way they had to whittle an emergency propeller shaft out of driftwood, among other experiences. Now, on recommendation of the Quail's Commanding Officer, Stringer has been promoted to the rank of chief machinist's mate.

The recommendation said that during the last hours before Corregidor's fall, Stringer "responded to the urgent call made by the Army for volunteers to repair the crumbling shelter barricades."

Jews Herded Into Old Fortress In Saxony

LONDON, (AP)—A Czechoslovak government source has announced nearly 50,000 Jews from the German protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia, Berlin, Hamburg, and Hanover have been herded into a concentration camp at Terezin, former fortress on the Austro-Hungarian border in Saxony.

The Benedictines were the first monks to introduce monastic life into western Europe.

Suits Are Fashion For War Duration

Unquestionably, suits will be the wardrobe for the duration. Hard working, good-looking suits for backbone of the American woman's every hour of the day and night—suits to work in—serve in—live in and love. Praised by American designers and applauded by American women, the new suits are completely smart as they are wearable.

Most vital point, these suits are more feminine, therefore much more figure-flattering than ever before. The regulation length 25" jackets are shorter, have gently curved waistlines, smaller, neater revers. Skirts are slimmer gut not noticeably so and the crisp straight trouser pleat skirt is newest for fall. Of course there'll be fewer pleats, but think of all the fabric that will save for our fighting forces.

A big fashion revival and a welcome one is the basque jacket suits with rib-hugging short jacket* to emphasize a small waist. So popular are these basque suits that they are noted in soft handling tweeds as well as the dresser sheer wools and velveteens, which are simply perfect from desk to furlough dates because they are so completely ladylike and elegant. Marvelous quick change ideas are yours with a few dressy blouses.

Matching Topcoats
The No. 1 suit for active duty through fall is the tailored jacket suit with matching topcoat—one of the soundest, long term investments you could make. Wonderful together or separately, this is the suit that you'll wear to business, school, work and for all your defense duties. Grand in herringbone tweeds, they are also noted in shetlands, flannels, tweeds, as well as bright cheery plaids.

U.S. Technical Mission To Aid Brazil War Effort

A White House statement said the mission would leave soon for Brazil "to cooperate with experts of that country in developing Brazilian industry and war production."

Australians Ration Meat

Solid Fibre Tire May Go Into Use

AUSTIN, (AP)—Texans will ride on solid fiber tires if the plan of an Austin real estate man materializes.

J. W. Flournoy has spent four months working on the new type tire which he said will give enough flexibility for comfort and service and will be suitable for speeds ranging from 25 to 40 miles an hour.

He contends that a reasonably serviceable tire can be built up of a heavy cotton fiber canvas base, well impregnated with a water-proof plastic and a thoroughly coated plastic outer covering.

Cong. Lyndon Johnson's office has forwarded the proposal to the proper government authorities. Flournoy asked for a $100,000 government loan to finance the project.

Stevenson Requests Simple Inauguration

AUSTIN, (AP)—A simple inauguration devoid of balls, receptions, barbecues or similar events is the wish of Governor Coke Stevenson who will begin his first elective term next January.

"The simpler the better," the governor declared, answering questions concerning his plans for inaugural ceremonies.

The seriousness of the times should automatically eliminate incidental social functions, he declared.

He said he wished to consult with John Lee Smith who will be inaugurated as lieutenant governor before making a final decision on plans.

The first locomotive ever operated in the United States was bought in England.

 ¼ cup Pet Milk
 1¼ teaspoons salt
 ¼ teaspoon dry mustard

No. 2 can Kidney beans, drained*
 6 slices white or whole wheat bread
 3 large tomatoes**
 ¼ teaspoon pepper

Mix together cheese, milk, ¼ teaspoon salt and the dry mustard. Cook over boiling water until cheese melts and mixture is smooth, stirring frequently. Add beans. Keep warm. Turn on oven and set at moderate (375° F). Toast bread slices on one side. Put in shallow baking pan, toasted side up. Cut tomatoes into ½ inch slices. Arrange tomato slices on toasted bread.
