Germans were calling upon every means at their disposal in an attempt to cut the Allied sea route to Murmansk.

The German high command claimed Sunday that their submarines and planes had sunk 38 merchant ships totaling 270,000 tons and destroyed or damaged six escorting warships in a six-day attack on a British and American convoy in Arctic waters

The claim was characterized in London as exaggerated, although unofficial British sources said losses on the Murmansk route over many months undoubtedly had been con-

Daily farther behind schedule in its hopes to announce a victory at Stalingrad, the German high command said bitter resistance by the Russians continued, with the defense forces bolstered by new reserves from the east.

In the Caucasus, however, the Germans claimed gains. They said they had captured the towns of Terek and Vladimirovka in their thrust toward the oil wealth of Grozny. Terek is six miles east of Mozdok and some 55 miles northwest of Grozny. Vladimirovka is 90 miles northwest of Grozny and approximately the same distance from the shores of the Caspian Sea.
