American Bombers Swarm Over Japs

Widespread Raids Hit Japs Heavy Blows In Southwest Pacific

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur sent fighter planes swarming down the Buna-Kokoda trail in New Guinea Tuesday, pouring more than 34,000 rounds of ammunition into the Japanese and their war installations in a growing aerial offensive in the Southwest Pacific which gave the Japanese a taste of the punishment their planes inflicted on MacArthur and his men on Bataan.

MacArthur's fighters and bombers, in a series of attacks over New Guinea, New Britain and the northern tip of the Solomons, carried out the most extensive sweeps since the start of the warfare on New Guinea, Wednesday's communique indicated.

Final reports on the contributions of the day have just been released by F. N. Robinson, business manager of the organization.

Wickard Calls Attention To Labor Needs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard said Wednesday that unless "we find some way to deal with the farm labor problem and other problems of farm production satisfactorily, we must find some way in the not too distant future to deal with a shortage of food."

Testifying before the House agriculture committee about a growing farm labor shortage which he said "cannot be overlooked or ignored," Wickard suggested that "a national labor service act should be given consideration."

While 1942 food production has reached a record high, he told the committee, beginning an investigation of the whole farm problem, "the future is much darker," since much labor for the 1942 crop was performed before the United States entered the war.

Three Vital Axis Bases Surprised In Daring British Raids In Desert

CAIRO, (AP)—Daring British desert patrol raids 500 miles behind the Axis Egyptian line on three vital enemy points—the big supply port of Benghazi, the nearby coastal air-base base of Berze and the outpost garrison at the Gialo Oasis deep in the desert—were disclosed by the British command Wednesday.

Announcement of the most spectacular large-scale land raiding in the whole war on the Mediterranean front, in which the British said heavy blows were dealt enemy forces, supplies and planes, came only after the Italians Tuesday had acknowledged a six-day battle at the Gialo Oasis.

Gialo, a remote outpost about 325 miles due south of Benghazi and 500 miles southwest of the El Alamein-Quattara battle line in Egypt, was attacked on the night of Sept. 15.

Bengasi and Berze were attacked two nights before—the same night as the big Commando raid on Tobruk, some 220 miles to the east of Benghazi.

The communique said the British desert patrols which carried out the raids now have arrived back at their bases.

Plan Before Congress May Delay Action

By OVID A. MARTIN—WASHINGTON (AP)—Anti-inflation legislation now being debated in Congress would not give President Roosevelt authority to bring to an immediate halt an advance in farm prices that started with the outbreak of war in Europe in 1939.

Several important agricultural commodities could advance beyond present or peak levels before the chief executive could impose price ceilings. Included would be wheat, corn, oats, cotton, rye, barley, flaxseed, dry beans, hay, apples, turkeys, oranges and lemons.

The legislation would authorize ceilings on farm products at either (1) the highest prices reached between Jan. 1, 1942, and Sept. 15, 1942, adjusted for seasonal variations, or (2) parity prices, whichever is higher.

Below Parity Level The farm products listed above are selling at less than parity. Hence they would not be subject to parity ceilings.

3,000 Slovenes Shot By Nazis

LONDON, (AP)—More than 3,000 Slovenes have been shot and 58 villages razed in recent weeks as reprisals for increasing sabotage of Slovene railways, Yugoslav sources reported Wednesday.

In addition to the Slovenes shot, they said, 165,000 had been deported to Germany and at least 70,000 to Italy.

Soviet Reserves Slip Across Volga River To Clash With Invaders

By ROGER D. GREENE—Associated Press War Editor Russian troops slipping westward across the Volga River at night were reported to have driven the Germans from houses, buildings and streets amid savage hand-to-hand fighting in one section of Stalingrad Wednesday as the siege entered its 30th day with the invaders still held at arm's length.

At mid-day, Soviet headquarters acknowledged that German infantry, led by 100 tanks, captured several streets, but its communique declared:

"In other sectors, all enemy attacks were repulsed."

More than 1,400 Nazis were listed as killed and 17 tanks knocked out of action in the last 24 hours.

Nazi field headquarters said German troops had captured further ground in the "center of Stalingrad" despite the defenders' "obstinate resistance" and declared that Soviet counterattacks had collapsed.

The German command also noted "severe defensive fighting" in the Voronezh zone, 300 miles northwest of Stalingrad, where the Russians have launched repeated diversionary attacks against the Nazi left flank.

Nazi Losses In North While the gravest danger prevailed inside Stalingrad, Soviet dispatches said the Germans were now actually losing ground northwest and southwest of the battle-ravaged Volga metropolis.

Field Marshal Smolodtsov, the Soviet army newspaper, said Russian shock troops had captured the German from a number of positions in the northwest and recaptured a village in the southwest.

Red Star declared also that the Germans had lost several thousand troops and 22 tanks in a two-day battle for an important height—perhaps referring to a hill overlooking the heart of Stalingrad, which had previously been reported the scene of a bitter five-day battle.

Field Marshal Smolodtsov, meanwhile, reports reaching Stockholm, relayed by Reuters, said Adolf Hitler had dismissed Field Marshal Fedor von Bock, gaudy Prussian commander of the Stalingrad assault, as a result of a clash over campaign strategy.

These reports said the dispute arose over Hitler's insistence on simultaneous drives against Stalingrad and the Caucasus, while Von Bock urged a single, concentrated thrust into the Caucasus, arguing that too great a price would have to be paid for the conquest of the Volga steel city.

Von Bock was said to have returned to Berlin two weeks ago. Reds In Surprise Attack Front-line dispatches to Red Star said Soviet troops stealthily moving across the Volga under cover of darkness struck hard against the (Continued on page 7)

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Little Switzerland has ample cause for her anxiety over the large and increasing number of refugees who are begging admission at her frontiers, for there has been created a problem which Justice Minister Von Steiger warns is endangering the security of the nation.

Apart from the economic strain on the country's limited resources, and the risk of acquiring undesirable, her neutrality might easily be placed in jeopardy. That neutrality is one of Switzerland's greatest treasures, since the independence which she has safeguarded for six and a half centuries is involved. She has no reason to fear the Allies, but a successful German invasion would mean bondage.

As a matter of fact, the Swiss success in maintaining their neutrality is one of the phenomena of the war. Their towering mountains afford them much protection against assault, but because they stand in the heart of trouble those same peaks are exposed to international political blasts from all directions.

Excellent Listening Post There are several reasons why the Swiss have been able thus far to keep out of the conflict, and one of them is that the government has kept a shrewd and level head (Continued on Page 5)

Texas Coca-Cola Bottling Company To Buy Tin Cans

Texas Coca-Cola Bottling Company has been authorized by the War Production Board to acquire used tin cans in 26 West Texas counties.

In a letter received by W. E. Jarrett, general manager, the director general for operations, said: "We trust that in collecting No. 10 or larger cans under this authorization you will also cooperate to the full extent with salvage committees in your area in the collection of smaller cans to be sent to detinning plants. These cans should be prepared, either before or after collection, by being cleaned, the labels removed, ends removed and the sides flattened."

Jarrett, advised that under Order M-72-A, the War Production Board permits the use of No. 10 and larger cans for the purpose of making crowns. He pointed out that the government needs tin "desperately" in the war effort, and permission granted by the government to use No. 10 cans had behind it the belief that the bottlers, through such permission, would return to the detinning plants of the country vastly greater amounts of tin than could be gathered through normal salvage programs. He said that all details had not been worked out, but would be as soon as possible, and made public so the housewife would know how to prepare her cans and where to take them.

A price ceiling has been set on No. 10 and larger cans by the Office of Price Administration.

Jarrett said the new ceiling price figures about 2/10 of one cent each for No. 10 cans, and that his company has been licensed to acquire them.

War Prisoner Mail Will Be Handled By Midland Red Cross

Relatives and friends of prisoners of war or military men missing in action in the Far East are urged by the American Red Cross to go immediately to their local Red Cross chapter to file messages to them. The message will be carried on the exchange ship "Gripsholm," soon to sail on its second voyage. The procedure for those wishing to send messages is:

First, the message is to be filed with the local chapter of the Red Cross on Form 1616; second, complete information as to name, number, rank, military unit and last known address must be given; third, where possible, relatives and friends should join in sending one message; and fourth, the message must be confined to 25 words.

The American Red Cross announces that these messages will be mailed on the "Gripsholm," addressed to the International Red Cross delegate in Japan, who will make every effort to see that they are delivered. The Red Cross can give no assurance of delivery, but this method has been adopted in agreement with the State, Navy, War, and Post Office Departments, because the Japanese government has not yet furnished official lists of the majority of American prisoners in the Far East.

W. Ily Pratt, chairman of the Midland Red Cross, with offices at the city hall, will be glad to handle all such mail for any who wish to contact their relatives or friends in enemy prison camps.

Police Gazette Is Banned From Mails

NEW YORK (AP)—All day long Dan, the barber, went on snipping hair with never a word of the war or the disappearance of the Dodgers.

For Dan, faithful subscriber for 29 years, knew that the United States government no longer regarded the Police Gazette as a grand old American tradition.

The unhappy tidings reached the barbers of America from the nation's capital, where the postoffice department, holding that the pink-sheeted weekly "proflably pandered to the lewd and lascivious," barred it from the mails.

"I don't know about that lewd business," Dan said, keeping his eyes averted from the lady of charm on last week's cover, "but I never had to talk much when the men were reading it in the chair."

Shooting Feat Brings Both Praise And Fine

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Edison C. Semninger's remarkable feat of bagging two ducks with one shot drew praise—and a fine—from Federal Judge John C. Collet.

"I don't know whether you should be punished or given a medal," the Judge remarked as he levied a $5 fine for shooting ducks last November without a government duck stamp.

Semninger said he never had shot a duck before and when they appeared overhead the temptation to blast away was too great to resist.

The War Today-

under exceptionally trying conditions. However, there's a lot more to it than that.

For one thing the Axis powers and the Allies for that matter, find that Switzerland's neutrality provides them with an excellent listening-post. This alpine republic is one of the world's best radio sets, for into it pours information from the four corners of the earth.

The country is full of the agents of both sides in the war. German secret service men rub elbows with agents from Allied countries, and each spies on the other fellow. Travelers from many countries drift in and out, and leave behind them a trail of information. Of course, it's not surprising that there should be secret agents in Switzerland, for they're everywhere these days. Our own country is full of them, as has been amply demonstrated by our very alert F.B.I.

General Post Office

Then Switzerland provides a useful medium through which the Axis can make the money transactions necessary to provide funds for their workers abroad. German money is unacceptable abroad, but Swiss money is good the world over, and this can be secured by the Axis by creating a trade balance in their favor. Such transactions naturally are normal and in accord with neutrality.

Switzerland also provides a grand general post-office for all nations. Undoubtedly Germany and her satellites receive not only information but money and other valuables in the mails. Also, all hands are happy to have the International Red Cross in Switzerland.

However, I should say that Swiss security from attack by Hitler rests largely in the fact that Germany and Italy must have access to the Simplon and St. Gothard railroads which pass through three of the world's longest tunnels—the Lotsberg, Simpson and Gothard—and are the chief highways between the Mediterranean and northern Europe.

International Railroad

Charles S. Felz, Jr., Associated Press correspondent, some time ago reported from Switzerland that streams of German, Dutch, Belgian, French, Czech and Polish cars, all in the service of the Axis were passing southward into Italy with coal and iron, and on returning were bringing some bauxite (aluminum ore) which had been shipped from Yugo-Slavia to Trieste, and fruits and vegetables from Italy.

Now these tunnels have been heavily mined by the Swiss and undoubtedly would be blown up should Germany make an attack on Switzerland. It would take years to make the tunnels serviceable again. So there you have the primary reason why the Axis powers haven't monkeyed with Swiss neutrality—they can't get along without those tunnels.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority

The national contract bridge championships tournament of the American Contract Bridge League is divided into two sessions, the summer and the fall session. There are too many events to be completed in one week's play. The summer session has been held for the past 12 years in the Convention Hall at Asbury Park, but this year it was moved to New York. In this tournament last year a new pair event was inaugurated in honor of E. M. Goddard of Asbury Park, who has been chairman of the tournament for several years. The popularity for the event was confirmed this year when it broke last year's attendance. The winners were Mrs. Faye Lasaraw of Miami, Fla., and Dr. William V. Kirk of Eagle Lake, Me.

Dr. Kirk obtained a top score by a nice play. Declarer won the opening spade lead, cashed the king and jack of clubs, then led a diamond to the king. Dr. Kirk, sitting West, held up the ace. The idea of this hold-up was to make North believe that the ace was held by East. Then if North had only the queen-ten at the top of his diamonds, he would take a finesse of the ten on the second lead. This is exactly what happened.

If the ace had killed the king on the first trick, the declarer still might have finessed. But at several other tables North guessed right and made six clubs.

Tragedy Hits Reporter During Lull in Duties

BOSTON. (AP)—During a lull in the dramatic events he covered daily, police reporter William Shea telephoned his home.

He inquired whether any word had been received from his son, William, Jr., who was inducted last week into the Army.

"There's no news from him yet," Shea's wife said.

Suddenly she added: "Bill, I think I'm dying."

Shea went home and found her dead beside the telephone.

Supply Lines First Concern Says George

DALLAS. (AP)—Supply lines will play a large part in ultimate victory, Maj. Gen. Harold Lee George, commanding general of the Air Transport Command, declared Tuesday.

Whether tanks, guns or planes, the supplies must be fed in a continual stream to the points where they're needed most, he said.

"We could never mark such supplies all over the world in sufficient amount to meet the shifting needs of this global war, even if we had an inexhaustible supply."

"So it has been up to us to organize rapid means of getting them when we want them. That's my job."

General George and his party inspected a new air training command post here.

Cardinal-Dodger Pennant Stretch Drive Has John O. Fan In Dither

By The Associated Press.—The St. Louis Cardinals look like they're just a deep breath and a loud sneeze away from the National League pennant, and it's probably just as well for the cardiac condition and the nervous systems of Gus Q. Fan.

Pitching Dominates.—The Cardinals had their faithful moaning low when the Pirates pushed three runs over in the third. Then, without any advance warning, the Bucs blew up and before you knew it, the Redbirds had six runs. Four of these came walking across when Stan Musial hit a homer with the bases loaded after three Bucs errors had put the "ducks on the pond."

From there on it was just a case of how high the Bucs could blow. Otherwise, pitching dominated the big league game. Paul Deringer and Johnny Vander Meer served up a five-hitter and a three-hitter, respectively, and the Cincinnati Reds rolled over the Chicago Cubs twice by scores of 4-1. It was no trick at all for the New York Yankees to take a 3-1 decision from the Senators behind Atley Donald's five-hit elbowing. Dizzy Trout tossed a six-hitter as Detroit downed the Chicago White Sox 3-2.

Joe Gordon Gives Yankees Edge In Infield Play Over St. Louis Cards

By Gayle Talbot.—NEW YORK. McCollum Stresses Blocking Again In Practice Sessions

"Get the habit," Coach Gene McCollum hollered at his Midland Bulldogs Tuesday night. And he had reference to practicing each play to perfection so that it would be just "habit" to run them in scrimmage.

The Bulldogs eleven goes up against a strong team from Austin High School in El Paso Friday night. When McCollum was questioned regarding Austin High's strength, he said "they had a large squad of boys and had lost two close games, both of which had been played on muddy fields."
