ENTERTAINMENT.

A most delightful social affair was enjoyed on Wednesday evening Aug. 29th by the Baird Volunteer Fire Company, their wives and lady friends. Artistic invitations were issued a few days before which promised the pleasure of both skating and banqueting. The party was met at the Boydston Skating Rink by the Mayor, Judge Russell, Mrs. Russell, the City Council and their ladies, all of whom were complimentary guests.

After two hours of skating, which was greatly enjoyed by all and most especially the Mayor, the company repaired to the Seay Hotel where an elegant banquet was spread for them. Fruit, meats, salads, relishes ices and bonbons constituted the Menu, which was well served and highly appreciated by the ladies, although reserve prevented them expressing their pleasure. They were all highly enthusiastic over the success of the event.

At the close of the repast Chief Walker called upon Mayor Russell for an address, which request was graciously responded to. In a few fluent and eloquent words the Mayor expressed in highly eulogistic terms his appreciation of the noble and unselfish work of the Volunteer Fire Co. Long live the Fire boys. ***

Skating Party.

The swellest thing of the season a private skating party given by the girls for the boys at the skating rink last night. About twenty couples were present and the program consisting of fifteen skates, was carried out to perfection. Punch and wafers were served between the sessions and after the program was finished the crowd went to Hall Bros., where the girls had ice cream, cold drinks and cigars awaiting the boys.

Girls, everyone of you, we love you; we adore you; we have a cozy corner in each of our hearts for you; you can't be beaten by anything or anybody. We are grateful to you and if there is one among us who did not enjoy himself better than ever before, he does not dare speak it that way. Many thanks.

THE BOYS.

Dan Hamilton was in town the first of the week. We learn that he has located in New Mexico.

Madison Square Garden Contains a Mighty Gathering.

BRYAN AT HIS BEST

Never Before Was There More Enthusiasm Shown in the Metropolis Celebrated Place For Large Assemblages.

New York, Aug. 31.—Such a welcome as seldom in this country's history has been accorded to a private citizen was given to William Jennings Bryan at Madison Square Garden Thursday night in the celebration of his return from a year's absence in foreign travel.

As the guest of the Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust league, Mr. Bryan was greeted by more than 20,000 persons, who filled the great structure to the upper gallery. At the same time the streets and avenues outside the garden were choked for blocks by others thousands, who stood patiently for hours for the privilege of even getting a glance at the distinguished visitor. The interior of the garden was swaying sea of color. Every person in the audience had been provided with a miniature American flag, and every cheer from 20,000 throats was accentuated by the waving of 20,000 tiny flags bearing the stars and stripes.

When Chairman Tom L. Johnson, in his introduction of Mr. Bryan, referred to the guest of the evening as "the first citizen, if not the first official of the land—not yet the first official," and Mr. Bryan rose, the great gathering broke out in unrestrained cheering, while the band played "Hail to the Chief."

So touched was Mr. Bryan by the welcome that as he stood waiting for the cheers to subside his eyes filled with tears, and he strode nervously from side to side of the narrow platform.

"How can I thank you for this welcome home?" he said.

"My heart would be ungrateful if it did not consecrate itself to your service. It was kind to prepare this reception. It was kind of Governor Folk to come here, all the way from Missouri. It was kind of Tom Johnson, that example of the moral courage we so much need in this country, to lend his presence.

"It was kind in you to fully recompense me in being absent so long from my native land. I thank you, I return to the land of my birth more proud of my citizenship than ever before."

The doors of Madison Square Garden were opened at 5:30 o'clock, and by that time hundreds of ticket holders were clamoring for admittance. Police lines had been formed for three blocks from all the garden entrances. The immense auditorium began to fill so quickly that the ushers and policemen had difficulty in adhering to the seating arrangements. The Nebraska Bryan home folks arrived in a body, and were given seats just back of the speaker's stand. Each person was presented with a flag, and the waving of these made a picture such as the garden, a scene of many notable gatherings, has seldom, if ever, witnessed.

Before the meeting was called to order a band played merry tunes, such as "Maryland," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Way Down Upon the Suwanee River" and other southern melodies, which called forth tumultuous applause; but when the first strains of "Dixie" were sounded, the thousands of Bryan welcomers were on their feet in an instant, and the cheers completely drowned the band for a time.

As each notable Democratic visitor entered the hall and was recognized, his name was called and the cheering was renewed.

Twelve thousand patrons, many of them women, were seated by 7 o'clock, and an hour later there was not a vacant seat. The galleries early were jammed.

Hundreds of policemen and firemen were on duty in case of emergency.

Governor Folk was given an ovation. He introduced Mayor Johnson of Cleveland as chairman of the meeting. The applause was deafening as Mr. Johnson came forward. At this moment William R. Hearst entered a reserved box. For two minutes the crowd cheered. Many rose and waved hats and handkerchiefs in the direction of Mr. Hearst's box. Then there were more cheers for Mr. Johnson.

When this joint demonstration had partly subsided Mr. Bryan, accompanied by his wife, entered the garden and appeared on the platform.

The crowd, which had been so free in its cheering before, was now fairly beside itself. The men shouted and jumped on seats, cheered and threw their hats in the air, apparently caring naught as to the ultimate fate of the headgear. The women waved handkerchiefs and cheered as loudly as they could. Five minutes after Mr. Bryan appeared on the platform the crowd howled and cheered, but eventually Chairman Johnson secured comparative quiet, and introduced Augustus Thomas of the Anti-Trust League of Commercial Travelers of the United States, whose every reference to Mr. Bryan called for additional cheers.

Chairman Johnson then introduced Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan was presented at 8:40 o'clock. As he arose the audience was on its feet as one man. The cheering which began at that instant did not end until 8:48, and then not till Mr. Bryan had waved his hands and beat upon the speaker's platform. At first the man for whom the demonstration was formed stood bowing and smiling. Then his attitude was one of appeal.

When Mr. Bryan uttered his first words, "Mr. Chairman," there was tremendous applause.

"Ladies and Gentlemen," he began, after "three cheers for William J. Bryan" had been called for, "how I thank you for this welcome home. My heart would be flint, indeed, if it were not touched by your demonstration. My heart would be ungrateful beyond measure if I did not, in return, consecrate itself to your service.

"It was kind of the Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust league to prepare this home-coming. It was kind of Governor Folk to come all the way from Missouri to bear all the testimony that he might join in this reception. It was kind in Tom Johnson, that example of moral courage, that we so much need in this country, to lend his presence to this occasion. It was kind of the officers of this league to bring you here. Kind in Mr. Thomas to voice the welcome in words so generous that I could not admit myself worthy of them. Kind in you all to so fully recompense me for any danger that I have encountered, or any sacrifice that I have made in being absent so long from my native land.

"I cannot use a better phrase than the old simple one, 'I thank you.'"

Mr. Bryan was accorded close attention throughout his speech, which was liberally applauded.

PRESIDENT FOR PRESIDENT.

Mr. Bryan Sees No Necessity For Chief Executive Again Serving.

New York, Sept. 1.—Hon. W. J. Bryan returned from his trip to Connecticut Saturday morning.

On the way from Bridgeport Mr. Bryan was asked what he thought about the argument of certain Republicans that President Roosevelt would be the next logical Republican candidate for president. Mr. Bryan said if it were true, as many Republicans declared, that he had completely destroyed the Democratic party, there ought to be dozens of able Republicans who would be available as candidates, as it would appear that almost any Republican could win with the Democratic party wiped out. There would then be no necessity of giving President Roosevelt what would be regarded by many as practically a third term. With such an easy victory for the Republicans ahead, why, he asked, should not somebody else be given a chance?

When asked what he thought of the criticism by some Democrats of his idea of Federal ownership of railroads Mr. Bryan said he had never advocated anything that was not opposed in some quarters.

He was told that some of the Southern Democrats seemed alarmed lest the Jim Crow cars should be eliminated by adoption of his ideas of Federal ownership. Mr. Bryan in reply to this said that if the various states owned the lines within their borders local laws would continue to be enforced. He said if it was meant that negroes and whites would be separated if a state had a Jim Crow law, to which he replied that state laws naturally held good on local lines. He said he did not care at this time to discuss the details of how his plan would affect the carriage of whites and negroes on through lines under Federal control.

BRYAN BANNERS BARRED.

New York Central Road Would Not Have Cars Placarded.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 30.—The St. Louis Jefferson club special train bearing 350 Missourians to New York to help greet W. J. Bryan was held up for more than four hours at Buffalo by the West Shore railroad, which demanded that the "odious" Bryan banners on the sides of the cars should be removed before the company would carry the special into New York.

The Missourians pleaded, protested, stormed and threatened in vain. The banners on the St. Louis special train: "Missouri Democratic Jefferson Club Special, Welcome to Bryan."

Learning other roads entering Buffalo had entered into an agreement not to haul cars into New York adorned with Bryan banners the Missourians yielded and the banners were removed.

A committee was appointed to draw up a vigorous protest, which was adopted, and every free and untrammelled American newspaper asked to give the resolution the fullest publicity, that the people may be fully advised of the conditions that confront them.

DEED IS DELIBERATE

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Robert Gordon, sixteen years old, has confessed that he struck Joseph Reed, eight years old, with a brick, stunning him, and then buried him alive under a sidewalk in front of his father's home. Young Reed's body was found where Gordon said he had buried it. Gordon was arrested. The absence of the Reed boy from his home was noticed Saturday afternoon, and a search was immediately begun. Gordon assisted the father in the search for several hours, and about 1 o'clock Saturday night took him to where the body was. When questioned by the police Gordon broke down, and confessed that he enticed the boy to the basement of the Reed home, mistreated him, and when he attempted to escape, struck him on the head with a brick. He then buried him alive.

RUSH AT TREASURY.

Wanted Warrants Cashed Before the Funds Had Been Exhausted.

Austin, Aug. 31.—There was a rush on the state treasury Friday by department clerks and other employees of the state for their salary for August. This rush was due to the fact that the funds to the credit of the general revenue may become exhausted any time and the clerks did not want to have their warrants registered. Everybody was paid in cash, and there is yet a small balance available. But State Treasurer Robbins says he does not know how long it will last. About $75,000 was paid out.

Sales and leases for the month of August as reported by State Treasurer Robbins amounted to $154,362.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—A cablegram to the Tribune from Tangier, Morocco, announces the capture in that city of Paul O. Stensland, the president and manager of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, which closed its doors on Aug. 6.

The arrest was made by a representative of the Tribune and Mr. Olsen, assistant district attorney of this city, who have been on the trail of Stensland since Aug. 13. He was taken into custody while in the British post-office in Tangier. He had alighted but a short time before from the German tramp steamer Oldenburg, came to the postoffice to direct the forwarding of his mail under the name of Paul Olsen, to Mogador, 400 miles southwest of Tangier.

As he entered the postoffice he was recognized by Mr. Olsen, who at once placed him under arrest.

State's Attorney Healy received the following from Mr. Olsen:

"What is delay in state department? Imperative that they cable instructions immediately through minister at Tangier."

Mr. Healy called up Governor Deeney by telephone, and the governor directed that extradition papers should be prepared at once, promising to forward them at once to Washington. Mr. Barbour, assistant state's attorney, then sent the following message to the state department, signing State's Attorney Healy's name:

"Notify Grummere, Tangier, to hold Paul O. Stensland, fugitive Chicago banker, wanted for embezzlement and forgery. My assistant, Harry Olsen, cabled your immediate instructions to the minister as imperative."

Pain from a Burn Promptly Relieved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

A little child of Michael Strauss, of Vernon, Conn., was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand and as cold application only increased the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to Mr. James N. Nicols, a local merchant, for something to stop the pain. Mr. Nicols says: "I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for burns, strains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint." For sale by All Druggists.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years although I am now 91 years old. The democrats of New York seem to fear that Hearst will capture the State convention with his independent organization. Hearst seems to be the clown of the political arena of this country, and does not mind scattering his daddy's millions in the harmless diversion of running for governor and president. A man with plenty of money to spend can always attract a following of some kind, but Hearst seems to have more kinds of followers in New York than usual for freak or fake politicians.

Some of the pros now claim that R. A. John, who ran against Judge Henderson, is a regular booze fighter and say that is the reason he was defeated. If they knew this during the campaign they kept perfectly mum about it. THE STAR never heard of any such charge against Mr. John until after he was so badly defeated. Do the pros prefer a pro for office who is a booze fighter to an anti who is not? We have frequently heard that Judge Henderson was somewhat on this order and as frequently heard it contradicted. Wonder how many pros in this county voted against Mr. John because he was charged with being a booze fighter? Don't all speak at once.

The prohibition question does not settle anything, no matter how the election goes. If a county goes "dry" it is still "wet around the express office and clubs. The time for holding elections should be extended from two to five years and other necessary changes. The peripatetic prohibition orator would find it a long dry spell between elections but the public would not suffer in the least. Two year elections give a lot of pro speakers a perpetual job and THE STAR wants to starve them out. We have no objection to starving out the anti speakers too, but the latter class are not so numerous as the pros they never get a job until an election is ordered, whereas the pro speaker never lets up. Fewer elections would make them hunt other jobs.

The New Era says prohibition will add ten to twenty per cent in value to Baird property if the town goes dry. Some of the Abilene merchants are so anxious for the New Era to accomplish this that they are putting up money in the way of advertising in the New Era to help it make the fight. We all know how Abilene has always helped Baird in the past, and they want to relieve us of any anxiety about the accumulation of worldly wealth by cutting into our trade. They evidently think the best way to do it is to assist the New Era in making a fight for prohibition. They did this two years ago and they are doing it again.

IT WAS A GREAT CONVENTION.

The editor has attended many conventions but the democratic convention of the 42d Judicial District Convention at Baird Aug. 25th came nearest a burlesque of any we ever attended.

John W. Woods, chairman, waited all day for delegates to come in, but none came, and late in the evening, with the assistance of the editor, Capt. W. C. Powell, H. F. Foy, Prof. R. D. Green, Judge B. L. Russell we assembled in Judge Bowyer's office, but it was found that no proxies had been sent and Judge Bowyer, the other delegate, could not be found, but after scouting and phoning all over town he was finally located, brought in and the "convention" pulled off. Just two regular delegates were present, John W. Woods and Otis Bowyer. Eastland county made no returns and no one seemed to care whether a convention was held or not, even the candidate for district attorney failed to come and his home county had no representative. After the "convention" was over the boys decided to put up a job on the nominee, Mr. Cunningham, so they got John Woods, the chairman, to write him that Eastland county with the assistance of half of the delegation of Callahan, meaning Mr. Bowyer, had captured the convention and nominated a Mr. Jackson of Eastland county. We learn that much indignation occurred at Abilene until the joke was disclosed. The boys present only desired to illustrate the absurdity of a convention under the Terrell law and seemed to have succeeded. They had a riproaching time and it looked like all wanted to speak at once for fear they would not get to take part in the proceedings before they came to a close or the thing broke down somewhere. It was the greatest farce in the way of a district convention the writer ever got mixed up in, but we complied with the law strictly as the minutes will show. The editor once refused to hold a precinct mass meeting with only four voters present, about twenty-one years later actually help hold a district convention with two delegates representing five counties with a convention vote of 12 votes and representing a popular vote of about six thousand. It was a great convention, no doubt of that.

The fact that Mr. Cunningham had no opposition, of course, was the cause of no interest being taken in the proceedings.

They say East Texas is after Senator Culberson's scalp, but we must remember Senator Culberson was once an East Texas man himself, and as a politician knows all the ropes and will not surrender without a scrap. THE STAR predicts that who ever beats him will acknowledge when the scrap is over that he has been in a fight that was a real fight and not a sham battle.

Callahan county will soon hold its semi-annual election to decide the local option question, and while we have no cinch on the situation, everything we hear from the seat of war indicates that local option will win, and it will then be a long time between drinks for the traveler from Fort Worth to El Paso. In fact the only wet spot on the route will be at Big Springs, if we except one or two small stations. Abilene Reporter.

We don't hold em semi annually, but bi-annually, just as often as the law permits. As the pros have been doing practically all the talking and making all the noise, the Reporter has evidently heard but one side of the question. It may turn out as the Reporter says, but you can find lots of people down here that don't think so. But the Reporter in mentioning wet spots should not overlook the express offices as most of them are wet enough for all purposes in dry districts, and if all accounts be true the express office in Abilene is no exception to the rule.

Here is what the Pecan Valley News at Brownwood says about the pro fight now on in Brown county. Brown county has been "dry" as the term is used, for two years and "clubs" have ran pretty wide open there from all accounts.

"From various reports and discussions of the local option question there is reason to believe the people of Brown county are generally prepared to treat the present issue as a business proposition. The open and continued sale of liquor that pays not one cent of revenue toward the support of the city and county government, but instead engenders perjury, lying, violations of the law, expense and annoyance, is a condition well calculated to change men from the sentimental to the practical basis of dealing with a public problem."

Here is what the Coleman Voice says about the Clubs in Brownwood.

"Brownwood is holding a series of law and order meetings. It seems that there has recently been a lot of new clubs opened in town and it has aroused the citizens to a state of great activity. Brownwood is a great place for clubs, it seems, from the way they are flourishing. Brownwood might try inducing citizens to withdraw their patronage and moral support and if this was done the clubs would not be long in going out of business."

Whatever objection is made to the open saloon applies with greater force to the clubs, because many unprejudiced people believe them more injurious than the open saloon, as minors are not barred from clubs. Clubs are not always run in violation of the law as many believe, but to make a law strong enough to destroy the clubs will have to prevent the shipment of intoxicating liquors into dry districts at all. That is what the prohibitionists are aiming at ultimately. They tell you in this county that you can get all the whiskey you want that they are only fighting the saloon, but wait and see what they try to do next in the legislature. They will make it impossible for one to ship liquor into dry districts if they have the power.

"The anti suggest that it would save expense to hold the two elections together. There is enough money wasted at the saloons every week to pay the expenses of an election. It is estimated that saloons must take in $20 per day to pay expenses, five saloons $100 per day, $3,000 per month, $36,000 per year or $72,000 since the election two years ago. Stop this waste at once and let it go for dry goods, groceries and other things the people need. The expense of the election is nothing compared to it—New Era.

A poor excuse is better than none, but as a matter of fact the above is no excuse at all for not holding both elections the same day, which will save the voters time at least it not expense, and thus secure a full vote both at the general election and on prohibition. To show the fallacy of the New Era's figures; it is claimed that not less than three-fifths of the saloon trade in Baird comes from adjacent dry counties. We do not know that the New Era's estimate as to cost of running saloons is correct, but for sake of argument we will assume that it is. Then we have $36,000 sales yearly, three-fifths, $21,600 comes from outside counties and $14,400 in the county. The New Era says let this amount go for dry goods, groceries and things the people need. That is an excellent idea if it were only true, but, like most of the prohibition argument, is based upon a false premise, hence the conclusion drawn is incorrect. Vote the saloons out of Baird and the $21,600 that comes from the outside counties, an election in towns, Dallas, Fort Worth, as City perhaps. The New Era says that buy liquor in Baird because Baird goes dry. It is a matter of no concern to the side buyers where they get liquor so they get it, and it is much the same with local users of liquor. In place of $36,000 yearly now spent for liquor in Baird being spent for dry goods groceries and others necessities in Baird and elsewhere the money will be spent for liquors in other towns and that is all there is to it. In place of being a business profit it will result in the town losing $36,000 in trade annually. The saloon men spend at least half as much in Baird each year as the estimated county sales of liquor. This will be lost and the express offices and clubs will take the place of the saloons. They have done so elsewhere is the only reason we have for believing it will be done here. Then if the town goes dry the county will lose $750 annually in taxes, and unless other business concerns come in and take the place of the saloons the county will lose the advalorem tax on the saloon also. The city will lose $375 occupation tax and advalorem tax also, and for what? That merely the form of dispensing intoxicating liquors be changed from the open saloon to the express office and club or clubs, that pay not a cent revenue. This is rather a cold matter-of-fact way to discuss the question, but the New Era assumes that if Baird goes dry all the money now spent in Baird saloons will be spent for dry goods, groceries, which has not occurred anywhere else that we have heard of, and we have personal knowledge of some of the adjacent so called dry towns. If voting the saloons out of Baird really ment to turn $36,000 yearly into clothes, meat and bread, why not a reasonable or honorable man in the county would oppose it, but such argument is the thinnest kind of moonshine and every one who has sense enough to pound sand into a rat hole knows that if the money now spent for liquor in Baird cannot be bought here in the future it will go where it can be bought. New Era's reason for not holding both elections on the same day is too thin. The real reason is

PRESIDENT REVIEWED

Witnessed Largest Fleet Ever Gathered Off America.

NEWEST AND FINEST

Forty-Five Battleships, Cruisers and Torpedoboats, Torpedoboot Destroyers and Submarines an Inspiring Sight.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 4.—What was the greatest assemblage of war vessels in the history of the Western hemisphere was reviewed Labor day by President Roosevelt in the waters of Long Island sound, off Oyster Bay. In the fleet were the newest and best vessels of the American navy, including all that is efficient in the various class of battleships, cruisers, torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers and submarines. In the fleet, commanded by Rear Admiral Evans, were many men who cheered President Roosevelt as the Mayflower steamed through the lines of battleships. The following was the programme observed: 8 a. m.—Ships full dress. 10:45 a. m.—Mayflower with President left anchorage. 11 a. m.—Mayflower reached head of column. 12—Mayflower anchored. 12:05 p. m.—Commander in chief visited Mayflower. 12:10 p. m.—Squadron and division commanders shoved off for Mayflower.

ROBLEY D. EVANS.

There were numerous vessels of all descriptions in the vicinity, and the sight was a most imposing one. As Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans Sunday surveyed from the bride of his flagship, the Maine, the forty-five vessels of his command, stretching more than three miles down the sound in three columns, he looked an admiration that he refused to express to the newspaper men who visited him just after the fleet had got in formation. He was enthusiastic, but not boastful. While he recognized the splendor of the fleet, he declared that it was not as big as some that a few other great powers had assembled in waters of Europe. "It is only a little fleet," he said, "but a very select one. I wish it were three times as big and I wish every man, woman and child in the United States were here to look at it, and see that they are getting a return for their money. I would advocate the assembling of a fleet similar to this—but larger, of course—annually. It would have a splendid educational effect, not only on the men of the fleet themselves, but on the people generally."

GENERALLY CELEBRATED.

Labor Day Was Celebrated All Over the Lone Star State.

Austin, Sept. 4.—Labor day was generally observed all over the state. All departments were closed here, and nearly all places of business. "God, Home and Native Land."

Motto for the year—Go Forward. The W. C. T. U. will meet at the Methodist Church on Friday evening, August 31st at 4 o'clock.

The W. C. T. U. will give an open air entertainment at the Court House yard Friday night, Sept. 7th. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

NOTICE.—This column is furnished free for the use of the W. C. T. U. for the purpose of promoting temperance only, and with the distinct agreement that all matters pertaining to Prohibition is prohibited in this column. This much is due the readers of THE STAR that there may not be any misunderstanding about the matter.—[EDITOR STAR.]

Prayer and Praise.

If it were possible to gather between the lids of one volume, the things for which the W. C. T. U. should render praise to God, what a volume that would be! Shall we hint at a "table of contents"? How would the first chapter be headed? Ah, our thoughts hark back to the quiet room where a mother travelled in prayer till her daughter came to her with open Bible and with reverent pointing finger gave to her mother and to our great sisterhood the Crusade Psalm. So we thank God for our beginnings, for the arrest of thought that set the gentle hand of Christian motherhood over against the devastation of alcohol.

Swift-winged thought is impatient of chapter and page and paragraph! Up and down the path of the years she flashes and her sweet song of faith-filled praise swells to a very paean of overwhelming joy. For little children saved to unshadowed years—for the cup of salvation pressed to the parched lips of age—for the light of hope restored to the drunkard's home and hearth—for the reclamation of men and women from the vapid pleasures of an empty thing called "society" and their consecration to the great task of bringing in the golden rule of Christ—for the noble and ennobling fellowship that has come to the comrades of the white-ribbon army—for the splendid lift and climb of public sense and public sentiment shown forth in the inverted wine-glass, in the vanishing side-board, in the growing disrepute of the saloon, in good laws enforced and bad laws repealed, in a thousand movements that help to swing a sobering world Christward—for God in man, the open of every step taken by our my—for all these things and more, we give thanks and praise to Him without whose all-conquering Spirit the bravest and best of us must fail.

Texas Governors for 215 Years.

The following compiled from Texas History may be of interest to some.

Texas was under Spanish rule from 1691 to 1822—131 years. During that time she had 22 governors. From 1822 to 1835—13 years Mexico ruled and during that time she had 7 governors. From 1835 to 1846—11 years, Texas was a republic and had one provisioned governor Henry Smith, 1835 to 36; Henry G. Burnett, President ad interim, 1836 Then Houston, Lamar, Houston again, and Anson Jones the last. In 1846 Texas was admitted to the Union John Pinckney Henderson was elected governor. Wood 1847. P. H. Bell two terms 1849 to 53; E. M. Pease 1853 to 1857, H. R. Runnels to 1859. Sam Houston 1859 to 61 deposed by confederate authorities in 1871 and Edward Clark elected; E. R. Lubbock 61 to 63; Pendleton Murrah 63 to 65, A. J. Hamilton, Provisioned, 1865-66. J. W. Throckmorton 66-67 deposed by Federal authorities. E. M. Pease Provisioned 1867 to 1870. E. J. Davis only republican ever elected governor of Texas and best hated man in the State 1860-74. NOTES.—Houston was the only president that served more than one term. E. M. Pease had the distinction of serving four years as governor by election and four years later served as provisional governor for three years making the longest term 7 years, ever served by a Texas governor. Runnels defeated Houston in 1857 and Houston returned the compliment in 1859 but did not quite fill out his term on account of the civil war. Senator Culberson and J. D. Sayers are the only ex-governors living. Bell, Houston, Hamilton Throckmorton, Coke, Culberson, Sayers and Lanham all served in the United States Congress as Senators or Representatives either before or after their term as governor.

W. K. Boatwright, living on Deep Creek made THE STAR a pleasant call Monday. He informed us that he had just returned from a ten days visit to his old home in Johnson County and also visited in Ellis County. He says they are not having as much rain as we are but that many are selling out and coming west. He mentioned several Johnson county people who would be in this county soon who come to look for homes and will likely settle in this county if they can find homes here. Mr. Boatwright says Callahan County has Johnson skinned when it comes to land, but land in Johnson County is selling for $60 per acre. Callahan County is the best county in West Texas take it all around. This is not mere brag it is the truth, and besides this we have the best people and the least crime. Come to old Callahan.

Perry Barton, of Eagle Cove, was in town Saturday, and was complaining considerable about the boll worms which he says have completely destroyed his cotton. If he makes any cotton this year it will have to make between now and frost he says. Perry and his children have just recovered from the measles, so it is like the old story, misfortunes never come singly, but then too it is a long lane that never turns and THE STAR believes Perry will gather some cotton before the snow flies, at least we hope so.

Look out for the "Beggar Prince."

J. S. Davidson, living on the hill west of town, was in yesterday and reported that a severe hail storm passed through part of his farm Tuesday evening and completely destroyed about five acres of cotton. We did not learn of any other damage, but he thinks other farms must have suffered considerably.

A. T. Young brought in a lot of bolls of cotton yesterday from his farm near Belle Plaine, which showed the damage being done by the boll worms. Mr. Young says he had believed would make a bale to the acre but says he don't know what it will do now. The continued rains prevents the cotton from opening and is doing great injury.

Public School Opening.

The opening exercises of Baird Public Schools will be held at the Methodist Church, Monday, Sept. 17th at 9:30. An interesting program will be arranged which will be published next week. Speeches will be made by Mayor Russell and others. It is desired that we have a full attendance of all the scholars. The trustees have all promised to be there, but possibly all may not make speeches or sing a song, but come out anyway and we will try to entertain you. We want to do something that none have ever yet been able to accomplish in Baird, arouse a general interest in our schools.

Brown's Entertainers gave a musical entertainment at the skating rink last Saturday night to a good sized audience. Mat Brown lived in Baird several years ago and was then considered a fine violinist and since then has traveled almost continuously with shows. Tol Davis, his partner, is also a fine violinist and the two are hard to beat. Those who attended the entertainment express themselves as well pleased. The company went west from here.

BAIRD'S FIRST BALE.

The first bale will be ginned today. The cotton was brought in by Mr. Galbreath from about Oplin, but got caught in a heavy rain and was too wet to gin. Mr. Crook, Manager of the Farmers & Merchants Gin bought the cotton.

The light plant was knocked out by lightning in the rain storm Monday night. Lightning struck the wire and caused them to ground, which threw such a heavy load on the engine that it caused the wrists to heat. Mr. Crook had to carry the boxing to Abilene to have it repaired and it appears to be working all right to day.
