Jaws Of Big Russian Offensive Close On Retreating Germans

MOSCOW—(AP)—The jaws of a double Russian offensive which battlefront reports said had bit deeply into the cold steppes west of the Don bend and cost the Germans 50,000 dead and captured were closing steadily Tuesday upon the Nazis' whole Stalingrad salient.

Despite desperate German resistance in an effort to keep open a corridor of reinforcement or escape to the long-besieged Volga Bastion, the Russian reported new gains to maintain their average of six to 12 miles a day southwest of Stalingrad and nine to 12 miles a day southwest of the city.

The deepest reported penetration was at Chernyshevskaya on the Chir river, 125 miles west of the Don bend which the Russians seized over the weekend.

Capture Akai

German holding positions at Klezskaya now are menaced from two sides, since the Russians also are on the offensive in the Serafimovich, 30 miles farther up the Don.

Southwest of Stalingrad the Russians were pushing along the rail lines which leads from Stalingrad across the bleak Malmyk Steppes into the Northern Caucasus. They reported driving on after taking Oksai in a 10 mile advance from Abganerova, 40 miles southwest of Stalingrad.

London sources estimated the Axis might have 300,000 to 400,000 men in the impetrial area.

A frost line dispatch from south of Stalingrad said that in some places the white flag fluttered over the barren Kalmyk Steppes and in other places the German dead were piled high around wrecked pill-boxes.

General Davies To Auction Bomb At Bond Rally

Plans for the big "Pearl Harbor Day" War Bond sales in Midland and Odessa were mapped at the Midland AAF Bombardier School Monday when leaders of the two cities met with Brigadier General Isahak Davies for a luncheon discussion.

A flip of a coin by General Davies decided the site of a big mass meeting to be held at the exact hour that the Japanese planes swooped down upon Pearl Harbor. Odessa won, and the meeting will be held on the lawn of the Ector County court house at 1:20 p. m., December 7.

General Davies will preside at the meeting and will auction off one of the bright blue practice bombs used by cadets of the Bombardier College to perfect their aim with the bombsight.

A similar meeting will be held earlier in the day at the Midland County court house.

Men of the bombardier school will spearhead the bond drive with an 18-hour radio program over KRLL. Names of all persons who phone their pledges in to the chamber of commerce in the cities will be read over the air, and a running tabulation of the bond totals will be announced periodically.

Sponsors of the drive hope to establish a new bond sale record for Texas as a result of the all-day effort.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(This column, conducted as a daily feature by DeWitt Mackenzie war analyst, was written Tuesday by Glenn Babb. Mackenzie, now in the Middle East war zone, is expected to resume Wednesday.)

Japan can't win her "greater East Asia war" without defeating China. As long as Chiang Kai-Shek holds together his government in Chungking and his armies in the few provinces that surround the capital the Japanese program of conquest is incomplete. An increasing number of authorities believe that the Japanese already have achieved the outer limits of the space they set out to make their own, but without the heart, that unconquered Western and Southwestern half of China, their new empire remains pretty much a hollow shell.

Uncle Sam Will Win At Holiday Football Game

Uncle Sam will win regardless of which team is victorious in the Thanksgiving Day football game between Midland and Odessa here Thursday. Midland Jaycees will see to that.

The football used in the annual grid classic will be auctioned during the game to the person or firm who buys the most War Bonds, and from advance reports the bidding will be spirited.

Already Jaycees have obtained numerous pledges of from $25 to $500 in War Bonds and they are determined to sell a half million dollars worth of the bonds and to set a new national record. Committees are at work lining up bidders who will make Thursday's bond selling event all the more lively.

To Announce Purchases

Pledge cards will be distributed at the holiday game and persons planning to purchase bonds are urged to buy them at the game. The bonds will be issued through any bank, postoffice or other issuing agency designated by the purchaser and will be delivered by that institution. Names of purchasers and total amount of sales will be announced over a loud speaking system.

Clint Dunagan, Jaycee president, urged citizens to buy their War Bonds at the football game, assisting the Jaycees in making this Thanksgiving Day a day of thanksgiving for this country, and for the millions of men who are fighting to protect the American way of life and to defeat the Axis powers.

Gov. Stevenson Talks Before Civic Leaders

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson Tuesday asserted that "the history of our country demonstrates that we are a people who have learned to work together, to play together, to fight together and to die together and these are the ties which bind us together in that unity which is our greatest strength."

Speaking before church, state and civic leaders attending a pre-Thanksgiving meeting arranged by the committee on religion and democracy of the Office of Civilian Defense, Stevenson said:

"Fortified by the strength of our faith in our common cause, we shall work together against all those who would separate us until total victory shall be ours."

In an address prepared for coast-to-coast broadcast, the governor declared that Americans "will stand together to insure the fruits of victory in a world secure for ourselves and for all men."

Nazis Open Big Drive For Air Control

LONDON—(AP)—A violently erupting struggle for air supremacy was fought over Tunisia and along the Axis Mediterranean shuttle route Tuesday while British and American forces on the ground were getting set for the all-out assault upon Tunis and Bizerte, once the enemy is driven from the North African skies.

There was every sign the aerial conflict would be a hard one, for great fleets of German planes were gathering in the Mediterranean theater and Axis reinforcements still were reaching Tunisia through the Allied Gantlet.

"The fight is going to be tough and longer than might be expected," said a spokesman at allied headquarters in North Africa.

Bearing him out were reports from both sides telling of the mounting fury of the struggle.

The British middle east command announced at Cairo that at least three more large enemy planes continued on page 6

New Wildcat Test In Midland Basin Spudded 305 Feet

By FRANK GARDNER

The Midland Basin's newest wildcat test for oil, Roy Lee, trustee, No. 1 Josie Fay Peck of Midland, Tuesday was reported to have spudded to 305 feet in red rock. Surface casing has been set and the wildcat is standing while cement pad-dens.

Helmerich & Payne, Inc., of Tulsa is contracting drilling of the well. It is located 600 feet out of the southwest corner of section 2, block 42, township 4 south, T. & P. survey, in extreme Southeastern Ector County, only one-half mile west of the Midland County line.

Approximately one-half of Lee's 6,700-acre block lies in Midland County.

The No. 1 Peck is contracted for depth of 5,000 feet unless sulphur water in the lime or oil in paying quantities is struck at a shallower point. It is on a "trend" play based on subsurface geology.

In Eastern Winkler County, less than one-half mile from the Ector line, Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 W. D. Blue estate, a scheduled 8,500-foot Ordovician test, is drilling at 7,490 feet, presumably in Permian lime.

Andrews Deep Test

In Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-A Texu, Southwest Central Andrews County wildcat, is drilling below 10,729 feet in chert. It is the deepest well now drilling in West Texas.

In Southwestern Borden County, Roy Lee No. 1 J. A. Phillips is drilling below 2,900 feet in shale, lime and anhydrite, while his No. 1 Margaret Gray, in the eastern part of the county, is preparing to spud after rigging up rotary.

One-hour drillstem test from 6,877 to 6,960 feet in Shell No. 1 N. Leaverton, Northwestern Gaines County wildcat, recovered 30 feet of gas-cut mud. A fair blow of air was present throughout the test. No. 1 Leaverton now is drilling ahead at 7,015 feet in lime.

Parker Running Casing

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Tom E. Parker of Midland, et al., indicated one-quarter mile south extended of the Abell Ordovician field in northern Pecos County, is running 5 1/2-inch casing after drilling ahead to 5,410 feet in shale streaked with lime. It cored 16 feet and 8 inches of pay sand in the McKee horizon of the Simpson, middle Ordovician.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Ada C. Price, Southeastern Pecos Ordovician wildcat, is drilling at 7,250 feet in shale.

Three miles south of the Apco-Warner pool in Pecos, Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1-A M. L. Masterson killed flow of shallow water which developed at 1,669 feet in lime and is drilling ahead.

Continental Oil Company No. 1 J. H. Claybrook, Western Pecos Delaware test, is drilling below 4,845 feet in lime.

Gulf Oil Corporation reported progress in its two Ordovician tests in Crane County. The No. 1-A M. Dawson, in Southeastern Crane, is drilling at 4,200 feet in lime, and the No. 1 W. A. Estes, in Western Crane, has reached 2,900 feet, also in lime.

New Mexico Wildcats

R. Olsen Oil Company and Atlantic No. 1 Langlie, deep test in Southeastern Lea County, N. M., is shut down for repairs to motor, bottomed at 7,488 feet in lime.

In Southeastern Roosevelt County, Malco Refining Company No. 1 Bilberry is drilling past 900 feet in red beds and shale.

H. L. Hunt No. 1 McMillen & Turner, Southern Otero County Ordovician test, is drilling below 55 feet in lime.

Reds Tighten Trap As Allies' Troops Push Enemy Into Corridor

By Roger D. Green

Associated Press War Editor

Allied offensives jarred Hitler-Hirohito & Co. further off balance on every front in World War II Tuesday.

While the Russians steadily tightened a gigantic trap against 300 or 400,000 Nazis in the Stalingrad sector, American, British and fighting French forces hammered the Axis into an ever-narrowing corridor along the Mediterranean coast from Liya to Tunisia in North Africa.

German headquarters acknowledged with rare frankness that the Red Armies had penetrated into Nazi defense lines south of Stalingrad and in the big loop of the Don River west of the long-besieged Volga city. The Nazi communique said vaguely that "counter measures are proceeding."

In the far Pacific, American and Australian troops under Gen. Douglas MacArthur furiously attacked the last dwindling nests of Japanese resistance on the Papua Peninsula, in New Guinea, and U. S. Army heavy bombers blasted Japanese invasion forces amid the ruined temples of Mandalay, Burma.

These were the highlights in 24 hours of unbroken good news for the United Nations on the world's far-flung battlefronts, with the picture further brightened by the announced advance of French forces at Dakar to the side of the Allies and by a diplomatic pact eliminating French Martinique in the Caribbean Sea as a potential menace to the Western Hemisphere.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull said in Washington that as a result of an agreement reached with Admiral Robert, French high commissioner at Martinique, there was not likely to be any necessity for American occupation of French possessions in the Caribbean.

British Drive In Libya

On the Libyan desert front, British headquarters reported that Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's victorious Eighth Army had driven 100 miles beyond Bengasi to occupy Agedabia in swift pursuit of Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's fleeing columns.

In Agedabia, which lies only 70 miles from the El Agahala defile, a 30-mile-deep passage between marshy quick-sands and the sea, where Rommel is expected to attempt a last-ditch stand.

Military dispatches said British advanced forces maintained contact with Axis rearwards on the road to El Agahala and occupied the Gialo Oasis, south of Agedabia, which the enemy had abandoned in their headlong flight to the west.

On Tunisian Front

In the Tunisian front, a broadcast from American-occupied Morocco said American, British and French troops were now attacking Axis positions in the northern region of the colony—presumably around the big naval base at Bizerte—and declared the fighting was growing "more and more violent."

Allied headquarters said tersely that the investment of Axis fortification was proceeding "according to plan."

Dispatches reporting that six more enemy troop transports were shot down over the Mediterranean en route from Italian Sicily to Tunisia indicated that Adolf Hitler was desperately seeking to reinforce his garrisons at Bizerte and Tunis, the Capital.

Expect Big Air Battle

Allied headquarters spokesmen said Hitler was massing great fleets of planes in the Mediterranean area and declared:

"The fight is going to be tough and longer than might be expected."

Previously, Hitler was reported to have rushed 1,000 planes and approximately 40 divisions—perhaps 800,000 troops—from the Russian front and other sectors of Nazi-conquered Europe to bases along the Northern shores of the Mediterranean.

While definite information was lacking, observers said Hitler had probably doubled or even tripled the original Axis garrison of 10,000 troops in the North African colony, which lies between American-held Algeria and Italian Tripoli.

Conflicting Reports

Conflicting reports obscured the situation along the Gulf of Gabes, immediately below the narrow Axis-held coastal strip between Bizerte and Tunis.

One report said French troops had cut off the Axis route of escape near the Libyan-Tunisian frontier, while the German radio asserted that the entire Tunisian coast down to Tripoli was still in Axis hands.

On the Soviet front, Russia's great five-day-old offensive to relieve Stalingrad and trap the German siege armies scored sharp new

Ickes Requests Another Pipeline

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Petroleum Co-ordinator Ickes told a congressional committee Tuesday he has requested authority to construct a second new oil pipeline from the Southwest oil fields to the New York-Philadelphia area, and said it approved it would add 200,000 barrels daily to eastern oil supplies.

The Interior Secretary told a House Interstate Commerce subcommittee it would take from nine to twelve months to build the line if authority and priorities were granted.

It would supplement a line already being built from Longview, Texas, to Norris City, Ill., and then to New Jersey.

The line already being built to Illinois, Ickes said, is scheduled for completion by December 15, but probably would be held up because of a labor shortage and delays in obtaining pumping equipment.

He said extension of this line to New Jersey probably would be completed by next June, resulting in daily delivery of an additional 300,000 barrels of crude oil to the eastern coast.

Ickes said the new line he has requested would be 20 inches in diameter and would carry refined petroleum products. The line now being built is a 24-inch line to carry crude.

Extermination Of Half Polish Jews

LONDON—(AP)—The Polish government-in-exile asserted that Heinrich Himmler, Nazi Gestapo chief, had ordered the extermination of one-half of the Jewish population of Poland by the end of this year and that 250,000 had been killed through September under that program.

"According to information leaking from the German labor office (Arbeitsamt), only 40,000 Jews are to remain in the Warsaw Ghetto—only thoroughly skilled workers to be employed in the German war industry," a government statement said.

"The most convincing proof of the dwindling numbers in the Ghetto lies in the fact that for cards were printed for October, the number issued was only 40,000."

Subs Work Both Ways

We incline to think of submarines as a horrible menace, which they are. But let's not forget that they are a two-edged menace.

The Germans used them first, or no civilized nation could have realized their potentiality. But fighting fire with fire, we are using them, today, at least as effectively as are our enemies.

When Japan is beaten and the details of this war become published history, it may develop that American submarines played a major part in bringing victory.

Protesting Too Much

The heavy accent being placed by the rigidly controlled Italian radio upon Italy's intent and ability to fight to the end serves to emphasize the probability that Mussolini's duchy is nearing military collapse.

The Italians never did have any heart for fighting against Great Britain and the United States. We shall welcome their capitulation, but must not attach too great importance to it.

Germany still lies across the Alps from Italy.

Tires Galore

Uncle Sam estimates that millions of tires have been tucked away by motorists, in addition to the five-per-car they are permitted to retain. These will help tremendously to keep essential transportation moving until some time in mid or late 1944, when synthetic rubber may begin to become available for civilian use.

Bombardier College Has 15-Year Old Corporal On Duty

Here's Midland AAF Bombardier School's nomination for the youngest man in the United States Army. He is 15 year old Hubert Cox of the 95th Guard Squadron at the world's largest bombardier college.

Corp. Cox's home is in Harlan, Ky., where he was a freshman in high school when he decided to make to Army his career. Unknown to his parents, he went 35 miles distance to Big Stone, Va., where he gave his age as 21 years and joined the Air Force.

At the time of his enlistment, Corp. Cox was 14 years old. He looks much older, however, being over six feet tall and weighing 165 pounds. But he hasn't started shaving yet. In over 14 months service with the Army, Corp. Cox has been at four different Army posts, and he likes his stay at the world's largest bombardier college the best of all.

Corp. Cox as two brothers in the service of the United States. They are Warren, 21 years old, who is in the Army, and Elmer, 22 years old, who poses the Navy. His service is much longer than that of both brothers.

In his service with the guard squadron, Corp. Cox has had to shoot only once. And that was one night when a truck crew ignored his order to halt. He shot over the truck once. The truck jerked to a halt and out piled some "mighty nervous fellows."

His officers say the youthful corporal is one of the best soldiers in the security detachment.

TO KEEP THE JEEPS ROLLING MAKE YOUR CAR LAST LONGER

THE only 1943 models that will roll off the production lines of American automobile factories are the kind that spell defeat for Herr Schickelgruber and Herr Hirohito.

To keep the jeeps rolling, these factories can't spare the time nor the materials to make replacement parts for your car. Already the supply of certain repair parts is limited... and when these are gone, there may be no more!

Proper service for your car was never more important than it is right now. To help make your car last longer, your friendly Magnolia Dealer again offers WINTERPROOF Service... a complete lubrication and pre-winter check-up to guard against the strain of winter driving. Give your car every chance to survive the war. See your Magnolia Dealer today.

KATE SMITH says:
"I know you've got Thanksgiving Dinner all planned! But..."
"I bet you'd plumb forgot about Thanksgiving breakfast, now hadn't you? Well..."
"You can make breakfast a special feast, too—by serving buttered Calumet Baking Powder Biscuits with jam or honey butter!"
"And when you see how extra flaky and tender these special-recipe biscuits are, you can give your thanks to Calumet's dependable double-action. Because that's what does it!"

CALUMET BAKING POWDER BISCUITS
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons shortening
3/4 cup milk (about)

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk gradually, stirring until soft dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds, or enough to shape. Roll 1/2 inch thick and cut with floured 2-inch biscuit cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450° F.).

12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12 biscuits.
JELLY OR JAM BISCUITS. Remove biscuits from oven; split in halves. Brush with melted butter or jam. Put halves together. Reheat and serve.

HONEY BISCUITS. Cream 4 tablespoons butter; add 1/2 cup honey, and blend. Remove biscuits from oven; split in halves, and spread with honey-butter mixture. Put halves together and serve with remaining honey mixture.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority
Recently a New York judge said he did not think that duplicate bridge was a game of skill. His contention was that if you hold good cards, you have to win. Of course duplicate bridge players know that everyone has to play the same cards. When Mrs. A. M. Sobel of New York won three out of four championships in the recent Metropolitan Tournament, everybody started to call her the "card-rack." Mrs. Sobel admits she likes to hold good cards, but she says, in order to win at duplicate, you must handle poor cards well—and she gave us today's hand.

 Mrs. Sobel (North) won the jack of hearts with the king. A diamond lead was won by the queen, and a diamond was led back from dummy, which Mrs. Sobel ducked. East led the nine of clubs, dummy ducked and West won with the jack. Two heart leads followed, South taking the second. On a spade lead East took the queen with the ace. When East cashed the last heart, dummy let go the queen of clubs. East led club and the ace was forced. Now Mrs. Sobel made a fine play by leading the nine of spades from dummy. East won and had to return a spade to the king, and West was squeezed on this trick in the minor suits.

WOUNDED AT HONOLULU NOW IN WELDING PLANT
 SAN PEDRO, Calif.—(P)—A one-armed welder, wounded at Pearl Harbor, is hard at work at the California shipbuilding plant, getting revenge against the cohorts of a two-armed ex-paper hanger in Germany.
 He is Obie Bartlett, strapping 25-year-old negro, whose left arm was ripped off by a Jap bomb while he was serving with the Army Quartermaster Corps in Honolulu. Recovered, Bartlett attended a night welding school, then landed a job building ships.
 "I kinda like to feel that my stinger, or welding implement," says Bartlett, "is just as powerful as the rifle I left behind."

NOT ENOUGH SPEED: ASKS FOR DEFERMENT

BRAZIL—(P)—A young Clay County farmer asked his Selective Service board for a deferment, because—he claimed—it was impossible for him to get up at 5 o'clock in the morning and shave in 10 minutes.
 The board refused to divulge the young man's name, but said he would be in the Army soon.

SERIAL STORY THE EDGE OF DARKNESS

COPYRIGHT, 1942. BY WILLIAM WOODS. NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Svevre Hammer tells the dramatic story of revolt in Stokstad to a trusted group of Tollness patriots. Pastor Aaisen urges the men to live peacefully despite the oppression of their conquerors, but the men will not listen. Solveig, wife and mother, declares the village must face even the bombing of innocent women and children.

TAKE THE INITIATIVE

CHAPTER IX

"PASTOR!" It was the farmer, Knut Osterholm. He limped forward and raised his hands over his head to be heard. "Pastor, we will give you the right to your opinion. "We will give you your own mind in the matter. But you must give us ours." "What do you mean?" said Aaisen. His thin, boyish face was working with emotion. "I mean that if we let you go your way, you must let us go ours. You will not be held responsible. But you must give us your holy word that if you are asked questions you will not betray us." Breathless, they looked up at him. There were tears in his eyes. He gazed down at their head, dark faces, and bowed his head. For a moment they all waited. Then, "Yes," he said at last, "I give you my word."

Hammer sat down, the white bundles of his hands before his face. The doctor cleared his throat. "I think we are all agreed," he said. Whispers of conversation sprang up. Each man looked awkwardly at his neighbor to see what he thought.

Gunnar stood up. "It has not started yet," he said, slowly. "But all of us know we must be ready. If we get the guns Hammer has talked about we must have a way thought out to use them."

"On the other hand," said farmer Kjerflov, who was a shy little man about 50, "perhaps if we let well enough alone we needn't have to fight. The Germans aren't looking for trouble, you understand, and surely, in such a great war... the sacrifice of our poor village... well, what will it accomplish?" He stopped in confusion, pulling at his little white beard and coughing all the time to conceal his nervousness.

Slowly Hammer turned toward him. "How is it the Germans come to search our houses at night?" he asked. "Who is it who has ordered all the sweaters and blankets in Norway confiscated so we can freeze to death this winter? Who teaches our children in school the most hideous untruths? Who has stolen our food, our factories, our money, even our skins for their army? Do they ask your permission? No, they hem you in on every side, so that not a minute of the day or night is your own. What were you born for? Are you a human being, or a cat, to be dragged in or out every hour whenever your master pleases? Why do we have blacking in the windows and a guard at the door?" he asked. "It's time we talked business," said the doctor.

"Dr. Stensgard is right," said Gunnar. He saw Solveig nod to him, and plunged on. "Ever since he told me this morning what happened, I've been thinking it over. I think I have a plan whereby we here in Tollness can hold our own when the trouble comes."

"Ja," said Kjerflov. "But what for? Understand, I'm only asking."

Hammer had heard dozens of such conversations. He thought, "So it comes now. That is the man they wait for. There is always one." He sat down. The fishermen drew closer. Gunnar had gone over to the table.

"Let's get to the point," said one of the fishermen. "Well," said Gunnar, "look here." He pointed down at the table. "Here, this line is the coast." He traced it with his finger. "Here is the place where the fjord cuts inland. Here is the town, and here, at the end, is the bridge going south."

Lars Malken came forward and stood at Gunnar's shoulder, looking down at the pointed finger. "Here is Dr. Stensgard's little summer house, and the two row-boats he keeps moored at a piling. The Germans will never bother about them."

"Ja," said the doctor, nodding gravely, "that is right."

"Lars, do you remember that this morning I asked you to hide three outboard motors?"

"Motors?" said the old man. "Yes, you did. Of course I remember."

"Where are they?"

"In the cellar of my shop."

"Good. Those three motors must be moved out to the summer house, or hidden so we can get them in a hurry when we need them."

"Ha!" cried Malken. "I misjudged you, Gunnar. Good, good." "Every one of us must give as much gasoline as he can spare. That, too, must be hidden in drums down at the summer house. It can be moved there at night."

Boston Eagles Top Choice In Football Polls

By Austin Bealmer
NEW YORK—(AP)—It took a little time, a little patience and a little help from Auburn, but Boston College finally made the grade and today the unbeaten, untied Eagles are the class of the nation's college football teams, according to 118 experts who voted in the Associated Press poll.

No better than third in any of the previous weekly polls, the Eagles took over the top spot after Georgia's Bulldogs, first-place choice for the past month, were bounced from the unbeaten ranks by Auburn Saturday, 27-13.

Georgia Tech, runner-up to the Bulldogs in recent weeks and logical successor to the throne, missed the No. 1 rating by a matter of 34 points and remained in second place, although the Engineers possessed more first-place votes than Boston's Eagles.

After spilling Florida, 20-7, for its ninth straight win, Tech was listed first on 50 ballots while only 47 sportswriters voted the lead to a Boston College club that trampled Boston University, 37-0, for its eighth in a row.

The Eagles drew 50 second-place votes to 36 for Tech and wound up with 1,078 points, compared with 1,044 for the Engineers.

Sixty-eight of the 69 voters who named Georgia first a week ago hopped off the Bulldog bandwagon and Georgia slipped to fifth place in the standings as it started pointing for its showdown with Georgia Tech.

Ohio State, a notch behind fourth-place Michigan last week, gained prestige and the Big Ten title by clipping the Wolverines, 21-7. With 16 first-place votes, the Buckeyes moved into third place as Michigan dropped to ninth.

Wisconsin, in seventh place the last two weeks, jumped to fourth and Tulsa, the only team in the group besides Boston and Georgia Tech to boast an all-victorious record, remained in sixth place.

The second ten in the rankings: 11—UCLA, 88; tie for 12—Santa Clara and Stanford, 74 each; 14—Southern California, 34; 15—Washington State (1), 29; tie for 16—Auburn and Mississippi State, 20

Midland's Bulldogs Work On Defensive Tactics For Game

Polish was applied to the Skinny Little Iron Men's passing and blocking at Monday's workout, and Coach Gene McCollum promised plenty of practice for the Midland Bulldogs Tuesday.

He is concentrating on defensive tactics and the passing attack. A light scrimmage also was on the program as the Bulldogs prepared for their Thanksgiving Day game here with the Odessa Bronchos.

Tickets for the annual gridiron feature are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce. Game time is 2:30 Thursday afternoon.

All members of the Midland squad are in good condition and ready to battle the Bronchos.

Texas Convict Would Save Wife Execution

LAKE CHARLES, La.—(AP)—Law enforcement officers were ready Thursday for Claude E. (Cowboy) Henry, escaped Texas convict, if he should come here to try to spring his doomed wife from the Calcasieu Parish jail.

"All necessary precautions have been taken," said Sheriff Henry Reid, Jr., when notified the 29-year-old convicted slayer had headed toward Louisiana from a Texas prison farm where he escaped with a companion.

Mrs. Annie Beatrice (Toni Jo) Henry, 26, is to be electrocuted here Saturday for shooting to death J. P. Calloway of Houston. The salesman was killed as he knelt nude in a frozen rice field on St. Valentine's Day, 1940, to pray for his life.

Mrs. Henry said a companion Horace Finnon Burks, also under death sentence, had hitch-hiked a ride with Calloway and taken his car, she said at one time, to use to rob a bank for funds to free her husband, who was serving a 50-year term.

Henry, an ex-prize fighter, was convicted in February, 1940, at Hondo, for killing Arthur Sinclair, a San Antonio policeman.

Bob Cannon and Bryce McCandless, San Angelo oil men, are here on business.

No Cinch For Arkansas Hogs

By Edward Curtis
TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—A nine-year jinx collides with the University of Tulsa's bowl-boomed footballers Thanksgiving Day.

The jinx is Arkansas. And what the Razorbacks could do to Tulsa, well, look at Georgia.

The last time Tulsa downed the Razorbacks in this traditional Turkey Day game was in 1933. Since then, the best the Golden Hurricane has been able to do were ties in 1934 and 1938.

While Arkansas hasn't won a game in the Southwest Conference this season, the Razorbacks usually bring that added something along with them to Tulsa for the renewal of a rivalry that dates back to 1901.

Graduating Cadets To Be Honored With Retreat And Review

Wednesday will be dress review day for all cadets at the Midland AAF Bombardier School.

A retreat and review with full colors and martial music by the post band will honor cadet class 42-16, student bombardiers who will receive their wings in graduation ceremonies Thursday.

The review will include the four classes of cadets, including the Dutch detachment under the command of Lieut. Louis Hansen, Brigadier General Issiah Davies, commanding general, and his staff will form the reviewing party.

Retreat and review is a regular part of the cadet training for the first three weeks that they are at the Midland AAF Bombardier School. Officers in charge of the training say it is a "gauge of the military precision and keenness of mind" of the cadets as they approach the time when they will receive their wings as bombardiers.

They could gain that, there is reason to believe, they would be content merely to fight to hold what they already have grabbed, leaving India, Siberia and Australia alone. Japs Move On China

So don't be surprised if the next major undertaking of the Japanese army is another effort to knock China out of the war. A similar prediction was made in this column six months ago, when many prophets were talking about India and Siberia, and the record shows that the only large scale campaign undertaken by the Mikado's land forces (as distinguished by the overseas thrusts at Midway, in the Aleutians and the Southwest Pacific Islands) during the half year was the campaign in Chekiang and Kiangsi which ended in costly futility. For five years and four months now Japan has been trying to bend China to her will. She can not cease trying without admitting that the whole program of conquest has failed.

Evidence is mounting that Burma and the adjoining Chinese province of Yunnan will be one of the war's major battlefields this winter. General Wavell and Stilwell have made no secret of the Allies' determination sooner or later to retake Burma, scene of last spring's disaster which Stilwell called "humiliating as hell."

"This is a question that can be decided only in the courts. Since Texas statutes prohibit the commission from reducing the production of marginal wells, the ratio order could be held invalid for not excluding marginal wells."

Moving to check the downward trend of pressure in the world's largest oil field, the commission Friday issued a special order establishing a water-oil ratio and a maximum reservoir liquid displacement volume for East Texas, effective December 1.

Billy The Kid To Ride Army Bomber

Billy the Kid rides again! Only this time he isn't the outlaw. He'll be after those modern outlaws, Hitler, Hirohito, and Duce. And the modern counterpart to his "saddle" will be the greenhouse nose of an Army bomber. He'll be throwing bombs at the Axis this time instead of bullets.

He is Second Lieutenant William Dana Bonney, a distant but direct relative of Billy the Kid whose real name was William Bonney. Until a few days ago, Lieut. Bonney was a cadet at the Midland AAF Bombardier School. But true to his namesake, he pulled a surprise move and escaped to another training base.

That is, Lieut. Bonney was among a select group of cadets in class 42-16 who received their bombardier wings early in order that they might be enrolled in a special navigation course at Hondo.

Lieut. Bonney's height belies the past record of his namesake. He is only five feet, two and one-half inches tall. Before coming into the Army service, Lieut. Bonney was a bookkeeper in Houston. His ambition is to remain in the Army after the war is over.

Germany Demand Emigrants Pay Off

LONDON—(AP)—The Netherlands government-in-exile charged Germany Tuesday with organizing a vast scheme of extortion by selling exit permits from occupied territory for great sums and said it would combat the traffic with every means in cooperation with the British and United States governments.

Relatives and friends in Allied army neutral territory receive a communication that persons in occupied territory will be allowed to emigrate on condition that a considerable sum, in the currency of a neutral country, be made available to the enemy," it said.

The sums demanded, it said, are very large—sometimes as high as the equivalent of $20,000 a head.

gains overnight on both flanks of the pincers movement.

Soviet dispatches said the Germans had lost a staggering total of 50,000 killed and captured in the first four days of the drive and now faced disaster as the Red armies cut deep behind them.

Driving roughshod over crumbling Nazi defenses, the Russians were reported to have scored new 12-mile advances both north and south of Stalingrad, capturing five strategic towns and thrusting one spearhead to a point 125 miles northwest of the Volga metropolis.

German losses in men, material and territory suggested that the Nazis had either been badly weakened by withdrawals or were on the verge of a clear-cut rout.

In a single surprise attack, Soviet dispatches said, the Russians caught the Germans unprepared and killed 1,000 of them. Red Army headquarters said 12,000 Nazis were killed and 11,000 captured in Monday's operations, raising the four-day toll to 26,000 dead and 24,000 taken prisoner.

On the other side of the world, Gen. MacArthur's field headquarters reported that hard-driving American troops in New Guinea had overwhelmed Japanese machinegun nests on Cape Endiaweire and surged forward two miles to attack Buna Mission, a mile from the big enemy coastal base at Buna.

Dia bases 12 miles above Buna, were fiercely resisting at Buna, apparently having chosen to die rather than surrender.

Pinned against the coast, the Japanese appeared to be on their last legs as Australian troops moved into Buna, the enemy's other main base, 12 miles above Buna, and began mopping up the garrison there.

On Guadalcanal Island, in the lower Solomons, the Navy reported that U. S. Army troops and Marines were pushing steadily westward from Henderson air field, slowly driving the Japanese back toward the northern tip of the island, while Allied planes violently strafed the enemy.

Court Action Seen In Rail Commission Move

AUSTIN—(AP)—Opinion in oil circles Tuesday swung to the belief that the Railroad Commission's move to stabilize bottomhole pressure in the East Texas field will be challenged in the courts.

"The fact that the water-oil ratio order does not exclude marginal wells raises the question whether the commission went beyond its statutory powers," one expert who asked not to be quoted by name asserted.

"This is a question that can be decided only in the courts. Since Texas statutes prohibit the commission from reducing the production of marginal wells, the ratio order could be held invalid for not excluding marginal wells."

Moving to check the downward trend of pressure in the world's largest oil field, the commission Friday issued a special order establishing a water-oil ratio and a maximum reservoir liquid displacement volume for East Texas, effective December 1.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Lon Stiner, Oregon State grid coach, says "Monday morning quarterbackbacks aren't nearly as tough this year; they're too busy second-guessing the generals and admirals."

The Harvard football team met the transportation shortage by getting a special street car to ride out to the Yale Bowl last Saturday, but it had the usual escort of motorcycle cops—just in case some Yale boys might try to have some fun... And in Eastern Idaho, basketball teams which have only short trips between towns plan to travel via horse-drawn sleighs.

Bombardier College To Have Magic Show
Did you ever see a man walk away from his shadow? Officers, cadets, and men will see this and other demonstrations of magic Wednesday night at the "House of Magic" show at the Midland AAF Bombardier School's post theater.

William A. Gluesing, director of the scientific spectacle at the New York World's Fair, will present the show here. Gluesing is a magician and master at sleight-of-hand tricks. Before becoming associated with the General Electric Company, he was an instructor in science and mathematics.

The show is essentially one made up of startling discoveries made by scientists in the laboratory. Some of the new "feats" of magic shown may well become part of tomorrow's standard of living.

For example, with the aid of the "electric eye," a variety of novel demonstrations are given to show how light can control electric current. An "electric eye" attached to a loudspeaker makes it possible to "hear" light, and changes of light are heard as changes in sound.

There will be two shows, one at 7 and another at 8:30. The presentation will only be for personnel at the bombardier college.

The middle east command said aerial activity was on a small scale Monday over Libya, where the British 8th Army has occupied and passed on west of Agedabia at the heels of Marshal Rommel's licked Afrika corps making for El Agheila.

Simple things you can do to get more help for your eyes!

Your eyes need all the help they can get. Don't handicap them with too little. Clean reflector bowls and bulbs frequently. You'll get from 25-30% more light.

You'll get more help for your eyes when you read, play games or sew, if your lamp shades are light-colored or have white linings. Clean or brush them regularly; or if they're too bad, replace with fresh shades.

Arrange your furniture and lamps so that you can, if necessary, make each lamp provide good light for more than one person. Be sure you're close enough to the lamp; a difference of 12 inches may cut your light in half.
