MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it all right for two women who are attending the theater together to go out into the lobby to smoke between acts?
2. If you are buying a dress should you tell the clerk what size you wear, or make her guess?
3. Should you tell her about what you are preparing to pay?
4. Is it good salesmanship for a clerk to tell a customer that what she asks for isn't being worn "this season?"
5. If a girl who is dining with a man would like more tea should she ask him to ask the waiter or ask the waiter herself?

What would you do if—

You ask for a second cup of coffee when dining in a restaurant and are told it is against the rules to serve more than one cup to a customer—

(a) Say pleasantly that you didn't realize there was such a rule?

(b) Raise a row?

That makes the famous, gaudy lithograph one of the most popular in American history.

"Our daughter has a hope chest... in an envelope"

"When our little girl's great day comes—and it may not be more than 10 years off—she's going to have all the things a girl dreams about.

"Bright-colored luncheon sets and fine Irish linen... satin-smooth percale sheets and soft fluffy bath towels... and lovely lace-edged lingerie...

"A setting-out like that will cost at least $400! We'll only pay $300. Because, you see, we're buying War Bonds for her. And for every $3 worth we buy we get $4 back in 10 years. "So every single month we buy a $25 War Bond which costs us only $18.75.

Buying freedom

"And there's something else you can't help but think about when you buy War Bonds. We're doing more than saving money and making a good investment for the future. We're buying the guns and planes and tanks to defend our home. If we don't help our country now to defend our little girl's future, she won't have any future. Except a short and terrible life of slavery to a Jap or Nazi master."

This little girl's father is putting every spare cent of cash into War Bonds, through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan. So are the great majority of Americans.

But there are still some Americans who ought to be buying War Bonds through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan... and aren't.

Others are in, but haven't hit their 10 percent yet. Some could stretch it to 12 percent or 15 percent, just as thousands of other hard-working people are doing.

Everybody—every pay day—10 percent or more

Uncle Sam hopes that every person on a pay roll will be in the Pay-Roll Savings Plan by New Year's. And that we'll top the 10 percent goal. Yes, top it... because we know now it's going to take more than 10 percent to win!

"TOP THAT 10% BY NEW YEAR'S!"

Now there were twelve top tricks in sight, but for lack of entries it was impossible to cash all the tops in the red suits. So Mrs. White took the ace and queen of spades, then overtook the king of diamonds to cash dummy's suit. Presently East found it impossible to save the three hearts as well as the club stopper, while West had to unguard hearts to save the spade jack. This double squeeze gave Mrs. White all three heart tricks when she overtook the king at the end.

FDR, Churchill Agree On 1943 Offensive Plans

Chislers And Hoarders Scored By Gen. Davies

"We can only gain the loyal support of the suppressed peoples of Europe by being able to offer something more concrete than the eventual hope of victory," Brigadier General Isaiah Davies, commanding general of the 34th Flying Training Wing, told the annual meeting of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night. "We must be prepared to fight with food as well as with guns."

"Starvation makes a poor ally of any man, no matter how firm his belief in our cause," the general said in stressing the role of food in speeding United Nations victory.

He scored chislers and hoarders who took advantage of the fact that 1943 food rations had to be announced in advance to stock up on rationed commodities.

Crisis Followed Former Meetings Of Two Leaders

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Crisis mark the meetings of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill. Such momentous developments as the Atlantic Charter and the North African invasion follow them.

From their first meeting on August 9, 1941, the Atlantic Charter emerged, and plans for increasing aid to Russia in her fight against the Nazis and concerted vigilance against the Japanese in East Asia were made.

The next Roosevelt-Churchill meeting took place in the tense atmosphere of wartime Washington. An idea the two leaders had conceived was fully developed; the four largest groups of humanity on earth—China, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the United States of America—signed the declaration of the United Nations of the world, pledging themselves to the defeat of Fascist aggression. The next day 22 other nations signed, and three more have since added their signatures.

On June 18 Churchill again arrived in Washington, and the White House then let it be known that speculation on a second front was "perfectly justified."

Now again the stage is set.

Condems Chislers
"The chiseler, the hoarder, the man who sneaks around war regulations, whether for personal comfort or simply to be a 'wise guy' is as much a traitor as the soldier who deserts in battle—and I believe he deserves the same treatment."

"The aristocracy of comfort," General Davies told the Chamber of Commerce, "must be abolished for the duration." On the home front there is going to be the necessity for sacrifice. "But, he added, that this sacrifice must be cheerful sacrifice, 'in the full knowledge that what we on the home front are giving up and going without is helping to win the war.'"

"You must love your country enough to keep it whole," General Davies added. "You must love your country enough to share its every trial and hardship. You must love your country enough to live in it, not on it."

Here at the Midland Army Air Forces Bomber School, the general said, "we are training men who are capable of spreading the most terrible destruction ever known. These men are good, they are great fighters," he added, "but they are not good enough to stand alone, to fight alone."

"We must win this war on the home front—then our armed forces will win on the field of battle," General Davies said.

Eyes Of American Soldiers Bulge On Seeing President

CASABLANCA—(AP)—President Roosevelt, the first American chief executive to leave the United States in wartime, and the first to ply the Atlantic, last Thursday inspected American troops in French Morocco, surprising them by his presence and leaving the faces wreathed in smiles.

The President reviewed the troops from a jeep driven by Staff Sergeant Oran Lass, from Kansas City, Mo., who was the proudest soldier in the U. S. Army but maintained an air of dignity.

In the jeep with the President were Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the U. S. Fifth Army; Charles Fredricks, the President's personal bodyguard, and the general officer commanding during the inspection of the troops.

Complete Surrender Of Axis Nations To Be Allied Strategy Goal

North Africa Scene Of Unprecedented and Momentous Conference Of President And Britain's Prime Minister

CASABLANCA, FRENCH MOROCCO—(AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, in the most unprecedented and momentous meeting of the century, have reached "complete agreement" on war plans for 1943 designed to bring about the "unconditional surrender" of Germany, Italy, and Japan, it was disclosed Tuesday.

Defying every tradition, the President of the United States flew across 5,000 miles of the Atlantic ocean for a 10-day meeting with Winston Churchill which saw the leaders of the two nations bring General Charles De Gaulle and Gen. Honore Giraud together for the first time in a little villa just outside this city.

Virtually the entire war staffs of both nations participated in day and night discussions which ended Sunday afternoon with a press conference before war correspondents flown secretly from Allied headquarters halfway across North Africa.

Reservists To Be Called Up Soon

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Most of the Army's enlisted reservists in the nation's colleges soon will be called to active duty.

The War Department, in making that announcement Monday, said the dates on which the students would be inducted will vary.

Orders were sent Saturday to the commanding generals of the nine service commands reminding them that under the specialized training program, announced Dec. 17, the reservists would be ordered up at the end of the first college term after Dec. 31, 1942. This means, department officials said, that induction dates will depend upon whether a college has a six-month term, a four-month or a quarterly semester.

These are the high spots of the conference, which Roosevelt and Churchill agreed was unprecedented in history and may decide the fate of the world for generations to come.

One—The leaders of America and Britain, both military and civil, have agreed on a war plan for 1943 designed to maintain the initiative in every theater of the war.

Two—Churchill and Roosevelt agreed that peace can come only through "unconditional surrender of Germany, Italy, and Japan."

THREE—Generals Giraud and De Gaulle, meeting for the first time under sponsorship of the President and Prime Minister, are negotiating for a United French movement designed to put French armies, a navy and an air force again into the field against the Axis.

FOUR—Premier Joseph Stalin of Russia was kept informed of the results of the conferences. In fact, Churchill and Roosevelt offered to meet Stalin "very much farther to the east," but the Russian chief was unable to leave the U.S.S.R., due to the need of his directing the present Red Army offensives.

The President and Prime Minister also have been in communication with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and have appraised him of the measures which they are taking to assist him in China's magnificent and unrelaxing struggle for the common cause.

FIVE—Maximum material aid to Russia and China will be one of the prime aims of the U. S. and Britain.

SIX—Roosevelt visited American troops in the field in North Africa, the first American President to visit an active war theater since Abraham Lincoln.

The meetings were held in a closely-guarded, barbed-wire surrounded inclosure at a hotel in Casablanca under greatest secrecy.

Prime Minister Churchill arrived for the meeting first. When President Roosevelt arrived by plane a few hours later, he dispatched Harry Hopkins to the Churchill villa, and the Prime Minister immediately came to start the meetings.

The first began at 7 p.m. Jan. 14 and lasted until 3 o'clock the next morning.
