Largest Graduating Class Told — Big Bombers To Speed Up Victory

"The aerial heavy bomber, when manned with competent gunners, will decide the war," First Lt. William N. Hensley of the Harlingen Army Gunnery School said Thursday in an address to Class 43-4, the largest class of bombardiers to graduate from the Midland AAF Bombardier School.

Lieutenant Hensley has been on special duties with the Air Forces for the last eight months. During this time he has visited war industrial centers and research agencies throughout the nation. He likened the nation's war effort unto Old Man River, "an unending stream which will soon reach better waters and finer lands."

In his special assignment, the officer had the opportunity to examine intelligence reports from combat zones, and the point he stressed above all others was the need for and stress on aerial gunnery.

Importance of Gunnery
"The importance of aerial gunnery will be even more felt on the Air Forces' new super aerial dreadnoughts of heavy bombardment," Lieut. Hensley continued. "As bombardiers, your time will be occupied with about a tenth of the mission, that of sighting your objective and making your bombing run. The rest of the mission depends largely on your proficiency as an aerial gunner. You must be able to protect the crew and equipment so the bomber returns safely."

Makes Comparisons
"In the gunnery course which you will all soon take, you must make most of it," Lieutenant Hensley said. "You may need your aerial gunnery training only one time, but then it will be a matter of life and death, a matter of success or failure of the mission. If you fail your class-work then, the only pink slip you'll get will be a press dispatch—one bomber failed to return."

He cautioned his audience to not underestimate the wisdom of the enemy, citing the Japanese and the costly lessons learned when the tail gun turret was first installed in the Flying Fortress. The Japs lost innumerable planes.

Drawing a comparison between the ideologies for which we are fighting, Lieutenant Hensley described the Jap plane with no armor plate, no self-sealing gas tanks, and no provision for a parachute as exemplary of their concept of man himself being of no importance—the state being supreme. The Allies are conscious of the dignity of the individual and do not send their airplanes into battle without adequate equipment. To do so would be an impeachment of the American way of life, the officer pointed out.

RAF Shrinks Nazi Output

LONDON—(P)—The RAF's ceaseless bombing offensive, now showing German Europe with fire and explosives at the rate of more than 10,000 tons a month, has already wrecked more than 2,000 German factories and left more than 1,000,000 Germans homeless, Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair told the House of Commons Thursday.

Declaring that photographic reconnaissance showed that the raid on Essen, home of the Krupp armaments, on the night of March 5-6 "probably was the heaviest blow struck at German war industry in the whole of the bomber offensive," Sinclair disclosed that already 4,000 tons of bombs have been dropped on the Reich this month.

The devastation at Essen, he said, was comparable only to that caused at Cologne last May in the first of the RAF's 1,000-bomber raids.

Direct damage to steel works in the Ruhr and Saar, he declared, had cut 1,250,000 tons from Germany's annual steel-making capacity.

Damage to the Phillips radio works at Eindhoven, Holland, cost the Germans the loss of millions of radio tubes annually, a critical loss in modern warfare, he added.

Promising even greater exertions by the RAF, Sinclair directed a statement which seemed a direct answer to criticism of the United States Army Air Force's day bombing policy.

Bill Extending Lend-Lease Aid Moves To Senate Floor

WASHINGTON—(P)—Overwhelmingly approved by the House, the bill to extend the lend lease program another year reached the Senate Thursday along with a report that this help to other nations fighting the Axis now totals $9,632,000,000.

The report, by Administrator E. R. Stettinius Jr., said this figure was attained by the transfer of $1,977,000,000 worth of lend lease goods in the quarter ended March 1.

"Almost as much aid was provided in the last six months as in the previous 18 months," he said, adding:

"In the last 12 months we shipped to our Allies, under lend lease or in fulfillment of previous direct purchase contracts, 30 out of every 100 bombers we produced, 38 out of every 100 fighter planes, 28 out of every 100 light tanks and 33 out of every 100 medium tanks."

What Is Needed
Whether the Senate can get around to consideration of the extension bill Thursday was uncertain, but on the basis of the 407 to 6 vote by which it swept through the House Wednesday it appeared likely that it would be ready for the President's signature within a week.

He told Congress that 60 per cent of the transfers in the last quarter were munitions with a value of $1,175,000,000, that agricultural products made up 16 per cent, and industrial materials 24 per cent.

Stettinius noted a shifting of lend lease aid from the United Kingdom, which received 68 per cent of all shipments in the first year, to other areas.

Figures Given
United Kingdom 38 per cent; Russia 29; Middle East and Africa 15; Australia, New Zealand, China and India 14; other areas 4 per cent. Lend lease aid by areas:

United Kingdom $4,430,000,000; Russia $1,820,000,000; Africa and Middle East $1,373,000,000; China, India, Australia and New Zealand $1,344,000,000; other areas $459,000,000.

Stettinius divided the total lend lease aid and services, for the war against Japan as follows:

AFRICA—Allies repulse Axis attack, take Metlaoui.

PACIFIC—Allied planes hit Jap shipping.

Wyazma Is Encircled

By The Associated Press
Soviet headquarters declared Thursday that the Red armies on the central front had captured at least 44 towns and villages, crushed stiffening German resistance and advanced within 80 miles of Adolf Hitler's old headquarters at Smolensk.

Although virtually out-flanked by the Red Army's capture of Bely, the Nazis were battling desperately to defend their grip on the key bastion of the last major barrier on the road to Smolensk.

Latest Soviet dispatches said the Russians had all but completed the encirclement of Vyazma, leaving the Germans only a narrow corridor for retreat toward Smolensk.

Nazis Resisting
Red Army columns were reported driving forward with the utmost speed along a broad front, with the Germans bitterly resisting and using dug-in tanks as pillboxes.

"The enemy made stubborn attempts to halt our advance at defense positions," the Russian command said, referring to the Vyazma sector.

"As a result of fierce fighting, our units overwhelmed the enemy's defenses and advanced, capturing a number of populated places."

Russian shock troops were reported within 13 miles of Vyazma at the nearest point, and a communiqué said more than 20 towns fell to Soviet forces operating in the vicinity. In addition, "several dozen" villages were engulfed in the Bely sector, 70 miles northwest of Vyazma.

On the flaming Kharkov front, 40 miles below Moscow, Red Army headquarters said the Germans were continuing to throw great masses of reserves into their comeback offensive against the "Soviet Pittsburgh," but so far the battle appeared to be indecisive.

Hitler's high command said the Germans had driven closer to Char'kov and "the battle is still being waged at the northern and western edges of the city."

Berlin claimed two days ago that Nazi shock troops were only 12 miles from the big Ukraine steel center, whose recapture by the Nazis would threaten the middle of a 400-mile front in Southern Russia.

GOP Backing Ruml Project

WASHINGTON—(P)—House Republicans Thursday set a caucus for next Monday to mobilize party strength behind the plan of Beardsley Ruml, New York banker, to skip a tax year and put America's 44,000,000 income taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, House Republican leader, said "in my judgment an overwhelming majority of Republicans will support some plan patterned after the proposal by Rep. Carlson of Kansas." Carlson is author of a bill embracing the Ruml plan.

These developments gave rise to some private speculations that the House might approve the Ruml plan, as the Republicans now have 209 seats there to 223 for the Democrats, and Ruml plan advocates said they expected some Democratic support.

Leaders of the skip-a-year proposal described as "a great disappointment to the taxpayers" the income tax collection plan approved Wednesday by the ways and means committee, making "pay-as-you-go" optional with each taxpayer, without any tax abatement, and imposing a 20 per cent withholding levy against the taxable portion of wages and salaries, effective July 1.

The committee action, putting aside a long-debated pay-as-you-go proposal, transferred to the House floor the battle over income tax abatement as an element in achieving a current payment basis.

Grant Is Made

WASHINGTON—(P)—A grant of $4,187 to the Texas State Department of Education for a child-care program for children of working mothers has been made by the office of defense health and welfare services.

Fred Hogan Urges Construction Of Pipe Line To Pacific Coast Area

Asserting the nation's West Coast is in a dangerous position in the war, Fred Hogan, Midland oil operator, Thursday urged construction as soon as possible of a pipe line from the Permian Basin area to the California coast. He addressed Midland Rotarians at their meeting in Hotel Scharbauer.

The proposed line, he said, might win or shorten the war and it "would cost less than a battleship."

Hogan said the West Coast now is called upon to produce 800,000 barrels of oil a day and he doubted if it could maintain that output during 1943.

"Let's be sure we have enough reserves to meet any demand to protect our country," Hogan declared.

All Want Price Hike
He discussed the importance of pipe line in time of war, due to the submarine menace, and also told of problems of providing adequate convoys for shipping oil.

"We all agree we deserve an increase in the price of oil," Hogan said at the start of his address.

He asserted oil sold for $8 a barrel during the Civil War.

The history of the oil industry was reviewed briefly by the speaker, who said the United States in 1942 produced 1,385,000,000 barrels of oil. He said statisticians estimated 1,500,000,000 barrels would be required this year to supply the nation's needs.

More Oil Needed
"In fighting a war, it is important to have supplies at the place where they are needed when we need them," he continued.

Future possibilities of various oil areas also were discussed by Hogan.

"No one can tell for sure how much oil a field on proration can produce," he said in discussing the Texas oil outlook.

"Our nation is not floating in a sea of oil," he explained and more oil must be found.

First Lieut. Ferdinand F. Glomb, Jr., has been transferred to the Air Forces base at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Department Supervisors For Midland Show Are Named

Departmental supervisors, judges, and rules for the Midland Livestock Show, to be held in Midland March 23 and 24, were announced Thursday by the executive committee of the show.

A meeting of the general arrangements committee has been set for Saturday morning by Judge E. H. Barron, president of the four-county show. Plans for the event will be completed and details worked out at the meeting, to be held in the commissioners' courtroom at 10 o'clock.

A county show, restricted to club boys of Midland County, will be held Tuesday morning, March 23, preceding the opening of the classification show of Martin, Glasscock, Upton and Midland County club boys.

George G'ass has been named departmental superintendent of the four-county event. Committees in charge of the various divisions are Carl Smith and A. G. Bohannon, hogs; Sherwood O'Neal and Raymond McCarter, calves; and Warren Skaggs and Dick Midkiff, sheep.

Members of the general arrangements committee are Leonard Proctor, John Dublin, George Glass, H. G. Bedford, Andy Faskin, E. B. Dickenson, Charlie Cox, Walter Harral, M. F. King, Harlan Howell and I. O. Sturkie.

Four divisions are planned for the show. Four classes have been set up in the baby beef division, which is open only to club boys. The fat lamb and fat hog divisions have only one class each, and both are restricted to club members. The breeding class is open.

Judges Selected
Two milk fed and two dry lot classes are scheduled in the baby beef division. All calves will be weighed upon arrival at the show grounds, and an average set. Calves weighing the average weight, and above will be placed in the heavy class and all others in light class. A champion will be determined from the blue ribbon calves and a prize will be awarded. All prizes will be paid in War Savings Stamps and ribbons.

Judges for the classification show have been announced as follows: lambs and calves, W. I. Marshall, county agent of Tom Green County; and hogs, Lee Billingsley of Lamessa.

E. J. Hughes of the Soil Conservation Service at Lamessa will judge the Midland County Show.

Auction Sale Set
H. L. Atkins, county agent of Ector, Andrews and Crane Counties, has announced that three club calves from Crane County will be shown in the classification show.

About six head of bulls and calves will be shown in the breeder cattle show. (Continued on page two)

Strawn Production Likely

Production from crinoidal lime of the Strawn, lower Pennsylvanian, appeared likely as the result of a drillstem test in John I. Moore and P. D. Moore, both of Midland, No. 1 Amerada-J. S. Todd estate, Western Crockett County wildcat. The Strawn is the producing horizon of the Todd Deep pool some seven miles to the east.

No. 1 Amerada-Todd was tested for 20 minutes from 6,795 to 6,876 feet and recovered 400 feet of drillstem fluid slightly cut with oil and gas except for the top 10 feet, which was live, green oil. At last reports, operators were conditioning hole preparatory to running another drillstem test. The Strawn crinoidal is especially responsive to acidization.

Big Phillips Well Extends Andrews Embar Pool North

Phillips Petroleum Company, discoverer and only firm with production in the Embar-Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, pool of Southern Andrews County has spread the limits one-half mile farther north with its No. 28 University-Andrews, C SW SE section 19, block 10, University survey.

The well indicated one of the largest yields in the pool when it kicked off after one hour of swabbing following a 500-gallon acid "wash" and gaged 325 barrels of clean oil in seven hours and 45 minutes, flowing through a 3/4-inch choke on 2-inch tubing. The well was allowed to flow into pits to clean out acid residue before it was gauged in tanks. It has a gas-oil ratio of 53-1. Testing continued early Thursday. No. 28 University-Andrews went to total depth of 8,010 feet in Ellenburger dolomite, where 5-1/2-inch casing was cemented, and is producing through perforations in casing from 7,995 to 8,006 feet.

The same firm's No. 37 University-Andrews, indicating one-half mile east extension of the Embar-Tubb pool, which is intermittent with the Embar-Ellenburger, drilled plug from 5-1/2-inch casing set at 6,207 feet, ran tubing with packer, near bottom of casing, and is swabbing drilling fluid. Total depth is 6,250 feet in Clear Fork, lower Permian, dolomite.

Skelly Oil Company No. 1-K University, scheduled 7,500-foot wildcat and one-quarter miles east by northeast of the Emma pool in Southern Andrews, is drilling below 2,375 feet in salt.

Topping To Start Soon On Highway To Sterling City

Work on topping of a portion of State Highway 158 between the cutoff north of Sterling City and the Glasscock-Midland county line is expected to be started soon.

The road, a short cut to Midland from Sterling City and through Glasscock County and Garden City, is partly paved from Midland to the Glasscock County line. Much of the Glasscock County section of the route is ready for topping and the remainder of the route now has been caliche.

Big Battle Looms In Mareth Area

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—(AP)—Detachments from Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim's Northern Tunisian army attacked Allied lines in the Sedjenane sector three miles northeast of Tamera with dive-bomber support Wednesday, but were driven off with heavy losses, military quarters announced Thursday.

Allied troops continued to squeeze closer to the German base at Gafsa, occupying the mining center of Metlaqui, 22 miles southwest of that city, it was disclosed.

Reports from the Eighth Army, which stands in a challenging position before Marshal Erwin Rommel's troops at the Mareth Line, were delayed in arriving at headquarters.

Allied planes, in bombing and machine-gunning sweeps, shot down eight Axis aircraft and hit 13 more ground, observers said. Airfields Attacked

"In Central Tunisia patrolling continued and there was some activity," the communique said. Heavy bombers attacked the enemy air fields at El Aouina and La Marsa, near Tunis, in operations during which eight Axis fighters were shot down.

"Bombs were seen to burst over both air fields," the communique said. "At El Aouina aircraft on the ground were hit and fires were left burning."

Medium bombers attacked German installations at Gafsa, and many hits were seen on the target, it was announced.

Enemy vehicles, troops and gun positions in the northern sector were attacked by Allied fighters and other sweeps were made in the central area. From all operations, one Allied plane failed to return.

Battle Shipping
Meanwhile, a battle raving the struggle at Stalingrad in bitterness and intensity—with Field Marshal Erwin Rommel and Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim threatened by the same fate as their Nazi counterparts in Russia—appeared in the offing Thursday as the British Eighth Army made exploratory stabs at Rommel's forces in the Mareth Line.

This is the conclusion reached by some military observers in close touch with the African fighting. They agree that Rommel's failure to cripple the Eighth Army in his week-end attacks was a serious blow and declare his heavy losses in men and material mean that the Axis had reached the peak in Tunisia and is now on the down grade.

Uncle Sam's Helping Hand

Some $25 million of U. S. money has been spent on over 500 health sanitation, food production and economic rehabilitation projects in 13 South and Central American countries since the Rio de Janeiro Inter-American Conference of Foreign Ministers came to a close a year ago.

At that conference, in addition to recommending that their countries break with the Axis, these representatives of the American republics agreed among other things to co-ordinate defense measures and create a hemisphere front to deal with postwar problems.

The extent to which the strictly military phases of that agreement have been carried out can't be talked about for obvious reasons of security and censorship. But in support of this military co-operation a start has been made on these 500 health and welfare projects which, taken together, form what is known as the "Basic Economy" program of the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, headed by Nelson Rockefeller.

The extent of this Latin-American aid borders a little on the unbelievable. While the various projects have received considerable attention in the rest of the hemisphere to the south, the work has not attracted much attention in the United States. The $25 million figure mentioned above does not represent the entire cost.

This expenditure is considered necessary as part of the U. S. program of economic warfare. If this country wants Amazon rubber, it must be sure that the rubber gatherers in the jungles are kept healthy, just as the U. S. had to lick yellow fever before it could complete the Panama Canal.

New 'Victory' Ship Goal Set

"There is no limit to the need for ships in a total, global war," says Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission, and that explains why plans have been made to continue the huge American shipbuilding program well into 1944 and 1945, with some interesting changes in the existing schedule.

Prize project of the new program will be the new, bigger, faster, better Liberty ship, which it is proposed to call the Victory ship. This Victory ship is still in the design stage and no keels have been laid.

Beauty of the new Victory ship model is that its design will permit the use of any propulsion unit available—the old-fashioned reciprocating engines of the Liberty ships, turbines, Diesels, or turbo-electric drive. In this flexibility, the Maritime Commission will remove one of the greatest causes of slowness in ship deliveries.

Heretofore, every ship has had to be designed for a particular engine installation. Hulls can now be turned out on an assembled production basis, but if a hull was ready and the engine wasn't the hull had to wait.

When the American expeditionary forces moved into North Africa, it was at first thought that it would be necessary to ship in large quantities of food for the native population, which had presumably been bled white and starved blue by Nazi and Vichy domination and demand for all available war supplies.

Much to the surprise of American representatives of the State Department, Board of Economic Warfare, U. S. Commercial Co. and Lend-Lease Administration, when they began to explore and get a better line on the resources of the North African colonies, it was found that the farmers of the region had considerable quantities of wheat hidden away on their farms.

To remedy this situation some bright boys, who will probably forever remain unidentified, thought up an idea. Instead of shipping in shipload after shipload of wheat for the native bakers, it was proposed to ship in a relatively small quantity of merchandise to stock the native stores.

Farmers would then bring their wheat into town, sell it for cash and use the cash to buy the goods on shopkeepers' shelves, providing merchants with cash in more wheat, and so on. In other words, normal trade would begin to function again.

Most folks are finding it hard to travel fast enough to keep up with running expenses. A ceiling has been placed on spinach. Too bad, kids, mom can keep on buying it.

IT TAKES BOTH!

Axis Casualties: WASHINGTON — (P) — Allied forces in Tunisia "had much the better of the fighting last week," Secretary of War Stimson reported Thursday. But he added that losses on both sides "have been substantial."

Axis Casualties: The Secretary said at his press conference that casualty reports from North Africa are incomplete, but that the Allies have taken more than 1,000 German and Italian prisoners and destroyed well over 100 Axis tanks.

Axis Casualties: The heaviest American losses, he said, occurred in the week of February 14-20—the period of the American retreat and initial counter-attack on the central front—when casualties were 59 killed, 176 wounded, and 2,007 missing.

Axis Casualties: Most of the missing, Stimson said, probably were taken prisoner, but it is possible some of them might yet return to the American lines.

Axis Casualties: Reports indicate that a number of Germans have been killed and wounded, the Secretary said, while British and French losses in the recent fighting appear to have been relatively light.

Axis Casualties Far Outnumbered Losses By Allies

WASHINGTON — (P) — Allied forces in Tunisia "had much the better of the fighting last week," Secretary of War Stimson reported Thursday. But he added that losses on both sides "have been substantial."

The Secretary said at his press conference that casualty reports from North Africa are incomplete, but that the Allies have taken more than 1,000 German and Italian prisoners and destroyed well over 100 Axis tanks.

Reports indicate that a number of Germans have been killed and wounded, the Secretary said, while British and French losses in the recent fighting appear to have been relatively light.

During the last week, he said, the highly mobile forces of German Marshal Erwin Rommel have been extremely active in Southern Tunisia, but he called the net result of their activity decidedly unfavorable to the Axis.

Major War-Time Problems Taken Up In Congress

WASHINGTON — (P) — Months of scattered skirmishing over major wartime problems reached the pitched-battle stage on half a dozen key points in the capital Thursday in the wake of a peaceful interlude at the White House Wednesday.

Frowning on federal aid and executive control, Congress set out to write its own post-war planning formula.

Republicans sounded the call to arms in behalf of the Ruml tax plan amid indications that the skip-a-year scheme might succeed yet.

Salary Act Taken Up: The Senate struck the first legislative blow to solve the manpower puzzle by voting on farm labor deferment.

The long-brewing battle over the President's salary limitation order hit the House floor in the form of a repealer.

Mopping up controversial suggested amendments, Congress aimed to complete action on renewing lend-lease for another year within the week.

Labor shortages appeared likely to force revival of a revised industrial concentration plan, reported languishing since last summer.

The day loomed as a busy one for all hands—including the 117 new congressmen who attended the strictly social session at the White House Wednesday night to meet and greet the President and came away agreeing that it was a very pleasant evening, but "nobody was converted," politically speaking.

Lake Michigan has a three-inch tide.

Midland Council Of Church Women To Conduct World Day Of Prayer

The Midland Council of Church Women will hold its tenth annual World Day of Prayer service at 10 o'clock Friday morning at the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. L. G. Byrley will lead the program, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Ross Carr, Mrs. Holt Jewell, Mrs. Lee Cornelius, and Mrs. Bob Hamilton.

Special music will be presented by the Midland High School a cappella choir, under the direction of Mr. De Lo Douglas. The theme of the program will be "Father, I pray that they may all be one." Mrs. Hubert Hopper is in charge of program arrangements.

As a special observance of the World Day of Prayer, Mrs. Louis P. Caddell, president of the Midland Council of Church Women, will speak over KRLH at 7:15 o'clock Thursday evening.

Observed Annually
The World Day of Prayer, which is observed throughout the world each year on the first Friday in Lent, originated in 1887 when the Presbyterian women in the United States came together at the call of the president of their Women's Board of Home Missions, to pray for home missions. Such a day of prayer grew increasingly popular from year to year. In 1920 church women of all denominations joined in prayer for home and foreign missions, selecting the first Friday in Lent for the annual observance.

Continues Christian Work
By a plan created 25 years ago, the World Day of Prayer has helped to maintain and continue four fields of inter-denominational work, through the offering received on this day.

The fields are: the regular distribution of Christian literature to all parts of the world, the provision of religious education in seven United States government Indian schools; providing nurses, clinics, playgrounds, day-nurseries as well as religious ministry for 50,000 migrants in slum or more rural areas each month, and the maintenance of eight oriental Christian colleges for the purpose of training women leaders in India, China and Japan.

Calvary Baptist WMS Quilts For Red Cross Here

Members of the Calvary Baptist WMS quilted for the Red Cross Wednesday in the last of a series of week of prayer for home missions programs.

The program included the discussion of daily vacation Bible schools as carried on by home missions. Mrs. R. C. Frazier was in charge.

Those present included Mmes. F. M. Morrow, B. F. Ward, A. W. Smith, W. G. Flournoy, Harvey Kiser, J. E. Harwell, T. A. DeVore and Frazier.

The Curtain Call

Sgt. Conway McCracken plays the part of Joseph, the colored butler, in "Watch on the Rhine." He does a very good job of it, too. He is from Memphis, Tennessee, and has been in the Army 14 months, having been stationed at four Army posts. He states that his stay in Midland has been a most pleasant one and after the war is over, he hopes he can return to Midland and make his home.

McCracken attended Memphis State College where he majored in dramatics and took an active part in all productions. He was president of the "Sock and Buskin" drama club for three years and did both directing and acting in productions sponsored by this organization. He enjoys doing light opera or musical comedies more than any other type of stage work as most of his experience has been along musical lines.

McCracken did a role in Gilbert Sullivan's "Iolanthe," took the lead in Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts," and did both acting and make-up in Herbert's "Red Mill." He has had some experience in costume designing while costumes for the "Memphis State Varsity Show of 1941." He acted in and did make-up in Sigmund Romberg's "New Moon" and "The Desert Song." During this time he sang with such Metropolitan stars as Francis Green, Ethyl Taylor, Don Gray and the Broadway comedian, Doc Guttar. However, his favorite roles are character parts and especially that of the negro, such as he plays in "Watch on the Rhine," as he has lived on a Southern plantation most of his life, is quite proud of his negro dialect and interpretation of their movements.

Sgt. McCracken's last bow to the stage and the land of "make believe" before entering the service was made in "The Family Portrait" which ran six nights at the Ellis Auditorium in Memphis. From that time until this he states he has had a yearning to get back in grease-paint but has only been able to do a few specialties and use dry make-up. He was very much pleased to learn that Midland had a civic theatre group, and that he could participate in its activities. McCracken has been a member of the Presbyterian choir since coming to Midland and has proven himself a valued addition to Midland civic groups.

NEA Service Staff Writer
Food Administrator Wickard says Americans can keep their diets balanced despite needs of Army and Navy and Lend-Lease requirements by using larger quantities of available foods of high nutritive value. Potatoes being in this picture, particularly in the low and moderate income brackets. They provide energy plus vitamins and iron, all essential in any balanced diet. These recipes show how to combine the high nutritious potato with meat alternates.

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Does a gift to one's hostess take the place of a bread and butter letter?

2. If you spend a week with a friend and eat at her house should you take your ration book with you?

3. Is it usually best these days to say "No, thank you" when offered a second cup of coffee by your hostess?

4. Should a house guest be expected to go to church because the hostess does?

5. If a house guest always goes to church should his hostess allow for his going in making her plans for Sunday?

What would you do if—
(a) You are visiting in a friend's home—
(b) You feel free to ask anyone you know to come out to the house?

(a) Let your hostess do all the potatoes. Cover and simmer slowly until potatoes are tender. Mash potatoes, or leave in cubes as preferred. Add milk, shredded carrots and chopped spinach. Heat to the simmering point, but do not boil.

Honey tapioca cream and gelatin shamrocks on St. Patrick's Day.

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
NEA Service Staff Writer
Here are five green desserts, garnished with fine shamrocks, to serve on St. Patrick's Day.

Honey Tapioca Cream (Serves 7-9)

One or two egg yolks, 4 cups milk, 1/3 cup quick cooking tapioca, 1/3 to 1/2 cup honey, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 or 2 egg whites, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar.
Mix egg yolks with 1/2 cup milk in saucepan. Add quick-cooking tapioca, honey, salt, and remaining milk. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. (Mixture will be thin. Do not overcook.) Beat egg whites until just stiff enough to hold shape. Fold hot tapioca mixture gradually into egg whites. Cool—mixture thickens as it cools—and chill. Garnish with whipped evaporated milk and with shamrocks cut with a cookie cutter from slices of green jelly. To make half this recipe, use 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca and 1/2 other ingredients.

Louisiana Tapioca Cream (Serves 6)

Three tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, 1 egg white, unbeaten, 1/2 cup strawberry preserves, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind.
Combine quick-cooking tapioca, salt, and milk in saucepan. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. (Mixture will be thin. Do not overcook.) Cool slightly. Place egg white and preserves in bowl. Beat with rotary beater until stiff and creamy. Fold in tapioca mixture. Add lemon juice and rind. Pile lightly in green sherbet glasses. Garnish top with green shamrock candies or shamrock cut from lime gelatine. Chill.

We, the Women

By Ruth Millett

If you can't get household help for love nor money, your own attitude may be to blame.

In Northern Westchester, N. Y., a couple who ran conventional "maid wanted" ads in several newspapers didn't get a nibble.

Instead of moaning and groaning about the "servant problem," they sat down and did some thinking. It dawned on them that "the war had done something to the people who had worked as domestics. It had released them from bondage, so to speak. They had been exploited, hence made painfully aware of class distinction."

So the enlightened couple wrote a newspaper advertisement that started like this: "No movies nearby, but we offer a friendly country home with congenial family of only two adults who try to be considerate and democratic." And it ended with this: "We can supply excellent references from previous housekeeper."

Letters of application poured in in answer to that ad.

Women who had never worked out before thought they would like a job with such a couple.

Two of the applicants were mothers of doctors sons serving in the army. Many of the women were well-educated.

Give The Job Dignity

But they were women who, probably, had never had any business experience but who knew they could run a house for a couple—and who didn't mind taking the job with people who wanted a "housekeeper" rather than a "maid," and who were obviously anxious to see that their housekeeper's work was pleasant and agreeable.

Women—especially working women—who are desperately in need of someone to take over their home duties might learn a lesson from the experience of that New York couple.

If they are able to give the job some dignity, and are anxious to see that whoever comes to keep their homes has a good home herself—they might also find applications for the job of housekeeper pouring in. There are many middle-aged women who are left alone who would enjoy running a house, if taking it wouldn't make them "servants."

After all, there is no reason why the job of running another woman's house can't be as dignified and satisfying a job as running someone else's business.

Loosens Up Thick Choking Phlegm of BRONCHIAL ASTHMA!

Spend 45c today at any good drug store for a bottle of Buckley's CANADIOL Mixture (triple acting). Pour yourself a teaspoon, let it lie on your tongue a moment then swallow slowly. Feel its instant powerful effective action spread through throat, head and bronchial tubes. Starts at once to loosen thick choking phlegm making breathing easier. No claim made that Buckley's is a cure for Chronic Bronchitis or Asthma but sufferers often find Buckley's CANADIOL Mixture (the largest selling cough medicine in all Canada) eases coughing spasms and loosens up that choking phlegm which seems to clog the tubes and makes breathing difficult. Many get better night's rest.

THE STORY: Worried, Pat Friday voices her fear that complications will arise because of her substitution for Loraine Stuart on the transcontinental glider flight. Capt. Jimmy Carr refuses to regard the situation as serious, telling Pat that he will permit nothing to spoil the thrill of his trip. Scaring over Cleveland, now, Jimmy tells Pat he is not sorry that Loraine didn't accompany him. Pat, who has not dared to voice her love for Jimmy, cannot still her heart, which tells her that perhaps she still has a chance in competition with Loraine.

GUN PLAY
CHAPTER X

CAPT. JAMES CARR took their Victory sailplane down to Cleveland's airport like some gigantic condor settling to a leisurely perch.

"Oooooo-o-o-o, Jimmy!" Pat sounded off in a little-girl scare.

"Stop it," he ordered. "No oing. No apologizing or anything of the sort. Just put on a lot of smiling dignity and bluff right through."

"Yes, Jimmy. I—I'll try."

Smiling dignity. That's what he wanted and Pat knew it was right. Knew, too, that Loraine Stuart would have done it with naturalness and poise. "I'll probably stutter or say the wrong things," she predicted, nervously.

"You won't," said he. "You have what it takes, Pat. Remember that source mind!"

"But I—Jimmy!"

There was no more time. The crowd was on them, the reporters and the photographers and the officials and the reception committees and the mass of John Public himself. For almost 50 minutes life was a veritable whirl around pretty Patricia Friday. She seemed to be shaking a million hands, hearing a million questions. She remembered to keep a happy smile, but that detail wasn't hard because this was all so exhilarating. Jimmy was making a short talk at a microphone. Then she herself had to speak there—and to her dying day she'd never know what she said! Smiling dignity. She hoped, for Jimmy's sake, that she had managed it.

When she became wholly rational again, she was 3000 feet up, sitting comfortably behind Captain Carr and streaming westward for Chicago. Jimmy was singing, basso-baritone.

"Heigh ho, heigh ho, A sailing, a sailing I'll go!
High in the air
With a lady so fair—
A sailing, a sailing I'll go-o-o-o-o!"

He broke into his ditty. "How'm I doing, Pat?"

"Swell!"

"What?"

"Swell!" She repeated, louder.

"You sure are talkative! Me, I'm having a time. And say, the mob down there liked you, Private Pat. Thanks plenty!"

"I'm glad, Jim."

"I'll be worse in Chicago. Or better. Depending on your point of view."

"I love it, personally. I love everything about gliding and soaring. But I'm out of place here and I know it. You're sweet to try to smooth it over, and all, telling me nice things."

"You're not out of place. There had to be a woman passenger."

"But I'm not the right woman. Loraine will be furious, Jim. And I don't blame her. With me, having to use her name, and—"

Captain Carr laughed. "Guess you're right. She can throw a mad when she wants to."

Now what did he mean by that, Pat wondered. Sitting there in the sailplane behind him, she studied his handsome back, the tilt of his head, the crinkle of his hair. He went bareheaded as much as Army style let him; he was like her brother in the Navy, or like a college boy, virile, and devilish, and gentle withal. In his words he admitted his fiancée ought to be here with him, but in his tone he implied that life was grand as it is.

"Jimmy," she called.

"Hup?"

"I'll do better in Chicago. I mean, I will. I won't have stage fright so. I have my speech all planned in my mind, and I'll try not to let you down in the slightest. I'll try to be a real lady."

He laughed loud. "Imagine you, being a lady!"

"But Jimmy!"

"That'll take 22 more years, Private Pat! And at least 22 more pounds on you. But listen—the lady passenger we needed didn't have to be a dowager with a lorgnette, nor even a somebody with Eleanor Roosevelt poise. Why hells-to-betsy, Pat, you did swell!"

She loved him for that. For that and—and—well she just loved him. It made her miserable even as it exalted her.

FOR days now she had ordered herself to deal with Captain Carr in a strictly business manner. Heart affairs had no place in stern Army life. She was a career girl, pure and simple. Most important of all, Captain Carr was engaged to Loraine Stuart, a person definitely his own type so far as looks go (Pat would admit no more, even to herself). It was sheer accident that she, Pat, was in this sailplane now; an emergency duty, which she was obligated to fulfill. On forced masquerade.

She faced Chicago's throng with fine determination, and she carried off her duties well. If Cleveland had turned out a "mob" as Jimmy called it, Chicago turned out a multitude. This was to be an over-night stop, so the reception at the airport was longer, and the parade down Michigan Boulevard and around the Loop and over to Lake Shore Drive and such wonderful places all found Pat appreciative but calm. No more little-girl jitters. No more stage fright. The mayor himself went out of his way to compliment her as "the spirit of young American womanhood," and the news photographers must have used up all their reserve film. Pat was learning to take prominence and dish out the proper propaganda for soaring, which was her bid, and Jimmy's assigned task.

But even so, there was a strain to it. After the banquet that evening she was grateful for the chance to ride the hotel elevator up to the room that had been reserved originally for Loraine. She had worked until after 2 last night, helping Jimmy get ready. And then, having been snatched away by Jimmy as emergency passenger—it was all enough to make her want a rest.

She asked to take her own room key up the elevator, lest admiring people follow her even further. Tactfully, the elevator man gave her private express run, let her out alone. And alone she went to her door.

"Wh-h-h-h!" she sighed, pausing there a moment. "What a thing I'm doing! And what a sleep I'm going to have!"

She went inside, closed the door. The light switch eluded her a moment, but then she popped it on.

"So you thought you could get by with that!" a voice snapped, in biting anger.

There stood Loraine Stuart, holding a gun.

America's Card Authority

This is the fourth of a series of 12 articles on the new laws of contract bridge.

Because of the importance of the condemnation law, I want to give you an example of it in the bidding as well as in the play. Under the old laws, when you made an insufficient bid and attention was called to it, you had to correct it. Today's hand will

North made an insufficient bid of one heart over South's one spade. East immediately called attention to the insufficient bid but said, "I wish to condone the bid of one heart," and proceeded to bid two diamonds.

East's hand is not strong enough to come in the bidding at the three-diamond level. But if he can get the bid in at the two-level, he believes it may direct West to open a diamond, and that lead may defeat a contract of four hearts.

Under the new laws East has a perfect right to bid two diamonds. If North and South get to four if East had not been able to bid hearts, they will have to lose three diamonds and a heart trick, two diamonds, West probably would make the natural opening of the jack of clubs, in which case a couple of the losing diamonds could be discarded on good spades.

Tests Planned For Students In Army's Training Program

WASHINGTON — (P) — High school and college students who have applied for the Army's specialized training program will be given examinations to check their qualifications on Friday, April 2.

Results of the exams to be taken at the schools, will not necessarily determine participation in the program, but will be considered along with subsequent Army tests, the War Department said in announcing the plans. Youths under 18 who make "outstanding scores" will be invited to join the Army enlisted reserve corps, but will not be called to active duty until end of the school term which is current on their 18th birthday, the announcement added.

Sales Of War Tires Are Now Restricted

Because of seriousness of the rubber situation, the "war quality" tire made of reclaimed rubber has been reclassified to more restricted sales as a grade two rather than a grade three tire, the War Price Rationing Board has announced.

No dealer or consumer may obtain a "war quality" tire on a grade three certificate, even though the certificate was issued prior to March 1, the effective date of the amendment placing the war tire in grade two.

Eligibility for each of the three grades of tires is governed by mileage rationing program. Motorists must obtain a certificate from their War Price and Rationing Board before they may purchase a tire.

Honesty Didn't Help Anyone In This Case

INDIANAPOLIS — (P) — The absent-minded tourist who forgot to turn in his key when he checked out of the Bates House here—some time between 1882 and 1901—has finally come across 42 years too late.

The key to room 269 has just arrived in the mail, but the Bates House was torn down in 1901. The postman delivered the key to the hotel which now occupies the site.

Because much of today's precision bombing takes place at high altitudes, bombardier cadets at the Midland AAF Bombardier School get rigid training in effects of rarefied atmosphere and in use of oxygen equipment.

Farmers May Obtain Gas For Longer Time

Under an amendment in rationing regulations, farmers may obtain gasoline for their tractors and other non-highway equipment for six months instead of three, the Midland County War Price and Rationing Board has announced.

The change was made because of the variability of farming operations which frequently makes it difficult for farmers to estimate their requirements for only three months and to save the farmer time in obtaining rations, it was pointed out.

Team With Student-Coach On Spot In National Meet

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Coaches at the National Inter-Collegiate Basketball Tournament are slyly applying the old hex to the Appalachian State team that has a player-coach, a nice kid named Belus Smawley.

"Why, if Appalachian wins it may give our schools the wrong idea," the coaches' spokesman quipped.

"They'll think we're unnecessary."

The next thing you know they'll fire us and use the team captain, or that freshman from Sour Springs as coach. We've got to get Appalachian eliminated or lose our jobs."

So Appalachian goes into the third round a double threat.

Tourney officials can't recall another case of a player-coach in college basketball.

Appalachian won 17 out of 21 games during the season and Thursday was in the quarter-finals of the tourney after beating Simpson College, Indianola, Ia., 48 to 31 and Kansas Wesleyan 54 to 40.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK (AP)—Note of pessimism: Gus Dorais, new coach of the Detroit Lions, has sent out a circular letter to college grid coaches saying: "If your school is quitting football, please advise any of your assistant coaches who is in good condition and wants to play football to contact the Detroit office."

Dutch Warmerdam, who won't have much use for a vaulting pole in the Navy, is presenting the old one with which he cleared 15 feet or more 25 times to his old high school coach, Henry T. Anderson.

And did you know that Warmerdam has been coaching football at Piedmont, Calif., high for the past two years? ... Dodger Les Woobler claims the quail are so thick around his Southern California home that he can go out without one bird dog and get his limit in two hours.

A Gym Dandy Yarn

This isn't exactly a sports story, but Athletic Director R. F. Hastie of Alpena, Mich., claims it happened in his office by the school gymnasium. When ration books were being given out in the gym, his office was occupied by the state tuberculosis X-ray machine. Two women entered the wrong door and asked, "Is this where we go?" Each was given a sheet, directed to a side room to change their clothes, and as they came out robed to take their places before the X-ray machine, one remarked, "Isn't it awful what we have to do to get ration books?"

One-Minute Sports Page

North Carolina colleges are scheduling basketball doubleheaders for next year and George Washington already has been booked into several of them. ... Writing to Trainer Escoce Goose from somewhere in Australia, Corp. Bob Freeman reports the Aussies have "another Phur Law" in a horse named Auction which recently packed 184 pounds to a track record. ... Jimmy Bivins, the Cleveland heavyweight, is a pretty good pianist, machinist and cartoonist in his spare time and claims he'd like to play a piano solo for the fight mob after playing a glove solo on Tami Mauriello.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias has added the Los Angeles amateur golf tournament championship to her long list of athletic achievements.

She scored a double eagle Wednesday in defeating Miss Clara Candler, California women's champion, in the tournament finals.

CAR MILEAGE REDUCED

Mileage rationing has reduced the national average of American passenger cars to 5,400 miles annually, without eliminating essential transportation, OPA Administrator Prentiss M. Brown announced on the basis of a study of rationing board records of 80 representative counties. A 5,000-mile-a-year limit was set by the War Relocation Authority.

By constructing various bombing tables, the bombardiers at the Midland Bomber School can tell just how far behind their bombing plane each type bomb will lag.

John Jacobs, University of Oklahoma track coach, will be honorary referee of the Texas Relays at Austin April 3. He's the only man who ever defeated Clyde Littlefield, Texas coach, in a hurdles race.

Race Between Old Rivals Now Being Boomed At Austin

AUSTIN (AP)—Thirty years ago Clyde Littlefield lost his only hurdles race.

It was in 1913, when the University of Oklahoma met the University of Texas in a dual meet, that John Jacobs beat Littlefield the only time in the latter's college career.

Jacobs, as coach of Oklahoma, is coming back to Austin April 3 for the Texas Relays and there is a mild boom on for Jacobs and Littlefield to meet in a hurdles race to settle the 30-year-old argument.

Littlefield, coach at Texas, says he might consider it if the race were limited to 20 yards. He doesn't think he could make it if there were more than two hurdles to jump.

"Jacobs hasn't been heard from on the subject."

Boy Scouts To Open Victory Book Drive In Midland Saturday

The 1943 Victory Book Campaign will get into full swing here Saturday with a house-to-house canvass by Boy Scouts to obtain books for men in the Armed Forces.

The campaign nationally is sponsored by the American Red Cross, the American Library Association and the United Service Organizations. Sponsoring organizations in Midland include the Red Cross, Midland County Library, Soldier's Recreation Center and Boy Scouts. Other organizations are assisting.

J. C. (Peck) Cunningham, Midland district Boy Scout chairman, said Scouts would visit every residence in Midland Saturday morning and urged citizens to have books ready to be picked up. He said about 12 automobiles would be needed and requested car owners to volunteer.

Want Good Books

Sponsors asserted each family should give at least one good book. They said the slogan for the day will be "Count Your Books and Give the Books That Count."

The 1943 Victory Book Campaign has been designated by the Army and Navy as the official agency for the collection of books to be distributed among the nation's fighting men.

It is the purpose of the campaign to provide good books for the increasing millions of soldiers, sailors, coast guardsmen, and merchant seamen. It also is proposed to provide books for soldier centers outside Army camps and for the Merchant Marine Library Association. In an event of an oversupply, books will be placed in defense areas where increased population has taxed facilities of libraries.

The Midland AAF Bombardier School and the Midland Soldier Center will have first call for the books collected in Midland.

Sponsors have stated their preference for the following kinds of books: current best sellers, adventure, western, detective and mystery fiction; technical; humorous; and pocket sized books.

Citizens may leave books at the county library in the courthouse, at the Soldier Center or at the Chamber of Commerce.

The War Today — Nazis Sacrifice To Keep Control Over Black Sea

By Dewitt Mackenzie

Hitler hurls his legions against Kharkov, key city of his strategic Ukraine, in a desperate effort to repair the Red ravages on the right wing of his thousand-mile battle-line—and the necessity for speed controls his tactics.

The great Montgomery deploys his famous British Eighth Army for another smash at his favorite enemy, Rommel the reynard, along the strongly fortified Axis Mareth Line in Southern Tunisia—and he too is competing against time.

Actually the Nazi high and the hard-bitten Briton are racing each other. We have in these widely separated operations an excellent example of the interdependence of the various war theaters.

Hitler is straining to achieve his objective before the Allies can open up a front in France and compel him to withdraw strength from Russia. He is said to be using 12 fresh divisions from Western Europe in his present ferocious assault.

And Montgomery, with the other Allies under General Eisenhower's command, is going all out for a quick annihilation of the Axis forces in Northern Africa, because the opening of a front in France must await the conclusion, or near conclusion, of the Tunisian show.

At first glance it might seem that the Nazi chief was getting set for another huge offensive in an effort to reach the oil fields of the Caucasus and break through into the middle east as soon as the good weather and dry roads of early summer have arrived.

Turkey Is Problem

I believe the real answer is that Hitler is trying to maintain the very large degree of control which he has had over the Black Sea because of his occupation of the northern and western coastline, together with the Crimea and Russia's great naval base at Sevastopol. In order to retain his hold on this strategic water he must keep his right wing anchored where the Don is—near Rostov, where the Don River empties into the sea of Azov.

One reason for this anxiety about the Black Sea is that if the Russians regained use of it for their navy and transports they could bring powerful additional pressure to bear on the German right flank, and might roll it back with disastrous results. Another and much more important reason is this:

Turkey's position is such that Hitler can't be sure from one minute to the next whether she may join the Allies against him.

Greetings From U. S. Accompany Supplies To Neutral Nations

WASHINGTON — Wherever American food, clothing, medical supplies and other materials needed by the people of friendly and neutral nations are being shipped under government programs a label of the American flag and the greeting "From the United States of America" accompanies the goods as a mark of American willingness to help those countries not aligned with the Axis.

The labels and tags, printed in sixteen different languages, are used in connection with official United States shipments as well as private gift packages purchased by individuals here and exported to friends and relatives in neutral countries. Many of the government's shipments are paid for by recipient nations.

The United States Commercial Company, a subsidiary of the reconstruction finance corporation, purchases these labels under a directive from the board of economic warfare. So far a total of approximately sixteen million labels and tags have been used.

An undisclosed number of the export-greetings, which have been prepared by the special promotion division of the Office of War Information, are being printed in the German and Italian languages against the day when the Allied invasion of those Axis countries gets underway.

FIVE JAP MERCHANT SHIPS SUNK

By The Associated Press

Allied warplanes, striking at Japan's vital supply lines, were officially credited with destructive attacks on five more Japanese merchant ships in the Southwest Pacific, while on the Burma front the RAF continued to punish Japanese invasion forces.

Gen Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said United Nations fliers ranging far out over the seas north of Australia bombed three enemy vessels in the Celebes Islands, Dutch East Indies, including a 7,000-ton ship which was left "burning fiercely" and "probably a total loss."

Secret Document Is Sure To Boomerang

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A taxpayer, out of the state, mailed his income tax return to his wife so she could send it—with a check—to the collector.

She'd also included a letter from hubby, Collector H. C. Jones found. That was a mistake.

It said he was claiming $2 a day for meals because everybody else does, and had "upped the medicine figures to agree with the doctor bills"—and would she wait until just before March 15 to file it?

"Then it will get in with so many others that maybe my expense items won't be checked so close."

Mutual Feeling

DENVER (AP)—A Lowry Field soldier was served such a tough piece of steak in a Denver restaurant that he wrote to the editor of Rev-Meter, the field newspaper, and asked if it was true horsemeat was now being served. "I can't say for sure," replied the editor, in his column. "I do know that last night I ordered a steak in a restaurant and the waitress told me to pay my check at the two-dollar window."

quarters said United Nations fliers ranging far out over the seas north of Australia bombed three enemy vessels in the Celebes Islands, Dutch East Indies, including a 7,000-ton ship which was left "burning fiercely" and "probably a total loss."

Akyah Sounded

Two other Japanese merchant vessels were attacked off the north coast of New Guinea. Several near hits were scored with 1,000-pound bombs, and at least one of the ships, a 5,000-tonner, was severely damaged.

In Burma, RAF night raiders pounded the Japanese base at Akyah on the Bay of Bengal, following up daylight attacks on Japanese troops in the Rahaung sector 25 miles north of Akyah.

No reports were forthcoming on ground fighting either in Burma or New Guinea.

On the China front, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's armies fighting to defend China's "back door" along the Yunnan-Burma frontier were reported to have blunted the northern claw of a pincer which the Japanese had thrown across the Yunnan border from their base at Myitkya, Burma.

A Chinese army spokesman said that the Japanese were using 55,000 troops in the border region but declared that nevertheless the Chinese had captured point after point.

Chinese military quarters said the Japanese were now establishing powerful air bases in the Kwangchow Island, off the China coast between Hongkong and Hainan, for operations against any air-drome constructed by the Allies in South or East China for raids against Japan.

O'Daniel Bill Bans Alcohol Near Camps

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to remove alcoholic beverages from the vicinity of military establishments has been reintroduced by Senator W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Texas).

The bill has the same number, S860, as a similar measure which O'Daniel introduced last session and which died in committee.
