Why Start With Aliens?

Agriculture Department agencies are bringing Bahamians to the United States to help solve our farm labor problem. Mexicans have been imported, for work in the Southwest, for more than a year now. It is proposed to recruit Jamaicans. There is no objection to those steps in themselves. But one wonders why we are going to Mexico and to British Caribbean islands for farm help before we even try to utilize tens of thousands of jobless American citizens in Puerto Rico.

At latest reports there were 300,000 unemployed down there, and we have been spending well in excess of $25,000,000 a year out of the federal treasury—in addition to remitting all insular contributions to national income—to relieve the most pressing misery on the island. Rolivar Pagan, Puerto Rican delegate to Congress, says 100,000 of his people could be sent up here to help relieve the manpower shortage. Most of them would be agricultural workers.

Charles Goldsmith, Department of Labor representative in Puerto Rico, says the island could supply a minimum of 20,000 skilled and semi-skilled workers for industry—he has case records covering that number of mechanics, railroad laborers, roundhousemen, carpenters, and similar skills—and a great number of cane cutters, citrus workers and agricultural field hands.

George Cross of the War Manpower Commission says we could bring a large number of skilled and farm workers, and could pay them from two to three times what they would earn in Puerto Rico if they had jobs. Nevertheless, we are going after Bahamians and Jamaicans, who suffer from every national disability alleged against Puerto Ricans.

They have similar economic, social and racial backgrounds. They must leave or could bring their families, exactly like Puerto Ricans. They are accustomed to year-round climatic balminess and will not like our colder weather. Moreover, they are aliens, for whose welfare we have no legal or moral obligation. The Puerto Ricans are citizens, and them we must support. We can keep the Puerto Ricans on relief, while we import Bahamians and Jamaicans, or we can give jobs to Puerto Ricans first.

Probably, in the end, we shall need all the men we can get from all these sources. But why start with aliens? Why not give American citizens the first break?

Commercial Airlines Crisis

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the U. S. airmail is to be observed May 15-16, but unless the U. S. commercial airlines can get a few more transport planes assigned to them by the Army, there is a fair chance that the celebration, instead of being a joyous birthday, will be somewhat in the nature of a wake, marking the complete hog-down by overloading of the best airmail system in the world.

Airmail today is slow. Airmail is late. Airmail pouches get kicked off or kept off planes by high priority passengers. Postmaster General Frank C. Walker himself gave recognition to this bad situation by his recent admission that the airmail was in a bad way, might have to be dropped entirely as a war measure, to enable the commercial airlines to haul passengers and priority express, relieving them of the added burden of carrying mere mail.

The inside story, however, is that Postmaster Walker's statement was something in the nature of a trial balloon, intended to call attention to the serious situation now confronting the airmail service, indirectly to prod along and force action on the commercial airlines' requests that they be allocated a few more planes to do the tremendous job that has been dumped on their wings by the war effort. As few as six planes would help, two dozen more planes would relieve the crisis and if assigned to the airlines immediately, this 25th anniversary would mark the rebirth of the airmail service instead of its collapse.

Six Wives — All-At-Once

A University of London philosopher, Dr. C. E. M. Joad has admitted in print that he would like to have several wives. He wants one to go out to dinner with, another to cook for him at home, one to attend him to church and another to play games with him, one to mother him and another to make love to.

It is no news that Dr. Joad would prefer a different woman for each of these uses. Millions of men have had similar ideas. The news is that the good professor has nerve to tell about his desires in print unless—could this be possible?—he now has not even one wife.

One Third Of Bond Drive Goal Raised

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary Morgenthau reported Thursday the Treasury already has raised more than one-third of the $13,000,000,000 sought in the second war loan campaign which opened Monday. The secretary told his press conference that subscriptions up to Wednesday night from both banking and non-banking sources totaled $5,253,000,000.

Importance Of War Bonds Is Explained

C. L. Kapproth, Midland County War Bond chairman, urged Rotarians at their meeting Thursday in Hotel Scharbauer to purchase War Bonds to the limit of their financial ability. Emphasizing the importance of the Second War Loan campaign, he called on every citizen to buy more bonds. "Loan to the government as much as you possibly can," he asserted. "Help preserve that what we have. It is a privilege and an honor to help our nation."

"Our government needs $13,000,000,000. It can be raised. It will be raised." He thanked the Reporter-Telegram and KRLH for their cooperation in the War Loan campaign. Midland's quota is $645,000 and the two banks have asked to purchase $335,000 in government securities, making the total for the county in the Second War Loan campaign more than a million dollars.

Refuge For European Jews Asked Of Allies

CHICAGO (AP)— Immediate action by the Allied nations to find places of refuge for European Jews was demanded in resolutions adopted by more than 20,000 persons of many creeds and nationalities Wednesday night at a rally at the Chicago stadium.

Wool

BOSTON (AP)— (US Dept Agr) — Contracting was much slower Thursday in the west due to slackening of mill buying. Corriedale wools were bought in Texas at 50 to 51 cents, grease basis, 45 to 47 1/2 cents was paid for 12-months Texas wools. Australia to-arrive wools were active in Boston.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary Morgenthau reported Thursday the Treasury already has raised more than one-third of the $13,000,000,000 sought in the second war loan campaign which opened Monday.

Neil Smallwood To Begin Navy Duties

Neil Smallwood, manager of the Firestone Store here for the past seven years, will report Monday at Dallas for induction in the Navy as a second class petty officer. Miss Vista Hagler, who has been connected with the company some time will be in charge of the store until a new manager is appointed.

New Designations For Two Squadrons Here

Members of the 493rd and 494th Bombarrier Training Squadrons at the Midland AAF Bombarrier School will have a new designation. Hereafter, the 493rd Bombarrier Squadron will be known as the Headquarters and Headquarters Squadron of the 82nd Bombarrier Training Group. The 494th Bombarrier Training Squadron will be known as the Headquarters and Headquarters Squadron of the 83rd Bombarrier Training Group.

Military Chiefs --

(Continued from Page 1) would overtax its strength, especially in shipping. Monsoon Season Near This does not rule out heavy naval and air blows this spring or summer — blows for which both Army and Navy have been marshaling and organizing their forces for several months. But it would seem to eliminate for the time being any likelihood of decisive actions taken on American initiative.

Inquiries prompted by recent apprehensive statements from Australia about the massing of Japanese ground and air units in the Southwest Pacific brought this general summary of the Pacific situation from highly placed spokesmen. The monsoon season is at hand in Burma and with its beginning all important fighting ceases. Not being under pressure in Burma, the Japanese almost certainly will shift some air units from there into their island arc opposite Northern Australia.

There already has been a marked increase in enemy air strength in the Southwest Pacific but it is significant that in both attacks the Japanese were outclassed if not outnumbered and lost much more heavily than our forces. Jap Air Power Wanes Belief in responsible quarters here is that despite their best efforts at replacement, the Japanese now have an air force numerically inferior to that with which they started the war. Only a fraction of their aircraft carrier fleet is left whereas the comparable United States force is being steadily built up.

Diminishing rather than growing air power probably explains the intermittent nature of the enemy's heavy attacks on Guadalcanal and New Guinea. The Japanese are unable to maintain raids of destructive size and can make only after accumulating sufficient planes for the purpose.

But, if they were able to obtain parity or control in the air, naval concentrations would quickly follow. The Japanese assault from the air, starting Sunday, was being pushed with big concentrations of fighter-escorted bombers. A heavy toll of the raiders had been exacted by Allied defenses before Wednesday's attack, when 30 planes were believed to have been downed. Fifteen of the raiders were seen to crash, while 15 others were so badly damaged they probably could not return to their base.

The attackers numbered between 75 and 100, including 45 medium and dive bombers with a fighter escort. Allied fighter losses were moderate, headquarters said. The first attack this week occurred Sunday at Oro Bay, on the east coast of Papua, and 24 of the Japanese fleet of 45 fighters and bombers were knocked out of action. The next day some 100 Japanese planes struck at Port Moresby and 37 enemy planes were claimed as victims.

Allied bombers returned to Hansa Bay on the North New Guinea coast and found one 6,000-ton cargo vessel left from a previously-attacked enemy convoy. Three direct hits at low level set it ablaze and two hours afterward it was seen sinking by the stern. The attackers numbered between 75 and 100, including 45 medium and dive bombers with a fighter escort. Allied fighter losses were moderate, headquarters said.

Meat 'N Waffle Shortcake Answers Call For Speed

When it's time you're saving, meat leftovers fill the bill. They make many a meal that's speedy, thrifty and delicious. And they carry a lot of vitamins, minerals and proteins so abundant in meat.

Meat and waffle shortcake is a shortcut to good eating. Leftover or fresh meat, browned and cooked in a cream sauce, fills deliciously between crisp, brown waffles. Use prepared biscuit mix for quick waffles. And here's how to prepare the veal meal and other good dishes that are speedy.

Veal And Waffle Shortcake
 1 1/2 cups medium white sauce
 1/2 cup leftover gravy
 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
 2 cups diced cooked veal or
 1 pound veal shank, breast, flank, neck or shoulder.

Prepare white sauce, stir in gravy and Worcestershire sauce, and bring to a boil, adding milk or water if too thick; add cooked meat and heat thoroughly. Serve on hot waffles, shortcake style. If fresh veal is used, cut meat into 1-inch cubes, saute in hot lard, add 1/2 cup water, cover and simmer 30 minutes. Use dripping to make gravy. Beef or lamb can be used in place of veal. To dress it up, add mushrooms, almonds, pimientos, or garnish with slices of hard-boiled egg. Serves 6.

Beef Cubes in Sour Cream
 2 pound beef from shank, brisket, or heel of round
 2 medium-sized onions, sliced
 1/2 cup thick sour cream
 1/2 cup water
 2 tablespoons grated American cheese
 Salt and pepper

Cut meat in 1-inch cubes. Roll meat in flour; brown in hot fat. Add onion. Combine remaining ingredients; pour over meat. Cover closely and cook slowly until tender, about 2 hours. Serves 6.

Pork Loaf
 1 1/2 cups dry bread crumbs
 1/2 cup milk
 2 eggs, beaten
 3 cups ground cooked pork
 2 apples, pared, cored and minced
 1 medium-sized onion, minced
 1/2 teaspoon salt

Dash of pepper
 1/8 teaspoon thyme
 Mix crumbs, milk and eggs and let stand for 1/2 hour. Mix together pork apples and onion, or put through food chopper; stir in seasonings and soaked crumbs, and pack into loaf pan. Bake in 350° F. oven about 35 minutes. Serves 8.

Curried Lamb With Rice
 2 pounds lean lamb breast, shoulder or neck
 2 tablespoons fat
 1 bay leaf
 1 cup diced celery
 2 small onions, sliced
 1 teaspoon chopped parsley
 1/4 cup flour
 1 teaspoon curry powder
 2 tablespoons cold water

Cube meat and brown in hot fat. Cover with boiling water; add seasonings, onion and parsley. Cover and cook slowly 2 hours or until meat is tender. Strain stock; reserve 2 cups. Mix flour and curry powder; add cold water and blend. Stir into stock; cook until thick. Add meat mixture. Serve with fluffy steamed rice. Serves 6.

Shower Honors Miss Hoskins

Complimenting Miss Mary Lou Hoskins, bride-elect of Lt. Fred Scott, Misses Patty Griswold and Maxine Hughes and Mrs. Marilyn Goodman were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Goodman, 1310 West Kentucky.

The home was decorated with white and yellow flowers, and party decorations also carried out the color scheme. Miss Hughes presided at the tea service.

The guest list included Misses Melba Schlosser, Betty Burnett, Louise Cox, Montez Downey, Nellie Bedford, Liza Lawrence, Sudy Cowden, Jean Robertson, Marge Grant, Wilma Mahoney, Margie Warner, Louise McClain and Mrs. Aline Potts of Philadelphia.

Fencing Materials Restrictions Lifted

All types of fencing materials have been removed from the farm machinery rationing program. W. E. Pigg, chairman of the Midland County USDA War Board farm machinery committee, has announced. This material may now be sold without restrictions, he said.

Although removed from rationing restrictions, supplies of fencing materials still are limited and dealers are being requested to restrict sales to producers' immediate needs in order that the maximum use might be obtained from the supplies now on hand, Pigg said.

Tennessee Officers Spend Two Days Here

Sheriff Curtis Sawyer and Deputies R. E. Hinkle and Dillingham, all of Lynchburg, Tennessee, were visitors Tuesday and Wednesday in the home of Mr. Hinkle's son, Richard Hinkle, and family, here, enroute to Tennessee from California with a prisoner. The prisoner, arrested on a charge of murder, was being returned to Lynchburg for trial. He was held in the county jail during their stay here.

Plans Complete For Midland Dairy Day

Plans are complete for the fourth annual Midland Dairy Day program to be held Saturday, April 24, at the Elder Warehouse on South Baird street, officials in charge announced this week. Catalogues for the event here have been issued by the Midland Dairy Association, sponsors of the event.

Prizes totaling $200 in war stamps will be given in the event, which is held each year to promote better dairying. Entries from Midland, Martin Glasscock and Ward counties are expected.

In connection with the program, a 4-H Club and F.P.A. show also will be held, with classes to be set up to correspond with the number of entries. Prizes in the club show will be paid in war savings stamps.

Two classes have been announced for the Dairy Day show, one each for cows and bulls. Champion and reserve champion will be selected in each division.

Contests Scheduled

A production contest sponsored by R. O. Brooks of Midland will be held, and a milk maid contest, sponsored by L. A. Brunson, also is planned. In addition, a heifer production contest will be staged.

A registered Jersey heifer will be auctioned to the highest bidder during the event, and the proceeds will be given to the Red Cross. The heifer is being donated by R. O. Brooks, of Midland, breeder of registered Jerseys.

The show will open officially at 9 a.m. April 24. All animals must be bedded down at the show building on the night of April 23, and cattle entered must remain in the stalls until 5 p.m. the following day. Stalls will be provided free, but bedding must be furnished by the exhibitor.

Judges Announced

Judges for the contests are E. R. Eudaly, extension dairymen, and G. C. Gibson, assistant extension dairymen of the Texas Extension Service. Premiums will be divided according to the number of points received by each animal, it was announced.

Classes in the female division have been announced as follows:

- Class 1: Four year old and under.
 - Class 2: Three years old and under four.
 - Class 3: Two years old and under three.
 - Class 4: One year old and under two.
 - Class 5: Six months and under one year.
 - Class 6: Under six months.
 - Class 7: Grand champion and reserve champion female. All blue ribbon animals of the preceding classes will compete in this class.
 - Class 8: Champion calf under 12 months old. All blue ribbon calves of classes 5 and 6 will compete.
- Bull Division
- Class 9: Three years old and over.
 - Class 10: Two years old and under three years.
 - Class 11: One year old and under two years.
 - Class 12: Six months and under 12 months.
 - Class 13: Under six months.
 - Class 14: Grand champion and reserve champion bull from all blue ribbon calves in classes 9 to 13.
 - Class 15: Champion bull calf

Boys Start Campaign To Raise 13 Billions

LAKIN, Kas. — (P) — "Thirteen billion dollars must be raised," read the new poster in the bank window. Next morning Chairman C. A. Loucks of the county war bond sales committee found three pennies on the bank window sill. With them was a note signed by three small boys: "Leave these here. It is to raise the 13 billion dollars."

Prison Breakout

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — (P) — Sorry, but you can't get into the Vanderburgh County jail. Health Officer E. A. King quarantined the bastille after a woman prisoner developed measles. Court trials and arraignments of prisoners were ordered discontinued—no one can get out, either. Libya is more than twice the size of the state of Texas.

Different Viewpoints In Surprise Blackout

HARRISBURG, Pa. — (P) — A surprise blackout test Wednesday night disrupted a number of other things, a Democratic filibuster in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives. Republicans sang, when the chamber was plunged into darkness, "Praise the Lord and stop the filibuster." Democrats countered with "Praise the Lord and save the constitution."

Acquire Self-Treatment Beauty Hints From Professionals On Routine Visit

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

In many towns you often have to make beauty shop appointments several days in advance during these times, and there are at least two good reasons for that. One is, although Uncle Sam is seeing to it that there are enough of the basic beauty aids to go around, equipment for the shops is not so plentiful as before the war, and expert operators are fewer. Two, professional beauty care is one of the very first things that women buy when they can afford it and business is booming.

Your beauty cue from all that should be clear; this is a time to get professional attention — and learn from it. The deft fingers of the expert who gives you a facial massage, or even a shampoo, contribute both to your looks and to your vigor. If you doubt it, just get good and tired, then turn your self over to an operator for a skillful going over, and notice how her treatment of the back of your neck and shoulders relaxes and refreshes you.

However, notice also how she works, and do a little efficient self-service between your visits to the beauty shop. For instance, for fatigue, you can easily massage your neck and shoulders.

Sit comfortably in a straight chair with eyes closed, then drop your head forward as far as possible. Now place hands on shoulders, right hand on right shoulder, and grip the muscles above your shoulder blades. Take a good grip, squeeze the tissue, and work from the outer edges in, then up your neck to your ears. Relax, and roll your head slowly over your left shoulder, back and around to the right and forward. Repeat the massage and the "head roll" several times. You will find this invigorating. Such little quick tricks are much more important nowadays than they seemed a few years ago; they pay in beauty and energy.

Gandhi, the Indian leader, carries his false teeth with him, but only puts them into his mouth when he eats.

Texas Golfers Are Favorites In Dallas Open

DALLAS—(AP)—Anywhere big-time golf is played in this nation there's trouble from those terrific Texans, but just get them together on a home course and it's like being caught in the cross-fire of a Hatfield-McCoy feud.

A flock of them are here for the Texas Victory Open starting Friday, and partner, if you-all aim to carry off the money right from under their noses, you better smile high, wide and handsome when you do it.

Hogan Is Favorite

First there's Ben Hogan to contend with. Little Ben's in the Army now but he's a hot favorite, even after a seven-months layoff from golf, to capture the 36-hole tournament and take home the $500 war bond offered as the top prize.

Then there's Henry Ransom, a tall, handsome young fellow who sarts kicking par around as soon as he arrives and never lets up.

Ransom was the sensation of the Dallas Country Club neighborhood Thursday as more than 160 golfers moved into final practice rounds. The unattached professional, now residing at Houston, fashioned a nine-under-par 63 Wednesday. He did it without a single five on his card, going out in 32 and in with a 31.

It tied the course record set in 1940 by Jamie Gough, then of Dallas but now a captain in the Army Air Force at Pampa, Texas.

Sixty-nines and seventies were as numerous as nineties in local club tournaments. Ed Dudley, towering

Former Purdue U. Athlete Completes Stiff Course Despite A Broken Neck

SAN MARCOS—(AP)—Football foe of Duane Purvis found him tough to handle back in the thirties when he was a prominent contender for all-America.

The Army Air Force is finding him just as tough. He's the guy who went through officers candidate school at Miami Beach, Fla., with a broken neck.

Nine months ago the former Purdue University grid great and star javelin thrower was serving as a civilian physical training director at Ellington Field, Houston, when he fell from some tumbling equipment. X-rays failed to reveal a break and some weeks later he reported at Miami Beach. He didn't feel up to par but Purvis carried on for 13 weeks of rigorous training, reporting to Kelly Field, San Antonio, in December.

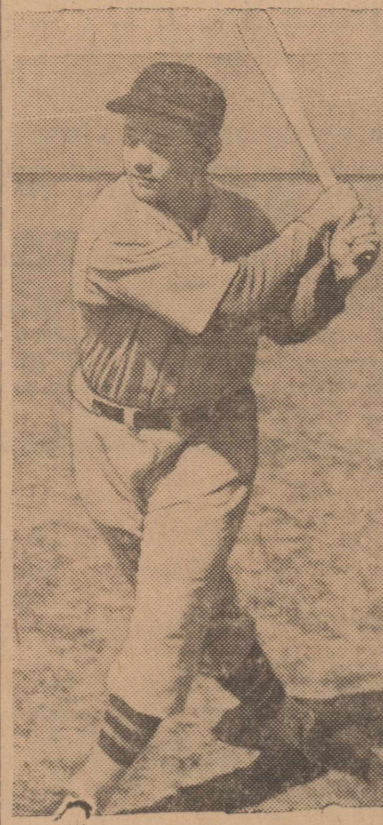

Examination there revealed the break and delicate operation was performed. Doctors told him he was extremely lucky to be alive.

Speaking of luck, Purvis admits he has had his share of both kinds. Possibly the fact that he was born on Friday the thirteenth and was thirteen years old on Friday the thirteenth had something to do with it. Anyway, Purvis admits he's giving the idea some thought.

Injuries have played an integral part in his athletic career, but somehow the guy always has managed to come out on top. For instance, there was his senior year at Purdue when he couldn't compete in track until the last meet because of a football hurt. But he didn't want to default, so he limped out and took one throw with the javelin. He broke the state record and won his letter.

Today Purvis, now a lieutenant, is physical training director at the Army Air Force Navigation School here but he can't participate in the exercises. However, he's not unhappy about it. After all, he was lucky to be in such great condition. If the muscles in his neck had not been ample and of such heavy texture, the tumbling accident might have been fatal.

Roberto Estalella has spent eight years with clubs deep in second division, so Cuban outfielder feels perfectly at home with Philadelphia Athletics.

Pick Dodgers To Win Major League Crown

By Judson Bailey

NEW YORK—(AP)—You may have one of those plain, unadorned calendars which simply shows that this is Thursday, April 15, but we have one on our desk which shows that this is the time to predict the pennant winners in the major leagues.

Like planting potatoes in your victory garden during the right phase of the moon, picking pennant winners is a delicate undertaking that should always be done as early as possible in the spring. The object is to allow plenty of time to forget the selections before the season ends.

Our opinion and $18.75 will get you a small war bond, but for what it is worth we give you the Brooklyn Dodgers as the probable 1943 champions of the National League. Experts Pick Cards

Most of the major league experts are backing the world champion St. Louis Cardinals and we will concede that this year will see another close race.

The Cardinals have a good ball club, but it is not the same outfit that beat the New York Yankees four straight in the last world series. Gone are Terry Moore, the great fielder; Enos (Country) Slaughter, the great hitter, and John Beazley, the rookie pitcher who won 21 games in the regular season and two in the world series.

For the first few weeks of the season the Redbirds also will be without Shortstop Martin (Slats) Marion, because of an appendectomy, and Second Baseman Jimmy Brown. Brown, Howie Pollet and Harry Walker are likely to be called in the draft at an early date.

Dodgers Well Staffed

The Dodgers would be the war have been less vital. Outfielder Pete Reiser and Shortstop Pee-wee Reese have entered the service along with several others, but Branch Rickey has obtained experienced replacements. The team consists of veterans who are as nearly draft proof as any ball players can be. The exception is Pitcher Kirby Hige, married but childless.

The schedule gives the Dodgers a running start against the weak eastern clubs while the Cards are battling the tough Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs in the first month of the season.

Our guess on the order of the finish is Brooklyn, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Honolulu Oilers And Schlitz Tied For First Place In Bowling Loop

Russell Langford turned in scores over 200 in each of three games to lead the Honolulu Oilers in defeating the Service Club in the City Bowling League Wednesday night. Langford ran up a total of 619 during the three contests.

The Schlitz team dropped two close games to the Hurley team to lose their undisputed lead in the league. Schlitz and Honolulu are tied for first place.

R. D. Scott's high game of 553 helped his Grand Prize team take two games from the Plamor Alley kегlers.

Sports Roundup

By Charles Dunkley

CHICAGO—(AP)—Norman Ross, at the age of 47, is going back to war as an instructor in the Army Flight Command to join his two sons, both headed for Army aviation. His dog, a Belgian shepherd pooch, already is in the service. His wife, above the age limit for the WAACs, is storming because she can't go, too.

So, within 48 hours, the three males in the house of Ross will be in the service of their country, leaving mother and a 12-year-old daughter behind. Donald, 18, is an air cadet stationed at Lubbock, Texas. Norman Jr., 21, is in training at Stanford University to become an aviator in the artillery service.

Both youngsters previously had learned to fly. Their dad, owner of a plane, taught them. Norman Ross was the original human fish. First of the world's really great modern swimmers. In the period between 1917 and 1922, Ross held almost all of the world's aquatic records from a quarter of a mile to a mile and a half. At one time he held 17 national championships. He smashed the quarter mile record 12 times. He reigned supreme until another great swimmer, Johnny Weissmuller, came along in 1922. . . . Ross served in the first world war as a pursuit pilot with Maj. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle.

Hardrock Mining Men Are Putting Bite On Rocky Mountain Wilderness

CUSTER NATIONAL FOREST, Mont. —(AP)—Hardrock mining men are slicing into the high, snow-capped levels of the Rocky Mountain wilderness, biting out huge chunks of black ore to help satisfy the nation's need for a critical war mineral—chrome.

Chrome helps make hard, tough steel. Before the war, Russia, Rhodesia, Turkey, New Caledonia and the Philippines provided the chrome we needed as the world's biggest consumer.

Today the miners of the Bear-

Tooth range are sending out concentrated chromite ore. It is dug from holes in the mountainsides a mile and a half above sea level, sent down to crushing plants on an aerial railway. Sometimes the men work in snow waist deep. Sometimes the mercury drops to 30 below.

Two Mines Operate

When crushed and concentrated, the chromite resembles fine black sand and is ready for shipment to steel furnaces or chemical plants.

In production of some steels, it can be used as is. In the making of ferrochromium, used for higher grades of tough steel, it is further concentrated.

Two mines are now in operation, the Mout and Benbow, helping the U. S. change the picture from that of 1940, when we produced less than 1 per cent of our chrome needs.

Dunked Aviators Form 'Drip' Organization

WITH THE ARMY AIR FORCE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC—(AP)—The men who have been forced down at sea have formed a new outfit to rival the Short Snorter Club.

The new organization is known as "The Drips" and each member is called a drip.

To qualify one must have been forced down at sea in an airplane. The membership card is a one dollar bill with the word "drip" written in the top margin along with the drip's name, the date and place where he went down. The initiation fee, like that of the Short Snorters, is a dollar to each drip present at the initiation.

Any drip may challenge any other drip at anytime and if the challenged person fails to produce a membership card in 30 seconds he is ordered to pay each drip present a dollar and buy each a drink.

It is a very exclusive organization in that only those who have "hit the drink" are eligible.

Plywood adhesives, thin sheets of veneer glued together, can be bent or molded into any shape and are widely used in the aviation industry.

SERIAL STORY

DARK JUNGLES

BY JOHN C. FLEMING & LOIS EBY

THE STORY: Allison Topping, society girl, is off to Guatemala, to run her father's chocolate plantation. Barry Fielding, mining engineer on route to the same land in search of a quicksilver mine operated by the Quiche Indian tribe, has tried many times to dissuade her. At Puerto Barrios, Allison introduces Barry to Renaldo, her father's attorney. Renaldo also warns Allison to turn back—to no avail. Barry accompanies them on the arduous mule-back trek through the jungle to the plantation. Renaldo's guide is to go on with him into Quiche territory.

"They are using a mixture of sand and water," he told Barry. "It is to scrape off the big red and black ticks that bedevil the poor creatures." He crossed to superintend the raking of ramona leaves for the mules' feeding. When he finally returned, there was a strange glimmer of a smile on his face. He said to Barry without preface: "You didn't know her father."

Barry scowled at him. "What do you mean?" "Jeremiah 'Topping' Renaldo murmured the glint of humor deepening in his eyes. "He was frail, too, but he went through more than six natives could endure. She will finish the trip. I only hope it will prove sufficiently uncomfortable so that she will return immediately to the coast."

In sudden, blind rage, Barry swung on him. Renaldo staggered back under the blow's impact. But as Barry moved in for battle, his arms were suddenly pinioned to his sides by the iron grip of Jose. As he struggled to free himself from the giant muleteer, Renaldo stepped close. There was no anger or resentment on his face. "I do not wish to fight you, Mr. Fielding," he said in quiet, conversational tones. "It is not good for the natives to see white men bickering among themselves. Release him, Jose." As the muleteer dropped his huge arms, Renaldo added, "Please know I am also trying to do what is best for Miss Topping. It is only to my best interests. After all, she is my employer."

Barry was forced to admit as the mule train sloshed along the next afternoon that Renaldo was right. Though he had carried Allison to her mule that morning, looking too white and sick to sit upright, she had stuck it out hour after hour through the fetid heat of the day, swaying drunkenly in the saddle but refusing to stop. Only once did she come out of her sick stupor to notice what was going on.

"Won't it ever stop raining?" she asked, bitterly. Renaldo replied quietly, "This is called the 'rain forest.' There probably is more rainfall around here than any other spot in the world. That is why the zapotes in tree grows so well."

"Thanks!" Her voice was a muffled half scream, half sob. Barry thought for a minute she had broken. But her sobs dwindled out wearily and her small body in the torn and muddy white suit continued to stay comparatively upright on the muscular little mule as it sloshed along the slippery trail. He could see her pat the animal's shaggy neck after a hard bit of going, and murmur affectionate words of praise. She would stick it out, he thought with reluctant admiration, just as Renaldo had predicted. When at last Renaldo turned in his saddle and called back, "Another hour will see us at home!" Barry could scarcely believe it. The Indian boys chattered jubilantly, sang wailing melodies to relieve their impatience. Even the mules seemed to sense their trial was about over. The caravan moved with a quickened tempo. Allison turned slowly and looked back at Barry. There was a dazed look on her damp, white petal face, and she formed the words with difficulty but with a quavering note of mirth. "Did you see Cassidy's ears when Renaldo said 'home'? You should feel him. He's quivering all over!"

"He made a stout march for a homebody," Barry grinned. He could see the mule shaking now. It took sidewise mincing steps back toward one side of the trail. Sudden apprehension clutched Barry. He dug spurs into his own animal and started forward, calling, "Something's there!" and pulling at the flashlight in his pocket. Even as he rode forward, the slender writhing form slid upward through the air in the arc of light toward its prey!

As Allison's shrill scream echoed through the dark fastness of the jungle, the cold horror of a nightmare gripped Barry. His gun and Renaldo's spoke almost together. The snake lay writhing its last in the ooze of the trail. But Barry knew it had been too late. He reached the girl's side as Renaldo came up. His arm jerked stiffly with the flashlight. Renaldo tore it from him and swept the light over Allison's body with thorough speed. Then slowly he moved it down over the front flank of the animal.

"Take her off," he said brusquely. "Thank God, the mule got it." His command was none too soon. Allison was scarcely off when the small animal toppled into the mud. "Cassidy!" Allison screamed. "Can't you help him, Renaldo?"

"There is nothing that can be done," Renaldo said steadily. His foot indicated the still form of the snake. "That is a bushmaster. In a few minutes Cassidy will be twice his size. If you will permit—"

Allison nodded. She sobbed as Renaldo's shot rang out. The Spaniard shot soothingly as he hoisted his gun. "We are practically at the estancia. We will get you to your bed."

But Allison had fainted in Barry's arms. (To Be Continued)

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney America's Card Authority Friends of Cpl. George Raape, son of Erno Raape, orchestra conductor at Radio City, will be glad to learn that he has returned to Camp Pickett, Va., after his recent illness. George says that some very fine bridge is played in the Army. He gave me today's hand, which was played at Camp Lee.

Hand of diamonds won by the ace. South cashed five clubs, West discarding the three and four of spades, then the six of hearts. Dummy discarded two hearts. East first let go the deuce of diamonds to show that he had no high card to support a second lead by West. Then he let go the eight of hearts, as a bluff. But the bluff did not work.

Declarer led a heart and West had to put up very fine defense. He played the jack, and the king won. A second heart lead dropped the queen and ace together. West coolly led the seven of spades, putting East in with the ace for a diamond led through the ten-spot. The defense thus won two diamonds, two top spades and the ace of hearts.

Not the men who eat at Keesler's Mess Hall No. 4, anyhow, for an erstwhile juke box-radio combination has been rigged up to give them music with their meals. More than 200 recordings are used to provide jive tunes and spirited marches at breakfast. At noon and evening, the tunes strike a more moderate level with dance music, familiar marches and ballads.

FOX MISSES MEAL DARTINGTON, S. C. —(AP)—Her name was not Red Riding Hood and no wolf was around, but a six-year-old girl, on her way to a rural school was attacked by a fox which tried to snatch her lunch box. An eleven-year-old boy companion killed the fox with his bare hands.

Police Nab Fugitive From A Ration Card COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. —(AP)—Police officers snapped to attention when a citizen called and said an unbranded calf was walking serenely along a downtown street. Officer Oren Bolling called one of Colorado Springs' rooster stars, then jumped in a car. With the cowboy sitting on a fender and twirling a rope, they gave chase and soon had the veal cutlets in custody.

SCHOOL BANQUET POSTPONED AT GIRLS COLLEGE CHARLOTTE, N. C. —(AP)—There will be no junior-senior banquet this year at Queens College, a girls' school here. The juniors were unable to find an eating place with enough food to serve the banquet and the seniors were short on escorts because so many young men had gone to war. Offers New Paint

Phillips Electric Company at 218 North Main offers a complete line of Time-Tested Paints for Spring.

Phillips Electric Company Features Complete Line Of Time-Tested Paints

Spring has always been clean-up and paintup time for homeowners who take pride in their property, but this year proper care is more than a peaceful matter — it is a patriotic duty. The government has asked citizens to take steps immediately to preserve their property and thus promote the war effort.

Spring painting this year will help put homes into fighting trim and help them endure for years to come. H. N. Phillips of the Phillips Electric Company points out, the length of time the painting will resist the ravages of weather depends upon the quality of the paint used.

Complete Stock Of Paints
The Phillips Electric Company, located at 218 North Main Street, recently became agents in Midland for Time-Tested paints, varnishes, lacquers and enamels. Twenty-six paint laboratories, with extensive resources, knowledge and experience, sponsor Time-Tested Paints, and make them symbols of the highest quality attainable in paints.

They are laboratory and service tested.

Colors of Time-Tested paints are developed through years of scientific research and experience and are as permanent as modern processes can produce. Paints and allied products for every need are available in large stock carried by the Phillips Electric Company, including paints for redecorating papered walls.

Electrical Supplies
In addition to a complete line of paints, the company also features light fixtures which will add to the appearance of homes, in addition to other electrical supplies.

Repairs for all electrical appliances are made at the Phillips Electric Company, but due to a shortage of materials and help the firm has been forced to confine this service only to the most essential needs. Seven employees of the firm have gone into service with the armed forces.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will be glad to discuss paint problems with home owners.

Firestone Store Has Supplies For Almost All Needs

The Firestone Store, located at 624 West Wall Street, is one of the most complete and busiest stores of the famous rubber company in the Southwest. In addition to regular services offered motorists, it is virtually a supply store for the citizens' every need.

For the victory gardener, the Firestone Store offers a complete line of garden tools and implements, fertilizers and other supplies. Lawn mowers, weed cutters, watering equipment and other lawn needs also are featured. Free gardening books are offered by the company.

New Screen Featured

Home owners planning to redecorate and preserve their property are invited to see the complete lines of Firestone paints and enamels carried in stock at the store. Information on painting problems will be furnished gladly.

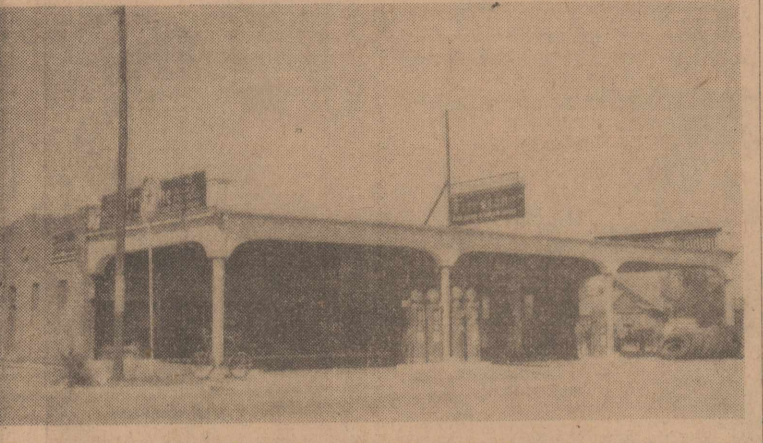

There is no longer a reason for home owners to neglect rusted and torn window and door screens, Neil Smallwood, manager, declares. Although screen wire is scarce, Firestone has a product which will take its place and, at the same time, provide even better protection from flies and insects this summer. It is Velon plastic screen, a recently developed product of the company. Although it is soft, it is durable and guaranteed for life against deterioration, rust and corrosion. It never requires painting and will hold its bright appearance forever. It is available in six sizes and can be easily installed.

Sports lovers will find a complete line of equipment at the Firestone Store. Tennis, golf, fishing, archery and other supplies are carried by the store, and other sports equipment is available.

Children will find many toys and games on display, and book-lovers are invited to see the large stock of good books. The musical-minded will find the latest records and many musical instruments in the music department.

Housewives are delighted with

Complete Store

The Firestone Store, located at 624 West Wall, is one of the most completely stocked stores in West Texas.

The household needs found in the Firestone Store. Beautiful dishes and crockery, kitchen equipment, and many other necessities are found in the well-stocked showroom. Almost every need for the home is available, including such items as soap and soap granules, floor polish and household oil.

The working man will find exceptional bargains in good work clothes and other needs at this up-to-date store.

Motorists will like the efficient service given by attendants at the store.

In addition to expert washing and greasing, the Firestone Store offers other services from checking of tires to charging batteries. The new Perma-Life battery, built to stand any wartime driving, is sold by the company. A complete accessory department is maintained.

Citizens are urged to visit the Firestone Store and become acquainted with the complete stocks carried.

Women Now Guarding Dams In Tennessee

CHATTAHOOGA, TENN. —(P)— Wartime necessity has opened a new field for women—guard duty at the Tennessee Valley Authority's many vital dams and other projects.

Chief Brady Carrier of the agency's public safety office here says some of the feminine officers will be trained to work the TVA's guard dogs.

MALE STUDENTS POPULAR

BOULDER, COLO. —(P)— For the first time in 25 years coeds outnumber men at Colorado University. There are now 1,111 women; 1,094 men. Heretofore the women have been outnumbered about two to one.

Midland Bombardiers Show Writer How To Drop Bombs

Practice Mission Thrills Editor

By William Smith White
Associated Press War Editor
HEADQUARTERS, AAF FLYING TRAINING COMMAND, FORT WORTH —(P)—The men in this command who are learning to do the actual business, the bombardier and gunners, are being taught a pin-point accuracy which appears to be responsible for the big and growing edge that we are getting in air combat overseas.

Fire All Type Guns
Of all the men being trained to make up the bomber crews, the gunners are the oldest and the only ones who are graduated as enlisted men instead of officers. Their age limit is 35 against the top of 26 for the others.

At Tyndall Field, Fla., during a tour of flying training command stations, I saw every phase of the shooting that helps produce the men who man the turret, waist and tail guns of our bombers.

These men fire everything from a BB machinegun to the 50 caliber machinegun, and are being trained to serve as radio operators, armers or flight engineers since the air force has decided now that making a man a gunner and nothing else is too costly.

The use of weapons and the sound of exploding shells become commonplace to the student gunner. By the time the student begins to fire from an airplane at an aerial target under tow, it is the intention that he operate the turret controls automatically.

Bombardiers Learn Accuracy
The bombardier cadets, who like the navigators and pilots are prospective commissioned officers, have a more complicated job.

They are taught to hit exactly what they are intended to hit. Bombardier cadets were seen at their training in the great school near Midland, where for 12 weeks they read a flat target area spread over half a dozen level Texas counties.

This is an advanced school, under command of one of the earliest and ablest bombing enthusiasts, Col. John P. Kenny. While we were there, Brig. Gen. Isaiah Davies, the present commanding general of the 34th Flying Training Wing but until recently himself the Midland commander, was back looking over his old command.

Scores Hit On Target

Flying on a practice mission at Midland was, to me, one of the most interesting single incidents during a 14-day visit to all sorts of training fields in this command. The men bombed from levels of 500 feet and 11,000 feet, the target being Japanese battleships painted in white on the ground. To crutch over an open bomb-bay at 11,000 feet and see a bomb fall, the layman would swear that it was going to hit at least a mile short of the battleship. But our bomb cadets actually level off and follow us in almost horizontal flight as we swept along at better than 200 MPH and then, peering backward through the bomb bay in our wake, we could see it seem to settle downward and suddenly plough in at what looked like a sharp angle, right onto the turret at the precise center of the battleship.

The pilot shouted, grinned and made an emphatic circle with the fingers of his right hand. (No pilot is happy, not even in a little demonstration like this, when the bomb doesn't hit exactly as intended.) The bombardier got up from his cramped position in the nose, and nodded briefly.

Cowboy Quits After 56 Years In Saddle

ALAMOSA, Colo. —(P)—After 56 years of riding horseback, Douglas Rentie, colorful Alamosa cowboy, has retired. "There isn't the riding and roping there used to be," said the 65-year-old Rentie, who regrets the passing of the days of open range, when a man could ride all the way to the Brazos and the Valencitos without opening a gate.

Thief Caught Panting

CHATTANOGA, Tenn. —(P)—The police department's latest nomination for the town's meanest man is the fellow who stole a friend's trousers while the friend was recuperating from an operation in a local hospital.

Detectives caught the thief, returned the pants and are waiting on the patient to recover sufficiently to testify in court.

JOHNNY STOOPS IS IN BIG ARMY RADIO SCHOOL

Pfc. Johnny L. Stoops of Midland, has been assigned to the Army Air Forces Technical School in Chicago for training as a radio operator-mechanic. The school is located in the Stevens and Congress Hotels.

Before entering the armed forces he was a draftsman with the Tide Water Associated Oil Company.

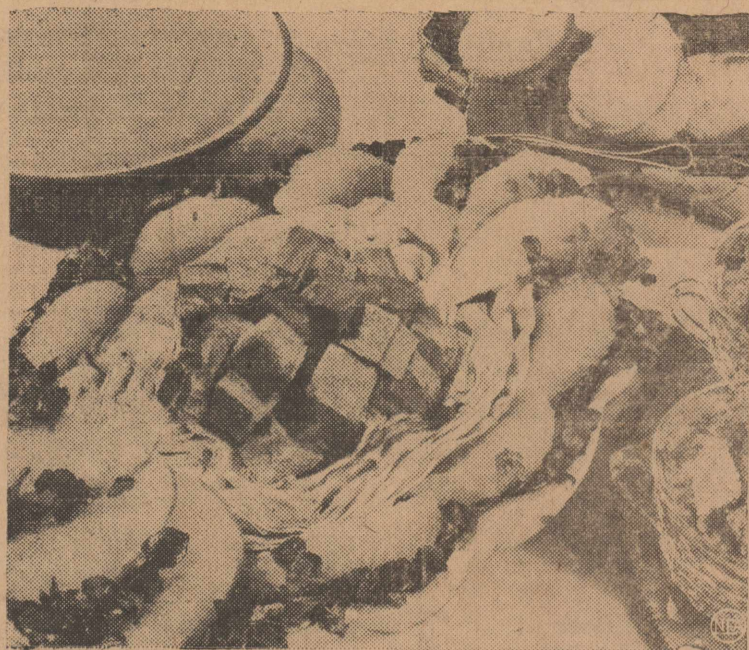

BRITAIN TRAINS COOKS

LONDON —(P)—Continental from now on as more than 100,000 British men and women have been trained as cooks for the services since war started and can do an excellent job for the gourmets.

MARINES ARE TOUGH

BOSTON —(P)—A Marine on leave attempted to mount a camel at an exposition here. The camel fell on him. The marine went to the hospital with a fractured collar bone. The camel died.

Use Ration Points For Essential Food

Combine grapefruit, green cabbage and watercress with cubed left-over meat for nutritious surprise.

These two receipts will provide essential protein and vitamins at minimum points cost. Use your points saved by to buy essential foods on the rationed list.

Grapefruit Meat Slaw

(Serves 6)

One cup salad oil, 1-3 cup vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1-2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, few grains sugar, few grains pepper, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 cups cubed cooked meat (equals about one pound), 4 cups shredded cabbage, 2 cups grapefruit sections, watercress.

Combine salad oil, vinegar, salt, mustard, paprika, Worcestershire sauce, sugar, pepper and onion, beat with rotary mixer until well mixed. Chill 15 minutes. Pour dressing over meat; chill 15 minutes. Drain meat, reserving dressing. Combine dressing with cabbage. Pile cabbage in salad bowl. Arrange meat in center on cabbage; around edge of bowl arrange grapefruit and watercress.

This substantial chowder comes from the Nutrition Division of the American Red Cross.

Vegetable Chowder

(Serves 6)

One-quarter pound fat salt pork, diced; 2 small onions, 2 carrots, 2 potatoes, 1-2 green pepper, 2 stalks celery, 2 tablespoons flour, 3 cups milk (or 1 1-2 cups evaporated milk and 1 1-2 cups water), salt to taste.

Place diced salt pork and onions cut in small pieces in bottom of soup kettle and brown slowly. Add carrots, pepper, potatoes, celery cut fine. Add water to cover about 2 cups. Allow to simmer 15 minutes, or until vegetables are thoroughly done. Mix flour with cold milk and add to vegetable mixture. All salt Stir until thick. Place in double boiler over hot water until ready to serve. This may be made with one cup more milk if a thinner chowder is desired. Garnish with parsley or paprika.

Mississippi Boats Tooting For Victory

MEMPHIS —(P)—Boats on the Mississippi are getting into the "victory" swing.

Many big boats are now using three short whistle blasts and a long one — their version of the three dots and a dash for victory — to signal a landing. The custom long has been to use two 'longs and three shorts for this purpose.

License Plate House Torn Down For Scrap

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho —(P)—Charles H. Williams' children have lost the cunning little playhouse in their backyard, but they don't mind too much. It's to help Uncle Sam.

The house was built from 500 automobile license plates that went unsold several years ago. The Williams children donated them to the scrap drive.

Monkeys and apes are afflicted by tooth trouble in the same manner as human beings.

Big-Time Performers To Appear In USO Camp Show At Field

Straight from Broadway with a cast of big-time performers, Crazy Show, the latest and one of the goofiest of USO-Camp shows will come to the Midland AAF Bombardier School Friday, April 30.

The title is the tip-off to the show. It is of the anything goes type of entertainment. Ben McAtee, who emcees the show, is a very glib comedian of the Milton Berle school. He works throughout the show as a sort of "on-again, off-again" mixer of merriment.

Lee Bartel is an exotic young songstress with a good voice and a bright personality. She sells a song like a veteran and particularly her arrangements of "St. Louis Blues." She is a real belle of the blues.

The show will be free to officers, cadets and enlisted men of the bombardier college.

Motorists Should Get 1943 Licenses Quickly

The men with badges and pistols have been observing a number of automobiles operating here without 1943 license tags and arrests of owners of the cars likely will start in the near future.

Although not date has been set for a campaign to roundup motorists who have neglected to obtain 1943 license receipts, officers asserted a drive probably would start soon.

Motorists who have not obtained new license tags should do so at once. In addition to a penalty for negligence, they are subject to a fine as high as $200, authorities said.
