Americans Bomb Japanese Convoy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA—(P) Flying Fortresses kept up an attack Friday on a Japanese convoy of three warships and six merchant vessels at Wewak, New Guinea, striving to add to heavy blows dealt three merchantmen at the outset.

The convoy, spotted at dusk Thursday approaching the Wewak Harbor with a light cruiser among the escort, was swooped upon at mast height by the Fortresses. Roaring down in waves 15 minutes to a half-hour apart, the raiders started an 8,000-ton cargo ship to sinking, caused another of equal tonnage to list and forced a third of 5,000 tons to be beached.

Red Airmen Pound Nazis

MOSCOW—(P)—The Red Army is throwing a mounting force into the bombing of German military objectives and cities, the latest feat of Russian fliers being announced as a raid on a German airbase on the Leningrad front where 13 German planes were destroyed on the ground.

The noon communique told of the exploits of a band of Russian fliers who bombed and strafed the German airfield, setting fires to buildings in the area as well.

Army Pushes Ahead

The raid came on the heels of a Russian long-range attack on Koenigsberg, the third bombing of that East Prussian city, and an assault on Danzig, the first one this year.

In land fighting, Soviet troops struggled ahead in the Kuban area of the Caucasus, capturing another German stronghold and dominating the position in the face of German counterattacks by large numbers of German reserves.

Another sharp Nazi attack on the Donets River line north of Chuguev also was turned back, the Russians said.

The Danzig raid was made on the port's warehouses, ship building yards, chemical plants and machine tool factories as well as other industrial objectives, it was announced.

Koenigsberg Bombed

Another mission struck Koenigsberg and started fires in many quarters of the city.

Red Star, the Army newspaper, said there had been many air battles recently at the front, and that the Nazis suffered from a lack of expert flight personnel, losing in some engagements as much as 50 per cent of the attacking force.

(The German communique broadcast by the Berlin radio asserted that the German air force destroyed 60 Russian planes Thursday with the loss of only two German craft. It said that in land fighting Russian attacks in the Kuban area had been dispersed.)

Fire Damages Garage Apartment Friday

Fire early Friday damaged the garage apartment of Gailther No. 1003 North D. Street, and destroyed an automobile in the building. Another car was taken from the garage before it was damaged seriously.

Firemen estimated the damage at approximately $1,200 and said the blaze started in the garage and spread to the adjoining apartment. No well was in Dallas attending a golf tournament.

Americans Urged To Buy Birthday Present For Hitler By Investing In War Bonds During Second Loan Drive

WASHINGTON—(P)—Next Tuesday is Adolf Hitler's 54th birthday, and the people backing the Treasury's second war loan drive figure there's a good way for Americans to celebrate the occasion fittingly—by buying war bonds.

Americans have raised more than one-third of the $13,000,000,000 goal of the bond drive.

Wide Selection

puts it further toward the Editor Austin V. McClain of the Washington Post, Observer, suggests that any American can, by buying bonds, make Hitler a birthday present of almost any military item he chooses.

A new bomb, for instance. Authorities on birthday presents who also have a slight knowledge of ordnance will tell you that you might look a long time before you

Seven Men Held For Sabotaging Liberty Vessels

WASHINGTON—(P)—J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, announced Friday the arrest of seven men, formerly employed as welders, on charges of sabotaging Liberty ships being built at the Bethlehem-Fairfield (Md.) shipyards.

Hoover said that the men "were admitted performing faulty welding in order to finish their work in a hurry and earn more money." He added that there was no evidence of "any Axis direction or sympathies on the part of the welders."

"Many of the improper welds were in vital parts of the ships," the head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said, "and were only discernible through the use of X-ray. The full extent of the damage is not yet known; however, many structurally weak ships would have gone to sea if the defective welding had not been discovered."

BONDED ALIMONY

SAN FRANCISCO—(P)—Mrs. Lucille Ellison obtained a divorce from Herbert Ellison—and agreed to accept a $25 war bond each month in lieu of alimony.

First deep test for the Seminole pool of Central Gaines County has been staked by Amerada Petroleum Corporation as No. 6 R. W. Robertson, 1,980 feet from the south and 1,990 from the east line of section 196, block G. W. T. R. survey, offsetting regular San Andres Permian producers on the east side of the area.

Amerada has filed intention to drill the well with rotary to 8,500 feet. Cellar has been dug and crew now is "walling up." The firm plans to set casing through the regular Seminole pay and test deeper Permian horizons below the San Andres. Location falls about one and one-half miles northwest of the town of Seminole.

What the Treasury is after, among other things, is to get loose money out of circulation—money that forces prices up by bidding against itself, even on a black market.

There'll be some $45,000,000,000 of such loose money knocking about in 1943, it's estimated.

Invest In Freedom

The Treasury thinks it is highly important that 13 billion of these loose dollars be invested in war savings bonds as soon as possible.

Of this, it hopes to sell about two billion dollars worth of bonds to the man in the street, who has to date bought 320 million dollars worth since the drive opened April 12.

So here's your chance, say Editor McClain and others, to do your share for the home front and fix up a birthday package for Adolf Hitler all at once.

Bombing Nazis At Rotterdam

The Germans started it three years ago when their bombs made ruins of Rotterdam, but American bombers are giving it back to the Nazis now, blasting enemy installations at this Netherlands city. Here a load of bombs hurled down on Rotterdam docks while another Flying Fortress (arrow) comes over the target.

Mussolini Preparing Island Bases For Invasion By Allies

LONDON—(P)—Premier Mussolini was reported by the Berlin radio Friday to have declared Sicily, Sardinia and smaller island at Italy's southern flank as an area of military operations in a move interpreted here as throwing up defenses hastily against expected Allied attack.

The action was preceded by a shakeup of the Italian police, which some London observers said was an attempt to deal with potential shakers and saboteurs who might impair the defense of Italy. The Italian premier acted in his capacity as commander-in-chief.

The Moscow radio said a state of emergency had been declared in Sardinia following discovery of an "anti-government organization working to disrupt the military measures of the Italian-German command." Three arrests were reported.

The move by Mussolini followed his four-day conference with Hitler to contrive strategy and rally resources against Allied invasions projected for the summer. The action was interpreted here as suggesting that Mussolini shares the view held in some of the best informed British quarters that the cleanup of Axis forces in Tunisia now will be swift and complete.

Naples Evacuated

It is known that much-bombed Naples has been evacuated at least partially and similar moves may be made in Sardinia and Sicily in line with the Axis policy of clearing civilians from potential front line areas and heavily bombed cities.

Non-essential civilians have been forced from many French coastal cities such as Lorient. The Paris radio reported Friday that all persons having no vital reason for remaining are being removed from Cherbourg and Dieppe.

StOCKHOLM—(P)—Germany is trying to forestall possible Finnish efforts to quit the war against Russia by increasing demands on the Helsinki government which almost precipitated a cabinet crisis last weekend and may yet cost certain German sympathizers their positions in the government, according to reports current here.

Asks Oil Price Hike

WASHINGTON—(P)—Petroleum Administrator Ickes has recommended a general crude oil price increase averaging 35 cents a barrel, he told the House small business committee Friday.

The recommendation was sent to the Office of Price Administration April 7, but an OPA official testified that after its receipt he told Price Administrator Prentiss Brown that he thought it was "a pretty bad time" for such an increase.

Brown also appeared before the committee, but did not testify on Ickes' recommendation. He did, however, tell the committee it was the "obligation" of his agency to increase the price of crude oil of such action was necessary for successful prosecution of the war.

Witnesses heard

Testifying before the Patman small business committee, Brown emphasizes, however, that it was incumbent upon the petroleum industry to make "the strongest kind of a showing" if the OPA is to be persuaded to make an exception to the President's "hold-the-line" anti-inflation order.

Numerous witnesses representing independent oil producers from all sections of the nation had testified earlier this week before both the small business and the House interstate commerce committees that a crude oil price increase is necessary if production is to keep up with consumption and explorations are to be continued for new fields.

Brown testified there is "no doubt" that, if it becomes necessary to lift crude price ceilings to assure delivery of petroleum products to the fighting forces that "we would have the legal duty to increase the price."

May Limit Ceilings

During his testimony the OPA chief elaborated on his duties, and said his agency under the President's "hold the line" order had the authority to limit ceilings whenever it becomes apparent that failure to do so would hamper the war effort.

Chairman Patman (D-Tex) remarked that previous witnesses at the hearing have testified that one to two years would elapse, even after any price increase is allowed, before its effects would be noted in an upward trend in discoveries of new wells. The chairman then asked Brown whether the OPA had considered the fact in deliberating whether to increase the crude price structure.

Brown replied that this particular angle had not been studied but that it would be taken into consideration.

22 Convicts Flee Prison

REIDSVILLE, GA.—(P)—Led by two notorious Georgia escape artists, 22 prisoners described by the warden as "the worst we got," escaped from Taitthal State Prison Friday after overpowering three unarmed guards.

Warden H. R. DuVall said three of the prisoners joined on guards B. G. Morrison, W. E. Overstreet, and N. M. Spivey, locked them in a cell, took the prison keys and unlocked the front gate.

After taking the guards' keys they dismantled the prison telephone switchboard and pulled a switch which plunged the prison into darkness.

One Convict Caught

They stole two prison trucks and a car belonging to Morrison and fled. The alarm was given a short time later, the warden said, when a 23rd prisoner left the group and surrendered to officers in Reidsville.

The others abandoned Morrison's car near Coggsstown, 14 miles northeast of Reidsville, and resumed their flight in another stolen car and the two trucks.

The break was led, Warden DuVall said, by Forrest Turner, 30, who has escaped from Georgia prisons so many times that the records are confusing, and Leland Harvey, 34, who has escaped at least six times, and D. C. Black, 31. These three overpowered the guards, the warden added.

Nazis Hurlled Back In Fierce Attack

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—(P)—First Army infantrymen drove to within 15 miles of the key road junction of Tebourba Thursday in some of the fiercest fighting of the Tunisian campaign, it was announced Friday.

In a series of local attacks east of Medjez-El-Bab, the Allied mountain line advanced to points between 25 and 30 miles from Tunis. Tebourba, once held by the Allies in the eastward push last fall, lies 18 miles airline west of the Axis-held capital.

Allied bombers and fighters continued their assaults upon Axis air fields in Tunisia, although the weather was bad, and it was announced that RAF Wellingtons struck effectively Wednesday night at enemy airbases in Southern Sardinia.

Only patrol activity was reported on the Enfidaville line front, where Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's Eighth Army is again massing strength for a climactic push to the north.

First Army Gains

The First Army, led by Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson, by a series of infantry attacks in the mountains, gained the highest ground in Northern Tunisia, overlooking the plain to Tunis.

The Germans, in two savage counterattacks Thursday, temporarily regained the 2,000-foot Djebel Ang, eight miles northwest of Medjez-El-Bab, but British infantry launched a counterassault of their own and not only retook the peak but ground beyond it as well.

(Axis communique broadcasts recorded by The Associated Press said heavy artillery duelling and bitter local fighting marked the Tunisian front. A Transocean dispatch broadcast from Berlin declared Allied attacks in the hills were repelled and a large number of British troops were captured while Nazi counterattacks "attained scheduled objectives.")

French Hold Firm

(Transocean added that the supply of Axis forces in Tunisia involves difficulties, but it said that on the whole they "are receiving what they need"—including reinforcements moved across the Mediterranean by both sea and air.)

French forces who stormed forward Wednesday to capture the Djebel Sefouf, seven miles above the village of Karahoum on the southwestern rim of the Axis lines before Tunis and Bizerte, also were hard pressed by the Germans, but held their ground and captured more prisoners.

The Eighth Army, pulled up before the Enfidaville line, about 50 miles south of Sousse, continued to patrol its mountain front while awaiting artillery to blast the Germans from their positions.

Sardinia Bombed

Air operations over Tunisia were restricted by bad weather, the communique said, but medium bombers again raked the remaining Axis air fields in the battle area and big Wellington bombers visited Southern Sardinia to start large fires on the Decimomannu airfield.

Allied fighter planes evicted offensive sweeps and patrols over the forward areas, and fighter-bombers attacked enemy tanks and vehicles. Two enemy planes were reported destroyed. All Allied planes returned to their bases.

The air offensive over Tunisia and the Mediterranean already has cost the enemy more than 450 planes in combat alone since the beginning of the Mareth offensive March 20. An additional 150 German and Italian planes have been destroyed on the ground, officers estimated.

WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Warmer.

Individual purchases of war bonds has been lagging and leaders in the campaign stressed the fact that every individual who can possibly do so must purchase bonds, regardless of size, if Midland's exceptionally high quota is met by April 30. Persons who have been investing 10 per cent of their incomes in bonds are asked to invest 15 and 20 per cent during April.

"They Give Their Lives—You Lend Your Money" is the campaign slogan.

Members of the executive committee of the campaign will meet at a breakfast Saturday morning to map plans for the remainder of the drive. The committee is composed of Charles Klapproth, M. C. Umer, R. M. Barron, T. Paul Barron, Paul Nelson, J. W. House, A. N. Hendrickson, Allen Tolbert and Frank Cowden.

LONDON—(AP)—London was held briefly under an air raid alert late Friday afternoon as two enemy planes dashed inland toward the capital. They apparently were turned back because no gunfire was heard.

MADRID—(AP)—Reports from France said Friday that Chief of Government Laval had approved a German plan to use all French prisoners of war immediately for work in Nazi war industries.

NEW YORK—(AP)—A British broadcast based on an Algiers radio report said Friday General Henri Giraud had declared he has 400,000 men under arms and hoped to take 300,000 of them with him to France.

But for me and my house we will serve the Lord.—Joshua 24:15.

A Challenge To All

We on the home front face one of the most personal challenges of this war to date. That challenge is whether or not we are willing to sacrifice to a sufficient extent to lend our government thirteen billion dollars within the next few weeks.

To do the job, you and I, and everyone we know, are going to have to dig down in our sock—to dig out some of those dollars we have salted away for a rainy day—as well as to take a good hunk out of this month's pay check.

This is a job that has to be done. Sure, we on the home front are feeling the pinch of war. We have gasoline rationing, food rationing, higher taxes and a lot of other little discomforts. But they are nothing compared with the agonies faced daily by our men—men from this community among them—out there on the fighting fronts of the world.

Yes, we know that this constant demand for more money out of our pockets and out of our paychecks—an increasing amount each month—is monotonous. But so is sitting in a fox-hole or lying in a slit-trench day after day, slogging through the hell of a humid jungle or that of Sahara sand.

Our sons, friends, brothers, husbands and others we know are doing that for us. They are facing something more terrible than cutting down on a few things that we once thought were essentials to the American standard of living in order to do it, too. As Secretary Morgenthau has said: "Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?"

The Second War Loan is an order to the home front to go on a new offensive. Your dollars are the weapons in this attack. They will make possible the passing of the ammunition to those boys up there in the front lines. To win this war is going to cost more and more money—and more and more lives. But the price of freedom is high. We can not; we dare not let our fighting men down.

You can't let George do this for you. You must pitch in with your dollars. Just keep in mind those boys in the front lines. They give their lives—you lend your money! Don't wait for someone to come around and ask you to do it. Do it today—and do it until you feel worthy of them.

Ideology And Patriotism

Gen. Henri Honore Giraud ought to be the convincing answer to those who confuse ideology and patriotism—who assume that no conservative or reactionary can be a good American, a good Briton, a good Frechman.

Giraud used to be known as a political reactionary. But we can remember when Winston Churchill was tarred with the same brush, and Henry Stimson. It happens that Giraud, and Churchill and Stimson, and millions of other conservatives and even reactionaries, love their countries above all.

It would be pleasant if all liberals and radicals would be as broad as these right-wingers, and lay aside their ideologies while we beat Hitler.

Nelson Is Right

Donald Nelson speaks sound sense when he opposes establishment of an independent agency to represent civilian interests in wartime. He concedes that consumer interests have not been adequately safeguarded, and promises to see that they are given powerful representation. But he says, correctly, that a separate bureau would cut diagonally across all existing war agencies and would result in complete chaos.

The problems of supply—materials, transportation, prices, manpower, plant utilization—are one and indivisible. Two-thirds of our troubles in this war have come from divided responsibility—one agency butting its head against another and both being tripped by a third and a fourth and a fifth.

We need an even more unified control. If that agency is not intelligent enough to protect the civilian economy, the fault is with the agency and not with the principle of unity.

Undaunted By War

Atlantic City's press agent is undaunted by global war. Come rationing, come U-boats, come death on the African desert, on Palm Sunday, "as usual, style experts, escorted by a squadron of the city's most photogenic policemen, will single out the 50 best dressed women on the Walk and award them with corsages."

A concession to the war is planned. Men in uniform if accompanying best-dressed contest winners, are to receive cartons of cigarets.

Transportation is a key to victory, but week-end crowds indicate that Palm and Easter Sunday crowds "will equal if not surpass those of peacetime years."

Gracious Gesture

Wisconsin is to be congratulated on the generous instinct of its legislature in voting to return battle flags captured in the Civil War from Mississippi, Louisiana, Missouri, Arkansas and South Carolina regiments.

We are all Americans now, and have been for decades. The action of the Wisconsin solons is a fine gesture to emphasize the complete unity of our people.

E. G. Bedford Speaks To Garden Club Members

Members of the Midland Garden Club were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bedford at the Evergreens on Andrews Highway Thursday morning at their regular meeting.

Bedford's experience with vegetable gardening in Midland for the last two years was the topic of his discussion. Using a diary of gardening information, he outlined measures of successful vegetable gardening in this area. Highlights of his discussion included the adaptability of asparagus to local growing conditions; a practical method for setting out tomato plants to develop strong root systems; sweet potato growing and the necessity of kiln drying for storage; the varieties of beans to plant for home canning and drying; and the planting of Swiss Chard and New Zealand spinach for a sure summer crop of leafy vegetables.

Mrs. E. R. Osburn, president of the Garden Club, told members that gardening is up against great odds in this area, and that Bedford's advice could go far to assure garden club members success in their victory garden efforts.

Play Shoes Will Go Back On Ration List

WASHINGTON (AP)—Play shoes shipped from factories are back on the rationing list.

Shortly after shoe rationing went into effect, existing stocks of play shoes mostly were exempted from rationing because of the reluctance of people to use coupons for non-essential footwear. Since stores had stocked these shoes without any warning of rationing, OPA gave them a few weeks to get rid of their stocks.

Play shoes now shipped from factories will be stamped with the date and may be sold only with coupons. Such shoes shipped before Thursday will remain unrationed.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

John Trumbull, our postmaster, looks up from his newspaper yesterday and says: "I see they caught another one of them so-called 'gang-lords' of the Prohibition era."

"Wonder how long it's going to take us to wipe out the evil Prohibition left behind... not to mention the billions of dollars it cost the people?"

Well, John's right o' course. Hard to believe America could ever pass a law like Prohibition.

But from where I sit it's a big consolation—now that Prohibition is over—to see how moderation and tolerance have grown up in its place.

Nowadays, if a man enjoys a friendly glass of beer or two after a day's work, he not only can do it in clean, respectable surroundings—but he knows that no bootlegger or gangster is making a red cent on it.

Midland's churches, among the finest in West Texas, Friday made plans for Palm Sunday services and announced City-Wide Pre-Easter services during Holy Week.

Palm Sunday is the Sunday next before Easter and commemorates Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem when the multitude strewed palm branches in the way.

Pastors of the churches have completed arrangements for the pre-Easter services during Holy Week and extend an invitation to all Midland citizens and men of the Midland Bombardier School to attend.

A number of outstanding preachers will be in Midland preachers. Dr. T. W. Currie, president of Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, will preach at services of the First Presbyterian Church Palm Sunday, and will teach Bible classes during the week for members of the church. # COME TO CHURCH Easter

VICTORY is our most repeated word in these war-torn days, for it expresses the desires and determination of our people. Victory over our enemies is important, but there is another realm where victory is of even greater significance.

Jesus once indicated that men could be politically and physically free and yet be sin slaves. How often we can see men who boast of their freedom and yet give full evidence that Satan and sin have them bound and helpless. Alas, many are blind as well as bound, and know not their condition. Sin has its insensibility as well as its insanity and its inanity.

It is possible to know a lot and not know the weaknesses and failures of your own nature. "We were never in bondage to any man," said certain worldly wise religious men to Jesus. And they were paying tribute to Rome even as they said it. There are boasters in high places who have never listened long enough to hear God say, "You are a sinner." Hence they know not themselves. It can be said of them, "He that lived known of all died in ignorance of himself."

No victory in material realms is permanent.

Christ has purchased for us permanent and complete victory. His war with sin and death is over. He won the conflict of Calvary and we are delivered from sin and death. Pity the sin slave, but tell him there is victory for him because Christ died.

EASTER with its special commemoration of the resurrection of Christ has something to say to us in this direction. Too many pulpit platitudes indicate that the message of Easter concerns One who visited earth to say that life persists beyond the grave. But that isn't the whole of it. Not even the half of it. Christ did not say, "There is life." He said, "I am the life." He came to deliver us from the prison house of the grave and from the corruption of sin. He came to give us His life out of His death, so that we can shout with the apostle Paul, "Thanks be to God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ" (I Cor. 15:57).

Death has its victims. But Christ is victory over death. Only the believer in Christ can calmly look death in the face and ask, "O death, where is thy sting?" Death left its sting in Christ at Calvary. The Christian knows victory over death. Our assurance is in the resurrection of Christ.

SERIAL STORY

DARK JUNGLES

BY JOHN C. FLEMING & LOIS EBY

COPYRIGHT, 1943, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Allison Topping, society girl, is off to Guatemala, to run her father's chicle plantation. Barry Fielding has tried many times to dissuade her. At Puerto Barrios, Renaldo, her father's attorney, also warns Allison to turn back. Barry accompanies her on the arduous mule-back trek through the jungle to the plantation. Allison's stubborn courage doesn't desert her until the end of the journey when a snake strikes her fatal from under her. She faints in Barry's arms.

As they climbed higher and higher above the jungle skirts of the Caribbean the trail became more strenuous. The palm trees vanished, sharp ledges of rock dotted the slopes. The fetid heat of the jungle dropped away and the air was cool and clear. Vigorous pines, cedars and tamaracks rose like a vanguard. Jose pulled up at a mountain cascade of crystal clear water that sparkled in the sunlight. He watered the mules first and then cupped his brown hands to drink himself.

against the mountain side. In front of each were displayed the owner's wares. Thick blankets of red, green and purple, baskets woven in exotic design, silver pounded into bowls and jewelry. Jose rode over to an old Indian who sat in the shadows before his tent. He spoke briefly in the singular language of the Quiches. The old man pointed across the way.

QUICHE COUNTRY

CHAPTER XI

BARRY was awakened by a sharp knocking on his door. In the half-light of early morning he saw the towering figure of Jose.

Barry dressed quickly and, strapping his automatic to his thigh, came out of the estancia. Jose was already astride his mule and the two pack mules were heavily loaded. Barry glanced briefly toward the main house and then swung himself onto the mule. He heard a door close and turned to see Allison in pale yellow slacks running toward him.

"You would slip away without even saying goodby to a fellow," she said breathlessly.

"It was so early," Barry said, "I didn't want to disturb you."

Allison offered a small white hand. "Good luck," she said, her eyes shining like misty flowers. "And if you're ever by this way again, drop in and I'll brew you a pot of poison."

"Lovely girl!" Barry smiled. With that Jose shouted something in Indian and the mules started down the jungle trail. Barry didn't look back. If he had he would have seen Allison walk slowly, thoughtfully, back to her estancia and brush her hand lightly across her eyes where two hot tears had suddenly sprung.

They had been moving along the dark, soggy trail for about an hour when the rain started down like a solid wall. Barry for a time couldn't even see the outline of Jose, who rode only a few feet ahead of him. The jungle was still except for din of the rain and the sucking noise as the mules laboriously pulled their feet from the heavy quagmire. A little after noon the rain ceased as abruptly as it had begun and the trail came out of the jungle to a broad clearing that rose gently toward the mountains. Jose held his mule back until Barry was beside him.

"That is the end of the jungle," he said. "We now start up to the highlands. By sundown we should reach the village-of-the-market-place. There we will find the Quiche chief."

"Bueno" he grinned at Barry. Barry found the water cold and sweet.

"That mountain ahead," Jose said pointing, "is Santa Maria. It was near this spot that the Quiche tribe fought the Spaniard, Alvarado. There were only a handful of Spaniards against 12,000 Indians. A giant quetzal, the most savage of all the mountain birds, swooped down on Alvarado. He put his lance through him. The bird dropped lifeless to the ground and with him Tecum, the Quiche chief, fell dead also. The Quiches lost the battle and many of them were sold as slaves at public auction. They have never forgotten, senior, and to this day they hate the white race." A look of fright crossed Jose's face as he spoke the words.

"You are not afraid?" Barry asked.

"Going into Quiche country is always dangerous, especially with a white stranger. You can look at the old women but never look at the young ones," Jose warned. "It is part of the blood oath of the Chichestanango. If they ever have anything to do with a white man the sentence is death."

"It is their mine that interests me," Barry said firmly, "not their women."

THE sun was bright as the men remounted their mules and started on up the winding trail but the wind that swept down from volcanic peaks was cool. On the narrow path they passed many Quiche Indians dressed in the brilliant colors of their tribe. Their lithe, strong bodies moved over the trail with incredible speed. They carried stout jumping sticks, and swung themselves from rock to rock with the speed of deer. The younger Indians paid no attention to the white men but the older ones looked at them darkly and spoke to their way.

The orange rim of the sun was silently slipping behind majestic mountain peaks as the weary caravan came into the village-of-the-market-place. Long rows of brightly colored tents, like strips of colored ribbon, were unfurled

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney America's Card Authority

Baird, Mississippi, had two very enthusiastic bridge players, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Baird. Their plantation kept them busy for years, and they finally decided it was time to do a little serious bridge playing. They made many trips to the summer and fall national championship tournaments, but now, during the emergency, the plantation again comes first.

Here is a neat little hand played by Mrs. Baird when she won the Mid-South individual tournament. The first trick was won by Mrs. Baird (North) with the ace of clubs.

Hand diagram showing Mrs. Baird's cards: ♠A86, ♥AKJ93, ♦KJ8, ♣A6. Opponent's cards: ♠K4, ♥10875, ♦KQJ7, ♣984. Dealer is South. Duplicate—None vul. South West North East: 1 Pass 3 Pass, 2 Pass 4 N.T. Pass, 3 Pass 5 N.T. Pass, 4 Double 6 N.T. Pass. Opening—4-9. 16

She cashed five diamonds, discarding the two black six-spots from her own hand. East let go one spade, but then had to discard both remaining clubs in order to save his stoppers in spades and hearts. Mrs. Baird then cashed the four top hearts, and put East in with the fifth heart. East had to lead away from his king of spades on the twelfth trick, and thus Mrs. Baird won the last two tricks for her contract.

Odessans Will See Big Cattle Drive

Cattle will be driven through the streets of Odessa again Saturday, Elliott Cowden, cattlemaster, said Friday.

He announced plans to drive 1200 steers from his ranch eight miles northwest of Odessa to the cattle pens in the city. The steers will be shipped to the Flint Hills of Kansas, and put on grass pasture for the summer months.

Two years ago, Cowden and his men drove cattle through Odessa's streets for shipment to northern pastures.

Persons Finding War Ration Books Must Report Them

The Midland County Ration Board Friday reminded citizens that any ration book found must be turned in to the board office located on the second floor of the courthouse. Persons finding ration books of any type are subject to fine and imprisonment for failure to report them.

A large number of complaints reporting the loss of gasoline ration books has been received by the board recently. Persons finding these books are warned that alteration and use of them is punishable by law.

The board also warned that stamps must not be detached from ration books by the customers, but must be taken out by the person to whom they are paid. Service station operators have been asked to check gasoline books closely to see that they are not being handled improperly.

Shipyard Worker Has Nonchalant Accident

EUREKA, CALIF. — (AP) — Roy Beck, San Francisco shipyard worker, recalls driving sleepily along the highway late at night. He awoke five hours later, he told Patrolman Ivan Christie, still sitting at the wheel. The car was demolished, at the bottom of a 200-foot embankment. Beck, unhurt, said when he awoke he found himself counting pennies from his child's toy bank.

New Sulfa Drug Is Remarkable Cold Treatment

DETROIT —(P)— A new common cold remedy, described as having cut war plant absenteeism more than in half in its first trials, was reported to the American Chemical Society here Thursday night.

The remedy, a new sulfanilamide drug, is called Vasosulfa. It is a nasal spray. Dr. Henry R. Hamilton of the Lockheed Aircraft Company, California, who reported it, said that when a cold starts, the spray frequently stops it.

It appears that if the cold is due to virus infections, the new remedy is not effective.

"Vasosulfa," Dr. Hamilton said, "is remarkably effective. It is not a cure-all."

"But it is so effective that country-wide trials are being made of it by outstanding nose and throat specialists with great effect. There was recently five man-days lost due to reported common colds, during a period when the average expectation was a loss of 126 man-days."

In Lockheed's chemical division, where a thorough check of the drug's effectiveness was possible, there was recently five man-days lost due to reported common colds, during a period when the average expectation was a loss of 126 man-days.

Great War Stories Told Graphically And Truthfully, AP Manager Reports

Easter Flowers Will Be On List Of War Shortages This Year

WASHINGTON — Easter has never been as late as it will be this year in the memory of old-time florists. Because of this, many of the gay tulips, jonquils, azaleas, won't be blooming for the Easter parade.

Traditional Easter lilies will not be plentiful. There will be only a quarter as many blooms on the market this year, at a fifty per cent increase in price. Before the war, many of the bulbs were imported from Formosa. Now they are American-grown, at greater labor costs.

Florists see a shortage in flowers during the summer season, due to labor and the war, but promise enough for civilian morale.

Cafes Required To Report Menu Prices

Proprietors of eating and drinking establishments are required to file a copy of each menu, bill of fare or price list in use during the seven-day period between April 4 and April 10 with their War Price and Rationing Boards not later than May 1, the Midland board announced Friday. Businesses affected under the OPA order include restaurants, hotels, cafes, dining cars, bars, delicatessens, soda fountains, catering businesses, and other eating and drinking places.

These menus must be signed by the name and address of the business and turned in to the rationing board. If no menu was prepared during the period, or if all the meals and beverages were not listed, a list of these items must be made and filed with the board.

Cafe Operators May Apply For Allotments

DALLAS —(P)— Restaurant and cafe operators may now apply to their local war price and rationing boards for their May and June food allotment certificates, the regional Office of Price Administration announced Friday.

Application may be made by letter, since no forms are available. The OPA also announced that the new factor for determining sugar allotments would be 04 instead of .03. This means that one pound will be granted for each 25 meals served rather than for each 33.

Fourth Of Texas League Players Now In Service

DALLAS—(P)—More than 40 players who performed in the Texas League last season are in the armed service—meaning better than 25 per cent now are carrying guns for Uncle Sam.

A survey showed Friday that 43 players from the league which suspended operations now are in some branch of the service and that 54 are in other minor leagues. Nineteen are in the majors.

Dallas has eight in the service against an equal number in class AA leagues and four in defense plants. One ex-rebel, Johnnie McFarland, went to the big leagues but entered the Army before the season opened.

Beaumont has nine in the service and five in the major leagues. Tulsa has ten in the armed service and three in the majors. Fort Worth has none in the service so far as known while eleven are in AA leagues and two are in the majors. Oklahoma City shows six in the service but none in the majors.

Dean In Majors

Seven San Antonio players entered the service while the others were divided among Toledo and the St. Louis Browns, and Manager Ralph Weingartner is in a defense plant at Wichita, Kas. Shreveport has eight players in the armed service, two are in the majors and all except three who are farming or in private industry are in class AA ball.

Houston has three of its 1942 players in the service but only one in the majors—Paul Dean.

War-Riddled Yankees Almost Sure To Lead American League

By Judson Bailey NEW YORK—(P)—The New York Yankees this year are the worst-looking team Joe McCarthy ever has managed in the big leagues, yet everybody is picking them to win another American League pennant and there is no reason to believe the majority isn't right. You only have to look once at the Yanks this spring to realize

Sports Roundup

By Charles Dunkley (Pinch Hitting for Flu-Stricken Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.)

CHICAGO—(P)—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, 76-year-old commissioner of baseball, eased his feet down from his littered desk. "No one knows what will happen to baseball this summer," he blurted. "It would only be a guess. But I have every hope that we will finish the season, as usual, and that the pennant races, in both leagues, will be exciting."

Landis pulls no punches in expressing his views on almost everything—except baseball. His hair snow-white, he sits in a high-back leather chair, behind a desk literally covered with papers, statues of baseball stars, an airplane clock and various documents piled two or three inches deep. His offices, high in an upper Michigan Boulevard skyscraper, overlook Lake Michigan.

Northern Camps Satisfactory He believes spring training in the north, above the so-called Landis-Eastman line, proved satisfactory to the players. He said he hadn't received one complaint, either from players or club officials.

Landis is pleased so many major league stars—such as Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Ted Lyons, Bob Feller, Red Ruffing, Johnny Beasley and a host of others—have entered the service of their country.

"As prominent as they were, they did the wise thing in joining the armed forces as quickly as possible," he commented.

Balmy Judges Luke Sewell, manager of the St. Louis Browns, says anybody who tries to pick a pennant winner this season must be balmy. Good pitching, even steady pitching, will tell this year, more than any other, he says.

Se'll said he expects six to eight 20-game winners in each league. Sewell predicts, "Those long ball hitters, those .320 men have been thinned out."

ler County one-half mile west of the Ector county line, is scheduled to resume drilling immediately after a lengthy shutdown. Present total depth is 9,437 feet in lime and chert of the Montoya, upper Ordovician, topped at 9,245 feet. It is understood that the well will be carried to the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, recently found productive of gas and distillate by two wells in the north central part of Winkler. Stanolind is reported to have acquired from Shell, the original operator, a one-half interest in the well and in the 5,100-acre block with Tide Water Associated Oil Company donating money, and Sun Oil Company and Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation donating acreage toward the deepening. Stanolind is to have charge of operations.

Amon G. Carter et al No. 2-C Pure-J. B. Walton et al, first Ellenburger strike in the county, is reaming core-hole at 9,453 feet, with total depth 9,494 feet in Ellenburger dolomite topped at 9,215. It is planned to ream to 9,490 feet, leave shoulder there for drillstem test packer, then retrace ahead with rocks. The discovery, located in the C SW NE section 1, block B-3, public school land, on the Keystone structure, has shown an aggregate of more than 3,000 barrels of distillate per day, with about 100 million feet of gas, on basis of a series of drillstem tests since entering Ellenburger.

Magnolia Drills Ahead Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 20 Stata-Walton, three and one-half miles west of the Carter well, is drilling with rockbit at 10,514 feet in Ellenburger dolomite topped at 10,480 feet. On last drillstem test, run for 15 minutes, it produced 10,468-89 feet of spry distillate at an estimated rate of 10 barrels per hour, with maximum gas volume of 12,800,000 feet. When drillpipe was pulled it contained 150 feet of 54.7-gravity distillate.

In Southeastern Lea County, N. M., the R. Olsen Oil Company and Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Langlie (Justis), 14 1/2 miles north by northwest of the Carter Winkler well, is swabbing circulating fluid 8,000 feet from the top. It is being swabbed through 2-inch tubing set with packer at 9,060 feet. The well topped the Ellenburger at 8,110 feet. Five and one-half inch casing was reperfornated with at least 125 shots from 9,110-40 feet, although announced plans were to reperfornate with 200 shots from 9,110-60.

Believed Nearing Granite Bryce McCarless No. 1 University, Northern Pecos County wildcat on the Fort Stockton "high," was believed nearing granite as it drilled early Friday to 4,729 feet. Formation at that point was lime streaked with green shale and bearing some arkosic material, which usually is indicative of the proximity to granite.

War-Riddled Yankees Almost Sure To Lead American League

the changes that war was wrought on baseball and if you can stop shuddering long enough to look at them two or three times, you start naming over their rivals in the hope of finding some other pennant possibility.

But it is a sad commentary on the caliber of the clubs in the American League this season that not one can be counted on to step out in front of the Yankees.

Yankee Losses Hurt The Yankees have only one regular infielder, Joe Gordon, and one regular outfielder, Charley (King Kong) Keller, back from last year. They have lost Joe DiMaggio and Tom Henrich from the outfield.

Buddy Hassett and Phil Rizzuto from the infield and Red Ruffing from the pitching staff. Yet these may not prove to be mortal wounds because other clubs have been hit equally as hard.

The Boston Red Sox should finish second, just as they have in four of the last five years. Manager Joe Cronin has had to give up his entire outfield—Ted Williams, Dominic DiMaggio and Lou Finney—as well as Shortstop Johnny Pesky, and two good pitchers, Bill Wagner and Charley (Broadway) Skip The Athletics.

Back of these two clubs may come a three-way scramble between the Cleveland Indians, St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers. But their Schmitt positions depend largely on the draft.

On a hunch, we would place Cleveland third, St. Louis fourth and Detroit fifth.

This leaves the Washington Senators, Chicago White Sox and Philadelphia Athletics to bring up the rear. Washington is much improved but is vulnerable to the draft. The White Sox are uncertain defensively and lack power, while the less said about the A's the better.

Chaplain Dahlheimer Promoted To Captain

Chaplain Cosmas R. Dahlheimer, post chaplain at the Midland AAF Bombardier School, recently displayed two silver bars Friday and passed out the cigars, too. ### Hitler's Status As Commander Of Germans Changed

NEW YORK—(P)—Adolf Hitler still pursues his "vocation as a general" but apparently no longer is to be referred to as supreme commander of the armed forces, Berlin broadcasts recorded by the Federal Communications Commission indicated Friday.

Moreover, Propaganda Minister Goebbels declared in his current writing in the magazine Das Reich that "one must grant the government the right to make mistakes."

A Berlin broadcast quoted Goebbels as saying "the German government did not foresee all that has happened in the past few years and nobody can foretell the course of any war."

In the same magazine, Col. Walter Scherrf of the German general staff wrote that "the crisis through which we have passed left the Fuehrer's vocation" as a general unchanged. Hitler "was not a person of icy calm" at times during the winter, the colonel added.

A later broadcast started with "The Fuehrer and supreme commander of the armed forces has awarded - - - a correction was issued an hour later by the official news agency, DNB, saying: Correction is made."

The item is to begin with the words, "The Fuehrer has awarded." The words "and supreme commander of the armed forces" are cancelled.

Love Of Country Instead Of Salary Keeps Man At Job For Nine Months

WASHINGTON—(P)—It was "just love of country" and not a "pay check" which kept one man at his job in a California shipyard for nine months, Representative Hagen, Minnesota Farmer-Laborite said Friday.

Hagen received a letter from a friend of his working in the same shipyard, the letter tells this story: A man and his wife—who could neither read nor write—sold their Oklahoma home and went to California "to do something to help."

He got a job in the shipyard and she got work as a waitress. "What salary?"

One day he went to his foreman with a troubled look and said he didn't know what they were going to do because his wife lost her job. The foreman replied that he couldn't see what difference that made—what with the salary the man was drawing.

"What salary?" the man replied. "With patience and questioning the foreman arrived at the facts. The man didn't know he was being paid anything for his work—though he was working for his country and his wife was supporting them while he did it."

What's A Check? He had wondered at being told to stand in line and receive a little slip of paper from time to time, but had done so and, fortunately, had kept all his checks—payment for nine months of work at wages from 95 cents to more than a dollar an hour.

The foreman took him to a bank where the checks were cashed, a substantial portion was turned into war bonds, and the balance deposited.

The man was "delighted" as his wife now could rest and "get herself some good looking clothes."

Mayor M. C. Ulmer Addresses Jaycees

Stressing the fact that it is the individual responsibility of every citizen to invest all that he possibly can in war bonds, Mayor M. C. Ulmer, district war fund chairman, addressed members of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon at the Cactus Cafe Friday noon.

He explained the Second War Loan campaign and predicted that with increased enthusiasm the high quota will be oversubscribed in Midland and in the nation.

"The lack of interest in Midland's drive is evidenced by the small amount of bonds purchased this month," he said. He urged Jaycees to use their influence in getting others to buy more bonds.

Ulmer lauded Midland Jaycees on their fine work in connection with the war effort and said he was sure they would take the lead in the current campaign.

He discussed the pay-back of government obligations and said every citizen must buy bonds in full confidence and faith in their government. "Faith in our government makes the bonds good."
