ALLIES ATTACK AXIS DEFENSES

Roosevelt, Camacho To Continue Talks In U. S.

Postwar Unity Plan Stressed By Two Leaders

By Douglas B. Cornell ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN — (AP) — The conferences of state which President Roosevelt and President Avila Camacho began in a gala setting at Monterey, Mexico, Tuesday night, continued north of the border Wednesday.

Avila Camacho was returning the only official visit ever made deep into his country by an American president, but security reasons forbade the immediate announcement of details.

Offer Postwar Plan Speaking here Tuesday night on the occasion of the first meeting of United States and Mexican presidents in 34 years, the two chief executives:

1—Erected a barricade against any "negotiated peace" which the Axis might direct through Spain or other intermediaries.

2—Credited international understanding and non-exploitation with success of American solidarity, and 3—Offered those points as bases for world postwar planning.

Camacho Pledges Unity Avila Camacho left no doubt that the meeting of the two presidents—climaxing Mr. Roosevelt's second major inspection of America's booming war effort—was dominated by a sense of postwar planning responsibility, as well as wartime continental strategy.

Olsen Oil Company and Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Langlie (Justis), in Southeastern Lea County, swabbed one-half barrel of 44-gravity oil per hour, with some acid residue, after treating with 2,000 gallons through perforations in 5 1/2-inch casing from 8,980 to 9,020 feet, opposite lime of the basal Simpson, middle Ordovician.

Continued swabbing through 2-inch tubing set at 9,015 feet, with packer at 8,923 feet. The well originally went to 9,592 feet in granite topped at 9,560 feet, and cemented casing two feet of bottom. It showed only water after acidizing the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, zone topped at 9,110 feet, and lower perforations were cemented off. No. 1 Langlie is in the C SE SE section 11-25-37e, on the east flank of the shallow Langlie Permian pool east of Jal.

Fourteen and one-half miles to the southeast, in North Central Winkler County, Texas, Amon G. Carter et al. No. 2-C Pure-J. B. Walton et al., Ellenburger discovery on the Keystone structure, is preparing to drillstem test Ellenburger.

Full Fashioned Line

Perhaps we have been taking this war too seriously. Let's take time off from such petty irritations as rationing, absenteeism, inflation and politics, and rejoice that one of Milady's more aggravating problems has been solved.

No longer need she worry whether to wear cotton stockings, go frankly barelegged, or have everybody know at first glance that her legs are painted. Thanks to the devotion of a New York scientist whose name escapes us, Milady now can have a paint job, renewed economically at home on short notice, that will fool all but experts and other women.

Word of this startling development has been obtained from a public relations representative.

When war cut us off from new supplies of silk and diverted nylon to military uses, American women found themselves up against it. Beauticians promptly suggested legs be painted to resemble silk stockings.

There was one major difficulty. The better hosiery has a seam down the back. Theoretically, it is possible to paint such a seam directly onto the leg. But unless a woman is a contortionist—and how many American women are contortionists?—it is hard to bring the calf of the leg, the hand and the eyes into such position that a seam can be painted that does not wonder or waver or vary in thickness here and there.

An alternative was to press Hubby into service as an artist. But too often Hubby was having his own troubles with a bow tie, or searching frantically for studs and links, and was in no mood to do justice to inscribing seams on his wife's painted legs.

Moreover, bachelor girls are just as anxious to have their painted stockings on straight as wives are.

The device now available enables any woman to paint her own stocking onto her leg without tying herself into a knot or acquiring an artistic husband. It is so simple that any dub can do it.

We hope that you will not dismiss this information too lightly merely because it is Spring. If you have ever noticed how much a straight stocking seam adds to the attractiveness of any woman, you will not belittle the matter.

Perhaps the OWI should broadcast word of the invention to Berlin, Rome and Tokyo. It would provide clinching proof of American confidence that we can lick the Axis with one hand tied behind our back and the other wielding a paint brush.

An Ugly Word

Absenteeism has come to have ugly connotations because most discussion has concerned wilful, inexcusable failure to report for work—Monday morning hang-over, laziness, disinterest, pique, general irresponsibility.

These are the causes of much absenteeism, and they deserve all the harsh things that have been said about them. Whether they account for a quarter, a third, a half or two-thirds of the 423,000,000 man-days lost last year through absenteeism, nobody knows. The best available information suggests that considerably more than half of all absenteeism is due to causes for which the nation and the community are to blame, rather than individuals.

Inadequate housing in war boom communities, requiring long, arduous daily travel, often in overcrowded trains and buses, on top of overtime work, may well be the most important cause of absenteeism.

This combination of evils promotes overfatigue and sickness. It interferes with normal home life, thereby injuring morale. It prevents workers—many of them women who are trying to keep homes going outside hours—from working in victory gardens, and from taking in the movies.

Probably, in the hectic drive for ever-increasing production with an ever-lessening force of accustomed workers, it will not be possible to eliminate all of these causes of absenteeism.

Obviously we shall not be able to provide housing so that all workers can live near their factories. It will be difficult, if not impossible, to supply sufficient transportation everywhere to do away with overcrowding rush hours.

A certain amount of reshuffling of personnel might reduce the burden of available housing and transit lines. Stores and recreational facilities might arrange to be open at the hours when workers can do their shopping.

If there is labor hoarding, which leads workers to disbelieve the existence of a manpower shortage, so that they can see no harm in taking a day off when they see the Manpower Commission should establish the facts and set free surplus workers wherever they are found.

There is much to be done. The first need, however, is to ascertain the facts. Can't some Washington department spare the manpower to do that?

Uncle Sam's food control agents have had numerous meetings regarding sugar for canning this year. Jam sessions.

We wouldn't be surprised if we all wound up getting food in pill form. And we won't object if they are to be taken after meals.

Why Does Such A Big Fellow Stand For It?

Rationing Makes Extra Work For Woman Who Keeps House After Working Hours

By Ruth Millett

The women who are really going to suffer from food rationing aren't the full-time housekeepers, although their work will be harder, of course.

The one who will really get it in the neck is the woman worker who keeps house before and after working hours, with, perhaps, the help of a cleaning woman.

One such woman said the other day that she thought she would have to give up working and make housekeeping a fulltime job.

Her two children are in school, and in the past she has been able to manage her household by depending on part-time household help and rushing home at night to cook dinner for her family.

Well, cooking a dinner isn't going to be a half-hour job any more. The actual preparation will take time, and so will the marketing and planning—if a family is to eat well. Beside that, it will soon be time for a garden and time for home canning.

This woman fears that if she goes on working all day away from home her family will starve, and so she thinks it might be better for her to give up her job—which isn't an essential one.

Many other women, however, won't be financially able to quit their outside jobs in order to make a full-time job of housekeeping. So rationing is going to be plenty tough on them.

Of course, they can eat in restaurants—but that is an expensive practice, and not very good for the home life of a family.

Women Will Manage
There is probably no practical way to work out a rationing program so that a family in which both husband and wife work (especially those families in which the wife works in a defense plant) get a better break on the rationing of canned goods than do families that have a full-time homemaker.

Rationing would create fewer hardships if such a plan could be worked out. But women will manage somehow, any way. For even the toughest job of running a household in wartime and holding down a full-time war job is a snap compared with what our fighting men have to go through.

Let's remember that when we get to thinking that we have more work than we can manage.

Abilene Classified In WMC Group Three

WASHINGTON—(P)—The War Manpower Commission Wednesday added Abilene, Texas, to group three in its list of labor shortage areas over the nation.

Group three areas are those where "a general labor shortage may be anticipated after six months." They are eligible for new contracts that can be completed within six months, and suggested as good places for renewal of current contracts.

Abilene had been in group four, to which the WMC seeks to steer the location of new production facilities along with the placement of new and renewed contracts.

THE lovely entertainer goes to Panama to cheer our troops. Soldiers want to enjoy a Coca-Cola with her and talk. A pretty girl and a Coke... just like home.

In Iceland, the news told how troops had a good-natured fight to get the first Cokes available. Such are the stories from our fighting men everywhere.

To mean so much, a drink must have something—in taste, in goodness and in true refreshing qualities. Just to sip ice-cold Coca-Cola is to find all those things. Yes, all the difference between something really refreshing and just something to drink.

Maybe it's a make-shift dressing room, but Uncle Sam's soldiers have given it a homelike touch... fresh flowers and a frosty bottle of Coke. Who could ask for more?

Even with war and so many Coca-Cola bottling plants in enemy-occupied countries, our fighting men are delighted to find Coca-Cola being bottled in so many places all over the globe.

Calamity Janes Will Find There Are Still Good And Plenty Fashionable Easter Frocks

By Dorothy Roe
AP Fashion Editor

Calamity Janes who have been storming the shops recently shrieking "Gimme this, gimme that, gimme them, gimme those!" should feel a little sheepish about now when they see the shops bulging with Easter wearables as fresh, exciting and varied as ever.

If you have a friend who has been raiding the shops with a "now or never" air you might feel that there is no clothing shortage apparent as the 1943 Easter parade gets set for its starting lineup.

You might add that Uncle Sam has no intention of snatching the last shirt off her back—or the last suit, or sports jacket, or dinner gown. Uncle Sam likes to see his nieces looking swell, baby, in things that Axis nations never sell, baby.

Despite all the cries of "Wolf! Wolf!" that have been making the rounds among some of our more hysterical citizens, you'll find when you start out with your Easter shopping list in hand that you'll be able to buy just about anything your little heart desires, whether it be a suit of the finest quality virgin wool, or a dress of super surah, tussah, crepe or taffeta. Of course you won't find many pure-silk things, but the new rayons are so handsome you'll never miss the products of the little Japanese silkworms.

There's nothing skimpy about the styles for Easter, 1943. Soft fullness is to be found at the right places, an easy swing characterizes the streamlined mode.

New and important are the trim, flattering coat-dresses of spring, that button down the front or down the side, are easy to get into, and look like a million bucks.

You'll find color rampant on the fashion front, with vivid wool top coats cut on loose boxy lines the favorites for wear day or night, over anything from slacks to evening gowns. Some of them come with interchangeable stud buttons—bone or pearl for daytime, jeweled concoctions for evening. These coats are good in fingertip, three-quarter or full length.

As for fabrics—if you're a stickler for quality you'll be amazed and delighted at the miracles the rayon manufacturers have wrought. Top of the heap are the handsome new surahs and tussahs, seen mostly in pin checks and small plaids, of the same heavy richness that used to distinguish pure-silk necktie twills. They tailor beautifully, and are to be found in the smartest spring suits that have come down the pike in 10, these many moons.

So put a muzzle on Calamity Jane and take her by the hand and show her that American women are and will continue to be the world's best-dressed.

Betsy Beckham Bundy's Advice To The Lovelorn

Q. My soldier sweetheart is far away from me, and though he writes often, I do not receive his letters regularly, and I am wondering if he is really doing me, or if he is just telling me that he does. I am a very popular girl of 18 and can have many dates, though I am in love with my soldier. Can you advise me just what to do?

A. Mail from the foreign lands where our American boys are with the Armed Forces, is irregular. Sometimes you may receive three letters within 24 hours, and then not have another letter for six weeks. I would not be inclined to doubt your sweetheart, if you are hearing from him irregularly. It is something over which he has no control. Continue to write him cheerful letters, and tell him of all the news at home.

It might be all right for you to go out with the various boy friends you have, but be loyal and true to the one you love most. We will win the war in time, and your sweetheart may come home a hero, of whom you will always be proud. Be of good cheer, and keep faith.

Capt. R. G. Schaefer, officer in charge of the cadet mess, planned the menu and dinner. Dancing was at the post service club. The Hell from Heaven Swingsters furnished the music.

Two-Timer Goes

Wardrobe conserving two-timer is the dress pictured above, cleverly designed to serve for street or business and as a "dress-up" number for cocktail or dinner hours. Two-timing trick is the apron flap which makes neckline adjustable. The little bows are on snappers, so arranged that the flap may be worn as a high neckline for day and let down for as deep a décolletage as desired for more formal wear. The dress is of oxford crepe, with slightly bloused back. It has a contrasting suede leather belt, studded with metal nailheads and the pockets have apron flaps harmonizing with the one at the neck. In the sketch it is worn with a beflowered bonnet and novel gauntlets to which flowers have been sewn so profusely that they look like twin muffs.

Send in your problems to Betsy Beckham Bundy, who will advise on affairs of the heart.

Mrs. Robert L. Clarke, 303 South Pecos, will have as house guests this week her mother, Mrs. A. G. Reed, and her aunt, Mrs. W. J. Wharton, of Fort Worth, who are arriving Thursday. Mrs. Clarke and her guests will spend Saturday with friends in Odessa.

Complete One-Stop Service

For almost 20 years many motorists of this area, have depended upon the one-stop service offered by the Ever-Ready Auto Service, 300 West Wall. Fred Wemple, who opened the first drive-in station in Midland in 1923, invites motorists to take advantage of this service now that care for cars is essential to the war effort.

Rocky Ford Line Has Outstanding Record Of Safety

Safe, dependable hauling — both local and long distance — is more than an empty slogan for Rocky Ford Moving Vans. The company, which has its main office in Midland, operates in eight states with a fleet of five large trucks.

In addition to being bonded and insured, the company has experienced drivers whose safety records are unusually good. Most of the drivers have been with the company since 1928, and three of them have never had an accident. No Rocky Ford van has figured in a serious accident, although they are driven thousands of miles each year.

The company operates in states from California to Kansas. It has operating right in Fort Worth in addition to the Midland office.

Mrs. Annie Ford, owner, and W. A. Dunn, manager, are especially proud of the safety record of the employees. They also are proud of the facilities available for moving household goods. Each van — and the range in size from 15 feet to 26 feet in length — is equipped with plenty of furniture pads, dollies for refrigerators, and closets in which clothes may be packed, eliminating the need for packing and for cleaning after moving.

The company has three storage warehouses in Midland and these facilities are offered citizens who need them. Each of the warehouses is bonded. One is located at the company's office at 1111 West Wall Street, another at 615 West Wall, and third at 108 North Weatherford.

Day and night service is offered by the company. The telephone number is 400.

Scene At Livestock Auction

Texas Cattle Sales, Inc., Auction Here Provides Good Market For Stock Raisers

The Texas Cattle Sales, Inc., of Midland fills a valuable need for both livestock raisers and buyers. It provides the livestock man by providing him with a close market at which they can receive good prices and it gives the buyer a good market at which he can always obtain the animals he needs.

Hundreds of head of stock pass through the auction ring at the Texas Cattle Sales Inc., each Thursday afternoon, and prices are always at a good level. J. C. Miles and Lynch King are owners of the firm, one of the fastest-growing auction concerns in West Texas.

Stockmen have found they profit not only from the good prices paid here, but also from the savings they make in not having to ship stock to more distant points. By selling in Midland they have no shipping costs, and there are no losses from shrinkage and bruises.

Buyers from numerous cities in Texas, in addition to many other states, attend the auctions here each Thursday afternoon. Persons having livestock to sell are urged to learn more about this sales concern.

The Texas Cattle Sales, Inc., auction barn is located south of the railroad and east of Main Street in Midland. M. G. McConnell is auctioneer, Bill Conner is starter, and Leslie Ford is in charge of penning, checking and moving stock. Homer Epley is in charge of the business office.

Midland Floral Company Offers Good Stock Of Beautiful Flowers For Easter Sunday

The beauty of Easter is combined with the beauty of flowers to make a day beloved throughout the Christian world.

The symbolism of flowers is one of the ancient customs to which man adheres, and many flowers are traditional on numerous occasions. The Easter lily, long associated with the resurrection day in America, is perhaps one of the most outstanding examples.

This year there is a limited amount of Easter lilies, Fred Fromhold of the Midland Floral Company, 1705, West Wall, says. Although the company has a good supply of these flowers an anticipated demand may cause the substitution of others. American-grown bulbs are being used this year for the first time, since supplies from other countries have been cut off.

The Midland Floral Company has a good supply of other blooming plants, including hydrangea, double-ruffle petunias, begonias and fuchsias. An ample supply of cut calla lilies, wedge-wood iris, lilacs, gladiolas and roses also is available.

The company maintains delivery service twice daily, under CDT regulations, and will take orders for flowers by phone. Easter flowers will be delivered Easter morning, Fromhold said.

The Midland Floral Company is a member of the Florists Telegraph Delivery service.

Aggies Honor Men In Armed Service

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Texas A. & M. concedes that its men are not supermen but on this anniversary of hallowed San Jacinto it proudly honors the 18 generals and 8,000 other active Army officers who come from Aggieland. One of these generals was a defender of Corregidor now imprisoned on the island of Formosa. He is Maj. Gen. George F. Moore, coast artillery commander on the Philippine Island fortress.

Twenty are prisoners.

Its partisans say A&M's contribution to the officer corps of the Army is larger than that of any other college including the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

San Jacinto Day means more to Texas Aggies than just the date on which Sam Houston smashed Santa Anna more than 100 years ago. Since 1908 Aggies have gathered on this day, wherever they were, to honor General Houston and A&M. Today the number of such meetings calculated at 400 all over the world.

But not any of these meetings can be as poignant as the gathering of 24 Aggies in the fire and brimstone of Corregidor April 21, 1942, seven days before it fell. Word came back that they bade farewell to home with a song, "The Eyes of Texas."

Twenty of these Texans are now Japanese prisoners. Some 40 other Aggies are prisoners of war and the college has the names of 100 who have been killed.

MacArthur Praised Texans

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox revealed that Texas had contributed 53 flag officers to the services: 39 Army general, two Marine Corps generals and 12 admirals, these including Admiral Nimitz and General Eisenhower.

General MacArthur gave his judgment on the quality of these fighting men. In a message he said: "No name stands out more brilliantly than the heroic defender of Corregidor, General George F. Moore."

"Whenever I see a Texan in my command I have a feeling of confidence."

Plans Complete For Boy Scouts' Round-Up Event

Plans have been completed for a Midland district Boy Scouts of America round-up program to be presented Saturday at the popular Morse near here. Approximately 80 Scouts from four troops are expected to take part in the program which starts at 9 a. m., when the Scouts will pitch tents.

Scouts will be judged on camp organization, cleanliness, discipline and other points. Semaphore and Morse signaling; Scout pace; string burning in which the boys will start fires by friction; chariot racing; Pony Express race; water boiling; knot tying; human signal tower; a stretcher race; tent pitching; and a mystery event will feature the contests.

John Drummond, district first aid chairman, will be in charge of the first aid contests, and Sam Spears, chairman of camping and activities, will direct the round-up.

Troops competing in the event will be Troop 51, A. N. Griffin, Scoutmaster; Troop 53, Ted Green, Scoutmaster; Troop 54, Claude O. Crane, Scoutmaster; and Troop 85, Paul Davis, Scoutmaster.

Latchkey Children Causing Juvenile Delinquency Rise

AUSTIN — (AP) — "Latchkey children" — who can enter and leave their homes at will — have caused juvenile delinquency to double in many Texas communities, a special committee has reported to the Legislature.

Mothers employed in war industries are one of the chief causes of rising juvenile delinquency, the report submitted Tuesday declares.

The committee, headed by Sen. Vernon Lemens of Waxahachie, and made up of representatives of parents, teachers and service organizations was created by the 47th Legislature.

The family and community were urged to assume greater responsibility for children care. The report pointed out that war casualties already have created so many orphans that state homes have a waiting list of 500.

Local Boards To Set Dates For Issuing Sugar For Canning

DALLAS — (AP) — Dates for the issuance of sugar allotments for home canning of 1943 fruit crops may be set by local war price and rationing boards, under a ruling by the regional Office of Price Administration.

Local board members were given the authority because of their familiarity with crop conditions in their areas, the OPA said Tuesday, and the fixing of dates on a local basis may prevent fruit spoilage.

Sugar for home canning will be allotted on virtually the same basis as last year, the board added, with no deduction of blue, processed food point stamps from ration book No. 2 for sugar used for such a purpose.

Hitler Seeks To Strengthen Invasion Points In Talks With Puppet Chiefs

By DeWitt Mackenzie Associated Press War Analyst

Hitler's hurry-worry conferences with heads of states under his domination have brought him to the puppet Norwegian premier, Vidkun Quisling, whose name smells wherever there are loyal noses.

These parleys have been regarded generally as politico-military in nature and designed to serve a double purpose: (1) To advertise the creation of a "new order" for the European continent, which would offset the Allied aims promulgated at the Casablanca conference and at the same time would (2) Act as a bribe to obtain greater military assistance from the Reich at this critical juncture.

The Quisling confab is the fifth in line and it's interesting to note that all of them have concerned areas which not only are hot invasion prospects but are among the weakest links in Hitler's offensive chain. The previous talks have been with Mussolini, King Boris of Bulgaria, Dictator Ion Antonescu of Rumania and Regent Nicholas Horthy of Hungary. Greece is said to be next in order.

All these countries are in the doubtful class on the Nazi dictator's list. Italy is shaking like a bowl of custard. There's bitter territorial rivalry among Rumania, Hungary and Bulgaria, and on top of that both Hungary and Rumania are fed up with the heavy casualties suffered by their troops on the Russian front. Norway, of course, is being kept in order solely by force of arms.

It would seem that the worried Fuehrer is concerned very little with a "new order" and very much with tightening up his defenses against invasion. His task isn't an easy one because there are many possible invasion-points and he must guard every one of them, from Norway clear around Southern Europe to the Balkans.

No wonder "our beloved Fuehrer" spent his unhappy birthday laying down the law to a cringing Quisling.

Former "Say It With Music" Civilian Now Hopes To Tell Enemy About It With Bombs

"Say It With Music" is the title of a popular song hit of yesterday. Likewise, it applied to the civilian occupation of Aviation Cadet Raymond E. Light of Sulphur Springs, Ohio, and now in student bombardier training at the Midland AAF Bombardier School who was a music teacher and choir master.

Cadet Light hopes to be soon saying it with bombs over enemy targets. At the world's largest bom-

SWEDEN TO STRENGTHEN AMERICAN CONSULAR STAFFS

STOCKHOLM — (AP) — In order to strengthen her economic and cultural ties with the Americas, Sweden is planning to bolster her legation and consular staffs throughout the Western Hemisphere.

As a bombardier, it will be Cadet Light's good fortune to be able to press the trigger button that will send the blockbuster bombs on their way to enemy targets. The many simulated target devices used at the bombardier college are a true testing ground of things to come.

On the bombardier's shoulders, as much as any member of the air crew, rests the margin of victory for the Allies.

Bill Hall Selected Most Representative By Class At T. C. U.

Bill Hall of Midland, senior at Texas Christian University, is one of 18 students to receive the honorary title of "most representative" for 1942-43.

The contest, conducted each year by The Skiff, student newspaper, is intended to gain recognition for that best combination of student — the one who makes good students," commented the Skiff.

"The most representative" student is one who is admired alike by faculty members and students.

One student is named from each department of the University, elected by his fellow students in the same department and the election approved by the department head.

Hall, who represents the philosophy department, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hall of 1004 West Tennessee. He is a member of the Dramatic Club and the Timothy Club.

Submarine Sinks Eight Jap Ships In Single Patrol

PEARL HARBOR — (AP) — The submarine Wahoo has returned from its second adventure in enemy waters with another eight ships sunk for a total of 13 in two successive patrols.

Naval officials said the eight bagged in the second patrol was a record number for a single patrol, but Lt. Commander Dudley W. (Mush) Morton, skipper of the Wahoo, described the exploit as "just cut and dried sinking of ships."

"It was just sight, track, shoot and sink," said the 36-year-old Miami, Fla., officer.

Besides the eight ships, totalling 37,000 tons, the Wahoo damaged a ninth and wrecked a trawler and two sampans. The sinkings all were achieved within one week's time. For the two patrols, the first in January, the total tonnage sunk was 69,000.

Morton admitted he got a thrill one night when a Japanese tanker's "five-inch shell fell close to the Wahoo's bow, forcing the Wahoo to submerge. The submarine resur-

—AND THE SPRING TUNE-UP OF YOUR CAR SHOULD BE DIFFERENT, TOO!

NO MORE TOP SPEEDS!
You'll be driving at "35-and-under" this spring—and your car's timing, circuit breaker, carburetor, spark plugs, choke and heat controls should be readjusted for smooth low-speed performance.

LESS DRIVING
Your generator and voltage regulator should be put in top condition now to guard against the possibility of a rundown battery later on. Your battery itself should be checked at regular intervals.

CARS ARE BEING DRIVEN LONGER
As your car's mileage goes higher — as your brakes, lights, tires and steering system grow older — a thorough check-up of these features becomes vital to the safety of you and your family.

SLOWER DRIVING—SHORTER TRIPS
When you don't drive very much or very fast or very far, it's extremely important to keep fresh, clean oil in your engine at all times—because at slow speeds your crankcase ventilation system doesn't have much chance to prevent oil dilution.

NO MORE HIGH-OCTANE GAS
We use lower-octane gas today, so our flyers may have high-octane fuel. To prevent wasteful "pinging," your engine should be readjusted to its new diet. Whatever service work may be needed, we do the job right.

LESS GASOLINE
In addition to giving your car a gas-saving, springtime engine tune-up, you should also have it thoroughly checked for other causes of fuel waste, such as dragging brakes, leaky gas lines or the use of too heavy lubricants for today's low-speed driving.

ACID - not speed - may "burn up" your engine now!

You don't go "tearing off" the miles, and you hate tearing off ration coupons, too. You'd think your slow speed and low mileage would almost do away with engine wear. But first figure your risk of engine acids and inner corrosion! — made possible by products of combustion always hanging back in the cylinders after stopping. These "remains" can't all get out. They contain acids — acids that nibble at metals!

Acids in your engine are nothing new, but they couldn't do their worst when their nibbling was interrupted by frequent use of your car and fast driving. But now acids often stay in your inactive engine for days. And the short slow runs you generally make now, don't help much to clean acids out. So now when you're not even sure that you could get any needed replacement parts, make sure you muzzle acids as well as you can, by keeping your engine's insides OIL-PLATED.

You know why almost any plating is used... to resist such corrosion as rust, for instance. And to resist acid corrosion, have your engine OIL-PLATED — quickly — simply — economically — by changing this Spring to Conoco Nth motor oil... oil that OIL-PLATES.

Conoco Nth oil — patented — includes a great advancement in synthetics. This makes it possible to maintain OIL-PLATING up and down your engine's insides, during many hours or days when such resistance against acid can help. Your Spring oil change is a "must," but the worst acid effects are not... not when you get Conoco Nth. Continental Oil Company

SERIAL STORY

DARK JUNGLES

BY JOHN C. FLEMING & LOIS EBY

COPYRIGHT, 1943, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Barry Fielding was stricken with malaria after his escape from the Quiche Indians, and his faithful Mexican guide, Jose, tends him until he is strong enough to make the trip back to Allison Topping's plantation. He falls unconscious when they finally arrive. A week later Allison tells him that a letter arrived from his fiancée while he was sick, and that she has answered it for him. Knowing Lila's nature, Barry is worried.

his absence. Renaldo, too, was different. Gone was the stern, quiet—almost condescending—command in the Spaniard's manner. A subtle warmth had crept in, a tentative friendliness. He had used the same phrase that night on the trek—he feared the girl had the jungle in her blood—but where there had been apprehension, antagonism in his voice that night, now there was something almost like pride. And in his dark eyes...

anyone want to frame Barry? Some Quiche, perhaps, with something against the girl or her family? "Perhaps," Renaldo said slowly, "but I don't think so. The Quiches are a united and peaceful tribe within themselves. I'm afraid it is even more serious than that." Barry and Allison watched the young Spaniard as he paced the floor nervously. At length, unable to endure her curiosity, Allison burst out: "What is it, Renaldo? For heaven's sake, tell us!"

TRIBAL SACRIFICE

CHAPTER XV

AS the days passed and the fever pangs on Barry went half wild with impatience. For hours—days sometimes—he would think it had run its course, only to be shaken with the cold chill that preceded another attack.

Renaldo had warned him of this that same afternoon Allison had read him Lila's letter. The Spaniard had knocked and come in, looking taller and handsomer in his fresh whites than Barry remembered him. He had towered over the bed, with his swift, engaging smile.

"You really picked yourself a stalwart mosquito, my friend." "I'll throw it off," Barry said irritably.

"You will, but it will be slow going." Allison brought his medicine, holding up his head and tossing the tablets onto his tongue with deft motions. Barry gulped the water she held to his lips, and smiled his thanks.

"You were right about Allison," he said to Renaldo with amused camaraderie.

"Right about what?" Allison was gathering up tray and glasses for the servant to take out.

"We bet, Renaldo and I," Barry told her lazily, feeling all at once easy and comfortable, "on whether you'd make the trip."

"And how did you bet?" She paused beside him, her lashes almost touching her cheeks as she looked down into his face.

"I bet you wouldn't," Barry told her.

"Which proves," she laughed, "that Renaldo understands me better than you do."

"Oh, but it wasn't quite fair," Renaldo protested gallantly. "Because I knew your father. Mr. Fielding didn't gamble you had the jungle in your blood like he did. And I'm afraid you have."

He turned to follow her with his eyes as she walked to the hall and handed over the tray to the Indian woman. Barry watched him in deepening surprise. He realized abruptly that Allison was not the only one who had changed during BARRY controlled a sharp rising irritation. Why shouldn't the handsome Renaldo fall for a girl like Allison Topping? She was warm and vivid and delicate. Her blondness was a perfect foil for the Spaniard's dark good looks. And if he really wanted to stay here... He roused at Renaldo's laugh.

"You are looking very unhappy, my friend. I am sorry about your trip." Barry's anger swept into another current.

"Sorry is no name for it!" he exploded. "I want to talk to you about it. Of all the dirty, double-crossing deals I ever ran into—"

Allison was standing beside Renaldo again. "May I hear it, too?" she asked.

Barry hesitated. Then he said bluntly, "Sure. It's no worse than a Gossip Column."

Allison and Renaldo pulled chairs close to the bed while Barry talked. He told them in painstaking detail every step of the trip. The meeting with the chief, his cordial hospitality, his apparently sympathetic hearing of all Barry had to say, his honest indecision in the matter of revealing the mines. Turning to Renaldo, he added:

"Your letter to him seemed to make him our friend. He said a lot of complimentary things about you."

Renaldo nodded thoughtfully. "He's a great old fellow."

Barry grimaced with rueful humor. "But you should have seen him that night at the trial. He couldn't have been any colder if he'd been molded out of liquid air." He told them then of his rude awakening by the angry natives, of the weird, frightful judgment scene in the chief's tent and of the death sentence of the girl. Finally of their imprisonment and escape.

Allison shuddered. "How perfectly ghastly! But the girl won't die, will she?"

RENALDO looked serious. "I wouldn't be surprised."

"But why," Allison cried, "would

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney America's Card Authority This is the third of a series of six articles discussing what I consider the rarest play in bridge, the smother play or trump coup. You will have to study the play carefully, as there are but few experts who have recognized the technique in actual play.

Today's hand is identical with that discussed yesterday, but it is used here to show how East might have defeated the smother play.

Bridge hand diagram showing cards and dealer information. Dealer: N. Cards: ♠ 8765, ♥ 1083, ♦ 965, ♣ KQ8. Deal: ♠ N 432, ♥ S 97, ♦ W 108, ♣ E A32. Trick 1: ♠ A Q J 10, ♥ A K 8 2, ♦ 3, ♣ J 10. had adopted another line of defense rather than the standard one of shortening the declarer's trump holding. In bridge as in war, attack and defense develop almost simultaneously. To be successful, the defense must find the chinks in the armor of the attacking side.

West won the first trick with the diamond king and continued with another round of diamonds. South ruffed and led the jack of clubs. East let this card hold the trick, but won the second round of clubs.

Here the obvious play is not the best. If East now returns the nine of hearts, the smother play cannot be made. There is only one entry in dummy, and this can be used to take one finesse in trumps. When West wins the heart trick, he will return another round of diamonds, and now East's king must make a trick.

failures" but rather in the example they set other nations.

Getting Acquainted
 Mr. Roosevelt said the meeting in Monterey, capital city of California, was part of the whole game of getting to know each other better. He pointed out that like the Canadian boundary—the border, 145 miles to the north, is unfortified and undefended and has been for 96 years.

Marked by the salute of booming guns, and a carnival spirit among the people, the handclasp of the first time a United States president has traveled deep into Mexico, and the first meeting of chief executives of the two nations since 1909, when Presidents Taft and Porfirio Diaz shook hands at the international bridge between El Paso and Juarez. Peace Plan Scored

President Roosevelt's pointed remark that surrender of "the forces of evil" shall be unconditional was seen as a direct answer to last week's peace proposal from officials of General Franco's Spanish government. Previously, diplomatic reaction in Washington and elsewhere among Allied Nations had indicated only a scornful rejection of the offer—which at least had Berlin's approval, if not inspiration.

Swift seconding of that spirit came from Avila Camacho who said "our countries do not wish for a more strategic truce hatched simply so that the world may again tomorrow fall into the same faults of ambition, of imperialism, of iniquity and of sordid privilege."

COMBAT COURSE: Making Marines Out of Men

Have a look at the world's toughest fighters as they undergo combat training. It takes a good man to even start this course at Camp Pendleton, Calif., and when he's through he's a Marine all the way. Doing push-ups in the Marine manner, men at top click their heels and clap hands in mid-air. (It looks easy? Just try it once.) Marine trainees at left demonstrate knife disarming, an arm-breaking maneuver that causes foe to drop weapon (arrow). In bayonet drill, Marine at right makes a swift turn to grab rifle and disarm enemy as he charges by.

from the pitching deck of an aircraft carrier.

The secret was kept as long as possible, the statement said, and the Japanese, not being sure of the attack's source—whether China, or the Aleutians or an aircraft carrier—"were forced to tie up part of their military strength during crucial months.

Then the department added: "If the secret could always have been kept from the Japanese—which in the end was impossible—it would naturally have added to the tension with which Japan awaits the attacks that still lie ahead."

Identification of "Shangri-La" as the carrier Hornet automatically unfolded incidents of courage and heroism heretofore hidden by the secrecy policy. Foremost among these was the dramatic decision by Admiral William F. Halsey Jr., now supreme commander in the South Pacific, the task force had already avoided one Japanese vessel and was trying to avoid another when it was seen by the Hornet.

That ship was quickly sunk but it was feared that it might have radioed a warning to Tokyo—a fear which later was proved unfounded by the complete surprise of the attack. But the raiders had to plan for the worst and act accordingly. It meant departing 10 hours and 400 miles ahead of schedule; each man knew that his chances of surviving were thereby decreased.

"But there was not the slightest hesitation," the official report said. "General Doolittle and his men were eager to take off."

'Play Ball!' Cry Resounds In Major League Baseball Parks

By Judson Bailey
Associated Press Sports Writer
Spring is here! The baseball season is now open.

The Washington Senators subdued the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5, Tuesday in the nation's capitol and took over first place in the American League for at least one day, leaving it up to the other major league clubs to do as well in their openers Wednesday.

The formal bow for the National and American Leagues as a whole called for this program:

National — St. Louis at Cincinnati, New York at Brooklyn, Pittsburgh at Chicago and Philadelphia at Boston.

American — Washington at New York, Boston at Philadelphia, Detroit at Cleveland and Chicago at St. Louis.

Crowd Is Small
In winning the inaugural in Griffith Stadium the Senators confirmed the suspicions of many observers that play this season

GAMES POSTPONED

New York at Brooklyn (N)
Philadelphia at Boston (N)
Washington at New York (A)

would be more slovenly, that the ball is "more dead," that crowds in midweek will be smaller and that Washington is improved over last year.

The turnout for the inaugural was the smallest in many years at Washington, 25,093, and the game itself was a stumbling affair with the Senators making three errors and the Athletics calling on four hurriers.

The game's longest hit was a two-bagger, but the Senators managed to push across six runs in a big six-inning rally.

Leonard Relieved
For three years before this opener the Senators had been shut out and tradition was a handicap for Emil (Dutch) Leonard, who had pitched unsuccessfully in the 1940 and 1941 inaugurals. The new deal seemed in his favor Tuesday when he caught Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt's throw of the first ball in ceremonies before the game.

But the Athletics combed him for six hits and three runs before he was removed for a pinchhitter in the fourth inning and Alejandro Carrasquel received credit for the victory.

Two High School Grid Stars Are Ineligible
BEAUMONT — (AP)—Because they participated in the bi-state all-star football game at Orange last December, Jimmy Johnson and Charles Wright, Beaumont high school gridlers, have been ruled ineligible for play next season.

R. J. Kidd, athletic director of the Texas Interscholastic League, said Johnson and Wright could not participate because it would violate the league's post-season game rule.

Betty Jameson Now Employed In Mexico

CHICAGO — (AP)— Betty Jameson, noted woman golfer, has gone to Mexico City to work—but she'll be back to defend her golf titles this summer.

Miss Jameson, who won both the Women's Western Golf Association's open and amateur titles last year, advised officials she would compete in the 14th annual open tourney scheduled June 28 through July 2.

The one time San Antonio, Texas, sports writer had been working here since last summer but left her job to accept a position in Mexico City.

Ump Misses Season Opener For First Time In 27 Years

INDIANAPOLIS, IND. — (AP)— The sharp cry of "play ball" resounded Wednesday in the major league baseball parks but for the first time since 1925 Harry Geisel wasn't on hand to sing it out.

It was the first opening day in 27 years that Geisel was not on duty as an umpire in a baseball. The tall, grey-haired Geisel, now 53 years old, has retired as an American League umpire.

Bankhead Predicts Senate Effort To Restore Farm Security Agency

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Terring the Farm Security Administration "the friend of the poor farmer," Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) predicted Wednesday a concerted Senate effort to restore funds for its operation.

The $715,000,000 1944 agricultural appropriations bills left the House Tuesday carrying provisions for the liquidation of the crop insurance program and prohibiting the use of any funds for incentive payments, and with no provision at all for the farm rehabilitation loan and tenant purchase functions of the FSA.

The House appropriations subcommittee had sought to transfer FSA's functions to the Farm Credit Administration.

A parliamentary objection to this procedure resulted in the striking from the bill of the portions dealing with the FSA program and tossed the matter of providing for them into the laps of the senators.

Bankhead told reporters Wednesday that while he had criticized some of the activities of FSA officials when he thought criticism justified, the over-all operations were sound and its record "praiseworthy."

Proration Order Boosts Flow To 120,000 Barrels

AUSTIN — (AP)— Texas' daily flow of all oils will be increased by 120,000 barrels during May with average daily production totaling 1,601,551 barrels.

A statewide proration order issued Tuesday by the Railroad Commission set production of crude at 1,524,537 barrels a day. Underproduction of 6.32 per cent will slice 100,084 barrels daily from the crude flow.

Distillate and natural gasoline production will total 117,000 barrels a day.

Lopping 20,449 barrels from the P. A. W. certification, the order boosted total general producing days from 19 for April to 21 for May.

Distributed Evenly
Comparative net allowables for May and April by districts: 1—29,190; 2—105,232 and 89,653; 3—303,133 and 331,877; 4—137,954 and 127,347; 5—27,773 and 18,023; 6—98,578 and 84,385; East Texas—343,498 and 322,993; 7—28,436 and 28,127; 7-C—18,628 and 17,984; 8—220,526 and 206,649; 9—121,560 and 127,966; 10—99,054 and 97,890.

Chairman Beauford H. Jester said the 120,000 barrel daily increase was distributed equitably among all fields.

The schedule lopped 68,591 barrels a day from purchaser nominations. The April order called for net daily production of 1,500,042 barrels of all oils. Average daily crude allowance for the week ended April 17 totaled 1,460,034 barrels.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK — (AP)— Lew Fonseca has whittled out a series of instructive sequences from the various American League films shot since 1934 and will take them on a month's tour of Army camps to show Uncle Sam's soldiers the right way to play baseball.

Eventually he hopes to build up a "technical instruction library," which the league will lend to high school, college and service coaches.

The quarterly N.E.A. boxers' rankings will be out next week. No doubt they'll give Tony Galento's comeback the recognition it deserves.

Henry C. Paulsen, a Long Island railroad conductor, recently bowled two 300 games in 21 days. The second must have been a "relief" train.

864 Answer
When Fred Corcoran, former Professional Golfers Association tournament manager now working for the Red Cross in England, quit on one of his popular sports quizzes recently, he asked: "What golfer made the grand slam?"

The answer came from a negro soldier: "Sam Snead. I was caddying for him in Atlanta when he but a drive 350 yards. What a grand slam!"

Today's Guest Star
Will Connolly, San Francisco Chronicle: "Beau Jack, Georgia shoe shine boy and world's lightweight champ in New York, has been deferred in the draft because he can neither read nor write. He has only about $95,000 in the bank in trust. For that we could forget the alphabet."

Service Dept.
Gen. Clair (Flying Tigers) Chennault isn't the only softball pitcher who can wear stars on his shoulders. Brig. Gen. Wolcott P. Hayes, commander at Scott Field, Ill., recently fanned 18 batters in a camp softball game.

Lieut. Raymond E. Gadsby, head boxing coach at the Iowa Navy Pre-Flight School, competed on the 1928 Olympic boxing team and four years later was trainer of an American soccer team that toured Italy.

Another high-powered service baseball team is reported from the Harlingen, Texas, Army Gummy School. The squad includes Lieut. C. B. "Babe" Caldwell, Corp. Bill Lacyk and Pvt. Bob Prichard, who have had major league experience.

Lt. John Clements, former Southern Methodist U. athlete, and a couple of ex-minor leaguers... Chicago's strong Navy pier track team will miss the Drake Relays this week-end because of a ban on overnight trips.

Things Aren't Quite That Bad In Baseball
ASBURY PARK, N. J. — (NEA) — A resident of Asbury Park, spying a group of middle-aged and sedentary baseball writers here covering the training activities of the American League champions, asked: "You boys Yankees?"

"No," replied one of the scribes. "Things aren't quite that bad."
