Americans Make Gain

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—(AP) American troops, continuing their stubborn advance toward Mateur, stormed and captured Djebel Tahent Friday and wrested a neighboring high point from the Germans in a fierce bayonet charge, Allied Headquarters announced Saturday, as Allied Air Forces blasted an Axis concentration of warships and vessels of all sizes in their most successful attack yet on the enemy's sea lanes.

Direct hits were scored by the airmen on at least eight ships including a light cruiser and two destroyers which were sunk or left aflame and apparently sinking.

The Second Army Corps of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., took Djebel Tahent,

New Activity For Ordovician Pools In Winkler County

By Frank Gardner, Oil Editor
Immediate activity for North Central Winkler County's new twin Ordovician pools was promised Friday when Magnolia Petroleum Company staked location for a test three-quarters of a mile southeast of its discovery, and Sid W. Richardson, Fort Worth independent operator, reportedly made location for south and west offsets to the Amon G. Carter deep strike.

Magnolia will drill No. 21 State-Walton in the C SE SW section 4, block B-3, psi. three-quarters of a mile southeast of the No. 20 State-Walton, in the C NW NW of the same section, which now is standing while cement sets around 4 3/4-inch casing run to bottom at 10,774 feet in Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, dolomite No. 21 State-Walton has been announced as a 10,800-foot test.

Amon G. Carter No. C-2 Pure-J. B. Walton et al, C SW NE section 1, block B-3, three and one-half miles farther east, cemented 7-inch casing at 9,551 feet with 800 sacks and is standing while cement hardens. Total depth is 9,800 feet in Ellenburger dolomite. Designation and footage of the reported Richardson locations have not yet been announced, but the south offset to the Carter well probably is in the C NW SE and the west offset in the C SE NW section 1.

Parker Moving Inc.
It also is reported that Parker Drilling Company, which owns some scattered tracts in the vicinity of the Carter discovery, is moving a heavy-duty rig to the area. Whether the rig will be employed to drill Parker's own leases or contracted for another company has not been revealed.

Stanford Oil & Gas Company and Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 W. D. Blue estate, Eastern Winkler Ellenburger project 15 miles southeast of the Carter discovery, is drilling at 9,286 feet in sand of the Simpson, middle Ordovician. A core from 9,965-78 feet returned 10 feet of sand streaked with green shale and one foot of dense lime.

INVESTIGATION PLANNED
WASHINGTON —(AP)— A subcommittee of the Dies Committee, operating with the Justice Department, will meet May 10 in Houston to inspect the records of members of the Kniffhauserburn here.

known as Hill 609, 16 miles southwest of Mateur in the Sidi N'Sir area and captured Hill 523 just to the south. Their new positions permitted them to begin long-range shelling of Mateur, 18 miles southwest of Bizerte. But while they were scoring these successes, the British First Army lost ground east and northeast of Medjez-El-Bab in exceptionally hard fighting.

U. S. Infantry Gains
U. S. infantrymen were reported to have made substantial advances across the high ground north of Sidi N'Sir, itself 35 miles southwest of Bizerte, and compelled the Germans to draw back to Djebel Antra to avoid being outflanked.

Between these two fields of combat, the Americans made progress around the heavily fortified Jefna position guarding the road to Mateur. Fields and roads about green and bald hills there were found sown with hundreds of mines and booby traps.

A military spokesman said the American forces launched an attack four miles east of Sidi N'Sir against German gun emplacements on hill 609—Djebel Tahent—which dominates the valley extending 16 miles northeastward to the Mateur road junction, but met strong resistance and failed to reach the summit.

Nazis Counterattack
Nazis troops counterattacked repeatedly against U. S. lines south of the hill, but all the thrusts were repelled.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's Eighth Army mounted a local attack on the southern front and gained its objective, the communiqué announced, adding that "an enemy counterattack in this sector achieved slight success."

German tanks and infantry struck heavily again at First Army lines in the Medjez-El-Bab sector, but the communiqué said that, with the exception of one small gain by the enemy in the Medjerda River area, all attacks "were repulsed with heavy loss to the enemy and our forward positions were maintained."

Heinrichs Assumes Finn Army Command
STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN —(AP)— Gen. Axel E. Heinrichs, Finnish chief of staff, was reported Friday to have succeeded Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim temporarily as commander in chief of the Finnish forces.
Heinrichs is a member of the old Jaeger group of Finnish officers trained in Germany and is regarded here as an outstanding field officer with pro-German leanings.

Symbolic of Rommel's rout in southern Tunisia is this dead German soldier hanging from the turret of his multi-wheeled tank. British anti-tank gunners knocked out the vehicle.

Meat Ration Point Values Are Revised

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The OPA Friday revised meat ration values effective Sunday morning, to switch many American appetites from round steak and center pork chops to other cuts, especially spareribs, brains, tongues and pig knuckles. Some people will find more expensive steaks more attractive on a point comparison.

Round steak (both beef and veal) and center pork chops each were raised a point to 9 points per pound. Loin pork chops, slices of boneless ham steak and beef flank steaks also went up from 8 to 9 points per pound. Round tip beef roast and veal sirloin or chops went up from 7 to 8 and veal leg roasts stepped up from 6 to 7.

Pork spareribs came down a point from 4 to 3 points per pound, hocks and knuckles from 3 to 2, and most variety meats (brains, sweetbreads, etc.) were reduced a point per pound each. An exception was liver which was unchanged at 6 for beef and 8 for veal. Shank end ham, fresh or ready-to-eat, was cut a point.

An oddity of the new schedule is that, in coupons, round steak becomes more expensive than porterhouse steak, although the latter usually costs about 13c a pound more in cash. Persons having more cash than coupons may choose porterhouse, T-bone, sirloin, club and rib steaks at their continuing rate of 8 points per pound (except 10 inch rib, which is 7) instead of round steak at 9. End pork chops remain at 7, lamb loin chops at 8, lamb rib chops at 7, and ham butt roasts at 7.

First Major Change
Widely-rumored reductions in luncheon meats, however, failed to materialize. Beef hamburger did not increase, remaining at 5 points per pound.
The order was the first major change in the scale of meat rations since beef, veal, lamb, mutton and pork were put under rationing on March 29. Minor adjustments in sausage points were the only previous alterations.

The new decree made a few changes in canned fish and cooking oils, but cheese and butter remained at 8 points per pound; lard, margarine and shortening at 5. Salad and cooking oils, however, were reduced from 6 to 5 points a pint (or pound).
Caviar Value Cut
Canned sea mussels, which formerly were in a general category requiring 7 points a pound, were cut to 1. Caviar and fish roe came down, too, from 7 to 3 points on a pound basis.

The new point values will be applicable Sunday only to red E and A, B, C and D stamps will expire at midnight Friday night. Blue D, E and F coupons for processed fruits and vegetables also expire (Continued on Page 5)

Reds Promise Victory Drive

MOSCOW —(AP)— Soviet Russia's official government newspaper Izvestia said Friday that the coming month will see the beginning of an intensive summer land campaign which may well decide the outcome of the war.

"Not many days separate us from big events," the newspaper asserted editorially. "This May we are at the threshold of a decisive stage of our sacred war of liberation."

The pronouncement came as a violent air war mounted all along the front.

Izvestia's editorial recalled that the Russian winter campaign had restored 480,000 square kilometers (185,328 square miles) to Russian control.

"The German high command reported that the Russians attacked strongly again Thursday on the eastern line of the Germans' Kuban defenses in the Caucasus, but were repulsed despite strong tank and artillery support. German pilots were credited with 67 Soviet planes.

"Transocean reported from Berlin that the Russians opened the Kuban offensive Wednesday with 10 infantry divisions of 150,000 troops, strongly supported by tanks and planes, and that the Soviets had numerical superiority. At no point did the Russians gain, this propaganda agency added.

(German positions were declared favorable for defense and the Russians were said to have relatively good road communications. The report added that because of high losses of men and 20 tanks, "it seems unlikely that the Russians will continue offensive operations."

"The German radio said Thursday night that the Russians had launched an offensive in the Kuban Valley of the Caucasus but Russian communiques were silent on action in that area.)
The destruction of 116 German planes in two days, west of Krasnodar in the Kuban Valley, gives some insight into the terrific air war. There also were numerous battles on other sectors of the front.

Troops Told To Take Any Action

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt Saturday directed Secretary of Interior Ickes to take immediate possession of all coal mines in which a strike or work stoppage has occurred, or is threatened.

At the time time he directed War Secretary Stimson to take such action, if any, as he may deem necessary or desirable, "to provide protection to all such persons and mines."

The President signed the orders soon after the White House announced he would take the coal strike issue—250,000 already are idle—to the people in a radio address at 9 p. m. Sunday night in which he will "deal bluntly" with the need for continuing coal production for the war effort.

The order to Ickes, who is fuels coordinator, said he shall take immediate possession of the mines "so far as may be necessary or desirable," together with any and all real and personal property, franchises, rights, facilities, funds and other assets used in connection with the operation of such mines. Ickes was directed to operate the mines or arrange for their operation in such manner as he deems necessary "for the successful prosecution of the war."

He also was authorized to do all the things necessary for, or incidental to, the production, sale and distribution of coal.

In carrying out the order, the Interior Secretary was directed to act through or with the aid of such public or private instrumentalities or persons he may designate.

He was directed also to provide protection to all employees resuming work and to all persons seeking employment so far as it may be needed.

The Secretary of War would enter the picture with provision for protection only upon the request of the secretary of the Interior, the order provided.

War Bond Purchases In Midland Campaign Total Over $690,480

War bonds purchased in Midland this month totalled $690,482.54 at issue value Thursday night, sending the city $45,482.54 over its quota of $645,000 in the Second War Loan campaign.

Campaign workers received word that the quota was based on issue value or actual purchase cost of the bonds, rather than face value at maturity. In previous campaigns, all quotas were figured on face value of the government securities.

But even with the change in system, Midland had soared well over its quota and another day's purchase remain to be tabulated.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Roosevelt ordered government operation of the nation's coal mines Saturday with military protection if necessary—and in a statement called on striking miners to "return immediately to the mines and work for their government."

Australia Seeking U. S. Labor Group

Evatt, Australia's attorney general and minister for external affairs now on a special mission to Washington, was expected to discuss with the United States government the possibility of the United States supplying a labor contingent to Australia.

Curfew Bill Is Approved

AUSTIN —(AP)— On Gov. Coke Stevenson's desk for what was almost certain to be his signature and final enactment into law Friday was a liquor curfew bill passed by the House and Senate.
The measure outlaws consumption or possession of any alcoholic beverage in a public place between 12:15 a. m. and 7 a. m. weekdays and between 1:15 a. m. and 1 p. m. Sundays. The bill was finally passed by the Senate 19-2 Thursday without debate.

In Dealing With Rats

The first reaction when President Roosevelt told us that the Japanese had executed some of Jimmy Doolittle's Tokyo bombers, was "an eye for an eye" — let's murder man for man.

But we are civilized from the heart out, and not merely from the skin part way in. We aren't Japs and we aren't Huns. The hysterical demand for revenge in kind left its sponsors feeling a bit ashamed of themselves.

Now we have time to consider more calmly what we should do, and why. With the deepest horror and loathing, in full recognition that the "men" who could do such a thing are not men, but a particularly low form of animal life, we might as well face certain facts.

To execute Jap for Jap, with or without torture, would not bring back to life the heroes who have been murdered in Tokyo, nor would it salve the wounds of those who have been tortured but not killed.

To execute Jap for Jap, or ten for one, or to torture all the Japs in our hands with every device ever created by sadists, would not influence the fate of American fighting men who may fall into Nipponese hands in future.

To the Japanese, human life is of no account except as it may contribute to their own welfare. They will use against us our humane instincts, knowing that we will not sink to their level — and not caring particularly whether we do — for once a Jap has been captured, so that he no longer can fight for the Mikado, he is written off the books.

Nobody with influence in Tokyo is interested in anything we might do to those we hold prisoner. If anything, they might rather like to have us get rough. That would give them a new argument why their soldiers should die in their tracks rather than surrender or permit themselves to be taken alive.

Common sense, then, coincides with humanity in forbidding that we debate ourselves even slightly to salve our scarified feelings.

So what shall we do? Must we sit supinely and weep? Indeed not.

Let's buy war bonds down to the last dollar. Let's produce arms and munitions to the last pound of raw materials. Let's forget our selfish bickering and lay aside our ideologies and suspend our class warfare.

Let's make Europe the immediate objective, because that probably is the best strategy and, anyway, we're too far committed to shift now. But let's give MacArthur more equipment so that he can start toward Tokyo instead of having to perform daily miracles to keep the Japs from taking Australia.

A Needed Investigation

A searching Congressional investigation to learn what plans various government agencies and officials have in mind to change manufacturing, marketing, and other business practices is scheduled to get underway within the next two weeks.

The inquiry, which will be conducted by the House committee on interstate commerce.

The committee is specifically instructed, under this measure, to investigate what government officials and agencies are doing and are proposing to do with particular reference to the elimination of trade marks, standard brands, brand names, advertising, and marketing practices.

It is too early to predict with any degree of certainty what this congressional search will divulge, but it is an excellent idea to smoke out, in advance of their appearance in some formal dress, any radical measures or reforms that might have an adverse effect upon our economy, if such reforms are found to exist.

Preparing To Challenge

Administrator Brown is facing the probability of a test to determine just how far limited grants of wartime authority can be stretched.

Laymen have assumed that the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 just about suspended peacetime restrictions upon federal powers in this field. But some industries, feeling that they have turned the other cheek until they are dizzy, have read the text, and have discovered that there is a statutory ceiling upon OPA's actions.

A field day for lawyers is predicted unless — and here is the government's out — unless OPA conforms its program with the War Production Board's, so as to take advantage of Donald Nelson's broader powers.

—Buy War Bonds And Savings Stamps—

Really At War

Rumors that the United States is at war have now been verified from the nation's capital. An agency known as the War Production Board sends word that production of baby carriages this year will exceed the pre-war average and is expected to supply a demand for 900,000 carriages and 163,500 strollers, baby-walkers and sulkies.

Declarations, proclamations, drafts, shortages, expeditionary forces and casualty list are good preliminary signposts. But a boom in the baby market is the unarguable evidence that a people is in the midst of total war.

The Old Woman Who Lives In A Shoe

Betsy Beckham Bundy's Advice To The Lovelorn

Q. My daughter who is nearing 17 is very much engrossed in a young boy in high school, and it is not exactly my idea that she continue to go with him. While he comes of fairly nice family, and is a nice, well-mannered boy, his family is not of the wealthier families of the town in which we live, and I prefer for her to do better financially.

A. The world is running over with designing matrons, who wish their daughters to marry wealthy, and wish to break up a beautiful romance, if wealth is not behind the romance of their daughters.

I would suggest to you to lay more stress on character, refinement, wholesomeness, sincerity and right. If the young man of whom you write has character, is bright-minded, and comes of respectable people, he may be the wealthiest man in your town ten or fifteen years from now. It is a deplorable fact that some designing women think more of their daughters' marrying money than they think of the true worth in any other respect. There are many men who in their teens had no financial backing at all but now are some of the wealthiest men in America. It is intellect, energy, stability and the determination to win that makes real men. Real men are the only ones to be admired or desired. If a boy inherits a large sum of money from his parents and has not the qualifications of a real man, the money inherited will do him more injury than good. There are many business men who have had assistance in a financial way from their parents and have won great success, which is a fine thing for all concerned, but for a mother to desire to break up the romance of her daughter because there is not enough wealth in the sweetheart's family is a matter that is unworthy of her. No real woman will do such a thing. I would suggest that you not meddle in the happiness of your daughter at this time, since her romance has been of several years standing. You could ruin her life, and such things have been done. Just let the daughter manage her own romance from now on, but desire for wealth aside, and try to learn the real values of this life.

Send in your problems to Betsy Beckham Bundy, who will advise on affairs of the heart.

Worried Mother.

KEARNS FIELD, UTAH—(P)— Four privates on kitchen police duty were told to peel 400 pounds of potatoes. The mess sergeant came to find they'd peeled 300 pounds and were still at it. "We wanted to quit," one explained, "but every time we were about to stop, we heard someone yell, 'Hey, K. P.' We thought that meant keep peelin'."

Health Our Heritage
I can think of no finer introduction for this column than the inspiring words of Dr. Carl V. Reynolds of North Carolina: "Health is our greatest heritage. It transcends material riches, for it is the essence of life. In possession of it, man moves on with majestic tread, conquering those forces which harass humanity; without it, he is minus that dynamic power which gives impetus to the achievement of his noblest physical, intellectual, and spiritual aspirations."

Perfection is a goal humanity may never be privileged to reach; but we do know that health is our natural heritage, while disease and maladjustments constitute the abnormal. To attain health, therefore, we must conform to those principles of living which promote it. To retain it, we must hold the gains already made as we plan future conquests.

Many Accomplishments
Much has been accomplished in recent years through preventive and curative medicine. Science has made contributions to the alleviation of human suffering which cannot be evaluated.

When we consider the fact that since the middle of the nineteenth century the period of human expectation at birth has been extended from 38 to approximately 62 years, our appreciation of the past is deepened, our hope for the future stimulated. When we realize that many diseases which formerly brought countless thousands to an untimely death are now both preventable and curable, we experience a sense of appreciation and gratitude to an omnipotent Providence that has opened the eyes of men and women that they might see and learn the truth as a means of attaining freedom for themselves and for future generations.

To the responsibility of holding fast to the gains of the past and pressing forward to greater accomplishments in behalf of humanity, public health is passionately dedicated. It asks the cooperation of every individual in the tasks that lie ahead.

Hero Thinks Miners Should Be Forced To Work Or Enter Army

DALLAS—(P)— Sgt. Al Schmid, 22, who lost his sight in a Solomon Island battle in which he machine-gunned more than 200 Japs to death, thinks coal miners on strike should be forced back to the shafts under military guard or shipped overseas "where the going is really tough."

OPA Official Praises Food Situation Here

Midland restaurant food and prices were praised Thursday night by J. B. Mooney, district OPA price officer from Lubbock, at a conference with food merchants of this area.

"I found in Midland the best food at the fairest price that I have found on this 10-day field trip," he asserted.

He told the merchants the OPA expects them to make a "reasonable profit" in business but urged them to cooperate closely with the OPA in breaking "black markets" and eliminating "chiselers."

Food retailers and wholesalers of six West Texas counties were invited to confer with Mooney and other OPA district officials here Thursday evening.

They told price panel members and clerks that every cooperation should be extended to merchants and customers to make the new OPA regulations work smoothly.

New duties and new, simplified price regulations were explained.

6 miles up, and 45° below

"100 in the shade," remarks the sweating pilot as he takes off from a sun-baked Texas field... "45 below," he observes some time later as the altimeter registers 6 miles and the crew shivers even in fur-lined flying suits.

Up in the stratosphere it's colder than a Siberian winter. In the rarefied air men sometimes lose consciousness and radios often fail—yet planes must keep going if they are to fulfill their deadly mission.

That they can keep going under these gruelling conditions is another outstanding achievement of modern petroleum research. At 45° below conventional lubricants become too stiff to allow bearings to turn. This problem was solved by the development of new, low-viscosity lubricants for high altitude planes—known technically as stratosphere lubricants.

The production of stratosphere lubricants is just part of Humble's big job of manufacturing critical petroleum war products. The same refineries that have always produced Esso Extra, Humble and Thriftane gasolines for your car are now working around the clock to turn out millions of gallons of high-octane aviation gasolines. From plants that produce the familiar Esso, 997 and Velvet motor oils are coming also vast quantities of Humble-Esso Aviation Oils. In these and many other ways Humble is converting Texas' greatest natural resource—petroleum—into weapons for America's ultimate victory.

Memodists Will Dedicate Beautiful Church At Service Sunday Morning

The First Methodist Church, one of the most beautiful in Texas Methodism, will be dedicated with a special service at 10:45 a. m. Sunday. Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas will deliver the sermon.

Sunday afternoon, a new pipe organ in the church will be dedicated with a special program at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Nita Akin, Wichita Falls concert organist will be guest organist at the services.

The new organ is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Glass and Mrs. O. B. Holt, Jr., in memory of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Holt and O. B. Holt, Jr.

Mrs. Phil Scharbauer has given the church an amplification system which will be heard from the tower.

The church will be free of debt by the time the service starts, the Rev. Carl Clement, pastor said. Service opens with Chimes.

Organized in 1885

The Rev. J. A. Scoggins organized the Methodist Church of Midland with seven members August 2, 1885 and it has grown until it now has 1100 members. In 1889 the church moved into its first permanent home, a small frame building. In 1907, construction started on its first brick home and this building was used until 1940 when erection of the beautiful new structure was started.

Grateful appreciation is expressed by the church in the dedicatory program to Mrs. Phil Scharbauer, the late Phil Scharbauer, the late John Scharbauer, the late Mrs. M. J. Riggs, and to J. W. Bullock.

Get Your Scent's Worth By Applying It Where Air Gives Circulation

By Alicia Hart, NEA Staff Writer
The way you apply your perfume is every bit as important as knowing the right scent for every occasion.

A careless dab on either lapel of your suit is never as effective as a subtle spraying of the hem of your skirt, insists designer Lilly Dache. "Perfume," the attractive French milliner points out, "should be applied where the air can waft it around. Then, and then alone, does it do its lovely work to the full."

She prefers, for instance, to spray it on her veil or into her hair. This, she says, allows the maximum circulation of scent for the minimum amount of perfume used.

If you favor toilet water for daytime, and apply perfume only for after-five occasions, don't mix your scents—match them. You'll find, Mme. Dache points out, that just a drop or two of perfume will intensify the fragrance of the toilet water you used earlier, and make both last much longer.

LILLY DACHE: "be subtle."

Church Group Honors Mrs. Douglas Nix

The Friendly Builders Class of the First Methodist Church was entertained delightfully in the home of Mrs. Douglas Nix, Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Melvin Little was co-hostess.

The business session was in charge of Mrs. T. H. Hudkins, who reported 16 hours for the club at Red Cross work, and 21 visits by the visiting committee.

The feature of the afternoon was the book review presented by Mrs. Ray Howard, who gave in a most interesting manner "The Robe," by Lloyd Douglas.

Musical Review Here Expected To Go Over In A Big Way Friday Night

Crazy Show, USO-Camp shows star musical revue, comes to the world's largest bombardier school for two engagements Friday night, April 30.

Anything can happen in the show which was designed with all the emphasis on goofiness—and in this one, everything goes. The comedians joke, the singers make with the jokes, the dancers ad-lib and the gag men dance.

Ben Moore, who is definitely of the Milton Berle school of comedians, is master of ceremonies for the show. His delivery is smooth and glib and he keeps the show moving right down the stage with effortless style that goes over with a bang.

Wilbur Hall and Renie and Eddie Hanley also double in brass in the laugh section of Crazy Show. Hall and Renie, headline comedy duo, who sing and play a variety of musical instruments, are a miniature musical comedy show in themselves. Eddie Hanley, a very talented dramatic comedian, is sure-fire.

The show will be free to all personnel at the bombardier college and free transportation will be available from the Post Exchange.

Mrs. Pemberton Is Club Hostess
The Bluebonnet Club was delightfully entertained Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Brooks Pemberton, Country Club Drive, when a variety of spring blossoms adorned the rooms, and needlework featured.

Members present were: Mesdames F. E. Ingham, W. A. Black, D. W. Brunson, J. F. Carver, Laura Wright, M. L. Wyatt, and Mary S. Ray and special guests were Mrs. S. T. Cole, Mrs. Henry Butler, and Mrs. Middleton, daughter of the hostess.

Officers of the club for the coming year include: Mrs. Ingham, president; Mrs. Wyatt, vice president; Mrs. Ray, secretary, and Mrs. Black, assistant secretary.

The next meeting is scheduled to be with Mrs. Ray.

DARK JUNGLES

BY JOHN C. FLEMING & LOIS EBY

CHIEF'S WELCOME

CHAPTER XXIII
BARRY woke heavy-headed and listless to the dismal sound of an early thunder shower.

'Good!' cried Barry. 'Then in a couple of days we'll be ready for our call on Moncha Suma. If we just come out all right with the old bird—'

'You'll come out all right, I know you will,' Lila murmured, her smile deep and assured.

Barry squeezed her hand gratefully. 'You're a good sport, Lila.'

The slashing rain stopped abruptly, as though it had been turned off. Steam rose from the hot ground of the clearing.

'What is it?' Barry was watching them curiously. 'It sounds like they're chanting.'

'Let them chant,' said Lila. She rose from the table and pulled him toward the estancia door.

But Barry's gaze was still on the native demonstration. 'Wonder what's up?' When she refused to go with him, he set out across the clearing alone.

Barry made his way to the door of the hut. He stepped across the threshold and halted in amazement.

On a rough table in the steaming hut, there were two tubs of water. As a wiry little Indian and his moaning wife looked on in stolid suffering, Allison dipped a tiny black baby first in one tub and then in the other!

'What on earth is going on here?' cried Barry.

Allison glanced over her shoulder. There was a look of frenzied absorption on her face. 'Con-convulsions,' she said briefly. 'I had 'em when I was a baby.'

Barry strode up to her. The tiny black limbs of the child in her arms were twisting in strange contortions. 'What are you doing with it?' he cried, alarmed.

'Hot water—cold water,' Allison snapped lowering the small black body into the other tub. 'My nurse used to do it to me. Bring me that kettle on the stove!'

Barry brought it and poured steaming water into the hot tub. 'Hot as the trinket can stand it without blistering,' Allison ordered. She went on dipping. The Indian woman's moans continued, and the low chanting came from outside.

Cold apprehension rose in Barry. The crazy little dabbler was playing with fire this time. What imp of Satan had tempted her to tinker with the life of an Indian child? They'd blame her if it died. And it looked right now as if that's just what it was doing.

The Indian woman's moans rose shrilly.

Allison's white little jaw tightened.

'Hotter,' she whispered to Barry through clenched teeth. 'Hotter still.' Only he could hear the desperation in her muted tones as she went on dipping with feverish speed, not breathing—back—forth—back—forth.

All at once the stiffened little body relaxed. It was the death spasm.

But no. The glazed eyes twitched. The arms and legs began to nestle normally in the circle of Allison's arms. The baby gave a choking whimper!

Barry took his first deep breath as he went back across the clearing with Allison.

'Beginner's luck,' he told her. 'You'll be the miracle woman to them now. But I wouldn't try that again.'

Allison looked up at him. Her eyes were wide with piteous fear and she was trembling all over. 'Why did I stick my big foot in?' she whispered. 'What if—what if—?'

Barry whooped with amusement. 'You're the battiest little screwball,' he told her. 'Your scare reflex is wired in wrong. It always begins to twitch after the danger instead of before!'

As they neared the house they saw Lila on the shaded veranda talking to a half-naked Indian. She called to Barry in a voice of controlled excitement.

'He says he's a Quiche.' Barry's laughter died. His throat constricted with shock. He took the veranda stairs three at a time, cursing himself for going without his gun.

The tall, dark Indian gave him a piercing look. 'You Mis-tair Fielding?'

Barry nodded. With a swift movement, the Indian reached out a long brown arm and opened his fingers. A folded paper lay in the dark palm.

Barry opened it and read it. It said in a painstaking, flowing script.

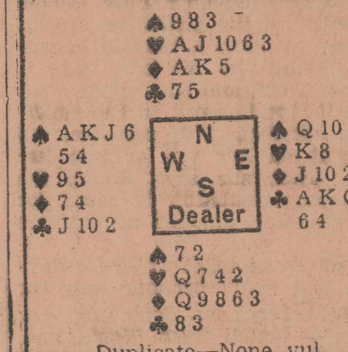

'Will you return to my house now to talk of the mines?' It was signed by the Chief of the Quiches!

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney America's Card Authority

If East and West had reached a contract of four spades on the hand shown today, there would be nothing to write about, but getting into the wrong contracts makes bridge interesting.

Duplicate—None vul. South West North East Pass Pass 1 NT 2 2 Pass 3 NT Opening—2 30 the partnership bridge comes in. Let us say that South opens the deuce of hearts. Should North play the ten? I do not think so.

The opening of the deuce shows that South holds three or four hearts with an honor. That honor may be the king—East may have bid no trump with three hearts to the queen.

Therefore, North's correct play is to go up with the ace. Then he should lay down the king of diamonds, telling his partner that he holds the diamond ace for the purpose of re-entry, in case East attempts to block the heart suit.

South will shout for the continuation of the diamond suit by paying the nine-spot on the king. North will then play the ace of diamonds, and he will get the three from South.

Thus, even with a heart opening, the declarer loses the first six tricks. If North ducks the first heart, East will cash six club tricks and six spade tricks, making a grand slam.

Midland Bombardier School Needs Hundreds Of Old Alarm Clocks Now

The Midland AAF Bombardier School needs old alarm clocks. That was the request of Col. John P. Kenny, the commanding officer, as he revealed a new technique of bombardier instruction which has been developed and now is in full swing here.

Super-size models of bombing devices which will save approximately 200,000 hours of instruction time a year now are being constructed in the new training aids department of the Bombardier School here in sufficient quantity to supply every bombardier school in the country, Colonel Kenny said.

To construct the intricate parts of these models, he declared, hundreds of old alarm clocks are needed. "Anyone who can give us an old worn out clock will be playing an extremely vital part in the training of the 'Hell from Heaven Men,'" Colonel Kenny pointed out.

The clocks may be left at the Midland Chamber of Commerce office. Large Scale Models The models being constructed by the Bombardier School here include a fifteen-foot working mock-up of the famous Norden bombsight, as well as large scale models of the Pitot tube, air speed indicator, pilot direction indicator, and other complex instruments which it is vitally important for the bombardiers to understand thoroughly.

"The mock-up of the bombsight alone," he said, "is one of the most important developments in the entire bombardier training program. Not only does it save precious hours of training time, but it permits clear, accurate instruction in the operation and maintenance of the bombsight."

"Reports from the fighting fronts have proved again and again how extremely important it is for the bombardier to have a thorough understanding of the operation and general maintenance of his bombsight," Colonel Kenny said. "Now, through the use of these oversize models, we are able in a few hours to school a bombardier in the complex mechanism of the bombsight with a clarity and thoroughness previously impossible."

Colonel Kenny said the school here will not only provide the complex models for every bombardier school in the country, but also will supply special diagrams and a series of 180 charts which will so simplify bombardier instruction that "a man who has never seen the sight before can, after a study of the charts, diagrams, texts and models, get sufficient background to teach its operation thoroughly and accurately."

These comprehensive charts, texts and graphs, which will soon be in use along with the models at bombardier schools, are being prepared here under the direction of Colonel Kenny, a pioneer in the development of bombardier training. Col. John D. Ryan, director of training, and Capt. William L. Richards, director of ground school.

The models have been developed and built by Lieut. Joseph J. Chopp, a former professional magician, and he now supervises the staff which is producing the almost magic devices for Army Air Forces schools.

A native of South Range, Mich., Lieutenant Chopp was commissioned last summer to be a ground school instructor of student bombardiers. As a preliminary he took the entire bombardier's course to acquire a full understanding of the problems. "We ran into many difficulties in explaining the mechanics of the bombsight to cadets," Lieutenant Chopp said. "It takes several hours to take apart and several more to assemble. By the time you had it taken to a point where you could explain the part you wanted, half the day was gone. Besides, the sight has so many tiny parts that it is impossible to give a room full of students a clear picture of the subject."

The result was that Lieutenant Chopp set to work to build a model bombsight big enough to demonstrate its workings to a large class. In three months he had completed the job—a model that is complete in all details. "In fact," he says, "you could bomb with it if you had an airplane big enough."

Lewis Protests --

(Continued from Page 1) The anthracite contract also expires Friday, and New York conferees on this related dispute delayed resuming their meetings until after the UMW policy group has met.

As expressed by F. A. Norman, president of a local union in the Fayette (Penn.) field, this is the way the miners feel about it: "If President Roosevelt came down to this patch himself and told these men to go back to work without an agreement, without a contract, they'd tell him: 'You go back and get an order from John L. Lewis. Then we'll go back to work.'"

Deadline Set For the question of whether Saturday will see the nation's soft coal industry still shoveling fuel into the fires of war production seems strictly up to the head of the nation's 550,000 United Mine Workers and both the soft and hard coal fields.

President Roosevelt, Thursday told Lewis that all strikes must stop by 10 a. m. Saturday or he will "use all the power vested in me as President and as commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy to protect the national interest."

Climaxing a quarrel over renewing a key wage contract, a nationwide shutdown impends Friday mid-night—Lewis has said his mine workers "will not trespass" on company property thereafter. Unsanctioned walkouts already have felled 450,000 soft coal miners of taken nearly one sixth of the effort and the rest reportedly are ready to follow the leader's work stoppage call.

Meat Point --

(Continued from Page 1) Friday night, and minor changes in the canned goods point values also may be announced over the weekend. Since the changes take place during the weekend that bridges the April and May meat stamps, the only valid stamps Saturday will be the E stamps become valid, along with the F stamps, however, the F stamps become valid, along with the E's, which will remain good until the end of the month.

Another change was to exempt from rationing bouillon cubes and meat extracts or concentrates. Canned bulk sausage and canned Vienna sausage came down a point. Permission was granted butchers to include in hamburger "beef of round and skirts" as well as other scraps and discards.

Commenting on the unchanged status of sausage (except minor changes on types containing less than 50 per cent meat), OPA said the over-abundance of sausage on the market was due to overproduction and not to abnormally low public demand. A press statement said any cut in sausage point values would merely encourage diversion of regular meat to sausage.

Wool

BOSTON—(AP)—(USDA)—Sales of spot Australian staple fine wool waxes made Friday at an out-of-bon clean price of $1.10 and half-blood staple at $1.05, same basis. Sorted mohair of 32 grade was sold for future delivery at 95 cents. Spot half-blood Montevideo grease wools were sold at 43 cents in bond.

Roberts Baby Burial Scheduled Friday

Funeral services were to be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the infant baby of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Roberts. The Rev. Father John J. O'Connell, of the Catholic Church, was to have charge of the services. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery under direction of Bar-Fow Funeral Home.

Former MAAFBS Crew Bombs Ice Jam In Canada

There is a first time for every thing and bombardiers from the Midland Army Bombardier School are grabbing off a large share of "firsts" throughout the world today. Such is the case revealed in a news item received at the bombardier school.

For the first time in history, the quiet solitude of Canada's peaceful northland was shattered by the crash of exploding aerial bombs as a tactical aircraft of the U. S. Army Air Forces made two separate attacks on ice jams in the Athabasca River near Fort McMurray, where the backed-up waters were creating flood conditions. Mission Is Success

To Second Lt. Robert A. Hoggett, bombardier, and his crew, all of whom formerly were stationed at the Midland Bombardier School, goes the honor of this first "peaceful" mission in Canada. Other members of the crew were First Lt. Arthur D. Rhodes, pilot; Flight Officer Stephen Davis, co-pilot; and Staff Sgt. Olen St. John, crew chief.

The crew of the medium bomber was diverted for the ice-bombing mission while on a training flight from the bombardier school. They reported direct hits on the ice jam in both attacks. The bombing of the ice jam was carried out by permission of the Canadian government at the request of Brig. Gen. J. A. O'Connor, officer commanding the Northwest Service Command of the U. S. Army Engineers, with headquarters at Whitehouse in the Yukon.

Around Town

Recent arrivals in Midland include twins at the A. C. Caswell farm north of town, but Caswell, manager of the furniture department at the Midland Hardware Company, is not passing on cigars. The twins—a boy and a girl—were born to a Durham heifer.

Caswell, who raises cattle as a hobby, said he didn't remember any other instance when a heifer gave birth to twins. He has 14 head of cattle on his farm.

Fashion Notes Among those draped in new suits this week were Joe Mims, county attorney, and Frank Monroe, school superintendent. At least they looked like new suits.

There's plenty of bustle on downtown streets before sunrise, every morning, an indication that many Midland people are taking the old adage, "Early to bed—early to rise," seriously. Among pre-dawners the other day were Mrs. Bertha Johnson, who apparently had a before-breakfast customer at the American Beauty Shop, and Ralph Barron, seen sipping coffee in a cafe. Barron is a great "Red Rider" comic strip fan.

Favorites In Kentucky Derby Troubled With Aches, Pains

LOUISVILLE, KY. —(AP)—A field of 12 three-year-olds was entered Friday to run in Saturday's 69th Kentucky Derby, but there was still some doubt over the highly-regarded Ocean Wave would get to the post.

LOUISVILLE —(AP)—They've been calling this the "Street Car Derby" and the "Catch Count Fleet" derby around here for weeks but if this Saturday's scramble isn't a natural for the "Bunion Derby" then there's plenty of bourbon in Derbytown.

Which there isn't.

For, giving this 69th Kentucky Derby field a quick run-down, as the entry box opened Friday morning to settle the whole thing, you find the top two favorites and one of the choicest of the other hay-stokers troubled with foot aches and pains enough to drive a chorus line out of business.

Just take the top hay-stoker of the lot—Count Fleet. Twelve days ago he won the Wood Memorial after being all but cut down like a weed in a victory garden at the gate. Next there is Ocean Wave, second choice to the Count in the derby. He won the blue grass stakes nine days ago with a cracked heel. Then he waltzed in with the derby trial mile by nine lengths with the same ailment, only that time it was a little tougher to take.

Next, there is Slide Rule, who pulled up sore after a workout three weeks ago.

Count Fleet's left hind leg is coming around like the second trip on a merry-go-round. Even Trainer Don Cameron isn't worrying about that any longer.

Ocean Wave, on the other hand, is a horse from a different garage. "He's 50 per cent better," Trainer Dean Jones says.

VanderMeer Has Edge Over Major League Pitchers

By Judson Bailey
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitching has been the prize product of the major leagues this spring and scintillating performances have been piled one on top of another. But there would be no argument if the question were asked, "Who is the outstanding hurler to date?"

The answer is Lefty John Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds.

The New Jersey Dutchman, slated for early induction, has gone to the mound three times in eight days, pitched 29 innings and allowed only two runs and 12 hits.

Defeats Pirates

Thursday he turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-1 on six hits. He had a shutout till the ninth, when the Bucs finally bunched three blows for a run.

This triumph kept the Reds tied with the Cards for third place in the senior circuit as St. Louis slipped over a 4-3 twelve-inning conquest of the Chicago Cubs.

The Brooklyn Dodgers completed a sweep of their series with the Phillies on the gift of two unearned runs for a 4-3 victory.

The Boston Braves vaulted into second place back of the Dodgers by beating the New York Giants 5-2 behind the six-hit hurling of Charley (Red) Barrett.

Yanks Beat Red Sox

In the American League the New York Yankees were forced into twelve innings by the Boston Red Sox, but won 7-3 with a final four-run blast in which Nick Etten and John Lindell each singled with the bases loaded.

The Yankees' path to another pennant was smoothed considerably Thursday when rookie shortstop George Stinnett was rejected at the Hartford, Conn., induction center because of stomach ulcers.

The Washington Senators maintained their grasp on third place with a 5-1 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics.

In the other game of the day the Detroit Tigers also were outbut beat the St. Louis Browns 3-2. Virgil Trucks held the Browns to four safeties.

Continuation Of College Athletics Seems Assured

CHICAGO —(AP)—The continuation of college athletics is more certain now than it was a year ago, Major John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Western Conference, declared Friday.

Griffith said he based his conclusions on several generally known facts and others which he was not at liberty to disclose.

"For one thing," he said, "the public knows now that our college athletic facilities designed for peacetime can be of value to the war effort.

Conditioning Helps

"These boys say their sports conditioning enables them to get out of tight places alive and is helpful to them in actual fighting."

Griffith said that all Western Conference schools, as well as Notre Dame and several other midwest independents, are making sure their spring sports programs go through.

He declared that although few of the nine football-playing Big Ten members have any idea of what riders will be available by next fall, they intend to engage in the fullest possible schedule of games.

Aggie Football Team Short On Lettermen

COLLEGE STATION —(AP)—Speaking of turnovers, take the Texas Aggie football prospects.

Only three lettermen remain at A. and M. due to calls to the service. They are Barney Welch, back, and Hank Feldberg and Walter Steymann, tackles.

NINE MEN KILLED IN CRASH AT HARLINGEN

HARLINGEN —(AP)—A medium bomber crashed and burned in a field a mile northwest of the Harlingen Army Gunnery School Thursday, killing nine members of the crew.

The school's public relations office said the craft was approaching the air base for a landing after a routine gunnery flight over the Gulf of Mexico.

Conference Ball Championship Is Nearing Decision

COLLEGE STATION —(AP)—The Southwest Conference baseball championship went on the line Friday when Texas meets Texas A. and M. in the first of a two-game series.

Each club has lost one game while winning five and will have to take both titles to grab the title.

Defending champion A. and M. planned to use J. B. (Smokey) Carden on the mound Friday and Texas was to rely on Jim Collins, who beat the Aggies at Austin the first time the teams met this season.

Collins and Grady Hatton, infield star, were to have gone into the service last week but enlisted reserve corps orders did not arrive, so they will be able to play in Texas' final games.

Saturday Luke Kent is due to hurl for the Longhorns with Lefty Johnny Shuford working for A. and M.

The bullet entered the palm of Bromwich's hand and narrowly missed his temple. The wound is not serious.
