

Church and Sunday School

First Baptist Church
 Sunday School at 9:45.
 Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.
 All B. Y. P. U.'s meet at 6:30 p. m.
 The general interest in many of the Sunday School classes is very encouraging. Many are starting in with the determination to be 100 per cent for the entire year. The average attendance for October was almost 300. That is good considering that we had two or three rainy Sundays.
 Next Sunday morning the sermon subject is "God's Bountiful Supply." There are many tests that come and our faith is sorely tried, but let us always remember that God will supply all our needs. Be sure to make your plans now to come to church and Sunday School next Sunday.
 W. H. Albertson.

Presbyterian Church
 Sunday November 14, 1926.
 Sunday School begins at 9:45 a. m. Church service each first and third Sunday at eleven a. m. and at seven o'clock in the evening.
 The Christian Endeavor meets each Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.
 Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.
 The public is most cordially invited to attend all services at this church.
 Last Sunday morning we had the pleasure of moving into our new building which has been under construction for some time. The attendance was large at both the Sunday School and church service. All seemed delighted at the prospect of much better equipment in the near future. The report of the building committee showed that up to the present no debt has been incurred. This report also showed that there is about $2000.00 needed to finish the interior of the building and add some new equipment. This offers a challenge to all Presbyterians and an invitation to all friends of the Presbyterian church to help meet this need. The building will be finished as fast as the necessary funds can be raised.

Business Men's Bible Class Gives Banquet.
 Tuesday night in the basement of the Baptist Church the Business Men's Bible class with their wives and sweet hearts gave a banquet to the entire class and a few invited guests. A two course luncheon was served and a splendid program was rendered which was loudly applauded.
 A. C. Roberts president of the class was chairman for the evening and the following program was well rendered. A reading by Mrs. Vaughn Bally, followed by a local quartet after which

Chas. C. Fouts of Rule made a short talk telling of how he enjoyed a visit to the smaller towns. Mrs. Harry Stalcup gave a reading followed by an interesting talk by W. P. Whitman of Abilene after which Mrs. R. J. Reynolds gave a toast to the husbands. Cas. M. Conner made a short talk after which Mrs. Albertson said a few words regarding the tables in the Sunday school rooms. The closing address was made by Rev. W. H. Albertson teacher of the class. His subject was well chosen and his remarks were brief but to the point. The benediction was said by Bro. W. P. Whitman and the guests departed to their homes with many kind remembrances of the evening. The ladies were given many compliments on the preparing and serving of the lunch.

ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF CLIFFORD REGRETFULLY

At a called meeting of the Board of City Development on Friday evening, 29th inst. F. N. Clifford, Secy. tendered his resignation, effective on the First day of November.

The resignation was regretfully accepted but as it was the wish of Mr. Clifford it was readily done. The Board feeling a certain debt of gratitude for the services rendered, it was not with any hesitation that their regrets were expressed and their appreciation of Mr. Clifford given.

Mr. Clifford has been with the Board and Fair Association for the past fifteen months. He has proven himself to be a bundle of energy supported by a foundation bubbling over with patience and good nature. He has been tireless in his efforts to put over or bring about such measures as his directors thought to be to the interest of his town and community. We are sure that he had the solid support of the board and his sincerity of purpose and integrity of heart we never heard assailed.

We think that with the free and open minded nature and other qualifications of Mr. Clifford his success in the South Texas City is assured. He and his family have made us good and dependable citizens and we commend them to the good people of Mercedes. They carry with them our good will and good wishes. We will be pleased to learn of their happy surroundings among the new people and may health and prosperity be theirs.

Sweet Home Lady Has Pneumonia
 Collie Cannon of Sweet Home is reported to be recovering from an attack of "Flu" and pneumonia. She is considerably improved at this time.

Thanks to Mr. Barnett.

A. B. Barnett living east of town called at this office early Saturday morning and left a lot of the finest turnips with the greens on them that it has been our pleasure to see this season. We thank Mr. Barnett for this kind remembrance. Corn bread and butter milk and good old turnip greens is a diet that is hard to beat for health and if we would eat a little more of this life giving food with the pot-licker added we would doubtless enjoy the life that is given us much better.

Nolan Bristow of Sweet Home who has been confined to his bed for several weeks on account of illness is reported to be improving. It is hoped that he will soon be up and about his work if nothing unexpected develops.

STEWART-WARNER Matched-Unit Radio

There's only one Matched-Unit Radio—the Stewart-Warner. Radio reception is admittedly most satisfactory when each unit of the radio—receiver, tubes, reproducer and accessories are matched to co-ordinate perfectly with each other. This perfect co-ordination of units is absolutely impossible when there has been no attempt made to match the various parts—or when each is the product of a different manufacturer.

You have been waiting for the kind of entertainment that Stewart-Warner Matched-Unit Radio will bring into your home. This you may now have at new attractive prices. Popular demand has made this possible.

SOCIETY and Club

Taylor Sherrill
wedding that united two of the most highly respected families in Haskell County was solemnized last Friday evening at eight o'clock in the auditorium of the First Church of Haskell when Miss Taylor and the beautiful and highly accomplished daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Taylor was united in marriage to Sherrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill. The guests were ushered to their seats by Misses Iola Taylor and Helen Harbison. Potpourri were grouped to the rear of the flower bedecked arch, beneath the ceremony was performed. The chrysanthemums were the flower of the occasion. At the appointed hour Mrs. W. Pace took her place at the altar and first played "Loves Dream" and then she accompanied Mrs. French as she sang, "I Love You" and remained at the piano and for Miss Gertrude Robinson of Cambridge as she sang, "Ruth" by Mrs. H. R. Jones was the member of the wedding party to and she supplanted Mrs. Pace at the piano and played the wedding march. These ladies were all beautifully gowned and all carried large, trimmed chrysanthemums with Miss Robinson's who carried a beautiful shower bouquet. Mrs. French played Lohengrin's Wedding March and the bridal party stood around the altar and then she sang the Flower Song as Rev. W. H. French read the impressive ring ceremony that was the original argument of the brother of the groom Lewis Sherrill. For the recessional Mrs. Jones used Mendelssohn's wedding march. It was a most beautiful and impressive ceremony enhanced by the chiming of the bell as the processional filed out of the church. The maid of honor was Miss Lois Earnest, the bridesmaids Misses Eunice Huckabee, Mary Long, Nettie McCollum, and two maids of honor, Mrs. Tom Davis and Mrs. R. W. Carothers of Rochester. All were handsomely gowned in the rainbow colors. The groom Mr. Richard Sherrill came in with his brother-in-law, Mr. Tom Davis and the bride came in on her father's arm, Dr. L. F. Taylor. She wore a lovely beaded georgette crepe over satin with a modish malle veil and was indeed a beautiful bride.

The little ring bearer was the bride's nephew, Master Tommie French Jr. and the flower girls, little Misses Martell Clifton of Haskell and Alma Joe Cole of Rule. A reception was held immediately at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Taylor for the bridal party and a few close friends when the wedding cake and punch was served. Miss Lucie Taylor was one of Haskell's most charming society girls, cultured, refined and an accomplished pianist and Richard Sherrill is all that a young man should be, studious, sober, ambitious and industrious, and the good will and wishes for prosperity and happiness go with this happy couple to their new home from hundreds of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill will take a short trip to Wichita Falls, Ft. Worth and Dallas after which they will be at home in Crowell where Mr. Sherrill has a responsible position with the Marland Oil Company.

Honoring Bride-Elect Miss Mary Long

One of the loveliest of the many pre-nuptial affairs honoring Miss Mary Long bride-elect was the party of last Thursday afternoon at three o'clock at the Magazine Club Library when three hostesses, Mesdames John W. Pace, John Oates and Miss Lois Earnest, presented the double compliment to Miss Long and a host of her friends by privileging the latter to shower her with beautiful and useful gifts. Baskets, bowls and table and wall vases of lovely yellow chrysanthemums were the major decorations carrying out a color theme. Mrs. F. T. Sanders met the guests at the door and packages were taken in charge by little Misses Frances Shook and Mary Loise Earnest of Rule, and the guests were introduced to members of the receiving line who were the hostesses, Mrs. W. H. Murchison, Miss Lucie Taylor, Mrs. C. D. Long, Mrs. Marion Shook, and members of the bridal party, Miss Mary Long, Miss Helen Harbison, Miss Nettie McCollum, Miss Eunice Huckabee, Miss Ermine Daugherty, and Mesdames Wayne Koonce, Tom French, Clayborn Payne Hill Oates, and Joe Broadus of Tyler. A very clever diversion was the Musical Romance, when intimate questions about the bride were asked, and answered by piano solo.

Mrs. Wayne Koonce then sang "Until" and then Mrs. Tom French, jauntily dressed as a Pirate brought in a chest of presents and sang the Pirate Song, and presented the treasures to the bride-to-be and afterward sang, "Queen of The Pirate's Heart". A magnificent display of gifts were then viewed by the guests who were later served a plate luncheon of cheese snacks, devil food cake, hot tea and a yellow basket of rain bow colored candies.

The Magazine Club.
The Magazine Club met in the regular business session Friday afternoon, with the president Mrs. Courtney Hunt presiding. Mrs. John Ellis was hostess and it seems the hostesses are trying to see which one can arrange the flowers most artistically. They were very beautiful Friday and especially the large basket of white chrysanthemums and tube roses furnished by Mrs. Boyd Reid. Mrs. Hunt was elected delegate to the State meeting which is in progress in Dallas now and Mrs. Murchison was elected alternate. After the business Mrs. H. M. Smith directed an interesting program on "Some Famous Elegies." Mrs. Hill Oates and C. L. Lewis sang Tennyson's Crossing the Bar with Mrs. Patterson at the piano. The roll call was that each member should memorize Gray's Elegy but only two or three did. Mrs. Hill Oates told of the Elegy and read part of it. Mrs. R. J. Earnest gave the introduction to Thomas Gray. Mrs. F. T. Sanders gave the story and picture of Steke Pegis the place that inspired the "Elegy." She also gave a talk on What the Artists are doing and what the Poets are doing today. Mrs. H. M. Smith read part of William Cullen Bryant's Thanatopsis and interpreted the poem. There was a good attendance.

Which Will You Have?

We had at the beginning of this cotton year, August 1, 1926, left over from preceding years 5,362,000 bales. We produced in 1926 17,454,000 bales. Total supply of cotton year 1926-27 22,816,000 bales.
The world used last year 15,000,000 bales and will probably use this year 15,250,000 bales.
This will leave on hand August 1, 1927 before next crop comes to market 7,566,000 bales.
If we reduce the crop of 1927 to 15,000,000 bales we still have about as much cotton as we now have and the price will still be low to the point of ruin.
More cotton means less money. Less cotton means more money. Which will you have? You can't have both.

DAUGHTER PAYS WITH BROKEN HEART FOR POMP AND VANITY OF MOTHER

Has a mother the right to sell her daughter to the highest bidder, that she might save herself the inconvenience of a lower social life than she had accustomed to?

These problems have troubled the minds of many women since time immemorial, and yet society moves on from century to century making the same mistakes, the same blunders that leave unhappiness in their wake.

In "The Price She Paid," a Columbia Production featuring Alma Rubens, Frank Mayo and an all-star supporting cast which comes to the Haskell Theatre this Friday, November the 12th.

It is the story of a young lady (Miss Rubens) who falls victim to a vain mother and insincere step-father, and is cast into the strange world of an undesirable husband. The life of gaiety that is part and parcel of youth's heritage is torn away from her and she finds herself in a world so different from the one she had always dreamed of.

The situations involved here call upon Miss Rubens' highest qualities for interpretation and her histrionic ability carries her through every delicate scene with rare effectiveness.

The supporting cast includes such able screen players as William Welch, Eugenia Besserer, Lloyd Whitlock, Freeman Wood and Wilfred Lucas.

Excess Optimism

Edsel Ford tells this story apropos of optimism: "A bald-headed man went into a barber shop and asked the barber if he had any good preparations for growing hair."

"Here, sir," said the barber, who was bald-headed himself, "is an excellent thing." He took a bottle of pink liquid from a shelf.

"All right," said the man, "I'll take the complete cure," said the man. "And he chuckled happily, looked round the shelves and added: "By the way, you might wrap me up one of those patent electric hair-curlers, too."

No Secrets to Making Perfect Cup of Coffee

Can Be Achieved By Following A Few Simple Rules Says Famous Cooking Expert

By Mildred Maddocks Bentley Formerly Director of Good Housekeeping Institute

What is the secret of first-rate coffee—the kind that starts the day right—that makes you feel "like a million dollars"?

Literally hundreds of women—and a surprising number of men—have asked me this question in one form or another. And it's an important one—for what can be more blighting to domestic happiness than a cup of muddy coffee or coffee improperly "creamed"?

Luckily there's no hidden secret about making and serving the perfect coffee—it's just a matter of minding your p's and q's and following a few simple directions.

Selection of Coffee

There are many excellent brands of coffee in the market—the choice of one of these is largely a matter of individual taste. But I do want to say that usually coffee in the bean retains its flavor longer than in the ground form—so, if possible, buy the whole beans and grind your coffee fresh for each meal.

The Coffee Pot

Connoisseurs maintain that coffee brewed in a metal pot has a less delicate flavor than in a container of glass, stone-ware or agate. Whatever kind of coffee pot you prefer—it should be scoured frequently and occasionally "boiled out" with water to which a pinch of baking soda has been added.

If a percolator is used, the pipe should be carefully washed every day with a brush to remove all scum from the preceding brew.

For drip coffee, if you do not have a special drip coffee pot, an ordinary one equipped with a double cheesecloth bag will serve the purpose.

The "Creaming"

This I consider quite as important as the actual brewing. Good coffee can so easily be spoiled by using cream of inferior quality or the "top of the bottle" if carelessly poured off. In my study of food habits, I am finding that every year more and more people prefer sweetened condensed milk in their coffee. You see this kind is twice as rich and creamy as ordinary milk and furthermore already contains sugar, thus serving the additional purpose of sweetening the coffee.

Now as to the actual methods of brewing. There are several and your choice is entirely a matter of individual taste. If the directions are carefully followed, any of the methods will yield the "perfect cup of coffee"—mellow in flavor, with a delicate, fragrant aroma, free from sediment and of a dark golden hue.

Bolled Coffee

Rinse the pot with hot water, put the coffee in the pot—one rounded tablespoon of medium-ground coffee to each cup of boiling water, with an additional spoon "for the pot." Add a little white of egg, or crushed egg shell and about one-fourth cup of cold water.

Percolated Coffee

Use one cup of finely-ground coffee to six cups of boiling water. Place the coffee in the strainer in the upper part of the pot and let the water bubble up through the tube, percolating through the coffee into the lower part, until the coffee is of the desired strength.

Drip Coffee

Heat the pot by rinsing in hot water, and wet the strainer. Measure carefully the coffee (finely-ground) allowing one rounded tablespoon to each cup of water.

Steeped Coffee

In making steeped coffee use one rounded tablespoon of coffee to each cup of water used, with an additional spoon "for the pot." Add cold water. Place over the fire and bring quickly to the boiling point.

Remember—the best coffee will lose its flavor if allowed to stand. Coffee should always be freshly made and served piping hot, as soon as it is brewed. If necessary to let stand, the pot should be tightly covered and the spout closed by stuffing with soft cloth or paper, so that none of the aroma and flavor may be lost.

THOSE ALKALI SPOTS IN COTTON FIELDS

Have you noticed the way they are spreading from year to year, especially in wet years.

They will continue to spread if the land is kept in cotton from year to year.

The cause is not "alkali." It is root rot, which is a fungus that sucks the life from the roots. The same fungus attacks the roots of certain weeds.

The only remedy is to change from cotton to some other crop, keep the weeds down and starve out the fungus.

Land that was heavily infested with "alkali spots" or root rot in 1926 should be planted in 1927 to corn or small grain or grain sorghum.

The only way to control "alkali" spots, or root rot is to rotate and keep down the weeds.

ARMISTICE

Eight years of peace—eight prosperous, busy years have sped by since the signing of that historic document which marked and created the first Armistice Day.

"The War to end all War" had come to a glorious and triumphant end. We had won!

Well, we did win. We won the war. We won our physical victories. And we won some moral victories, too, we purged ourselves of any faintest suspicion that Twentieth Century "commercialism" had deadened the souls of men to the deep tuned call of truth and honor and decency.

But eight years have taught us that we did not win all we first believed we had won. The monsters of hate and greed and envy and mean suspicion which we thought to have buried deep beneath the thunder of the guns at Chateau Thierry, at St. Mihiel, at the Argonne, again reared their ugly heads to spew their venom upon the striving nations of the earth, to sow the dragon's teeth of discord and discontent.

And we came to find, in the end, that out of the reek of France and Flanders we had brought not only a great reward, but a great and continuing obligation.

"To you, from falling hands, we throw the Torch."

Our sons and our brothers and our buddies, who sleep today beneath the little white crosses, or bear upon their bodies the unfading scars of the great conflict, will have suffered and died in vain unless on this Armistice Day of 1926, and on those others yet to follow, we re-dedicate our strength and our minds and our lives to a re-affirmation of those principles for which they fought.

Cheese in the Plural
Dr. Frank Vizetelly, editor of Funk & Wagnall, says that "The plural of cheese is cheeses. It dates from 1300, and may be found in Langland's 'Vision of Piers Plowman'—'Twey grene cheeses.' The plural is used in instances where various varieties are considered, or numbers are specified: 'The cheesemonger stocks cheeses of all types—American, Erie, Camembert, Cheddar, Dutch, Edam and many others.' 'The farmer had 50 cheeses in his cheeseroom.' In speaking of the article in its attributive sense or referring to it in bulk, the singular form of the word is correct, thus: 'Cheese sandwiches'; 'great quantities of cheese'; 'the cheese market.'"

Be Slow in Judgment
We are not always aware of the scars and we don't see the wounds of many a life we are tempted to condemn. If we knew all we might forgive all. We think we know, and discover that much has been hidden from us. Had we the trials of some it is quite possible that our achievements would be fewer than theirs.
There may be a score of unpleasant things about a man, but so long as there is one good feature it is worth our while to find it. Try for one week to put the one good fact of another's life by the side of the many things which you dislike and you will be surprised how happy you'll be.
There is still far more good in the world than badness. As we look round we can find many a gem in rough places and many a flower among the weeds.—London Tit-Bits.

AGRICULTURE HAS "FAIR" YEAR
The gross financial returns to agriculture probably will not be far from last year's figures, the Department of Agriculture sums up the agricultural situation in its monthly report issued November 4th.

"Spring wheat and cotton are the dark spots in the picture this fall, and the apple industry may also be noted as sharply depressed by low prices," the report says.
"Except for some depression in the territory of these crops, however, the season winds up with about average crop yields, and a probability of gross financial returns not far from last year's figures."
Discussing the cotton situation, the department says:
"The fall in cotton prices now fills the headlines. Predictions of the same last spring were given scant notice. For four years the growers of cotton have been doing just what other producers do when business is profitable—increasing production."
"In the last four years the South has turned out approximately 50,000,000 bales of cotton. During forty consecutive months beginning July, 1922, the average farm price of cotton never went below 20 cents a pound and much of that time it exceeded 25 cents. Four good cotton crops sold well enough so that growers increased their acreage from 30,000,000 in 1921 to 47,000,000 acres this year."

"The South is not without resources for meeting the present situation and rarely have the farm and business leaders of any large region met an emergency in so united and comprehensive a fashion. Cotton is good property. The consuming world can and will use a lot of it this year."
Up in the spring wheat country there is a strip of territory extending from Central North Dakota through South Dakota to central Nebraska, the report says, where drought and bad weather cut the crops and for which a lean winter looms ahead. South Dakota showed the lowest general crop condition in the country last month, only 55 per cent of average. Other local areas of flood, drought or frost damage claim some attention but they are less extensive.
Hog cholera, which "is showing up with rather serious losses in some counties of Illinois and Iowa," is giving producers considerable concern, although, it is pointed out, "general underlying conditions in the Corn Belt are better than last year."
"Corn prices are slightly higher but still low enough to encourage feeders. Hog prices stay relatively high and reports indicate a materially larger crop of pigs in prospect this fall. The small 1925 crop of hogs, now in pack, cost the packers nearly $1,200,000,000. It brought producers more money than in any year excepting the wartime inflation years and measured in terms of corn prices during the marketing season was probably the most profitable ever marketed."
The department's general index of purchasing power of farm products, in terms of non-agricultural commodities remained at 83 for September, the same as in August, the five pre-war years being considered as 100.

COOPERATION OF PUBLIC IS ASKED IN PREPARING CHRISTMAS MAIL

We are publishing by the request of Post Master Jno. T. Wilson of Haskell the following direction from the Postal Department at Washington which will read carefully and followed closely will help the local post office in the congested Christmas rush and be of real service to each one who mail a Christmas package to a relative or a friend. Clip this out and read it before mailing your packages.

POSTAGE—Prepay postage fully on all mail matter.

ADDRESSES—Address all mail matter plainly and completely in ink, giving street address or box or rural route number whenever possible. Place sender's return card in upper left corner of which case copy of the address and return card should be placed inside the parcel for identification if tag is lost.

PACKING AND WRAPPING—Pack articles carefully in strong, durable containers. Wrap parcels securely, but do not seal them except when bearing a printed or indorsement reading "Contents. Merchandise. Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for inspection if necessary." together with name and address of sender, as sealed parcels not so labeled or indorsed in printing are subject to postage at the letter rate.

LIMIT OF WEIGHT AND SIZE—Parcels may not exceed 84 inches in length and girth combined nor weigh more than 70 pounds if for delivery within the first, second, or third zone, or 50 pounds in any other zone.

PERMISSIBLE ADDITIONS AND INCLOSURES—Parcels may be marked "Do not open until Christmas," this being permitted in order to encourage early mailing.

Written greetings such as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With best wishes," and names, numbers, or symbols for the purpose of description may be inclosed with third or fourth class (parcel-post) mail. Books may bear simple dedicatory inscriptions not of a personal nature. Other written additions subject parcels to letter postage.

Do not inclose letters in parcels, as doing so would subject entire parcels to letter postage. Communications prepaid at the first-class rate may be sent with parcels prepaid at the third or fourth class rate by securely attaching the envelopes containing the letters or other written matter to the outside of parcels. (See art. 55, p 15, July 1926, Postal Guide.)

SEALS—Christmas seals or stickers should not be placed on the address side of mail.

INSURANCE—Valuable parcels should be insured.

WHERE TO MAIL PARCELS—Uninsured parcels 8 ounces or less in weight may be mailed in street letter or package boxes, at all classified stations and branches, and such numbered stations as are designated to receive parcels. Parcels weighing over 8 ounces can not be mailed in street boxes, but must be taken to the main post office or classified station or branch. Parcels containing meat, food products, cut flowers, or other perishable matter should be mailed only at the main post office or one of the large classified stations.

Recklessness and Regulation

Only a relatively small per cent of automobile drivers are careless.

But they are sufficient in number to make driving on the highways hazardous. On a Sunday or a holiday many people refrain from driving because of the hazard. It is neither fair nor is it necessary that careless drivers should drive others off the highway, to which and on which everyone has an equal right.

Automobiles are safe, highways are safe and driving practices must be made safe.

An oil company operating several hundred trucks, has not had a collision or accident on the highways or at railroad grade crossings for a number of years although during that time its trucks crossed railroad tracks more than 31,000,000 times.

It selects its drivers with proper care, instructs them in safe practices and gives them to understand that failure to stop, look and listen before crossing a railroad track, or failure properly to observe traffic rules and safe practices on the highways, will result in dismissal from the service.

It logically follows that public regulation of the same character would accomplish a like result, and with automobiles increasing in number, with proportional increase in congestion and hazard of accident, the point has been reached and the time has arrived for affirmative legislative action in this regard.

But compulsory automobile insurance is not the solution; it will not reduce accidents; it will tend to increase them by removing the last vestige of personal responsibility from persons already careless.

Let's Learn It By Heart

When every farmer in the South shall eat bread from his own fields and meat from his own pastures, and disturbed by no creditor and enslaved by no debt, shall sit among his teeming gardens and orchards and vineyards and dairies and barnyards, pitching his crops in his own wisdom and growing them in independence, making cotton his clean surplus and selling it in his own time and in his chosen market and not at a master's bidding—getting his pay in cash and not in a receipted mortgage that discharges his debt but does not restore his freedom—then shall we be breaking the fullness of our day.—Henry W. Grady.

GOING AWAY FROM HOME TO TRADE

A merchant showed me yesterday a copy of the New York Times in which there was an article condemning New York people for going to Paris and London to do their trading, instead of buying at home. I have heard about our people (some of them) going to Dallas to buy merchandise that could be had cheaper in Marshall. I have seen where Dallas people went to St. Louis and Kansas City to trade. I have heard that the high bloods in the two Missouri cities can't find anything good enough for them in their home towns and they thereupon go to Chicago and New York and pay a little more for the same goods than if bought at the store around the corner, but I always supposed the silly game stopped at New York. What is bothering me now is where do the exclusive ones of London and Paris go.

This is from the Marshall Morning Messenger and we might add that if it is shoes, Editor Homer M. Price is talking about, we take it that the poor folks in London and Paris have to go barefooted.—Clarksville Times.

Hallowe'en Party.

Plainview School to Start Nov. 15

Monday November 15 the Plainview school will start its 1926-27 term. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Barb will be the teachers. All the parents and children are looking forward for a good term of school.

Midway School Started Nov. 1.

The Midway School began its term Monday morning November the 1st with about fifty pupils enrolled. Some could not start on account of the cotton picking being late, but more will start in later. The teachers for this term are principal Mrs. Spencer Linn and Verna Pitman, Miss Cole and Miss Ham. A great term of school is expected for 1926-27.

Mesdames J. U. Fields, Courtney Hunt, W. H. Murchison and F. T. Sanders left last Sunday for Dallas to attend the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Convention that convenes in that city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weinert of Weinert were in attendance upon the Taylor-Sherrill wedding last Friday evening.

Keep Your Mouth Turned Up.

Let's keep the corners of our mouths turned up! The business man who stands in his store and talks in a depressed way about the price of cotton will have the same effect on his trade as the thoughtless neighbor who says to the sick friend, "Goodness gracious, but you sure must be sick! All the people I ever saw who looked like you do, died." If we want to ruin business and stop the community dollars from circulating lets pull long faces and talk about how rotten business is and it will pretty soon be ready to bury. Turn the corners of your mouth up! Kid yourself and you'll feel better—and so will every body else.—Exchange.

School Starts at Bunker Hill

The school term began November 1st at Bunker Hill, with fairly good attendance. Mr. W. C. McKenzie, Miss Vinita and Vesta Baker are the teachers. With these experienced teachers and the new building they are looking forward to a banner term of school.

The Rose school opened on last Monday morning and Principal Herman Thompson, of Stamford, Miss Vera Walker of Sagerton and Miss Johnnie Morgan of Haskell will be the incumbents for the ensuing year.

Mrs. D. L. Stephens, of Anson, Program Chairman of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Convention was a guest of Mrs. Fields last Friday.
