Pantelleria Again Bombed By Allies

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—(P)—Allied air forces, steadily whittling away at Axis resistance on the Mediterranean outposts, have executed new air assaults on bomb-scarred Pantelleria and Sicily in connection with a scouting raid by British commandos against Lampedusa, it was announced Thursday.

Striking in darkness from the sea Monday night, the commandos tested the defenses of Lampedusa, tiny Italian prison isle 80 miles south of the invasion stepping stone of Pantelleria, and retired with light casualties after completing their mission, a headquarters communique said.

Nazi Police Tighten Grip

STOCKHOLM —(P)—Heinrich Himmler's police are tightening their grip on Germany because of sagging morale, reliable reports coming out of Germany indicated Thursday, and for this reason checkers here believe a crack-up in Germany is unlikely until absolute military collapse also is at hand.

Supplementing the stories that leak out of Germany is the plain fact that Nazi leaders and party orators are stamping the country, setting up a strange screen of appeals for faith in victory and threats that "weak" Germans will be purged.

Behind this screen the Gestapo head was at work with ruthless efficiency, pointing up the oratory of Paul Joseph Goebbels and Labor Front Leader Robert Ley; Josef Wagner, the gauleiter for Alsace, and Erich Koch, the Nazi commissioner for the Ukraine.

Sources here said that "The Gestapo has its worries: for the first time signs of organized opposition to the Nazis, in Austria for example, are appearing; for the first time, also, the arming of such opposition is no problem. Three kilograms of coffee (about 6½ pounds) is worth a machine-gun in a country pinched for food, such as is Germany.

"It is even easier in occupied lands," the sources added. "Moreover, the Nazis' enemies are shooting down Gestapo agents with increasing frequency. Garbed as SS men, they are even known to have invaded Gestapo offices."

Air Battles On Russian Fronts Are Increasing

MOSCOW —(P)—Increasingly vigorous air battles were reported Thursday from widely separated points of the front as the German air force and the Soviet plane fleet continued to fight it out in a prelude to a 1943 land offensive.

Dispatches from Bataisk, 10 miles south of Rostov, disclosed that air fighting had flared up again in the Don River Valley. The vicinity of the city and the mud flats of the Don have become a cemetery for downed Junkers and Heinkel planes, it was reported.

In German raids on the Volkhov front 60 miles southeast of Leningrad, 24 German planes were reported shot down. From 150 to 160 German planes were declared destroyed in Russian bombing raids on German airdromes Tuesday night. The Russians said they lost 26 planes in the engagements.

Land action played a minor role. The Soviet midnight communique said about 200 Germans were killed and guns, observation posts and an ammunition dump were smashed on the Smolensk front, while German positions were bombarded and a company of Germans was killed in fighting around Lisichansk.

Two companies of enemy infantry were slain, 21 blockhouses and dugouts were destroyed, and two ammunition dumps were blown up on the Leningrad front, the war bulletin said.

Plans Being Drawn For Rankin Road Work

State Highway Department officials are busy on plans for paving 12 miles of the Rankin road south from Midland and hope to get work started on this project in the near future.

The paving of 12 miles of the road has been authorized by the State Highway Department and funds have been allocated for the work.

War Ration Book 3 Applications Must Be Filed Thursday

File your application for War Ration Book No. 3 Thursday and avoid difficulties. That was the warning from federal officials. Thursday is the deadline for mailing the applications to OPA headquarters in Dallas, and many citizens have not made the necessary filing.

Application forms may be obtained at the Postoffice.

Applications which are not postmarked Thursday will be returned to the senders, Postmaster Allen Tolbert said. That is his instruction. Then the person must take the matter up with OPA officials in Dallas.

The Midland OPA office has not been instructed to receive delinquent applications and is too busy with its regular duties to handle applications from persons who neglected to mail them before Thursday night. The applications for War Ration Book 3 will be processed in Dallas and not in Midland.

Child Drowns In Small Pond

Bobby Kraus, 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krause of Odessa, drowned about 7 p. m. Wednesday in a small pond on the Walter Krieger farm about eight miles southeast of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Krause and the youth were visiting on the farm. The child apparently toddled into the pool of water near a windmill while trying to catch some ducks.

On finding the child in the water, his parents rushed him to a Midland hospital, but he was dead when they arrived.

Besides his parents, the boy is survived by a 6-month old sister, Marilyn. Krause is employed by the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Funeral services for the child will be held in Odessa. The body was taken to that city Wednesday night. Ellis Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements here.

Darby Announces New Wildcat For Dawson County

New wildcat for Southwestern Dawson County was announced Thursday when Darby Petroleum Corporation of Tulsa announced it is making contract with the Arrow Drilling Company, also of Tulsa, to drill a 5,500-foot test 12 miles southwest of Lamesa.

The test is Darby's No. 1 Mrs. Ann A. Hargrave, and location will be staked 440 feet out of the southwest corner of labor 16, league 268, Moore County school land. Darby will start the well on or before July 15.

Allan Hargrave, Midland independent oil operator, assembled a block of approximately 18,000 acres in the area, receiving some acreage contributions from Magnolia Petroleum Company and Ray A. Albaugh of Lamesa. Hargrave turned slightly more than 4,000 acres to Darby for drilling a well, and Darby bought an additional 3,500 acres in the vicinity of the site. Geology on the block was worked out by E. Russell Lloyd, Midland consulting geologist.

The proposed test is four miles south of Placid Oil Company No. 1 Higginbotham, a 4,983-foot failure, and three and one-half miles northwest of Magnolia No. 1 Teague, 7,701-foot dry hole across the line in Northwestern Martin County.

Yates Ordovician Discovery

Standard Oil Company resumed drilling below 7,731 feet early Thursday in its No. 1 Douglas Oil Company et al, indicated opener of the first Ordovician production in the Yates Permian pool of Eastern Pecos County, No. 1 Douglas, on the west flank of the pool, virtually assured production when it recovered 50 feet of 41.4-gravity oil and 10 feet of heavy oil-and-gas-cut mud on a one-hour drillstem test from 8,650 to 8,731 feet. This recovery was in addition to a blanket of 920 feet of fresh water and 80 feet of mud run to equalize pressure. Some believe No. 1 Douglas.

Americans To Carry Full Share In Raids On Nazis This Summer

LONDON —(P)—The current summer will find the Eighth United States Air Force in England carrying its full share of the bomber offensive against Germany with multiple daylight raids, Major Gen. Ira C. Eaker, its commander, disclosed Thursday.

Eaker told a press conference that the American heavy bomber force had doubled its size since March and would approximate the RAF's bomber strength by the end of the summer.

He said the American Flying Fortresses and Liberators would continue their precision raiding in daylight with relatively small individual forces rather than adopting the British mass raiding technique by night or day.

Eaker's disclosure following a statement from a reliable source here that a unit of Flying Fortresses had been assigned to undertake night bombing experiments from Britain and the RAF.

Inductees Return To Camp Thursday

A group of Midland County men Thursday went to El Paso to begin their military service after a 14-day furlough following their induction on May 27, the draft board announced.

The men are Clarence Ray Borland, George Andy Dale, Raymond Theodore Eaton, Cosme Gomez Heredia, Claude Everett Lewis Jr., J. D. Monroe, Bert Allen Streeter, Thomas Kenneth Wallis, Clavin Gall Campbell, Robert Turner Drummond, Manuel Trujillo Gonzalez, Grady Paul Jennings, Owen Ward Myers, Luis Chavez Ramirez and A. C. Windham Jr.

President To Speak At Program Thursday

WASHINGTON —(P)—President Roosevelt will take part in a radio ceremony at 4 p. m. (cwt) Thursday in which the Greek government will receive from the Navy an anti-submarine patrol boat under a lend-lease arrangement.

The broadcast will be carried by all networks.

Italy Trembling With Fear On Anniversary Of War Entry

LONDON —(P)—The third anniversary of Italy's entrance into the war found her Mediterranean island outposts under heavy prolonged assault Thursday with sections of the London press asserting an Allied landing possibility was imminent on Pantelleria and the Italian mainland itself facing a growing threat of invasion.

Unofficial observers and the press here held that the failure of Pantelleria Island to capitulate after being called upon Wednesday to surrender, might be the signal for landing parties to storm the tiny rock of the sea, halfway between Tunisia and Sicily.

Sardinia and Sicily also continued to feel the weight of Allied air power.

Czechs Recall Massacre

Meantime, there were continued stirrings of resistance as the Czechs recalled Thursday the first anniversary of the massacre of Lidice, when an entire village was destroyed by the Germans for having harbored the assassins of Reinhardt Heydrich, Reich protector for Bohemia and Moravia.

"Mussolini is beginning today to suffer the consequences of his cruelties and treacheries," Czech comment ran. "It must be a dismal, fearful anniversary for him. Tomorrow it will be Hitler's turn to feel the crushing blow of justice."

As though to lend weight to his prediction came the announcement Wednesday night that a sizeable new contingent of United States soldiers had arrived recently in a British port after a fast trip without incident.

Numerous airmen, swelling the fast-growing Eighth U. S. Air Force, were included in the group. It was the second disclosure in recent days of additions to the air force here.

The Germans were meeting such announcements with words, filling the air with broadcasts that spoke tauntingly of the Allies' forth-coming invasion of the continent.

A sample of the Axis morale: build-up was a Paris radio broadcast Wednesday night which quoted Berlin military circles as declaring European anti-invasion wall had been "considerably strengthened" in the last 10 days, with new and heavier armaments installed.

War Bulletins

LONDON —(AP)—The Paris radio reported Thursday in a broadcast that a Flying Fortress crashed Wednesday night six miles from Algiers, Spain, killing eight members of the crew, two who bailed out were reported seriously hurt.

LONDON —(AP)—The German radio, making the first Axis reference to Allied use of carrier escorts in the battle of the Atlantic, told Thursday of what it called "a dramatic fight" in mid-Atlantic between a U-boat and planes from a British carrier. The broadcast declared the surfaced undersea craft stood off eight planes, shooting down one, and "after the successful conclusion of this unequal engagement the U-boat continued on its operations."

Council Discusses Recreation Program

Plans for a recreation program for Midland were discussed Wednesday afternoon by the city council in a special meeting which was called by Mayor A. N. Hendrickson.

A number of ideas were advanced by councilmen at the session and committees will investigate possibilities of several suggestions. As plans stand are in a tentative stage, no announcement of their nature was made.

Three Half-Starved Chinese Soldiers Reach Allied Base After Being Bayoneted In Hospital Beds By Japanese

AN AMERICAN BASE IN INDIA —(P)—Three bedraggled, footsore, half-starved Chinese have reached this base eight months after the Japanese bayoneted them and 50 other wounded members of the Chinese Fifth Army in their hospital beds at Shingbiyang, Burma.

They reported that seven other Chinese were able to crawl into the jungle after the enemy had left them for dead, but only three survived.

The following day, they said—and their story is vouched for by American, British and Chinese officers who investigated—the Japanese returned and burned the hospital to the ground around the still-living patients.

The commander of this base said: "For sheer guts these Chinese would be hard to beat."

When the trio started toward India one couldn't walk, one couldn't talk and the third couldn't see.

Liu Ping Wu, 23-year-old private, was abed with a compound leg fracture when the Japanese bayoneted him through the mosquito netting over his bed, piercing his thighs three times. He used improvised bamboo crutches to flee, and when he arrived here his right leg was two inches shorter than the other.

Lin Sung Lin, 19, a superior orderly, was suffering from three bayonet wounds in the throat. Wei Hei Fen, 50, armored unit driver, was temporarily blind before being bayoneted and urged the others to leave him, but they refused.

The trio lay low in the jungle for two days before starting their painful march. They ate raw rice along the trail, drank muddy water which gave them terrible stomach aches.

After 11 days they reached a place where they could obtain medical treatment. The Japanese came while they were there, but they hid in the bush.

They finally dragged themselves in here, where they made for the American hospital. Speaking through an interpreter, they said, in effect: "We came here because American doctors are very good and we want to fight Japs again very bad."

Little Guns Talk With the Big Shot

Worries about the Mediterranean brought this trio to conference as invasion of southern Europe nears. Pierre Laval, left, Vichy French chief, and Italian Foreign Minister Giuseppe Bastianini, right, sit in solemn session with you know who.

Agreement Made By Coal Operators

WASHINGTON —(P)—Secretary Ickes said Thursday that miners who participated in the June 1-7 walk-out from government-operated pits would be fined in accordance with their contracts, which usually provide penalties of $1 per day if a miner fails to work without good reason.

Ickes acted as federal boss of the mines.

Most of John L. Lewis' 530,000-odd United Mine Workers were out from June 1 through June 5, making them liable for fines of $5 each for the five-day absence from the mines. Under the contracts, the penalty money goes to selected charities.

Ickes, adding that fines would again be levied if another walkout takes place before or after the present truce ends at midnight, June 20, declared that before last week's walkout "we told the miners we were going to fine them if they went out again."

First WAACs Arrive Here

A pair of the trimmest looking officers ever to report to the Midland Bombarrier School here marched in and gave the post adjutant a pair of snappy salutes Thursday.

They are Second Officer Mary Louise Race and Third Officer Hortense E. Menzel, the first WAACs to be assigned to the bombarrier school.

Second Officer Race, whose rank corresponds to that of a first lieutenant, will be commander of the WAAC company which is expected to report soon for duty at MAAF, and Third Officer Menzel will serve as executive officer or adjutant. Another officer, Third Officer Barbara Holland will report here late Thursday from the First Women's Army Auxiliary Corps Training Center, Fort Des Moines, Iowa, where the three received their schooling as WAAC officers.

Second Officer Race, of Ermella Orchids, Belvidere, New Jersey, was a home demonstration agent prior to her enlistment. Third Officer Menzel, a student before joining the WAACs, lived at Stevens Point, Wisconsin.

Wall Street Paving Completed Thursday

Paving of widened Wall Street from A Street to the western city limits has been completed, and it was open to traffic Thursday.

Fiscal Control Hits The Sawdust

Texas' 48th Legislature, recently adjourned, turned in an outstandingly good performance in most respects. The eight per cent appropriation cut from the previous biennium, keeping expenditures within revenues, and no new tax bills enacted, made the session a notable example of economy mindedness so greatly needed in war time.

The story behind the defeat of this constructive piece of legislation has been most forthrightly told by M. C. Ulmer, Midland banker, ex-mayor, taxpayer and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Ulmer said this combination deliberately resorted to red flag waving, herring throwing and smoke-screening for the purpose of exciting the House membership and obscuring the real issues involved.

Ulmer has rightly called the turn. Real fiscal control is something the taxpayers need urgently and are entitled to. The people who pay the bills should make themselves heard.

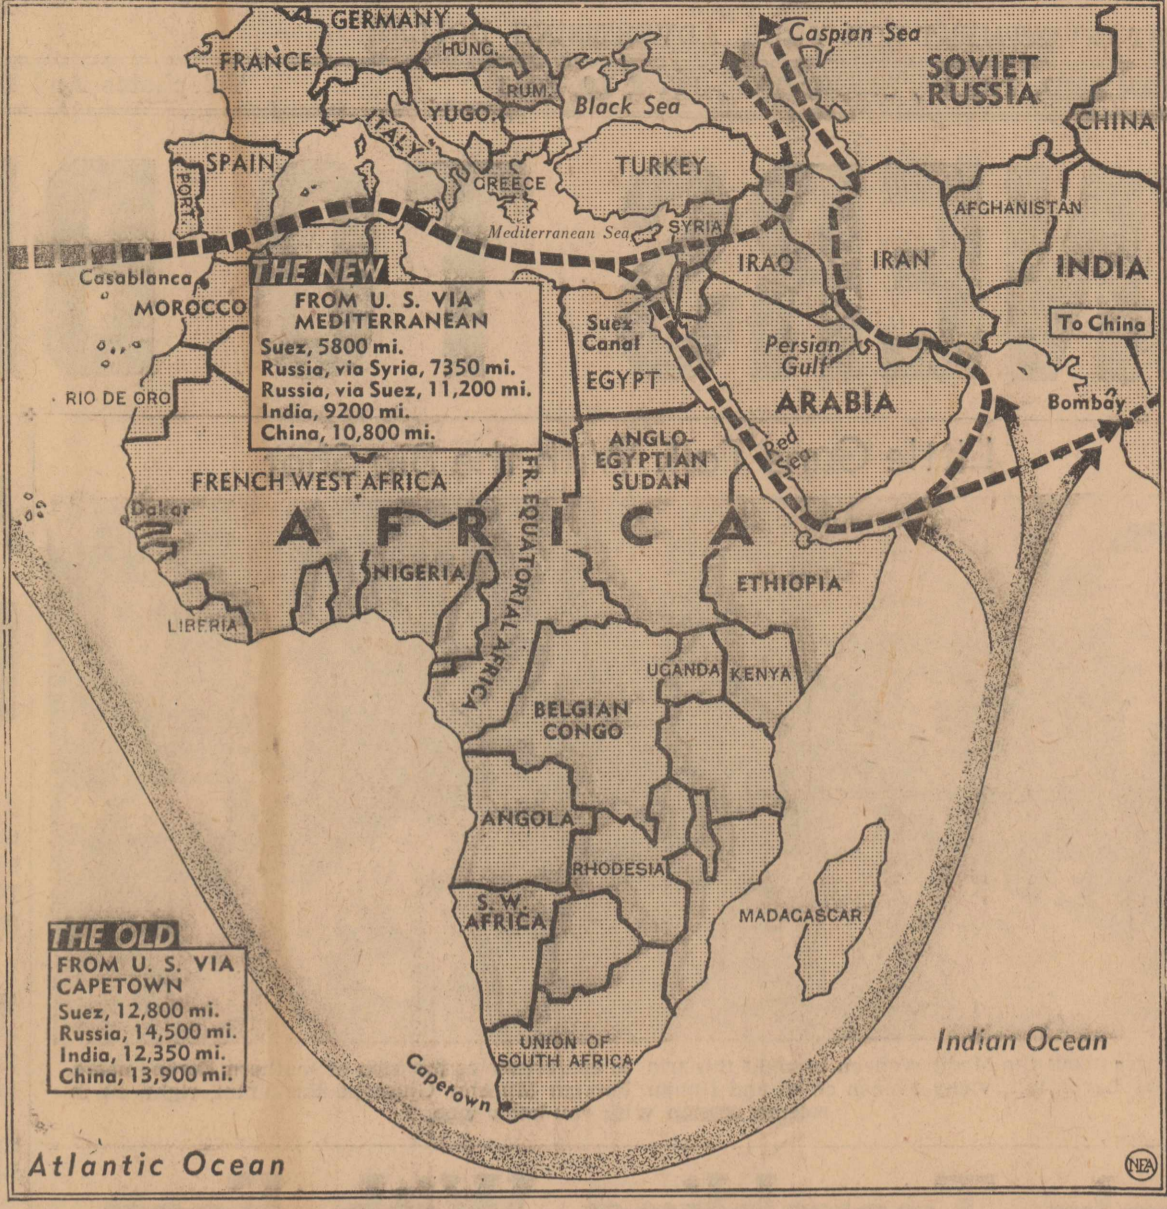

Why Argue The Obvious? It would sound strange to hear Mr. Henry Kaiser stand up and argue that ships were essential to the war effort. Fortunately, he doesn't have to.

Ulmer Says Legislature's Action Disappointed Taxpayers Of Texas

M. C. Ulmer, Midland banker who, as mayor, saw his city's tax rate reduced by a total of 60 cents, says Texas taxpayers are disappointed and dismayed at refusal of the 48th Legislature to pass Rep. Joe Humphreys House Bill No. 7, the fiscal control measure.

Ulmer is president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, pioneer advocate of modernizing and simplifying the state's budget procedure. The Humphrey bill, narrowly killed by the recent legislature, called for centralized planning, management and accounting and for creation of the post of state budget director working under the Board of Control and closely answerable to the governor and legislature.

Ulmer concluded: "The people at home are getting tired of hearing about the 100 or more duplicated, uncoordinated state departments at every election time, and then having nothing done about it. Furthermore, the taxpayers are getting sick of the thousands on the state payroll securing their positions through favoritism and political pressure, rather than merit. All these things are fiscal control, and the issues will not be dead in the state until something has been done about them."

The Rev. J. E. Pickering, accompanied by Van Cummings, Doris Mickey, Sharon Cornelius, and Betty Ruth Pickering, left Tuesday for Buffalo Gap to attend the Conference of Christian Churches. The group is expected to return Saturday.

Nineties Costumes Add Hilarity To Civic Theater Play

Assembling the costumes for the Civic Theater play, "Orphan Nell," has presented many problems and the authenticity of them is not vouched for by the committee. However, they do help to create the atmosphere of the times and give a feeling of other days. To each succeeding generation the clothes of a prior period offer much amusement, particularly when they go back to the nineties when they sought to conceal, where the moderns of today make no conscious effort not to reveal.

Imagine a modern cyclist encumbered with the long skirt of "Our Nellie" or spending time fashioning a wedding dress, "just in case" or a housewife of today with the wrapper of a dress, or a chaperon with a "train and bustle" of Carrie, or an afternoon get-up equal to that of Veronica.

And the men! The hero, Jack, in his best suit (a four-buttoned striped number) and straw "hat" (equipped with a string in case the wind gets too high) will win the audience's hearts with his school girl complexion and devotion to Nellie. The villain dressed in true city-style party clothes, top hat, red lined cape, white gloves, and cane coupled with his ingratiating manner, makes him all the more deplorable. And Pa! When his number is disturbed and he appears in night shirt, night cap and sleeping slippers. The chorus girls with their curves, the quartet with its barber shop chords, coupled with old time tunes and costumes that represent their era, bring fun and merriment!

June Bridal Attire Has Broad Range

Romance has pervaded the shops, for it is June, the month of roses and weddings.

All the leading stores are showing billowy chiffons, marquisettes, organdie, organza, white satin, net and sheers, the leading materials being used for the bride's wedding outfit. A departure from the usual bride's attire is the touch of pink that is being used this summer. The tone of pink is very delicate, but beautiful. The tiny halo cap is being shown this summer in pink. Basque styles, heart necks, bouffant skirts, and the slendering bias cut skirt with train, are the most effective styles. Chiffon is said to be the leading material being used for wedding gowns this summer. It is being combined with satin in some instances, and the seed pearl trim is quite popular, as it always has been, and there is nothing more beautiful for the formal wedding gown as a trimming.

The Juliet cap, sometimes made of seed pearls, is a favorite with the chiffron bridal gown. The illusion veil is still leading in popularity as a material for the bridal veil. Tulle comes second. The veil is often held in place by the spray of orange blossoms or valley lilies. The handsome lace veil with the Dutch lace cap is a favorite too. Some of the war-time brides are selecting the more practical bridal attire of organdie, mousseline de soie, or white net. These can be worn suitably all summer for parties and dances.

Nothing, however, is more exquisite for the bride than white chiffron, with illusion veil and seed pearl cap in Juliet style. The bodice of the gown may have seed pearl trim, which also goes beautifully with any handsome jewelry the bride might be wearing at her wedding.

Wood-Simpson Vows Will Be Read Here

The wedding of Miss Eleanor Wood and William B. Simpson will be celebrated Tuesday in the First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Wood now is in Artesia, New Mexico, at the home of her parents. Simpson comes from Baltimore, Md., where he has a government post.

Mrs. Alton Danisch and baby have returned to their home from the Western Clinic Hospital.

Recommend Between Meals Snacks

Something new—the transparent plastic lunch box for the war worker's balanced luncheon.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer
For top efficiency, government nutritionists suggest that every war worker's lunch should provide at least one-third of the day's nutritional requirements. Each on-the-job meal should include milk, enriched or whole-grain bread, fish, cheese, meat, or eggs, vegetables and fruit.

Between-meals snacks are also recommended, for it has been found that workers become less fatigued and keep up better speed if they eat between meals. These snacks should be something that the worker can munch easily without stopping work. A glass of milk and a few cookies, a nourishing sandwich and an orange give needed energy in easily eaten form. Don't make the mistake of packing soft or drippy sandwiches for snack munchers. Swiss or American Cheddar cheese is a good choice, for it is easy to eat, as well as nourishing and appetizing. Cream cheese and chopped nuts is nourishing too.

If you pack an orange for the snack, remove the skin and separate the orange into segments, for easy eating. It will keep fresh and moist if you pack it in a covered paper container.

Dried Fruit Munchers
Make small balls of dried fruit put through the meat chopper, and moistened slightly with orange juice. Pack in a covered waxed paper container.

The between-meals snacks should be adjusted to the weather. Here's a hot day fruit compote containing calories vitamins and minerals.

Rhubarb Boysenberry Compote
One-third cup water, 1 cup sugar,

1 box (14 ounces) quick-frozen rhubarb, 1 box (13 ounces) quick-frozen boysenberries, 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Mix water and sugar and bring to a boil, add frozen rhubarb and cook until tender. Remove from fire. Add frozen boysenberries and lemon juice, cover, and let stand until boysenberries are thawed. Chill before serving. Pack your war worker's share in a waxed paper container and chill in refrigerator before putting in lunch box.

Miss Zimmerman To Wed Sgt. Droegkamp

Mr. and Mrs. James Wanish accompanied by their daughter Miss Geraldine D. Zimmerman arrived in Midland Wednesday from Milwaukee, Wis.

Miss Zimmerman will be married Saturday to Sgt. Harold F. Droegkamp, who is stationed at the MAAF Bombardier school.

The wedding will take place in the First Presbyterian church, and a reception will follow in the home of Sgt. and Mrs. Arthur Elmsler, 907 College.

Mrs. H. D. Brown, who has been in the hospital here for a tonsillitis, has returned to her home.

Kate Smith swaps stories with Miss Honey

WHO'D EVER GUESS that Death Valley miners could give helpful hints on cooking! Well, that's what happened to Miss Honey.

"When I came out to this mining camp in the Funeral Mountains," writes Miss Grace Honey, "the men were using Calumet. One of the boys showed me the virtue of Calumet, and now I feel I can't use any other baking powder. I am known all around here for being a good cook—especially cakes—and believe me, it's since I learned to use Calumet!"

"SOMETIMES you have to hand it to the men!" Kate answers. "But I wonder if your miners know what makes Calumet so dependable. It's because Calumet is double-acting—works once in the mixing bowl and again in the oven.

"Surprise your boys with this temptin' dessert. The first time I tried it, the orders for seconds came so fast, I almost missed getting some myself!"

You'll love Kate's Blackberry-Roly-Poly!

2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

4 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup milk
Melted butter
1 1/2 cups fresh blackberries
6 tablespoons sugar

* Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll 1/4 inch thick. Brush with melted butter, cover with blackberries, and sprinkle with sugar. Roll as for jelly roll. Moisten edge and press against roll. Place in greased loaf pan with edge of roll on under side, brush with melted butter, and bake in hot oven (400° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot with cream or any hot dessert sauce.

First Performance Of "Orphan Nell" To Be Presented Friday Evening

"Orphan Nell," a melodrama of the nineties, sponsored by the Civic Theater of Midland, will be presented at the Municipal Auditorium Friday and Saturday nights. The curtain will go up at nine o'clock. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from chorus girls who have them on sale in downtown booths.

Under the general directorship of S/Sgt. Arthur Cole of the Midland Army Air School, assisted by John Hill; Mrs. Ora Burson, director of dancing, and Marjorie Spencer, pianist; this play has mastered the art of the melodrama of the nineties and will give an evening of full entertainment, fun and laughter.

The audience has something to do beside listen to this play, sponsors say. Persons attending may enter into the spirit of the production by joining in the singing of old-fashioned songs, applauding the hero and heroine and hissing the villain in regulation style. The roll curtain which was characteristic of the theaters in past days will carry billboard ads of the merchants of Midland. The public is invited to attend the show.

Mrs. J. E. White, who is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wilson, has notified them she will be able to return to Midland this weekend from Dallas where she has been under the care of a specialist for six weeks with nasal trouble. Her husband is in Navy construction work in Hawaii.

Ray Millard and Virginia Field add glamour to "The Crystal Ball," now at the Yucca Theater.

Alfred Ray Snider has been released from Western Clinic Hospital after an illness of several days.

At Yucca

A letter-writing meeting for the friends of the boy who is far away in the service will give much enjoyment. Each person at the meeting writes a letter to the soldier and a picture of the group is made and one of these is sent to him.

The man in the service appreciates this more than anything else. If you have friends in the service, call in all your friends, and entertain them with a letter-writing party. The absent boy is the guest of honor.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Gifts Representative Of Southwest Available At Midland Indian Store

Since the Southwest is well known as one of the most colorful and romantic sections of the country, persons living in the other parts of the nation like to receive souvenirs and mementos from this area, Casey Jones, manager of the Midland Indian Store, 208 West Texas Avenue, says.

That is why the Midland Indian Store has a good volume of business by mail. Many visitors and new-arrivals especially appreciate the beautiful and practical items stocked by the store, one of the most complete in West Texas. Here they may find almost any type of Southwestern souvenir, in addition to useful Indian and Mexican articles, to send to those "back home."

But the store does not specialize in trinkets. It has one of the best lines of practical gifts and decorative articles to be found anywhere.

The gift department is especially helpful to those who want something different but at the same time something useful.

Indian jewelry makes a pleasing gift. The Midland Indian Store has a completely stocked jewelry department, featuring rings, bracelets, brooches, wrist bands, beads and silverwork. Each item is handmade on an Indian reservation by expert craftsmen.

Other suggestions for gifts may be found among these items displayed in the beautifully decorated store: Mexican silverware, luncheon sets, table cloths, hand-embroidered aprons, Mexican serapes, ladies' novelty belts, bronze-work figures, serap and photo books, chenille hand-woven ties, baskets, hand-tooled leather belts, book-ends, and carved Burwood products. Many other items are available from which an ideal gift for every occasion may be chosen.

Navajo hand-woven blankets, guaranteed 100 per cent all-wool, are popular items.

Beautiful Mexican and Indian pottery may be found in abundance at the Indian Store.

The store offers free packing service, and the customer may have his purchases wrapped ready for mailing in most instances. Cactus plants, a favorite and representative souvenir of the West, are packed in boxes, ready for mailing.

The Indian Store recently has received a good line of archery equipment for both adults and children, and more supplies are expected soon. Jones urges persons interested in archery to visit the store and inspect the line.

"Browsing" is invited by Mr. and Mrs. Jones, and persons desiring to see the beautiful stock of Mexican and Indian articles are given a special invitation to visit the store.

Distinctive Foods And Atmosphere Draw Praises For Log Cabin Inn

A colorful and cool atmosphere is combined with delicious foods and excellent service to make the Log Cabin Inn one of the most distinctive dining places in West Texas. It is located one mile west on Highway 80.

The beautiful log cabin style building, beautifully decorated and furnished throughout, provides a setting of rest and relaxation which every member of the family can enjoy. The dining room is spacious and well-lighted and is air-conditioned to add to the comfort of the patrons.

Music for dining and dancing is provided by Jose Salazar and his orchestra, an outstanding seven-piece band featuring Roy Gordon, pianist, whose keyboard interpretations and imitations of radio's famed "Hot Spots" have won him wide acclaim.

Choice steaks, delicious Southern-style fried chicken and Mexican foods are specialties at the Log Cabin Inn, which offers the best in a la carte foods. All meals are prepared and served under the supervision of H. W. Donohoo and Paul Houston, owners, and cleanliness is stressed so much that the Army has rated the Log Cabin Inn among the top three most clean dining places in West Texas.

Delicious Mexican foods are prepared by Francisco Revoyzo, one of the best Mexican chefs in this area, and have won the praise of diners at the restaurant, which has been in operation here since February, 1942.

Since the Log Cabin Inn was opened, the management has always served the best in choice beef, Donohoo said. Although top-quality beef is hard to get, the Log Cabin Inn will continue to serve the best that can be obtained, he said, in urging patrons to dine early. Only better quality foods are served at all times.

The Log Cabin Inn is open nightly except Monday, and hours for serving are between 4 p. m. and 1:30 a. m., except Saturday and Sunday. To allow the 20 employees a day of relaxation each week and to be able to maintain the excellent supply of foods offered, the restaurant is closed on Monday.

Other specialties of the night club are Chinese foods and spaghetti dinners, prepared in the spotless and modernly equipped kitchen by expert cooks.

"We strive to do the impossible—please everybody," Donohoo said.

Paint Will Help Keep Property In 'Fighting Shape'

Keeping their homes and other property in good condition is one of the essential jobs the government asks of the "soldiers of the home front." Because of a war-born scarcity of material, it is the duty of citizens to preserve their properties by making minor repairs and adjustments before they become serious.

Paint is one of the best preservatives available, and it offers good protection against weather and other deteriorating elements. In addition, it beautifies.

H. N. Phillips of the Phillips Electric Company suggests that persons desiring to keep their homes and other properties "in fighting trim" for years to come should paint them now. Painting will help avoid the run-down appearance which soon leads to costly repairs and heavy losses.

The Phillips Electric Company, 222 North Main Street, is agent for Campbell's "Time-Tested" paints, varnishes and lacquers and has a product for nearly every purpose. These items are laboratory and service-tested and are sponsored by 26 paint laboratories with extensive resources, knowledge and experience. They are symbols of the highest qualities attainable.

The stock featured by the company is one of the most complete available, and persons planning to paint their properties are urged to investigate the products. Colors of Time-Tested paints have been developed through years of scientific research and are as permanent as modern processes can produce.

Although the requirements of the war effort has limited the supply, the Phillips Electric Company has many electrical fixtures in stock which will add to the attractiveness of the home in addition to providing better lighting. Repairs of electric appliances are made by the company, but due to an increased business and a shortage of materials and help, it has been necessary to confine this service to the most essential needs.

Kist Beverages Are Tasty And Nutritious Thirst-Quenchers For Warm Summer Days

Quenching of hot weather thirst calls for special drinks that give one a refreshed and energetic feeling. They should also have nutritious values.

Orange Kist and other Kist beverages fill this need. These delicious soft drinks, bottled by the Midland Bottling Company, have pure fruit flavors and no artificial preservatives are added. They are delicious in taste and give an energetic "pick-up" so often needed during the day.

Kist beverages, produced in the completely equipped plant of the company here, are made with Electrified Water and are pure and wholesome.

Electrified Water, distributed by the Midland Bottling Company, is soft and purified, making it ideal for use wherever water is needed. Fluorine, which causes stained teeth, is removed from the water.

The company also is distributor for White Rock Mineral Water, another healthful beverage. The Dunagan Sales Company, also located at 210 South Pecos, is distributor for Grand Prize and Budweiser beers.

BRITISH FARMERS MAY BE STRAINED FOR YEARS

LONDON — (P) — Britain will continue to make heavy demands on her farmers until at least 1947, even if victory is won before then, R. S. Hudson, Minister of Agriculture, said in a speech.

"Last autumn," he said, "I asked for an additional 600,000 acres of wheat, and it has been achieved. I now confidently expect to get well over half as much again."

Britain's 1943 wheat acreage was more than double the 1939 figure.

Advice To The Lovelorn

Please advise me on the subject of introductions. I invariably forget how to introduce properly, and I must learn.

A. If you know that you will be called upon to introduce strangers to one another, form the habit of learning their names in advance and keep them in your mind until you have made the introduction.

The usual form is: "A man is always presented to a woman, with, 'May I present Mr. Aighton?' unless this man happens to be a celebrity, such as the Ambassador to England, in which case, the woman is presented to him."

In introducing two women, the older one's name is called first, unless the other one is a celebrity. When introducing women near the same age, it does not matter which name is called first.

If a woman is a newcomer to the community, however, her name should be called first, as "Mrs. Black, I want you to meet Mrs. White." When a married and a single woman are introduced the married woman's name is called first.

A person's name means much to him, and nothing is so irritating as to have his name forgotten, mispronounced or misspelled.

Q. I am to be married early in the morning in this month, and I am at a loss to know what should be served for a small wedding.

A. A wedding breakfast might answer the need. It can be both cheerful and lovely. Have the table dressed in your handsomest cloth, and use a color note of white with green. You might have a large crystal bowl of white dahlias or peonies, or white rosebuds or white gardenias. Green ferns should be used and white stephanotis is beautiful with his color scheme.

In the first course serve as an appetizer diced fresh fruit in orange cup; chicken timbales, hot rolls, strawberry preserves, ice cream in wedding bell molds, and wedding cake.

Maintain a beautiful simplicity throughout.

If you should have a wedding later in the morning, then arrange to have a luncheon instead of a breakfast. If it is shady in your garden, that would be an ideal spot for a wedding luncheon. Use white and green as effectively as possible. For the luncheon serve chicken salad on lettuce bed, topped with mayonnaise; ripe and green olives, radishes, hot biscuits, peach preserves, strawberry ice, assorted individual wedding cakes, spiced nuts and coffee.

It's News To Them

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Swan read with eager interest the news they were parents of twin daughters.

They thought the item a bit unusual, though. The twins are now 21 years old.

The mixup, they learned, resulted from new birth certificates they'd obtained; they were dated 1934 inst-ead of 1922.

Greens Lend To Balanced Lunch

Balanced lunch consists of cheese, rye bread, fresh greens, fruit and cake, milk.

By Gaynor Marx

NEA Staff Writer

With an all-out schedule of production in our war plants, millions of workers forego their leisurely lunch hours. Whether your family's war workers start out early in the morning or check in for the lobster shift, its your prime responsibility as a good kitchen soldier to see to it that they get at least one-third of the day's nutritional requirements during the eight hours or more they are at work.

Lack of proper nutrition is the greatest enemy of efficient war production, particularly in crowded areas where inadequate eating facilities encourage sandwich grabbing. For top efficiency, government nutritionists suggest that every worker's lunch should consist of milk, whole wheat or enriched bread, meat, cheese, fish or eggs, fruits and vegetables. They recommend that the on-the-job meal provide at least one-third of the day's nutritional requirements.

You'll find that cheese, at eight red coupon points a pound, is one of the outstanding bargains in the ration book for nutrition and appetite appeal. It's also one of the cheapest protein foods in terms of money.

Soups, stews, salads and puddings are entirely practical for daily lunch boxes if you keep on hand a supply of paper cups and containers. Use the unwaxed type of cup and container for hot foods and drinks and the waxed type for cold foods and drinks. Besides aiding menu variety, these sanitary containers also have the advantage of being lightweight and eliminating breakage difficulties and dishwashing.

Lunch Box Salad
Mix together julienne strips of green pepper, sliced celery, cucumber (if desired), very thinly sliced carrots and white turnips. Serve with lettuce or escarole. Pack mayonnaise or French dressing in a small covered waxed paper containers.

American Cheddar Sandwich
Be sure to cream butter for sandwiches so that it will spread easily and go farther. American Cheddar sandwiches are delicious when spread with butter to which finely chopped parsley has been added. Sweet pickle relish is good, too, in these sandwiches.

Walking On Hips

MISS DICKEY: svelte.

By Alice Hart
NEA Staff Writer

"When all other exercises fail to slim you down to the proportions you want to be," says Metropolitan Opera soprano Annamary Dickey, "try walking on your hips."

Begin by sitting on the floor. Legs together and stretched out straight in front of you. Place your hands lightly on your knees. Now walk on your hips, taking as long a "stride" with each hip as possible. Do this 25 times forward and the same number of times backward.

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Who is responsible for seeing to the bride's luggage on the day of the wedding?
2. Where do the bride's parents sit at a church wedding?
3. Need a church wedding be large and elaborate?
4. Is it all right to invite friends of the groom, that the bride has never met, to the wedding?
5. If a bride has a matron of honor may she also have a maid of honor?

What would you do if—
1. You are planning on being married in a traveling dress—
(a) Have only one attendant?
(b) Have several attendants?

- Answers
1. The best man.
 2. First pew on the left, facing the altar.
 3. No. There may be only a few guests and the wedding may be very simple.
 4. Certainly.
 5. No. Either one or the other, not both.

Better "What Would You Do" solution—(a).

Popular Bride Elect Is Honored By Trio Of Hostesses Wednesday

Mrs. D. B. Snider, Miss Mary Lee Snider and Mrs. E. H. Black complimented Miss Frances Ellen Link, bride-elect, with a tea and kitchen shower Wednesday evening from 6 to 8 in the home of Mrs. Snider, 205 South A Street.

In the receiving line were Miss Mary Lee Snider, Miss Frances Ellen Link, Mrs. L. C. Link, Miss Emily Jane Lamar, and Mrs. Norman Goodman.

Miss Sarah Lew Link, sister of the bride-elect, presided at the guest book. Miss Fay Dublin was at the piano during the first hour and was accompanist for Miss Lou Nell Hudman, who sang, "Without Thee." Music for the second hour was furnished by Miss Charlotte Kinsey.

All members of the house party wore corsages of pink and white gladiolus.

In the dining room the gifts brought for the bride-elect by the guests were on display. The tea table was laid with lace cloth and the table was centered with yellow bowl of shasta daisies, on either side of which were tall white candles in crystal holders. Misses Joan Proctor and Muriel McHargue served punch throughout the receiving hours.

Approximately 75 guests called.

Mrs. Elvis Hughes and baby, who have been in Western Clinic Hospital, have returned to their home.

WOMEN WON'T TALK

BY RENE RYERSON MART
COPYRIGHT, 1943, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Derek Grady has been found murdered on the grounds of Kraiktower. The police recognize him as a man wanted for kidnaping. Marthe Kraik admits he was the grandson of her housekeeper, MATEZET Grady, but says nothing about the elopement years ago of Derek and her granddaughter, Kathy. Connie, married to Walter, Kathy's father, has been acting strangely.

THE THING

CHAPTER VIII
SLEEP chases a variety of goblins; by morning everything and everyone at Kraiktower seemed normal again.

Then Walter called. He was in the village.

John drove me to the station in the big car. Walter was impatiently striding up and down. He scarcely greeted me.

"What the devil did you mean yesterday not telling me anything, and the morning papers full of it?"

"Get in first," I ordered. On the way back to Kraiktower I told him all that had happened as far as I knew—or nearly all. I told him that Derek Grady had been killed within a stone's throw of our house, and that the coroner had fixed the time of death between 12 and 1 o'clock. But I didn't tell him that his wife had been absent from the dining room for five unaccounted-for minutes during that hour, or that we had only Kathy's own word for it that she was in her room at the time of the killing.

I didn't tell him either that I was afraid it was too hot for a mere coincidence that Derek had turned up at Kraiktower the same day Kathy came down.

"You know what this means, Mother. It will be a picnic for the newspapers." He spread a crumpled copy of a morning paper out for me to see. There was Derek's picture and his name in the headlines.

The newspaper account gave Derek's address as that of his father's home. I reread the street and number, 410 Wheatland Avenue. There was something very familiar about it, but I couldn't think what.

"Next thing you know, the papers'll dig up that old affair between Kathleen and Derek," Walter groaned.

CONNIE went all to pieces when she saw Walter. She cried all over his shoulder, and he took her upstairs and neither one of them came down until dinner.

I saw then that Connie had gone glamor girl on us. Her dinner gown was daring and she had knotted a gold scarf, a-glitter with sequins, over her shoulders and arms.

Walter didn't say anything serious until we reached the desert. Then he looked down the table at me.

"Connie's pretty much upset about this affair. I think we ought to call an attorney down, just in case . . ."

"I wouldn't rush things if I were you, Dad," Kathy broke in. She was speaking to Walter, but she looked straight at Connie. I didn't like the look on her face.

After a moment, I said slowly, "Call a lawyer, Walter, and the police will think we are guilty."

A better idea than that was forming in the back of my head. It would be only neighborly if I dropped in to call on Clint Mat-tison. A man with a broken arm living alone is rather a helpless creature.

But there was more than charity back of my intended call. A writer of detective stories should know something about solving a crime.

After dinner I retired to my study on the pretense of reading and then slipped out. To reach the cottage in the woods on the other side, one has to take the path from the east terrace down to the lake and follow the shore to the place where the banks of the ravine flatten into the beach. There you can cross the creek on stepping stones.

I STRUCK out surefootedly. I reached the lake, walked along the shore for a couple of hundred yards, the small gravel stones hurting my feet through my thin-soled sandals, crossed the creek on the stepping stones, then took the path under the trees.

It was pitch dark in the woods, and somewhere close at hand a whippoorwill whistled his sad complaint.

I had only gone a little way along the path when I saw a light ahead of me, shining through the trees. At first I thought it was a light from the Cottage, and then I remembered that I hadn't reached the turn in the path. The lights from the Cottage are not visible until you make the turn.

I went along staring curiously at the light ahead and not paying much attention to where I was going and suddenly I tripped over a tree root in the path. It turned my ankle and I cried out with pain and caught at a low hanging tree branch. I held on to the branch and stood on one foot and leaned over to feel how badly my ankle was hurt. Gingerly I tried my weight upon it, and found that I could still walk. When I looked ahead again, I saw that the light was gone. That gave me a queer feeling.

But before I had time to think about it I heard something or someone coming down that black path toward me. I could hear the pad of running steps and the sound of hard breathing.

And in that split second sheer terror took possession of my soul. For I remembered with horrible suddenness that Derek Grady had been murdered only yesterday in that ravine back of me, and that his murderer was still on the loose. I was too paralyzed to scream or to run or to breathe.

And while I stood there frozen with panic the Thing was upon me.

East Texas Oil Wells Flooded As River Overflows

By The Associated Press

Hundreds of oil wells in the East Texas field were flooded Thursday as the Sabine River swirled out of banks in at least three counties—Wood, Van Zandt and Smith.

At Gladewater, the Sabine hit 39.5 feet at 9 a. m. This was two feet above the all-time record at that point. Flood stage for the stream is 24 feet.

The crest of 41 feet was expected about 7 p. m.

Highways Blocked
The three major highways from Gladewater were blocked. These were U. S. 271 from Gladewater to Tyler, U. S. 80 from Gladewater to Dallas, and the state highway from Gladewater to Kilgore.

U. S. 80 has been closed to traffic since Sunday.

Mayor C. W. Cumble of Hawkins said thousands of acres of farmland in Wood, Van Zandt and Smith counties were inundated.

Crops around Mineola, Gladewater and Hawkins were reported destroyed by rampaging waters.

Oil Wells Shut Down
Many oil wells had suspended production. Selby Oil Company reported that 100 of its wells were flooded and 50 to 60 shut down.

In the river bottoms around Gladewater, 200 people—mostly negroes—were evacuated. Livestock was removed from low areas Wednesday morning.

Though rains at Dallas and Rosser, the rains continued to rise at Trinidad, hitting 34.5 feet compared with a flood stage of 28 feet. Water was spreading over cotton lands, the Dallas weather bureau reported. All livestock had been removed from threatened areas.

Texans Giving Away Big Bend Park Land

WASHINGTON (AP)—A couple of Texans are up here to give away 788,000 acres of land—slightly less than the area of Rhode Island.

Under an act of Congress, the National Park Service is authorized to accept that acreage in the Big Bend, paid for by the people of Texas through public subscriptions.

Texas Parks Board Chairman J. V. Nash and Assistant Attorney General Frederick Isley are here to make the transfer. Details are being worked out in a series of conferences with park service officials which Isley would require several days.

Army To Get Leases On Land Near Abilene

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army plans to procure unlimited leases on some 70,000 acres of maneuver grounds at Camp Barkeley, Abilene, Texas, Rep. Mahon (D-Texas) said here Wednesday.

The Army has restricted, limited leases on the property now, Mahon explained.

He understood that the Army would seek options to purchase outright the leased lands.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney
America's Card Authority

As I formerly lived in Cleveland and started my bridge career there, I have always been interested in the Ohio State Tournament, and was pleased to see how well the tournament went over again this year. Once again the Western Reserve team won the Ohio State team-of-four championship, the fourth time in the last six years. The team consists of Elmer J. Bablin, former president of the American Contract Bridge League; Sidney B. Fink and Ollie Emrich. The fourth member, Cpl. A. L.

Siegel, was kept away from the tournament by government business. His place was taken by Arthur Goldsmith.

I have always said the fact that they liked to bid made the Western Reserve such a great team. Because of their optimistic bidding, they had to play fine cards to make their contracts. Sidney Fink plunged the hand shown today into six hearts, and made it.

He won the opening lead with the ace of clubs and led a small diamond. Now if West refused to win this trick with the ace, Fink would lead the jack of clubs from dummy and discard his losing diamonds, establishing two clubs on which the two losing spades could be discarded.

West, however, did win with the ace. Had he returned a diamond at this point, he might have defeated the contract—but a diamond lead into the queen-ten looked like a foolish play. West returned a club, Fink ruffed, cashed the ace and king of hearts, ruffed the ten of clubs, and now laid down the queen and jack of hearts.

East felt the pinch. If he discarded the nine of diamonds, West would be forced to let go a spade. Declarer would cash the queen and ten of diamonds and East would be squeezed again, having to discard either his high club or a spade—a very unusual and interesting squeeze play.

New Victory Iceboxes Saves Vital Materials

AP Features

One of the new war model refrigerators, made almost entirely of presdwood, a hardboard manufactured largely from waste wood, saves 139 pounds of metal now being utilized for tanks, guns and airplanes.

It uses 100 pounds of ice weekly, maintains an even temperature of 48 degrees and is built with only eight pounds of steel. It has more insulating value than metal, there is no moisture condensation on the outside of the refrigerator and it is easily cleaned.

Coaches' School Will Be Held In Hotel Ballroom

WACO —(AP)— Ever head of a coaching school being held in a hotel? Well, Waco will have one Aug. 9 to 15. The war caused it.

The Texas High School Coaches Association was going to put on its annual coaching school out at Baylor University. This is heralded as the world's largest football clinic and needs plenty of room. But military units has taken up the space in the Baylor dormitories.

At first officials of the association considered calling off the school. They already were having all sorts of trouble getting high school players for the annual all-star game. Then the proprietor of a hotel stepped in. There's a general congestion in the hotels but the proprietor of this one said he'd take care of the coaches up to 400—that they could bunk three or four to a room.

He turned the ball room over to the coaches. They can hold their

Scott Puts Title On Line In Thursday Tilt

DALLAS —(AP)— Russell (Bud) Scott puts one of the most unusual records in boxing annals of the line Thursday when he meets Jack Marshall for the Texas heavyweight championship: 171 fights without once being knocked off his feet.

Scott started fighting in 1935 as an amateur. He was in 68 bouts, losing only six in two years. Each loss was by a decision. He turned professional in 1937, while a student at George Washington University, and since then has been in 103 fights, losing seven on decisions, winning 93 and going to a draw in three.

lectures and meetings there. They can't demonstrate off-tackle smash-ers on a slick dance floor, it is true, but they'll hold such work to a bare necessity anyway. If they have any bodily contact to do, they'll move out to the municipal stadium.

Ralph Jones, T formation specialist of Lake Forest University, and Henry Frnka, coach of Tulsa University, will be chief instructors at the school and will coach the all-star squads—if any.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK — (AP)— A reader's query about the baseball hall of fame recently led Clyde McBride of the Kansas City Star to suggest that a lot of the old-time ball players hadn't received their just desserts in the halting for the honor roll at Cooperstown because the old-time baseball writers weren't around to tell of their feats. . . "If Chadbourne, Phelon, Bulger, Sam Crane and others could come back," write McBride, "you would soon be knowing about early stars who played the game with all the daring and stamina and skill of the modern stars, a different game perhaps, but nevertheless baseball." . . . Well, there's one who doesn't have to come back, Hugh Fullerton, Senior. He doesn't rate himself as an old-timer yet, but he used to pal around with those guys and he can tell you plenty about the stars of the nineties and even before.

Matter Of Opinion
The real "old timers" swore by such players as Jere Denny and Fred Pfefer, star infielders of the 80's and Mike "King" Kelly, colorful catcher who in his day probably was as famous as Babe Ruth. . . Pop doesn't agree on these choices, nor does he agree entirely with the most recent baseball writers' ballot on which Frank Chance, Rube Waddell, Ed Walsh, Miller Huggins and Ed Delahanty came the closest of those who failed election. . . Most of them will get plaques in the hall some day, he says, but some of the best players have been neglected or forgotten entirely.

Remember These Fellows?
There was Big Bill Lange, for instance, another player whose fame could be compared to Ruth's. He was a gigantic fellow who could hit terrifically and run 100 yards in 10.5 in his baseball uniform. . . There was Ed Williamson, who "probably was nearer to Wagner than any infielder I ever saw and he was going back then," and Herman Long of Boston, hailed as the developer of "inside" baseball. . . There were some great pitchers—an unusual number of them, in fact—who have received few votes or none at all. Mordecai Brown and Ad- die Joss have had some backing, but how about Bill Dinneen, better known as an umpire, Tom "Toad" Ramsey or "Willie Bill" Hutchinson? . . . And did you ever hear of Charley Bennett, who caught for Detroit and Boston and led the league nine times in eleven years? Pop considers him a better receiver than Mickey Cochrane, who probably will be in the hall of fame after a few more elections.

Cardinals Are Playing Their Games Tight; Winning Them

By Judson Bailey
Associated Press Sports Writer

The club that wins the one-run game wins the pennant in the National League according to the old sages of the senior circuit.

This diverting aspect of victory came in for considerable attention last year as the St. Louis Cardinals started streaking down the home stretch. From early August till the end of the season the Redbirds played 15 games which were decided by one run and they won 14 of them.

Playing Then Tight
The Cardinals still are playing their games tight and they still are winning most of them, although naturally enough their mark this spring doesn't compare with last autumn.

Discounting a pair of the games, the Cardinals have had 24 of their 41 contests this season settled by one run and they have triumphed in 14 of the 24.

In comparison the Brooklyn Dodgers have played 18 games decided by one run and have lost 11 of them. Cincinnati has won 8 out of 15 in the same category.

The Cardinals had another one of these close contests Wednesday, the day's only fracas in the National League, and they captured it in the manner to which they have become accustomed, 4-3 over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Kurovski Doubles
Mort Cooper and Rip Sewell, two of the league's leading pitchers, were paired on the mound and came up to the ninth inning with the score tied 3-3. Then the Card's speed got them the vital run.

Whitey Kurovski, playing for the first time since he hurt an eye on May 28, stretched a hard drive into a double to open the inning. Martin Marion was given an international walk. Cooper sacrificed. Lou Klein lifted a fly to left field and Kurovski raced home after the catch. Total for the inning—one hit, one run.

Kurovski also collected a triple and a single to score two of St. Louis' other three runs to help Cooper gain his seventh victory against three defeats.

This gave the Cards a half game margin over the second place Dodgers, who were kept idle by weather conditions.

In the American League the first place New York Yankees also were idle, but the Washington Senators lost ground nevertheless by dropping a 3-2 decision to the Boston Red Sox.

The Detroit Tigers slipped out of third place by losing a 3-1 verdict to the Chicago White Sox in spite of seven-hit pitching by Hal Newhouse.

the day's worst ambush, however. On returning to their own park for the first time in two weeks they were beaten 6-0 by the last place St. Louis Browns and stumbled in to seventh place in the standings.

Manager Mel Ott of the Giants rates the Cardinals as a more likely pennant winner than the Dodgers.

Confusion Reigns In Football Talk Of Schools In Deep South

ATLANTA—(AP)— The Deep South gives you: cotton, corn and complete confusion.

The confusion, in this case, beclouds intercollegiate athletics—and there's been nothing like it since the time the tornado hit Aunt Mandy's chickens.

This is the country that produces bowl teams in football—challengers like Alabama, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Tennessee and Mississippi State. Out of its 12-team Southeastern Conference come also the toughest like Louisiana State, Auburn, Tulane and Vanderbilt, who annually knock the pegs from under intersectional rivals.

No Bowl Candidates

This year there are no bowl candidates. Indeed, there may be scarcely any football teams. Four conference teams already have suspended varsity football operations for the duration and the fate of some others may be decided here July 26 at a special meeting of the conference executive committee.

Florida suspended all competition for the duration last March. Mississippi and Mississippi State were added to the list 10 days ago when the state board of control voted the suspension of all intercollegiate athletics at state-controlled colleges and last week Vanderbilt suspended varsity football because of lack of material.

Georgia, the 1943 Rosebowl champion, has not a man left from the great team which Frankie Sinkwich led to fame.

Alabama, victor in the Orange Bowl, expects to be in a like position by mid-summer.

Tennessee, whose tough Volunteers went to the Sugar Bowl, is asking soberly if there'll be enough boys next fall to field a team.

Two notes of confidence were struck by Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech, and Tulane's President, Rudus C. Harris, head of the Southeastern Conference.

"We shall be able to play football," said Dr. Brittain. "We expect 300 freshmen to matriculate next term. If Army cadets are not available, I think it advisable to continue football, using freshmen under 18 years of age and others who might be permitted to participate."

"We expect to play amateur football," Harris said. "If ever there was validity to the assertion that the game builds men physically, it should be proved now. Some of the cry-baby coaches who care primarily for their records as winners are chiefly the ones who want to quit in this period."

Sewanee May Return
Auburn and Louisiana State, like Alabama and Georgia, are non-committal.

Oddly, of the whole situation is little Sewanee—officially known as the University of the South. Once a football power, and later a grid-iron door-mat, the little school withdrew from the Southeastern Conference in 1940 and discontinued football the following year. Now bolstered by approximately 300 naval cadets, Sewanee is reported considering a return to the grid-iron wars.
