Lifetime Hunting, Fishing Licenses Are Available Soon

Texas hunters and fishermen now have an opportunity to invest in the state's outdoor resources by purchasing Lifetime Hunting and Fishing Licenses.

The lifetime license program is one of several licensing changes slated to go into effect in Sept. 1.

Lifetime licenses eliminate the need for sportsmen to obtain a new hunting or fishing license each year. Purchasers will receive a permanent card and license, and a new license will be sent automatically by mail each year prior to the Aug. 31 license expiration date.

Application forms for lifetime licenses will be available by July 15 from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department headquarters, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744, and from all TPWD law enforcement offices across the state. They also may be obtained by calling toll-free 1-800-792-1112.

A lifetime resident combination hunting/fishing license costs $500, and a lifetime resident hunting or fishing license is priced at $300.

Funds received from sales of lifetime licenses and specified contributors will be placed in the Lifetime Endowment Fund. Only the interest from the fund will be used by the TPWD to acquire, develop, manage or repair hunting and fishing areas.

The lifetime license may be purchased by Texas residents only. However, if a Texas resident purchases a lifetime license and later moves to another state, the license still would be valid anytime the holder returns to Texas to hunt or fish. Special hunting or fishing stamps still would have to be purchased by holders of lifetime licenses, officials said.

Also effective Sept. 1, every person hunting or fishing in Texas will be required to have a

Lazbuddie FFA Youth Wins Trip To National Meet

Dustan Jesko of the Lazbuddie chapter of Future Farmers of America is one of five students who won Southwestern Public Service Company-sponsored trips to the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo. in November.

Jesko, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jesko, placed first in the wiring class of the 24th annual SPS electricity workshop, a three-day event in which students learned about farm electrification.

Fifty-nine boys and five girls from Texas and New Mexico attended the workshop at Amarillo, June 9-11.

Berry Bass, a member of the Muleshoe FFA chapter, received a certificate of completion in the electric motors class.

The students learned applications of electricity for farm use, such as wiring buildings, assembling and using electric controls, and construction of electric motors.

The featured instructor was Ken Pollard, executive vice president of Texas Agri Business Electric Council, Area vocational agriculture instructors and SPS representatives also conducted educational sessions.

Southwestern Public Service Company primarily provided electric service to a population of about one million in a 52,000-square-mile area of eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the south plains and panhandle of Texas, the panhandle of Oklahoma and southwestern Kansas.

license. Persons currently (prior to Sept. 1) exempted from fishing license requirements because of age—under 17 years of age or 65 and older—will be required to obtain a "no fee" or free fishing license. They will remain exempt from having to purchase special fishing stamps such as the State Saltwater Fishing Stamp and the State Freshwater Trout Fishing Stamp.

The free license will be available from any TPWD office or game warden, and they also can be ordered by mail by writing to TPWD headquarters, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744, or by calling toll free to 1-800-792-1112.

Also beginning Sept. 1, all hunters will be required to have a hunting license (or exempt license), regardless of county of residence or land ownership. Prior to Sept. 1, persons hunting species other than deer or turkey on land on which they reside were exempted from hunting license requirements. However, after Aug. 31, those persons will be required to have a hunting license, including those under 17 or 65 or older who will be required to have a $6 exempt hunting license to

Poynor's Gun Thefts Solved With Arrest

It has been an ongoing investigation since August, 1985, and all the loose ends are not wrapped up yet, but for all practical purposes, the burglary at Poynor's has been cleared, according to Muleshoe Police Department Det. Sgt. Julian Dominguez.

Det. Dominguez said they have one man in custody in the Bailey County jail, who has given officers a statement, implicating himself and two other men, in the August, 1985 burglary in which 15-20 weapons, pistols and handguns, were taken from Poynor's.

The officer said the guns were valued at over $6,000.

A 'tip' led to the arrest of the man, who is from the Rio Grande Valley, and charges have been filed against him, and two others, who are not in custody at this time.

An investigation is still underway, and Det. Dominguez is waiting for results of evidence that has been sent to the DPS laboratory for analysis.

Friday is expected to be a big day in Muleshoe, as the annual Fourth of July celebration gets underway, beginning at 8 a.m.

First on the full agenda for the day will be the 10-K and two mile run. It starts off with registration on the KMUL parking lot at 7 a.m., with the race to start at 8 a.m.

The action then moves to the area of the Bailey County Civic Center, where registration for the Mule Shoe World Championship Pitching starts at 8:30 a.m., and actual competition in the several categories getting underway at 9.

Beginning at 10 a.m., the Civic Center will open with booths and entertainment inside and the kid's activities, games and contests outside on the north side of the civic center.

At 2 p.m., pioneers from this area will gather at the Bailey County Civic Center meeting room for their annual get-together. Several prizes will be awarded, there will be live entertainment and refreshments will be served.

At 5 p.m., the parade will travel from the Boy Scout grounds on South Main to Avenue B, turn west on Avenue B to South First Street and back to the Scout grounds. Several prizes will be awarded for parade participants.

Following the parade, action shifts to the city park on West Avenue D where families are encouraged to attend the evening's activities. It will be family picnic time, with several booths to be set up, such as the 4-H Exchange member booth. It will feature nachos, frito pies, hot dogs, snow cones and soft drinks. The 4-H booth will be open 5 p.m. to after the fireworks.

There is expected to be a home made ice cream booth, perhaps other food booths and several selling souvenir type items.

Also at the park, continuous live entertainment starts at 6 p.m., and will conclude at 10 p.m. when the Muleshoe Fire

Social Security News & Views

Many beneficiaries who work apparently feel that when they make their annual earnings report by April 15 to the Social Security Administration, they have met their obligation to report earnings for the year. This is not true and often leads to overpayments of benefits.

Now is a good time to review your 1986 earnings in the light of your present work and make sure your earnings estimate has not changed. Remember, the benefit you receive reflects your estimate of earnings. The annual earnings test permits retirees to have some earnings and still receive their Social Security benefits. Earnings above the exempt amount reduce the benefit by $1 for each $2 of earnings above the exempt amount.

The earnings limit for 1986 is $7,800 for people 65-70 and $5,760 for people under age 65. Beneficiaries age 70 during the entire year are exempt from the earnings test.

An annual earnings report is required from people who work or expect to work and earn over the exempt amount who receive some benefits for the year. It requires the person to report earnings from the past year and to estimate earnings for the present year.

However, recent studies indicate that many people fail to report changes in their estimates and incur overpayments--the payment of benefits to which they are not entitled. The law requires that overpayments be repaid. This is generally done by withholding all or portions of future checks, but may be repaid in a lump sum.

As part of a program to reduce its debt load, Social Security has been sending a mid-year reminder to working beneficiaries. The notice, which generally goes out by August, alerts them to the need to correct their earnings report as soon as possible to avoid the accumulation of debt.

But waiting for the reminder is just as bad as waiting for next year to the extent that the longer they wait to adjust benefits, the more money he or she may have to repay. A change in earnings may be reported to Social Security by phone, mail, or in person.

Life and misery began together.
-Thomas Fuller.

Creative Living with Sheryl Borden

Information on fuss-free dictating, new developments in eye care and celtic quilting will be presented on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, July 1 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, July 5 at 2:00 p.m. (All times are Mountain).

Special diets are not new, but keeping on the right food track can become a hassle when you're the only one eating differently. An easy answer is to plan ahead and develop a system. In an afternoon you can turn your freezer into a buffet of microwayable meals that are delicious and "safe". Lauren Ryan is a representative of Dow Consumer Products in Indianapolis, IN, and she will talk about the virtues of meal preparation and demonstrate two low-calorie recipes.

Americans spend more than eight billion dollars a year on eye care and eyewear. Consumers recognize the value of good vision, but are concerned about keeping the costs within their budget. Dr. Johnnie Barnes, an optometrist in Portales will talk about good eye care and what it costs.

Virginia Walton, an instructor for The Quilt Works in Albuquerque, will demonstrate how to do celtic quilting. She explains that it comes from an adaptation of the ancient Irish scroll work mostly seen in old manuscripts and church decorations.

On July 1 at 9:30 p.m. "Creative Living" will feature three interesting topics. Helen Pruet, home economist with The Milnot Co., St. Louis, MO will demonstrate how to make food "inviting" for children—even food that is good for them.

Jane Schenck, education representative for The Pellon Corp., New York, will show a new product on the market called "Quilter's Secret", and demonstrate some ways to use this product.

Finally, Dominique Isbecque, a color consultant and spokesperson for 800-FLOWERS in New York will discuss new trends in flowers.

Information on ultimate features in vacuum cleaners, preparing cajun pork chops and learning to live with pain will be presented on the show on Thursday, July 3 at 12 noon. The space age has come to the world of vacuum cleaners. Mary Bernardon, Director of the Hoover Home Institute from North Carolina, OH will show how electronic technology has provided the ultimate vacuum cleaner. These cleaning marvels feature an electronic information display panel that provides technology at your fingertips.

Joyce Meyer, home economist with the Indiana Pork Producers Assn. will share a recipe using an old American kitchen standby—the black iron skillet and will do downhome cajun cooking with pork, which is a very versatile meat. Her cajun chops are a spin-off from Louisiana's renowned blackened fish and are quick and easy and can be made as hot and spicy as desired. Joyce is from Indianapolis, IN.

If you have chronic pain, can you learn to live with it? The answer is yes, according to guest Dr. Richard Sternbach, a pain management expert from La Jolla, CA. Dr. Sternbach has spent his 26-year career in research and clinical treatment of chronic pain. He will offer suggestions about how—even if you can't get rid of pain—you can learn to live with it.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 90 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico. The show is distributed by the Pacific Mountain Network in Denver, Colorado.

The show opens to the public Friday from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. The awards presentation will be at 4 p.m. Saturday.

School Tax Receipts; Base Show Decrease

Two-thirds of the state's school districts experienced a loss in tax base between 1984 and 1985, according to the annual study prepared by the State Property Tax Board (SPTB). The agency's 1985 Property Value Study estimates that Texas School districts contained a total of $702.6 billion on taxable value as of January 1, 1985.

Ron Patterson, SPTB's executive director, says a low inflation rate coupled with economic problems in agriculture and the oil and gas industry--two of the mainstays of Texas economy--helped shrink the tax bases of many districts during this period.

"Our figures may not reflect this year's drastic drop in oil prices until the 1987 study is prepared," he noted.

State law requires SPTB to estimate the taxable value of property annually for each of the state's 1,063 school districts.

"A school district's taxable wealth is an important factor in determining how much financial aid it may receive from the state," explained Patterson. The Texas Education Agency will use the 1985 values in calculating education aid allotments for the 1986-87 school year.

"Although our figures show that total taxable values grew by 1.6 percent between the 1984 and 1985 value study, we believe the actual growth rate was closer to five percent," Patterson said. "This is because the taxable values of nonbusiness vehicles and bank stock were excluded from our 1985 study as a result of changes in state law."

By comparison, statewide taxable values grew by 8.7 percent from 1983 to 1984.

Reunion...

the overnight visit is for females only.

On Saturday afternoon, at 2 p.m., all class members will meet at the high school so everyone can see the remodeling and improvements, and visit with former teachers.

On Saturday night, beginning at 6:30 p.m., all class members will meet at the Muleshoe Country Club for dinner, awards, and reminiscing. Beginning at 9 p.m., there will be a disc jockey, playing records of the '60's' for those who wish to dance.

Cost for the weekend is $10 for singles or $20 for couples. You are also asked to bring high school pictures, as well as recent family pictures, and information on what you have been doing for the past 20 years.

Among the 732 school districts that showed a loss in taxable value during 1984-85 were the Houston and Dallas Independent School Districts, the state's two largest. In general, many districts that lost taxable value could be eligible to receive more state aid.

Figures from the study show that a majority of the school districts with the largest growth in tax base--20 percent or more--were suburban school districts in the areas around Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin and San Antonio.

Districts that lost 20 percent or more of their tax bases were located with few exceptions, in rural counties across the state. "Small rural districts are more directly affected by problems in agribusiness or the oil and gas industry," added Patterson.

"Districts with shrinking tax bases may be forced to increase tax rates in 1986 just to bring in the same amount of local revenue," he added. "The tax burden will also shift away from those types of property that decline in value."

The study estimated the total market value of the school district tax base at $830.9 billion. From that total, the study deducted $97.4 billion to account for special tax treatment for agribusiness land and another $30.9 billion for homestead and other exemptions. The remaining $702.6 billion represents the taxable value of property statewide.

SPTB released preliminary findings of the 1985 Property Value Study to school districts in late January. The agency provided an appeals process for reviewing evidence that districts provided to show their preliminary value findings were in error.

After ruling on the appeals, the State Property Tax Board certified the final results to the commissioner of education on May 30.

Single-family residential real estate accounted for 30.4 percent of the market value total in 1985. Business property, including utility companies and commercial and industrial real estate, equipment and inventories, made up 31.6 percent of the 1985 totals. Oil and gas values accounted for another 10 percent, while rural acreage represented 17 percent of the total market value.

Patterson noted that two clear hunt any wild bird or animal.

Requirements for special hunting stamps currently in effect will continue after Aug. 31. These are the Archery Stamp, State Waterfowl Stamp and White-winged Dove Stamp.

trends emerge when figures from past SPTB studies are compared. "Since 1981, residential, commercial and industrial real estate have accounted for steadily growing shares of the school tax base. In the same five-year period, the oil and gas share has steadily declined."

Even though rural acreage made up 17 percent of the 1985 market value total, most of this land is either agricultural or timber land taxes at less than market value. As a result, the taxable value of acreage amounted to only six percent of the statewide school district tax base.

The findings of the 1985 Property Value Study are based on an SPTB sample of more than 170,000 properties. The agency compares its values for the sample properties with the values on local tax rolls to calculate the value estimates for each school district.

The study was done in conjunction with another study that analyzes the quality of tax appraisals performed by county appraisal districts.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

By Edward Thorlund
Is it safe to invest in South African stocks today? Maybe, but most investment counselors advise against it.

The South African rand is worth about half what it was in 1982. An exodus of U.S. companies—mostly smaller firms—began three years ago. Seven departed in 1984. In 1985, 38 companies closed operations there. Ten have so far pulled out in 1986.

Most of the large U.S. corporations operating in South Africa claim they do more harm than good—that they offer opportunity and equal rights to blacks, and are thus a good influence.

This is probably right. But South Africa is suffering from a recession, and once-strong gold mining shares are down considerably, as an example. The threat of violence and strife grows and the country may be faced with more and more sanctions.

In this kind of atmosphere one should be willing to accept a loss if tempted to gamble in South African shares, now depressed in many cases. They may stay depressed or become more depressed.

Watch Work Habits During Hot Weather

Hot, humid weather which typifies Texas summers can be dangerous to your health, particularly if you work outdoors.

Outdoor workers often suffer from such physical disorders as heatstroke, heat exhaustion, heat cramps and fainting, says Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Such disorders occur most often when workers do not take time to adjust to the heat, notes Nelson. Summer hot spells, the first few days of work for new workers, and the first day back on the job after a vacation or illness are likely to be times when workers suffer the most from heat-related problems.

The combination of high temperatures and high relative humidity can be especially dangerous, says Nelson.

For example, a temperature of 100 degrees F. and a relative humidity of 50 percent have the same effect as if the temperature hit 120 degrees. The human body cools itself by perspiring, but problems can develop when high relative humidity prevents the evaporation of perspiration from the skin, Nelson explains.

To avoid potential health problems during the hot summer weather, he offers these suggestions for farmers and ranchers and others who work outdoors:

*Rest periodically in a cool place; rest is most beneficial when breaks are short but frequent.

*Drink fluids every 15 to 20 minutes. Water intake must equal perspiration loss, so drink more than enough to satisfy thirst. Rely on meals to replace salt.

*Wear loose garments of thin cotton fabric to enhance air circulation near the skin and to allow body heat to escape.

*Slow down work speed or distribute the workload evenly over the course of the day.

*If possible, postpone non-essential work for cooler periods.

*Transfer workers to help from other jobs or obtain extra helpers. Younger and more physically fit workers might take over.

*Where possible, shield workers from equipment heat sources, use exhaust fans near heat sources, and provide open windows and cooling fans for maximum air flow around individuals.

*Provide maximum opportunities for outside workers to work in well ventilated, shaded areas.

Heeding these suggestions and keep tabs on the daily temperature and relative humidity can go a long way to preventing heat related disorders during summer weather, says Nelson.

EATING OUT

By Rose Hughes

EAT more fish, diet and health experts tell us. Today, more restaurants serve fish than ever before. Even high in the eastern and western mountains, menus claim "fresh fish of the day."

MOST of it isn't fresh fish, but frozen fresh. And most of the fish offered is breaded. One can get a fish sandwich, a fish plate, a seafood platter (mixed fish and other seafood), etc.

THE usual serving with such an entree, almost universal, is coleslaw and potato, with tartar sauce (in a thimble-like paper cup). Maybe the slaw is in a slightly larger paper cup—a poor practice.

BUT fish is best for one's health and diet when not breaded. Ask for it broiled or baked, and ask for extra lemon. Along with the paper cup of slaw, many restaurants serve one thin lemon slice with a fish order.

THAT'S good for about two bites of fish. The paper cup of slaw is about four bites. One would do well to skip the bread, hush puppies, etc. and eat more slaw.

ORDER shrimp and clams broiled and lobster and crab broiled or baked—if watching calories.
