Officers And Men Alike Reported Refusing To Embark In Submarines Now Tied Up In Norwegian Waters

STOCKHOLM — (AP) — Six German submarine crews in Norway have mutinied and refused to disembark in the undersea boats, it was reported in Norwegian circles here Saturday.

Usually reliable sources were said to have relayed rumors that officers and men alike had jointly decided to mutiny, and that all were sent to a military prison in Oslo. The sources cannot be identified by name.

The report, capping a series of stories of discontent and weakening morale among German forces in Norway, recalled the mutiny of sailors of the German high sea fleet in October, 1918, in one of the major steps of the German collapse in World War One.

A considerable number of men and officers from submarines have been sent to Akershus prison in Oslo, now employed by the Germans as a military prison, the reports from Norway said.

The base where the reported disaffection occurred was not disclosed, but Norwegian circles said it might be Trondheim, or in the Trondheim area, where the Nazis had based much of their fleet this spring to prey upon convoys moving to Soviet Russia.

The base where the reported disaffection occurred was not disclosed, but Norwegian circles said it might be Trondheim, or in the Trondheim area, where the Nazis had based much of their fleet this spring to prey upon convoys moving to Soviet Russia.

Norwegian sources with reliable connections with the efficient underground in their home country said that "recent reports from Northern Norway say that remarkably many German warships are always lying in harbors for repairs of some small damage which they sustained only a short time after they put to sea. People (Norwegians) cannot help thinking that most of these damages were intentional to enable the marines to come ashore as soon as possible."

There have been many reports of poor morale and arrests among German army troops in Norway, and recently German marines—also were pictured as affected. Observers said extensive mutiny in the ranks of marines would have widespread effects.

Other principal ground activity was on a sector of the central front west of Moscow where Russian scouts were said to have broken through barbed wire defenses into German trenches, killing a number of the enemy and taking some prisoners.

On the Leningrad front snipers were reported to have killed 90 German soldiers and Russian artillerymen were credited with destroying eight blockhouses and six dugouts.

Despite the lack of notable developments in the ground fighting, the Russian army newspaper Red Star said that changes might come at any hour and warned all Russians to be on guard.

NEW YORK — (P) — The Greater New York CIO council announced Saturday it would send a 500-man delegation to Washington next Tuesday to demand "full explanations" from 13 New York City congressmen who were absent from the House when the anti-strike bill veto was overridden.

LIQUIDATION OF U. S. INDIAN BUREAU ASKED

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — (P) — Liquidation of the U. S. Indian Bureau was called for Saturday by the New Mexico American Legion.

The request addressed to Congress by resolution of the state convention also asked that Indians be given full citizenship and property rights.

WASHINGTON — (P) — Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the Senate military committee called Saturday for a bonus for the veterans of World War 2.

WASHINGTON — (P) — Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, appealed Saturday to a Senate appropriations subcommittee to reject House demands for the elimination of OWI's domestic branch. He threatened to resign if the House action is approved by the Senate.

NEW YORK — (P) — The wife of Nazi Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels is living "abroad" with her children and has decided to delay her return to Berlin because of the danger of air raids, the Moscow radio declared Saturday.

WASHINGTON — (P) — Approximately 50 per cent of the bomber crews reported missing over Europe are assumed to be alive in enemy prison camps, Major General Davernport Johnson, commander of the Second Air Force, estimated Saturday.

WASHINGTON — (P) — A large force of American heavy bombers attacked airfields and industrial targets in France by daylight Saturday, winding up the busiest week yet seen in the mighty Allied aerial offensive which has devastated the German war cradle in the Ruhr Valley and woven a pattern of destruction along Hitler's coastal wall.

LONDON — (AP) — The Algiers radio reported the arrival of Gen. Charles De Gaulle in Tunis at 5 p. m. Saturday. The broadcast said the Fighting French leader, who now serves as co-president of the French Committee of National Liberation, was greeted with enthusiasm by the population.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Heavy weather over the Aleutians broke long enough Thursday for American bombers to raid the Japanese on Kiska Island three times, the Navy announced Saturday, while patrols on conquered Attu rooted out and killed 15 more enemy soldiers.

Postpone Bombing Demonstration At Army Air Field Here

The instructors' bombing competition scheduled to be held at the Midland Bombarrier School Sunday morning has been postponed indefinitely.

"Unforeseen circumstances prevent the finals of the instructors' bombing competition from being held at the scheduled date," Col. John P. Kenny, commanding officer, announced. "But the contest to determine our champion instructor-bombardier definitely will be held in the near future."

Allied Bombings Leave Industrial Area Devastated

LONDON — (AP) — RAF fighters and bombers — and presumably United States heavy bombers struck again by daylight Saturday at Northern France, winding up the busiest week yet seen in the mighty aerial offensive which has devastated the German war cradle in the Ruhr Valley and woven a pattern of destruction along Hitler's coastal wall.

Following Friday night's RAF attack on the heart of the Ruhr coal and steel belt, a sky fleet which southeast coast observers said was a Flying Fortress contingent, was observed winging back from France. Then the Air Ministry capped this news with an announcement of new evening blows by the RAF.

The daylight British operations were focused on the enemy's advanced airfields, keeping up the war of attrition which commentators said earlier was costing the Nazis dearly.

Winging through the dusk hours, Typhoon bombers, escorted by fighters, battered the Bernay airfield, 40 miles south of Le Havre, unloading explosives through gaps in a cloud cover.

Other Typhoons scored hits on the station and freight yard near Le Treport in a raid during which not a single enemy fighter was sighted.

Boston bombers, meanwhile, attacked the oft blasted airfield at Abbeville.

The Ruhr was described as a bomb-pitted valley of spreading ruin after this week of assault — the mightiest ever loosed against a similar area.

Task Nearly Ended

After Friday night's blow at Bochum and Gelsenkirchen by a task of medium bombers, the great force of RAF heavyweights, one military observer estimated that 30,000 tons of explosives had rained into the compact German industrial valley since the Allies opened their intensive aerial bombardment three and one half months ago and declared that the task of neutralizing the Ruhr was nearing completion.

The observer, who could not be identified by name, said that even the most concentrated anti-aircraft and fighter defenses the Nazis were able to muster had failed to check the onslaught, capped by the destruction of nearly 100 German fighters in the last two daylight raids by American Flying Fortresses and Friday night's tell-

Senate Joins In Repudiating OPA Subsidy Rollback

WASHINGTON — (P) — The Senate cleared the way Saturday for passage Monday of the $71,898,425-740 war bill—and for a fight over a proposal to set aside House demands for scrapping the National Youth Administration (NYA).

Asserting NYA's work is "absolutely essential" in training young men and women for manual tasks in war plants and shipyards, Senator Truman (D-Mo) offered a proposal to appropriate $47,000,000 for that depression-born agency.

He submitted the proposal as an amendment to the $1,100,000,000 Labor Department-Federal Security Administration appropriations bill in substitution for a House provision allowing the NYA $3,000,000 with which to liquidate by January 1. The Senate appropriations committee had approved the House provision by a 13 to 12 vote.

With the new fiscal year starting next Thursday, the Senate set the $875,000,000 farm appropriations bill back to a conference committee for a further attempt to settle differences between the two houses over the Farm Security Administration, crop insurance and soil conservation payments.

Another measure carrying funds for the Office of Price Administration, the Office of War Information and other war agencies is still in the hearing stage before a Senate subcommittee.

Frank Knox Visitor In Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI — (P) — Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox arrived at the Naval Air Training Center here late Saturday and will remain through Sunday to complete inspection of the center and its kindred naval air technical training center at nearby Fort Island.

He came by plane from Washington via New Orleans.

His route from Corpus Christi was not disclosed.

In his party were Capt. L. S. Perry, Lt. Com. J. M. Besson and Public Relations Counsel Frank E. Mason.

Inspection of the center began almost immediately upon his arrival.

Dies Group Planning Nationwide Check On Racial Antagonisms

WASHINGTON — (P) — Plans for an exhaustive, nationwide investigation of "the growing racial antagonisms in this country" were disclosed Saturday night by Chairman Dies of the House un-American activities committee.

"It is a grave error for the government to ignore this dangerous situation," he said.

Dies (D-Tex) ascribed the "racial hatred" to "a combination of factitious, un-American propaganda activities and the codding of races by politically minded people in this country who ignore the vast differences between the protection and the codding of a race."

Detroit Riots Cost Production Setback

WASHINGTON — (P) — A War Production Board official declared Saturday that two days of "senseless rioting" in Detroit's racial upheaval cost the nation a worse setback in war production than was suffered "from all labor disputes in the entire nation in the first two months of this year."

Joseph D. Keenan, WPA vice chairman for labor production, said 1,000,000 man hours of work were lost during the rioting and this was "only a small part of the total cost to war production."

Despite Thick Ack-Ack Fire — Americans Drop 20 Tons Of Bombs On Rabaul On Strength Of Report Of Big Jap Aerial Concentration

By C. Yates McDaniel

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA — (P) — Liberators and Flying Fortress bombers blasted Rabaul, New Britain, with 20 tons of bombs Saturday on the strength of reports that the Japanese had 170 planes and considerable shipping, including a converted aircraft carrier, concentrated there.

In three successive waves they swept over the base in a high level attack before dawn, roaring through a curtain of anti-aircraft fire so intense that later two of the American-manned bombers were reported missing.

They unloaded their incendiaries and high explosive bombs on one of three Rabaul airdromes and on the docks.

The bomb tonnage brought to 196 the amount dropped in seven raids on Rabaul dating back to June 10.

Lae Is Pounded

On New Guinea, Mitchell medium bombers gave Lae on the Huon Gulf one of the heaviest poundings ever directed at that enemy base.

"Our medium units in a concentrated attack upon the airdrome at midday bombed and strafed revetments, hangars, barracks, buildings and ground defenses," the noon communique said of the raid.

"Dense clouds of smoke over the target area prevented assessment of damage. Intense anti-aircraft fire was encountered. All our planes returned."

Airdrome Attacked

At Rabaul, the bombers attacked Vunakanau airdrome and installations in the harbor before dawn. Both incendiaries and high explosives rained down.

The raiders encountered heavy anti-aircraft fire and two of the big bombers were reported missing.

Northern of Australia, medium bombers made a night raid on the airdromes at Penfoel and Dill on Timor, starting fires.

On New Guinea above Lae, a four-engine Allied bomber attacked the building area of Pischhafen.

Goebbels' Wife Said To Be Living Abroad

NEW YORK — (P) — The wife of Nazi Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels is living "abroad" with her children and has decided to delay her return to Berlin because of the danger of air raids, the Moscow radio declared Saturday.

WASHINGTON — (P) — Approximately 50 per cent of the bomber crews reported missing over Europe are assumed to be alive in enemy prison camps, Major General Davernport Johnson, commander of the Second Air Force, estimated Saturday.

Although Many Strikers Return — More Mines Close After Anti-Strike Bill Passage

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Mounting signs came from the Appalachian coal fields Saturday night that nearly normal production might be resumed next week although the situation in Pennsylvania remained uncertain after a day which saw the closing of more mines, even though anti-strike legislation has become law.

Foremost in the back-to-work movement were reports that more thousands of miners returned to their jobs in West Virginia, Kentucky and Virginia.

Coupled with this development were the almost general predictions by United Mine Worker district leaders that most of the men would be back in the mines Monday, even in Pennsylvania.

As against this, a large proportion of the men continued to remain away from work Saturday in large producing states like Pennsylvania, Alabama and Ohio.

Fortresses Bomb Earthquake-Proof City Of Messina

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA — (P) — Massed squadrons of Flying Fortresses shattered strategic sections of the "earthquake-proof" city of Messina Friday with their biggest attack yet staged in the Mediterranean. It was disclosed Saturday.

The record raid marked another powerful blow in the continuing effort to isolate Sicily, Mussolini's island bastion of Southern Italy.

Three Planes Lost

The Forts, roaring out more than 100 strong, showered the Messina port and rail areas so heavily that "when the last raider attacked there was so much smoke and dust that further observation of damage was impossible," Allied headquarters said.

Clouds of fighter planes and intense anti-aircraft fire put up a stubborn defense of the city, the terminus of train ferry links with the Italian mainland.

This assault followed an attack Thursday night by Wellingtons of the RAF upon Olbia, in Northern Sardinia, where they set off a huge explosion in the port area, near the railway station and military objectives, and started at least seven fires. All the Wellingtons returned safely, but three Allied planes were lost in Friday's operations.

Nearly 10,000 more miners left the Pennsylvania pits and, although four days have passed since the policy committee of the United Mine Workers issued its back-to-work order, estimates from coal producing states indicated production still far below normal.

7,600 Workers Revolt

By contrast, the back-to-work movement gained big headway in West Virginia and prospects appeared bright there for a general resumption among the 130,000 miners in the biggest bituminous coal producing state. Similar signs come from other producing states.

The new walkouts came unexpectedly in both the anthracite and bituminous fields in Pennsylvania, where the trend against return has been strikingly strong among the state's 200,000 miners during the week.

About 7,600 hard coal workers in Eastern Pennsylvania revolted against the back-to-work order Saturday morning and approximately 1,200 quit work at soft coal mines around Pittsburgh, some of them under the guise of picketing.

Prompt Returns Predicted

Several district leaders of the UMW have predicted a prompt return of the majority of the miners Monday. In West Virginia, the trend gained such momentum that estimates indicated not more than 2,000 men were idle in wholly closed mines and the rate of absenteeism at working pits improved sharply.

The UMW district office at Charleston, W. Va., reported more and more mines operating during the day and predicted near-capacity production next week.

In Ohio workers at one pit voted unanimously to return Monday, an action which Adolph Pacifico, vice president of the UMW district No. 6, interpreted as a forerunner for similar action by other local union units in Ohio over the week-end.

Former Midland Man Dies Of Exposure

DALLAS — (P) — Major Edward Douglas Park, 46, died recently of exposure in the desert in foreign service, the War Department notified his wife, Mrs. Edward D. Park of Dallas.

Major Park formerly a construction engineer here and in other Texas cities, was in the engineers corps and had been overseas for the last six months.

At one time he was with the Resettlement Administration and later with government defense construction in Mineral Wells, Wichita Falls, Midland and Houston. Survivors include a step-daughter, Mrs. Eugene Bailey of Longview.

Park was assistant superintendent here for Cagle Brothers and F. M. Reeves and Sons, general contractors, during the construction of the Midland Bombarrier College.

How America Bombs The Axis — On The Trail Of Submarines

(Sixth and last in a series on methods used by bombers of the U. S. Army Air Forces, as explained by instructors at the world's largest bombardier school at Midland.)

By The Associated Press

Submarine patrol is one of the most lonesome — and most important — tasks performed by bombers of the Army Air Forces.

It is about the only type of operation in which single planes are almost invariably used, and a bomber usually cruises for many hours without sighting a prey.

Once a sub is encountered, time is the most important element in success of the attack. The submarine will crash dive and maneuver to escape the bombs or depth charges as soon as a plane is sighted.

It takes about 30 seconds for a sub to get below the surface in a crash dive. Another 15 seconds is consumed in reaching the 40-foot depth.

The initial 45 seconds offers opportunity for an attack with maximum probability of damage. Within the next 15 seconds the submarine will be starting a maneuver and the probability of damage is small.

There are methods of estimating the position of submarines cruising submerged, if on a steady course. An undersea craft emits a stream of air bubbles and another of oil bubbles.

The oil bubbles rise to the surface slightly more than twice as far behind the moving submarine as the air bubbles do. The bomb or charge is aimed at a point exactly as far ahead of the air bubble streak as that is ahead of the oil bubble streak. In other words, if the two streaks are seen 100 feet apart, the "bull's eye" is 100 feet ahead of the air bubbles.

This is not the exact position of the sub when the bomb is dropped, but the position where it will be when the missile, if properly timed, will reach it.

Try Fixing A Farm Quota!

Farm goals for 1944 are now being determined by the War Food Administration-Department of Agriculture setup. They'll be announced by the middle or end of summer, beginning with the winter wheat acreage program which must be determined by July 1 in time for first plantings.

Fixing of these farm crop quotas to meet the war requirements is about the most difficult responsibility ever thrown on any government agency.

The success or failure of the war effort may hang on these decisions, which will be carried right down to the individual farmer—the number of head of livestock he will farrow next spring, the number of poultry hatchings, he will figure on, the acreage of each crop he will plant.

Then will come the big job of persuading the farmers, through their County War Boards, to grow the crops needed. If a farmer says he doesn't want to grow flax because he never raised it before, the proposition must be put up to him that the linseed oil is needed to paint the battleships or tanks.

Involved in the decisions to be made are complicated factors of the degree to which lifelong farming habits can be changed, the relative incomes to be derived from different farm products, the farm machinery and equipment available to handle special crops, the human and animal food requirements, the comparative nutritional values of various crop combinations, the labor supply, the very future fertility of the land itself if the usual crop rotation routines are to be changed appreciably.

It is easy, say the agricultural economists, to sit down with paper and pencil and figure what is needed or what should be done ideally. But that involves shoving people around, ordering them to do thus and so. The problem is to make goals that are attainable in a practical farm program that will be acceptable to farmers.

Basic determination of the entire program is to balance the number of livestock with the available feed supply. Boiled down, that means devoting as much acreage as possible to stock feed, in the light of other farm crop needs and taking into consideration the amount of feed grains that might be imported from Canada, Australia, the Argentine.

U. S. livestock population is now over 250 million head of cattle, sheep and hogs, over 540 million chickens. How much feed can be raised to support how much bigger a food animal population?

And how many of each kind of animals? If whole milk has a higher priority as war food than eggs or pork, shall dairy herds get a higher priority on feed supplies than chickens or pigs? And at what weight shall the meat animals be sent to market? Choice and prime beef that people like is fattened and slaughtered heavy, but you get more pounds of lean meat per bushel of stockfeed if the animals are slaughtered light.

Lend-Lease And Air Rule

Anglophobes seek to build up fear and resentment against Britain by emphasizing that the British are preparing to use lend-lease planes on air routes to Latin America and the Far East.

The British, it is pointed out, realize that they are being left behind in international aviation, and are hedging against peacetime competition.

Well, why not? Would this country, if positions were reversed, sit back and see a friendly economic rival tie up the post-war world? Are we so inferiority-complexed that we do not trust our ability to hold our own in the air?

In the war against Germany, Italy and Japan, the British Empire is making its full contribution and earning all it is getting from us.

Pity The Poor WAVE

There is something pathetic in the funny story of the New Hampshire girl who spent two months stretching in order to add half an inch to her height so that she could become a WAVE, and at the last minute found the restriction relaxed so that she could have made the grade without stretching. But the pathetic and the humorous seem to us to be much less important than that a gal named Berdette Liljehult wanted to get in the Navy so badly that she would spend two months trying exercises in hope of adding 13 millimeters to her five feet.

Lagging Behind

Enemies Live Side By Side

Stockholm Is Major Listening Post For Agents Of Both Allies And Axis

STOCKHOLM —(AP)— Stockholm today is one of the key war "listening posts" for the Allies and the Axis. Enemies dine in the same restaurants, live in the same hotels, coldly ignoring one another as they disseminate propaganda, and pry for information which filters into Sweden. This country's neutrality makes her people accessible to the propaganda of all belligerents.

A free press and liberal censorship regulations provide a virtually unhampered exchange of news reports, unmatched in other neutral countries like Switzerland, Turkey, Portugal and Spain. During the past year, when the threat of invasion of Sweden lessened, Stockholm became increasingly important to the Allies as a channel of information from Axis territory.

Swedish and Swiss businessmen travel throughout Europe, maintaining connections in Axis and occupied territory. Stockholm papers with Swedish correspondents at Berlin and Rome have special representatives in other European areas.

Sweden's other channels of information are through the regular air transport service between Stockholm, Berlin and Helsinki. Swedish ships ply ministrewn waters to Germany, Denmark and Finland.

Diplomatic agents of the Allies and foreign correspondents interview travelers from Europe, and watch the heavily censored German press. The evaluation of information obtained from these sources is often difficult. Not only are many persons poor observers, but often they have unwittingly or otherwise become victims of planted rumors and propaganda. Nevertheless, much valuable information is gathered. Bits of information frequently come from seamen on ships crossing from Germany. From neighboring Norway and Finland reports on what German officials and soldiers are talking about.

Pieced together, these scattered reports provide an excellent composite picture. This information not only keeps the public informed of European events, but much of it is supplemented by considerable confidential data which helps guide the United Nations' war effort against the Axis.

Jap Forces In China Are Not Strong Enough To Launch New Offensive

ENSHIH, ON THE UPPER YANGTZE FRONT, CHINA—(AP)— Japanese forces in China proper are not strong enough to begin another offensive unless they draw reinforcements from Burma, the Southwest Pacific, or the northern provinces. Gen. Chen Cheng, who turned the recent Japanese thrust toward Chungking, declared Thursday.

Whether the Japanese will weaken on other fronts to renew the assault in China "remains to be seen," he said in an interview.

Fought On Morale
Up to now, Chen explained, the enemy has been able to pull together enough troops from various fronts within China itself to launch an offensive, but now the number that can be taken from garrison duty in occupied areas is limited.

Chen, 47, and one of China's best generals, was recalled from Yunnan Province to halt the Japanese advance up the Yangtze in a threat to the Chinese capital. He is commander-in-chief of Chinese expeditionary forces facing Burma from both Yunnan and India.

Asserting that the Chinese "have fought nearly six years on morale," Chen declared that a "bigger air force and more heavy guns" are needed to push the Japanese out of China completely. He said one per cent of the United States' estimated airplane production of 84,000 planes a year "would be enough," but doubted China would get that number.

Strategy Falls
He said the Chinese "didn't fulfill expectations completely" in the Yangtze defeat of the Japanese, whose casualties were placed officially at 40,000 troops. The strategy, he explained, was to draw the enemy farther into the mountains where they could more easily be trapped, but the Japanese retreated before they met the full strength of the Chinese armies.

With their present arms and equipment, he added, the Chinese are unable to recapture Ichang, Japanese-held stronghold on the Yangtze at the lower end of the river gorges. Ichang is a key to any Chinese advance on Hankow from the west, and a base for Japanese attacks in the Chungking direction.

China, Chen said, is fighting a hard enemy and poverty at the same time, "but we will never surrender and we firmly believe that the final victory is with us."

Red Premier Thanks President For Faith
LONDON —(AP)— Premier Stalin of Russia thanked President Roosevelt for his "high estimation of the determination and bravery of the Soviet people" in a special message broadcast by the Moscow radio early Sunday and said that conditions have been created for the final defeat of the common enemy.

"The sooner we strike our joint united blows against the enemy from the east and from the west," the sooner final victory will come, said Stalin's message, recorded here by the Soviet monitor.

Military Academy Draws Max Minor Longhorn Athlete

By Harold V. Ratcliff
AUSTIN —(AP)— Max Minor, the chunky guy with the piano legs, is going to West Point July 1—and that means the U. S. Military Academy will get an athlete just reaching his college stride.

Minor comes from Little Tahoka, Tex., where he first attracted attention by tying the national scholastic record for the 220-yard low hurdles in 1940.

He went to the University of Texas and earned varsity letters in football and track but it was not until the past year that he really began to go places. He was on the Southwest Conference and Cotton Bowl championship Texas team last fall, and was a star for the Longhorns in the dashes during the past track season.

But it wasn't many years ago that Minor was told he never could compete in athletics again. As a sophomore in high school Max underwent two serious operations. It not only kept him out of part of the football season, but all of basketball and track. And the doctors informed him he never could participate in any of these contests again.

"I took things easy until the next football season," Minor recalls. "That's as long as I could stand it. I finally persuaded my parents to let me try again. Through some crafty taping and padding me up, I was able to play in every quarter of every game my junior year. After going through the football season, I felt as good as new."

In track he set a couple of district records and won the low hurdles in the State meet. The following year he was back at the State meet to tie the national record. "I made up my mind to shoot at the State record," he said.

Youth Reported Dead 3 Times Enlists In Army

OKLAHOMA CITY —(AP)— Earl Cummins, very much alive although he has been reported dead three times and was "buried" once, is going to give the Japs and Germans a crack at him.

The 22-year-old Shawnee youth enlisted Saturday in the Army. He said he hoped the Army wouldn't announce his death any more often than necessary.

Cummins was first reported dead after the New London, Texas, school disaster in 1937. But he was alive enough after the explosions to help 24 fellow students to safety.

Nice Funeral Anyway
Six months later, a man killed by a freight train was identified as Cummins from his clothing and was buried by the family.

"I met this fellow in Texas," Cummins said, "and gave him some clothes. They had a nice funeral but they didn't bury me. I was in Salt Lake City."

Returning home from Salt Lake City by motorcycle, Cummins was delayed several days by tire trouble and "word got out that I was sure enough dead that time."

"But I wasn't, and here I am going into the Army, alive and kicking."

Being reported dead, says Cummins, "is tough on the home folks, but it sure is nice to pop up and prove they're wrong."

ing punch by the RAF. The customary haze of smoke from the Ruhr's armament factories was reported to have thinned out appreciably in recent weeks and in some points to have disappeared entirely.

Production Impaired
In Friday night's attack the British smashed through swarms of Nazi fighters to strike at the core of the valley's coal and steel production. It was the seventh straight night that the RAF poured flaming destruction on Hitler's war plants, and the cost was 30 big bombers. Pilots said they dropped their loads on assigned targets despite the intense opposition and poor weather conditions.

There was a definite feeling here, supported by Paul Joseph Goebbels' own propaganda, that the Ruhr now has been spread over such a huge area of the Ruhr that traffic and utilities are disrupted, morale seriously disturbed and production definitely impaired.

Recent massive raids have not been directed at the main centers of the Ruhr, such as Essen, Dueseldorf and Dortmund, but at smaller towns on the perimeter of the great arsenal area. One commentator said it could be assumed that the large cities had received a "sufficient dose" for the moment and that the experiment to see whether Germany could be bombed from the war was approaching its climax.

Americans Accused
Friday night's RAF attack came as a thundering follow-up to Friday's pounding of unspecified targets in Northwest Germany by American heavyweights, estimated by the Germans to number 200. The Nazis seized on the second American raid within a week to cut loose with bitter new tirades in which they called American airmen cultural vandals and military barbarians.

"The Americans destroy towns of the European continent with their cultural institutions of which there are no equals in Chicago or San Francisco. What they cannot buy of European art and culture shall become victim of their terror bombers."

"Humanity should blush in shame that, say, a 20-year-old American, Canadian or Australian terror flier can and is allowed to destroy a picture by Duerer or Titian."

Luxuries In Furniture 'Are Out' For Duration Starting On July 1

WPE Wood Order Calls For Cut Of Two-Thirds In Patterns; '43 Outlook Described

As America hits full war production stride, extreme variety in furniture becomes one of the luxuries civilians must forego for the duration. WPE's wood furniture order, calling for an approximate two-thirds cut in the number of existing patterns, comes into full effect on July 1, while new patterns were prohibited after March 15.

Nothing in this country's wartime furniture rulings, however, so far approaches the drastic regulations in England. There, all furniture production is government-controlled, and only 66 articles of rigidly functional type are permitted. In this country, total quantity of furniture is restricted only by difficulties in securing materials and manpower.

Demand Is Great
Wood today is hardly less critical than steel. The necessity for stretching metal supplies, plus new developments in manufacturing technique, have made wood a primary combat need.

Furniture metal, permitted only for essential joinings, has been reduced to approximately half its normal hardware usage—adding up to an annual saving of 22,000 tons. The steel saved in the elimination of springs amounts to 30,000 tons a year. After a year's experimentation, manufacturers have devised comfortable and padded furniture without springs, and some types with wooden springs.

But the difficulties of a factory making upholstered pieces do not end with substitute springs. Webbing, for the cross-cross supports on the under side of a spring unit, may no longer be made of critical jute. Highly processed paper often replaces it. Stuffing for upholstered furniture is among the minor complications. Fine down goes to army sleeping bags. Kapok goes to navy life belts. But some types of feathers are available for furniture stuffings, and several varieties of plant fuzz are being tried. Cotton wadding is available.

Upholstery fabrics, both muslin and decorative coverings, share in wartime textile complications. For fibers, facilities and labor, upholstery yardage must compete with other civilian goods and with enormous military orders.

At the same time, they are making civilian goods, many wood furniture factories have war orders to fill, ranging from wooden cases of many kinds to small munitions parts. Metal furniture plants, unable to make their usual products, turn out large war orders for wrought iron goods.

To its other wartime difficulties, the furniture trade adds the universal transportation and manpower problems.

Need For U. S. Aid In Supply Stressed At Furniture Mart

Baby buggies with cowhide tires. Beds and furniture without springs. Standardized items of all kinds, intended to save critical materials and conserve manpower, greeted the furniture dealers of the nation in the opening of the 10-day summer home furnishings market at the American Furniture Mart today.

Keynote of speeches was the need for a government assistance to keep up a supply of needed civilian items while at the same time using up materials already partly fabricated, and giving small dealers sufficient merchandise to enable them to stay in business.

A serious situation in civilian home supply goods is expected in four or five months unless steps are taken to avert shortages cutting available goods "below the comfort level," Roscoe R. Rau, executive vice-president of the National Retail Furniture Assn., said.

Scarce items are bedding and bedsprings, cutlery and kitchenware, baby carriages and juvenile furniture, wood furniture, and repair parts for home equipment, Rau said.

Furniture Mart Show Opens

Baby Bunting will ride blithely up the avenue in a carriage with cowhide tires, if new parents take advantage of the latest war substitute now on display at the Summer Furniture Market which opened a ten-day show at the American Furniture Mart today.

This new wood and cloth carriage is constructed entirely of non-war materials, according to the manufacturers, Frank M. Katz, Inc., of New York City. They assert the cowhide tires will outwear any synthetic rubber yet on the market.

Buena Vista Area Gets Deep Wildcat

By Frank Gardner, Oil Editor
Pecos County claimed the spotlight Saturday as Siemoneit Drilling Company of Fort Worth and Ed M. Wahlenmaier of San Angelo announced location for a 6,000-foot Ordovician wildcat 3 miles east of Buena Vista, and Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Ada C. Price, deep prospect 29 miles southeast of Fort Stockton, reportedly recovered a core showing distillate.

The Siemoneit and Wahlenmaier test is their No. 1 Virginia W. Crockett, 660 feet from the northwest and southwest lines of section 28, block 2, H. & T. C. survey. It is 5 miles northeast of the Apo-Warner Ordovician pool, an equal distance southeast of the Abell Ordovician pool and 2 1/2 miles south by southeast of the Abell Permian (Conry-Davis) pool.

No. 1 Crockett is on acreage farmed out by the Shell Oil Company, Inc. Other companies supporting the test are Sun Oil Company, The Texas Company and Lario Oil & Gas Company. C. J. Siemoneit said here Saturday he will move in rotary to the location late next week.

Deep Prospect
Phillips No. 1 Price, section 11, block 101, T. C. R. R. survey, closely watched well in Southeastern Pecos and deepest active operation in West Texas, is reported to have cut a 3-foot core from 11,561-64 feet which bore evidence of distillate. Five hours were required to cut the core, according to some sources. At last reports, operator was drilling ahead at 11,573 feet in the wildcat, which has been a "tight" well. Confirmation lacking, the test is believed by some to be in the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician. It first attracted interest when it encountered gas at 11,555-56 feet which kicked up rotary table and partially unloaded the hole of drilling mud. A heated leasing play ensued, with Phillips and some other companies reported to have bought 50,000 to 60,000 acres in less than a week.

Latest reports, by counties:
Andrews County
Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-20-38 E. B. Ralph, Northwestern Andrews wildcat 8 1/4 miles west and slightly south of the Fullerton deep Permian pool, is drilling at 7,818 feet in lime and shale, with no showings logged.
Continental Oil Company staked location for No. 1 A. J. Eilers in the C NW SW section 13, block A-32, 3rd, as a short east outcrop to the Fullerton pool. The scheduled 7,300-foot rotary test will start preliminary operations Monday. It is 3/8-mile southeast of Fullerton Oil Company No. 1 E. M. Jackson, 3/4-mile east extensioner now in process of completion, and 1 mile east of the nearest completed producer, TP

Casing Depots To Be Set Up Under New PAW Plan

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Wildcat or prospecting oil well drillers will be able to get pipe within two to 24 hours after they bring in a well, a Petroleum Administration for War spokesman said. Necessary supply depots will be set up some time in August in 12 oil producing areas, he said.

The plan was devised by PAW to encourage wildcatting by assuring such operators of a nearby supply of tubular goods without the necessity of providing each driller with many strings of pipe which would be idle until a well was brought in. Established drillers' equipment houses will carry the pipe in stock in each of the 12 depot locations announced. Wildcatting, however, will be permitted to order from the nearest supply house, which can quickly communicate with the depot and start the pipe moving to the new well.

To Meet Emergencies
Steel mills which produce the so-called "oil country tubular goods" will be instructed to keep 20,000 tons on hand, to meet emergency calls from any area, in addition to the 10,000 tons which will be distributed over the country among the various depots in amounts proportionate to the wildcat activity in each area.

Deliveries will not be made from these emergency stockpiles unless the purchase is approved by the PAW district director of production in the wildcatting district, but this approval may be obtained by telegraph, the PAW spokesman said. Sales must be in compliance with the general priority order covering the petroleum industry, but PAW said that this did not mean that any delay in delivery would occur because of priority formalities.

The depots will be in or near the following towns: Chase, Kas.; Mt. Pleasant, Mich.; Grayville, Ill.; Seminole, Okla.; Houston, Texas; Corpus Christi, Texas; Odessa, Texas; Shreveport, La.; Wichita

A 1/2-mile north outpost to the pool, Amerada No. 1 Hickman, is rigging up rotary.
In the pool, Skelly Oil Company No. 1-L University is drilling at 9,120 feet in Ellenburger dolomite.

Upton County
TP No. 52-A John F. Lane, 7,000-foot Ordovician test in the shallow McCamey pool of Western Upton, is drilling at 4,255 feet in lime.

Ward County
Phillips No. 1-B University, wildcat 1 mile north of Pyote in Northern Ward, is reaming to 3,540 feet preparatory to setting 9 5/8-inch casing. Present depth is 5,020 feet in sandy dolomite.

Shell No. 3 Sealy-Smith Foundation, Ellenburger test in the Monahans pool of Northeastern Ward, is drilling at 7,908 feet in chert streaked with lime and shale.

Winkler County
Stanolind and Shell No. 1 W. D. Blue estate, discovery well of the Wheeler-Ellenburger pool in extreme Eastern Winkler, is trucking out oil from storage preliminary to taking potential gauge. Total depth is 10,697 feet in Ellenburger dolomite topped at 10,493 feet. On last gauge the well averaged 71.4 barrels of 44.7-gravity oil per hour, with gas-oil ratio of 1.061-1. Flowing through a 1/2-inch choke on 2-inch tubing for 16 hours.

In the Kermit-Ordovician pool of North Central Winkler, Magnolia No. 21 State-Walton, 3/4-mile southeast outpost, is drilling at 4,203 feet in lime, and the same firm's No. 234 J. E. Walton, 3/4-mile northwest extensioner test, is drilling in anhydrite at 1,620 feet.

Deep Wildcatting Spreads To Chaves County, N. M. As Two Tests Started

HOBBS, N. M.—Chaves County held interest this week in South-east New Mexico as it gained two deep wildcat starts.

Twenty-five miles due east of Roswell, the DeKalb Agricultural Association, Inc. of Lubbock is moving in rotary to a scheduled 7,500-foot test on the J. P. White Ranch. Location for the wildcat reportedly is in the C NW SW section 35-10s-28e. The White Ranch is said to comprise some 104,000 acres, and it is understood DeKalb may drill two more tests on the block.

Road is being built to Naylor Highway No. 1 Charles F. Waller-Cornell University, proposed 6,000-foot wildcat 12 miles southwest of the DeKalb test. The Hightower project is in the C SE NW section 33-12s-28e. Cornell University is said to own part of the minerals under the Waller Ranch.

Eddy Delaware Strike
Schuster & Messinger No. 1 Page, prospective Delaware sand pool opener 8 1/2 miles northeast of Carlsbad in Eddy County, last was reported fishing for tools blown up the hole by gas while cleaning out at 2,600 feet after nitro shot. The well was shot with 20 quarts from 2,633 to 2,649 feet, total depth, corrected by shooter's line from 2,644 feet. An 86-foot gravel ramp was set on top of shot. No. 1 Page, in the C NW SW section 15-21s-28e, topped the Lamar (Delaware black) lime at 2,350 feet and the Delaware sand at 2,620 feet. It does not, contrary to some reports, mark the opening of the first Delaware sand production in New Mexico; six years ago, Delaware production was found in several wells near Black River in Eddy County.

McKee & Jones No. 2 State, C SE SE section 3-10s-29e, discovery 5 miles south of the Loco Hills pool in Eddy, pumped 5 barrels of oil the first 1 1/2 hours of testing on pump and continued testing. The well is bottomed at 2,600 feet in lime and was acidized with 8,000 gallons in pay zone from 2,575 to 2,595 feet.

Deep Wildcat
New location for the Loco Hills pool has been staked by the Dixon & Yates Oil Company et al in No. 3 Day, C SW SE section 12-18s-29e. A deep wildcat on the southwest edge of the Square Lake pool of Eddy, S. P. Yates No. 3 Evans, section 5-17s-30e, logged a slight showing of oil in lime from 5,219 to 5,225 feet and drilled ahead.

The Square Lake pool gained two starts and one producer. Barney Cockburn No. 9 State, section 36-16s-30e, made a natural flow of 100 barrels of oil per day through 2-inch tubing swung at 2,870 feet. It topped pay at 3,050 feet and drilled to 3,100 feet in sand.

Burham Oil Company staked No. 1 State in the C SW NW section 2-17s-30e, and O. H. Randall located No. 3 State in the C SE NE section 2-17s-30e.

Grayburg-Jackson Pool
In the Grayburg-Jackson pool in Eddy, Superior Oil Corporation of Tulsa completed No. 3 Foster, section 17-17s-31e, for a daily flow of 80 barrels of oil through 2-inch tubing set at 3,370 feet. It topped pay at 3,354 feet, drilled to 3,520 feet in lime and was shot with 440 quarts from 3,368 to 3,510 feet.

Two new locations were staked at Grayburg-Jackson, both by Western Production Company. The firm's No. 2 Nunlee is in the C SW SE section 27-16s-30e and its No. 8-C Keely is in the C NE NE section 25-17s-29e.

Cosden Officials Accused By Jury

DALLAS —(AP)— A federal court jury has exonerated the Cosden Petroleum corporation, its president and pipeline superintendent of conspiracy to violate the Connally hot oil act.

The verdict of innocent came Friday afternoon for President Raymond L. Tollett, Superintendent R. Weldon Thompson, and M. M. Hines, an employee.

The jury took the case after hearing testimony on the alleged movement of "hot oil" in interstate commerce. Hot oil is oil produced in excess of Texas railroad commission quotas.

The indictment charged the company and other defendants with conspiring to move oil produced in violation of state allowances between April 1, 1940 and Nov. 1, 1941.

WOMEN WON'T TALK

BY RENE RYERSON, MART
COPYRIGHT, 1943, NEA SERVICE, INC.

LIGHT CHAPTER XXII
THE luncheon gong broke up the conference.

I couldn't tell you what Clara served to us that noon. I made a pretense of eating by jabbing a fork at the food on my plate whenever anyone looked my way. But I needn't have bothered. Walter and George became involved in a business conversation almost immediately we sat down at the table, and Kathy and Connie, judging from the expression on their faces, were busy with their own thoughts, and none too pleasant ones, either.

Kathy got up and excused herself while dessert was being served. I left the table myself as soon as I decently could after that and started to my study. I wanted to be alone where I could think things out.

When I reached the hall Kathy was coming down the stairs. She had gone to her room and changed into the flamboyant polka-dotted dress that she had worn the day of Derek's death. But she wasn't wearing the coat that went with it. She carried that carelessly over one arm.

I gaped at her open mouthed and a hundred horrid suspicions whirled through my head. She moved quickly toward the hall door, flinging an abrupt explanation over her shoulder. "I'm going down to see Clint. Maybe I can persuade him not to give your gun to the police."

Then she was gone before I could say anything even if I had been able to. As I stood staring at the door swinging shut behind her, the phone rang.

I answered it automatically. It was the telephone girl in the village. She said she had a telegram for me, and asked whether she should read it to me, or send it out to the house.

"Read it to me, of course," I said. It was from the Peabody Brothers Publishing Company and the message was terse:

CLINT MATTISON UGLIEST MAN WEST OF THE ALLEGHENIES.

It is one of the tragedies of life that the people we know the best know the least. I had gone to a great deal of bother to check up on Clint Mattison, suspicious of him because I didn't know who his father and mother were, where he had gone to school, how many love affairs he had had. And yet Kathy, whom I had known from a baby, was more of an enigma to me than he was.

And Connie with her beautiful sweet face... what did I really know about Connie? She had been a poor girl, she had had to work for her living, and her story-book marriage to Walter had lifted her above all that. I had thought that she loved Walter, but might it not be ambition and greed that motivated her? And what would she do if someone, who had known her too well in her youthful past, threatened that security and position? I had told George that Derek had been blackmailing Kathy. But what if he had been blackmailing Connie?

And what did I really know about myself? A rather arrogant old woman stared haughtily back at me when I looked in the mirror. A woman with masses of white hair, and a flair for clothes. A woman brittle and worldly-wise, with violent emotions which even sixty years of living hadn't burned out. But what was really in my heart?

It wouldn't have taken much at that moment to push me over the edge into hysteria. And I knew that wouldn't do. If it came to the worst, I was going to need all my vitality—and my wits. The thing to do was to stop thinking, to relax.

I WENT up to my room and lowered the shades and lay down on the bed, but it was no good.

Sleep was a million miles away. If I had had a sedative to take—but I'm so disgustingly healthy that there's nothing in my medicine cabinet. Then I thought of Walter. He suffers from insomnia. He probably had something.

I went down the hall and into the back bedroom that he was using as his dressing room and into the bathroom beyond it. Sure enough, the medicine cabinet was crammed with bottles. There were cold tablets, mouth washes, gargles, cathartics, and one bottle bearing a pharmacist's label. I opened it and poured a few of the tablets into my hand. They looked like the ones the doctor had given for Margaret. I read the directions. Take one or two at bedtime. They were evidently sleeping tablets.

I laid a couple of them on the rim of the wash stand and started to put the rest back into the bottle, and then paused, looking at them curiously. There must have been two dozen of the tablets altogether. If one took them all—it would be easy to sleep and forget—everything—forever. I can't go to with a guilty start. What was it that Deputy Shaw had said when he questioned me about the attempt on Margaret's life? That women my age didn't commit suicide, that we had lived too long, been through too much to ever think of taking the easy way out. Maybe he was wrong. Maybe young Deputy Shaw didn't know just how tired one could get.

And something I had said in answering him then came back to me. Something I had said not really believing it myself at the time, but had said hoping to fool him. But what if it was true? I held on to the thought for a moment, examining it. If it was true—

With a blinding flash of understanding I saw the whole thing! I knew who had killed Derek Grady! (To Be Continued)

Veteran Of War In Pacific Now At Midland Base

Major Charles F. Dugan, who has served at combat stations in the Pacific for more than a year and a half, has been assigned to duty at the Midland Army Air Field.

Commissioned in the Officers Reserve Corps in 1935, Major Dugan was transferred from Hawaii to the Solomon Islands, where he established headquarters at Espiritu Santo after a two-week convoy trip in which his ship was frequently under submarine attack.

"Our house," he said, "was midway between the hangars on one side and the bay in the other, so that bombs aimed at the air field and the ships in the harbor were falling on either side." Major Dugan's wife and two-weeks old son were in the house during the attack, and although the house had twenty-seven shrapnel holes in it by the time the bombing was over, neither his wife nor son were injured, he said.

As adjutant of the 8th Heavy Bomb Group, Major Dugan was transferred from Hawaii to the Solomon Islands, where he established headquarters at Espiritu Santo after a two-week convoy trip in which his ship was frequently under submarine attack.

In coordinating the work of the 5th Bomb Group, Major Dugan spent time on Guadalcanal and other island bases, both in the Solomons and Hebrides Islands, and was frequently under bombing raids by the Japs. After contracting malaria, Major Dugan was evacuated to New Zealand, and returned to the United States in May of this year.

A native of Crooksville, Ohio, where he taught school before entering the service, Major Dugan is graduate of the University of Dayton, and took post graduate work at Ohio University. With his wife and young son, he plans to make his home here.

Midland Woman's Nephew Describes His War Experiences In Pacific Area

Pfc. Raleigh C. Willis of Billings, Mont., nephew of Mrs. Pearl Parrott of 310 South Pecos Street in Midland, thinks if the men in service can fight, the people at home, who are getting a lot more money out of the war than they are can quit striking and see that the fighters get the materials they need.

The 18-year-old Leatherneck, who has five sleeve stars signifying action in as many major engagements, is back in the United States on furlough. He attended school with Mrs. Parrott's son, Ralph Parrott, at Odessa in 1938. In an interview in The Billings Gazette, Private Willis declared that the men in New Zealand "really know there's a war going on. Everyone does his best all the time."

In speaking of the action he saw overseas, he said, "I got along fine. Nothing happened to me." He didn't mention that he had malaria nine times, that he was in the third wave of the landing party on Guadalcanal, that his battalion shot down 34 Jap planes and that he saw plenty of action.

Willis enlisted in October 1941. After boot training at San Diego, Calif., he went to the Pacific zone for schooling in landing operations and then to Midway for six weeks and afterwards to Guadalcanal for six months. On his service ribbon seven stars are pinned; one for Midway, six for Guadalcanal. He's rated a sharpshooter and received a medal for prowess in that field. The other medal signifies skill with bayonet, machine gun and rifle.

Commission Urges Oil Price Increase

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Interstate Oil Compact Commission Saturday night urged Congress "and the price control authorities of the government" to grant an "immediate and adequate" increase in the price of petroleum and its products. In a resolution adopted at the close of its quarterly session, the commission called attention to the fact "that the nation is faced with an impending shortage of oil, and the petroleum conservation program is in serious jeopardy through lack of incentive for wildcat drilling."

Senate Ready For War Bill Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate joined the House Saturday in repudiating OPA's food subsidy rollback, and voted besides to transfer future subsidy operations from the Office of Price Administration to the War Food Administrator, Chester C. Davis.

Thus the administration suffered its second major setback in two days, the anti-subsidy action following Congress' overriding of President Roosevelt's veto of the anti-strike bill.

In no mood for extended debate, the Senate voted 46 to 29 to kill the rollback, which Price Administrator Prentiss Brown has said is essential to hold the line against inflation. It then swiftly adopted, without a record vote, an amendment by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) transferring subsidy authority to the food administrator.

The actions brought OPA operations to a fresh crisis. Brown has put the subsidy into effect on meat and butter and declared it necessary "to roll back the cost of living to the level to which we are committed (Sept. 1, 1942) and to hold it there." OPA also faces a financial crisis, the House having slashed 26 per cent from the $177,000,000 recommended for the agency's operations in the next fiscal year. Brown said this week that price control will be "crippled into uselessness" if the Senate agrees with the House on the money issue.

Mrs. M. J. Smith and baby, who have been in Western Clinic Hospital, have returned home.

OPA Checks On Gasoline Use In Longview Region

LONGVIEW (AP)—Bob Bryant, in charge of 24 Office of Price Administration investigators questioning motorists on two main highways in this area Saturday concerning use of gasoline rationing coupons, said the drive, planned for two days, was called off Saturday night.

Bryant told Louis Hart, Longview newspaper man, that more than 200,000 coupon-miles of gasoline ration coupons had been confiscated during the investigation begun Saturday morning.

This was less than half the total OPA officials said were confiscated in a two-day investigation in the Paris area last week-end.

Bryant told Hart that the Longview investigation was terminated because most of the traffic was what he called local people.

"We found we were stopping many of them three and four times," he said.

State highway police and sheriff's officers were unable to appear as aides to the OPA investigation, Hart said, leaving four state liquor control agents and seven Harmon hospital military police to assist the OPA representatives' questioning.

Col. G. V. Emerson, commanding officer at the hospital, withdrew the military police shortly after noon.

He said the withdrawal was made when he found there were no other uniformed officers engaged in the enterprise.

Influx From South No Factor In Race Rioting At Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—A sociologist who directed an inquiry among race rioters reported Saturday night that the large war-induced influx of workers from the south and other sections was "almost no factor" in last Monday's outbreak of fighting between negroes and white persons.

Dr. C. F. Ramsay, director of the Michigan Department of Social Welfare, said he and a staff of volunteer assistants had questioned nearly 500 persons arrested during the riots and that "a majority of these interviewed had lived in Detroit more than five years."

Total deaths resulting from the 24 hours of rioting that swept this city rose to 34 Saturday. Of these 25 were negroes, nine whites.

Devil Diver Is Victor In 55th Brooklyn Event

NEW YORK —(AP)— Devil Diver, lightly-regarded stable mate of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Shut Out, won the 55th running of the Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct Saturday.

The two Whitney steppers were hooked up as an entry, and no matter which you liked, you got back $3.90 for each $2 investment.

Although his time of 2:03 2/5 didn't threaten the track record of 2:01 2/5 or Whirlaway's stake record of 2:02 2/5, the Diver was under a full head of steam and on the express track at the finish of the mile-and-a-quarter. Market Wise, best of the others as he closed from next to last, had a half-length margin on the fading Don Bingo while Shut Out, after running into all kinds of pockets in the stretch finished fourth, four lengths in back of Crooner Bing's Price and Joy.

Back of the top four came Attention, the son of Equipoise, who did some running early in the race, then just went along for the air. Boys, leader for three quarters of a mile, wound up sixth in the field of nine.

Segura Captures Singles Confalon

EVANSTON, Ill. —(AP)— Francisco (Pancho) Segura, as he had said he would be, was a better tennis player Saturday than he was Friday—when he was sensational. Consequently, he had little trouble in beating Tom Brown Jr. of California to become the singles champion of the 59th National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament.

The scores were 6-2, 6-1, 6-3, and don't think that Brown himself wasn't an excellent and game performer Saturday—but he wasn't good enough.

Colorful little Pancho, who came to the United States two years ago from his native Ecuador and now attends the University of Miami, won this championship match Saturday as he had all his other four contests in this six day meet—in straight sets. And in all of them his opponent never won more than three games. Segura was that much better than the others in the meet.

Indians Drop 3 To 2 Game To White Sox

CLEVELAND —(AP)— The Chicago White Sox came from behind in the ninth inning Saturday to whip the Cleveland Indians 3 to 2, tying the series at a game apiece. Rookie Guy Curtright hit safely in his 22nd consecutive game to drive in the tying run, and Chubby Dean walked in the winning tally.

The score: R H E
Chicago 000 100 002—3 7 0
Cleveland 002 000 000—2 7 1

Don Gutteridge Leads Browns In Tiger Rout

ST. LOUIS —(AP)— Don Gutteridge hit three doubles and each figured in a two-run scoring inning as the St. Louis Browns won their second straight victory from the Detroit Tigers Saturday, 6 to 3.

The score: R H E
Detroit 000 000 102—3 10 1
St. Louis 200 000 220—6 12 0
Henshaw and Overmire, Richards; Potter, Ostermueller and Caster, Hayes.

QUIET VISIT RUINED FOR U. S. COMEDIAN

LONDON —(AP)— Bob Hope, the comedian who is here to entertain U. S. troops, expected to make a quiet visit to his 99-year-old grandfather, James Hope, in Hitchin, Hertfordshire, Saturday, but crowds pounced upon him for autographs and handshakes and he was obliged to run for his car.

Pirates Swamp Reds And John Vander Meer

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The Pittsburgh Pirates swamped the faltering Cincinnati Reds and Johnny Vander Meer Saturday with a steaming 9 to 0 victory. Bob Elliott hit a homer with one on for the Pirates in the sixth.

The score: R H E
Pittsburgh 105 102 000—9 11 0
Cincinnati 000 000 000—0 3 2

Best Seller Wins In Equipoise Mile

CHICAGO —(AP)— Best Seller, at odds of 18 to 1, galloped to an upset victory in the $10,000 added Equipoise Mile at Washington Park Saturday, with Thumbs Up second and Some Chance third.

Whirlaway, 6 to 5 favorite making his second start of the season, finished fifth in a field of twelve.

It was a repeat performance for Best Seller, which won the same race a year ago.

Whirlaway, all-time leading money winner, never was a factor.

Best Seller ran the mile in 1:37 and returned $38.20, $13.60 and $10.00 across the board. The price on Thumbs Up was $7.80, with $5.40 to show. Some Chance, another outsider, returned $13.40 to show.

Meanwhile Americanese Enriches Wartime British Slang — Baseball Wins Mystified Fans In England

By Tom Wolf
NEA Staff Correspondent
LONDON — Chroniclers of the American "invasion of London will one day" doubtless attach major significance to a heretofore little noted fact: American softball has pushed orators far into the background as Hyde Park's principal week-end attraction.

Softball, as demonstrated by soldiers ranking from private to general, has been a source of unending amusement and amazement to what appears to be most of London. The size of the attending crowds would bring tears of envy to the eyes of any manager of a second division big league team. By this time there are beginning to be a few regulars among the spectators who have amassed just enough knowledge to pass along an amazing amount of misinformation to the new comers.

That most of the onlookers have not mastered the mysteries of softball is manifest in many ways, such as the choice of "seats" from which to watch the proceedings. There is a solid phalanx of undebatable spectators right behind the infield, effectively boxing the diamond and cutting outfielders hopelessly out of sight of the plate, pitcher or bases. Scores of intrepid ignorant invariably blow hot breath down the catcher's neck until the first foul tip blacks a spectator's eye.

Judging by audience applause, a batter's greatest achievement is a high pop fly or a long foul. A solid clout into the crowd behind second—which, except for the two-bases-in-the-crowd ground rule, would rate at least a triple in any ballpark—gets a mere ripple of polite "ah's."

Easily the most popular phrase in the ever-expanding wartime English of Britain is "You've had it." "You've had it" is a most expressive not very polite method of telling some one that he's not going to get what he wants, the idea being that have—i. e., none. Last month the expression made its bid for posterity as the title of a song: "You've Had It, Chum."

Philologists freely predict that as shortags are increasingly felt in the States, "You've had it" will be snapped up in America to plague language purists for years to come.

NEWS OF SPORTS ACTIVITIES AT MIDLAND AAFBS

The first round of play in the enlisted men's softball league drew to a close this week with the first three teams again changing their positions. The 83rd Air Base team took over the top position with sixteen victories and four losses. Ordinance remained in second place with fifteen wins and four losses. Unable to hold on to the precarious key spot which has never been held by any one team longer than a week, the 491st BTS dropped all the way from first place to third, losing their fifth game as against 12 victories. The 83rd BTG slumped to fourth place after a brilliant comeback with a record of 12 and eight.

Due to the change of personnel of the field the enlisted men's track and field meet which was to have been held this week was postponed to July 14 and 16. Individual awards will be given to the first four place winners of each event as well as a trophy for the squadron which has the most points. In the physical training periods the instructors are going to hold tryouts and practice sessions for the trackmen.

There is acute rivalry between the first three teams. 83rd Air Base has only a one-game edge on the second-place Ordinance. It is expected that the winner will probably skim through on the strength of a one-game margin. It would not be unlikely at all for some team at the bottom of the heap to knock off one of the leaders. As the season has progressed there are an increasing number of games being won by just one run. With the first round behind them all teams will be aiming for the second round since the winner of the second will play the winner of the first round for the field championship.

The obstacle course was completed this week according to an announcement by the physical department. Reputed to be the equal of any in the land, it will be used in the physical training of cadets and enlisted men. A maze of pits, walls, fences, and many ingenious devices, it is guaranteed to give everyone a real workout. Every means of human motivation has to be used in covering the course. Running, jumping, climbing and crawling each have their turn.

BOSTON —(AP)— Cecil (Tex) Hughson, the New York Yankees' No. 1 jinx, beat the American League champions for his third straight time this year and his eighth in-a-row over two seasons Saturday as the Boston Red Sox took a 4 to 1 decision.

In hanging up his ninth victory of 1943 as compared to three setbacks, the Sox's ace right-hander tossed a seven hitter and fanned six to bring his total strikeouts for the season to 62. When he whiffed Joe Gordon in the ninth inning, it marked the 44th time that the Yankee second baseman had struck out in 56 games.

Boudreau Submits American League All-Star Roster

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Lou Boudreau disclosed Saturday he had nominated five (or perhaps six) of his Cleveland Indians for the American League team in the all-star game at Philadelphia July 13.

He listed his Cleveland choices as Pitcher Jim Bagby, Outfielders Roy Cullenbine and Oris Hockett, Third Baseman Ken Keltner and Catcher Buddy Rosar. Asked if he had selected himself as a nominee for the shortstop spot, the Tribe manager replied:

"No—except in a footnote. I picked Stephens as the shortstop, and besides his name I placed an asterisk. At the bottom of the page, I noted that if Stephens were out with injuries, or if he were drafted before the game, then Boudreau would be my candidate."

Boudreau is likely to be the man, for Stephens Saturday received orders to report for induction next Tuesday, providing he passes his physical examination.

The Cleveland manager's other pitching selections were Hal Newhouser and Virgil Trucks of Detroit, Tex Hughson of Boston, Alex Carrasquel of Washington, Spurgeon Chandler of New York and Jesse Flores of the Athletics.

"I sent in my list," he explained, before Milo Candini started beating everybody in sight. He'll be on the team sure."

Each American League manager submits a slate of nominees.

John Alfred Matthews of Little Silver, New Jersey. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Charles Link, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lawrence Matthews of Little Silver.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin and Chantilly lace, designed with a sweetheart neck-line, long sleeves and a full skirt which extended into a train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a white prayer book, with an arrangement of stephanotis. She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom, and, for something "old," a pearl pin belonging to the groom's mother. For something "borrowed" she carried a white lace handkerchief belonging to her aunt, Mrs. J. A. Terbet of Abilene.

The ceremony was read before a background of woodwardia fern, in front of which were tall baskets of white gladioli. On either side of the choir alcove were branched candelabrum holding white tapers. Before the entrance of the bride party and as "Clara De Lune" by Debussy was played softly on the organ by Mrs. Frank Miller, Miss Ann Deussen of Ponder, college room-mate of the bride, and Mrs. Norman Goodman, wearing white vestments, lighted the candles.

Preceding the service Mrs. E. A. Rowley of Amarillo, aunt of the bride, sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," accompanied by Mrs. Miller, who also played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," as the processional and recessional. Sister Is Maid of Honor.

Miss Sarah Lew Link, was her sister's maid of honor. She wore pale green organdie, made on long lines, and with a sweetheart neck-line and bracelet length sleeves. In her hair was a green organdie coronet trimmed with white flowers, and her bouquet was of white Esterite daisies.

Mrs. John Alfred Matthews

of Strawn and Miss Charlotte Kinsey, who wore blue marquisette. The bridesmaids' dresses were identical in design with that of the maid-of-honor, and they wore matching Juliet caps in their hair. They also carried arm bouquets of white Esterite daisies.

Lt. Elmer H. Echols of the Instrument Instruction School at Bryan, attended the groom as best man. Ushers were Captain Donald J. Walter of Concho Field, San Angelo, Lt. Melvin H. Radcliff, Lt. Emil Berry and Lt. Henry Dafler.

Turner-Durham Marriage Is Solemnized Saturday

Mrs. Lynn Dover Durham

One of the most beautiful weddings of the year was solemnized at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian Church, when Miss Fredda Fae Turner became the bride of Lt. Lynn Dover Durham.

The interior of the church was beautifully decorated with woodwardia ferns, which formed the decorative background. Four pedestal candelabrum each holding seven tall white tapers lent dignity to the scene, and great floor baskets of white gladioli, graced the front of the altar.

Just preceding the entrance of the bride party, Mrs. Frank Miller played Schubert's "Serenade," D'Ardelot's "Because" and "I Love Thee" by Grieg. Miss Mary Wiley Grisham of Abilene sang "At Dawning" by Cadman.

The bridal party entered to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus," from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. Miller, at the organ.

Leading the bridal procession were the bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Sue Miles and Miss Florence Fannin, entering first; then Miss Jean Lewis and Miss Sarabeth Kimmel, then Miss Barbara Harper, and Miss Julianan Cowden.

The matron of honor, Mrs. William W. Wamsley, alone, followed the bridesmaids in the procession and immediately following her, came Miss Dorothy Turner, maid of honor, and sister of the bride, Identical Frocks For Bridesmaids.

Each of the bridesmaids wore identical frocks of sheer marquisette built over taffeta of zircon green, fashioned with court neckline, ruffled at the base, with zircon green marquisette. The full bishop sleeves were caught at the wrist and the long fitted basque had decor of ruffled marquisette about the plumed hip-line. From the basque, the skirt fell in unusual fullness.

Each of the bridesmaids wore pompadour headress of delicately fluted hyacinth marquisette, with which streamers fell at the back. Each of the maids carried an arm cascade bouquet of lavender gladioli in matching tone to the hyacinth headress worn.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Wamsley, was beautiful in gown of sheer marquisette styled similarly to the frocks of the bridesmaids, and built over zircon green taffeta. # Transformation

Classic simplicity of line makes the lamp pictured above suitable for use in almost any decorative scheme, from Empire to Modernistic. Yet, before ingenuity and the paint-brush transformed it, it was one of the ugliest of ducklings—the center pedestal of an old-fashioned round dining room table.

Betsy Beckham Bundy's Advice To The Lovelorn

Q. We are four sub-debs and when we are together we like to smoke. We feel that our mothers do not approve of it. Smoking is not a habit with any of us but we feel that it is nothing to be ashamed of. The boys we go with smoke and they seem not to care if we indulge. How should we tell our mothers?

A. Since you are smoking when you get in groups together, I have an idea that your mothers might already know of it. Some day when you feel disposed, just say to her, "Mother, how about giving me one of your cigarettes?"

Q. I am a girl 18 and plan to marry a man 10 years my senior. My parents, I feel, are pushing my marriage. I am greatly attracted to another man somewhat younger than I am. Please advise me before it is too late.

A. Never marry a man younger than yourself. It would be a great mistake. Since your mind is not made up, better not marry. Do not permit your parents to push you into any marriage. It is never too late.

Q. I am a high school junior. I have been going with a boy older than I. I do not care for other boys as I do not trust them. My boy friend off at school constantly worries about me for fear that I will fall in love with another. How can I make him know that I am true to him?

A. Do not be too easily fooled, he will not worry himself to death about you. Boys are very inclined to the power of propinquity—they often fall in love with the girl who is nearest them. Let your sweetheart just worry along, and you watch your own laurels. Also be inclined to take some statements with a grain of salt. If he really is worrying about you, that is fine, just let him worry. I wouldn't make any attempt to prove how true I was. Just proceed in a nonchalant manner, and that will keep his interest.

Breakfast Given By Mrs. Beckman

Delightful in its informality was the breakfast given Saturday morning by Mrs. H. L. Beckman in compliment to Mrs. C. C. Green's house guests, Mrs. M. A. Mummert of Chicago, Mrs. Maxwell Wortham of Lufkin, and Mrs. Bob Jones of Colorado Springs, Colo.

The table had as its central figure a bowl of variegated summer flowers, and tiny bright hued pots of blossoming plants were used as place favors.

Places were marked for Mrs. Green, Mrs. Mummert, Mrs. Wortham, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Jack Malloy and Mrs. Beckman.

British Women Are Better Dressed Now Than Formerly—Thanks To War

By Rosette Hargrove
LONDON—Not being catty, but it seems to have taken a world cataclysm to get the mass of British women dressed in good taste, in clothes of good design. They can thank the war that they are better dressed today than they ever were before.

To create wartime utility and "austerity" clothes for Miss and Mrs. England, the government called in the very best stylists London could produce, with the result that good design was brought within the reach of all. Being no longer an exclusive commodity of the rich, it blossoms now where it never did before, and many a dowdy provincial miss has acquired a new, trim smartness.

Rigid Control
Rationing, plus Austerity, plus Utility, add up to a great demerit of "England's women's clothes. The de luxe Mayfair salons are held rigidly to the same regulations as mass-producers.

There is still a small number of women ready and eager to pay seven and sometimes eight times more than the official maximum utility price for the privilege of having a garment custom-made. There is no law against that. But even Mayfair's exclusive fabrics and colors will soon disappear, because stocks are almost exhausted and manufacturers' and dyers' quotas, outside of utility goods, have been reduced to the absolute minimum.

Many Restrictions
In addition to countless restrictions and the dearth of specialized workers make it increasingly difficult for any dressmaker to achieve "exclusive" models on anything like a large scale. Therefore, smart London's "collections" are no longer regarded as style pointers, but as necessary replacements of clothes for special occasions such as wedding or men home on leave.

England's new-found dress-sense will find no outlet in seasonal styles. There was no Easter fashion parade anywhere in the British Isles this year and women are not eagerly window-shopping for 1943 spring novelties—because there just aren't any and there won't be any.

bride and groom left the church under an arch of sabers held by Major Elbert Stidd, Captain Tom Hofensberger, Lt. Warren Duncan, Lt. Al Williams, Lt. Derrill Cates, and Flight Officer Norman Goodman.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents at 1411 West Texas Avenue. Guests were received both in the house and in the garden. After the first piece of cake had been cut by the bride with the groom's saber, Mrs. O. P. Hedrick and Mrs. Sam Preston poured punch in the dining-room and the cake was served by Mrs. W. Iley Pratt and Mrs. Frank Stubbeman. The table was laid with a hand-made lace cloth, and was centered with a crystal basket of white daisies, gladioli and feverfew, on a mirror reflector. A white ribbon bow topped the basket and the streamers extended to crystal holders, in which tall white candles burned. The three tiered wedding cake, topped by a military bride and groom, occupied one end of the table, and a crystal punch bowl was at the other end.

Leave On Wedding Trip
Assisting in receiving the guests were Mrs. P. F. Bridgewater, Mrs. R. E. Kinsey, Mrs. D. B. Snyder, Mrs. Est. Sidwell, Mrs. John M. Speed, Jr., and Mrs. L. E. Stewart. Miss Mary Lee Snyder presided at the bride's book.

After a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, Lieutenant and Mrs. Matthews will be at home at 501 Holmsley Street.

For traveling, the bride chose a brown linen suit with white accessories, and she wore a gardenia corsage.

The bride is a popular member and has lived in Midland a number of years. She is a graduate of the Midland High School of the class of 1942, and for the past year has been attending Texas State College for Women in Denton.

Lieutenant Matthews was graduated from Foster Field at Victoria in March 1942. He took his primary flight training at Cimarron Field, Oklahoma, and his basic training at Goodfellow Field, San Angelo. Upon his graduation, he was an instructor at Kelly Field, San Antonio, and for a while was assigned to the Midland Army Flying School, where he now is flight commander of Squadron 4.

Out-of-town guests who were here for the wedding included Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Rowley, of Amarillo; Mrs. L. C. Link, Sr., Mrs. Pearl Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stuart and daughters, Ella and Joan, all of Strawn; Mrs. J. A. Terbet of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. R. Steele Johnson of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. she carried an arm cascade of roses corresponding in tone to the fuchsia headress.

Miss Dorothy Turner, maid of honor, preceded the bride. Her frock of marquisette was styled precisely like those of the maids and matron of honor. Her headress of fuchsia tone, and her matching cascade arm bouquet of roses, repeated the style of the headress and the bouquet of the other attendants, in the wedding party.

Wears Formal Bridal Veil
The bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr. Fred Turner, Jr. She was radiant in bridal gown of ivory toned Duchesse satin, cut en train, with which she wore formal bridal veil.

Her gown was becomingly fashioned with square neck line, with wide soft tucks upturned at the base. Her sleeves were long and fitted, ending in points over the hands. The classic basque was fitted and edged with three tucks softly arranged in an up-sweep effect at the back of the bodice, where they were accented by tiny French bow-knot of satin. The satin covered buttons marked the entire length of the bodice at the back.

The skirt flared into extreme fullness, as it reached the floor, where it continued into a long wide bridal train. She wore a full misty veil of ivory illusion, topped by hand-made Brussels lace veil which fell in cascades beyond the full length of the train.

Her lace veil was caught in a halo-crown of hand-made lace bordered with orange blossoms. Her flowers were an arm cascade bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis, centered with white orchid.

Maj. William W. Wainsley served the groom as best man. Both were attired in the conventional white military uniforms.

The organist, Mrs. Miller, played softly during the reading of the service, "The Ave Maria" and "One Alone." The impressive double ring service was read by the Rev. Hubert H. Hopper. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Saber Arch Is Formed
In keeping with formal military tradition, a saber arch was formed by the groomsmen, just as the organ pealed the strains of the Mendelssohn "Wedding March," played as the recessional for the bride party. Lieutenant Durham and his bride passed under the military arch while within the church, and just outside the vestibule of the church again the arch of sabers was formed for the bride and groom to pass through.

A wedding reception in the spacious home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Turner Jr., followed the marriage service.

Great clusters of white gladioli and bouvardia were effectively used throughout the decorative plan, of green and white. In the dining room a three-tiered wedding cake mounted with white orchid, graced the center of the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner were assisted in the hospitalities by the heavy of bridesmaids, the maid of honor and the matron of honor. Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Turner, and the receiving line included Lieutenant and Mrs. Durham, Mrs. Wainsley, Miss Dorothy Turner, and the six bridesmaids.

Mrs. Turner wore a handsome gown of navy blue crepe, and in her coiffure she wore a gardenia.

The bride and groom cut the wedding cake, in military formality, with saber. At the conclusion of the reception, the bride tossed her bouquet amidst the bevy of bridesmaids and the maid of honor.

Mrs. Turner wore a handsome gown of navy blue crepe, and in her coiffure she wore a gardenia.

The bride is a graduate of the Midland High School. She attended Sweet Briar College at Sweet Briar, Virginia, and spent the last three scholastic years at the University of Texas, at Austin. She received her B. S. degree in May, 1943, having majored in drama and public speaking. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

Women Recruited To Operate Big Wyoming Ranch

LARAMIE, WYO.—(AP)—Wyoming, first state to grant women suffrage (1869), but one of the last remaining states with more men (135,055) than women (115,687), pre-war count, is recruiting womanpower to operate its vast ranches.

The University of Wyoming at Laramie in two successive spring seasons has held Victory Garden classes for coeds and awarded scholarship prizes to the winners. In addition there were special courses this spring in farming and ranching where coeds learned to take the place of the traditional Wyoming "hired hand", a 1943 combination model of cowboy and farmer.

Exposed To Work
"The girls were 'exposed' to a variety of farm and ranch operations and we hope by introducing them to this work they became interested and perhaps will apply for summer jobs as ranch hands," says Prof. S. H. Dadisman of the vocational agricultural department.

"This spring the girls studied gardening, how to deal with and take care of farm animals, how to deal with wild animals and rodents, how to care for poultry and how to care for crops. Specifically they learned how to handle and hitch horses, how to run a tractor how to plow, etc."

More than 100 girls attended classes on the huge prairie farm of the university near Laramie last spring and about 100 coeds, with and without farm experience, took out-of-doors jobs, says Dadisman. "This spring the number was doubled."

A time-saving hint for war workers who are also family cooks, is to cook extra quantities of food one night to serve in a speedily prepared new way the next night.

Fair And Cooler

FAIR, of course, but cooler, is screen actress Leslie Brooks in this simple, but highly practical frock for country wear. The dress is of pink linen, with shoulder straps of corse crepe. The latter fasten to the bodice with giant hooks and eyes. For sunbathing back and shoulders, just unhook the straps and let the back of the dress down. The unusual sandals she wears are of matching pink linen.

"PICK ONE DAY IN THE WEEK FOR DEFROSTING"

Defrost Your Electric Refrigerator Regularly

When the layer of frost that collects on the freezing unit of your electric refrigerator gets about as thick as a pencil, it is time to defrost. This frost actually acts like a blanket, for it keeps the cold from reaching the food that you want to keep fresh and wholesome. It also lowers the operating efficiency of your refrigerator and adds to the operating cost. To save money and to get more satisfactory service from your electric refrigerator, defrost it regularly. Consult your refrigerator instruction book for a recommended method of defrosting, and for other tips that will prolong the life of your electric refrigerator.

Singer's Success Is Attributed To Lonely Childhood

By Vivian Brown
NEW YORK —(P)— Frank Sinatra, 26-year-old singing idol of teen-aged femininity, believes his success is due to a lonely childhood.

"As an only child, I used to sing to cheer myself," says Frank, brushing back his light-brown cowlicks. "Sure I did things like other kids too—built model planes and read books—but I liked to sing."

Likes Sentimental Tunes

Frank still sings sentimental tunes. The line at the theater where the current "girl crush" is appearing starts at dawn. Girls sit in the audience sobbing to Sinatra tunes, some throw their arms about him when he leaves the theater, one handgaged her arm because he had brushed by it.

"You see, I understand those kids," says Frank. "Some of them must be lonesome like I was, so I sing the way I think they'll like it. I put shading into my singing—when I sing the word soft—I sing it s-o-f-t. And the same with love, moon, night or day. I try to give a song meaning."

The admiring fans—"stage-door clippers"—are his biggest problem, he says. There are "lapel clippers"—he's had so many lapels torn off he's just ordered three corduroy jackets, without lapels; "handkerchief clippers" and "tie-clip clippers" whom he believes "must practice at home on their brothers their technique is so perfect."

Wife Isn't Jealous

Girls between the ages of 15 and 25 he estimates to be his most avid admirers. Older women are bashful, he says, and even when asking for an autograph, mumble that its for a niece or nephew.

Fan mail, which on his birthday approximated 5,000 cards, is opened by him and his wife Nancy, whom he says "isn't the least jealous"—not even of mash notes or complaints from fans who resent his wearing a gold wedding ring.

His draft status at present is 3-A because of his wife and 3-year-old child. He has sold over $2,000,000 in bonds auctioning off tunes—"Black Magic" brought $50,000—and has been singing in camps and hospitals for service men.

Enlisted Personnel Enjoy Dance Saturday

Enlisted men of MAAF Bomber School were entertained at dancing in the Post Service Club Saturday evening when music was furnished by the Jive Bombers orchestra. The dance was from 9 p. m. till 1 a. m.

Approximately 400 danced.

Blast Furnace Girls Win Respect Of Male Workers In Fiery Steel Plant

GARY, IND. —(P)—Women have shown the skeptics who laughed a few months ago at the suggestion of female steel workers. In the Gary Armor Plate Plant, an inferno of roaring furnaces and clanging mills, where red-hot steel is fashioned for Army tanks, women are working today alongside the men and in almost equal numbers.

The goggles-and-helmeted girls do just about everything—from taking temperatures of sizzling slabs of steel to operating the big cranes that maneuver six- and seven-ton hunks of the hot metal.

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should you expect to be invited to every party your friends have?
2. Should a person in business go around making derogatory remarks about his competitors?
3. If someone in conversation differs with an opinion you express should you become offended?
4. Should one talk at length if his achievements?
5. Is it good manners to say, "That serves her right" when someone you do not care for has had luck?

What would you do if—
You are engaged in an argument when among a group of friends:

- (a) Let your voice get louder as you try harder to impress your views on the others?
  - (b) Keep your voice low?
- Answers
1. No, of course not.
2. No.
3. No.
4. No. It is not good manners to brag.
5. It makes the person who says it sound mean and vindictive.

Children Suffer Most From Wars, Doctor Declares

By Adelaide Kerr
AP Features Writer
Doctora Dolores Pinero, Puerto Rican specialist in child hygiene, says that the world's children have been "abandoned because of the war." As a result she believes they will be our biggest post-war problem.

Doctora Pinero, who is a mother herself, is the first director of Puerto Rican School Hygiene. She is spending several months in New York, visiting child clinics and health centers in search of ideas adaptable to Puerto Rico.

"We have a big problem in Puerto Rico," said Doctora Pinero as we chatted in her brother-in-law's uptown apartment. "It lies in the physical condition of our children and is caused by diet. People are poor and they are not nutritious conscious. Lots of children live on rice and bananas. As a result they are emaciated and underweight. Our problem is to educate the parents."

"But it's a small problem compared to the one which the world faces in the postwar period. The biggest problem then will be the children themselves. They have been abandoned because of the war—and we are going to reap the results."

Doctora Pinero leaned forward earnestly.

"Everybody knows of the undernourished little bodies and the stunted growth of the children in Nazi-occupied countries. But too few people realize how much our own children are suffering as a result of the war. Women by the thousands are working outside and leaving their homes and children alone."

Miss Mother's Care

"Even those who are adequately cared for in nurseries or elsewhere miss the warmth of a mother's care and companionship. They are lonesome and reach out for anything they can find to make up the loss."

Five-year-olds get permanent waves and twelve- and fourteen-year-olds seek movies, dances and other adult pleasures. Mother is not at home enough to discipline them and teach them self control. They become emotionally unstable. Yet they are the next generation that must run the world. How can that instability maintain peace?

"It is indeed a serious problem. The women are needed outside now. But only a small percentage of mothers seem able to handle adequately both jobs and homes."

MONEY SAVERS

Make substitutions in recipes rather than purchase an item called for.

To make sweet milk sour, add one tablespoon vinegar to one cup of sweet milk.

One cup milk equals one-half cup canned milk plus one-half cup water.

One cup milk equals four tablespoons powdered milk plus one cup water.

Vinegar, orange juice or grapefruit juice may be used in place of lemon juice in salad dressing.

Two and one-half tablespoons cocoa plus one-half tablespoon shortening are almost equal in flavor and composition to one ounce of chocolate.

One cup bread crumbs equals three-fourths cup cracker crumbs.

TO USE LEFT-OVER WHITES OR YOLKS OF EGGS

Two yolks may be used for one egg.

Four whites may be used for two eggs.

If a white is substituted for a yolk in cakes, add one teaspoon shortening.

Chamber Of Commerce Now Has New Maps Of Permian Basin Area

The Midland Chamber of Commerce now is distributing its 1943 maps of the Permian Basin, showing oil fields and pipe lines in the vast oil reserve.

Data concerning Midland and its trade possibilities is printed on the reverse side of the map.

The new maps are available for free distribution. The Chamber of Commerce for a number of years has been issuing the Permian Basin maps, the drafting on which is done by Fred Hogan.

Restaurants Asked To Close So Employees May Attend Classes

More than 100 Midland food handlers now are registered in the Food Sanitation School, which is being held in the Midland County Health Unit, and owners of all food businesses are being asked to close between 2:30 and 4 p. m. Roy L. Reinartz is instructor at the food handlers short course. He is a representative of the Bureau of Public Health Education of the State Health Department in Austin.

To Award Certificates

Officials in charge of the school estimate that 90 or more persons attending the classes will receive certificates. Cafes, restaurants and other food dispensing places will get state approval placards if 80 per cent of their employees obtain certificates at the school, and providing the establishments pass satisfactorily a sanitary inspection.

Several restaurants have been closing during hours of the classes so all employees may attend. Classes will start promptly at 2:30 p. m. Monday and Tuesday.

Rulings On Job Shifts Obtained By Agencies Here

Because of a large number of inquiries received by the Midland County Selective Service Board, the county agent's office, and other agencies, special information on the War Manpower Commission employment stabilization plan has been obtained by these agencies.

Any employer engaged in an essential activity may hire any person who for the preceding thirty days was not engaged in an essential activity of the WMC rules provide. No employer shall hire for work in other than an essential activity any employee who during the preceding thirty day period was engaged in an essential activity if the wage or salary rate to be paid by the employer would exceed the rate most recently earned by the employee.

However, an employer engaged in an essential activity may hire an employee who during the preceding thirty day period was engaged in an essential activity without regard to his preceding wage rate or salary scale provided the employer presents a statement of availability issued by his last employer or by the War Manpower Commission.

Appeal May Be Made

Any worker engaged in an essential activity shall be issued a statement of availability by his employer or by the WMC whenever the worker is discharged by his employer or the job is terminated; is laid off for an indefinite period of for a period of seven or more days; or can establish his present employment does not utilize him at his highest skill or that he is not being employed full time (40 hours per week or more).

The WMC may issue a worker a statement of availability when it is established that his separation from his present employment in essential activity would further the war program, it was pointed out. No statement of availability shall be issued solely on the ground that an individual's wage rate or salary scale is substantially less than that prevailing in the locality for the same or substantially similar work.

Any worker who is refused a statement of availability by his employer may present the facts to and request such a statement from the United States Employment Service of the WMC. If the worker or employer feels that the action of the Employment Service is unfair he may appeal to the local appeals panel, and if the panel's decision is held as unfair, he may appeal further to the Area Management Labor War Committee. The decision of this committee, if concurred by the area director of other authorized area representative of the WMC, is final.

Letter Telling Of Conditions In Jap War Prisoners' Camp Received From Husband By Mrs. David M. Allen

A letter written in September last year brought good news this week to Mrs. David M. Allen of Midland.

It was from her husband, Gunners Mate 3rd Class, U. S. Navy, who has been a prisoner of war of the Japanese since the fall of Guam on December 12, 1941. It was the second letter she had received from him since his internment by the enemy. The first letter, written in June, was received by Mrs. Allen in September.

Allen, writing from the Zentsuji War Prison Camp, Japan, assured his wife and daughter, Pat, 7, and his mother, Mrs. Minnie Allen, that he is feeling well and is receiving good treatment at the hands of the Japanese.

Allen enclosed a picture of himself, taken in the prison camp, and Mrs. Allen said he had changed very little in looks except for his conventional war prisoner haircut. He wrote that although he weighed 180 pounds when the war started he now weighs only 158, but feels better.

Allen was connected with the Coca-Cola Bottling Company plant at Monahans for five years before enlisting in the Navy for his second "hitch" about two years before Pearl Harbor. He previously had served three years in the Navy.

Mrs. Allen, who now is employed at the Ritz Theater as projectionist, received letters in December from several persons on the West Coast who heard her husband broadcast from the camp earlier that month.

He wished his family a Merry Christmas and expressed the hope he would soon be back with them.

Her husband's letter was sent through the International Red Cross via Switzerland. It bore the marks of Japanese, Nazi and French censors, but nothing had been deleted from it. He informed her that a letter she had written had finally reached him, and that he was almost gay over the prospects of writing her again.

Life in the war prisoners' camp was described by Allen, who said he received good treatment and "cannot complain about things as I am a prisoner of war."

"We get rice twice a day and bread for dinner," he wrote. "We have soup three times a day but once in a while we have varieties such as chocolate pudding or pork burgers, which are really a treat. We have doughnuts almost every Sunday and they really are a delicacy even though they don't have much sugar in them."

Being able to go outside the camp on work parties apparently is a sought-for privilege among the war prisoners. Exercise in any form seems to be something to write home about, judging from Allen's letter.

"They take us out for a hike about once a week and take us about three or four miles," he wrote. "In this way I have gotten to see quite a bit of this town. Last week I went on a working party down to the river to get some sand and it was quite a distance. They take us out to gather grass for the rabbits every other day and I generally go on those trips."

Letter Brings Relief

He urged his wife to send him a snapshot of herself and his daughter, and a box of cigars.

Her husband's letter came as a great relief for Mrs. Allen. As a projectionist for the theater she had shown the film, "Ravaged Earth," composed of scenes of Jap atrocities in the Far East, last week and her mind was far from easy over the thoughts of the kind of treatment he might be receiving.

"I didn't look at it any more than I had to," she said.

83rd B. T. G.

Appearances got back to normal this week as the daily practice of wearing gas masks in the 83rd Headquarters B.T.C. was temporarily discontinued. But several surprise attacks during the week kept the men on their feet. Sergeant Burton Dingwell, the squadron chemical warfare non-com, admonishes everyone to remember the lessons taught in the classes. The purpose of the Saturday alert, according to the sergeant, is to see that everyone is on the job.

Along the athletic front, two sports are holding the interest. One is the coming track and field meet which will be held next week; the other is the progress of the revamped baseball team. Several men have already signified their intentions of filling entries in the unique track meet. It will be unusual because men can compete in as many as six events.

At present Privates Kamm, Robinson, and Marchik plan to compete in the running events and Private Kamm hopes to win an award for himself in the shot put and broad jump. Private Marchik is already well known on the field for his weight lifting prowess and will compete in this event. Sergeant La Ferry, who has had experience in the dash events, will participate in the one hundred yard race. Staff Sergeant Belkin distinguished himself on the last relay team at the last track meet and is expected to qualify in the 440 yard dash. Corporal Custon has been timing himself in the mile run and Corporal Hunter may enter the high jump.

The triumphant rise of the 83rd BTG baseball team to third place in the enlisted men's softball league has given the team new life. This coming week it will make it's bid for first place. The able battery of Cpt. Gronich and Sergeant Zeamanek has given the opposition plenty of worry about. The squad should turn out en masse for the remaining games and give it's team support.

When a stray dog walked into the supply house without being claimed it appeared that there might be a new successor to Dud, the old mascot that ran away. However, in due time, the dog's owner turned up.

Staff Sergeant Fred Rittenhouse left for home this week with his wife and young son. Privates Carpenter, Schuetz, and Cleary returned from furloughs full of wonderful stories. The most amusing one concerned Private Cleary, who it is said fell asleep while passing through New Haven, Connecticut, his home town. Upon awakening three minutes later he found that he was three miles out of town. A billiard and pocket pool tournament may take place in the near future now that the squadron has another pool table. First Sergeant Walter Thompson, who has plenty of experience at the game, should make a good showing. Technical Sergeant Winston Rasoar is planning a visit to his home town, Austin, Texas.

On return from furlough, Pvt. Carlton Pageau, announced his recent marriage to Miss Rita Tacy, of Lyon Mountain, New York. Following the ceremony, the newlyweds were entertained at a reception given by Pvt. Pageau's parents, Pvt. and Mrs. Pareau will make their new home in Midland.

A surprise to all was the recent marriage of Pvt. Conrad Jensen and Miss Eunice May Sutshaw, of Conde, South Dakota. The nuptial event took place in church and the wedding vows were given by the Rev. E. A. Kettler of Conde. The newlyweds will make their home in Odessa.

Sgt. John L. Wiltshire returned from furlough bringing his bride with him, the former Miss Beryl Smith. They were married in the North Side Baptist Church, in Richmond, Virginia. Following the ceremony a reception was given by Mrs. Wiltshire's parents in their palatial home in Richmond. The couple made a short honeymoon trip to New York City before returning to Midland, where they will make their home.

The newest craftsman to make his appearance in the 491st is Pfc. Hurshell Weidon. He has made a Mustang model B-24 and it is on display in the engineering office. It took him four weeks in his spare time to make the model which is an exact duplicate of the real plane. Using only hand tools and a lot of elbow grease he built the plane from a small picture of a Vega Ventura, making his own scale. The fuselage of the plane is 36 inches and the wing span is 45 inches, and it is camouflaged in regulation Army colors.

Sgt. John Hryneciwich, crew chief deluxe, has named his plane the "Russian uen." Asked why he had given his plane that name, Sergeant Hryneciwich said: "My father always called my wife "Russian Queen," so naturally I gave my plane the same name.

The 491st can now boast of having the best equipped barber shop in West Texas. The shop has been completely remodeled, the walls are of fibre-tex and the floor has in-laid linoleum. Indirect lighting and large mirrors give the shop the atmosphere of being in a large modern tonsorial shop.

Pfc. Eugene Bible has offered his services as squadron tailor, to the boys who have not yet learned how to sew their clothes when they need mending. This service will go into effect as soon as Pfc. Bible receives his electric sewing machine.

Another boast that the 491st can hold true to is that a piano has

Man-Eating Sharks Are Rare Mammals

NEW YORK—(P)—As far as John T. Nichols is concerned it comes down to this: Some people eat shark, some sharks eat people. Neither instance is common.

A lot of interested citizens ask Nichols, curator of recent fishes for the American Museum of Natural History and a shark expert from "way back, about the shark menace in the Pacific, where American aviators and sailors sometimes splash around after engagements with the enemy.

"The chances of a man-eating shark attacking a human," deposes Nichols, "are about the same as the chances of being struck by lightning. It happens, but not often."

Only One Is Maneater

This is true because out of more than 100 species of shark only one, the Carcharodon or white shark, is known to be a confirmed man-eater.

Most sharks are scavengers and will not attack a living human unless cornered—a pretty remote possibility in the Pacific—or unless they are reasonably hungry. Nichols has furnished, upon request, details for catching a shark from an open boat with nothing but a rope. One method involves dangling the bare toes in the water until the shark comes around to see what goes on. Then you lassio him by the tail and haul him aboard.

The details also cover the emergency preparation of the meat for eating, since raw shark is better than nothing at all. Nichols has never eaten it raw, but compares the meat, properly cooked, to that of swordfish.

Sales Of Auto Use Stickers Are Slow

Sales of federal auto use stamps are progressing slowly, Allen Tolbert, postmaster, said Saturday. With the deadline for purchasing the stamps only three days off, about 800 of an expected total of 4500 drivers had obtained them.

The stickers, costing $5 each, must be displayed on cars beginning July 1.

Shortages of food are relieving shortages of textiles, for restaurateurs have reported a decrease of "from 20 to 30 per cent" in the frequency of stains from fruits and juices since these foods appear less often upon the tables.

American farmers are expected to produce six million acres of flaxseed in 1943.
