Soviets Oust Litvinoff

Ambassador To United States Being Replaced

No Explanation Made For Surprise Action

LONDON — (AP) — The Soviet government in a surprise move relieved its second important Allied ambassador to the United States, Saturday by replacing Maxim Litvinoff, Russian ambassador to the United States, with Andrei A. Gromyko, now counselor of the Soviet embassy in Washington.

A curt communique broadcast by Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet monitor gave no explanation for the move.

Litvinoff returned to Russia for consultation last May although the British-born Mrs. Litvinoff, the former Ivy Low, remained in Washington.

A curt communique broadcast by Moscow radio and recorded by the Soviet monitor gave no explanation for the move.

Litvinoff, now 67 year old, has been a spectacular figure in Soviet foreign affairs, whose political rise and fall has coincided with important changes in foreign policy.

He has long been the most prominent Soviet advocate of collective security and close relations with Britain and the United States.

He was people's commissar for foreign affairs for a decade until he resigned just before Europe went to war.

He had been in the midst of negotiations with Britain and France for a general mutual assistance pact when he was replaced by Vyacheslav Molotov. The mystery of that move was solved when the Kremlin reversed its entire policy and signed a non-aggression pact with Germany in August, 1939.

The so-called "second front" issue has been a delicate political point between Russia and her Western Allies.

When Germany violated her Russian non-aggression pact and invaded that country in June, 1941, Litvinoff came back strong in the political structure of his country.

Britain and the United States promptly extended material aid to Russia, and Britain later signed an alliance with the Soviets.

The "so-called 'second front' issue has been a delicate political point between Russia and her Western Allies.

When he regained consciousness in a hospital and found that both his legs were gone, he said: "I don't want to go home, I will fly again. That's all I want to do."

Americans Down £3 Japanese Zeros

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC — (AP) — Thirty-three Japanese planes were shot out of the sky and 34 left in flames on the ground at Wewak, New Guinea, Saturday by American Mitchell bombers and Lightning fighters to increase enemy losses there since Tuesday to more than 300.

Attacking air reinforcements which the persistent Japanese moved in to replace a fleet virtually wiped out earlier in the week, the Mitchells went after the ground-planes while the P-38's battled two-to-one numerical odds in the air.

Augmenting this new air blow, big Liberators flew a roundtrip of more than 2,000 miles to heavily hit the enemy's nickel mining center at Pomeloa on the east shore of the Gulf of Bone, Dutch Celebes. Other American planes attacked enemy air bases in the Solomons.

A loading plant, warehouses and mills were targets smashed and an enemy transport plane was shot down.

In the fourth raid within five days on Wewak, 350 miles up the New Guinea coast from the tottering Japanese air base garrison at Salamaua, it was impossible to determine how many of the 34 burning planes were craft which had been hit before, but it appears the Japanese losses may total at least 300. In the first two raids 2 planes definitely were destroyed, in the third 24 planes, and in Saturday's attack at least 67.

It marked a new target for the Australian-based bombers. In recent months, other attacks on the Celebes have been directed at Kendari and Macassar.

Sunday's communique also reported that Japanese planes raided Darwin, Australia, and American-seized Munda airfield in the Central Solomons but caused no damage.

The Celebes raiders, although flying too far to have a fighter escort, made the Pomeloa raid in daylight.

The 27 tons were "discharged in a congested target area," the communique said.

A freighter in the harbor was bombed. Small surface vessels were strafed and destroyed.

All Planes Return
An enemy air transport was shot down.

On the way back, the bombers were set upon by 10 Japanese fighters, bagging two for certain and probably getting three others without loss.

The safe return of all the Liberators was all the more remarkable because they had to fly each way over enemy island bases.

The determination to reinforce the Japanese air defenses, despite the disasters suffered there last Tuesday and Wednesday, was clearly indicated by the raids Friday and Saturday. For the first two raids, all but 10 enemy planes were destroyed out of a fleet of 225.

Yeg Friday's raiders found more planes moved in, and Saturday's still more.

No Change At Salamaua
The communique made no reference to any change in the situation at Salamaua, where the Japanese have fallen back upon their inner defenses of that air base after being routed from ridge positions below it.

Activity reported in the Solomon sector also was limited to the air. American fighter planes attacked the enemy air base in the Shortland Islands below Bougainville, shooting down a float plane and setting fires on shore.

Northeast of Munda, other fighters strafed Japanese installations on Santa Isabel Island which has an enemy seaplane base.

Million Germans Lost In Russian Area In Summer

Estimated 7,400,000 Men Killed, Wounded, Missing Since 1941

LONDON — (AP) — The Germans have lost 1,000,000 men killed and wounded in the third summer of fighting in Russia, a special Soviet bulletin announced Saturday night. This is a third of their estimated effectives along the 1,500-mile Russian front.

On the basis of previous Russian announcements this brought the losses of Germany and her allies to 7,400,000 men killed, wounded and captured since Adolf Hitler first plunged to the east on June 22, 1941.

A special Soviet communique marking the second anniversary of the war last June 22 said that 6,400,000 German and satellite troops had been killed or made prisoner, turning Russia into a graveyard for German hopes of world empire.

Even as these staggering losses were announced, the Moscow radio said that more than 4,000 other Nazis lost their lives Saturday at the Red Army drew its noose tighter about vital Kharkov and hammered at stubborn German forces near Bryansk and Spas-Demensk.

The embattled Germans threw fresh reserves into the battle raging west of Kharkov, and the Moscow bulletin said that Russian forces cut down 1,200 of them as they counterattacked strongly. Forty Nazi tanks were knocked out in this action, the Russians said.

Nazi forces counterattacked near Bryansk in the central sector of the active front, the midnight communique said, but were repulsed with losses. An enemy stronghold was captured in that sector by Russian cavalry men, the Russians said.

County Quota In War Loan Drive Set At $1,744,400

MIDLAND COUNTY'S quota in the Third War Loan campaign starting September 9 will be $1,744,400, Charles L. Klapproth, Midland War Bond chairman, said Saturday. He was advised of the quota by state headquarters.

Only non-banking purchases will be credited to the county and purchases by banks and insurance companies will not be figured in the county's quota, Klapproth said. The quota is by far the largest ever assigned here and is more than double the record quota of $645,000 in the Second War Loan drive last April.

A meeting of campaign leaders will be held early this week to work out plans for the drive.

Klapproth will head the Midland County War Finance Committee for the Treasury Department's Third War Loan Drive, Nathan Adams, state chairman, announced.

Murky Weather Slows Assaults On Europe

LONDON — (AP) — Murky weather slowed the pace of the Allied air assault in Hitler's fighter plane nests and war production Saturday after six days of virtually ceaseless attacks, but Allied fighters continued their sweeps over occupied France.

Two Canadian Mustangs penetrated to Le Bourget air field just outside Paris during a late day attack on shot down a German JU-88 and damaged a tug and four freight train engines on the way, the Air Ministry News Service said. One British fighter was reported lost over France in the day's operations.

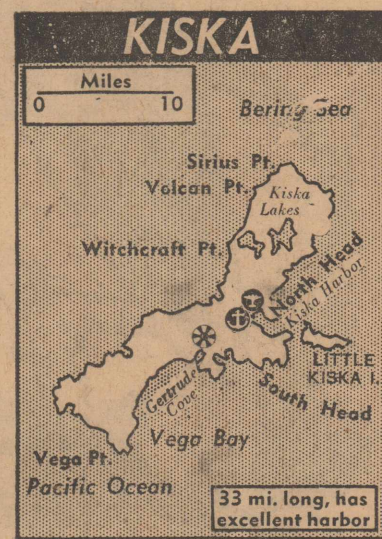

Occupation Of Kiska Completes U. S. North Road To Tokyo, Admiral Says

BY EUGENE BURNS
ADEK, ALEUTIANS — (AP) — A considerable number of the 8,500 or so Japanese on Kiska were killed by relentless air bombardment just before their evacuation and others likely drowned as United States surface craft shelled their fleeing ships in the fog, Vice Admiral Thomas C. Kinkaid says.

The commander of the North Pacific theater said that "after the Japanese began the evacuation of Kiska, we believe that we sank some of their ships during a heavy fog, and at night, but this cannot be confirmed."

He said that during another night action an American destroyer scored a direct hit on a submarine which might have been evacuating Kiska Japanese.

Admiral Kinkaid said the retaking of Kiska meant that "we have completed our northern road to Tokyo," adding: "The completed chain of air and naval bases also will protect our surface vessels and our shipping units two-thirds of the way to Tokyo."

Maj. Gen. William O. Butler of Tucson, Ariz., commander of the Eleventh Air Force, added the comment that the "Victory has (Continued on Page 2)

'Hell's Triangle' — Air Battle For Southern Italy Going Full Tilt As Allies Pound At Vital Targets In Round-The-Clock Raids

BY RELMAN MORIN
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA — (AP) — The air battle for Southern Italy is going full tilt four days after the fall of Sicily.

Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder's flying buzzsaw, which forced the surrender of Pantelleria and cut Sicily's communications to pieces even before the invasion—leaping at long range into the vital connecting links between Northern and Southern Italy around Naples.

Close at hand round-the-clock patrols are maintaining a cannonade and bombardment of vulnerable points of the railway and highway network.

The waves of fire from the sky are being supplemented by naval forces which move with impunity along the Italian coast, pouring broadsides into targets which can be reached from the sea.

Along the northern side of the triangle waves of Mitchell, Marauder and Wellington bombers, with their Lightning escorts, spread a creeping paralysis of Italy's rail system.

Leaving Foggia, one of the four chief railway bottlenecks in Italy to smolder in its ruin from the biggest air assault of the Mediterranean war two days ago, the air forces switched Friday to the Naples area and blasted repeatedly at Aversa, Benevento and Villa Literno.

The Germans threw strong forces of fighters into battle to stem the destruction, 40 or 50 rising at Aversa alone to turn aside the attack.

No Japanese Found On Last Enemy Stronghold In Aleutian Islands

Americans And Canadians Land On Island Following Terrific Air And Sea Pounding

WASHINGTON — (AP) — American and Canadian forces, their enemy fled without offering final battle, stood undisputed masters of Kiska Saturday night and the once ambitious Japanese invasion of North America lay a bombed and bombarded failure.

"No Japanese were found." With those words the Navy told Saturday of seizure on Aug. 15 of the once strong enemy air and submarine base in the Aleutian Islands.

Two weeks of the heaviest bombings yet carried out against the Japanese preceded the landings. The Navy disclosed in lifting the silence that has cloaked North Pacific actions for three weeks. It explained this silence was prompted by a belief the Japanese radio equipment had been smashed and the Navy wished to supply Tokyo with no news.

In 14 days — August 1 to 14 — heavy and light bombers, dive bombers, fighter planes, cannon-carrying planes roared down on Kiska 106 times. They dumped tons and tons of bombs on the enemy positions, knocking out gun emplacements, tearing up the Japanese airfield, blowing up or setting afire buildings and supplies.

Naval surface units were equally busy. On 15 occasions they steamed in to the choppy waters off Kiska and sent the sea shells shrieking onto the island. Once heavy naval units — certain cruisers, possibly battleships — stood off shore and poured 2,300 shells onto the Japanese positions. They were unopposed.

Days after the bombardment from the sea the last enemy opposition was reported on August 13. Then it was only light anti-aircraft fire against bombers and fighters.

Escape Method Unknown
Sometime shortly thereafter the Japanese escaped for two days later when American and Canadian troops made their landings on Kiska. Fog presumably aided the Japanese in evacuating the remnants of their garrison, once estimated at 10,000 men. But the Navy, in offering that supposition, was careful to qualify, saying:

"It is not known how the Japanese got away, but it is possible that enemy surface ships were able to reach Kiska under cover of the heavy fogs that have been prevalent."

Where the Japanese might have fled is a mystery. However it is possible that surface units slipping through the fog to carry out the evacuation might have crept back to bases in the Northern (Continued on Page 2)

Citizens Urged To List All Available Housing Facilities

With Midland's housing situation more acute now than ever before and with the waiting list increasing rapidly, Chamber of Commerce leaders Saturday issued a plea to citizens to list every available bedroom, apartment and house with its housing department.

For several days the Chamber of Commerce has not had listed for rent a single house or apartment, and the number of calls for living quarters has been on the increase. Only a few bedrooms were on the rental list Saturday and citizens who have extra rooms were urged to list them for rent. Every available room doubtless will be needed to meet the demand.

War Bulletins

LONDON — (AP) — A German aviation correspondent estimated Saturday night that the Russians are building 20,000 planes a year and admitted the Soviet air strength in battle "has surprised many experts most of whom did not want to believe that the Soviets have arisen to a position where they can produce so many planes."

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Disclosure that the Japanese had launched a drive in Northern Burma was made Saturday in a U. S. 10th Air Force communique declaring that Warhawks in two days of bombing and strafing of advanced enemy bases were believed to have halted "all forward movement."

LONDON — (AP) — British War Office figures on the toll of war Saturday showed 1,135,000 Axis troops had been killed, wounded or captured in the African-Mediterranean theater from Ethiopia to Messina, compared with British losses of 220,000 through the Sicilian fighting.

MAAF Band Will Play During Calf Roping Program

The AAF Band of the Midland Army Air Field will furnish the music for the world championship calf roping program at the Midland Roping grounds Labor Day, September 6, Roy Parks, president, and Leonard Proctor, vice-president of Midland Fair, Inc., announced Saturday following a conference with Col. John F. Kenny, commanding officer of the Bombardier College.

Colonel Kenny also advised the fair officials that arrangements will be made to offer tickets for sale on the field. He predicted a large number of Army men from the Midland and Big Spring fields will attend the western attraction.

Enlisted men will be admitted to the roping at reduced prices. The tickets probably will go on sale late this week.

Sgt. Thomas Marcell is the director of the AAF Band which is recognized as one of the best and most popular musical organizations in West Texas.

Army Will Cooperate
Colonel Kenny told Parks and Proctor the Army will cooperate in every way possible in staging the roping event which is being put on largely for the entertainment of soldiers stationed in this area.

In the feature matches on the Labor Day roping card, Toots Mansfield of Big Spring will meet and Homer Pettigrew of Comanche, Okla., will compete against Troy Fort of Lovington. N. M. Mansfield and Burk have held the world's championship in calf roping three years each. Pettigrew, world's champion all-around cowboy in 1941, was second in the nation in calf roping in 1941 and third in 1942. An exhibition of bulldogging will be given by Pettigrew who holds the world's championship in this rodeo event.

Other matched ropings, a jackpot roping and exhibitions of bulldogging, bronc riding and Brahma bull riding will complete the holiday card.

It Seems There Were Two Bums

Double Talk

The Office of Price Administration is in a very unenviable position. It was established to perform certain duties which inevitably irritate, in one way or another, almost every man, woman and child in the country.

But with all its faults the OPA has justified its existence. It never had a chance to stop inflation all by itself. It could do no more than sit on the safety valve while, inside the boiler, a disastrous over-pressure was being built up as other agencies permitted incomes to skyrocket against an undersupply of purchasable commodities.

In spite of which, inflation in the prices of controlled commodities has been small compared with that in the prices of uncontrolled goods.

That is why one's blood boils at such double talk as appears in a recent magazine which pays superficial tribute to the necessity of having a price control agency and then goes on to denounce price control as unconstitutional and un-American and to urge that grocers defy the OPA flatly.

This is strange talk from a group which, according to had been making the greatest profits in its history. That Department of Commerce figures, up to the end of April date is mentioned not because retail grocers stopped making record profits then, but merely because detailed statistical records for the intervening period are not at hand.

The OPA has not really succeeded, but who is to damn the agency for that? Do you remember the historic press conference of Food Committee for War—the one to which newspapermen were invited to hear the businessmen announce a specific program for curing our food troubles? All the big shots were represented—manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, packers, farmers, the farmers' union. They were going to show up those college professors of the OPA.

What happened? Oh, yes. They apologized to the reporters for troubling them. It seems that the business men hadn't been able to evolve the specific program they promised, so they couldn't announce it.

Anybody is entitled to curse any governmental agency for actual failures, but let's be fair.

Inside Dope On Inside Italy

News coming out of Italy in the last couple weeks has been a good bit like the news that used to appear back in the days of sail, a century or more ago, when a traveler would arrive at some port and relay by word of mouth the latest intelligence. Today, it is travelers arriving in Berne or Madrid or Istanbul who bring out the latest news of what is actually going on inside of Italy, and that from Rome or Berlin which obviously put out only what they want the outside world to know.

Adding together all the loose bits of information from all sources, checking off those that don't jibe or are obviously untrue, it is now possible, however, to make a coherent guess as to what kind of government Italy has at the moment. The country has unquestionably gone through a tremendous bloodless revolution. This is an effort to reconstruct and summarize its progress to date:

There are still plenty of gaps in the story. Going back to the beginning, Mussolini called the grand council together on Saturday, July 24, to make his report of his conference with Hitler. After making the report, however, it appears that Mussolini took no part in further debate, which went on over his head between two factions. That led by Count Dino Grandi prevailed and called for the resignation of Mussolini.

Whether Mussolini stayed throughout this session is not clear. It is known, however, that Mussolini did not go to the king to offer his resignation as he had been ordered to do by the grand council. Instead, he went to distribute prizes at a harvest festival.

Next day, Grandi went to the king to inform him of the Grand Council's action. When the king learned what had happened, he summoned Mussolini. The duke tried to dismiss the action of the council as having no meaning and being of no importance. The king demanded his resignation anyway, and Mussolini left the palace accompanied by the army. The story persists, and is confirmed by the Italian press, that Mussolini was taken away in an ambulance.

What happened next will probably go down as a fluke in history. The grand council having voted only to remove Mussolini, but the king, seizing this opportunity, used his power all the way and abolished the grand council which, much to its surprise, found that it had committed suicide, which if never intended to do. The grand council had previously had the power to name the successor to the throne. By abolishing the grand council, the king got back the power to name his own successor, a development to be watched with interest.

Items Gleaned AROUND TOWN

After crying his wares in the library the other day, a newsboy who looked about five years of age approached Mrs. Rosita Hollar, librarian, and timidly asked: "Would it hurt if I just looked at a book?"

The public relations office at the Midland Army Air Field can almost be classified with some of the government's long-titled agencies now. News releases sent out by the office, which is under the direction of Lt. Robert Wistrand, now bear this imposing string of letters: "P.R.O., A.A.F.B.S.—C.B.I.S., M. A. A. F."

All of which stands for "Public Relations Office, Army Air Forces Bombardier School—Central Bombardier Instructors' School, Midland Army Air Field."

City Secretary J. C. Hudman has lots of worries around the City Hall and one is money. When the City Council makes a purchase, "J.C." is called on to provide the funds to make payment at the proper time. So far, he's batting 100 percent, and has funds on hand, but he is cautious and always worrying about the future.

Midland citizens are using more water than ever before in the city's history, A. B. Cole, city water superintendent remarked. But he has not statistics for a comparison as the city has no gauge to measure the amount of water it pumps into its mains. City wells produce from 250 gallons a minute to 500 gallons a minute. The supply is adequate, although small pipes in some areas provide inadequate pressure.

City councilmen now are discussing plans to install new mains as soon as possible to provide adequate pressure in all sections of the city and to allow for expansions in the future.

Meanwhile, the use of water has been curtailed in many West Texas communities. Citizens have been requested not to water lawns and shrubs.

Kuriles, possibly at Paramushiro, enemy naval base which already has been bombed three times by American forces reaching ever closer to the enemy's homeland.

First Jap Retreat

The lack of opposition on Kiska — despite the heavy air and sea bombardments — was in a way a surprise. Never before in this war have the Japanese withdrawn from a base without waging a suicidal fight. On neighboring Attu, defeated Japanese troops armed even with bayonets tied on sticks, raided American camps in a final futile battle last May. Then survivors hugged grenades to their chests and died on the island they had sought vainly to retain. The difference at Kiska could represent a change in enemy policy.

More than a year of attacks — attacks that now can be turned westward toward enemy bases closer to Tokyo — were carried out in the Aleutians campaign which began in June, 1942, with the abortive attempt of the Japanese to capture Dutch Harbor. Defeated in that effort they established bases on Attu, Kiska and Agattu. Subsequently they abandoned Agattu in favor of concentrating their strength on Attu, whence they were driven three months ago, and on larger Kiska.

Capture of Kiska — elimination of the Japanese in the Aleutians — opens the way now for renewed assaults on Paramushiro, principal Japanese naval base at the northern end of the Kurile Island chain of which Japan itself is a part, as well as other bases.

It means also that a new and important submarine and naval base can be established, for Kiska, a former coaling station of the United States Navy, has a good harbor in which large surface vessels could safely be serviced while battling the Japanese in the Northern Pacific waters. It means the Japanese have lost a good Pacific observation post.

The capture closes the last gap in the northern route to the Kuriles. Distances there are important. Kiska is only about 1,800 miles from Tokyo itself. Attu is 172 miles closer.

With those two bases for plane and surface craft a long step has been taken in the ultimate assault upon the Japanese homeland.

2,000 men as they launched a series of fierce attacks, the communique stated.

In announcing the heavy German summer casualties, the Russians said that the Nazis, whose offensive in the Kursk area petered out July 12 when the Soviet army struck back, lost more than 300,000 officers and men killed up to last Friday. Figuring the wounded at the normal ratio of two and one-half times more than the dead, the communique estimated the Germans had suffered the million-man loss.

25,600 Prisoners
Prisoners numbered 25,600, said the communique recorded by the Soviet monitor.

These casualty figures were the most impressive yet announced by Moscow for any comparable period in the Russian-German conflict. Moscow said they were inflicted in less than seven weeks during the gruelling campaign which has resulted in Russian capture of Orel, Belgorod, Karachev and other strongholds leading to the now threatened prize bastions of Bryansk and Kharkov.

Bled not only of men, the Germans staggered under material losses at a time when their homeland factories are being bombed to rubble by American and British airmen based in Britain.

The Soviet bulletin said the Red Army since July 5 had captured 875 tanks, 1,274 guns, 3,429 machineguns and 4,200 trucks. In addition, the Russians destroyed 4,600 Axis planes, 6,400 tanks, 3,800 guns and more than 20,000 trucks in vicious battles flaring along a 500-mile front.

"We have already hit him three times at Paramushiro," the general continued. "And we will drive him from island to island with the assistance of ground forces and the Navy until complete victory is ours."

The Kiska battle, Admiral Kincaid declared, was actually fought on Attu.

"By the recapture of Attu, we obtained the means of preventing supplies from reaching Kiska Island and the means of bombing Kiska by the 11th Air Force from bases to the westward, thereby insuring the fall of Kiska itself," he explained.

Army estimates of potential casualties in taking Kiska by force ran to 7,000 wounded and killed.

Winkler And Andrews Get New Deep Tests

Continental Coring In Gaines After Stain And Porosity Show

By James C. Watson, Oil Editor

Increased stimulation of the already intensive development program in West Texas oil areas came at the end of the week with the filing of applications to drill two more deep wildcat tests.

Gulf Oil Corporation is to drill No. 46-0 Keystone Cattle Company, in section 6, block B-2, psi survey, and 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of the section in Winkler County, to 9,000 feet for the Ordovician. A discovery about three-quarters of a mile northwest in the Amon Carter No. 2-C Walton.

Another To Try Fullerton Frank and George Frankel, Houston operators have staked location for No. 1 University, in section 17, block 13, University survey in Northwest Andrews County, approximately three miles south and a little east of the Fullerton field production. That operation is to drill to 7,500 feet—or production in the Clear Fork zone.

Increased attention was focused on Northwest Gaines County Saturday as Continental Oil Company was coring below 7,523 feet in No. 1-A Dr. E. H. Jones after having encountered "a little staining and a little porosity" in lime in drilling down from 7,480 feet to the point where the coring started.

Apparently Magnolia Petroleum Company and Atlantic Refining Company have a producer already assured in No. 1-459 Havemyer & Jenny, four miles north of the Continental No. 1-A Dr. Jones, after having recovered oil and gas cut drilling mud on four drillstem tests run during the week between 7,430 feet and 7,778 feet.

Fourth Test Shows Oil On the fourth test taken Friday the No. 1-459 "H. & J." checked the section between 7,721-7,778 feet. With the 5/8-inch choke open for one hour and fifteen minutes it recovered 80 feet of drilling mud, slightly oil and gas cut.

Showings so far made indicate that the well could be completed as a producer of about the same caliber as the Shell Oil Company No. 1 D. N. Leaverton and others, half mile north, completed in February for a 24-hour potential of 213 barrels from the Clear Fork zone of the lower Permian.

The operators plan to carry the well on to 8,000 feet unless better production shows are found before that depth is reached. If no increases are developed it likely will be completed at 7,778 feet.

Located 1,890 feet from the north line and 660 feet from the west line of section 459, block G, CCSD&RG-NG survey, the No. 1-459 Havemyer & Jenny topped the pay formation 43 feet higher than the No. 1 Leaverton.

Union Oil Company of California No. 1 J. S. Biles, Northwest Andrews County discovery for production, four and three-quarter miles northwest of the Fullerton field, has about completed performance section from 7,253 feet to 7,439 feet, with six shots to the foot and will likely treat with 4,000 gallons of acid Sunday.

A full test of the productive ability of the several saturated sections in the well will be undertaken within the next couple of days.

Made Good Natural Show Early in the week the No. 1 Biles flowed 240 barrels of clean oil in 36 hours from perforations in a 10-foot section from 7,431 to 7,441 feet in the bottom portion of the third saturated zone in the Fullerton zone.

This operation is located in section 18, block A-31, psi survey.

Scheduled depth on this wildcat is 5,800 feet.

If such is done it will be to provide for handling increased allowable scheduled for many of the wells connected to the Magnolia gathering systems in those two fields.

To Take Biles Production Application has been filed by Magnolia Pipe Line Company with the Petroleum Administrator for War for permission to lay a 6-mile, four-inch welded line from the Fullerton field in Northwest Andrews County, to the Union Oil Company of California No. 1 J. Morrow To Drill 5,200-Foot Test Near Tatum In Northeastern Lea

HOBBS, N. M.—Near the extreme Northeast corner of Lea County, T. F. Morrow will drill No. 1 State, a 5,200-foot wildcat located 660 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of section 22-128-35E.

Cellar is being dug and material is being moved in for the test. Nearest exploratory operation to the new project was Mascho-American Drilling Company No. 1 State, which reported a good show in the San Andres series of the Permian before being abandoned at a total depth of 5,175 feet.

The Morrow wildcat will be five miles west and a little north of Tatum, about 20 miles north of Lovington and approximately the same distance northwest of the Wasson field in Gaines County, Texas.

Gulf Coast Faces Shortage Of Gas

BY BRACK CURRY Associated Press Staff A forecast of more restrictions on civilian driving and a warning that a definite shortage threatens along the Gulf Coast Sunday faced Texas motorists as the state prepared to produce more crude oil per day in September than ever before in its history.

From an emergency conference in Oklahoma City of representatives of 26 oil producing associations came the grim prediction that civilian gasoline consumption probably will be reduced again unless crude prices are increased to encourage new drilling.

Called by the Independent Petroleum Association of America, the conference voted to ask Congress to override the Office of Price Administration on the long debated crude price issue.

As the Railroad Commission ordered an increase of 93,000 barrels a day in Texas' September oil flow, an official of the Petroleum Administration for War asserted in Houston that "despite the huge concentration of oil fields, tank farms and refineries along the Texas-Louisiana Gulf Coast, a definite gasoline shortage threatens."

DEATH WRITES THE LAST EDITION

By Adeline McElfresh

COPYRIGHT, 1943. NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Joe Parker, well-loved editor of the Midvale Express, has been found stabbed to death. Society reporter Pat Cleveland, sports writer Clem Evans, and ex-newspaperman Dave Elson are determined to solve the murder. There are three clues, a threatening, unsigned letter that was written on Joe's own typewriter, the voice of the man who attacks Dave in the dark of Joe's empty house, and footprints in the snow.

RANDOLPH ATHONTON

CHAPTER VI

EVERYTHING was like a bad dream to Pat when she awoke that next morning. Finding the typewriter. The footprints in the snow. None of it made sense.

She threw back the covers and treated herself to a luxurious stretch while her bare feet explored the floor for her fluffy pink slippers, then she hurried down the hall to the shower.

"Hurry up, Sis. Mom says your breakfast won't wait much longer." Jerry Cleveland gave the door a resounding thump with his knuckles as he passed.

Back in her room again, Patricia took her new dress, a navy blue sheer wool, from the closet. The dress really did things for her, or so the salesgirl had said. Maybe it would help this morning, when the world looked so black. She went downstairs to breakfast, her coat draped over her arm.

"Shades of Cleopatra! Sis, you sure are spruced up." Jerry looked up from the algebra problem he was trying to finish at the last minute, along with eating his breakfast.

Pat smiled. When she didn't say anything, Jerry went on: "How come you never wore that to the office before?" he asked, a mischievous imp dancing in his eyes. "Before Dave Elson came back to town, I mean."

"Finish your algebra, sonny boy," Pat ordered, "or Miss Parks will flunk you again this month. Not that I'd blame her."

"Better do your snooping with the police," Clem cautioned. "It might be healthier, even if it isn't so exciting."

TIME flew that day. Patricia wrote her personal items, parties, club doings, and numerous other stories with an ease that amazed her. She had thought that never again would she be able to get satisfaction and happiness out of the work that had meant so much to her, but now Joe Parker's training and faith stood her in good stead.

Of course, she thought a trifle guiltily, Dave Elson's compliment when he came into the office with Clem had helped make her day a joy.

"Gosh, you look scrumptious, Pat," he had said, and Clem had joined in.

"He means you're beautiful this morning, Patricia."

Pat smiled, remembering. The paper was out and she was alone in the news room. Clem and Dave had gone somewhere, probably to the cigar store across the street.

"Sorry to interrupt, Miss Cleveland, but may I come in?"

"Oh, hello, Mr. Atherton. The country commissioners passed a resolution on Parker's death at their meeting this afternoon. They asked me to leave a copy of it here."

"Thank you a lot," Pat smiled. "We'll run it tomorrow, sure. Atherton nodded curtly. He started to leave.

"Mr. Atherton," Pat said, and he turned. "Thank you for the lovely roses. And the card. Those words meant a lot to all of us."

The man hesitated a moment. Pat thought he was angry.

"My dear," he told her, "you must be mistaken. I sent no flowers."

CIO Backs Plan Reviving Ceiling On Large Incomes

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Philip Murray of the Congress of Industrial Organizations rallied his unions Saturday behind a revenue program reviving the idea of a $25,000 ceiling on individual incomes to offset what he termed "selfish minority" congressional demands for a sales tax.

Outlining the CIO's program in a letter to all of the organization's affiliates, Murray declared that Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate finance committee and Representative Disney (D-Okla.) of the House ways and means committee "have already begun to campaign for a sales tax and opposition to any increased taxes for personal high incomes or any increase in corporate taxes."

Congress rejected the salary limit earlier this year. Hits Low Wage Group

Senator George, on the sales tax issue, told reporters Saturday that "I don't think a sales tax could or would be passed unless the administration recommended it."

Senator Radcliffe (D-Md.), a member of the finance committee, declared that he favored a sales tax and argued that the "poor man, those with moderate incomes and the rich all would be better off with it."

Murray said in his letter that a "selfish minority in Congress" was pushing sales tax and other plans to burden "war workers who are least able to pay" and was using "propaganda" to the effect that "low-income groups have an excess purchasing power which is superfluous."

The intention, he said, is "to levy a national wage cut directed primarily against the low-income groups."

Chicken Feathers Now Used To Clean Pipes

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—"New and improved pipe cleaners," the sample package was marked, and A. F. Frank, cigar store owner, had visions of at last satisfying discontented pipe smokers who have been successfully seeking the old wire-and-cotton type, now a war casualty.

He opened the package—in it were nine chicken feathers!

Even Army Censor Got Tired Of Reading It

FORT DODGE, IA.—(AP)—Evidently thinking the censor might be tough on one occasion and lax on another, Sgt. Jordan Hogan wrote in several consecutive letters to his parents that he had enjoyed a trip to Stratford-on-Avon, home of Shakespeare, each time giving a full account of his experiences there.

Finally, the censor made this notation on one of Hogan's letters: "Please inform your son that you are now well acquainted with the details of his visit to Stratford-on-Avon. I'm tired of reading about it."

"Whiskey Recess" Plan Proposed To Nelson

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The chemical division of the War Production Board was disclosed Saturday night to have laid before WPA Chairman Donald M. Nelson a "whiskey recess" plan under which distillers could go back to liquor making for at least a brief time.

This was reported by an official who said it probably would be taken up with the War Food Administration to determine whether the nation's grain supplies are sufficient for a period of whiskey making, possibly this fall.

1,400 Tons Supplies To Be Sent Prisoners

Thirty-two U. S. universities offer their health nursing programs.

ROLLBACK IN USED CAR PRICES IS POSTPONED

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A proposed rollback in used car prices, contemplated by the Office of Price Administration since April, has been deferred anew, an OPA spokesman said Saturday, to permit additional study.

The original drawing for the insignia of the Army Chemical Warfare Service reportedly was made on a cigarette wrapper by an officer who is now a clergyman.

Recriminations and fire-ups start when one of these long suits rears its head after an hour or two of quiet bridge. Headquarters & Headquarters Squadron, 83rd Bombardier Training Group: A new squadron adjutant, Second Lt. Joseph F. Francek, assumed his duties Tuesday, replacing Capt. V. W. Henderson who was transferred to Randolph Field, Texas. Lieutenant Francek was adjutant of the 83rd Base Headquarters & Air Base Squadron for two months before transferring to his present post.

The opening game of the softball season's second half—the heart-breaker in which the home team bowed to the Ordinance swatsmen 7 to 5—has been declared null and void. The Ordinance captain is said to have agreed that some illegal pitching might have accounted for the win and the game is to be replayed.

buoyed by the news that they hadn't lost the first game of the second round after all, the squadron ball fans soared to the heights when the team trounced the Medics 7 to 1 early this week. Pvt. James Casalino was the hero of the game, scoring two runs and driving in two more. Corp. Harry Fred (Crank) team captain, expressed confidence that the team has a good chance of coming out on top—if the players keep turning out.

The proximity of the enlisted men's tennis courts to the squadron's new area has brought out the recquet-swinger in several of the boys. Four enthusiasts, dragging themselves wearily back to the barracks after three fast sets of doubles the other night, agreed tennis was great stuff—only if the physical training department would recognize it and give them credit for the exercise. But the next night they're back again—without recognition.

491st Bombardier Training Squadron: Sgt. Don Pagano is the squadron's most ardent out door wild life sportsman. He possesses fishing tackle and equipment which would make Isaac Walton turn green with envy. He also has a fine selection of guns which he plans to give some hard use.

Pvt. Juanita Maria Perego is the latest newcomer to the squadron. Representing the WAC's, she has been assigned to the line supply department. Pfc. Tony Zulli has decided that on his next furlough he will take the path leading to the altar, marrying his home town sweetheart.

Pvt. Albert Dorsey is a very apy soldier these days. Mrs. Dorsey and children Kitty Lou, Albert, Jr., and Jimmy arrived this week from Columbia, Missouri, and they will make their home in Odessa. The boys from the squadron who completed a course in aircraft mechanics at Post Tech School are Privates Leroy Wilson, Robert Foulds, Melvin Wilcox, Oswald Makinen and George Kreuger.

490th Bombardier Training Squadron: Capt. Harry M. Ogan hits the ceiling every time they swing such chesties as "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia".

Corp. Max Gould, reporting from Kansas City, says the steaks and things there were sure good and he would like to have stayed a few more days. After I. T. James Welch made a new synthetic rubber out of 16 points worth of beef steak, he decided his place was not in the kitchen.

The last ratings out find the following men wearing stripes on their sleeves: Tech. Sgt. Vernon C. Brown; Staff Sgts. George W. West, Melvin Rothstein and Curtis C. Connor; Sergeants Willis S. Rutherford, Morris T. Ward, Joe L. Perkins and Earl C. May; and Corporals Oscar C. Wickline, Joseph J. Schneider, Max J. Swartz, Kenneth L. Ramsey, Edward Muller and

Cubs Beat Dodgers 13 To 1 Saturday

BROOKLYN —(AP)—The Chicago Cubs walloped the Dodgers, 13 to 1, Saturday behind the seven-hit pitching of Lon Warneke. Stan Hack hit his third homer of the year in the ninth inning. Red Sox Defeat Tigers in Twelfth

DETROIT — (AP)—The Boston Red Sox scored in the twelfth inning on Catcher Paul Richards' error Saturday to beat the Detroit Tigers, 7 to 6, despite Rudy York's 25th home run and additional Tiger circuit smashes by Richards and Ned Harris. The score: R H E Boston 040 200 000 001—7 16 2 Detroit 001 120 020 000—6 19 2 Hughton, Brown and Woods, Partee; Gorsica, Orrell and Henshaw, Richards.

men coming to work at all hours of the day, complaining, "Oh, the C.G. didn't wake me up", or some such excuse. However, the amusement disappeared later that evening when Lin Chief Holloman held a "pow-wow" with the late-comers in the dressing room.

Saturday marked another day of periodical inspection of quarters and personnel by Col. John P. Kenney, commanding officer. All personnel were attired in their best Sunday-go-to-meeting "G.I." full-fashioned suits, shoes were shined until they glistened, and the inspection as a whole was very commendable.

L. F. Parker of Odessa was a business visitor here Saturday.

Midland Youths In State Junior Golf Tournament

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — The youngest field and one of the smallest will tee off Monday for the start of the 17th annual State Junior Golf Championship.

Indications were that there would be around 100 players. All are under 21 years of age, the limit, and only a handful are 18 or older.

Both James McNair of Brownsville, who would have been defending champion, and Stanley Callahan of San Antonio, the 1941 titlist, are in the service, leaving the 1943 event a wide-open affair.

Outstanding entries include Claude Wild Jr., the 20-year-old former Austin city champion and captain of the University of Texas golf team last spring; Charlie Tims of Arlington, 15, medalist in the Denton, Midland and Glen Garden (Fort Worth) invitation tournaments; Herbert Reid, Lockhart southpaw; Nat Johnson, Houston's present junior champion; Roy Moore, 1942 Houston junior winner; Dick Lehms of Midland; Robert Lowe and Porter Vaughn of Fort Worth, and Carl Gustafson Jr., Austin's 1942 municipal golf champion.

Lehms, 16, was defeated in the quarter finals of the championship flight at the recent Midland Invitation Tournament by Capt. R. W. Ashley, who won the tourney championship crown. Franklin Ward, 16, assistant to Galther No-well, club professional, also is competing in the junior tournament.

Nowell says both boys are outstanding golfers.

Ray Hamrick Leads Phillies To Victory

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Ray Hamrick, the Phillies' $25,000 rookie shortstop from Nashville, came through with his first and second major league hits Saturday to lead Freddie Fitzsimmons' team to a 3-2 triumph over the world champion St. Louis Cardinals.

Also performing brilliantly defensively as the Phillies copped the rubber game of the Cards' five-game final appearance of the season in Shibe Park, Young Hamrick singled in the first inning and romped home when Buster Adams clouted one of Harry Brecheen's offerings for a home run against the left field stands.

The score: R H E St. Louis 000 002 000—2 3 0 Philadelphia 200 000 01x—3 6 0 Brecheen and W. Cooper; Rowe and Moore.

Football To Get Big Sendoff In Tilt At Evanson

EVANSTON, Ill. — (AP) — The future of the 1943 college football season may be somewhat obscured because many of the nation's schools have dropped the sport, but it will get its annual big send-off Wednesday night when the College All-Stars and the Washington Redskins expect to play before a capacity throng of 50,000 in Doye Stadium.

Around the Chicago area there's nothing to indicate football has been slowed by the war. The All-Stars, 64 strong, and openly the favorite team to win, are considered the most formidable collection of collegians in the 10 year history of the event. The Redskins, professional champions and boasting more than a dozen veterans on their squad, appear strong, well-conditioned and confident.

The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., sponsors the contest. The stars have line bucking strength galore, with such capable fullbacks as Pat Harder of Wisconsin, Ed Hirsch of Northwestern, Steve Filipowicz of Fordham and Roy McKay of Texas.

Dickey Hits His 200th Home Run

CLEVELAND — (AP) — With Vets-ran Catcher Bill Dickey hitting the 200th homer of his career with one on in the seventh, the New York Yankees came from behind Saturday to wallop the Indians, 3 to 1. Dickey also whacked a triple in the sixth when the Yanks scored five runs to offset Jeff Heath's fourth inning round-tripper for the Indians.

The score: R H E New York 010 005 200—3 13 1 Cleveland 000 300 000—3 9 2 Borowy and Dickey; Bagby, Hering and Poat, Rosar and De-Sautels.

Athletics Drop Fifteen Straight

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Louis (Buck) Newsom won his first game in eight starts for St. Louis in the nightcap of a doubleheader Saturday, downing the Philadelphia Athletics, 4 to 1, after long-range hitting earned the Browns a 5 to 3 decision in the opener. It was the fifteenth straight defeat for the Mackmen.

The score: R H E Philadelphia 201 000 000—3 9 0 St. Louis 012 010 10x—3 10 2 Harris and Swift; Sundra and Hayes.

Second Game The score: R H E Philadelphia 010 000 000—1 9 0 St. Louis 010 100 20x—4 10 0 Wolf, Ciola and Wagner; Newsom, Caster and Ferrell.

Nate Andrews Wins Tenth For Braves

BOSTON — (AP) — The Boston Braves were inimitable hosts to the Cincinnati Reds Saturday, edging them out in a 3-2 victory in their last visit this season as Nate Andrews won his tenth game for the Braves.

The score: R H E Cincinnati 000 00 010—2 5 1 Boston 100 110 00x—3 9 1 Walters and Mueller; Andrews and Mast.

Chicago White Sox Beat Senators 5-4

CHICAGO — (AP) — Outfielder Wally Moses' single off reliever Alex Carrasquel in the ninth inning scored Vince Castino from second and gave the Chicago White Sox a 5 to 4 victory over Washington's Senators Saturday.

The score: R H E Washington 100 011 001—4 10 1 Chicago 200 000 021—5 9 0 Lefebvre, Carrasquel and Early; Ross, Maltzberger and Castino.

Bible Has Navy Boys Aplenty At Initial Practice

AUSTIN — (AP) — There were nearly enough Navy boys present to launch a fleet let alone a football team when Head Coach Dana X. Bible and his staff began fashioning the University of Texas Longhorns of 1943.

Two-thirds of the 150 candidates who reported for the first session Friday—"It's the largest squad I ever had"—were Navy trainees, V-12 or ROTC.

But Bible knows little about this squad and is thankful the South-west Conference permitted an early training start "to get acquainted." As in grid camps elsewhere, however, the situation is complex. Some of the boys will not be eligible to play until Nov. 1, by Navy rule.

Like Cinderella, the Navy trainees have to watch the clock. As a result practice sessions will be shorter than in other years.

Dodger's Youth Plan No Joke

NEW YORK — (AP) — When Branch Rickey started to turn the Brooklyn Dodgers inside out about a month ago the fanatic Flatbush fans were wounded to the quick. But their wounds have been quick to heal through the spectacular play of the youngsters who were brought in during the housecleaning.

The customers who carried signs ridiculing Rickey and threatening to boycott Ebbets Field after Bobo Newsom, Joe Medwick, Dolph Camilli and other familiar stars had been shuttled off the scene now are turning out in bigger numbers than before.

The players who are responsible for this about-face are Luis Rodriguez Olmo, a Puerto Rican outfielder brought up from the Dodgers' Montreal farm club; Eugene Hermanski, another outfielder who came up from Durham in the Piedmont League; and Howard Schultz, a first baseman purchased from St. Paul.

The youth movement among the Dodgers is no joke anymore.

FLASHES
Because of an error in the score book, Pvt. Robert Barclay, pitcher for the 951st Guard Squadron, was overlooked as pitching a no-hit no-run game against the Medics a week ago, giving his team the first win of the season.

Mascot of the 2052nd Ordnance is a large black mountain billy goat, the personal property of Master Sgt. Melvin Wexell. The goat was given to Sergeant Wexell by a cadet, who brought the goat here from Carlsbad, New Mexico, as a lucky charm. Now the cadet is a bombardier somewhere in the Southwest Pacific, a full-fledged "Hell from Heaven Man."

The art of doing sit-ups has been made easy for the enlisted men, for they now can sit on a bench eight inches high and put their feet in a special made cross-bar-rack, giving them more stability. Prior to this invention the boys had to have someone hold their legs down.

HIGHLIGHTS
Cpl. George Couston, outstanding heavyweight boxer on the field and protégé of the "tittle man with the big ears," Sgt. Mickey Schmarion, hails from Chicago and is a product of Amundsen High School and the University of Illinois.

Besides being a ball player, Sergeant Oliphant was very active on a hockey team in Toledo, Ohio.

Pvt. Otto Schuelke is at home here in Texas, for he hails from Needville and was a four letterman at Goforth High School there. He played semi-pro baseball in the Austin city league and one of the boys he played with, Tex Hughson, is catcher for the Boston Red Sox.

Pvt. Frank Langan is in charge of the grounds for the PT department. Cpl. Harvey Pierce is the instructor in PT at the Post Tech School, and also gives instructions for the morning classes at the Post swimming pool. Lt. James Jenkins led the first class of officers over the obstacle course the other day. Staff Sgt. "Bud" Hummel will teach "judo" to the military police and to members of the Guard Squadron. Cpl. George Blocker and Pvt. George Stevens are constant users of the enlisted men's tennis courts, as they live just across the street. A group of PT instructors, under the direction of Cpl. Walter Spink, will play a pre-season basketball game with a select group of the "world's most dangerous men" Sunday morning at the Post Service Club. A few more entries are needed to start the enlisted men's tennis tournament and according to tennis director Sgt. Lane Meltzer, the singles section of the tournament will be all set to go this coming week. Master Sgt. James Collins tried his wind out at the Post swimming pool the other night and swam the complete length of the pool twice under water. The cadets who are flying night bombing missions stop in at the cadet mess for one of those famous "Dagwood" sandwiches prepared by Cadet Cook, Sgt. "Whitey" Stewart.

Church Wedding

Organs playing the wedding march and organist brides seem made for each other. This gown shows how formal home-grown cotton can be when it's spun into gossamer fabric and fashioned into a memorable dress with yards of train and insets of beautiful embroidery. The short organist veil matches the dress exactly, because it has a coronet of the same embroidery used on the dress, and is also edged with it.

Woman Worker In War Plant Draws Praises From Men

By Betty MacDonald
N.E. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The boys on the graveyard shift at the TWA maintenance hangar here are unanimous in their approval: "Lesley Frost? She's tops!" They are referring to the lithe, blue-eyed lady in coveralls, pre-viously a-straddle the nose of a huge four-engine Army transport. Maybe she's checking wires that must be perfectly attuned, maybe she's changing some of the 28 giant spark plugs in a 2000-H. P. engine. Whatever she's doing, she's doing it well.

Knows Her Job
At the hangar, she's No. J-10291 on the maintenance crew, only woman on the graveyard shift; a skillful team member getting a man's salary, doing a man's job. She knows the work. In World War I she carved mahogany propellers for wooden planes. In this war, she worked up from trainee ranks, cutting props with steel blades; riveting bolts in plane parts; weighing propellers; writing, skillful eye and a "good feel"; inspecting precision instruments. Now, she's an electrical "man."

Out of her working clothes, you meet a different Lesley Frost. You meet the daughter of one of America's foremost poets, Robert Frost. You see imagination, vitality, a woman with an interesting past, an intellectual present, a cynical future.

No Post-War Plans
Her career dates back, beyond the school—beyond the plane factory job. Miss Frost was a member of an eight-man crew on a motorless, radioless sloop from New York to the Baltic Sea; she sold books around the world on a cruise. She toured New England for five summers with a caravan bookshop. She raised two pretty daughters, and taught them in the same informal, progressive way she teaches at her school. She's written many books, including "Not Really," a juvenile best seller. She was a professor of English at Rockford College, Rockford, Ill. She's been an

Indoor Camouflage

No painters of paperhangers available this year? Then camouflage your walls yourself with a fabric panel in some tasteful striped, plaid or floral design, like the one pictured here.

If you have a dull wall, it is simple to brighten it up by attaching the panel with a slide fastener (WPE is permitting increased production now) or with decorator tacks that can be concealed with oversized fabric-covered buttons.

Your local sewing center will show you how to make the buttons in a jiffy. They maintain a notions department as part of their wartime budget lessons in sewing.

Betsy Beckham Bundy's Advice To The Lovelorn

Q. My sweetheart and I have gone together for a year but lately we do not get along amicably. He seems very disgruntled and is cross and irritable with me on all subjects. I am growing more disgusted each day, and am about to break off with him. I have thought a great deal of him, but I am inclined toward believing that he would like it if I should break off. What do you think?
A. Since you have gone with the young man a year, and he has now grown to be disagreeable, I would simply inform him that unless we could get along more agreeably that you have decided that you would just leave off with him. Let him know plainly that you do not enjoy having dates with any old grouch.
As little as he could do would be to be pleasant, and I would suggest an interim, during which you do not see him at all. This does not necessarily mean a final matter.

Q. I have had a divorce just six weeks and there is a young man who is trying to date me. I like him but it seems quite a short time to start out dating others.
A. Why not? A divorce is no death. I would go out with him if I liked him, and I should not care an iota what anyone said, provided I were doing right at all times.

Q. Would you advise me to permit my young daughter, now 14, to go up north alone on a visit? She is very anxious to go but with traveling as it is today, I cannot agree wholly to it.
A. No, I would not let her go alone. If you could take her in your car, it would be a different matter. We are asked by our government not to travel unless absolutely necessary, and traveling today by anyone is a hardship. A girl of 14 has no idea of the pitfalls she could encounter. If she were my daughter, I would keep her at home.

Q. Inasmuch as I have been left an unusual amount of money, through the death of an ancestor, I should like to know just how I might invest it? I have a young daughter and a young son, 12, who have to be educated.
A. I would advise investing it in four of the strongest and best insurance companies of America. You might put a nice slice of it in War Bonds. Invest a certain amount for your daughter's education, and another amount for your son's education. Permit yourself to have a certain amount as an income each month, from the larger investment, and live within it. This, I think, is the best way to invest at the present time. If you want funds you wish to invest in business ventures, save them up out of your monthly allowance. If you wish to play the stock market, play with funds to which you can bid goodbye, and the playing will hurt no one, and you might realize some splendid gains.

Illinois Woman Is Regular Listener To Axis Broadcasts

ROCK ISLAND, ILL.—(P)—The Berlin short wave is a nightly voice in the home of Mrs. Dale West, who extracts names of American war prisoners from the broadcasts and drops a post card to the families involved.
It's Mrs. West's hobby, listening to the German, Italian, and Japanese broadcasts, and she does her best to get accurate transcriptions of any messages the prisoners may have sent.
It's the most satisfying hobby I've ever had," Mrs. West says. "The parents are so very grateful. Almost all of them reply and some enclose a post card and ask me to send some good news to some other mother and father. It's very little trouble for me, but it's nice to have people write 'God bless you.'"
The hobby started quite by accident during June when Mrs. West's husband was "monkeying with the

Midland Girl Scout Program Has Had Large Growth Since Inception In 1934

Girl Scouting in Midland has had a remarkable growth since its beginning in 1934 when Mrs. M. R. Hill, Mrs. Edith Lawrence and Mrs. L. G. Lewis organized a lone troop here.

The program has expanded until now Midland has six troops—two for Brownies, three for intermediates (girls 10 to 13) and one senior troop for high school girls. There is an urgent need for six more troops and these will be started just as soon as additional leaders are obtained.

Betty Jo Greene, who has won every advancement award offered by the Girl Scouts, was a member of the first troop organized here and has been an active member since that time.

Other members of the first Midland troop included Lizza Jane Lawrence, Jane Hill, Margaret Ann West, Frances Ellen Link, Myrtle Lee Tillman, Ella Ann Tolbert, Jean Lewis, Wilma Mahoney and Alberta Smith.

The original troop was disbanded as the charter members outgrew scouting.

First U. S. Troop In 1912
A new troop was organized in 1939 by Mrs. E. R. Osburn, Mrs. J. L. Greene and Mrs. F. B. Kingon. The troop, sponsored by the Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association, is the present senior troop. The five other troops have been organized during the last three years.

The first Girl Scout troop in the United States was organized in 1912 and since that time Scouting has spread to every part of the nation.

Tough Job Awaits Cadet Judges In Bathing Beauty Contest At MAAF Personnel Party

"Having observed quite a few of the contestants at their work around the field, I'd say we're going to have one of the toughest jobs of our careers picking the Bombardier Beauty."

That's what one of the cadets who will act as judge at the bathing beauty contest to be a feature of the Midland Army Air Field's civilian personnel party Thursday had to say about the job that will fall to the luck Hell from Heaven Men Thursday night as they select the "bombardier's choice" from thirty-seven of the field's prettiest civilian employees.

Biggest Party
The party, which will be held at the Ector County Auditorium, will be the biggest ever staged by the civilians at the headquarters of the nation's bombardier training program here.

Starting at 7 o'clock with a barbecue and other refreshments, the gala get-together will include a lavish water carnival, featuring a water polo game, fancy diving and swimming, and life saving demonstrations.

Prize-package event of the evening will be the bathing beauty contest, and the selection and coronation of the Bombardier Beauty. According to Captain Conley R. Adlington, civilian personnel officer, the dancing, which will continue until midnight, will be "to the music of the best dance band in West Texas."

Entrants in the beauty contest, selected to represent the departments at the post in which they are employed, are as follows: Margie Hall, Mary Potter, Nell Henderson, Betty Hice; sub-depot headquarters; Betty Jo Ratliff, Ina Jean Powell, Frances McKee, Opal Walker; sub-depot engineers; Margaret Ward, Lona Lovelace, Jessie York; headquarters; Ruth Brislin, Betty Z. Folk, Catherine Sheffield, Chick Brewer; civilian personnel office; Orene Ingram, Judy Donnelly; quartermaster laundry; Mary Nelson, Elizabeth Line, Eunice Brummett, Bernice McMillian; Central Bombardier's Instructor School; Louise Parker; station hospital; Mary Herring, Alice Skelley; department of training; Wanda Garon, Tillie Rice, Bettye Baker, Helen Allen, Jewel Butler, Emily Adams, Sylvia Sheport.

Master-Minds Of Bombing Schools Hold Conference

The men responsible for the training of more than half of the nation's bombardiers gathered Friday at the headquarters field of the bombardier training program here for a conference on ways to make "the world's best bombardiers" even better.

Heading the group of distinguished mentors of the "Hell from Heaven Men" was Brig. Gen. Isaiah Davies, commanding general, 34th Flying Training Wing, who flew here from his headquarters in San Angelo.

Among those who met for the day's roundtable an Axis blasting were directors of training from the four schools of the vast West Texas Bombardier Quadrangle, and representatives of the AAF Training Command in Fort Worth and the AAF Gulf Coast Training Center at San Antonio.

Host to the bombardier masterminds was Col. John P. Kenny, commanding officer of the Midland Army Air Field. Those present for the conference included: Lt. Col. Harry Crutcher, AAFTC, Fort Worth; Lt. Col. John B. Cornett, AAFGTC, San Antonio; Lt. Col. Lloyd Dalton, Chidess bombardier school; Lt. Col. R. C. Crawford, San Angelo bombardier school; Lt. Col. D. Wade, Big Spring bombardier school; and Lt. Col. John D. Ryan, AAFBS, Midland.

Yankee WACs and British ATS Meet In London And Immediately Start Checking On Clothes

LONDON—(P)—Britains women soldiers in khaki the "once-over"—and vice versa.

The WACs are arriving with respect and admiration for the magnificent work the British ATS are doing. The ATS are welcoming the comparative newcomers in military service and giving them the benefit of their nearly five years' experience.

Each Checks Up
But women being women, the ATS and WACs are checking up with each other on some very special interests—clothes, pay, work, regulations regarding makeup and dates.

A girl private in the ATS wants to know how many pairs—and kinds—of stockings Uncle Sam issues to girl privates in the WACs. And the WACs want to know if the British girls get girdles.

Well, in the matter of stockings Uncle Sam is more generous than John Bull. The WACs get four pairs of cotton and four pairs of rayon. The ATS get four pairs of lisle.

ATS Lead In Girdles
A WAC officer on duty at a station where ATS are working told me the latter didn't think much of the WACs' cotton leggear. For one thing the ATS lisle stockings are of the same shade as their uniforms while those of the WACs are a slightly off-tone.

WACs can wear rayon stockings only when off duty. Only ATS officers can wear rayon. At present WACs can get rayon stockings—limited to one or two pairs at a time—at the U. S. army post exchanges. ATS buy theirs in shops with coupons. So far the WACs, who are arriving fully equipped, have not been given British clothing coupons.

But while Uncle Sam does hand out more stockings, more shirts and more of several other items of apparel, he is giving the ATS some ground to feel sorry for the WACs. The ATS get two nice pink corset-belts, as they call 'em, but Uncle Sam isn't giving any more girdles to his women soldiers.

Joseph Murdoch of Big Spring has been dismissed from Western Clinic Hospital.

World's Foremost Calf Ropers Will Be Here Sept. 6th

The eyes of the rodeo world will be focused on Midland Labor Day, September 6, when four of the world's foremost calf ropers meet in two matched events which will feature one of the nation's top roping cards of the year.

In the main event, Toots Mansfield of Big Spring is matched against Clyde Burk of Comanche, Oklahoma, with a purse of approximately $2,500 for the winner. Both ropers have held the calf roping championship of the world three years, with Mansfield being the only man to win the crown three years in succession. They will rope 12 calves each.

Homer Pettigrew of Grady, N. M., world's champion all-around cowboy in 1941, will compete against Troy Port of Lovington, N. M., in another special roping match on the holiday program. Pettigrew was second in the world's championship calf roping race in 1941 and was third in the nation in 1942. Port is one of the best-known calf ropers in the southwest. He is a consistent winner in rodeos over this section. They will rope six calves each. Expect Record Attendance

The championship contests will be held at the rodeo grounds of Midland Fair, Inc., and will start at 3 p. m. rain or shine, Labor Day. Attendance is expected to break all previous records. More than 7,500 persons witnessed a match between Mansfield and Burk here last year, when Mansfield nosed out the Oklahoma roper by seconds.

Following the championship match last September 13, Burk challenged Mansfield for a return roping of lighter calves. Calves this year will weigh less than 210 pounds.

Mansfield won the world's championship in calf roping in 1939, 1940, and 1941, and Burk held the title in 1936, 1938 and 1942. The 1943 standing show show Mansfield leading the list and Burk third in calf roping.

Exhibition By Champion

An exhibition of bulldogging will be given by Pettigrew, world's champion bulldogger in 1941 and 1942. He is leading the field again this year.

A jack-pot calf roping and other matched roping events also will be held. The jack-pot roping will be open to all contestants.

Exhibitions of bronc riding and Brahma bull riding by nationally known performers will round out the western card.

Johnny Jordan of Chandler, Arizona, will announce the events. Hundreds of soldiers stationed in this area are expected to attend the big attraction. Enlisted men will be admitted at reduced prices.

RANGE RAMBLINGS By BILL GRAY

There's a storehouse of livestock news any week if you travel a jagged line from the Hill Country west of San Antonio to the South Plains hub of Lubbock. Follow this course and you're in sheep, goat, cattle and horse country, as our trip the past week revealed. A jaunt along that route disclosed:

That the Spade Ranch two-year-old steers of the Lubbock 90-cent ranch sold to Weisbard Bros., of Denver, Colo., a few days ago at 13 cents, Oct. 20 delivery, 1,200 head. Spade Manager Otto Jones confirmed the sale.

That G. R. White, cattelman, sheep man and horse breeder of Brady, sold 300 steer calves to Sam Hoerster of Mason, at 15 cents. The deal is authentic—White confirmed it, said they were fancy bred. They were bought and delivered last week. That deal and the Spade sale were perhaps the brightest spots in an inactive range cattle market, where cattlemen want 14 cents or more and are offered (in scattered cases where the offers are being made) only 12 1/2 and 13 1/2 cents.

"Dry weather calves," said J. W. Gibbons of Richland Springs of his 1,200 calves delivered last week to Charley Ford of San Antonio, weighing 365 pounds on average, bringing $13.75, straight through. This column reported the deal earlier, the weight only is news this week.

"We aren't planning on buying mutants to winter unless we get some good rains," Gibbons declared.

Roy Barton, Brady livestock buyer, reported he has not contracted any calves—says he doesn't know of any contracted in McCulloch County. In contrast, A. M. Harkey, Mason County commission man and order buyer, says he has been "contracting all along in recent weeks—bought 500 last week from Alvin Droper, L. B. Eckert and Ernest Boher of Mason. He started contracting when the prices were 14-15 and has come down to 12 1/2 and 13 1/2, but has gotten a lot for less than that.

Udo Henke, Kurt Eckhardt and Bill Danz, who do most of the livestock trading at Fredericksburg, agreed Thursday that: Young goats in the half are going at $5 generally; mutation goats are moving; nannies are not (because of lessening incentive to breed this fall—lack of feed, help); that three- and four-year-old Delaine ewes, with lambs just taken off, are worth $5; that most mutton goats going to San Antonio market are bringing six cents will bring a nickel in a few weeks out of the hair. Danz last week sold 100 head of four-year-old-and-under nannies (Delaines) for $6 a head. They went from one Fredericksburg ranchman to another.

C. E. Miller, Kerrville ranchman and thoroughbred breeder, and his partner, Gus Young, next Thursday will receive the last delivery on 3,000 kids contracted in the Focos River country from various parties at approximately $4.50 a head. C. T. White, Brady thoroughbred breeder, 10 days ago sold five four- and five-year-old halfbreds to Bill Barry of San Antonio at $200 a head, to go to Mexico for polo.

G. R. White of Brady has his great mare, Texa-Louise, at Lexington, Ky., in foal to C. V. Whitney's Mahmoud, the great English sire, brought to America by Whitney at a price of $50,000. Third on the English sire list, he is the only stallion to stand in America that has ranked so high on the English list.

Hygro, perhaps the outstanding stud in Texas today, looked tip-top at the T. P. Morgan stables in Kerrville. His fee would buy a new

Farmer Outsmarts Ravens Out To Ruin Melon Crop By Use Of Trick

In addition to being costly and general all-around pests, ravens also are smart birds. W. E. Robison, farmer residing eight miles south of Stanton, admits.

Robison raises watermelons and corn on his farm, and the ravens have been causing him considerable worry lately. They have ruined an estimated $600 to $800 worth of watermelons, most of the damage caused in one day.

Although there are many pie melons in the area, the ravens don't bother them, Robison said.

In fact, very few pests will eat pie melons, which might be classified as pests, too, he says.

Traps to protect the crops are almost impossible to obtain now, Robison says, so he has had to turn to a simple trick to fend off the superstitious ravens. He places a bottle cap on the melon while it is small, and the ravens, for some unknown reason, refuse to peck on the melon. As long as the bottle caps remain on the melons, they are unlikely to be eaten by the birds.

Robison has picked about 100 melons thus far this season, and most of them weigh between 25 and 45 pounds. He had several large ones with him on a trip to Midland Friday.

Robison is completing an eight-room house on his farm. He moved here in May, 1942, from California where he was employed as a trucker. It has been many years since he had farmed, but he has had good results the past two years.

About nine square feet of space is required for each hill of melons, he says. Three seeds are planted in each hill, and he averages about nine melons from the three vines.

He beat the ravens to his corn this year, he said, because they didn't show up until after he had most of it harvested.

Maple Sugar Trees Yield Better Away From Farm Animals

By H. W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

NEW YORK —(AP)— Maple sugar trees yield about twice as much if the horses, cows and sheep are kept away from them.

This is reported in Science by Dr. Paul B. Sears, of Oberlin College. He cites three examples. First, Miss Elaine Hoff, at the request of A. C. Norris, an Oberlin graduate, studied maple groves in Lorain County, Ohio.

Her analysis indicated that the quality of the maple groves was suffering from the fact that they were being used as pastures.

Then R. E. Campbell fenced off a grove containing 500 trees, and an additional 1425 trees were also either protected or only very slightly pastured. There was some indication of increased yield in the 500 trees, and this past season the 1425 averaged nearly one quart of syrup per tree against one pint from nearby groves which had remained in pasture use.

Dean L. E. Call, of the School of Agriculture of Kansas State College gave the third example, reporting that his brother has been protecting a maple grove from cattle grazing for seven or eight years. The yield of sugar was increased and the trees are in much better condition.

Dr. Sears does not give the reason for the increased maple sugar, but points out that in the protected areas wild life and tree seedlings have increased.

Feed Conservation Is Urged At Meeting

Farmers and dairymen of Midland County were told Friday night "we've got a war to win—don't fail our nation—it's tough but don't quit."

With those words T. H. Buckingham of San Angelo, district manager for the Purina Mills, opened Midland County's Food for Victory Crusade, featuring feed conservation, at a meeting in the courthouse.

"Without feed we can't produce food, and feed is short," he told the farmers, poultrymen and dairymen who attended the meeting. "With our armies in Europe, the food and feed problems will increase tremendously. Our needs are increasing.

"Most Serious Problem"

"More efficient livestock, milk and egg production is necessary if we are to win the war. We must produce more food with the available feed.

"The feed problem is the most serious problem of the war today." At the conclusion of his address, the motion picture, "Twenty Fighting Men" was shown to the farmers.

Revised Scale Of AAA Payments To Farmers Listed

A revised scale for payments to Texas farmers under the 1943 AAA program has been announced by the War Food Administration, the Midland County AAA office announced Saturday.

The new rate of payment for cotton is one cent per pound. Rates for payments earned by carrying out approved production practices such as terracing, contouring and strip cropping remain unchanged.

The original rate of payment on cotton had been announced at 1.1 cents per pound. Payments are made on normal production of the allotted acreage.

Changes in the program to meet wartime conditions have increased the number of farmers eligible for AAA payments this year, officials of the office said in explaining reduction in this year's payments. Under the AAA act, rates of payment may be adjusted upward or downward, depending on the percentage of participation.

American Soldiers In Panama Have Hard Time Learning To Speak Native Spanish

BY VAUGHN M. BRYANT
 PANAMA CITY, Panama.—(AP)—Despite one, two or even three years down here on the guard ditch for the Big Ditch, the Midwestern soldier, Southern sailor or Massachusetts marine still knows about as much Spanish as when he landed on this Latin isthmus—which is to say, generally, none.

But in the meantime he has worked out a jargon with the Panamanian bus driver, bartender, washwoman and street urchin which at times is almost terrifying in its grammar—but which both sides understand and which gets results. It's an inter-American double-talk that the only happy-go-lucky gringo could create.

"What Goes?" Goes
 To begin with, the basic phrase in the "tongue" is "Que pasa?"—literally "What goes?" but which can mean everything from "How are you?" to "What's cookin'?" to "Hey, chum, what's the big idea?" Every troop learns "Que pasa?" the first time he hits Panama City on town leave.

With that as a beginning he picks up fast, so that now he can hurry up the waiter with a brief "Hey, Joe, que pasa with my steak?" or "Que pasa that you don't give more rum in this drink?" A few days later he'll learn that "mas" is more, "ron" is rum and "bedda" or "trago" is drink, and will slip those new words into the sentence.

Of course, there are some who stop here, feeling they can now "get around" in the language. But other, harder souls keep diligently at it until they can blast out a "Queñ the hell pasa, Joe?" or even learn the closest the Panamanian can get to a translation of "Take it easy" — "Cogelo suave" which, literally, would be something like "Seize it smooth."

Yanks Are "Joe"
 "Mas" of course is busy and even at mess you cannot impress fellow soldiers by asking for "mas potatoes." And naturally every soldier is sad toward the end of the month when, as he laments to his Panamanian friend, he "ain't got no mas dough."
 There are those, too, who aside from regular Spanish words have the habit of increasing their vocabulary by merely adding "o" or "a" to an English word to get its "Spanish" equivalent. This is the school that makes an editor an "editor" and a letter a "lettero." But they get fooled on soap. That word with an "a" on the end in Spanish means "soup!"

How the Panamanian catches on is his own little mystery, just as he probably wonders on the ease with which the armed forces grasp his own pidgin jargon of jumbled words and phrases. He starts not with "Que pasa" but with "Hey Joe."

Sounds Different
 That, incidentally, seems to be universal throughout the Caribbean with natives and troopers. But with the attention caught by a "Hey Joe" a street wail can, for instance, go into three routines of "Shoeshine Joe?" "Paper Joe?" or "Gimme ten cents Joe."

These men are only the beginners, though. There are Army and Navy personnel who really make an effort to grab the language and "sweat it out" over at Panama's National University twice weekly attending the popular Spanish for Foreigners classes. Others buy themselves self-teaching methods, and start in on their friends in barrack and the Panamanians when they go to town.

This school of study is often apt to miss on its pronunciation to the point where the farewelling "Hasta mañana" (until tomorrow) sounds more like "Hoist a banana" than the Spanish "anstah mahny-ahnah."

M. D. Burke of the ODT office at San Angelo was a business visitor here Friday.

Major Floyd, a member of the first class of bombardiers to be graduated from the Army Air Forces' first bombardier school at Lowry Field, won his commission in January, 1941. He has served as a bombardier instructor at Ellington Field, at Midland Army Air Field, and at Albuquerque, N. M. At Carlsbad, N. M., he served as temporary director of training for the Central Bombardier Instructors School.

Major Floyd was graduated from Jefferson Senior High School at Roanoke, Va., and from Virginia Military Institute. He and his wife and daughter, Sheila, now make their home in Odessa.

Veteran Of War In Atlantic Now At Midland Base

Fourteen months' service in Canada, Greenland, Iceland, Arctic Circle, England and North Africa all added together have given Capt. Carl E. Schultz the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal, 13 Oak Leaf Clusters and a recommendation for the Silver Star.

Here at this headquarters of the nation's bombardier training program, the new home of the Central Bombardier Instructors' School, Captain Schultz will take a six weeks' course in the latest methods of bombardiering and navigation. He was assigned to CBIS for this special training after fourteen months service as a bombardier, observer and aerial gunner on 50 combat missions and was credited with shooting down three enemy planes and crippling two more.

In Raid On Messina
 Captain Schultz said his most thrilling experience was when his group was sent on a raid over Lorient, France, and Messina, Sicily, because he knew that the bombs he dropped would in a small way clear the way for the ground troops and he wanted to prove to his alma mater that he really was one of the most dangerous men in the world.

Captain Schultz received his training at Maxwell Field, Alabama, at Tulsa, Oklahoma, and was graduated as a bombardier at Albuquerque, New Mexico, on March 21, 1942.

Captain and Mrs. Schultz are making their new home temporarily in Midland.

Promote Two Men To Rank Of Major

There are two new sets of gold oak leaves glittering on official collars at the headquarters of the nation's bombardier training program here.

Capt. Jimmie W. Britt, pilot on duty with the department of training at the nation's number one cadet bombardier school, and Capt. Charles R. Floyd, assistant director of training for the Central Bombardier Instructors' School, both received word Friday of their promotion to the rank of major.

Major Britt, a native Texan, received his pilot training at Dallas Aviation school, and at Randolph and Kelly Fields. After winning his wings, he was assigned to the school here as a pilot instructor, teaching new pilots the techniques used in handling the planes used in training the "Hell from Heaven Men."

Born at Swenson, Texas, Major Britt was graduated from Lamesa High School and the University of Texas. He and his wife and his son, Jimmy Jr., now make their home at 916 North Graham, Odessa.

Major Floyd, a member of the first class of bombardiers to be graduated from the Army Air Forces' first bombardier school at Lowry Field, won his commission in January, 1941. He has served as a bombardier instructor at Ellington Field, at Midland Army Air Field, and at Albuquerque, N. M. At Carlsbad, N. M., he served as temporary director of training for the Central Bombardier Instructors School.

Major Floyd was graduated from Jefferson Senior High School at Roanoke, Va., and from Virginia Military Institute. He and his wife and daughter, Sheila, now make their home in Odessa.

Young Man With Wide Combat Experience To Speak At Graduation Exercises Here Thursday

A young man with a wide background of combat experience will be the speaker Thursday morning when members of the twenty-fourth class of Hell from Heaven Men receive their silver bombardier wings at the nation's number one bombardier school here.

The speaker, announced Saturday by Col. John P. Kenny, commanding officer of Midland Army Air Field, will be Lt. William F. McClintock, 25 year old bombardier and navigator.

Now assigned to the Central Bombardier Instructors' School here, Lieutenant McClintock has served five months on active duty in England and seven months in North Africa. He participated in 50 high altitude, daylight precision bombing missions over enemy territory, and he has been awarded the Air Medal and nine Oak Leaf Clusters.

Lieutenant McClintock was graduated from Cornell University and was commissioned in March of 1942 after completing training at Lakeland, Fla., and Albuquerque, N. M.

Graduation of this year's twelfth class of Axis blasters this week will make, for them, the completion of 12 weeks of the most intensive training now being given any member of the Army Air Forces.

Men who complete their bombardier training these days, according to officials at the school here, are more than just bombardiers. "They are full fledged members of the aerial combat teams, and as key members of those teams, they are qualified to perform any of the multitude of duties necessary to make their team function as a perfect fighting unit geared to total victory."
