Caprock Jamboree Set For Sat. Night

Silverton Volunteer Fire Department will host the next Caprock Jamboree to be held Saturday, January 6, in the County Showbarn in Silverton. If you would like to be part of the show, you must call 847-2619 before noon January 5. If you missed the December Jamboree, you missed a great show. Approximately 350 were in attendance. Out-of-town talent came from Hereford, Kress, Quitaque and Plainview. The women of the Methodist Church in Quitaque were in charge of the concessions. A big thank-you to everyone who helped make another Jamboree a great success.

There was one special person who "stole the show" when he started playing the piano. Of course, that was Silverton's own Jack Sutton. Jack, thank-you for sharing your wonderful music with everyone.

If anyone has a piano they would either donate or sell "cheap" to the Jamboree, please call the number above or 823-2456. The planning committee surely would like to have a piano that could be left at the showbarn for the use of the community.

Don't forget to bring your lawn chairs to the Jamboree Saturday night. Come early and eat with the Fire Department, then sit back and relax to another Jamboree at 7:00 p.m.

Methodist Church Planning Ski Weekend

First United Methodist Church in Silverton is planning a skiing weekend to Angel Fire February 2-4, and they have room for a few others in their group. If you would be interested in accompanying the Methodists on this trip, you are asked to contact Rev. Duane Knowlton before Sunday.

There will be a meeting at the United Methodist Church Sunday, January 7, at 12:15 p.m. to plan the trip. All those planning to make the trip are invited to the meeting. The group will be staying in a lodge and cooking its own food. The cost for the weekend for non-skiers is $40.00. The cost for skiers is $98.00, which includes lodging, ski rental and ski lift tickets.

The group will be leaving Silverton on the afternoon of Friday, February 2, after school is out, and will be returning to Silverton Sunday evening. They plan to ski Sunday morning and return home in the afternoon.

January "Texas Highways" Offers Guide to Bird Watching

Each year, millions of birds grace the skyways of Texas. The Lone Star State hosts more species than any other state or province in North America and bird watchers from around the world flock here to enjoy the variety and abundance of birds.

The January issue of "Texas Highways" magazine features part one of a two-part series on Texas birds that takes readers on a personal guided tour of Texas bird-watching "hot spots" and introduces them to the common and unusual species that fill the Texas skies. A goose-like Black-bellied Whistling Duck adorns the cover of the magazine. Found in southern Texas, the duck feeds at night on aquatic vegetation and in grain fields. Inside the issue, spectacular photography presents glimpses of species that birders long to spot—the Hill Country's Golden-cheeked Warbler and Cave Swallow, Big Bend's Scrub Jay and Burrowing Owl, and the Gulf Coast's Roseate Spoonbill and Great Blue Heron.

Through this 16-page article, readers can sight the endangered Whooping Crane at Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, the colorful Green Jay, Altamira Oriole and Plain Chachalaca in the Rio Grande Valley, and the Pileated Woodpecker and Wood Thrush of the East Texas forests.

Birds remain plentiful year-round, since warm-weather species nest in Texas and northern ones winter here or pass through on spring and fall migration flights. The magazine's "hot spot" map can help birders find the perfect perch from which to spot favorite feathered friends.

Also in the January issue, readers learn about San Antonio's Fairmount Hotel, built in 1906. In disrepair for a number of years, the structure was rolled

$1.2 Million Alloted for Foreign Market Development

The Texas Beef Industry Council (TBIC) board of directors December 6 approved spending more than a million dollars in 1990 to spur demand for U. S.-produced beef in Mexico, Japan, Korea and both eastern and western Europe.

The total of $1,233,000 is the largest amount ever spent by one state's beef industry council to develop foreign markets.

The funds will be administered by the U. S. Meat Export Federation, a trade group that represents the U. S. meat industry in international market development. TBIC's contribution will be supplemented by $2,418,200 from additional industry funds, USDA's Targeted Export Assistance (TEA) program, and overseas third party contributions. The total budget will be $3,651,200.

Because of the additional funding, each dollar of the Texas beef industry's contribution will have the impact of three dollars.

"In Texas, beef is big business," Clark Willingham, TBIC president-elect, said in announcing the board's action at a press conference held in Austin. "As the largest beef producing state in the nation, our industry realizes that the world has to be our market. The lessening of trade and political barriers opens the door for many new opportunities. At the same time, the rest of the world now can share in the great taste and nutrition of our premium product."

In approving the budget, the TBIC board allocated lump sums for each country to fund a series of activities.

The largest fund allocation of $523,000 will help strengthen and develop markets in Mexico, a country that has ancient ties to the Texas beef industry. The money will help promote beef consumption in Mexico and encourage a stronger trade of live cattle between Mexican and Texas producers. The industry will also place a fulltime marketing director in Mexico to administer U. S. programs that will range from a market study to promotion of U. S. beef for Mexico's booming tourist trade.

A total of $340,000 will help fund six programs to educate the Japanese about U. S. beef. Willingham said this is an important expenditure because Japan is liberalizing its market. In addition, $50,000 will help conduct a market study in Korea, a new but growing customer for U. S. beef.

The board also approved $265,000 for Europe. Most of these dollars will go toward educating consumers within the European Economic Community about the wholesomeness and quality of American-produced beef. However, $40,000 will explore the potential of meat markets in the eastern bloc Communist countries. These had been considered closed to the U. S. beef trade until recently.

Finally, $55,000 has been budgeted to make preparations in this country for visits of foreign trade teams.

The approval of the budget was praised by Bruce Berven, MEF vice president of industry relations.

"This proposal will allow the U. S. beef industry, through MEF-conducted activities, to move forward and be positioned in a competitive stance," Berven said. "The Texas beef checkoff funding will allow MEF to escalate its promotional efforts abroad and continue this momentum in the critical years ahead."

The funds budgeted by the TBIC board includes no current checkoff dollars. They came from a special escrow account set aside for refunds prior to the checkoff referendum in May 1988. When beef producers voted to make the program permanent, fewer beef producers than projected requested refunds. As a result TBIC had $1 million in an interest-bearing account.

"We considered investing this money in several projects," Willingham said, "but of all of them, foreign market development made the most sense. Establishing reliable foreign markets for our product will help our industry for years to come."

Willingham said beef exports contribute to a stronger domestic market for U. S. cattle producers. Exports in 1988 contributed $6.80 per hundredweight to the value of U. S. beef cattle, or about $75 per head. The gain to the entire industry was approximately $1.5 billion.

John Francis Family Enjoys Happy Christmas

Once again, the John Francis family's Christmas holidays were made a happy occasion by the presence of all their children. The holiday began with the arrival of their son, Dave, on Friday afternoon of December 22, with Delton and Rose Fisher, brother-in-law and sister of Maebelle, arriving later in the evening. They all traveled to Amarillo the next day to attend the Alva Davis family's annual get-together which was hosted by Corky and Doris Davis. The day was spent laughing, eating and "Grammy and Pop" were asked to bring the entertainment.

Christmas Eve night turned out to be a comfortable evening, following the severe cold earlier in the week, so John, Maebelle and Dave decided to go caroling. What they considered may have been "endurement" for their recipients gave the Francis much joy.

The Gary House and James Johnson families arrived Christmas Day. Turkey, dressing and all the trimmings were served at 5:00 p.m. Before the exchange of gifts, there was a candlelight ceremony with each family giving the Baby Jesus a spiritual gift, which ended with the singing of "Silent Night." Following was a night filled with many oohs and aahs, more eating and lots of visiting, after which the House family returned home.

Tuesday, Dave had to return to his home, with the Johnson family deciding to remain a few more days since James was to preach at Rock Creek Church of Christ the following Sunday.

Prayer and Share Sisters Meet In Francis Home

John and Maebelle Francis hosted a Christmas Party for the Prayer and Share Sisters and their husbands on Thursday, December 14. Each couple brought a homemade necklace and tie made from old Christmas decorations for the gift exchange. If you've never seen an "edible man's tie" you've missed something!

Those present and taking part in a delightful, fun-filled evening were Mr. and Mrs. Elton Cantwell, J. D. Nance, Wayland Fitzgerald, Ted Hancock, Mr. Earl Cantwell, Mrs. Nina Martin and the hosts.

ways. We probably do not attend church services to gain new information, but more to reinforce the values and concepts already learned and how to better apply these to our lives.

"If we rest, we rust" has been said of our physical bodies, but the same is true of our mental abilities. The mind should be constantly stimulated. Adults need to read newspapers and books, attend seminars and educational programs, take college courses, watch educational TV shows, talk with other people who are mentally stimulating, and most of all, keep an open mind to new ideas. Don't you love to be around people who have a positive attitude about learning something new no matter how old they are?

The more we learn about other people and ways of doing things, the more information we will have to apply to making our lives better.

One final benefit of continuing to learn throughout life is that we set an EXAMPLE for our young people. When children see that adults still WANT to learn and ENJOY learning, they will likely see learning in a more positive way.

As we enter 1990 and a new decade, I challenge each person in Briscoe County and all the readers of this newspaper to take a more positive approach to adult learning. Resolve to expose yourself to one new idea each week. If we rid our minds of the "we've-always-done-it-this-way - and-I-don't-see-any-reason-to-change-it-now" attitude, we can have a positive impact on our own lives as well as on our families and communities.

The Extension Service has been in existence for 75 years to "diffuse useful and practical information to adults" and to help adults learn. The original mission is still the same, but the Extension Service has changed its methods and information to meet changing times and needs of the people. As an Extension educator, I hope you will take advantage of our programs during 1990, and become involved in the process of identifying specific needs in our county. LEARNING IS A LIFELONG PROCESS.

LIFELONG LEARNING

When I am asked WHY I enroll in another class, my answer is that I never want to stop learning.

The concept of "lifelong learning" is not new, but it is even more important today with our constantly multiplying amount of information. Many people look forward to graduation as the end of their learning process, yet it is actually the beginning—the time when they begin to apply the concepts they have acquired.

We are told that much of the information today's college students are taught will be obsolete by the time they graduate. So why go to college? To learn how to learn.

We cannot cease to learn, to change, to grow, or to see things in new ways. Individuals, families, organizations, governments, and nations that refuse to seek new ideas, adopt new ways and try new methods will stagnate and fail to meet the needs of those they serve.

Learning is not only gathering new facts and information, but gaining a different perspective or applying information in new

4-H Clover Club To Meet Monday

4-H Clover Club will have its regular January meeting on Monday, January 8, at 4:30 p.m. in the Pioneer Room at First State Bank in Silverton.

The 4-H Clover Club is for boys and girls in the third through fifth grades without regard to socioeconomic level, race, color, religion, handicap or national origin.

Program for Monday's meeting will be a film on Cal Farley's Boys Ranch featuring Dale Robertson. From the Ranch's founding to the addition of Girlstown USA, the story of raising youngsters in need is told within this new film.

Completed during the Ranch's 50th anniversary, the 22-minute film illustrates Cal Farley's dream of helping troubled boys in 1939. After the motion picture "Boys Ranch" was filmed in 1945, national awareness helped build the Ranch into the present home for 400 boys. After the deaths of Cal and Mimi Farley in 1967, their work continued under a volunteer board of directors who expanded opportunities to Girlstown in 1987.

The new film, "A Shirttail To Hang Onto," is especially heartwarming with Dale Robertson's personal touch. Although personal visits are the best means of seeing the Ranch and Girlstown, the next best thing is an enjoyable video tour with Dale Robertson accompanied by a lot of enthusiastic young stars.

Parents and friends of 4-H members are invited to attend this meeting.

SOCIAL SECURITY IN BRISCOE COUNTY

by Mary Jane Shanes

To protect their social security earnings records, people are urged to compare the name and number on their social security cards with the name and number on their pay stubs in December, and the Form W-2 they receive in January. The name and number should be exactly the same.

If the person discovers that the social security number on his or her pay stub is different than that on his or her social security card, he or she should ask the employer immediately to correct the wage records. If the social security card is incorrect, he or she should contact social security to correct the record.

Many people do not realize that the Form W-2 is the primary means of reporting their earnings to their social security earnings record. Each year, earnings are credited to records by matching the number and name on the Form W-2. A misplaced digit or letter can make a difference, and social security is forced to spend about $2 million attempting to reconcile the reports to the proper earnings records. In some cases, because an incorrect name or number does not match, the earnings cannot be credited.

The social security number is the key to a worker's lifetime earnings record on which eligibility for, and benefit amounts are based. In general, the greater the earnings, the higher the benefit amount.

People should check the earnings credited to their social security earnings record at least once every three years. A form can be obtained from any social security office for this purpose.

There's an old saying that "blue eyes belong to leaders and brown eyes to dreamers..." We can't tell the color of this child's eyes from her picture, but they look a great deal like the eyes of rich wisdom.

Wisdom comes to most of us only after many years of struggle and growth. And even when we feel a bit wiser, we soon realize that there is always much more to learn — that, in truth, learning is a life-long process.

But whatever age and degree of wisdom we may attain, our need for a changeless source of inspiration remains the same. Within your place of worship you will find a power of truth founded on eternal love and maintained by divine wisdom. On such, character is built and wisdom enhanced.

Draw new courage and hope from the wellspring of knowledge that makes men free. Worship this week!

Garlic contains potassium, phosphorus, a significant amount of B and C vitamins, as well as calcium and protein. It's generally accepted that garlic acts as a diuretic, stimulant, expectorant, and sweat promoter. For centuries, it has been a common European remedy for colds, coughs and sore throats. European physicians have reported that garlic has two outstanding medical properties. One is that it tends to open up blood vessels and reduce blood pressure in hypertensive patients. The other property is antibiotic, and several researchers have found that garlic in large amounts can be effective against bacteria that may be resistant to other antibiotics. The addition of parsley and chlorophyll helps remove the aroma of this natural herb wonder, leaving no after-taste or bad breath. Contains no preservatives, no artificial color or flavor, no sugar and no starch.
