

Patriotic Rally Planned Here Sunday, February 24

There will be a Patriotic Rally to show support for the men and women in the armed services at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, February 24, at the group shelter on the courthouse yard in Silverton.

This program also will show support for the leaders of this nation at this difficult time in its history.

The country has a minority of negative voices that needs to be countered with voices of the positive majority. Military leaders in Iraq need to see a united effort in this country, rather than the demonstrations of the minority.

Please join your friends and neighbors at the shelter on the courthouse yard (weather permitting) or at the showbarn in case of inclement weather. All Briscoe County residents are urged to be present to show your support.

Caprock Tours Being Formed to Benefit County Visitors

A new enterprise is underway in Briscoe County. Caprock Tours has been formed to offer entertainment packages to visitors. The company buses will carry passengers to the exciting sites in the area where fascinating stories of the heritage will be shared along the way. At start up, the prospects for the future look very bright for Caprock Tours. The Texas Travel Bureau, regional travel agents, and motel chains have expressed keen interest.

Four basic tours will be offered. These include the Culture Circuit, Ranching Heritage, Indian Legacy, and a Two-Day Visit. Points of interest which will be featured are the fascinating Caprock Canyon lands, Lake Mackenzie, Caprock Canyons State Park, the historic Briscoe County Jail, Quitaque's Sidewalk Museum, the JA Ranch Headquarters, the Lowe House, the Bob Wills Museum, Hotel Turkey, the Valley of Tears, and many more.

This business provides immediate part-time employment for four people with substantial growth expected. Bus driver/tour guides and caterers are prepared to serve groups of 20 to 50 persons on a routine basis. Larger Marsha and Perry Brunson (left) and Coach Clyde Parham (right) were present on Wednesday evening of last week when Bradley Brunson signed a letter of intent to play football at Eastern New Mexico University. Wednesday was national college signing day, and ENMU was successful in getting commitments from several highly-regarded athletes in the Panhandle of Texas.

Owls Going Into Bi-District Game!

Silverton's Owls will be going into the post-season playoffs for the second time this year, this time as their basketball district's runner-up team.

The Owls now advance to the bidistrict round of play, where they are scheduled to play Farwell on February 22 at Plainview High School. Time of the game had not been set at this writing

The Owls moved into a second-place tie with the Valley Patriots last week by virtue of their victory over Hedley, and the playoff was held in the Clarendon College gym Tuesday night. The Owls emerged victorious, 51-48, from the hard-fought game.

The Owls led at the end of all quarters except the third when they trailed by a point.

Leading the offense were Bradley Brunson with 23 big points and Wayne Henderson who put 12 points into the baskets.

In their first meeting this year, Brunson was out of action with a sprained ankle. The second time the two teams played, the score was close at the midway stop but the Owls pulled away in the second half to take one of their biggest victories of the season.

Both the Owls and Owlettes had ended their regular schedules with 4-4 district records.

Social Security In Briscoe County

by Mary Jane Shanes

EMPLOYERS CAN AVOID COMMON ERRORS

Mistakes made by employers in reporting their employees' wages cause processing delays for Social Security and could eventually affect benefit

Many of the errors could easily be avoided. According to Social Security records, the most common errors are:

•Leaving out the Employer Identification Number (EIN) or using an invalid number.

Omitting an employee's name or reporting a name which doesn't match the employee's Social Security Card.

• Failure to submit wage reports. Some employers that go out of business during the year don't supply W-2 information about their employees.

•Submitting duplicate reports—one on paper and one on magnetic media.

• Failure to balance individual wage reports with summary totals sent to Social Security or with quarterly wage reports sent to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

•Sending wage reports to the wrong government agency. Some employers send reports to the State or to IRS, instead of to Social Security.

•Submitting reports that can't be processed by machine because they are formatted incorrectly.

Employees can check their Social Security record to be sure all their employers reported their wages correctly by sending for a "Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement." The request forms are available by calling Social Security at 1-800-2345-SSA (1-800-234-5772). Or, if they wish, people can write or go to their nearest Social Security office.

Employers who have questions can also contact us. We'll be glad to answer their questions.

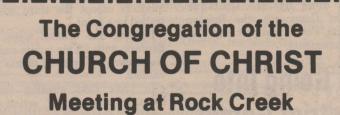

Good executives never put off until tomorrow what they can get someone else to do today.

SPS and the Clean Air Act

Southwestern Public Service Company will see future electric rates

> Laundry & Dry Cleaning Pickup Days: TUESDAYS & FRIDAYS

affected by the federal Clean Air Act, but much less so than consumers in other parts of the country because SPS's power plants already are among the cleanest in the nation, said Bill Helton, SPS president and chief executive officer.

SPS has just completed a preliminary information on SPS and the new law: SPS Plants Among Top 20% Cleanest

SPS has established a strong record of being an advocate for a clean environment. The service area is SPS's permanent business home, and this environmental tradition is important to the company. SPS is committed to ensuring that its present and future facilities meet or are better than applicable environmental standards.

The company's modern, coal-fired power plants are among the top 20% cleanest in the nation. If all coal-fired plants had sulfur emissions as low as SPS's, the national sulfur-reduction goals found in the new federal Clean Air Act already would be met.

utilizing low-sulfur western coal and innovative air-quality-control devices known as baghouses at its coal-fired power plants.

Assessment of the Act

American consumers will pay enormous amounts to fund the act and yet not receive proportionate benefits in terms of a cleaner environment; however, the law does recognize that many western power plants, such as those owned by SPS, operate with low emission rates and treats them accordingly under new standards.

The Clean Air Act has 11 sections, or "Titles", ranging from Nonattainment (Title I) to Acid Rain (Title IV) to Job Displacement Provisions (Title XI). Primarily, it is the Acid Rain section that affects SPS customers; it contains two phases.

Phase I begins in 1995 and primarily affects "dirty" power plants. Phase II begins in 2000 and will further restrict emissions at traditionally clean plants, such as those operated by SPS.

The Bush administration estimates the new law will cost from $22 billion to $25 billion a year, while private industry estimates the bill will run somewhere between $30 billion and $50 billion a year. Residents of the SPS service area will pay part of this in the form of higher costs for many types of products, including electricity. Yet this area already enjoys clean air and a healthy environment.

SPS believes its customers and other Americans would have been better served had Congress considered the results of the 10-year, $500 million Acid Precipitation National Assessment Program study on acid rain before passing the act. As a result, much of the Clean Air Act was based on political expediency rather than scientific fact.

Conference Bill More Reasonable However, the anticipated effect of the newly-passed Clean Air Act will be less severe on SPS customers than earlier versions of the bill. Through the aggressive efforts of SPS and other electric companies, trade associations, economic-development coalitions and various concerned congressmen, some extreme proposals of earlier versions of the Clean Air Amendments were moderated before final passage of the conference bill.

Significantly improved proposals were ultimately approved for power plants located in the "Clean States." These are mainly western states that contain plants that have operated at much cleaner standards than plants in the East and Midwest. SPS plants are considered among the "clean" plants.

The conference bill added 20% more emission allowances for clean plants. This benefit was in recognition of the fact that these clean plants already operate with very low emissions.

Fortunately, the conference bill does not contain an electricity tax that, in effect, would have forced SPS customers to pay a fee to clean up plants in other parts of the country.

Effects on SPS Customers

SPS estimated that prior versions of the Clean Air Act would have caused customers to pay about 7% more for electricity. Now the company estimates it will have to raise rates about 2%, or approximately $15 million, in 10 years to pay for additional air-quality-control equipment required for Phase II in the year 2000. This could include the cost of the installation and operation of a "scrubber" on one unit at Tolk Station.

The bill also will require SPS to obtain additional permits under the Permits section (Title V) starting in 1995 and to pay new fees. (Current fees and taxes also will continue in effect.) Estimates are that these new permitrelated expenses will increase costs about $300,000 a year.

Harris to Head Texas ASCS; Panel Members Reappointed

Jerry D. Harris, a cotton and grain sorghum farmer in Dawson and Gaines Counties, has been named to a sixth term as chairman of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee, U.S. Senator Phil Gramm has announced.

Agriculture Secretary Clayton Yeutter also named Mrs. Hope Huffman of McGregor to her second one-year term on the panel and reappointed veteran ASCS committee members Dale Hunt of Garwood, D. V. Guerra, jr. of Edinburg, and Keith Spears of Vernon.

These five leaders bring a wealth of practical background in agriculture to ASCS. Jerry Harris has established an impressive record, combining years of experience as both a family farmer and a federal program administrator," the senator said. "Hope Huffman, Dale Hunt, D. V. Guerra, and Keith Spears all have done remarkable work in helping to lead the ASCS and I am pleased that they have agreed to continue their service to Texas and America.'

Harris is active in cotton ginning, warehousing and marketing, as well as operating a 7,000-acre family farm and continuing service on the board of governors of Lubbock Christian University.

He also is a member of the National Cotton Council, the Lamesa Cotton Growers, the Texas Food and Fiber Protein Commission and the Texas Cotton Ginners.

Mrs. Huffman raises row crops, grain and beef stocker cattle in McLennan and Coryell Counties. She is a member of the Texas Farm Bureau's Labor Advisory Committee and is active in both the McLennan COunty Farm Bureau and the Waco Chamber of Commerce's Agricultural Committee.

Hunt is a recognized national leader in the rice industry. He has served on the National Commission on Agricultural Trade and Export Policy and as president of the Texas Rice Research Foundation.

Guerra, active in soil and water conservation in South Texas, is an expert in livestock production. He has served on the Governor's Task Force on Rural Development and Texas A&M University to promote agricultural interests. He was named "Man of the Year in Agriculture" by the Texas County Agricultural Association.

Spears is a leader in the wheat industry. He has served as vice chairman of the Texas Wheat Producers' Board and as a member of the U.S. Wheat Associates Board.

The five-member panel oversees activities of the ASCS organization throughout Texas, including administration of federal farm programs in Texas.

Texas ASCS employs a staff of 1,400 and supervises the distribution of more than $1.5 billion in federal farm program benefits to the farmers and ranchers of Texas every year.

Windbreak trees showing drip watering system.

Drip Irrigation Saves Labor, Time and Water

There's no better, cheaper or easier way to water trees than with a drip irrigation system, says Matt Kast of the Soil Conservation Service. Drip systems use a small amount of water and apply it near the base of the tree where it is most needed. With drip irrigation only 1/3 as much water will be used resulting in lower water bills. The savings could be as much as 50%.

Adequate water is a must for trees in the Texas panhandle, especially for seedlings. The SCS recommends eight gallons per week for one-year-old seedlings, 16 gallons per week for twoyear-old plants, and 30 gallons per week thereafter. Drip systems are the easiest and most efficient way to provide this water. The water is applied slowly allowing the ground to become saturated without a lot of runoff.

Drip systems are relatively cheap and easy to install. They can be placed above or below ground. Once the system is installed, only a minimum amount of maintenance time is required.

The Soil Conservation Service will be happy to design a drip irrigation system for your yard or windbreak. Drip systems also are available for gardens. For additional information, stop by the Soil Conservation office.

Programs and services of Soil Conservation Service are offered on a nondiscriminatory basis without regard for race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, marital status, or handicap.

Cottonseed Produces Healthy High-Quality Cooking Oil

Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, a farmerowned cooperative in Lubbock, is producing cooking oil for sale to restaurants and institutions. Plains has started bottling cottonseed cooking oil in 35-pound containers for sale in institutional markets.

This high-quality cooking oil is used throughout the United States in the snack food and high-volume food preparation industries. Cottonseed oil is on the American Heart Association's list of "Good Oils" and has no cholesterol. In the cooker, cottonseed oil is one of the most stable oils with a high level of natural antioxidants (Vitamin E) which gives it long life. Cottonseed oil will not cover up or change the flavor of foods. "With all these favorable characteristics, and it being a locally-produced product, everyone in the food industry of West Texas should be using it," stated Gary Cobb, bice president of sales for Plains.

Plains is offering this product to the local food industries in the 35-pound containers. Wayne Martin, president of Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, stated, "We are pleased to offer a high-quality local product to the restaurants and institutions of this area."

Anyone interested in using this highquality cooking oil should ask their food distributor for Plainsman Brand 100% cottonseed oil. The next restaurant, school or hospital you go into, ask "Do you cook with 100% cottonseed oil?"

Three Briscoe County Youth Entered in Calf Scramble Activities

Three youth from Briscoe County will compete in the 1991 Houston Rodeo calf scrambles in the Astrodome during the Houston Livestock Show and Wil T Bomar will represent the Silverton FFA, while Langdon Reagan and Josh Brooks will represent Briscoe County 4-H in the scrambles.

The calf scrambles are an exciting part of Houston rodeo action, featuring Charley Pride as part of that evening performance.

The three young men will compete for the 252 calves to be awarded at the 1991 Show.

Additionally, as many as two youngsters from each of the 18 rodeo performances will be awarded "hard luck" certificates for their hearty efforts in attempting to catch a calf, resulting in 36 more certificates actually given.

An entertaining event whose net provide proceeds educational contributions to Texas students, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo ranks as the nation's largest donor of agricultural scholarships. Currently, more than 1,000 students are on Showsponsored scholarships. The Show's educational commitment for the 1990-91 school year exceeds $2 million.

Equally important is the Show's commitment to youngsters competing at the event itself. The calf scramble is one of the Show's major programs benefiting youth, requiring a year-long commitment from the winner to the animal project.

Beginning with athletic competition in the Astrodome, the program ends 12 months later with top-notch competition in the Astrohall showring.

The actual calf scramble event involves 28 energetic youngsters pitted against 14 vigorous calves. Each youngster is committed to capturing a calf, haltering and bringing it to the finish line—but only the successful ones receive $800 calf purchase certificates.

The certificate, donated by a generous sponsoring firm or individual, is used to purchase a purebred registered beef or dairy heifer. This year, several companies have strengthened their commitment to the calf scramble program by sponsoring a calf for each of the 18 rodeo performances.

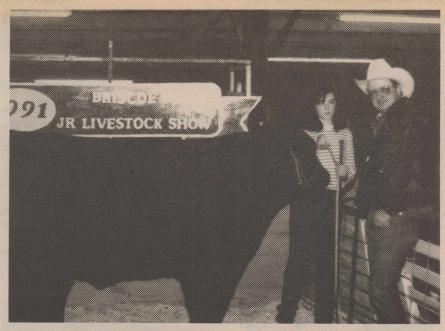

The calf is raised by the winner for special show-ring competition in the Astrohall at the following year's Show. The year-long project is closely supervised by the appropriate county extension agent or agricultural science

Additionally, the winners are required to submit financial records, photographs and a scrapbook to the calf scramble office to detail the progress of the venture. The youngsters are encouraged to provide updated reports to their sponsors as well.

Proper livestock evaluation techniques, efficient cattle feeding and production methods, principles in economics and money management all are realistic learning experiences for the youngsters who manage to get a firm hold on a calf.

To date, the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo calf scramble has put 11,813 animals valued at more than $2.6 million into the hands of Texas youth.

The same amount of sweetening tastes sweeter at higher temperatures.

FFA, 4-H Members Entered in Houston Livestock Competition

Twenty Briscoe County 4-H members and fifteen members of the Silverton FFA have entered livestock for showring competition at the upcoming Houston Livestock Show which will be held February 16 through March 3 at the Astrohall.

These 4-H and FFA exhibitors compete in one of two divisions of the Houston Livestock Show's junior division. The other division, the open show, attracts its exhibitors from the world's agricultural industry, primarily professional breeders and ranchers.

Entries in both the open and junior shows combine with horse show entries to make the Houston Livestock Show the world's largest.

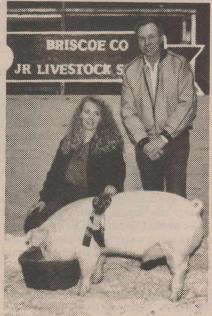

Briscoe County 4-H Club members who have sent entries to the Houston show are Zac Baldwin, Charlie Bomar, Molly Bomar, Jeremiah Brooks, Josh Brooks, Molly Brooks, Lacy Brunson, Cy Comer, Lisa Comer, Miles Comer, George Pigg, Briana Sperry, Will Sperry, Shannon Weaver, Kenda Wood and Leland Wood, each of whom entered a market barrow; Lance Bradford and Christa Tucker, each of whom entered a market lamb; Josh Brooks and Langdon Reagan, one beef heifer each; Brandi Brunson, a market

Members of Silverton FFA who sent entries to Houston are Monica Arnold, Wil T Bomar, Lance Bradford, Stan Gamble, Carrie Ann Grabbe, Dustin Martin, Frank Ramirez, jr., Langdon Reagan, JoDee Robison and Braden Towe, each of whom entered a market

Representing 862 Texas 4-H clubs and FFA chapters, the junior show is expected to exceed 13,000 entries this year. A variety of animals are show in the junior division, including market steers, market swine, market sheep, market poultry, beef and dairy heifers, breeding sheep, goats, commercial steers and breeding rabbits.

The four market animal categories represent animals raised by the exhibitor as food sources. Top animals in each of these categories are eligible for their individual market auctions. Total money paid in 1990 at the four junior show auctions exceeded $2.7

"The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo is committed to benefiting youth and supporting education. We feel we accomplish these goals through the active role we take in supporting the second week of livestock competition,

YOUR FAITH CAN HELP YOU OVERCOME YOUR BAD HABITS

Because of the stresses of your hectic life, like many of us you may have fallen into the trap of smoking, alcohol or some other substance, and weren't even aware that you had become addicted. This can jeopardize your job, your marriage, your health, and even your life and the lives of others, besides being a big waste of money and a terrible example for your children. But take heart, you can quit if you really want to. Go to a treatment center if you like, but perhaps you don't really need one. It will be hard at first, but it will get easier. Just keep busy, and think of how nice it will be to get rid of that dependency. Also, turn to your House of Worship. It can be a real source of help in straightening out your life.

Ill habits gather by unseen degrees -As brooks make rivers, rivers run to seas. -John Dryden

Lost & Found

REWARD FOR RETURN OF MY Badge. Last seen at the Weaver fire. Dick Roehr.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: The persons who took the cow skulls from my garage Friday morning at 3:34 a.m. had better bring them back in good condition or charges will be filed against you in six days from the date of this ad. I saw your car and the person who took the skulls. Save yourself some trouble. This is not a joke. Mark Eddleman.

> Love, Bud and Glenda

I would like to thank each individual and business that donated their time and money to make our Silverton Livestock Show a success and Tulia Wheat Growers and the Silverton Buyer's Club for buying my pigs in the sale. I would like to give a special thanks to Toby and Tracy Miller for coming and helping everyone and to the people who chose me as recipient of the Don Burson Memorial Award. My last year as a Silverton FFA exhibitor was made truly special by being presented with the award.

Thanks again, Carrie Ann
