Winter Weather Again Over Entire Area

Winter weather again swept in to the area Saturday after two days of sunshine. Late Saturday afternoon a thunder shower covered the area, accompanied with much small hail falling for about 30 minutes. No damage was reported and .36 inch of moisture was gauged by Fred Byerly.

Sunday morning the ground was covered by light snow, falling during Saturday night. Freezing temperature prevailed during the day and about noon light snow started falling, which continued constantly until late Monday night. Most citizens cannot remember snow falling here for two days and nights before. Byerly gauged the snow at 5 inches with .48 inch of moisture.

No serious accidents were reported, as traffic moved slow. Streets and sidewalks were very slick through Tuesday morning, but bright, warm sunshine Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons had melted most of the snow off all side streets. But yards and fields were still covered.

The City had all heavy equipment and regular men at work Tuesday afternoon clearing main street and sidewalks. This was the first time in history of Rotan this was necessary. It was a splendid move as with tractor loader and dump trucks most of the snow was hauled from the street during the afternoon.

Although this seige was disagreeable, it further adds to the splendid season already in the soil.

Conservation Stamp Released Feb. 2

Conservation leaders here are looking forward to issuance of the world's first range conservation postage stamp by the Post Office Department in Salt Lake City, Utah, C. C. Roach said today.

The commemorative 4-cent stamp, printed in 3 colors, will be issued February 2 at the American Society of Range Management's annual meeting at Salt Lake City.

The stamp will go on sale at the post office here on February 6, 1961.

The stamp is in two parts. One part is a reproduction of the famous drawing, "Trail Boss", by Charles Russell, the distinguished artist of Western life. The other part shows a modern range conservation scene.

The new stamp, Roach said, symbolizes the development of range conservation from the pioneer days of the open range to today's scientific management techniques.

Those who are interested in a "first-day cover," a souvenir envelope, can mail addressed envelopes plus a money order or certified check for the number of stamps required to the postmaster at Salt Lake City, Utah, who will place the range conservation stamp on the envelopes, cancel with a special cancellation mark used only on that day and at that place, and mail as addressed anywhere in the country, Roach pointed out.

Program To Collect Discarded Eyeglasses

A program to be distributed among the needy of the world, through proper supervision, was started here this week. A receptacle with a placard reading, "Donate your Discarded Glasses so that others may See," has been placed at Ragsdale Drug.

The receptacle was placed in Ragsdale's before Christmas by Mrs. Roy Duckett of Sweetwater. Mr. Ragsdale reports near 100 glasses have been gathered to date, but many more are needed.

The glasses collected will be sent to New Eyes, Inc., Short Hills, N. J. where volunteer workers sort and test them. Then they are sent to underprivileged people over the world.

Work of the "New Eyes, Inc." is endorsed by the National Society, American Academy of Ophthalmology.

The work started in the mind of a Red Cross worker during the depression when she noted many of the applications for aid were from persons with poor vision. She began collecting discarded glasses. The president of a metal refinery in Newark, N. J. told her gold frames and old jewelry in quantity was valuable. She began collecting these too and from funds raised from the sale sent patients to oculists.

The Red Cross worker wrote articles and made broadcasts and the response was tremendous.

"New Eyes, Inc." at Short Hills, N. J., has only one salaried worker, a secretary. Seventy-five volunteer workers do the sorting and testing on the glasses donated.

Mrs. Luther Jackson of 302 Beall Street, Sweetwater, read of the famous "New Eyes for the Needy, Inc.," and is aiding the program by arranging collecting stations in Sweetwater and soliciting the help of all in this section of West Texas.

If you have discarded eyeglasses won't you please donate them to this very notable and helpful program? By this simple act you may restore opportunity to some individual.

Motor Vehicle Registration Starts

February-March is the renewal period for motor vehicle license plates in Texas announced State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer today.

Texans will notice a newly designed license plate for 1961. A different style of letters and numerals have been used to make the plate more readable from a distance. Black letters and numerals on a white background is the color scheme for 1961.

A new numbering system will be used for some classifications such as trailers, truck tractors and buses. These classifications will have a one-letter prefix with from two-to-five digit numerals. For example: A trailer number could be A-10 or A-123-45. The numbering system for other classifications will remain the same as 1960. The change in the system was brought about by the ever increasing number of registered vehicles in Texas.

The Texas Highway Department estimated that vehicle registration in Texas for 1960 will total 4,800,000. This places Texas third in the nation in registered vehicles following California and New York.

"Texas should reach the seven-million mark by the end of this decade," Greer said. "There are more vehicles in Texas today than there were in Texas in 1920 and the percent of increase in motor vehicles in Texas in the last four decades is twenty times the percent of increase in population. There are two Texans for every Texas-registered motor vehicle."

Greer stressed the importance of registering all automobiles and trucks in the county of the vehicle owner's residence.

"Do not ask the County Tax Collector to violate the law. He is required to demand to see your certificate of title and 1960 license receipt before he can issue your 1961 plates."

The penalty for operating a vehicle without home-county license plates is the same as operating a vehicle with no plates at all. Court fine can be as much as $200, plus being required to register in the home county with a 20 percent penalty of the annual fee. Refunds cannot be granted for the illegal plates.

Owners registering illegally in 1961 can expect to face court charges.

"Don't risk an illegal registration," Greer urged. "Remember, too, that a portion of all registration fees stays in your home county to benefit your local community."

Rotan Flower Shop and Nursery

On Their 5th Anniversary

Rotan is fortunate in having a Nursery and Flower Shop such as this. It is a real asset, as in addition to having ample stocks for customers, this business draws patrons from a large area to Rotan.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dycus purchased the Flower Shop in 1956, on the south side of main street. They immediately began adding to stocks and modernizing the business, which increased to the point where more space was necessary. In 1959 they purchased their present building and remodeled this into a modern Flower Shop.

In 1959 the demand for Nursery Stock called for a hot house at their home, 809 E. Johnston. This proved very popular and this year they have just completed a completely new Nursery and home at East City Limits on Hamlin Hiway. On this 2-acre site they have a hot house of 1100 square feet. In this they handle Bedding plants, Vegetable and House Plants of all kinds. Large stock is maintained of Shrubs, Roses and Fruit, Nut and Shade Trees along with Landscaping Plants. Plans call for a green house in the near future to grow most flowers for the Flower Shop and retail trade.

Special equipment is maintained at Nursery for commercial spraying of Trees, Shrubs and Fertilizing.

The Flower Shop located at 105 E. Snyder Ave., carries a full line of Floral Merchandise including House Plants, Fresh Cut Flowers for Every Occasion. Also a nice line of Pottery of all types and Gift Goods.

'As It Looks From Here'

Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th Dist. Washington, D. C.—Almost without exception Federal "programs" start modestly. Almost without exception they take root and flourish into proportions not mentioned or advocated in the beginning. As Federal program expand, they, of course, become increasingly expensive.

In the last session of Congress the United States Senate passed a measure to create a Youth Conservation Corps, modeled on the old OCC of depression days. The House never considered it. Thus far in this Session no sentiment to revive this proposal has been manifested.

However, bills have now been introduced in both the House and the Senate to set up an agency for a program to be called "Youth Peace Corps."

The general idea seems to be a sort of Foreign Legion of young people armed with good intents to promote better understanding in under-developed areas of Asia, Africa and Latin America.

President Kennedy has received a report from a "Task Force" which recommends such a program under certain conditions. Evidently the proposal is receiving heavy support from a number of educators and students.

To the romantic and generous-hearted, distant misery is more attractive than misery in our own back yard. A ten minute walk from our Nation's Capitol will take one into the black ghettos of Northeast Washington. It is likely that those who wish to remake new nations and judge them by standards derived by our American experience have never set foot in the slums which exist in every city in the United States.

To attract young people for the sort of mission which it is understood they are to perform, would require a considerable degree of romanticism and zeal. (This latter quality might better be described as "eager beaver" as we used to say in the Navy.) At the same time, reports and advisors to President Kennedy warn against this type.

Be this as it may, one informed writer on the subject suggests that the young American idealists will be in for a severe shock to find that most of his counterparts in these "faraway places," to be completely indifferent to the conditions of suffering of their own countrymen. They are interested in freedom and all the good things we talk about, but the freedom they value is not that of the individual. The freedom they understand is that of political reshuffle which will give them authority over someone else, the best jobs in government, big houses, their own servants, and an automobile.

It would seem evident that if the trained diplomat could not present a clear and favorable image of America in the foreign nation to which he is assigned, it could hardly be expected that the inexperienced youth could better succeed.

Foreigners do things differently than we, and especially in backward ingrown, semi-primitive lands. It takes years in many places for an individual to be accepted and years to accomplish anything. Any experienced missionary will so testify. Our foreign representatives could perhaps do a much better job if they were not weighted down with directions from Washington to develop projects of doubtful value on which to spend American dollars.

As an alternative to the Youth Peace Corps idea, it would seem more wise to create a Foreign Service Academy, similar to our three Military Schools, to prepare those who wish to make a career in the foreign service.

Just in passing: "The man who is never strong against anything is seldom strong for anything."

Mr. and Mrs. Bub Perry and children (Bill and Susie) Lamprass and another daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Smith of Waco visited Mrs. Perry's mother, Mrs. W. W. Barron and children Mr. and Mrs. Mike Barron and Mrs. Jack Gray last week.

Rebekah Family Night Held Monday

The Rebekah lodge members had their family party in the lovely new home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dycus, Monday night, January 30. Games were enjoyed, and each man was given a needle and thread and a cup towel to hem, which proved to be quite comical.

Happy Birthday was sung to Mrs. M. F. Garland and a wonderful time was reported by all present.

The Rebekah Lodge meets each Monday night at 7:30 in the American Legion Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Petty and Laura Lynn of Abilene spent the weekend here with their parents.

MAKE

WORK FOR YOU

ELECTRICITY, probably more than any other source of energy, has been responsible for the high standards of living enjoyed by millions of Americans today. The nation is more productive, healthier, wealthier, and more secure—thanks in large part to the number of tasks electricity performs.

Today's people live longer because electricity accomplishes the labor that formerly drained their strength and impaired their health. Mass production would be impossible without electricity. At the touch of a button or switch, electricity goes to work in factories, homes, on farms, on the land, in the air, and under the sea—doing the work of millions of people and enabling millions more to enjoy more ease and convenience than ever before. In medicine and in science, electricity enables man to study areas as yet unexplored. Today's children can look forward to a future in which electricity will make even greater contributions to their health, comfort and security.

Electricity stands ready to do even more in the way of improving the world in which we live, whether it is the world of business, science, medicine, research, entertainment. Electricity is ready to create more jobs and whole new industries. It is ready to take on increased tasks on the job, in homes, on farms and in factories. Electricity and its abilities are boundless—they need only to be called upon to serve. This is the electrical industry's message during National Electrical Week, a message to its own employees and to the public: MAKE ELECTRICITY WORK FOR YOU.

NEWS from your
  County ***
 Agricultural Agent
 Texas A. & M. College
 Extension Service

The way the weather looked the first of the week, it was too early to make plans for a garden. But according to Blueford Hancock, Texas Extension horticulturist, it isn't too early; he says the home garden can make a real contribution to the family's diet and health as well as to our income.

Now is a good time to look the new seed catalogues over and make plans for this year's garden.

Available at our office for the asking is bulletin 70, Vegetable Gardening, which has an up to date section on recommended varieties and a planting guide.

This is a notice about a silage meeting we will be having February 21, at 7:30 p. m. in the Agriculture building on the Fair grounds in Roby.

P. T. Marion, superintendent of the Agriculture Experiment Station, at Spur will talk on varieties, harvesting and storing and the feeding of silage.

Thomas Hunter, area farm management specialist with the extension service, will present some figures dealing with a budget of an acre of silage and then a comparison of cost involving between custom harvesting and owning one's own forage harvester, to determine which would be the most economical.

In line with silage the following is some information on the forage sorghums. Though not as economically important as the grain sorghums, they are a major source of roughage for Texas livestock and dairy producers. Sorghum forage is produced in all forming areas of the state and in recent years, the total acreage has been slightly below 2 million. The annual production is near 2 million tons.

The forage sorghums produce roughage of excellent quality which may be stored as silage, bundles, hay or pellets. Cattle, sheep and horses make good use of these roughage when fed in combination with other feeds to produce meat, milk, wool and energy. Low-cost rations which produce high gains in the feedlot and utilizing sorghum forage have been developed.

Another and perhaps the most important use of forage sorghum is to provide a reserve supply of feed for winter maintenance and during droughts. When production is above average, the excess may be stored for later use.

In order that farmers and stockmen might have more information on these important roughage producers, J. R. Quinby and P. T. Marion, superintendents of Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations at Chillicothe and Spur, respectively, have authored, B-965, "Production and Feeding of Forage Sorghum in Texas."

The well-known research workers have prepared a publication which should be of interest to all stockmen who have experienced difficulties in producing enough roughage for their needs. Major divisions of the publication include forage sorghum culture, harvesting and storing, diseases and insects, varieties and hybrids, and feeding forage sorghum.

Copies of the publication are available from our office, either stop by and ask for one or drop us a card and we will be glad to mail you one.

The Fisher County 4-H Council will meet Saturday February 11, 1961, at 9:30 a. m. in the Agriculture Building in Roby.

Business will be to make plans for observance of National 4-H Week which is March 4-11, 1961 and elect delegates and alternates to District III 4-H council.

The annual Texas 4-H Club Roundup will be held June 6 and 7 at Texas A&M College. Program details are not yet available but will be announced well in advance of the June meeting, according to Extension Service officials.

Lotief Disagrees With Advance Cartoon

Please permit me to protest that cartoon you had on front page of your paper of January 26th. This cartoon had on it an image of school teacher with school kids on one side, and two men on the other side, representing Texas or Local Boards, and the Federal Board; and the teacher saying "I have only room for one". It means no room for Uncle Sam in School House. This leaves an impression that our government grants for public school construction, and to provide help for teacher's pay are not welcome. I can see no wrong for the federal aid at all. After all we paid our taxes to the government and so why not accept some of this money back, instead of giving it to other countries? This fight against federal grants to schools is nothing but cheap propoganda created by United States Chamber of Commerce in order to confuse the people and get them confused and angry at their government so us Texans can be forced to have general sales tax to provide money for schools and other government agencies in lieu of getting it from those most able to pay.

The most of us are already taxed to death.

Now lets see who and whom this Chamber of Commerce represents. Namely the Duponts, Big City Banks, Insurance groups, Standard Oil, General Motors and all other rich capitalists in America, charging high interest and always opposed to the laboring people--farmers, little small business, social welfare, medical aid for eldre citizens, etc. The United States Chamber has the largest lobbyist in Washington, as well as in Austin, preaching sales tax on everything we buy, in order to take that tax load off their clients back and put it on your shoulders. Conclusion, lets all keep the faith in our National Government and accept all help we can get for our schools. It is part of what we had paid in taxes.

Sincerely,
Cecil Lotief.

Hospital Care By Telephone

Each day a number of interesting or unusual communications problems crosses my desk. While this one didn't happen here in Rotan, I think you'll find it interesting, too.

The day after Thanksgiving, a young mother was hospitalized. She needed medication and complete rest. Everything went well until she began to miss her three little girls who were too young to visit her in the hospital. To make matters worse, she worried about not being able to do her Christmas shopping.

When the nurses discovered what was troubling her, they had a quick remedy. A phone was placed next to her bed. She talked with her children every day... and, what's more, did all of her Christmas shopping by telephone. It's stories and services like this that make it possible for us to advertise like this: "You name any communications need, Southwestern Bell has a service to meet it."

'Now Hear This ...'

Remember this old phrase made famous by the Navy? It was used to gain attention of crew members in all parts of the ship when new orders or instructions were communicated. When answers were required, all the crew members had to do was "speak up."

Now the folks in Rotan may have a similar communications system for the home. It's called the home interphone and offers many advantages to save time and needless steps. For instance you can talk from room to room, call people to the phone, even answer the door without leaving the room you're in.

Near each phone in the home is a small speaker which broadcasts the caller's voice. The person called can answer through a small microphone located in the base of the phone.

If you'd like more information about the home interphone, just call the telephone business office—or ask any telephone service man.

Keep An Open Line

Once in a while a child or a household pet will cause the receiver to be of the hook. When this happens the phone is automatically closed to all incoming calls.

To make sure there are no lost calls to your home, it's a good idea to occasionally check the phones in rooms where the children play.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.
