Poll To Pick Favorite Hymn Is Started

What is America's favorite hymn?

The Advance today joins Christian Herald, the nation's largest interdenominational Protestant magazine, and newspapers throughout the country, in a definitive survey to determine the hymns America loves best.

A preliminary hymn poll, conducted last year, ended in a controversy between church goers who favored "The Old Rugged Cross" and others who named the contemporary gospel song, "How Great Thou Art." The survey aims at settling the dispute.

The National Newspapers Hymn Poll is open to Americans of all denominations. There is no cost and nothing to buy.

Every reader of the Advance is invited to write the name of his favorite hymn or gospel song on the ballot printed in this issue. The Christian Herald will give each respondent the inspiring miniature book, "Hymn Thoughts for the Day" by Bill McVey, the Herald Singer. This attractive book contains favorite hymns and scripture reading for every day of the month.

The local hymn poll is an important part of the nationwide survey. The National Newspapers Hymn Poll is being conducted by newspapers in cities of all sizes in every state. Its purpose is to find out which hymns Americans everywhere enjoy singing and hearing—as well as to encourage hymn singing in homes and churches throughout the country.

Hymn singing has been a dynamic force for American family and community strength since colonial days. For some years after the end of World War II, however, interest in hymn singing declined. But as a result of Bill McVey's Christian Herald Hymn Revival Program, 1960 saw a tremendous revival of hymn singing in America.

We feel that the family that sings together lives in greater harmony. Hymns selected by readers of the Advance and other newspapers across the country in the National Newspapers Hymn Poll will be the religious songs that have had the greatest personal meaning to them since childhood.

Many people feel the old hymns best expressed their faith and directly portrayed the great stories of the Bible. Others believe the newer gospel songs with their strong melodies had greater appeal to modern American churchgoers.

This controversy is reflected in the popularity of "The Old Rugged Cross" and "How Great Thou Art."

Each vote submitted in the coast to coast survey will be tabulated by Audience Analysis, Inc., a leading independent research organization. The Advance will publish a list of favorites in this area and compare them with national results.

Mail your vote today, and you will receive "Hymn Thoughts For the Day" by Bill McVey.

Mrs. Phil Malouf received a card Sunday from Mrs. Flora Blount who is in Galveston for surgery. Her address is 811 Market St. Galveston. She is in John Sealy Hospital. Her many friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

Dry Weather This Week Aiding Crops

Dry, hot days has been the order for the past week on the weather picture, which is very welcome to farmers who have been kept out of fields by rainfall for several weeks. Crops had not been doing well during the prolonged rainy, cool spell, but the bright sunshine should change this.

Most of the area has had more rain than Rotan, where Fred Byerly gauged 3.21 inches thus far in July. His total for the year, to date is 16.02, which is drawing near the average rainfall for an entire year. Many years the average has been around 16 inches, but since the drought, average has been about 22 inches.

Former TRC Patients To Hold Reunion

Gonzales-Eight Fisher County people have been invited to attend the nation's most unusual reunion.

The reunion will be a gathering of former patients of the Texas Rehabilitation Center of Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation and will be held at the Center near Gonzales, Sunday August 13.

About 350 of the Center's former patients will return to TRC on that day to visit with their physically disabled friends and to share common experiences. It will be a strange looking homecoming, because many of those attending will be in wheelchairs or on crutches.

The first annual reunion was held five years ago when TRC former patients met at the Center to organize the United States' first former patients' association. The organization has as its goals benefiting its members, helping other physically disabled people, and supporting the program of the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation.

The people from Fisher County who have been invited to attend the reunion are Fred Stanley Neal and Glynne Neal, Trent; Donald Allen Morton, Ethel Parker and Willardene Parker, Roby; Ben Ramon, Esperanza Ramon and Jimmy Dale Robinson, Rotan.

Victor Canavespi of Bryan, president of the association and in a wheel chair because of paralysis of his legs, said, "Our big task is public education—telling our neighbors what we can do after rehabilitation and why they should support programs of rehabilitation for the physically disabled."

"There are more than 23,000 Texans who need physical rehabilitation. Add to this the fact that the Texas Rehabilitation Center is operating at half-capacity because of a lack of funds, and you'll realize the great need for rehabilitation in the state," he said.

Reflecting the Division's continuing success in 1961 retail sales is the attainment of Knudsen Trophies by more than 42% of the Pontiac dealer organization.

Bell Co. Ready To Use Satellites in Space Race

The Bell System stands ready to foot the bill to launch a communications satellite and give America another 'first' in the space race—if government agencies will give the go-ahead signal, said Don Fyffe, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company manager here.

Fyffe cited a recent statement by Frederick R. Kappel, American Telephone & Telegraph Company president, who said, "We have been ready to go ahead for a long time, and pay our costs as we go. We don't want the taxpayer's money. The first immediate need is a go-ahead to get experimental communications satellites aloft."

At stake for the American people because of present indecision in Washington is the possibility of the U. S. falling behind in the space communications field in which America took a clear lead with Project Echo, Fyffe said.

The problem of starting the program is being delayed by arguments over who will operate the system, how it will be organized and who will control it, Fyffe added.

The communications satellite system would be an extension of present overseas communications systems. The satellites would be relay stations in outer space, from which telephone and television signals can be bounced to all parts of the world.

"Ownership and operation of the system should be the responsibility of international common carriers—who have for many years been providing overseas communications," Fyffe said.

"Our sole interest in this matter is the earliest practicable establishment of a worldwide commercial satellite system, to supply communications service," he added.

Krappel spelled out the Bell System position regarding AT&T's participation. "I'd like to spike the notion that the telephone company is out to dominate this field. Nothing could be further from the truth. We are perfectly content to go along with the regulatory safeguards against favoritism domination."

"Space communications should be a joint venture involving American international common carriers, under public regulation, and communications agencies abroad. This puts the job right where it belongs—with the common carriers who are responsible to the public for good service," Kappel said.

For many years, the company has spent millions in research and development of communications, including world-wide telephone and television transmission, by communications satellites.

Deferred Grazing Is Being Practiced

The Upper Clear Fork Soil Conservation District cooperators carried out 62,485 acres of deferred grazing in that all livestock be kept off the pasture for a prescribed length of time. To realize any benefit from the deferred period a minimum of 3 months deferment is recommended. The purpose of deferred grazing is to promote natural revegetation of native rangeland by increasing the vigor of the desirable grasses as well as permitting the desirable grasses to produce seed. Deferred grazing in the spring and summer also provides a feed reserve for fall and winter grazing.

Also a full growing season of deferment is recommended for any rangeland which has received brush control, range reseeding or any range seeding.

When deferred grazing is mentioned a person may get the idea that it has to take in a one year period, but this is not the case at all. The following is the minimum recommended periods of deferment to realize an increase in vigor and cover of desirable grasses. The minimum periods of deferment are short grasses - 3 months, mid-grasses - 4 months and tall grasses - 5 months.

In a systematic deferred grazing program the carrying capacity of a ranch or pasture can be increased though the increase in desirable grasses. Also cost share payments may be received for deferred periods of 3, 6, 8, and 12 months by making application at the ASC office in Roby. There are however certain dates that deferment must be started to qualify for cost share. This information may be obtained from the AS office.

A few of the district cooperators carrying out deferred grazing last year are B. D. Brayn, W. B. Willingham, Jack McCain, W. T. Martin, Alice Cross, Robert Scott, Jr., and J. M. Lanning.

If more information is desired contact that local Soil Conservation Service technicians at the Rotan Soil Conservation Service office.

Cotton Insect Situation

Flea hopper populations increased alarmingly in a number of counties in the area according to this week's reports from County Agricultural Agents. Flea hoppers should be controlled when the population numbers and damage warrant it. This will permit cotton to set and hold sufficient numbers of small, early forms to insure maximum yield and quality cotton, according to James S. Norman, Fisher County Agricultural Agent.

Norman pointed out, that there are a number of factors other than flea hopper counts and damage which should be considered in deciding whether or not to control this pest. According to Norman, these factors include the number of squares and bolls already set on the plant, the potential yield of cotton in the particular field, underground moisture situation (on dryland), flea hopper population trend and time of season.

The cool, cloudy weather which has been common during the past week stimulated bollworm activity in many cotton fields, reported John G. Thomas, Extension Area Entomologist. The terminal growth of cotton should be examined frequently for the presence of small worms and eggs. Thomas added, and control should begin when 4 or 5 small worms and eggs are found per 100 terminals.

The insect situation here in the county is running fairly light. However in a few areas flea hoppers were increasing in numbers.

Agricultural Agent

Extension Service

Many Texas farmers can increase their net income by utilizing more fully presently known technology, according to Director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He said that farm families could increase their annual net income at least $190 million by using the most advanced technological and management practices. Hutchison's statement followed an evaluation of first-year results in Extension's intensified soil fertility program which was launched early in 1960.

Initially, 12 counties representing different major land resource areas were selected to participate in the pilot project. They included 4 counties on the High Plains, 3 on the Coast Prairie and 5 in Northeast Texas where both Blackland and sandy land were involved. Emphasis was given to crop production practices important to those areas. These included the use of fertilizer based on soil tests, planting the best varieties of crops, effective insect and disease control, appropriate soil and water conservation measures and other practices based on the best research information available.

Results were obtained by comparing net profits from crops grown under advanced technological methods with income from carefully controlled check plots where usual farming practices were employed. Increased net income reported ranged from $1.86 per acre to $52.07 per acre. In one county, Red River, 47 demonstrations indicated that net income of the county could be increased $2.9 million if all farmers followed recommended practices.

"If results in the 12 pilot counties are indicative of what can be accomplished on a state-wide basis, it means a potential equivalent to an important new industry in each Texas county," Hutchison said.

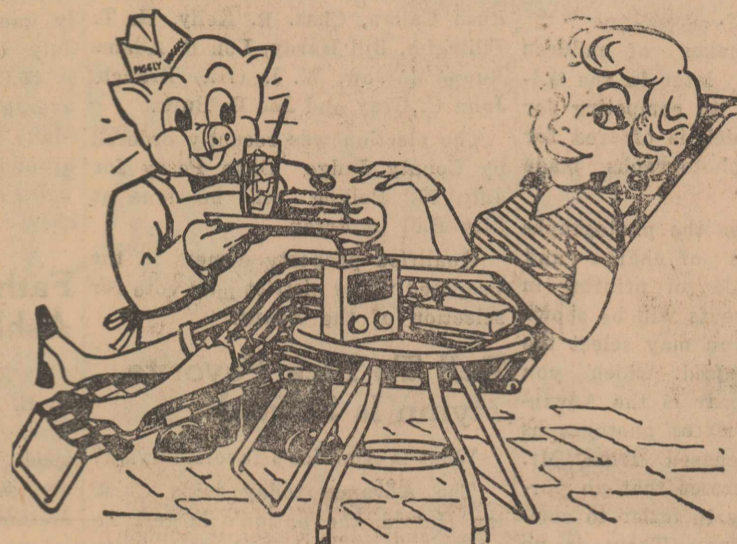

The immediate success of the pilot project already has prompted 17 additional counties to initiate an intensified soil fertility program and many others are making plans to follow suit. "The key to the success of this venture was the active participation of local people under the direction of County Program Building Committees," Hutchison emphasized. In each county, local agricultural and civic leaders assisted the county extension staff in carrying out the program. USDA personnel and soil conservation district supervisors also played an active role. Other cooperating organizations included the Texas Plant Food Educational Society, the National Plant Food Educational Society, the National Plant Food Institute, American Potash Institute and the Texas Agricultural Limestone Association.

"This success presents a challenge to the total leadership and educational forces of the state, for here is proof that the problem primarily is one of the man and not of the land," Hutchison said.

MOLDING MINDS

Through good books the sages of the ages may speak to the children of this age. Good books are antidotes for juvenile delinquency and for adult delinquency. Good books increase our joys, soften our sorrows, ennoble our friendships, enlarge our ideals, refine our ambitions, guide our energies, feed our souls. They are companions in loneliness, friends in trouble, tools for work and guides in wayfaring. The church and the church library offer you books that will keep your boys from being crooks. Books help mold minds.

Shamrock Offering New Marine Fuel

The Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation announced in Amarillo this week that a new product, marine fuel, will soon be made available to its dealer.

Shamrock recognized that despite the boating boom which has swept the country, there were few, if any, locations where boat owners in Shamrock's marketing territory could buy a high octane, unleaded fuel specifically designed for marine use. Shamrock's new marine fuel is rated at 88 research octane, and contains no tetraethyl lead additives. Lead is normally added to both regular and premium gasolines to raise the octane rating. Many outboard motor manufacturers and owners contend that lead additives cause harm to their engines. The new marine fuel is designed for those engines which require unleaded fuel, and it performs equally well in those engines that can use leaded fuels.

To get this high octane fuel without adding lead requires special refining facilities, and Shamrock blends it from high octane base stocks at their McKee refinery near Dumas, Texas. To facilitate handling and dispensing, the new product will be available in reinforced 55-gallon drums.

Shamrock has been test marketing marine fuel since late summer, 1960. Now it will be marketed throughout the company's entire territory, which includes Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Arizona and New Mexico. There is a high concentration of boat owners in the Texas-based company's marketing area, and the boom in pleasure boating is just starting, Shamrock officials feel. They expect the demand for marine fuel to increase sharply within the next few years.

NOW'S THE TIME to save more truck dollars on the more-for-your-dollar trucks!

Your truck dollars are worth a whole lot more at your Chevrolet dealer's right now! First off, you get a head start on saving because summer's the saving season. Then, with a harder working, easier riding Chevy truck, you're set to save every mile you haul. And, finally, at trade-in time, you can expect an extra dividend because of Chevy's traditionally higher resale value. What could be better?

Summer's the season to get extra mileage from your dollars on the trucks built to give you extra miles of hauling. With Independent Front Suspension, Chevrolet trucks keep going thousands of miles longer because far less destructive jar and shake are transmitted through the truck. Chevy I.F.S. trucks work harder, too, in areas where other trucks have to be pampered. And, with Chevy's wide choice of thrifty 6 and hardy V8 power, you can tailor your truck exactly to your job. So how can you miss—especially now during the summer saving season?

Proxy Marriage With A New Twist

Today it's not unusual for a couple separated by many miles to be married by means of a long distance telephone call. But I recently heard about a marriage conducted in Fort Worth for a couple 5,000 miles away, in Germany, with a new angle.

When Dale Bennett and his fiancée were married in Konigstein, Germany, his father, Rev. Harold O. Bennett, conducted the ceremony from his church in Fort Worth via overseas telephone. By means of special speakers installed in the church, family and friends could hear both ends of the conversation.

The speaker system was arranged by two telephone communications experts who also set up the overseas call. This may be the first marriage of this type in the world.

Good Service—More Than New Equipment

So many new services have been introduced recently that many people ask me, "What's new in telephones?"

The truth is that today you have more choice of new telephone service than ever before. There are new styles, such as the Princess, and new types, such as the home interphone and the farm interphone. All come in a variety of colors.

But good telephone equipment needs well-trained, experienced and friendly people to bring them to you.

To keep up with the rapid changes in service, telephone men and women—no matter how experienced or skilled they are—continue to learn, and many attend company training courses each year.

The result? Good telephone service at reasonable cost.

Put More Fun In Your Trips

One day last week an old friend stopped by to tell me about his vacation plans. He told me where he was going, what highways he'd take and where he'd be staying all along the way.

I asked him how he got everything worked out so well.

"It was easy," he said. "This year I made all my plans by phone. We have good accommodations for each night, and I know how much they cost. You just can't beat a phone call for finding out what you need to know."

That's a good idea for you, too, if you're planning a trip or vacation. You can save money by calling on Sundays or after 6 p. m. on weekdays when long distance rates are lower. And by calling station-to-station, you save as much as one-third more.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Advice for Recent Discharges From Service

A serviceman who has completed his time in the service should follow the following rules explicitly:

1. Inform his draft board of his release. The law requires that this be done within a reasonable time (usually five days) after separation.
2. Apply for reinstatement to former employment (if desired) within ninety days after discharge.
3. Check with the nearest reserve office to make certain of reserve obligations which must be met.
4. Visit the office of the County Clerk and have his report of separation filed for record. After the document has been recorded the original should be stored in a safe place.
5. Carefully check all military papers to see that information contained in them is correct. If errors are noted, a request for correction should be immediately be sent to the Service Department from which the Veteran was discharged.
6. Make application for compensation which may be payable if the Veteran has service-connected disabilities.
7. Make certain that appropriate action is taken to protect any government insurance which may be in force, or apply for insurance which may be available to the Veteran.
8. Check with the school of his choice to make certain that the school and courses desired are approved for training under the GI Bill and make application early so that all problems may be ironed out before time to enter training.
