

Women Valuable Asset to Industry In Skillful and Important Tasks

By RUTH I. STONE

Before 1900 women and men in the Western Electric Company never worked in the same departments. In fact, there were very few women employed, and those chiefly at coil-winding and insulating. It was with the beginning of the new century that women and girls were tried out and made good on inspecting, assembling and the many other kinds of work then opened to them.

In the diamond die laboratory, for example, some 20 women are employed as the careful work of making the dies used in drawing the finer sizes of wire. Incidentally, "diamond" is not a mere trade term. The dies are actually made from crystals unsuitable for the jewelry. About $250,000 worth of them are used every year. In making tiny lamps for telephone switchboards, women attach the filaments, some of which are about one-sixteenth the diameter of an average human hair. This work is so delicate that it has to be done under a magnifying glass.

Inspection work to some people means merely looking for apparent defects in a piece of apparatus, but with our complicated and accurate apparatus it is much more than that and far less simple. Women employed in our inspection branch are trained to use the micrometer, the galvanometer and even the slide rule, with which they make intricate calculations from data taken in cable-testing.

One of the jobs in actual manufacturing is splitting sheets of mica to almost unbelievably close limits as to thickness. A beginner is given an "easy one," the limits being .0015 to .003. That's just to start on, and when she has acquired skill she is permitted to try a difficult one like .0023 to .0027 inch. Sometimes the order reads that the mica must be separated into layers not less than .0008 inch nor more than .0012 inch thick. Of course, no one could estimate such dimensions by eye; only sensitive gauges are able to achieve such accuracy.

It is perhaps natural that there would be the most opportunities for women in manufacturing, and the largest number of them work there. Some of the women, such as those engaged in welding platinum contacts which enter into telephones, have considerable responsibility, not only because of the operation of the machine, but because of the value of the material with which they work.

The only machines that women used 25 years ago in telephone manufacture were the coil-winding and paper-insulating. Now they not only operate drill presses and punch presses, but various other machines that require trained hands and feet. Then there are jobs which relate to wiring and circuits, on which some of the women have learned to read blueprints and to do this interesting work rapidly and correctly.

While the women in these branches have demonstrated their mechanical ability, those in the clerical branches have maintained their place in the progress of the wage-earning women. The ghost would not walk with such regularity and promptness except for the girls skilled in operating comptometer and addressograph machines, and one would hate to imagine how long the inventory period would last if it were not for women speed-artists on comptometers and typewriters.

WE ARE THANKFUL

THANKFUL FOR LIFE AND BEING THANKFUL FOR GRATITUDE

Since gratitude is the greatest of any single virtue, surely we should be grateful for it—Grateful for Gratitude!

He who is grateful is always forgiving; he who appreciates kindness done for him will do kindness to others. And the converse of this proposition is equally true—he who is not appreciative of favors granted him will grant none to others.

We are grateful to our thousands of good friends through this section who have made our business possible. We are thankful that we were in position to serve you.

Every day is Thanksgiving Day, every day is opportunity day for manifesting gratitude.

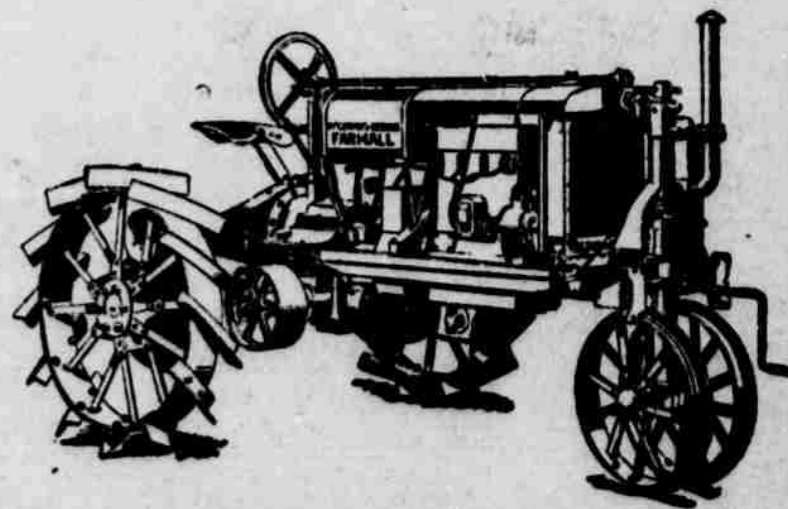

Thankfully yours,

CHRYSLER

Different.. from all other cars

There has always existed a real difference in performance between Chrysler and other cars. Today the new Multi-Range Chryslers emphasize that difference more than ever before.

Chrysler has introduced many basic engineering improvements in these new cars—has adapted from aviation a new Down-Draft principle of carburetion, adding greatly to power—and has developed a sensational new Multi-Range four-speed transmission and quick, non-clashing gear shift that completely transform all previous standards of acceleration, flexibility, smoothness and ease of handling.

At the same time, Chrysler engineering has created marvelous riding ease in new and larger bodies which possess unusual comfort, smartness and luxury along with "dreadnought" strength and durability.

Arrange at once for your Multi-Range Chrysler demonstration. It is too fine a thrill to miss.

FEATURES

- Large, Powerful Engines
- Down-Draft Carburetion
- Multi-Range 4-Speed Transmission and Gear Shift
- Seven-Bearing Counter-Balanced Crankshaft
- Rubber Spring Shackles
- Chrysler Weatherproof 4-Wheel Hydraulic Brakes
- Hydraulic Shock Absorbers
- Roomier Bodies of Dreadnought Construction

Wallpaper Association to Spend $100,000 for National Education

New York.—Education of the masses is the purpose of a national movement inaugurated by the wallpaper Association, with an appropriation of $100,000 according to an announcement just made by Langdon B. Wood, president of the association. This plan shows directly upon the association's recent announcement that the country now leads the world in the wallpaper industry, with the annual business in excess of $250,000,000.

While the movement will aim primarily at beautifying the American home its underlying motive will be the development of artistic taste in the average home owner.

To accomplish this, said Mr. Wood, "the association has appointed a national staff of five experts under the supervision of E. K. Jenkins, head of the vocational department of the association. This staff will co-operate with the U. S. Department of Agriculture through the leaders of the Home Demonstration Service and the 10,000 home economic teachers.

One of the members of the staff will be an expert on the mechanical aspects of paperhanging, another will specialize on window display and the raising generally of the level of artistic taste in store arrangements. A third will be a recognized authority on the artistic decoration of public and semi-public buildings, such as hospitals, libraries, hotels, museums and all centers where people congregate in large numbers. The beauty or ugliness of such centers has a profound effect upon the artistic sense of the average citizen.

"Still another member of the Association's National Staff will have charge of vocational teaching, which has become so vast a subject in the last few years.

"For the purposes of the movement, the entire United States will be divided into four regions: New England, Southern, Central and Western. Each region will be headed by one of the original agents already described. A fifth member of the National Group (in all instances a woman) will be the official trouble man of the group. She must have the most pronounced artistic background and being unattached to any region, will be available for especially difficult problems or work in any one of them. Besides this, she will work with club leaders, government extension workers, vocational school and agricultural colleges.

"Each region head will be switched to a different region each year. Thus, within four years, it is planned that the whole country shall have had the advantage of training along the lines in which each head is a specialist.

"In the more practical aspects of home decoration, the association hopes to give direct educational help to the country's seventy-five thousand decorators and twenty-five thousand paper hangers. The four leading types of instruction will be: Conference, meetings of institutes and informal meetings among those interested in the decorative arts; classes in the stores, classes in educational institutions and correspondence teaching.

"The association's educational program is the direct result of the vast increase in its business. We attribute the great and rapid growth in this, as well as in other decorative industries, to the growing artistic demands of the American people and the sincere attempt of American manufacturers to satisfy these. Announcement of this new educational movement we believe to be a logical sequel to these ideas."

"What do You Mean . . . Penetrates Metal Surfaces?"

A Plain Answer to a Reasonable Question

THE Germ Essence, imparted to highly refined paraffin base crude under a patented process exclusively owned by the Continental Oil Company for North America, actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, forming a permanent, protective film.

No matter how long a motor stands idle or how cold it gets, this film is present and immediately lubricates the moving parts when the engine turns over.

It takes five to ten minutes—often longer—for the oil in the crankcase to fully flood the bearings in the starting operation. During this period, automotive engineers agree, from 40% to 60% of motor wear occurs. This wear is reduced to a minimum by the ready-and-waiting lubrication which the Germ Essence imparts to CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oils, retaining it on and in the surface pores.

CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil stands up under every condition of stress and strain. It will not break down or burn nor will it evaporate to any appreciable degree.

No other oil possesses these qualities.

So positive are we in our convictions, so positive have been our tests of this remarkable lubricant, that we are perfectly willing for you to select any operating condition—no matter how extreme—and we will meet it with CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil so satisfactorily that you will never consider using any other oil.

Go now to stations and dealers displaying the CONOCO Red Triangle—have your crankcase drained and begin immediately to profit through the use of this remarkable oil.

OLD TIME POLITICS

While political campaigns are still waged with vigor, and are often enlivened with spectacular oratory, they do not compare in picturesque and enthusiasm with those of the old days.

Back in the nineteenth century the campaign parade was an indispensable feature of pre-election activities, especially in presidential elections. Uniformed marching bearing kerosene torches, with banners and transparencies, and led by brass bands, made up processions miles long in the larger cities, while the smaller communities held similar rallies on a lesser scale.

It was the custom of rival newspapers to enlarge upon the length of parades by their partisans, while depreciating those of the opposition. The late Vice-President Marshall once told of such a circumstance, in which claims of rival newspapers held a humorous touch. A great parade was held in Crawfordsville, Ind., in behalf of the candidacy of Governor Hendricks, after which Mr. Marshall says:

In the morning the Democratic newspaper announced that it was the greatest torchlight procession ever seen in the city; that it took two hours to pass a given point. The evening Republican paper quoted this statement, admitted it was true, but added that the given point was Mike Mulholland's saloon.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY ATTRACTS LARGE CROWDS

The two one act plays, the first a dance chorus and the second the much advertised melodrama, "The Valiant" was put on last Thursday night, Nov. 21st and for two splendid reasons was repeated on last Tuesday evening, also at the High school auditorium. On Thursday the weather was inclement all day and into the night. And too, the management was urged by many to produce the play again. This was done with several new features and with reduced prices. The Expression department of the Haskell High school and the teachers of the beginner department of the Methodist church wish to express their thanks and appreciation to the audience of both occasions for their support and for their words of praise and encouragement.

The first follows: The Valiant, G. V. Wimble; the sister, Miss Geneva Golden; the prison Warden, F. L. Daugherty; the prison Chaplain, Rev. G. K. Forrester; the jailor, Lewis Sherman; the prison attendant, William Richey.

Rev. E. Gaston Foote read a pantologue, "O Mother Of Mine," by Kipping. The prologue to the play, "The Valiant" in poetry was given by Miss Luella Woodson. Choruses and dances from five countries as follows:

French—Elizabeth Gilbert, Anna-bell Burt, Hazel McIver, Madahn Maples, Virginia Sills, Mary Frances Collier.

Italian—Cathyrne Wingo, Lillian Kaigler, Annie Maud Taylor, Anita Taylor, Jamie Lyle Martin, Frances Walling.

Spanish—Ella D. Koonce, Louise Kaigler.

Japanese—Constance Gurst, Henrietta Isbell, Aletha Fay Davis, Agnes Griston, Maizie Mauriel Walling, Nancy Gurst, Irene McGregor.

American—Loraine Newsome, Vassar Lee Morris, Selma Maples, Vivian Bernard, Beadie Lee Kaigler, Leta Bell Kemp, Vada Thomas, Mary Willis.

Crown Dances—Christine Tucker.

DRAW YOUR CONCLUSIONS

No one believes all he hears about the power of big corporations. Yet one is sometimes allowed to peep behind the scenes of a large industry that proves beyond doubt that "It is dangerous to buck the mighty."

A company that produces about half the sugar manufactured in the United States naturally looks upon its territory as exclusive. When a rival smaller company tried to break into this monopoly some years ago by offering to pay beet farmers a dollar more per ton for their beets, Draw your own conclusion.

WACO DRESSMAKER OUT WITH FACTS

"I Was Losing Weight, Strength and Energy, But Orgatone Did Wonders For Me," She Says

"When I tell you I think I have been entirely relieved of months of awful suffering and have actually gained in weight and strength, you can readily understand why I'm so strong, for Orgatone," was the remarkable statement made by Mrs. J. F. Williams of 614 South Tenth Street, Waco, Texas, a well known dressmaker throughout this vicinity. "I had a very bad sluggish liver, that put me in a very badly run-down condition, and I just seemed to go from bad to worse," she continued. "I was going down hill rapidly, and was losing weight, strength, and energy, but couldn't find anything to relieve me of all my troubles; I couldn't eat the things I wanted and had to be very careful of my diet; I had a bad case of constipation, and had to take strong laxatives most all the time. Gas formed and pressed against my heart and at times I could hardly breathe. Besides, my terrible suffering, I had an awful tired feeling and would wake-up in the mornings feeling so no-account I could hardly do my work. I didn't have any vim or energy and just hated to move."

"Orgatone was highly recommended for troubles such as mine, and I thought one more medicine wouldn't hurt to try, so I began taking it. I began to improve right from the start, and now since taking one bottle I am relieved of my troubles. Orgatone is certainly a wonderful medicine, it has relieved me of all my liver trouble, I'm not the least constipated, and sleep fine every night. Orgatone has done so much for me, I feel that it will help others, so I'm willing to make this statement, and hope they will profit by my own experience."

While the Texas cotton was falling to a new low of 12 cents per pound, the 4-H club boys went to work on the ways undisturbed and preliminary reports show the yields on 26 club farms over the state shows an average of nearly six cents per acre as the average of $15.84 from average of $12.50.

In the first of the cotton was made good by spraying to alfalfa, peas and turning under. The seed bed was laid fall or winter, and one pelleted cotton seed. Only two boys planted half-and-half. Their profits did not exceed. Fertilizers played a part in these yields, especially where most of the several hundred pounds of phosphorus were emphasized. As for the old story of shallow and throwing of seeds, it is not true. The club boys are using Extension Service that of Bill Flynt of who picked 3700 pounds of seed cotton in East Texas the club is credited to one of Rank county and of seed cotton on

Farm Notes By Joe C. Williams County Agent

Nine men met on the W. H. Doss farm with the county agent last Tuesday for the first terracing training school. Lines were run on the 200 acre farm. Mr. Doss says that he will be able to plow the short rows twice as fast with his two row rig as he would be able to plow with the single row machines.

Fourteen men learned how to run the lines and to adjust the Terracing Level and are now ready to run lines in the Irby community. The meeting was held on the W. F. Zelisko farm, some 180 acres were terraced. Earl Atchison and John Steiwert were the ones who seemed to learn the job while several others were there and learned the various operations to do in terracing a farm. Mr. Atchison and Mr. Steiwert will terrace most of the land in that community.

Six men met on the Tommie Parks Jr. farm Thursday and Friday and learned the art of terracing farm land. There was good interest in the meeting though the rain and snow made the work very disagreeable. 165 acres were lined off and the terraces will be started this week. Vertie Oates and Thurman Rhoades terraced Vertie's 100 acre farm Saturday. They used a 12 inch fall in elevation in place of the regular 18 inch fall, on account of the land being so near level.

Lighting The Living Room

A living room is more pleasant and cheerful if shades are left up, thus giving the room plenty of natural light. Shades are utilitarian articles and should be inconspicuous. In some cases they may even be eliminated. In providing artificial light there should be a number of lamps suitable for the number to enjoy the room. A proper shade for lamp which is used should be provided. Over decorated shades should be avoided and one which fits in with the furnishings of the room is desirable. Lighting is an important point in the bringing about of comfort in the living room.

Why Neglect The Fall Garden?

The value of the fall garden cannot be overestimated. It serves to reduce the grocery bill as well as to provide necessary types of food at a season of the year when we are prone to exist on the bread and meat diet.

The time for planting the fall garden depends on the vegetable itself. The table below shows some of the vegetables which will withstand heavy frosts:

Vegetable	Days to Maturity
Collards	120-130
Kale	90-120
Parsnips	150
Rape	90-120
Rutabaga	80-100
Salsify	150
Spinach	30-60
Shallots	45-50

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NEWS

The old time song service of last Sunday evening was enjoyed very much by those present. The congregation entered heartily into the singing of old time songs for a period of 45 minutes, after which Rev.

G. R. Forrester brought a fine message on Faith of Our Fathers.

Next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock another song service will be held to be composed of songs of thanksgiving and praise. This service is in keeping with the Thanksgiving Day spirit, and you are cordially invited to be present and take part in this service. Come and bring your friends, neighbors and relatives.

Bible School begins at 9:45 a. m. preaching and communion services at 11:00 a. m. and the evening services at 7:00 p. m. If you have no church home, you will receive a welcome at any of these services. You need the Church and the Church needs you. Why not line up with the church going people of this city?

"Tonight at Twelve" Funny Farce

Coming Here With an All-Star Cast

Madge Bellamy Heads Strong Group of Players in Universal Screen Adaptation of Famous Owen Davis Stage Production

PICTURE MADE WITH FULL DIALOGUE

The height of amusing entertainment in talking motion pictures, dealing with the tangled lives of husbands and wives, "Tonight at Twelve," Universal's sensational dialogue screen adaptation of Owen Davis' successful New York play, will show Thursday at the Texas Theatre.

Davis' play took Broadway's breath away and the picture is said to have even more gasps and shocks than the stage presentation, without crossing the border-line of common decency.

What shocks and thrills in "Tonight at Twelve" is the daring treatment of what every husband and wife knows—that a spark of jealousy will explode an upheaval of violent elementary emotions.

A wife finds a note written by her husband. She accuses one of three women—all married and all good friends—of being her husband's sweetheart. That starts it and in the confusion that follows the unexpected happens.

"Tonight at Twelve" has an all-star cast worthy of that designation, headed by the petite and delightful Madge Bellamy and the suave Robert Ellis, who will be remembered as "Steve Crandall," the racketeer, of Universal's super-production "Broadway."

The others are the flirtations Margaret Livingston; the outspoken Vera Reynolds; the sedate Norman Trevor; the humorous Hallam Cooley; the "hard-boiled" little Mary Doran; the youthful George Lewis; the fiery Madeline Seymour; the capable Josephine Brown and the delightfully different Don Douglas.

"Tonight at Twelve" was directed by Harry Pollard who directed Universal's production of "Show Boat."

THE STORY OF "HOLD YOUR MAN"

Jack and Mary Hopkins quarrel over Mary's desire to go to Paris to study art. Jack takes his father-in-law's advice that the way to get along with wives is to "go" them, and then the women won't do what they say they want to do.

Jack shows an interest in Rhea, a girl from the same town as Mary, and tells her to go to Paris. Mary doesn't want to go to Paris by now, but her price is up, and she goes.

In Paris Mary paints the picture of Beno, a supposed apache, and is enthralled by his flowery love-making. He confesses that he is really a courtier, has a genuine feeling for her, declares he is a peppy thief who preys on women by pretending to be a member of the nobility. Mary, who has renounced Beno from the law, now wants her money back.

Meanwhile Jack has called Mary, saying he understands she is planning to get a Paris divorce. He says that he and Rhea are coming to Paris to be married as soon as a divorce is granted.

Mary wants Jack back. She has a careful plan to outmaneuver him and Rhea to dinner at her home, when they arrive in Paris. Rhea's rain keeps them there. Rhea is the owner of the picture which the evening is over, and Jack falls in love with his wife again.

"Hold Your Man" is showing at the Texas Theatre and University of this week.

"FORD DEALERS FOR FORD SERVICE"

"She took her husband unawares ... and learned a lot!"

Mrs. Kirk's husband wasn't expecting her back from Fort Worth until Sunday morning, but she came home on Saturday night.

"I'll surprise them," she told herself, slipping her key into the latch and entering the house quietly.

Savory odors came from the kitchen and she heard voices behind the closed door.

"Yes, sir; your mother's the best cook on earth," she heard her husband saying to her son, "but, my boy, she certainly doesn't make good coffee. She's such a dear, good woman, though, that I have never liked to tell her so."

"Well, it's good that we found out about this White Swan Coffee and laid in a good supply while she was gone, Dad," her boy said. "I think she'll notice the improvement."

Mrs. Kirk was 'a good sport' and a wise woman. She slipped back to the front door again, slammed it and shouted, "Look who's here!"

Mr. Kirk and his son raced to meet her and immediately after the embraces were exchanged, she said, "By the way, I ran across the most wonderful coffee in Fort Worth. It's called White Swan and..."

Yes, indeed—a wise woman!

No matter which member of the family may have introduced White Swan Coffee—or by what means—the enthusiastic praise for its tempting aroma and satisfying flavor is always unanimous.

WHERE IS PARADISE?

Paradise is mentioned only three times in the Bible. The passages make it clear as to where it is and what it is.

1. Paradise is the place where the souls of the redeemed go at death. In Luke 23:43, Christ said to the dying thief, "To day shalt thou be with Me in paradise." This scripture alone when interpreted in the light of other scriptures teaches that paradise is heaven. When Jesus Christ said to the Father, "Into thy hands I commend my spirit." The idea that Christ went to hell after His death is a mistake. He suffered the pangs of hell while on the cross. His soul was not left in that awful suffering forever, but was received in heaven or paradise by the Father.

2. The third heaven and paradise are one and the same thing. Please read 2 Cor. 12:1-4. The Bible teaches that the first heaven is where the clouds float and the birds fly. The second heaven is where the stars dwell and the third heaven is the abode of God.

3. Paradise is where the tree of life is. Rev. 2:7, "To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God." In Rev. 22:1-2; we find that the tree of life is on the river that flows out of the throne of God. And of course, God's throne is in heaven. So God's throne is in heaven, the pure river of water of life flows out of the throne the tree of life is on the river and the tree of life is in the paradise of God.
