Hammers Take Bi-Dist. Title Over Seagraves

Rotan Yellowhammers and fans enjoyed Thanksgiving Day at Snyder. The victory over Seagraves eased a sore spot from last year when the Eagles held them to 22-22 tie.

The bi-district 27-0 win over the Eagles placed Yellowhammers in Class A quarter finals with Big Lake Friday at Big Spring, 7:30 p. m.

This game was decisive from the word go, however. Herron, who scored 200 points in 10 regular season games, paved the way with two touchdowns, and gained 174 yards on 23 carries.

Much of the yardage Herron gained was on his initiative. At one point, in the third quarter, he pulled a quarterback sneak through the middle of the Seagraves line, and sped 46 yards to the Eagles' 19 before he finally ran out of running room. Herron's touchdown sprints were of relatively short yardage, however -- covering only eight and 10 steps.

In all, the Yellowhammers amassed 286 yards rushing, 25 passing and 16 first downs. The swarming Rotan defense held Seagraves in check with 53 yards rushing, 26 passing and five first downs.

Facing the wind, Rotan's punter, Tackle Howard Van Loon, managed boots of only 10, 17 and 20 yards. With the wind at back, Van Loon punted once for 34 yards.

Seagraves' twin punters - John Espinoza and Sammy Faulkner, managed kicks of 18, 19, 13 and 26 yards. With the wind at their backs, they record distances of 35, 49 and 46 yards.

In addition to Herron's two touchdowns, Fullback Bruce Baugh and Halfback Lennis Polnac scored the other two touchdowns. End Bill Ashton booted three extra points in three tries.

The Yellowhammers tacked their first TD on the scoreboard with only 3:51 elapsed in the opening period. Rotan had taken over from Seagraves at the Eagles' 26 and used only three plays to cover the distance to the end zone. Baugh got the touchdown on a 16-yard burst over left tackle and Ashton kicked the goal to put the Yellowhammers out front, 7-0.

On their next possession, the Eagles failed to make a first down -- even with the help of a five-yard offside penalty against the Yellowhammers.

Rotan then took possession at its own 49. Seven plays later, Herron circled right end for eight yards and the tally. Ashton again kicked goal, and Rotan was out front, 14-0.

In out playing the Eagles in every phase of the game Hammers made 16 first downs to 5; 286 yards rushing to 53; passed 25 to 26; punted 4 for 22.5 to 7 for 29.4.

John Young had his second eye surgery in Lubbock Saturday. He has been there some time for treatment and surgery. Outcome of the second operation will not be determined for several days. His vision is expected to be much improved.

He was chopping wood in a hunting camp when a piece of wood flew up and struck him around his left eye. Taken from the camp of Pinon, N. M. to a physician in Alamogordo, he later was brought to Lea General Hospital and placed under the care of a Hobbs physician.

Sheriff Posse To Attend Governor Inauguration

Fisher County Sheriff Posse received an invitation this week to ride in the inaugural parade for Governor Connally January 15th in Austin. They have ridden in previous Governors inaugurations parades and the Kennedy-Johnson inauguration parade.

The invitation came from J. J. Pickle, chairman of parade committee and in part read, "In behalf of Governor John Connally and Mrs. Connally, I want to accept with deep pleasure the offer of the Fisher County Sheriff Posse to participate in the Austin Inaugural Parade on January 15th. We believe this will be one of the most colorful inaugural parades in the history of our State. The Fisher County Sheriff Posse is nationally known, and would be a distinct credit for the Governor's Inauguration --".

The group decided to meet next Tuesday night to decorate the downtown area for the Christmas season. This is their major project for the year. This Christmas the Jaycee-Ettes are planning a large tree and would like to ask anyone having any discarded decorations they would care to donate for the tree, to contact Mrs. Archie Neeley at 7931.

Boy Scout Fund Drive To Be Made

Beginning tomorrow, the annual Boy Scout Financial Drive will be held and will continue for one week. Funds will be sent to The Chisholm Trail Council, Abilene, and will be used for such worthwhile projects as camps, training films, badges, advancements, extensions, and administration of the council. Our local Boy Scout Troop, which has been organized for about eight months now, will benefit greatly from this drive through the council.

The boys attend the camps and are very active in Council affairs. The Council aids our troop in anyway that will advance the cause of scouting.

During the next week, the people of Rotan will be contacted by a Jaycee, Methodist Man, or a Cub Scout Den Mother. Please give generously to this cause, because without the Council's help, there would be no Boy Scout or Cub Scout organizations in a town like Rotan.

Jaycee-Ettes Make Plans For Christmas

The year 1962 marks the third year of the Jaycee-Ette Christmas Home Decoration Contest. Response last year was a little better than the first year and the Jaycee-Ettes are hoping that this will be the best year ever. The contest has been changed slightly this year to encourage more participation. Previously, homes have been judged in different divisions; window, door, and yard. This year there will be only one main division and anyone who has decorated either of these areas will be eligible to compete. By doing this the Jaycee-Ettes have also been able to increase the prize money. 1st Prize-$10.00, 2nd Prize-$7.50, and 3rd Prize-$5.00. All homes within the city limits will be considered. To be sure you are not missed, however, persons wishing to enter are requested to either mail in an official entry blank which will be carried in next week's Advance, or to call Mrs. Rudolph Lotief, 8182, who is Chairman of the contest. If you enjoy driving around town looking at pretty Christmas decorations why not do your share this year?

A community is made more beautiful only when everybody contributes.

Homes will be judged by out-of-town judges one night during the week of December 17th-21st. Displays must be lighted on each of these nights between 7:00 P. M. - 9:00 P. M. Winners will be announced in the special Christmas Edition of the Advance. Anyone needing any further information about the contest may call Mrs. Lotief.

Jaycee-Ettes Sponsoring Merrie Christmas

The Jaycee-Ettes met Tuesday evening in a called meeting at the home of Mrs. Dwight Nowlin to complete plans on their Christmas Projects. It was decided to contact the businessmen in Rotan concerning a Miss Merrie Christmas contest which would involve each store's sponsoring a candidate. The winner would be announced during the program to be held following the Christmas Parade.

The group decided to meet next Tuesday night to decorate the downtown area for the Christmas season. This is their major project for the year. This Christmas the Jaycee-Ettes are planning a large tree and would like to ask anyone having any discarded decorations they would care to donate for the tree, to contact Mrs. Archie Neeley at 7931.

All merchants are urged to decorate their store windows for the Christmas Season. This will not only make our town more attractive but should also help business. People are more likely to shop at home in a town that shows it is for progress and can work together with year-around community spirit. The Jaycee-Ette Christmas trophy will be presented to the store having the best decorated window as decided by out-of-town judges.

The Jaycee-Ettes also discussed the annual Christmas party honoring their husbands and the Christmas Home Decorating Contest, details of which may be found elsewhere in this paper.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner of Health

With increasing emphasis fitness, not only for your youth, but for persons of all ages, thousands of words have been written and hundreds of illustrations displayed showing what we can do about it.

One of the best illustrated guides to overall fitness has been prepared by the American Medical Association's Department of Health Education, entitled "Seven Paths to Fitness". It is a fold-out pamphlet skirting burdensome detail, leaving the actual decisions up to the individual.

First of seven paths to fitness is proper medical care with the individual asking himself three questions: what kinds of medical care does he need; how are such services best obtained; and how can he get the best possible medical services? The questions are answered in essence, but allowing personal choice.

Nutrition was number two on the list. What are your daily food needs in relation to type and how much food do you need? The four basic food groups - meat, milk, bread-cereal, fruits and vegetables - plus extras based on caloric needs are listed.

Dental services and all that it implies was third, stressing dental care and regular visits to the dentist.

The fourth path to fitness was exercise, one again answering three questions: what is right exercise; how much exercise do you need; and what does exercise do for you?

The importance of satisfying work was next, pointing out guidelines of how to know when one's work is satisfactory and listing some values of satisfying work.

Healthy play and recreation came in for a big share of fitness. Everyone should play to have fun and relaxation, meet and mix with people, take one's mind off his troubles; and one improve physical and mental health.

Some recreational activities including all types are listed.

What is meant by rest and relaxation described the seventh path to fitness. Some ways to rest were counted including lying down in a quiet place and relaxing, sleeping, changing activities, and participating in a hobby.

Sleep-never defined, but aptly named the great restorer - can never be replaced. Eight hours is a good minimum average for most people, but young children need as much as 12 hours sleep every day.

Children Thrive on Compassion In March of Dimes Arthritis Fight

"We study the child, not the laboratory report."
When Dr. Jane Borges, director of the March of Dimes-financed Arthritis Special Treatment Center at the Home for Crippled Children in Pittsburgh, Pa., says this, she isn't trying to put the laboratories out of business.

But she is trying—and succeeding—in putting children stricken with rheumatoid arthritis back in the important business of leading nearly normal lives.

Juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, which afflicts 30,000 youngsters in the United States, is a cruel disease which comes and goes like a thief in the night. Seemingly healthy children suddenly contract high fever, swollen and aching joints, rash, anemia, and severe involvement of body organs. Many suffer deformities of the limbs. Total or partial disability often occurs.

Despite continuing research, neither the cause of juvenile rheumatoid arthritis nor the reason for its unpredictable cycle of recurrence is yet known.

Prevent Side-Effects

What Dr. Borges and a growing number of experts in the treatment of rheumatic diseases do believe they know is how to prevent much of the permanent physical, mental and social scarring which have been agonizing by-products of this disease for so long a time. Rejecting old theories of prolonged bed rest and virtual isolation, these innovators have introduced the rheumatoid arthritis child to programs of intensive therapy and close contact with children of the same age group. They encourage regular school attendance.

At the same time, education of the family in all aspects of the illness is begun early by the physician with diligent follow-up by the social worker.

Successful Results

In most cases, successful results have been achieved. At the March of Dimes-supported center in Pittsburgh, for example, Dr. Borges last September admitted a 12-year-old girl who could not move her shoulders, elbows, or arms. She contracted rheumatoid arthritis at age six and had been in and out of hospitals since that time. When she was at home, she was rarely taken outside and saw other children only infrequently. She was painfully shy, took little interest in her studies.

Today, nearly a year later, this same girl is still confined to a wheel chair. She must attend many of her classes at the Home's branch of the Pittsburgh school system while in traction. Other complications persist.

However, daily baths in the Hubbard tank, used so successfully by polio victims, and twice-daily physical therapy have restored the use of her arms and hands. Occupational therapy—she is just now finishing a throw rug—has restored movement to her once-frozen shoulders. The challenge of competition with her schoolmates has transformed her into an excellent student.

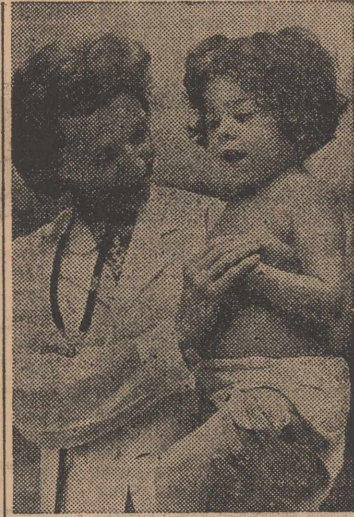

Child in Pain

In another case, a six-year-old girl, after four years of operations and assorted treatment, was unable to adjust to school and playmates because of intermittent pain and the childhood awareness that she was the only child with a brace.

Placed among children with similar problems, she was exposed to the physical and social therapies of Dr. Borges' program. She went back home six months later "a different child—obedient, getting along happily with brothers, sisters and playmates," according to a grateful mother.

Dr. Borges, a trim, vibrant woman, views her work at the March of Dimes-financed center and its results this way:

"The laboratory reports on these children, after we have worked with them for a time,

Dr. Jane Borges and young arthritis patient exchange "girl talk" during physical examination.

are still the same. The disease is still there.

"But the individual is not the same person we saw in the beginning.

"By also treating the emotional and environmental problems associated with juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, not just the physical ones, we are often able to change attitudes of despair to ones of cheerfulness and hope."

A prominent Canadian physician and specialist in juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, Dr. William M. Gibson, recently described the ideal treatment setting as "an area where personnel acquainted with the problem of arthritis in children are present every time the patient is seen."

Arthritis Special Treatment Centers, supported by local chapters of The National Foundation with March of Dimes funds, are already providing this service in Pittsburgh through Dr. Borges, and through her colleagues in many other American cities.

Additional centers are planned—centers of hope where parents can read the future in their children's faces, not in the laboratory reports.

FLYING HIGH—Cotton's suited for traveling first class in this handsome three-piece double knit by Miss Pat. Perfect for spring, double knit cottons are lightweight and hand washable.

Lola Lucas Crowned by Miss America

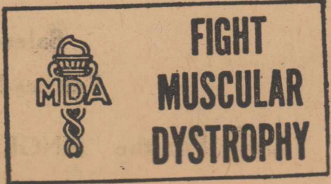

Lola Lucas, a gifted and charming eight-year-old from St. Louis, Mo., receives a crown as she enters the second year of her reign as National Foster Child for Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America. Bestowing the honor, her first official act after winning the title of Miss America in Atlantic City, is lovely Jacqueline Jeanne Mayer, of Sandusky, Ohio. Both she and Lola are making extensive tours in connection with their official duties. Lola spearheads the army of volunteers participating in MDA's annual fund-raising drive, the March for Muscular Dystrophy, now under way throughout the country.

CASUAL—This one-piece suit with little boy shorts turns into a sundress with addition of matching skirt. By Cole of California, it's made from crisp cool cotton with the look and feel of fine silk.

People who can't see any deeper than the paint are sometimes fooled by the finish.

The shadow on this man is the shadow of muscular dystrophy. While children are the chief victims of this progressively crippling disease, it can strike any one at any age. And, since the disease process begins, it continues relentlessly, slowly invading all the voluntary muscles, resulting in increasing helplessness and, eventually in death.

The attack on muscular dystrophy is being waged in many lands, on many scientific fronts. You can help this massive research effort by your contribution to the MARCH FOR MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY ASSOCIATIONS OF AMERICA, INC. 1790 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y.

Farm Facts

Some 20 years ago only about 50 basic farm chemicals were in use. Today there are about 200 basics available and perhaps as many as 50,000 formulations of them.

"Without the fruits of research put to work through the industrial machine," comments Director George L. Mehren of the Giannini Foundation of Agricultural Economics, "production of broilers, turkeys, eggs, red meat, and dairy products could never have reached today's levels, simply because disease losses would have prevented it."

"Present methods of producing important truck crops, such as tomatoes and potatoes, would not be possible. "Had not such pests as the Mediterranean and Mexican fruit flies been controlled by chemicals, our peaches, cherries, citrus, apples, and pears might now be luxuries."

"Modern methods of finishing livestock for market would not have developed and we would not have so abundant a supply of tasty as well as nutritious meat as we now enjoy.

"Six major parasites of cattle, hogs, sheep, and poultry would add about $100 million annually to the nation's food bill, if we did not have the drugs to control them."

Do You Know?

Before our civilization had made any impression upon the natives of the North Pacific Coast, these original settlers maintained tribal and family pride.

They possessed an aristocracy—the noble families taking some kind of fish, bird or animal as their name or title, which also furnished a motif for their family crest, an idea not confined to the Pacific Coast alone. It has its counterpart in the lion of Great Britain, the American eagle, the thistle of Scotland, the shamrock of Ireland and the arms of noble families. The practice can be traced indeed throughout all history, among the greatest empires and the most savage tribes.

Probably the most photographed totem pole in the world is the one standing in the center of the open square at the Canadian National Railway station at Jasper Village in Jasper National Park, Canadian Rockies.

The colorful Jasper pole was acquired from the Haida Indians from the Queen Charlotte Islands.

An outstanding example of totem pole art, it stands 65 feet high and it took the Indians three years to complete the carvings.

And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive. —(Matt. 21:22).

Through prayer our faith becomes alive, strong, vital and consistent. At all times and under all circumstances it upholds and inspires us.

Farm Facts

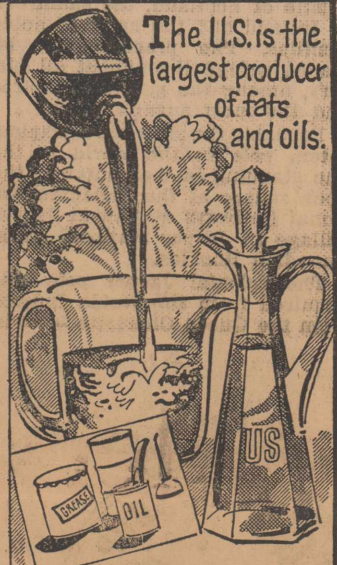

The United States is the world's largest producer of fats and oils. In 1961, U. S. production, estimated at 18.4 billion pounds, represented more than 1/4 of the estimated world production.

Our production of edible vegetable oils—mainly soybean oil and cottonseed oil—represents almost 1/3 of the world output.

In 1961, our production of industrial oils—chiefly linseed, castor, tung, and tall—totaled 1.2 billion pounds. This was more than a third of the world output.

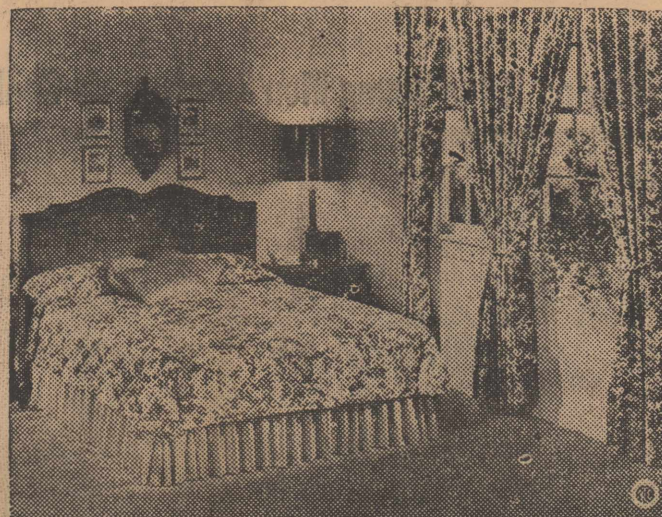

Production of animal fats—lard, tallow, and grease—ran to 7.8 billion pounds in 1961, accounting for a little less than 1/3 of the world total.

Output of marine oils was around 0.2 billion pounds or slightly less than 10% of the world total. Marine oils consist of whale oil, sperm whale oil, fish oils, and fish-liver oils.

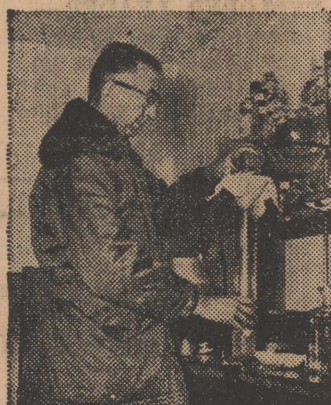

The U.S. is the largest producer of fats and oils.

Food processors have long been the major single outlet for domestic fats and oils. From 1939-59, from 61% to 67% of our annual consumption was in the manufacture of food products.

Cotton Grading Information Given

Farmers lose money each year as a result of "special conditioned" bales of cotton. Most of these special bales that create problems in classing and marketing can either be avoided or corrected, says B. B. Manly, Jr., Officer-In-Charge of the USDA's Cotton Classing Office in Abilene.

As the name implies, a "special condition" bale is different from an ordinary bale and requires special attention. They may be Repacked, False Packed, Water-Packed, Small "plates" and numerous other conditions. In most cases, it is necessary to correct these conditions before the farmer can market his cotton advantageously.

Repacked cotton is common throughout the harvest season. "Repacks" are a result of combining two or more remnants or small bales regardless of whether they belong to the same farmer or whether they may be of the same quality. In other words, anytime that a bale is put back into the Gin Press and more cotton is added, the resulting bale is considered to be repacked and must be identified as such. These bales are not eligible to be put into the CCC Loan Program.

Water-Packed and False Packed bales are not too common as they can usually be prevented. Water Packed bales are bale damaged by water, usually caused by being exposed to the weather or standing in water while in storage. False-Packed bales are bales that have the appearance of normal bales on the outside but the interior is made up of lower quality cotton, inferior cotton, linters, or even substances entirely foreign to cotton.

Small plates of inferior cotton on one side of the bale are very common. These "plates" may be caused in many ways. One of the most common causes is turning the Gin Press to quickly between trailers of cotton.

When samples from special condition bales are sent to the USDA's Cotton Classing Office the Class Cards that are then returned to the farmer will indicate that such a condition exists. These bales may then be corrected by the Ginmer or Warehouseman by removing the inferior portion of the bale.

Such bales are then eligible for a review Classification. The form requesting that the bale be reclassified must indicate that the bale has been "reworked" and exactly what was done to the bale.

An operation short of the addition of cotton is called "reworked". Where the sample from a reworked bale is reviewed the Class Card will carry the notation "reworked to remove plate".

The bale is then a normal bale and can be sold or placed in the CCC Loan Program.

Not all bales can be "reworked". They may be damaged beyond repair. Usually this can only be determined after the bale is opened and inspected.

Next week, in answer to the many questions arising this time of the year, Mr. Manly plans to write an article on the subjects of Mixed-Packed bales and Review Classification.

Cotton harvesting in District 2 progressed steadily last week according to Mr. Manly. However many farmers are waiting for a "killing" frost before beginning full operations. District 2 is composed of the Counties surrounded by Dickens, Sterling, Brown, and Jones Counties.

Grades in District 2 dropped slightly last week with only 4 percent being classed in the White Grade category. Sixty-eight percent was Light Spot and 28 percent was Spotted. A further breakdown of some of the more predominant grades show: Middling made up 2 percent; Strict Low Middling, 2 percent; Middling Light Spot, 39 percent; Strict Low Middling, 26 percent; Middling Spotted, 16 percent and Strict Low Middling Spot, 10 percent.

Staple length also dropped off some from the preceding week. The predominant staple length was 15-16 inch, which made up 64 percent of the total classed. Two percent was classed as 1-inch or longer; 5 percent as 31-32; 28 percent, 29-32 and 1 percent, 7-8 inch.

Micronaire readings showed a slight decline last week; however, 90 percent was 3.5 higher with 26 percent of this total being 4.5 and higher.

Market activity remained steady. Some of the average prices being received are: Middling Spot 15-16, 30.52; Middling Light Spot 29-32, 29.88; Strict Low Middling Light Spot 15-16, 29.35; Middling Spot 15-16, 28.91 and Strict Low Middling Spot 15-16, 27.98.

The Classing Office classed a total of 25,272 samples last week. This brings the season's total to 154,701 at the close of business Friday.

ROTAN, TEXAS

There was a time when rural industry consisted of the saw mill, the cotton gin, and little else. Then the rural electric systems were organized and rural industry began to hum. Industries native to the rural area were joined by a host of manufacturing, industrial and processing projects, attracted by the steady, dependable, efficient electric service furnished by these member-owned electric systems. Farms and ranches became more productive and a billion dollar a year market for electric appliances was created.

The electric cooperatives of Texas have been good for everybody, warming the hearts and homes of rural citizens, creating a billion dollar a year market for home town merchants and furnishing dependable power for rural industry.

E. W. Clevelands Honored at Open House

Honoring their parents on their Golden Wedding anniversary, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Cleveland hosted open house in the parents' home here from three to five o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday.

Children of the couple include two sons, L. E. Cleveland of Greenville; A. T. Cleveland of Dallas; three daughters, Mrs. Lafoy Patterson of Hamlin; Mrs. Doris Smith, of San Angelo and Mrs. Elvis Elrod of Rotan. The couple has eleven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Gift flowers were used in decorating the home for the occasion. The serving table was laid with an imported cut work linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow mums and chrysanthemums. A crystal service was used in serving gold punch and cookies centered with a gold flower. Guests were from Greenville, Dallas, San Angelo, Fort Worth, Hamlin, Roby and Rotan.

Mr. Cleveland was born Jan. 2, 1882 at Townville, N. C., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cleveland. The family moved to Grayson County in 1890. He received his education there and was graduated from Gainsville Business College. He came to Fisher county in 1910.

Mrs. Cleveland is the former Annie Shellenberger, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Shellenberger, pioneers of the Pleasant Valley community, east of Rotan. Mrs. Cleveland was born in that community, January 17, 1897, and was married to Mr. Cleveland Nov. 24, 1912. Rev. O. F. Smith officiated.

The Clevelands farmed in the Pleasant Valley community until ill health forced his retirement in 1954. He also worked many years at Rotan Gin.

The Clevelands were active workers in the Baptist Church at Pleasant Valley for many years. She was pianist for thirty-five years, and Sunday school teacher for 25 years.

While Mrs. Cleveland was playing the piano, her husband was song leader in the Pleasant Valley church for many years, also being song director for 30 revival meetings, and president of the singing class. He taught a Sunday School class for several years and served as secretary of the school board in the Pleasant Valley Community.

They are now members of First Baptist Church, here.

A high school senior girl from this community may well be among those who will share in $110,000 in college scholarships being offered again this year by General Mill in its ninth annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

In past years, winners have come from every type community in the nation - large, small, medium - and from all types of schools - public parochial and private.

Senior girls here will point with a record number of more than 410,000 others in more than 12,500 of the nation's schools Tues. (Dec. 4) in a written examination to help determine winners in the 1963 Search Program.

The test, prepared by Science Research Associates, Chicago, to emphasize the importance of home-making as a career, is the determining factor in selecting local and state winners. Personal observation and interviews are added factors in selecting national winners.

The 1963 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and three runners-up will be named in the spring at the culmination of an expense-paid educational tour of New York City, Washington, D. C., and Columbia for winners from the 50 states and the District of Columbia and their advisors.

Scholarship range from $1,500 for each State Homemaker of Tomorrow and $500 for each state runner-up to $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000, respectively, for top national winners. A complete set of Encyclopedias Britannica is awarded the school of each state winner.

Including the 1963 program, close to 3 million girls have participated in the Betty Crocker Search in its nine years of operation. Scholarship grants are approaching the million dollar mark. From the start, the program has been on the approved list of national contests and activities of the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

LAMBS

are now being processed

in the Center of the Southwest

Here, in the very heart of the Nation's largest sheep-producing area, a famous packer has established a lamb processing plant.

Any new industry contributes to the economy. But a new industry which processes a product of the area is doubly important.

We are convinced that this is a growing trend. It has become an important part of our continuing efforts to inform America's business leaders about our industrial advantages.

It is another reason why we say that we face GROWTH UNLIMITED here in the Center of the Southwest.
