

Addition To Court House Is Planned

The Commissioners Court of Taylor County has started a project to construct a public building on the east side of the courthouse to provide adequate room and facilities for both the County Clerk's Office and the Office of the County Tax-Assessor and Collector. Both of these official's offices in the courthouse are crowded beyond capacity. There is not room for records books, deed records, equipment or personnel in the present offices. The crowded and very unsafe condition has been for sometime a considerable worry to the court. Every solution possible has been long considered by the Commissioners. The cheapest and most economical solution was determined to be a separate building. Recently the court appointed Lovett and Sellers, architects, of San Angelo to study the matter. These architects too recommended a separate building. In their preliminary plans and specifications, the architects estimated the building will cost around $60,000 and would tremendously benefit the County. Finally, at the regular meeting of the Court on Monday, May 24, the Commissioners Court met with representative of First South-west Company of Abilene, and entered into an agreement with that company to finance the building. The company will take warrants due from 1968 through 1973 to provide funds to pay the successful contractor when and as the bidding on the construction is held. Advertisement notice to contractors for bids will be made soon.

The County's present indebtedness, both bonds and time warrants will all be paid by November 15th 1967. The last of the Refunded Bond Bonds, Series "F" 1937 will be paid on April 10th 1967. The last of the big bond issues of 1929 will be paid on April 10th 1969. The sinking funds of these two issues has on hand sufficient money to meet all maturities. The bonds issued to finance the Rotan Rest Home will all be paid on January 1st, 1968. The Roby Rest Home bonds will all be paid on January 1st 1969. The last of the Fire truck warrants will mature on November 1st, 1970. The money required to meet the maturities of the Rest Home bonds and the fire truck Warrants all comes from the eighty-cent constitutional limit set for County operations. The Warrants that will be issued to pay for this County building will be Permanent Improvement Warrants, and will be paid for from the operating funds of the county which is limited by the Constitution to Eighty cents. In other words there can not be any tax levy to service these bonds, and it can not be a burden to the Citizens of the County. On the other hand it will be a great help in solving the overcrowded condition that now exist in the County Clerk's office and that of the Tax Collector.

E. G. Perkins, County Judge.

C. A. (Charlie) Morris of Abilene has again been named General Chairman for the Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children. Morris, owner and operator of the Farmers and Ranchers Livestock Auction of Abilene, is helped with the program by over 80 area round-up chairmen to be announced later. Morris's first appointment was that of the Horse Division chairman, Ed Heller of Dundee, Texas. Heller will assisted by the sale firm of Morris-on-Carille of Amarillo, Texas, in making plans for the annual Horse Sale. Morris has served as General Chairman of the Round-Up for three years. Each year the Round-Up, one of the major sources of revenues for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, has increased in help to the Center. The Center, dedicated to the Rehabilitation of the Handicapped, has over 1800 patients from throughout the southwest. These patients receive the finest in rehabilitation care free of charge. Morris emphasized the importance of all stockmen joining together to make this effort even greater this year to help the wonderful work being done at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

SS Benefits Available After Age 65

Fisher County residents 65 or over who have not yet applied for social security benefits were advised today to file a claim now even if they are not planning to retire. In issuing the above advice, R. R. Tuley, Jr., Abilene social security district manager pointed out that several local people who applied last year found that they had lost some benefits by not applying earlier. "We have found," said Tuley, "that the best way for a person to protect his social security benefits rights is to apply at 65 whether or not he intends to go on working. Even if no benefits are payable right away, there's an advantage in having your claim already approved when you actually retire. With entitlement already established, the benefits can be started immediately when we are notified of the retirement date." He said that according to the latest figures there are nearly 19 million Americans who are 65 or over. Of that total, more than 14 million have already established their entitlement to social security mon-

Capt. Charles R. Hamm of Little Rock, Ark., left Wireman in the famous Thunderbirds flying diamond formation made friends yesterday with 2-year old Sandra Finch after the thrilling performance at Barksdale Air Force Base in Shreveport, La., Sandra's father, Sgt. Lee Finch, 5317 Jonquil St., Barrier City, stands by. Sandra is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Weems of Rotan.

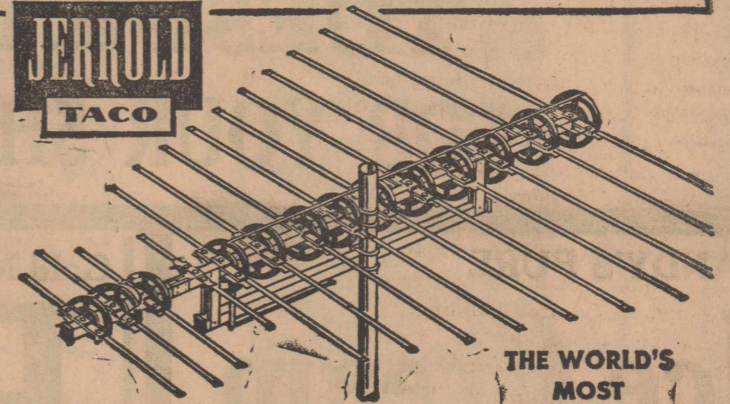

Mrs. A. P. Couch, Mr. and Mrs. Rob Couch and daughters, Christi and Cami of Lubbock visited with Mrs. H. T. Fillingim Saturday afternoon.

Monthly benefits, and 1.1 million are insured for benefits but have not yet filed their claims. The latter figures includes the wives of insured workers.

Noting that President Johnson has designated May as National Senior Citizens Month, Tuley extended a special invitation for all over-65 residents who have not applied, to talk with Mrs. Fay Ford, the field representative who services Fisher County, by going to the Rotan City Hall on Wednesday, May 12, or 26 at 10:00 A. M.

NEWS
County Agricultural Agent Texas A. & M. College Extension Service

The following is information in regards to a meeting that should be of interest to all cotton producers. The American Cotton Congress will be held in Lubbock on May 28, at the KoKo Palace, starting at 9:30 A. M. Following is the program:
Chairman - Dr. Gerald Thomas, Dean of Agriculture, Texas Tech.
"Textile Mill Need for Cutting Cotton Costs" - E. W. Webb, Director of Cotton Service, Hanes Corporation.

"National Research for Cotton Cost Reduction" - Claude Welch, Division of Production and Marketing, National Cotton Council.
"Special Extension Education Program for Cost Reduction" - Jasper Jernigan, Federal Extension Agronomist.

Luncheon Speaker - Introduction by Dusty Rhodes, New York Cotton Exchange, Frank Lowenstein, USDA Economist.

Afternoon - Chairman V. G. Young, State Agricultural Agent.
"Needed Support for Cotton Research in Texas" - Charlis Scruggs, Farm Editor, Progressive Farmer Magazine.

"Plans for Cotton Cost Reduction in Texas" - Billy Gunter, District Extension Agent, Lubbock.

"Farmer Views on Cotton Cost Reduction" - John Seibert, Extension Farm Management Specialist, Lubbock.

Interest in growing and producing pecans has been on the increase the last few years here in the county. The pecan nut casebearer reduces pecan production more than any other insect.

Wet and cold weather in Texas has greatly influenced the development of the Pecan Nut casebearer this season. According to information from the U. S. Pecan Field Station at Brownwood, they plan to start their casebearer spray program in their orchard around May 25. Information from West Cross Timbers Experiment Station at Stephenville, they plan to start their spray program around May 26 and continue until approximately June 1. Two of the main insecticides recommended for the control of the casebearer are Sevin (wetttable powder) and Malathion.

A livestock specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says grub control in beef cow herds can sometimes increase calf weaning weights as much as 40 pounds.

The Specialists, Dr. Dixon Hubbard, says grub control costs as little as 12 cents per cow and few management practices will pay such good dividends.

According to Hubbard, heavy infestations of grubs can reduce a beef cow's milk production as much as 2.5 per day. Multiply this times a 205-day suckling period and it means a loss of more than 500 pounds of milk.

Experiment Station research indicates 500 pounds of milk can make a difference of 40 pounds in the 205-day weaning weight of a calf.

Hubbard's co-worker, Entomologist Don Rummel says cost of control varies with the method of systemic treatment.

Using recommended dosages and procedures, the grub control costs per head are about 22-cents for spray, 50-cents for pour-on, and 12-cents for dipping, he said.

Grubs can also be controlled through feed that contains a systemic. Stockmen should consult their feed dealer for information on this method.

Treatment should be made after the end of the heel fly season. In the High Plains area that is about June 15.

The specialist say all methods are effective in controlling grubs and stockmen should use one that gives the best combination of costs and convenience.

They do warn that stockmen should not treat for grubs and drench on the same day.

Information on controlling grubs with systemic is available in the Extension Service publication, Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry (MP-691), available at county agents office.

GTU Holds Annual Founders Day Program

Members of Gamma Tau Chapter met at Newman High School cafeteria in Sweetwater recently for a program in honor of "Founders Day" and the 36th birthday of Delta Kappa Gamma.

Mrs. Joe Benson, president, presided, Miss Lera Jeane Lee offered the invocation.

Miss Louise Bollinger was in charge of special awards, and recognition was given the officers, Mrs. Benson, president; Mrs. Whit Clark, first vice-president; Mrs. Roger Eaton, second vice-president; Mrs. Marshall Hill, recording secretary; Miss Lee, corresponding secretary; Faye Rhea, treasurer, and Mrs. H. D. Melton, parliamentarian.

Recognition was also extended to Delila Baird, Mrs. James B. Day, Josie Baird, Mrs. J. R. Strayhorn, Mrs. Virgil Wolfe, Mrs. Herman Phillips, Mrs. T. E. Knapp, and Mrs. Olaf South.

As a tribute to founders, Mrs. Phillips read "Builders," a musical reading, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Higgins.

Recognition of the Chapter's charter members and the past presidents was directed by Mrs. Robert Witherspoon. Charter members present were Josie Baird and Mrs. Day. Past president honored were Josie Baird and Mmes. Strayhorn, Phillips, Oddis Brown, Day and Knapp.

"A touch of Elegance," by Mrs. Day, was dedicated to one of the founders, Dr. Cora Martin. "Everything that the word, 'elegance,' means was truly represented by Dr. Martin. She stood for beautiful and elegant qualities," stated Mrs. Day.

Mrs. Knapp was in charge of ceremonial tributes which were paid to five living and seven deceased founders. Assisting the service by placing a floral offering were Mmes. South, Higgins, Inez Lawrence, B. M. Neblet, Clark, J. Frank Davis, Vergil Pinnell, DeWayne Wilson, W. K. Callan, Vera Ely and Jannette Marbut.

Mrs. Strayhorn, Mrs. Day and Josie Baird, as a committee to complete the Gamma Tau Chapter's history, stated that they expect to have their report ready by fall of this year.

Plans were made for several members to attend Alpha State Convention, June 11-13, at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston. Expecting to attend will be Mrs. Knapp, chairman of ceremonials, Mrs. Phillips, publicity chairman, Mrs. Clark, vice-president, and Delila Baird, general consultant.

Josie Baird was in charge of revealing secret pals and distributing gifts to members.

Mrs. Benson, president, expressed thanks to members for their cooperation and loyalty during the year.

Members attending were from Rotan, Roby, Roscoe and Sweetwater.

'As It Looks From Here'

Omar Bursleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C. -- Since World War II there has developed in this Country a sort of hypnosis whose outside signs are easy words and comfortable slogans. There has been dangerous rationalizations in glossing over unpleasant truths.

It seems to induce in those who suffer this fateful notion that if we pretend long enough that certain things are not so, they will somehow disappear. It is a game of pretending -- the pretense of which is that everybody in this world must love us.

They say that because of our strength in this world, our position is secure and that we can afford to placate, turn the other cheek and take abuse from all who wish to give it.

The tragic thing about all this performance is not that our resolution has failed us, nor that we have given up the only sensible position, but that in the process of becoming somewhat more unsafe, we have managed to convince ourselves we are still safe. At times, both as a people and as a Government, we have managed to rationalize retreat into advance, defeat into victory.

As dangerous as nuclear weapons themselves is to permit the impression that we would not use strength at our command when challenged. On the return of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain from Munich, Winston Churchill said that Britain had a choice of appeasement and dishonor which would lead to war, or to be non-appeased and courageous, which might prevent it.

War today is horrible beyond concept -- at least the kind of war assumed would come in a major showdown between the free world and the slave. Of course, this is known to all, but does that make the principle of free men any less valid? If it does, then why don't we just give up right now? Why do we not just abandon the biggest pretense of all -- that there is anything worthwhile in freedom, anything worth saving of this Republic which has been handed down to us to preserve and to protect? Of course, we are not going to do so. President Johnson's direction in South Vietnam and in the Dominican Republic is proof of it. His action should dispel the doubts of other nations as to our resolve.

The critics of the president use largely two pretensions. One is that there are no answers to the world's major problems and that, therefore, we should stop trying to find any. This argument can be used to paralyze all action and defeat all attempts at constructive thought. The other is that the risk of war is too great.

These two ideas are powerful weapons for those who say that no risk should ever be taken, those who say that there is no risk worthwhile in this contest. If this idea should permeate American thought, there may be only one permanent solution, with or without, was -- the elimination of the United States as a free Republic and the major Nation in world affairs.

We must seek solutions as though we really mean to find them, because that is the job history has given us. It is the job of saving freedom as we have saved it before and as we are going to save it again, for the simplest and most commanding of reasons -- because what is right is right. We have to defend the right and if we do not, we lose all honor, respect and decency. We also, in this happy Twentieth Century, lose our safety, our liberty, democracy, and finally, our lives.

President Johnson says we still negotiate with anyone anywhere, any time, but we do not seek agreement for the sake of having an agreement. It is not the intent of the President to give the careless inch, which with our adversaries is always the irrecoverable mile.

Firmness carries with it the possibility of great risk. In these times, weakness carries with it the certainty of national suicide. Those who scheme to impose Communist domination on the world are not pretending.

It was a painful decision for the president to put the largest United States force in a Latin Country since Woodrow Wilson's intervention in Mexico in 1914. He is criticized by many nations, and in some quarters here at home, for his abrupt actions. Latin American Countries say the President should have consulted with them prior to sending armed forces into the Dominican Republic, but there was no time for "mananas" if the establishment of another Communist regime at our back door was to be prevented.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Strayhorn, Johnny, David and Chris of Burk Burnett spent the weekend here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roby Strayhorn and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Strickland. Mr. Strickland has been in the hospital several days for treatment.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith recently were Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Leach of Dallas; Mrs. Willie Rushing of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hardy of Merkel; Mrs. Ella Smith of Abilene; S. H. Gryder of Wilson and Mrs. Glen Brenner of Houston. Mrs. Brennerman is mother of Mrs. Alton Smith.

According to The American Hereford Association of Kansas City, Herbert Kennedy, recently sold 4 registered horned Hereford cows to Pied Piper Farms of Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Hunt of Altus, Okla., visited her sister, Mrs. Arthur Brown and Mr. Brown several days this week. Their niece, Beverly Brown, a recent graduate of Rotan High School went home with them and will attend school there.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Tyson of Atlanta Ga., arrived here Tuesday of last week to visit his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Strayhorn. The group went to Wichita Falls Thursday to visit an uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sullivan, and then visited Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Strayhorn and sons in Burk Burnett, then to Post to see Mr. and Mrs. Ed Warren. Mr. and Mrs. Tyson left Post to visit with other relatives and friends on their return home.

Ross Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hale of Pampa is visiting this week with his grandparents Mrs. Darthulia Hale and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Bigham.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts had a short visit last weekend in Ennis with Everett Roberts, brother of Mr. Roberts who was critically ill for several weeks following a heart attack in January. He was dismissed recently from a Houston hospital with his health much improved.

A WINDOW on the WORLD

with RURAL ELECTRICITY

Today, all Americans can sit in on the great events of our times. In addition to all the comforts and labor-saving tools of the Twentieth Century which electricity has brought to rural America, the power line has truly opened a window on the rest of the world.

Rural electrification has made it possible for people in the most remote areas to be well-informed by radio and television. Rural people can now take an even greater part in America's social, political, and economic life, thanks to rural electrification.

We are proud of our role in helping to open this window on the world!

Midwest Electric Co-OP, INC.

Early Start On Boll Weevils Urged

According to Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., only a few overwintered weevils per acre can develop into a large population if allowed to go unchecked during the summer. The control of overwintered weevils before egg laying starts can result in significant savings. Where weevils are found an insecticide should be applied just before first squares are one-third grown to prevent egg laying.

In many fields, overwintered weevil control can be accomplished on a spot treatment basis. Overwintered weevils are usually confined to small areas of the field after emergence. Spot treatment of the infested areas early in the season will slow down, and in some instances, prevent the spread of weevils throughout the field. The beneficial insect population within the field will be less affected when treating is confined to only the spots where weevils exist.

Cotton should be checked carefully during the pre-square and early-square stage for overwintered weevils. Pay special attention to areas of the field near shinnery, shelter belts or other likely boll weevil overwintering sites. From past experiences, you should know those areas of the field where weevils usually appear first.

If weevils can be controlled before the start laying eggs, the potential weevil build-up can be greatly reduced.

Claude Thompsons Plan Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thompson, Glenn and Greg have been in Rotan the past two week ends, visiting Mrs. W. C. Sargent.

This week end the Thompsons will go to Houston to see the Astras play St. Louis Saturday night, in the Astradome. They will go on to Galveston Monday for four days of fun on the beach. Mrs. Sargent will go as far as Austin with the Thompsons. When they return to Haskell she will go to Wichita Falls to be with her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Vi Smith and Vickie. She will remain in Wichita Falls for two months, when she will then return to Haskell to have an extended vacation with the Thompsons. Last year they all toured 14 states and Washington D. C., this year they plan to tour the Western States. Besides vacations, Glenn and Greg are busy with Little League, Cub and Boy Scouts and Glenn will to Boy Scout Camp, and to Church Camp for two weeks in New Mexico.

Memorial Day--

Today, Memorial Day, the nation pauses to honor those who served and died in its service -- a solemn annual tribute by millions of Americans.

During the past year, these same Americans, many without realizing it, have been paying another kind of tribute to our military people, through their American Red Cross.

A tribute in the form of material aid, counsel, and financial assistance. During these days of limited peace, the Red Cross job continues to grow. Throughout the world, wherever servicemen are stationed, Red Cross field directors are also assigned. Of these 1,200 field directors, about one-fourth serve overseas in such locations as Vietnam, the Dominican Republic, Korea, Turkey, and Ethiopia.

For instance, last year the Red Cross helped an average of 80,000 servicemen each month at military installations and hospitals around the world, and served more than 118,000 servicemen and veterans and their families each month through Chapter Service to Military Families. A total of $11,632,000 was given in financial assistance to servicemen and their dependants and $401,000 to veterans and dependents.

In addition to the many services provided servicemen, including financial aid and counseling, the Red Cross assisted thousands of veterans in preparing and presenting claims to the Veterans Administration for government benefits.

At overseas locations selected by the Department of Defense, the Red Cross meets special recreational and moral needs of American servicemen. In Korea, clubmobile workers, traveling in teams of two, cover more than 14,000 miles each month to meet schedules planned with the military. They bring to even the most isolated military units weekly recreation programs full of American flavor. Only 50 young women, all college graduates, are chosen each year for this unique Red Cross service assignment.

The Red Cross also did a big job in keeping the communications lines open between the serviceman and his family. Last year, 505,000 communications were exchanged between field personnel at military posts and hospitals overseas and Red Cross chapters in local communities. The communications included requests for securing information for the military authorities as to the need for an emergency leave; notification of illness or death in a family; and in a more happy vein, birth announcements.

In all, the Red Cross last year spent almost 40% of its nearly 100 million dollar budget for welfare services to the armed forces, veterans, and their families, and for special services and recreation in military and Veterans Administration hospitals. It plans to spend

We, the Fisher County Young Farmers, as individuals, have heard from our political leaders and non-political leaders, on how the farmer is headed for a time when he will be working on a non-profit basis. They keep on telling us and putting bills before Congress that will destroy the farmer, yet the farmer seems to stay away from them and does most of his griping to his neighbor - until lately. We think the farmer is beginning to see what is happening to him and he is going to do something about it. From our point of view, we see that the two local associations as well as being national associations, do nothing but go against each other. They are ruining themselves. They will have to join forces and cooperate with each other. With them doing that, instead of fighting each other, would be one of the biggest jumps toward the cotton farmer getting on his feet. Farmers fighting each other will get them nowhere.

The President has instructed farm policy formation to those in government who know least about agriculture. The bills they put before Congress reflects their "know-nothingness." It is high time the direction of agricultural policies be given back to the Department of Agriculture or to people with experience in farming, not golfing and cocktail parties.

The national business men and women who have a big percent of farm customers, seem to care less for the farmer than they would a smelly fish. All they seem to want is his money. Whether or not he makes it, they don't care. Mr. Businessmen, sit down and think over your customers. How many are farmers? Take them off your list and see what you have. How much will your income drop? That is what will happen when the farmer is forced to leave his farm. Most of you will close your doors also. Mr. and Mrs. National Employees, are you satisfied with your present job? How does the farmer effect you? Does he pay any of the tax money with which you are being paid? Do you ever make a sale to a farmer? Take him off your list and see what you have. Does it make a difference?

Every farm family has their doctors, hospitals, lawyers, dentist, veterinarians, bankers, and various other professional offices. They buy groceries, fuel, electricity, automobiles, machinery, feeds, seeds, fertilizers, herbicides, clothing, parts, furniture, hardware, and thousands of things that a business makes, and employees sell. Why do they treat the farmer like a smelly fish, instead of trying to help him and his family. How can you help? By golly, stir up a fuss at the White House. Swamp the President with letters, telegrams, phone calls and personal visits if possible. Let him know that if the farmer fails, you fail also. Help the farmer get a better price for his cotton. It takes about $.27 to make a pound of cotton. Here in Fisher County this year we will average about $.24 a pound for our cotton. Sure the government will say we get $.20 for it. That is top grade cotton. We don't grow it here in Fisher County, not many places do. The government is trying to make us stop skip-row planting. In other words we plant 2 rows of cotton and skip 2, 3, or 4 rows, so that when droughty weather hits, the cotton will have the skipped rows to get moisture. If we have to plant every row, our cotton will burn up. Only irrigated cotton will survive. We dry land farm, not irrigate. Fellow Americans, we need your help. By now you should see that your future lies with the farmer. Why our political leaders cannot see, that the farmer holds the future of America in his hands is something we cannot see. All that we want is to make a sufficient living. Farm with better machinery, fertilize more, try and control cotton insects better, spray for weed control, build better homes, buy better appliances, clothes, automobiles, insurance and thousands of various other things. Would it hurt you if we did this? Don't you, Mr. Businessman think that one could profit from it as we would profit. We have medical bills, bank notes and various other bills we would like to pay. As it stands now, we have no hope. We are Young Farmers, most of us just getting started at farming. We will soon be taking the places of our Adult Farmers who will be too old to farm, and who have helped us to get started. Someday we will have to turn our farms over to our younger generation, that is if we can keep them. Otherwise they would blow away, as well as your business.

The government is ruining America and doesn't seem to realize it. Cut this clipping from this paper. Mail it, or give it to a friend, or someone who can, or will, place it in other papers, tell of it on Television, radio, write it in stories, in magazines, or face political leaders with it. We have got to get something done now. There was a very good friend of all America who once said, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country."

TEXANS THINK BIG...1965 PLYMOUTH WAGONS

'65 PLYMOUTH FURY WAGON

PAA

How big do you want your station wagon to be? Plymouth has 16 great big, great looking, great going wagons to choose from. Valiants, Belvederes and Furies. Or, if you want to talk size, big, bigger and mammoth! For picnics or proms, camping or carting, you'll find a Plymouth wagon just for you. So if you're a Texan who thinks big, you'll want to see and drive a new, '65 Plymouth wagon. And think about the 5-year/50,000-mile engine and drive train warranty.* Then you're thinking quality!

*Here's how Plymouth's 5-year/50,000-mile engine and drive train warranty protects you:
Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential and rear wheel bearings. Required maintenance: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

OUT OF DARKNESS

Light was the first thing God created. "Woe to those who put light for darkness and darkness for light," Isaiah 5:20. Jesus said, "I am the light of the world, he who follows me shall not walk in darkness," Matt. 5:7. A great statesman said guidance for America was not in the state house, or the court house, or the counting house, not even in the school house, but in the Church House. Bad men are not wise men. Atheists and scoffers at church and religion are ignorant men. Light reveals... it shows the difference. What sunlight is to the body, God and the Bible are to the mind. Is your soul facing God's light? Are You Out of the Darkness?
