Little League Pennant Race To Final Week

	WON	LOST
VETS	11	3
REBELS	9	5
YANKEES	9	5
P. PEDDLERS	1	13

The Vets take a two game lead into the final week of Little League action but must face the second place Rebels in both of their last two games. The Vets and Rebels play Friday and again Tuesday night to decide the 1965 pennant outcome. In earlier meetings of these two teams, both have won two games. Following the Tuesday night game the 1965 All-Star Tournament team will be announced.

Thursday, July 1, the Rebels defeated the Prune Peddlers 17-2. Rebel batters collected 12 hits, three by Mickey Early and two each by Sidney Hariman, David Springer, and Chico Garcia. One of Sidney Hariman's was his ninth home run of the year, setting a new all time home run record for the Rotan Little League. The old record had been held by Teddy Roe Underhill and Jimmy Rives. Sidney was also the winning pitcher, allowing the Prune Peddlers no hits.

Friday night a Yankee late inning rally fell one run short as the Vets nudged them 9-8. Larry Lee upped his perfect pitching record to 5-0. Walter Hargrove had a two for three night at the plate.

Monday's game saw the Yankees take a 18-7 victory over the Rebels. Pee Wee Wynn paced the Yankee hitters with his first home run of the year. Hank Day gained the win. Chico Garcia stroked his fifth homer of the year to bring him into a tie with Hank Day for second place in the home run column.

Tuesday the Vets staged a three run rally in the bottom of the fifth inning to break a 2-2 tie and defeat the Prune Peddlers 5-2. Larry Lee pitched a one hitter to gain his sixth win of the year while Walter Hargrove again led the Vets hitters with two for three.

Hank Day of the Yankees continued to pace the top ten hitters with an average of .587 with Sidney Hariman of the Rebels his nearest competition with an average of .500. Others include: W. Hargrove (V) .417; H. Martin (Y) .417; Steve Nowlin (Y) .385; C. Garcia (R) .363; B. Roa (V) .344; N. Kennedy (Y) .293; R. Hale (PP) .290; E. Yanez (R) .281.

Cotton Insect Field Meetings Scheduled

A series of four cotton insect field meetings will be held in Fisher County Thursday, July 15, according to Fisher County Agent James S. Norman.

Emory Boring, area entomologist, with Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Vernon, will be at each of the meetings to discuss insect identification and the latest information on insect control.

The meetings will be held according to the following schedule:

8:00 A. M. Frank Mitchell's cotton, on the Randolph farm South East of Roby. Turn East off Highway 70 south of Cotton Wood Creek bridge then south by T. M. Randolph's and follow turnrow north of house.

9:30 A. M. Lee Rasberry farm. Turn east off highway 70 just north of the bridge over the Clear Fork of the Brazos North of Roby, on dirt road and go a mile and a half. South side of road.

11:00 A. M. Charles McCall farm, three miles east of Rotan on the South side of the Rotan-Hamlin Highway.

2:00 P. M. Jerry Jeffrey's cotton (R. E. Kidd farm) on farm road 1812 in the Lawlis Flat.

These four fields are being checked each week this summer by Joe Hoover and Randy Duchsch, insect survey team with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. There are four of these teams working the Rolling Plains Cotton Growing Area. Each team checking seven to eight counties. These survey teams are a joint program of the Agricultural Extension Service and the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Joe and Randy will be making regular weekly check at the time the meetings are scheduled for; therefore affording interested cotton producers a chance to see what they are finding, says Norman.

FB Ins. Co. Reports Passing Asset Strength

According to W. A. Hancock, the Texas Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company has recently surpassed asset strength of more than $10 million for the first time in the company's history. This announcement was made today by B. C. Jones, Executive Vice President.

Mr. Jones also said that this settlement gives the company an increase in assets from $3,511,164 to $10,202,247 from December 31, 1960 to June 1965. This makes a 190% growth in the past 4 1/2 years. This new plateau of financial strength and size will enable the company to be of even more service to Texas Farm Bureau members in the future.

Texas Farm Bureau Mutual, with some in Waco, writes fire, crop-hail, and commercial insurance for Texas Farm Bureau members.

Local Boys Attend Salvation Army Camp

Approximately 800 young boys, chosen from 239 Salvation Army Service Unit Committees operating in Texas cities and communities, have attended a full week of outdoor activities at the Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas.

Local boys who attended were C. C. Carr and Arthur Lee Carr. Mac Weathersbee is camp chairman for the Rotan Service Unit Committee.

The boys went to camp by bus. Located on a rolling, heavily wooded tract of 340 acres, Camp Hoblitzelle is seven miles south of Midlothian, eight miles west of Waxahachie, and within an hour's drive of Dallas. The camp features a large lake of waterskiing, fishing and boating, a swimming pool, a gymnasium, and well-equipped playgrounds and recreation areas. Organized sports and activities are under the supervision of experienced coaches and counselors.

Campers were housed in attractive brick and redwood cabins. Expert cooks and kitchen personnel prepared balanced, nutritious meals, designed for the needs of growing youngsters, which were served in the camp's own dining room.

Camp Hoblitzelle has been possible through the generous gifts of more than one hundred men and women of Texas. Their gifts provided money for the purchase of the land, buildings and improvements on the property. The Salvation Army operates the camp for the benefit of youth who, without the help of the Salvation Army, would not have the opportunity to enjoy camp life.

Witherspoon To Attend McMurry Band School

Abilene-John H. Witherspoon, a Rotan youth, has completed plans to attend the 18th annual McMurry college Band and Twirling school here July 11-24.

John will receive instruction in playing the French horn.

More than 300 students from all over Texas have been accepted for the two-week band and twirling school with the total expected to reach almost 500 by the start of classes.

Classes will offer training in individual instruments, conducting, marching, stage band, theory, concert band, twirling, band maping and a course in reading band for the more advanced students.

Planned activities for the students include theatre parties, concerts, socials, campus movies and tennis. Many of the students will live on the McMurry campus in dormitories during the two-week clinic.

Some of the faculty members for the band clinic are: Willis Giddens, Friona; Jim Jones, Hamlin; Merlin Jenkins, Abilene; Judy Mathis, Roscoe; Carl Lobitz, Odessa; Gene and Karen Young, Blains; Russel McKiski, Big Spring; and Warren Thaxton, Abilene.

Applications for attending the band school are being accepted and additional information can be obtained from Dr. Raymond T. Bynum, school director. Students will be able to apply until the first day of the school, providing the number of applicants does not grow too large, according to Dr. Bynum.

Nearly 500 students from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Kansas took part in the band school last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shows returned home Tuesday from a vacation trip to Hot Springs, Ark., where all of their children met for a family get-together.

Billy Hudnall Is Hq. Chaplain Natl. Guard

Camp Mabry, Austin—With an insight to the horrors of battles that they may someday fight, the men of the National Guard have a respect and gratitude for life that fosters a deep awareness of the presence of God.

This thanksgiving for life, says Chaplain Billy Hudnall, rather than worship because of fear of loss of life, is the proper motivation to seek fulfillment of spiritual needs.

First Lieutenant Hudnall, a former Austin minister and now pastor of the First Baptist Church in the West Texas town of Rotan, is chaplain of State Headquarters of the Texas Army National Guard.

As Headquarters chaplain, his military parishioners include both the Guard's highest commanders and the Guard's future leaders—the officer candidates of the Texas National Guard Academy.

Chaplain Hudnall drives to Austin monthly from Rotan to meet with State Headquarters and the officer candidate school at Camp Mabry.

"Men in the Guard have a high respect for the spiritual," the Chaplain says. "I've been surprised at how well the men listen and how interested they are."

Chaplain Hudnall believes the men of the Guard seek spiritual fulfillment for the same reason they have volunteered for reserve armed forces service—an understanding of the stake they and their families have in a Christian nation and way of life.

"I don't like the idea of worship because of fear," he says, "But in the Guard, there is an interest in the spiritual without fear."

"Spiritual needs are basically the same for all: a need for a deeper awareness of God and a personal relationship with Him," the Chaplain says. "Then, there must be an awareness of the power of God."

In working with the much-harassed, much-driven, and overly anxious officer candidates, Chaplain Hudnall follows a trio of aims: a call to the challenge, a message of encouragement, and a boost for the mind.

The Chaplain says the officer candidates classes "have less crybabies per man than you'd find in the general public."

The 32-year-old Chaplain is a native of Scurry County. He was schooled at rural Hermleigh High, studies Bible at Hardin-Simmons University, and attended Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary in Port Worth.

After finishing the seminary, Chaplain served churches in East Texas and in Bryan before coming to Austin. He pastored at South First Baptist Church from 1960 to 1964 when he went to Rotan.

He is married to the former Sammie Wall of Snyder. They have a daughter, Suzanna, 5.

Chaplain Hudnall joined the National Guard in early 1963 as Headquarters chaplain. He attended Army chaplain training at Fort Mampilton, New York.

DEMOCRACY
WORSHIP

What fortunate people we are, in these United States of America! Our fathers purchased for us at great cost the priceless privileges of Democracy; the right of a people to make decisions as to their speech, their government and their religion. This means, as William Jennings Bryan used to say, the right to make our own mistakes, and then the responsibility to correct them. In other words we have accepted responsibility to live together for the common good and in mutual goodwill. We must do two things to be worthy at all of this magnificent inheritance: (1) We must seek to understand and to appreciate what Democracy means, and (2) We must see that Democracy works.

The right to vote carries the responsibility to vote. The right to think for one's self requires that we read and discuss and become responsible and well informed thinkers. The right to free speech calls for the self-control and the wisdom which will make our speech of good temper and of helpful counsel to others, who likewise have the same freedom of speech. The right to worship according to the dictates of our consciences summons us to train our consciences so that we shall choose well, surely that we shall worship somewhere. Democracy is the most elevated of systems of economic, of civil, and of religious living, but it is also the most difficult. For it requires so much of those who assume responsibility to govern themselves. There must be self-discipline; there must be the training of youth in disciplined living; there must be high dedication to the common good, as over against selfish behaviour. A man who lives only for himself is an autocrat and not a democrat.

Democracy challenges each of us to think of every other person as a sister or a brother in the universal family of God; every man is a child of God, who merits respect and concern from us.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that youth and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial and a stranger gives character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

'As It Looks From Here'

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C. -- Last week the House of Representatives passed one of the most far-reaching pieces of legislation ever conceived. The measure places entirely new concepts into public housing. It is known as rent supplements.

To oversimplify, it means that when a family pays more than 25 percent of its income in rent for housing provided under the program, the Government makes up the difference.

During the debate, congressman Herlong of Florida drew an analogy with the Government umpiring a baseball game. Since Washington is taking a hand in about everything, including recreation, it seems that the umpire is eventually going to be a Government official.

The imagined ball game is between the New York Mets and Los Angeles Dodgers. Most of the new rules since the Government had taken over had been explained in spring training, but Casey Stengel, the manager of the Mets, just could not get it straight.

"It is assumed," said the umpire with great patience, "that any team that win fewer than 50 percent of its games is the victim of insidious discrimination which is a blatant affront to the conscience of this generation of Americans."

"Quite so," said Casey. "Last season we won 53 and lost 109."

"The new rules," the umpire said, "will not permit this. The acid of the Cards shall not be allowed to corrode the soul of the Mets. Neither can a prosperous nation tolerate islands of poverty in a sea of plenty. The Mets therefore begin the season with 15 games in the win column--and each of their batter gets one extra strike."

The teams take the field. In the first inning the Dodgers load the bases and Willie Davis clobbered one into the stands. As he came trotting around third base the umpire came out and stopped him. "The challenge before us is clear and immediate," the umpire said. "You are flouting the Constitution. You are frustrating the intent of the Mets. The hymns of the oppressed have summoned us to justice. You are out."

By the end of the fifth inning the score was the Mets 3 and the Dodgers 8. It would have been more one-sided but for the fact that in the interest of social justice, the umpire had cut the Dodgers down to seven men. Willie Davis was playing the entire outfield by himself

Article On Recent Sanderson Disaster

This is a statement of the disaster which recently came to Sanderson, Texas. Written by James Clifton Hancock, pastor of First Baptist Church, Sanderson. Clifton attended schools in Fisher County: Rotan, Hobbs and finished at Roby later attended Hardin-Simmons, Abilene and the Seminary, Fort Worth. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hancock.

THE DAY SANDERSON STIRRED

"The day broke grey and rainy. It had been raining steadily since midnight. It rarely rains that much in the dry, arid reaches of the Big Bend country. At first we were glad that the rains had come. As morning dawned we were wondering about water that surely would come down normally empty Sanderson Canyon. But he did not dream that any disaster could result from that water.

The First Baptist Church was in the midst of a Vacation Bible School. Four days had passed, the fifth was on us. Everyone was getting ready to go to the church. A few people called and asked the pastor if we would continue. I told them we would. I really thought that in a little while the clouds would go away and the sun would come out and the day would be fine after a wonderful rain. But at about five minutes after seven o'clock (that is when all electric clocks stopped) all of the business as usual came to an abrupt halt.

At seven o'clock I stepped out my front door and looked toward the Canyon about three blocks away. What I saw was unbelievable. I saw water rushing past the buildings at a terrific speed. It was dashing upward in waves like motions ten or perhaps fifteen feet above the major body of water. Trees, railroad ties, poles, automobiles, and trailer houses were going down the raging stream. I rushed back into the house and told my wife that I was sure we were in trouble and if anyone else called about Bible School to tell them it was called off for the day. I got into the car and drove down to the main street through town, which is Highway 90. What I saw is hard to describe. The water had taken almost everything in its path. Houses were gone, people were gone, automobiles were gone. Every person I looked at was stunned and largely speechless. I asked several persons if their family was safe. Some of them said they were. Others could only say they did not know -- they could not get home. I talked to one Mexican friend who related how a young boy had just told him that the last he saw of his father, he was going downstream. To date this body has not been found. It was terrible. People were wet, cold and frantic.

I found by friend Bob Moon, the pastor of the local Presbyterian Church and discussed with him the need for a rescue shelter. It was decided that the Elementary School would serve best. The people began to go there. I started making the homes of our Church members and asked for clothing, food and bedding to be used at the school building. Soon it began to arrive. Every person in town seemed to want to help. Those who had been hit brought out everything they could for the victims to use.

The school, as well as the entire town, was without electricity. It was also without gas and water. The women began cooking food at the Baptist and Presbyterian churches here they had butane gas stoves. A coffee shuttle was put into motion. Two ranchers would take the hot coffee to the school from the churches and volunteers would serve it to the victims. By eleven o'clock we were serving hot meals to the people. Dry clothing was being given. Literally thousands of dollars of food stuffs were brought into the school. All of this was given by the people of Sanderson. I want to register a tribute to the good people of Sanderson who responded so quickly and generously in this time of disaster. It did me a favor and made me proud of the fact that there were so many unselfish people right here in our town.

You see, Sanderson is to a great extent, an isolated town. It is sixty-five miles to Fort Stockton, eighty-five to Alpine and one hundred-twenty to Del Rio. When disaster struck, it took our line of communication out. It was hours before help could even hear about our trouble -- much less get here to help us. This was the time that Sanderson stirred. Those hours between disaster time about seven o'clock in the morning and after mid-day before outside help could get into Sanderson.

The raging water had come like an angry dragon. Sweeping destruction and death before its passing. Then, like a coward that it was, moved on to the Rio Grande River and finally to the Gulf of Mexico.

The neighboring towns began to come in to help. Our Sheriff was one of the busiest men in town. Leading men looking for lost persons, searching for the stranded or wounded. Finding the dead and bringing them to a temporary morgue. Sanderson has no funeral home. Our local Methodist Pastor, Billar Stroup, helped with this heartbreaking task.

The Salvation Army sent in a mobil unit. The Red Cross set up its organization. Radio operators set up and started sending our messages out and getting messages in. Everyone who wanted to help, local or neighbors could find plenty to do. And those who wanted to work and did work are to be commended highly.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday were frantic days for all of us. Little sleep and really no rest. Saturday afternoon I decided that the temporary shelter at the school could get along without my help. I spent the afternoon using a shovel and hoe helping clean out the home and cafe that belonged to one of our church members. It was an unpleasant task, but one that had to be done. The young couple had lost so much and yet were so courageous that I just had to do what I could to help them.

Sunday morning came and I wondered just how many would be in the service. First, I made the rounds of all the projects going in town to see if there was anything I could do before church time. Everything was going as well as could be expected. I returned and to very small congregation preached as best I could using as a topic, "We have a high priest" based upon Hebrews 4. I announced that we would not have services that evening because I would be at work somewhere. Again that afternoon I used a shovel to move debris from the home of an elderly couple who are members of our church family.

The full story cannot be told here. But the work still goes on a full two weeks after and it will continue for some time.

But why did it happen? Why did it happen to the people of Sanderson? Why do such disasters come upon people at any place anywhere? These are the questions we are always faced with in time of trouble and distress. Why, why, why? We are still searching for the answers. Perhaps a partial answer can be learned from the comment of an elderly Mexican woman who said, "In this pushbutton age, when our young people think they can just push a button and get what they want God wants us to remember that He too, can push His button and send a mighty warning."

I believe that the warning God would have us hear today is the same one that Jesus gave as He started His ministry, "Repent, for

Christian Science Service Sunday

The record of Jesus' last supper and his meetings with the disciples after his resurrection will be reviewed in the Bible Lesson-Sermon to be heard in all Christian Science churches this Sunday, July 11.

The subject is "Sacrament," and the olden Text is from I Corinthians: "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

One of the related passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook will include these lines: "In the quiet sanctuary of earnest longings, we must deny sin and plead God's allness. We must resolve to take up the cross, and go forth with honest hearts to work and watch for wisdom, Truth and Love" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 15).

Guests of Mrs. H. T. Fillingim Tuesday were her sister, Mrs. O. W. English and sister-in-law, Mrs. A. P. Couch Sr., both of Lubbock.

Visiting over the weekend with Mrs. C. C. Roach and other relatives was her sister Mrs. C. L. Sutton and son of Lubbock.

Christian Science Plans
New Boston Mass.
Church Center

Sweeping new plans to construct a 15-acre "church center" for the expanding world headquarters of the Christian Science movement were announced today by the Board of Directors of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

A letter from the Directors giving information about the project was received locally by Mrs. Ruth Smith, assistant committee on publication.

The letter said that the Church's new center could "no longer be postponed" in order to meet the needs of its expanding activities.

A master plan -- prepared for the Church by a leading firm of architects and city planners, I. M. Pei & Associates of New York, -- also covers an additional 16 acres of partially church-owned land around the "center."

On this surrounding land, the plan calls for leases to private re-developers to construct 3,500 new middle-income apartment units, plus retail shops, office space, improved pedestrian ways, and underground parking facilities. Cost of this privately-developed phase is figured at $63,000,000 or more.

The total project area -- combining both Church and private sectors -- covers 31 acres and would be constructed in stages over a period of 6 to 10 years.

Construction is expected to be under way within two years, with the new Church Administration Building to be completed first.

Mrs. Jas. B. Day had as her guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Blacklock, Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Keese, Stamford; Mrs. Margaret Cooper and David, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Cross, Mrs. C. S. Berryhill, Mrs. Opal Putman of Big Spring and Mrs. J. V. Hellums. Mr. and Mrs. Blacklock returned to their home Tuesday.

Holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wicker were her brother-in-law, Clyde Temple of Ft. Worth, her sister, Mrs. Tilford Lear and Mr. Lear who are spending the summer in Socorra, New Mexico.

Sandy Blevens and Mrs. Bertie Burrow attended the parade in Stamford Thursday and visitde in Abilene Friday with Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Poore, Lou and Danna, of Ralls visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartsfield over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bridges spent last week in Buffalo, New York. They visited Mrs. John Fitzsimmons and Mr. Bridges attended a meeting of Board Plant Superintendents of National Gypsum Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Odis Sparks, Peggy and Kip Underhill visited Bernice and Ray Leeman in San Antonio Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Nancy Tandy and sons, Kelvin and Richard have moved back to Rotan. Mrs. Tandy and sons have lived in California four years and she taught in the public schools in Whittier. She will be a member of Rotan School faculty this year.

Mrs. Carrie Holfcomb of Roby visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cooper Thursday.

Mrs. Ellis Locke of Maima came Wednesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Shelton.

Your feet must last a lifetime, and if you've been sight-seeing, hiking or just walking a lot lately, you're probably quite conscious of this fact.

Just because your feet are the lowest extremity of your body, doesn't mean that they deserve to be istreated. Far from it. If your feet are to last a lifetime and serve you well, they require good care.

If you can heed the findings and suggestions by researchers and physicians before you have difficulty with your feet, you'll be way ahead.

According to a recent study, three times as many boys as girls have mild to severe skin problems with their feet. The researchers related that fact to the girl's student's tendency to take off their shoes or slip their heels out of their shoes when sitting in classes or elsewhere. The girls also wore lighter and lower shoes than the boys. Both of these habits tend to minimize excessive perspiration of the feet. Perspiring feet are moist feet, and moist feet provide an excellent environment for the growth and multiplications of the organisms which contribute to diseases of the feet.

Although the locker room has long been considered the culprit of foot infections, research shows that fungous disease of the feet is probably not spread by such exposure.

Instead, there are several points you can not and include in your foot-care program.

Keep your feet clean by washing them frequently, always drying them thoroughly. If needed, use an antiseptic foot powder after drying.

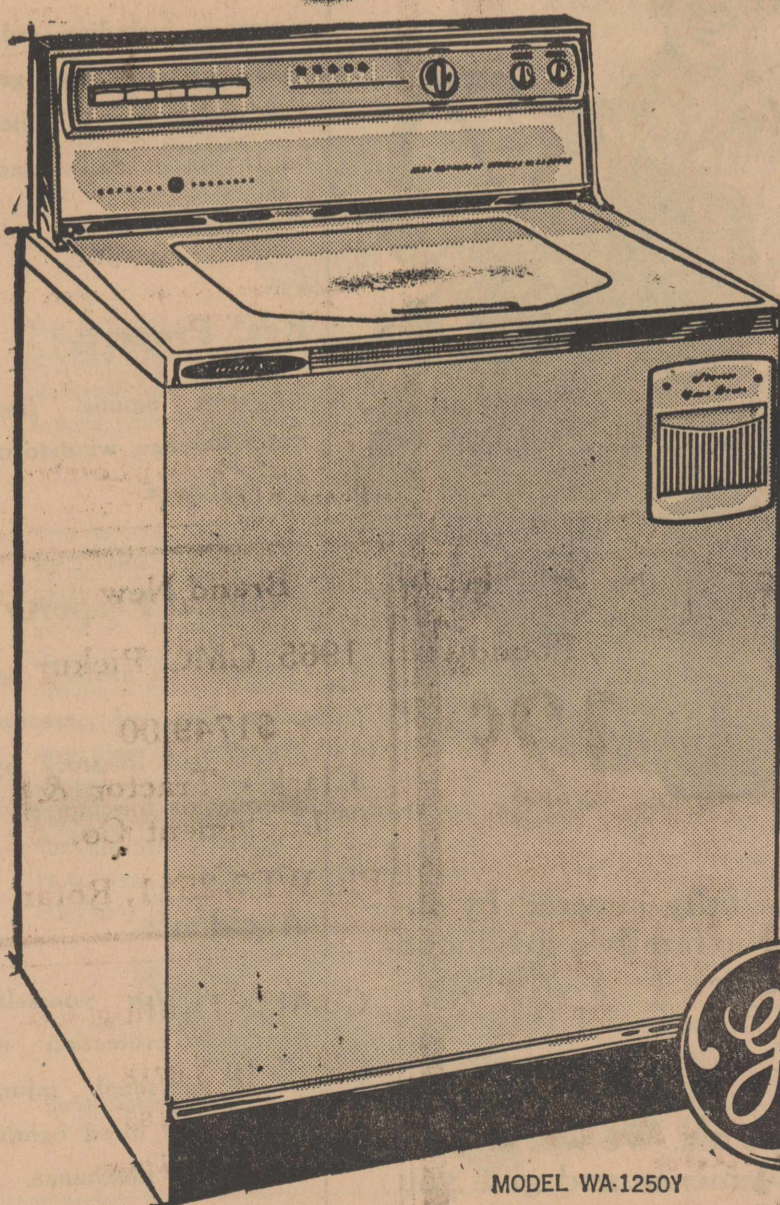

As for footwear, use lightweight light colored socks to minimize excessive perspiration. And change socks whenever they become damp.

The shoes, researcher found, normally contributing the most to good foot hygiene are those that cause the least perspiration. And as for youngsters, the researchers found that oxfords are preferable to boots, sneakers or tennis shoes for all-day wear.

Remember, your feet must last a lifetime, so give them the best of care.

Mrs. George Field had dental surgery in Abilene Tuesday. She was in Callan hospital Monday and spent Tuesday night there, returning home Wednesday.

Information Given On Cotton Legislation

According to Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., thirteen organizations of cotton-growers, representing eighty percent of the cotton-farmers of the nation, and producing more than two thirds of the total crop, agreed on a statement of principles, in Washington.

These growers maintain that cotton-farmers are the foundation of the cotton industry, and that both legislative and administrative policies must recognize that net incomes from cotton must be sufficient to buy new machinery and develop new methods for achieving maximum efficiency. This will permit the reduction of production costs and the improvement of cotton quality to meet the competition of other fabrics. Without progressive farmers, the cotton industry will die.

"As the result of the 1964 cotton legislation," the growers say, "gains in the domestic market have been impressive. Domestic consumption has increased a million bales a year. The general prosperity of the cotton industry has been reflected in greater income for the mills, more benefits for stockholders, greater employment for the workers and greater overall prosperity in the entire textile area of the nation. In the face of an expanding economy and an overall rise in prices, the prices of cotton goods have nevertheless held the line in many cases, and generally have increased less than other goods."

"It is in the foreign markets that cotton has taken a severe beating. Consumption of U. S. cottons in foreign markets has declined one and a half million bales a year during the period 1961-64 as compared with the 1956-60 period."

"A continuation of present policies is expected to bring continued growth in home market as the economy expands, but unless a positive approach to the export problem is taken, the economic future of millions of people affected by the cotton industry is bleak indeed."

"At a White House Conference in September 1963, President John F. Kennedy called for a new concentration by American industry in expanding our market abroad. The President listed several responsibilities of government in expanding these markets. Among them were: Tax policies which promote increased efficiency; vigorous negotiation for the reduction of tariff and non-tariff barriers against our products; to refrain from placing unnecessary barriers in the way of exports; and to furnish positive help in the form of credits, guarantees and other technical assistance. We call upon the government to use all of these aids to help United State cotton regain its historic share of the world's cotton markets -- a share which must not be less than six million bales a year."

With these factors in mind, the grower groups have agreed upon these specific policy points:

1. The negative approach to cotton exports must be abandoned, and a positive effort in keeping with the spirit and letter of Sec. 203 of the Agricultural Act of 1956 must be pushed to achieve a six million bale annual share of the expanding world market.

2. Direct payments, in lieu of non-recourse loans as basic cotton farm income supports are unacceptable to this overwhelming majority of cotton farmers. Such a policy would push cotton prices down to 20-22 cents a pound on the main streets of country marketing-towns. Thus, if farm income is to be maintained, it would be necessary for more than thirty percent of such income to be derived directly through government appropriations.

3. The national allotment of 16 million acres must be retained as a base for any adjustments in production by individual farmers.

4. Major reductions in government costs cannot realistically be taken out of the net income of cotton-farmers. They have already been caught in a squeeze of rising equipment-prices and rising government-guaranteed labor costs, which have drastically reduced and in some cases eliminated their profits. Further cuts through Congressional or Administrative actions will be protested by a vast majority of cotton farmers -- intensively and persistently.

5. Recognizing the necessity of future reductions in government costs, these growers suggest changes in the level of price supports only as relative changes in the cost of production develop.

6. These growers agree that, in this nation, dedicated to economic growth and stability, it is unthinkable that cotton, one of the historic cornerstones of our economy, will be made the victim of big acreage reductions, disappearing net farm-incomes, and the elimination of job opportunities for people associated with cotton production and allied business and industry.
