Hammers Drop To Pied Pipers

Hamlin's Pied Pipers proved to have too much experience and power for the Yellowhammers last Friday night in the seasons opener on the local field. The Pipers piled a 21-6 victory, with tailback Phillip Simpson scoring all 3 touchdowns.

Rotan's only score came in the first quarter when the Hammers recovered a fumble on the Hamlin 19. QB David Hargrove heaved a 20 yard pass to wingback Alex Coleman for the touchdown.

Constitution Week--

The Constitution is the safeguard of all our liberties, champion of our freedom. The purpose of the observance of Constitution Week is to recall to the American people the true significance of the events that occurred during the week of September 17-23, 1787, and to revitalize appreciation of our great heritage, the Constitution.

The National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution was responsible for the Resolution adopted by the Senate of the United States. Senator William F. Knowland of California introduced Sen. Concurrent Res. No. 140, requesting the President to issue a proclamation setting aside September 17-23 as Constitution Week. President Eisenhower issued a proclamation in August 1955 and Public Law No. 915 received the approval of the lawmakers.

Draft Calls Remain Heavy

Austin, Sept 12 — State draft boards are scheduled to forward 4,000 young men for pre-induction mental and physical examinations in October, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, announced Thursday.

This same number of young men are being forwarded for pre-induction examinations in September.

The state's 155 draft boards will be called upon to furnish 977 men for induction in October.

This compares with quotas of 1,180 for September, 1,421 for August, 974 for July, 975 for June, and 885 for May.

Local board quotas for induction and pre-induction examination in October already have been figured and sent to the state's 155 draft boards.

The Texas quota of 977 for October is the state's share of a national call of 17,000, all for the army.

First '67 Bale Ginned Saturday

First bale of cotton for Rotan was ginned Saturday by Farmers Gin Company. J. C. Edwards, gin manager, stated the cotton was brought in several days previous, but was not ginned until Saturday. Edwards also ginned the first bale last year on the same date, Sept. 9, 1966.

The cotton was grown on the L. A. Sparks farm about 14 miles north of Rotan by Leo Lopez, renter. The 2-300-pounds of seed cotton ginned out a 560-pound lint bale.

The gin paid a premium price for the lint bale and the seed, with ginning and wrapping free. The Rotan Chamber of Commerce paid a $50 premium, which gave the grower a total of $215.10 for the first bale was from a field of early cotton.

Early Cotton Stalk Shredding

College Station, Sept. 11 — Boll weevils caused extensive damage in 1967 in a number of the state's cotton producing areas and emphasizes the importance of an early stalk destruction program, advises Extension Entomologist John Thomas at Texas A&M University.

Early cotton stalk destruction, he adds, is very important in reducing both pink bollworm and boll weevil populations the following year. To be most effective, the program should cover a wide area. Stalks should be shredded as soon as possible after harvest, preferably with a flail-type shredder, he says. Such a machine destroys about 90 percent of the pink bollworm larvae in the plant residue as compared with 50 tonal rotary-type shredder, he says.

Boll weevil require a number of days feeding on squares and bolls to prepare themselves for entering diapause. Where stalks are shredded and plowed under the food supply is removed and a high percent of the boll weevil population is deprived of food necessary for overwintering, explains Thomas.

After the cotton crop residue has been shredded, fields should be plowed so the crop residue is buried at least 6 inches deep. Plowing under kills even more larvae than the shredding operation alone.

Irrigation or rain following plowing aids in the decomposition of crop residues, Thomas adds. If moisture is low, pre-irrigation or early spring rains greatly aid in this decomposition.

Thomas emphasizes the importance of early harvest, clean fields and crop residue destruction in effectively and economically controlling pink bollworm and reducing boll weevil populations for 1968.

In light of the tremendous boll weevil populations which have developed in many areas of the state in 1967, it will be most important that producers shred and plow under crop residue as early as possible following harvest, says the entomologist.

Thomas encourages all producers to contact their county Extension agent for additional information concerning early stalk destruction as an aid for controlling two of the most damaging of all cotton insects.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
 . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Here is an example of a one-sided battle! It's that same old battle between the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Study the rounding edges of this massive granite formation. The wind is winning—persuasively and very definitely.

Note the deep clefts where chips have fallen from the old block. Rain, snow, ice are the victors here.

And see the pines growing topside on this barren bulk.
 Each year their roots press deeper into the hidden faults.

What does this prove? Well, for one thing it shows that the lifeless rock is no match for the moving, living, growing forces in God's creation. So never overestimate the strength of that stubborn secularism that sometimes appears to dominate our world.

In worship and religious pursuit, millions are linking their souls with the vital spiritual forces which shall prevail!

Showtime--

by Oscar A. Dietz

Well I was going to write a blistering column today after Friday's game, but Brenda brought some home-made ice cream and that put me in a fine mood, so I'll just state a few facts as I see them. We have a fine team, all that is wrong is the lack of a desire or fighting spirit. As the old saying goes 'You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink'. By the same token you can teach a boy to play football but you can't make him win. And you can't win football games by turning the other cheek, YOU HAVE TO SMITE THEM HIP AND THIGH. As for any other criticism, there are others more qualified who are paid to handle that. I do want to object to the officials though. When there is such flagrant misuse of authority someone must state the facts. I refer to two instances, one where Larry was tackled and the ball was moved back to where his feet were, not where the ball was carried, and the other was the return of the ball to the line of scrimmage for Hamlin when Bob Clifton was trapped and chased back some 15 or 20 yards and fumbled the ball. Whether he threw the ball, in which case it should have been intentionally grounding, or if it was knocked out of his hand, the ball traveled backward. Were these officials in training, or just testing their authority? Well you don't have to test my authority when I say we have the greatest pictures here at the Lance. Now wasn't that sneaky? No comment from the employees. Truly, with Sid Caesar in "THE SPIRIT IS WILLING" and Jerry Lewis in "CINDERELLA" showing now, and then Dean Martin (he's the bad guy?) and Jean Simmons (she's a lot of woman in this picture) in "ROUGH NIGHT IN JERICHO", plus Marlon Brando (the mumbler) and Sophia Loren (who can't help but be a lot of woman) in "A COUNTESS FROM HONG KONG" following along Sunday through Wednesday, we have a lot of show going on right here in little ole Rotan. The beast's bargain in the whole state. And don't forget we want you to eat with us too. Like those big juicy hot dogs, and that crisp buttered popcorn, and fresh delicious candy, and of course like Jack Cook over in Sweetwater says, we got plenty of 'bat cold sparkling Dr. Pepper, and Pepsi for the IN-CROWD, and Mt. Dew for those who want to live it up. Before I end this column I have to tell you a little about 'Jericho'. I have seen this picture and it is very good. Taken from the book 'The Man In Black', the only difference is that Dean Martin combined the two bad guys into one character so when he goes bad, he's twice as bad. I still can't think of him as the man you want to hate. He's still the drunken bum to me, who saves the girl or somebody in the end. I wonder why? He doesn't drink, does he? . . . Well

See you all now . . . Oscar

Most highly developed rural highway system in the United States is the completely paved, 28,000-mile Texas farm to market road network.

The Vanishing Americans--

This week Veterans of World War One from all parts of the country are enroute to Indianapolis, The Cross Roads of America, to participate in their annual convention. But more than that . . . they will be celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the entry of the United States into that global carnage in April 1917 and which was brought to a successful conclusion by the signing of the Armistice on November 11, 1918. These Veterans of WWI Won their war!

Most of the Aged Veterans, and the wives accompanying them, are in the neighborhood of 74 years of age and a goodly number of them are even older. Gone is the sprightly step they displayed in training and in the parades that marked their victorious return from overseas. Instead walking for most will be a bit laborous as they move around Monument Circle in Indianapolis looking at the skyscrapers.

Gone, too, are the slim lines that were theirs when they put on the khaki uniforms and wrapped their legs in the khaki bandage which was part of the prescribed dress in '17. Now the old vets display midriff pouches of varying sizes and many of the shoulders are stooped. Such as retain a crop of hair on their heads will wear it mostly in white, and with very few exceptions, all wear glasses because of weakening eyes.

They will be easily identified because they wear service caps of the WWI organization denoting their State, their Barracks number and their status in the ranks. They will be wearing them PROUDLY for all the world to see.

Observing them trying to get the most out of their visit to Indiana's Capitol City of Indianapolis, one can not help but think that the survivors of WWI are entitled to the Federal Pension they have been seeking in vain from Congress. Some may have achieved a measure of financial independence but their age limits their employment possibilities and it also increases their bills for medical attention . . . and most could use additional income to cope with current living conditions in these United States.

There is ample Precedent for awarding them a Pension. The Veterans of the Civil War and Spanish American War were awarded pensions. The amount, even tho insufficient, enabled them to live out their life a little more comfortably than if they had to rely on their own resources.

The World War One Veterans remember clearly how they were acclaimed for their part in making the United States safe from foreign domination. It would be only justice if the nation now gave them help and relief in their time of need.

Leading the Texans to the Hoosier State will be Texas Department Commander George Nicholas of Irving; Senior Vice Commander Miles Wasson of Houston; Junior Vice Commander Mike Munlin of Victoria and Legislative Director Jack Sagray of San Antonio who is a candidate for the office of National Junior Vice Commander. Texas leads the country in number of established Barracks of WWI members with 271 and is 6th in the nation in numerical strength. These men have been chosen by the state membership to hold the highest office obtainable on the Department level for the next twelve months with the Department Commander having Top Ranking. They are to be congratulated for their successful campaigns and the membership is to be commended for their choice of leadership. Upon the shoulders of these particular men rests the responsibility of providing the leadership that is necessary to continue the growth of the WWI organization in Texas for 1967-1968. The Golden Anniversary Year for all WWI Veterans.

Barracks No. 1577 of Rotan meets Sept. 7 at 7:30. Barracks Commander H. V. Huckaby invites all World

Coast Guard Exams Offered

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Today Congressman Omar Burleson announced that the annual competition for entrance to the U. S. Arrangements to take the CEEB examination should be made by the applicant through his school prior to October 28. He must also complete the U. S. Coast Guard application forms prior to December 15.

Congressman Burleson emphasized the opportunity offered qualified young men who choose this four-year course which leads to a commission as a career officer in America's oldest continuous seagoing Armed Services and a Bachelor of Science Degree.

"Appointments are made on a competitive basis; there are no separate quotas for states or districts and no special categories," he said.

"I urge all qualified young men who are interested in this worthwhile profession to write for details and application forms as soon as possible to the Director of Admissions, U. S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut 06320."

A candidate for the next competition for the Coast Guard Academy must have reached his seventeenth but not his twenty-second birthday by July 1, 1968 and must be in excellent physical condition.

A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement, although high school seniors assured of being graduated by June 30, 1968 are eligible to enter the competition if they will have at least 15 credits by that time. All applicants must have completed three units of English, and three units of mathematics including algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents.

14.8 million retirees, their wives, husbands, and children received almost $1.2 billion from social security in June 1967.

Nurses Set Member Drive

Members of the Texas Nurse's Association and of District number 15 will prepare for the launching of an ambitious membership campaign dinner meeting at the Westgate Shopping Center, Wyatt's Cafeteria around 7 p.m. on September 19.

Plans of this campaign were revealed at the statewide membership and public relations workshop last June 24, at the El Tropicana Motel in San Antonio.

Mrs. Mitzi Dreher, State Public Relations Chairman, announced the theme of the membership campaign would be "Join the T.N.A. Space Walk for '68." Mrs. Dreher is Assistant Professor of Nursing at University of Texas in Austin.

Miss Margaret Bruckner, State Membership Chairman, reported that there are 37,000 registered Nurses in Texas with about 6000 belonging to Texas Nurse's Association. But with this new membership drive we hope to build the rolls to over 7000. Miss Bruckner is Director of Nurse's at the Veteran's Hospital in Amarillo.

Program speakers at the San Antonio workshop were Dr. Allen Scott Professor of Journalism at University of Texas and a public relations specialist and Mr. Chester Brewer, business manager of American Nurse's Association from New York. Mr. Brewer revealed the mechanics of a new and a more convenient system of membership billing which would encourage more R.N.'s to join Texas Nurse's Association.

Space program activities for T.N.A. include a Blastoff Banquet to be held at Holiday Inn at N.A.S.A. near Houston, October 28. A tour of N.A.S.A. is on the agenda and International Personalities will be present at the dinner for exciting entertainment.

Public Relations Chairman of District 15, Mrs. J. P. (Marie) Boyd, Fisher County School Nurse was unable to attend the June Workshop. However the workshop was attended by Mrs. Laura Wallas, Abilene Public School nurse and chairman of membership committee of District No. 15. She reported a very enthusiastic group.

Draft Board Questions

Editor's note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado Street, Austin, Tex. 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — We have only one son. We've heard if a family has only one son he won't be drafted, but he'll be put in Class IV-A. Is that right?

A — That depends. The law provides that he must be the sole surviving son of a family of which the father or one or more sons or daughters were killed in action or died in line of duty while serving in the Armed Forces of the U.S., or subsequently died as a result of injuries received or disease incurred during this service.

Q — Must a man return to his own local board for his Armed Forces physical examination, or for his induction?

A — No. He may transfer for either physical examination or induction by requesting this action at the draft board nearest him.

Q — Recently my wife and I were divorced. She has custody of our two children and get a Class III-A deferment? has them with her. Can I still

A — Not as a father. To qualify for III-A, you must maintain a bona fide family relationship with the children in your home. It may be possible for you to be deferred in III-A because of extreme hardship to these dependents, but you will have to prove hardship to your draft board's satisfaction.

Q — How long did Congress extend the draft law?

A — Until July 1, 1971.

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Because of Labor Day, most Members of Congress visited their constituents this past week.

Many of them probably heard that the American people are dissatisfied today about many of the things the Government is doing or failing to do.

What are the people saying? What do they want?

If our area is representative, people are tired of the state of fear and uneasiness which has enveloped them. Extremists in our midst, both whites and negroes, have resorted to a process of intimidation and blackmail commonly called "protests" and "demonstrations."

People want the agencies of government, particularly the Courts, to recognize the difference between "freedom of speech" and incitement to riot. Especially do they want to see more courage shown in high places in dealing with disorders.

Living conditions should be improved, but people do not believe that criminals and disturbers of the peace should go unpunished, nor that these circumstances be the sole excuse for lawlessness.

People are tired of reading what the Stokely Carmichaels and the Rap Briwms say in rallies as they openly preach rebellion. They want to see such persons prosecuted. If existing laws are inadequate they want Congress to strengthen the statutes. Most of all, they want to see law enforced.

It is hoped that members of Congress get the message that people are tired of political legerdemain. A lot, if not all, are fed up with attempts to curry favor with groups by the use of taxpayers money. People have the right to know why Congress has not exercised a closer check on all Government spending. They are tired of seeing big deficits pile up year after year and to be told that deficit spending can go on indefinitely and that confidence in the future of the dollar can still be preserved.

Public officials in Washington should be getting the message that people are tired of the handling of the Viet Nam war. They want to know, and rightfully so, why our military men are not given a free hand to do that necessary to get it over. Many have the feeling that we are playing "chicken", which involves the lives of American boys. They want to know why we do not bomb every enemy base and supply line, as well as blockade the ports of North Viet Nam.

People are tired of reading that their money has been used to make loans to some governments to help them buy arms and then lining up in the United Nations against us.

People have the right to complain of being told that big deficits are due solely to the Viet Nam war. They are tired of being told that the Country can afford to spend unprecedented billions on doubtful programs.

People are not happy with the prospect of having their taxes and mail rates increased when they feel that Washington is not spending their tax money wisely.

There is reason to complain about the increase in the cost of living while strikes and the threat of strikes continues.

People want a peaceful society, a decent society — a society in which a fair deal for everybody transcends political deals in the use of governmental power at the Federal, State, and local levels.

Maybe official Washington has gotten the word that "you can fool all the people some of the time and some of the people all the time, but you can not fool all of the people all the time." To sum up, our people want courage, integrity and a conscience that overrides the temptations of pure old politics.

In a second meeting of the organization on September 5 in Roby plans were made for the County 4-H Awards Banquet to be November 4 in Rotan. Committees were appointed to make arrangements for the Banquet.

The organization also mapped a project tour to be September 30, which is the first day of National 4-H Week. The tour will include homes of several 4-H members who will show and explain various projects he or she has carried or is presently working on.

Plans for County 4-H Activities for 1968 were outlined.

Mrs. Alice Ballenger, County Home Demonstration Agent met with the organization.

Total Electric Living is a clean break with the past

Last year, over a quarter million owners of other low-price cars were won over to Plymouth. It started a movement, a momentum, a beat.

And the Plymouth win-you-over beat goes on.

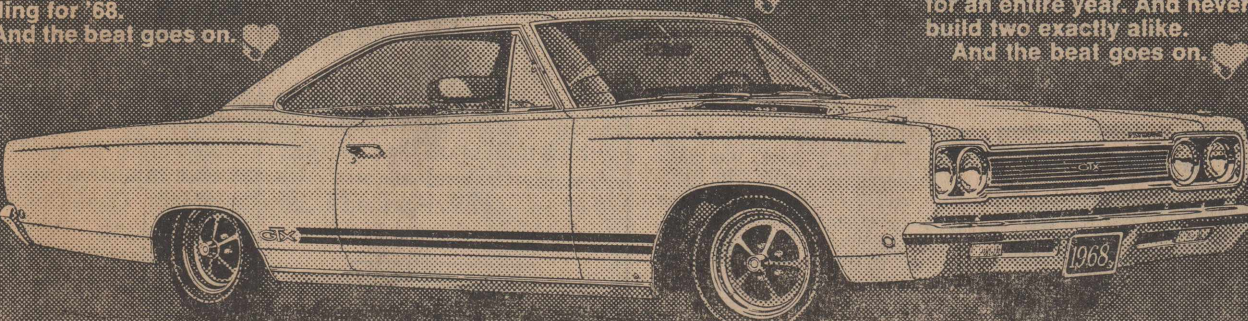

This is the 1968 Plymouth Fury. It still looks long and low and wide. Only richer. And much more beautiful. And the beat goes on.

Inside, Fury's options don't have that "added on" look. The Auto-Pilot is on the turn signal lever. Air conditioning outlets are part of the instrument panel. And the beat goes on.

Plymouth Fury has the biggest brakes in its class. And the biggest trunk. It's also the heaviest. And the most solid. And the beat goes on.

This is the 1968 GTX. One in a whole new line of mid-size cars for '68: GTX, Sport Satellite, Satellite, Belvedere, Road Runner. We've given them all-new styling for '68. And the beat goes on.

We made our 2-door sedans look like hardtops. And we created a new low-cost, high-performance car called the Road Runner. Its horn goes "Beep-Beep!" And the beat goes on.

There are 64 new Plymouths for '68. Full-size, mid-size, sports cars, wagons and compacts. We could build a car a minute for an entire year. And never build two exactly alike. And the beat goes on.
