Veteran Education Plan Available At WTC In Fall

Veterans who are planning to enroll in college for the first time this fall and who will be applying for veterans' educational benefits should make application for those benefits well in advance of the beginning of the fall semester, Dan Dever, Western Texas College Veterans' Outreach Coordinator and Associate Registrar, said.

Dever is in his office in the WTC Administration Building from 8-5 each week day except Friday when the offices close at 4 p.m. Veterans who cannot talk to Dever during those hours may arrange an evening appointment by calling him in advance. He has all the necessary forms to be used in making application for educational benefits.

Most veterans with service after Jan. 31, 1955, are eligible for benefits, Dever said, provided the active duty was continuous for 181 days or more, any part of which occurred after Jan. 31, 1955. The veteran must hold a discharge or release from active duty under conditions other than dishonorable.

Special eligibility conditions apply to veterans released from service because of a service-connected disability.

Veterans or other adults who have not completed high school or a GED program may be admitted to WTC by individual approval, Dever pointed out, and he can help veterans make arrangements for entrance to WTC under those circumstances.

Veterans who have exhausted their original 36 months entitlement while in an undergraduate program at an institution of higher learning may receive up to nine additional months of training. Veterans who have less than 18 months of active duty may receive benefits, with their training allowance figured on the basis of one and a half months of entitlement for each month of active military service.

The amount of money paid to a veteran as an educational allowance depends on the number of credit hours taken and the number of dependents, Dever pointed out. For example, a single veteran enrolled for 12 credit hours or more will receive $270 per month. A married veteran with two dependents going full-time would receive $366 per month.

A single veteran enrolled half-time (six to eight credit hours) would receive $135 per month, while a married veteran with two dependents enrolled half-time would receive $182 per month.

The Dependents Educational Assistance program provides financial aid for the education of sons, daughters, wives and widows of veterans, and Dever can also give these persons details about the benefits they may receive.

Registration for the fall semester at WTC will be held Sept. 2 and 3 with classes beginning Sept. 4. Summer school is now in progress at WTC, with a second session scheduled July 10-Aug. 14.

COTTON MARKET SHOWS PRICE RECOVERY SIGNS

A gradual increase in cotton consumption, coupled with a decline in production this year, continues to strengthen the U.S. Cotton market.

"The impact of rebounding consumption and declining production will become a very significant factor in a price recovery," said David Cox, Cotton Incorporated vice president for economic research and development.

And with high world cotton carryover on August 1, export demand could also become a big factor in price movement, Cox said.

Cox's analysis is drawn from a survey of world cotton supply and demand conditions conducted by economists at Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company of U.S. cotton producers.

"With the economy showing signs of recovery, increased cotton use should push prices gradually upwards in the months ahead," Cox said. "However, prices are likely to be tempered by the carryover on August 1, expected to be the largest in several years."

One unknown in the price picture is how foreign exporting countries will handle their large carryover, Cox said.

Foreign exporting nations hold a greater share of the world's carryover than they normally have held in the past, and this year they failed to cut back plantings as sharply as had been expected.

Foreign producers are expected to hold about 81 percent of the world's carryover on August 1, 1975, with the United States holding about 19 percent.

By comparison, during the period 1967-72, foreign producers held an average of 70 percent of the carryover, and the United States 30 percent.

"If foreign exporting countries choose to dump their stock on the world market, U.S. exports will suffer," Cox explained. "Domestic cotton prices would also suffer, since they, in part, reflect export conditions."

The 1975-75 export outlook continues to brighten, however, as the non-communist world begins to recover from the grips of the recession, Cox said. He projects U.S. exports at about 5.0 million bales in 1975-76, an increase of about 1.1 million bales over the figure for 1974-75.

"U.S. exports must compete in world markets at world prices, and the industry must continue to promote U.S. cotton aggressively," he said.

Cox advised producers in all areas to pay close attention to the market and re-evaluate their plans, since conditions could change very rapidly. He noted that short staple cotton, which is now in relatively tight supply compared to stocks of other staple lengths, should become more abundant later. Medium length cotton, in ample supply now, will become scarcer later in the 1975-76 crop year.

The demand for short staple cotton continues to be strong, relative to the rest of the market, Cox said. "Denim products, made from the short staple cotton, are the hottest selling textile products at this time," he pointed out.

Supplies of short staple cotton are somewhat limited now, Cox said, but that situation is expected to change because of the large plantings in Texas and Oklahoma.

The converse is true for medium staple cotton, Cox said. Production will be down sharply, while demand is expected to make a gradual recovery.

"Demand will grow as the domestic textile industry slowly recuperates from the recession," he explained. "Tighter supplies will be felt by the textile industry later in the year."

The Cotton Incorporated analysis of the current cotton outlook is published in the June 1975 "Cotton Summary."

He is a mighty small man—almost too small to leave his footprints in the sand. But he is starting out on his own. He is exploring, seeking, learning. Where will his footsteps ultimately lead him?

There are so many courses a child may take—so many that a person of any age can follow. But it is never too late to change direction, even if it seems as if a dead end has been reached. The beauty of life is that the word itself is synonymous with hope.

If the direction your footsteps have been taking you is disappointing, then turn toward the Church. Remember, the Church has survived for centuries against odds that would have annihilated a lesser force. That in itself is reason enough to give it a chance—to see what it has to offer.

Shannon Rasco To Pursue New Found Art

--by Delila Baird

Shanon Rasco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Derwayne Rasco of Roby is a recent enrollee in Mrs. Calvin Phillips' art school. Shannon says that his interest in painting was inspired by a Roby artist.

Beginning his class work only three weeks before the recent Art Show, Shannon had a picture ready to exhibit. This, his first painting, is a portion of the old Wells place now owned by Ivy Jones. His picture shows the old smoke house and the gate leading to it.

Shanon Rasco will be a freshman in Roby High School next term. Like many other teen-age boys, he makes a wry face when asked about his favorite school subject. He answered "That's a hard question. I guess my most unfavorable subject is English. Well, I like math--I really do. I like to read when I can find something I like, especially sport

Farmers Union Youth Play Day for Taylor, Jones and Fisher Counties will be held Tuesday, July 22, at the First United Methodist Church in Merkel. The day-long activities will begin at 10:00 a.m. and will conclude at 5:00 p.m.

Young people ages five through 19 are invited to participate in crafts, games, recreation and "talk session". The award insurance can

"Before I started painting I did some string art. I did whatever designs I could find a pattern for. But I really enjoy painting. Maybe it is too soon to say, but I think landscapes will always be my favorite subjects."

Regarding her art student, Shanon Rasco, Mrs. Phillips says, "It is such a pleasure to work with Shanon. And I think he shows potential. The fact that he was born right handed, and recently had to change to using his left hand, hasn't discouraged him. He is improving all of the time."

As It Looks From Here

It is amazing when we stop to think about how technology, even in small matters, affects our every day living.

How many have had the experience of being told "They don't make it any more"? This was the case when we recently tried to find a rasp to remove hard-baked enamel from some porch furniture. The elderly man at the hardware store said that he hadn't seen one in years and didn't know where one could be found.

The next experience was trying to find a gasket for an old-style pressure cooker. "They don't make that kind any more" we were told.

The ball-point pen has really come into its own since 30 years ago when they were first put on the market. Now it is difficult to find ink and there is no such thing as an inkwell.

At a time banks kept ink on their tables in the lobbies where customers could fill their fountain pens but it is doubtful there is one anywhere which now provides that service.

Post Offices used to have ink on their outside tables but after a little experience, no one would gum up their pens with the grade of ink they had. It was more like caustic stove polish and maybe it was purposely designed to discourage pilferage.

The ball point pen, we are told, came on the market in 1945 and, for a while, there was some doubt whether a signature on legal document using a ball point pen was acceptable.

The use of the ball point has progressed to make it practical to handwrite multi-copy forms which was not possible with pen and ink. Management analysts seize on this potential to eliminate a lot of typewriting requirements for all kinds of business. The ball point now has special ink so that not just several but hundreds of copies of handwritten reports can be reproduced through offset printing. Until the last several years, the Government had no ball point pen issues but now that is changed since it seems to work well.

So, they are just not making many regular fountain pens, except those of the kind that takes an ink cartridge to be thrown away when emptied.

There was a time when our business schools taught "penmanship". Of course, the quill had gone out long before that but, as a youngster in the fourth grade, it was beautiful to see all the curlicues which could be made with pen and ink.

If someone across a desk starts to reach for our pen which is in a set they have to be told that that one doesn't work but here is a ball point pen.

If this story of technology has affected us in these small ways, just think how the other great advances have changed our way of living about which we hardly take notice. We have probably catapulted over a century with our scientific advances and as technology begets more technology, it can boggle the mind as to what our living may be like in the next century.

The picture was painted from memory after being viewed of Marie Phillips and V.H. Scott shortly after an early morning of Sayre, Oklahoma for the past two years.

Hustlin' Round Hobbs

By Mrs Jimmy Walker
Hobbs, Texas 735-2840

Has it been hot enough for everyone? But we did get some rain on Thursday, about an inch here at the house but more on the other places.

I thought the rain would cool things off but it didn't at Stamford where we were for three days almost continuously.

Hope that everyone had a good time this 4th of July and enjoyed the long week end. We had quite a few visitors in the community for the week end.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cave Thursday through Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Abernathy from Fort Worth.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Cave are Jackie Cave and two sons from Farmington, New Mexico. They flew into Odessa Sunday and J.C. and Alice picked them up at the air port. They are going to spend a few days here.

Mrs. Neil Hyer and family from Andrews spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Kincaid. They also visited with Neil's mother Mrs. Horace Mitchell in Roby. Junior Hyer is spending a few weeks here with his grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Windle Kincaid ate dinner with the Kincaids on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Boydston and family from Garland came Thursday and stayed until Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boydston.

Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Dycus from Perryton ate lunch on Saturday with Miss Linda and Eddie Williams. Also visiting with them were Cora Cineyard and Rosa Horton from Rotan. Saturday night Eddie and Linda attended the family get together at Rotan in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dycus.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Williams from Tyler visited with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Williams Friday through Sunday. Also visiting them all were Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Etheredge and boys went to Stamford Thursday and Friday to attend the Open Youth Horse Show that was held there. Todd placed 1st in the Flag race in his age group, and was 2nd in the barrel race. David and Randy also participated in the show. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Etheredge attended the show Thursday. The J.W. Etheredge's and boys went to Roby for the day on Sunday and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lealon Wilburn. Mr. and Mrs. James Sherrill from Sweetwater also were there. Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Etheredge and boys attended the Stamford Cowboy Reunion Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hardin went to El Paso Thursday and returned home Sunday morning. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hardin from Bellville and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McCaskus from Houston. They all went to Juarez the 4th and 5th. Visiting with the Lester Hardins on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Hardin from Rotan, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Baker, Damon and Derrick from Lawton, Okla., Mrs. Claude Lee from Wilcox, Arizona and Mr. Larry Lee and son from Snyder. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hadin and Vicky from Lubbock spent Monday with the Hardins.

Mr. and Mrs. Josh Phillips went to Post Friday and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Phillips. They all went to Palo Duro Canyon Saturday and saw the show "Texas" that night, which they all enjoyed very much. They returned home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Walker and Melody went to Abilene last Monday to get our trailer fixed. While there we visited with Jim's sister and her husband Mr. and Mrs. Tonnie Griffin. Wednesday we had to go back to Abilene again as Jim's sister had emergency surgery, but she seems to be doing just fine. We attended the Open Youth Horse Show at Stamford Thursday and Friday and Melody rode Sunset in everything. She placed 5th in the barrel race, 4th in the pole bending, even after knocking that pole over again, and she placed 4th in the Flag race. Friday morning we were there bright and early and Melody showed Mac in the Registered Quarter Horse show. He was Reserve Champion Gelding this time, so we weren't at all displeased. The horse that beat him was from California. Melody attended the breakfast they gave for the barrel racers that morning, also, we attended the luncheon for the sponsors and their mothers Saturday morning. In the open barrel race, out of 114 contestants, Melody was 12th so we were pleased but disappointed that she didn't make that top ten, trying for the saddle Saturday night. She almost made it, but maybe we'll have better luck next time around.

Bro. and Mrs. J.H. Skiles went home after church on Sunday morning as Mrs. Skiles wasn't feeling at all well. We hope that she will be feeling better by next Sunday. We are having our Revival starting on the 20th of this month and hope that everyone will come. The little weeds are sure growing now after the rain, but in my corn patch they aren't very little I can tell you, I must need stronger glasses or something to have missed that many when I hoed them before.

Sorry if I missed anyone this week, but will try to get you next week.

An "Energy" bill brought out by the Ways and Means Committee has been passed by the House of Representatives. The Senate is working on their version. As originally adopted by the Committee, it was proposed that a tax increase of 3 cents per gallon be placed on gasoline the first of 1976. Another possible 20 cents was to be added over a period of three years if consumption rose above the 1973 level. A tax on automobiles which failed to get 16.5 miles per gallon by 1977 would be taxed with increases over a five year period unless a particular make of car reached 26 miles per gallon.

These provisions were knocked out on amendments which left a system of quotas on imported oil and a system of tax credits for both private and commercial use when energy consumption was reduced by a set percent.

Another bill now out of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee which does not deal with taxes of any kind would roll back the price of "new oil." This is oil produced after 1973 now selling at the market price. Production of "old oil" now controlled at $5.25 per barrel would be allowed to increase over a period of five years to $7.50 per barrel which would establish one price for all domestic crude oil.

The measure provides for an allocation of gasoline by placing a nation-wide monthly ceiling on all gasoline consumption. This measure, like the one passed, would also require auto manufacturers to meet a fleet average of 18.5 miles per gallon by 1978 up to 28 miles per gallon by 1985. It also gives the President standby authority to put into effect a rationing plan which must be submitted and approved by the Congress.

There are about as many ideas in Congress on a so-called energy bill as there are Members and suggestions from across the Country arrive in every mail.

Most of the ideas here say that the American consumer of automobiles and gasoline must be rescued from their own folly in the use of fuel.

The Wall Street Journal recently compared some of the current ideas to Al Capp's cartoon character "Fearless Fosdick" who roams cities rescuing hapless citizens from eating poisoned beams by putting dollar-size holes in their heads with his special gun. The idea perhaps would be to eliminate every tenth motorist which would then save 10 percent of gasoline consumption. Fearless Fosdick flying a B-52 could put out of business every automobile plant producing cars which average less than 15 miles per gallon and that situation would be taken care of.

The comparison with Fearless Fosdick than breaks down. It is clear why citizens should not eat poisoned beams. It is not clear why Congress should bludgeon Americans with a tax to conserve gasoline.

It is difficult to apply remedies for energy conservation to all parts of the Country and have fairness. The cities have public transportation. The smaller town and rural areas have to depend entirely on their automobiles.

All sorts of discrepancies crop up. For instance, to tax was placed on heating oil or other end-products of crude. Manufacturers of 60 watt light globes might not have to pay a penalty but the consumer gets socked with a $1.00 a piece for 100 watt bulbs. Builders who build three bedroom houses might pay a penalty of $3,000 but builders who turned out only two bedroom houses would not be taxed.

Nothing is simple in this whole problem and if practical approaches are presented, they will be complicated in short order. Decontrol of oil and gas prices would doubtless run up the price, at least temporarily, but prices are going to increase anyway because of our dependency on imported oil. It is the only way, however, that more supplies will be made available.

The idea of storing a month's supply of crude oil in subterranean salt domes would, in the long run, handle almost any emergency. These more practical approaches do not satisfy a lot of people who seemingly have an almost pathological dislike for the automobile.

Lone Star Gas Receives Order For Rate Increase

Lone Star Gas Company announced that it received an order from the Texas Railroad Commission authorizing an increase in its intracompany city gate rate to $1.0399 per thousand cubic feet (Mcf) of gas. Lone Star's "City gate rate" is the intracompany charge by its Transmission Division to its Distribution Divisions for the sale of gas to residential and commercial customers and for distribution unaccounted-for gas. The new rate amounts to an approximate 10 cent per Mcf increase over an interim rate established in late April. When applicable to all residential and commercial customers, total additional annual revenues of $12.2 million would result, based on gas volume sold to these customers in 1974. Lone Star will seek authorization where necessary for approval of bumer tip rates from the local regulatory authorities.

The order, effective now, authorizes an automatic 85 percent pass-on of increased gas costs adjusted monthly. This compares with a 65 percent semiannual adjustment provision previously authorized for Lone Star.

The 85 percent adjustment is for all gas purchased, including gas purchased from Lo-Vaca Gathering Company. In January, the Railroad Commission issued an interlocutory order requiring Lone Star to pay the same price other Lo-Vaca customers were paying, which is substantially in excess of the contract price. Lone Star is presently in litigation seeking to recover from Lo-Vaca and Coastal States the difference between the contract price and the higher price set by the Commission and associated damages incurred by Lone Star due to deficiencies in deliveries under the contract.

The order establishes the mechanism by which the automatic gas cost provision will operate, including a requirement that a certified statement of the weighted average cost of purchased gas be filed monthly with the Commission. The order is designed to provide Lone Star an 8 percent rate of return on the fair value rate base set by the Commission and also establishes a two-tier rate system that provides for a 4 cent per Mcf charge in addition to the $1.0399 gate rate to residential and commercial customers in 18 cities in which the Commission determined Lone Star's distribution system sustained "unusual unrecovered expense." The 4 cent additional charge will continue until Lone Star has recouped deferred gas cost amounts as specified in the Railroad Commission order and therefore will have no impact on net income.

Lone Star's original rate increase request was filed with the Commission on January 20, 1975. At the hearings in March, Lone Star asked the Commission to authorize a gate rate of $1.20 per Mcf, based on a 9 percent rate of return on its fair value rate base, and a 100 percent monthly pass-on of increased gas costs instead of the previously authorized 65 percent pass-on every six months.

Roby Happenings

By Buelene Shipp

Hi, well I'm sitting here listening to a piece of the most beautiful music I've ever had the privilege of hearing, and the really great part about it is that some of the music on this album is written and sung by former homefolk. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Dean Simmons and their daughter Tonya have made their first record of gospel songs that they, themselves, have written and it is just the first one I'm sure, because as good as it is I just know that they will be making many more. I got my copy from a couple of very proud parents here in Roby. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ammons are the parents of Karol Simmons and Billy Dean is the son of former Rotan residents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Simmons. Little Tonya also has a special on the album that is precious. I'm pretty sure that if you would drop by the Roby Hydro or Ralph and Marie's house they would let you hear their copy.

I hope that everyone that traveled over the 4th had a safe and enjoyable journey. I and all my kids went to Brownwood with Herschel and Sue Shipp of Snyder, where we met most of Gene's brothers and sisters for a really nice visit and campout. Those that were there were Callie Shipp, Gene's mother of Rotan; Marvin and Yvonne and kids of Burnet; Harvey Lee, Betty and girls of Brownwood; Andy, Barbara and kids of Sweetwater; Ducky and Dorothy Waldon of Abilene; and of course Herschel, Sue and all of my bunch. Gene didn't get to go because he was on call that weekend.

Forrest and Erna Lee Holloway just returned from a 2,000 mile trip covering most of Arkansas and Missouri. They visited with relatives along the way which included Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Bryant of Roysie City. The Bryants have returned to Texas from Illinois where they had lived for the past few years, and their daughters treated the Holloways to a game of softball of which they are very involved this summer.

Then visiting in the Holloway home last week were the two grandsons, Brian and Britt Hurst from Victoria. Their parents stopped by last Friday night on a return trip home from Las Vegas. Carlos Jones was also home for the weekend from Lubbock, where he is employed by Funk Seed Company, for the summer. He was invited to display some of his "Western Scenes" at the Arts and Crafts display in Snyder on the 4th. He has a large collection of these things that he has made from horse shoes and horse shoe nails, depicting several well known western pictures. He did very well with his display.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Tracy King recently was their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Headstream and Hal of Hobbs, N.M., and a brother of Tracy's, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Goodrum of Roswell, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Warren traveled to Ruidoso, N.M. last week to attend the Ratliff reunion. Others from this neighborhood were Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Goodrum of Rotan, Mr. and Mrs. Dono Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Struthers, Mr. and Mrs. Bart Warren and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warren all of Sweetwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cotton of Abilene spent the weekend of the fourth with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scherwitz and Terry. They celebrated Judy's birthday on July 3, and I want to add my best wishes.

Our deepest and most sincere sympathy to the family and friends of Mrs. Elsie Carter.

Several families attended the Stamford Old-timers reunion at Stamford over the 4th. Tommy and Becca Frierson went and camped out on the grounds and attended the rodeo performance and the Old Timers fiddling contest. They report a very good time as everyone knows is the usual thing in Stamford on July 4th each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Edmondson traveled to Belton, Pecos and El Paso over the long weekend where they participated in all three rodeos.

Visiting with Mrs. A.V. Allen this past weekend was her nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Estley Schick and daughter of Eugene, Oregon. Also, there was a daughter and family, Tommy and Verbeth McLaughlin, Sharla and Sharron of Midland and her son Cotten Rister, Pat, Robert and Tashia.

George and Janet Price and children of Hobbs raveled to Pecos recently, where they visited with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Dean Simmons and children.

Happy birthday wishes are sent to Leslie Burk on July 8, Joey Whitfill and Mike Putnam on July 5, Susie Hilliard on July 10, Ora Bennett and Ola McGinnis on the 12 of July; July 14 to Benny Putnam and July 15 to Darryl Thomson; and a special note to Melvin Thomson on July 8 and to G.T. Beddo who turned 72 years young on July 3. May you all have many more.

Mrs. Fred Kelton fell recently at her home and broke her shoulder. She is back home now and doing well.

Mamie Moulton was very pleasantly surprised last week when a nephew, John Oren Youngblood, dropped by for a short visit with her before traveling on to his home in Lamont, Okla.

Mrs. Gracie Edwards had a really good visit with her sister, Mrs. Alice McWhirter of Houston, who came to stay for about 3 weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wardell Halliburton and children were joined by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Werst of Midland in traveling to Red River, N.M. for a week long vacation of hiking. They report hiking in snow and ice. Can you beat that?? With the heat we've had. However they have color pictures to back them up, so I guess I'll hush.

I want to close on a real nice note. We received a note from Steve, Jeanie and John Stewart Harper, and I was so thrilled that I have just got to share it with you. They arrived in Borger where he will pastor the Wesley United Methodist Church, a bit later than expected, because of car trouble and sickness. John Stewart had the three day measles, just as he was recovering from the measles he and his mother Jeannie, both came down with a bacterial infection that seemed to hang on and on. However at the time of his writing, everyone was well again and about to get settled in. I want to wish them the best of everything in life and hope that they will be able to come "Home" soon for a long visit.

Gotta go now, I'm late as usual.

Add this to the list of things you should try to avoid this summer-ticks.

Ticks, chiggers, mosquitoes, flies, ants, snakes and poison ivy are among the many hazards encountered in the outdoors. One of the pests, or a combination, can help spoil a picnic or camping trip, says the Texas Department of Health Resources, formerly known as the Texas State Department of Health.

But aside from being pests which attach themselves to the skin of their victims, often producing infections, ticks can be carriers of Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

Spotted fever is known by many names such as "mountain fever", "bull fever", "black fever" or "blue disease". But however designated, the only known natural transmission of this endemic, potentially severe, febrile disease is through the infective tick. This may be accomplished by contamination with crushed tissues or feces of the tick or, perhaps more commonly, by the actual biting attachment of the disease carrying pest.

At least two deaths in Texas this year have been credited to Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

One victim was a 41-year-old Tyler man, who apparently picked up ticks in Van Zandt County while working with cattle.

A case was clinically diagnosed in a 17-year-old woman, who lived in a rural Cass County setting. Other suspected cases have been investigated.

Rocky Mountain spotted fever got its name because of early experiments with ticks in the Rocky Mountain area at the turn of the century. This has led to the misconception that it is found only in this region, but most cases have been reported from the eastern United States. Virginia and North Carolina had Freezing, one of the simplest methods of preserving fruits and vegetables, retains their natural color, flavor, texture and food value.

Frozen-food quality varies with freshness of the product used, preparation methods, packaging and freezing conditions.

Select high-quality products for successful freezing, as it cannot improve low-grade food.

Before freezing, vegetables require blanching—a simple process of heating vegetables in boiling water to stop enzyme growth and retain freshness.

Also, to avoid drying out of flavors or undesirable flavor and appearance, use moisture-proof vapor-proof packaging.

Use glass, metal, rigid plastic or plastic bags, but do not use ordinary waxed containers, cottage cheese and ice cream cartons.

Freeze fruits and vegetables at 0 degrees F. or below.

Space packages of unfrozen food at least an inch apart since they must give off heat before freezing. Put no more unfrozen food into the freezer than will freeze within 24 hours.

For quick freezing, place packages against freezing plates or coil.

Freezing does not sterilize food, but the low temperature prevents the growth of harmful yeasts, molds and bacteria.

One example of the easy freezing process is green snap beans.

Select only fresh tender young beans. Harvest them in the cool of the morning. Wash, snap or cut off tips and sort for size. Leave small beans whole if desired. But break larger ones into one to two-inch lengths.

Put beans in a blanching basket, lower into boiling water and cover. Keep on high heat and begin counting heating time immediately. Heat small beans for three minutes and large beans for four minutes.

Plunge basket of heated beans into a large container of ice water or into running water. It takes about as long to cool vegetables as to heat them. When beans are cool, remove them from the water and drain.

Pack the beans in moisture-vapor-proof containers, leaving one-half inch headspace. Or pack in plastic bags. Label containers with name of the vegetable, packaging date and "pull" date. Green beans may be kept frozen for one year, so the pull date would be one year from packaging date. Freeze beans immediately.

For additional information about freezing foods, obtain a copy of B-175, Frozen Foods, from the County Extension office, County Courthouse in Roby, phone 776-2171.

Hospital News

Fisher County Hospital news July 1 through July 7, 1975.

Local patients, Royce Harmon, Ester Martinez, baby boy Martinez, W.R. Burch, Vera V. Weems, R.L. Springer, Liddell Kennedy, Peggy Stevenson, Janice Weatherman.

Out of town patients: J.W. McMeans, Lena Worthington, Aspermont; Lonnie Shane Heferman, Sweetwater; Joe Long, Roby; Kathy Parker, Snyder; Laura Meador, Lula Brown, Jayton.

Sod Webworms are showing up in lawns, especially the Roby area. These grubs are about 3/4 inch long, feed only at night and will remove all vegetation from the area and form a web-like material over the top of the ground.

The insect can be controlled with chlordane or diazinm. The area affected and 3 foot on either side of it should be sprayed.

In early July, about 24,700 Texas farmers will receive an acreage and production questionnaire from Charles Caudill, Agricultural Statistician for the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Austin.

Information from this survey will be used to determine harvested acreage and production of early harvested crops for the state of Texas and for each county. Farmers who receive questionnaires are urged to complete and return them by mail. All individual reports are confidential and will be used only for state and county totals.

This survey is a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Practical experiences in production, marketing and animal nutrition are a great part of 4-H agriculture projects. But so are group interaction and personal satisfaction.

During 1973-74 more than 70,000 4-H boys and girls in Texas participated in agricultural and related projects.

4-H youth, in talking about their project experiences, point to certain learning aspects and relationships.

Eddie Perkins of Johnson County recalls, "One of my earliest 4-H memories is coming to the fair to bring my older brothers' and sisters' calves. It was so much fun for the small boy to roll and jump in the straw that was put down for bedding."

"Later, when I was finally a 4-H member, I brought my own calves to the show. I met several new friends, and, as the years passed, it was fun to renew these friendships over and over again. I never had a Grand Champion, but these memories and experiences are my banner and trophy."

The excitement of winning can be an exciting as well as a maturing learning experience, too, as Jacquelyn Langford of Parmer County discovered.

"Having the Grand Champion of the show is a dream come true, and it's a scene I've relived more than once. All my beef cattle projects have really meant a lot to me. But the experiences I've had—getting over my shyness, learning to speak before crowds, relating to others—I wouldn't trade for anything in the whole world."

While these young agriculturalists may one day become knowledgeable professionals, they will also be equipped with life-long skills developed through decision-making opportunities and leadership experiences.

Sunflower producers in Fisher County should be on the lookout for the sunflower moth. The larval stage injures sunflowers by tunnelling into the developing seed and the fleshy receptacle of the sunflower head. Each larva can destroy 9 to 10 seeds as it feeds. From 25 to 40 larvae were found in earlier heads in two sunflower fields in Jones County on June 25.

The sunflower moth larvae are from 1/8 to 3/4 inch long and are yellow-green underneath with alternate dark and light brown longitudinal stripes on their backs. These larvae can be found easily in infested heads because when feeding they spin silken webs forming a mat of frass, silk and dried flower parts on the face of the head.

Sunflowers are susceptible to sunflower moth damage during the blooming period. After blooming begins the sunflower moths deposit their eggs on the head. The moth is gray to light brown with several small dark brown to black spots on the wings. When at rest the wings of the moth are folded over the back so that they lay parallel to each other.

Howard Neeley

Howard Neeley, 59, former Fisher County resident, retired plumber, died at 12:55 p.m. Sunday at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Kerrville after a brief illness. Services were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in Weathersbee Funeral Home Chapel.

Joe Barino, minister of Rotan Church of Christ, officiated. Burial was in Roby Cemetery. Born Dec. 17, 1915 in Pledger.

The need for insecticidal control of the sunflower moth can be determined by inspecting 25 plants at four or five locations in the field. Insecticides should be applied only when sunflower moths and larvae are present.

Mr. Neeley was a longtime resident of Fisher County.

A World War II veteran, he had formerly lived in Phoenix, Ariz., and at the time of his death was living in San Angelo. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Charles Meredith of Houston; two brothers, J.A. of Rotan and Ray of Brentwood, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Aubrey McCright of Abilene; and a granddaughter. Nephews were pallbearers.

Reddy's helpful tips for your Room Air-Conditioners

- Set air-conditioner to maintain a slightly higher temperature than you might normally, each degree cooler than 78 uses substantially more energy.
- Clean the filter regularly.
- Close draperies, blinds and use shades or awnings on all windows exposed to sun.
- Use appliances that give off heat (ovens, dishwashers, dryers) during cooler times of the day.
- Remember to keep outside doors, windows, and fireplace dampers closed. If you have window units, close the heating vents near the floor, as cool air falls and can escape through vents.

the out of doors can expect to run into ticks at one time or another.

There are some precautions which can be taken, says Fournier. One of the easiest is to use commercial repellents, which also are effective against chiggers and mosquitoes. Since there is a connection between the length of tick attachment and severity of the disease, it would be well to remove all ticks just as soon as possible. A thorough inspection of the body should be made as soon as possible after returning from the outdoors. While there is no one recommended manner in removing ticks, use of tweezers is preferred over the fingers. The reason is that the disease can be transferred by crushing the tick while removing it. This is especially true when removing engorged ticks from a pet.

The infectious agent in Rocky Mountain spotted fever is the Rickettsia rickettsii-named after the man who pioneered most of the research into the disease.

Because of the rise of the disease in Texas, a tick surveillance program has been established

Little Johnny, looking through a pile of dusty books in a corner, came upon the Holy Bible. Running to his mother, he asked, "Isn't this God's Book?" "Yes," she answered. "Then let's return it," he said. "We don't use it."

But there was one who did use it. He said in Psalm 119:97, "O how love I Thy law! It is my meditation all the day."

The Bible is not meant to be taken as a pill and swallowed. But as meat and bread, chewed by the teeth of thought, digested by meditation, and used by faith for daily comfort, guidance and strength. A young lady was given a book. She read a few chapters and tossed it aside, saying, "What a dull book."

Sometime later she became engaged to a young man. One day she said to him, "I have a book in my library whose author's name is the same as yours. What a coincidence!" "It isn't," he replied. "I wrote it."

Hurrying to her home, she read it with interest. What had been dull became delightful. Why? She fell in love with the author.

If you love the Lord you will love His Word. Do you love the Lord?

"The Lord is my rock and my fortress, and my deliverer; the God of my rock, in Him will I trust; He is my shield, and the horn of my salvation, my high tower, and my refuge, my saviour." 2 Sam. 22:2,3.

At the close of his life, David looks back and sees that, "The Lord had delivered him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul". There had been dark places in David's life, places where he had been even in the hand of the arch-enemy, Satan. But in every difficulty David had experienced the faithfulness of God.

Here speaks the real David. If he was "a man after God's own heart," the reason for that supreme distinction is shown in one little word, My. "My rock, my fortress, my deliverer, the God of my rock, my shield, my salvation, my high tower, my refuge, my Saviour. "My"-that was David's secret. Few generals have ever surpassed David, but he did not come to the close of his life speaking of "my" military powers; few rulers have ever achieved more than David, but he did not come to the end of his reign pointing to "My" kingdom; no poet has ever surpassed David, but he did not speak of "my" Psalms. No,

David was a man after God's own heart, because he realized his own need sufficiently well to cling to the Lord alone with an intensely personal grip nothing could shake. Though we may not have David's talents, that some unshakable faith can be ours. "A might fortress is our God, A bulwark never failing; Our helper He amid the flood Of mortal ills prevailing."

Daughters Of Republic Of Texas Hold Meeting

Members of the recently organized Col. John H. Moore Chapter of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas met in the home of Mrs. Bill Graham Tuesday, July 1, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Jimmy Don Hale, president, presided during the business session. Mrs. J.L. McCright, chaplain, gave the opening prayer. After the prayer, the pledges to the flags were repeated in unison. Mrs. Rudy Hamric and Mrs. Wayne Harris were voted in as associate members. Three other members were presented for chapter membership, Mrs. Ernest (Elizabeth) Smith of Rotan, Mrs. Don Campbell of Roby, and Mrs. E.M. Stark of Hamilton, Texas. Yearbooks and programs are being planned for the coming year and a Bicentennial project is under discussion. This will be discussed more at a later date. Following the business session, the program titled Texas Women was turned over to the vice president, Mrs. Graham.

"Texas Women" of yesterday and today have helped shape the destiny of all Texans by their acts of courage, daring and humor. It helps all of us understand the present if we understand the past and search into the future. Women in Texas history are similar to women today in their contributions to society. Interest in family history is started by learning what other women have contributed. Customs, values and beliefs are passed on from generation to generation. Knowledge of the family history provides an understanding and acceptance of ones self.

Americans are flocking to libraries to learn more about their own family heritage. Students in at least 25 universities and colleges and many high schools are recording their family histories as part of the "Anonymous Families History Project"—a nationwide effort by historians to preserve experiences of ordinary Americans who settled the country. About 1,500 Boy Scouts each month qualify for merit badges in genealogy. So popular has this badge proven that Scout officials have ordered three printings, totaling 25,000 copies, of a pamphlet outlining requirements for the merit badge. Many young people of the now generation of the 1960's—who once voiced disinterest in a "dead" past—are joining the rush to find out: What is my past? Who are my ancestors? What were they like? What did they do? For some people, answers can be found simply by talking to elderly relatives who know the family legends or by reading old family records. Others are searching public libraries, private archives, church records and even cemeteries. And for more than a few, the search for the prologue to their own lives is taking them to ancestral villages in Europe, Africa and Asia. What accounts for the onrush of interest in this highly personalized hobby? Some social historians see it as part of American's groping for the past as an anchor in today's turbulent, fast-changing time—related somewhat to the "nostalgia boom", and rising interest in the Nation's Bicentennial in 1976.

Others see the new interest in genealogy as a "grass roots" effort to reassert family ties by giving them a new historical depth. The Nation Archives opened regional branches in eleven U.S. cities in 1969.

Volumes have been written about the men who made Texas a great State, but very little has been recorded about Texas women of achievement. In a sense, most of our female forebearers were women of achievement. From the earliest days of immigration, women have played a role in charting the course of Texas. Women were involved in the settlement, taming and civilization of Texas from the time of the earliest immigrants. However, there is little recorded information about them before the early 1800's.

Two hundred years ago, in 1775, Texas was a vast land explored by the French, Spanish and Indians. The Spanish had established by this time the only three permanent settlements in the land—San Antonio, Nacogdoches and Goliad—although El Paso had been founded almost a century earlier. Within the next half century, Texas history moved swiftly with the appearance of American pioneers. Women as well as men helped to make Texas what it is today. Many of these Texans were our ancestors.

Texans have always come in assorted sizes, shapes and colors, with a variety of mother tongues and hereditary customs and traditions. All have been immigrants or of immigrant stock. The first people came to what is now Texas 20,000 to 40,000 years ago. They are believed to have been of Asiatic origin, descendants of migrant hunters who followed elephant herds across the Bering Strait during the last Ice Age. Succeeding waves of immigrant Indians pushed into Texas through the centuries. When the first Europeans landed, early in the 16th century, there were some 50 tribes. In the 18th century the Indians began to lose land to the Spaniards and people to the diseases brought from Europe. Only two resident tribes exist in Texas today.

The first black person came to Texas in 1528 with Cabeza de Vaca. Others came throughout the next two centuries with Spanish explorers. When the settlers from Northern Mexico started moving into Texas in the 18th century, about 15 percent of them were Negro. These Texans were free, often educated and occasionally wealthy. With the influx of settlers from the United States after 1821, many Negroes were brought to Texas as slaves. The largest immigrant group, while including a wide mixture of national origins, has been predominantly English, Irish and Scottish ancestry.

When Texas was opened to settlers in 1821, a flood of families swept across the Red and Sabine Rivers and up from the Gulf Coast. Many other nationalities have contributed to the makeup of the Texas population, some in imposing numbers. They settled in Texas and made an impact on Texan culture and history. Women were a part of the migration in a new and largely strange and unsettled land. Their willingness to move, establish homes, rear families, and assume responsibility for the day-to-day life of communities created Texas.

In conclusion, each chapter member present old about one of their most interesting female relatives or a female relative they were proud of. Then the members talked about some Texas women who have influenced the State in various roles such as Sarah T. Hughes, the U.S. District Judge, who administered the oath of office to Lyndon B. Johnson as 35th President of the United States; Jane Wilkinson Long, who occupies a unique role in Texas history. The equal of Sam Houston, she is sometimes called the "Mother of Texas"; Sarah Bradley Dodson, who made and presented the first Lone Star Flag of Texas to the Harrisburg troop company in 1835. The flag flew over Washington-On-The-Brazos March 2, 1836, when Texas was declared an independent Republic; Johanna Troutman, who has been called the "Betsy Ross of Texas", she designed and made a flag of white silk, bearing a blue five-pointed star and the inscription "Liberty or Death". Millie Kirkland Bailey married Gus Bailey, a showman and musician who wrote "The Old Gray Mare", her motto was "A Texas Show for Texas People". She was a trail blazer in the entertainment field. (We have women in this field today—Mary Martin, singer from Weatherford who played "Peter Pan" and sang "My Heart Belongs to Daddy". Also, Sandy Duncan, actress and comedienne from Tyler.) In the sports field, we have Sandra Haynie, professional golfer from Fort Worth. In politics, we have Barbara C. Jordan, the only Texas woman in the U.S. Congress and Annie Armstrong, who was counselor and advisor to President Gerald Ford. Others were mentioned and discussed.

It was agreed by all chapter members present that each, as Texas women, contribute in some way to shape the destiny of those who will follow us just as our ancestors shaped our paths for us. After the program, refreshments were served from a table decorated in red, white and blue. Those in attendance were Mmes. Calvin Phillips, Rudy Hamric, Mike Porter, Jimmy Don Hale, J.L. McCright; Misses Josie Baird and Delila Baird; and the hostess, Mrs. Graham. Two members, Mrs. Fairy Graham Crawford of Lubbock and Mrs. S.C. Fisk of Valley Mills, were unable to attend the meeting.

Ozies Ashtons Will Have 50th Wedding Celebration

County Students Eeligible For Service Nominations

Congressman Omar Burleson reminds young men who are interested in competing for nominations to the service academies, for the class entering July 1976, he uses a competitive method of selection so that all young men meet the requirements may be considered.

The service academies are the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colorado; and the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York. These institutions offer a fine education and a great opportunity for service to their country by young men who wish to follow a military career.

In order for Congressman Burleson to consider applicants, a candidate must meet these requirements: (1) He must be a U.S. citizen; (2) He must be over 17 and a legal resident of the 17th Congressional District; (3) He must be under 22 years of age on July 1, 1976; (4) He must never have been married; (5) He must be physically fit, including excellent eyesight; (6) He must have a good high school record.

Burleson stresses that political influence is not a factor in his nominations to the Academies. The important thing is not who you know but what you are.

Interested young men who meet the above requirements should write Congressman Omar Burleson, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515, not later than July 16. Examinations will then be scheduled as a rating device to set up slates for nomination. The competition is keen but Congressman Burleson wants to assure that all young men who are interested in a military career may have an opportunity to compete for nomination.
