Lyndell Ivory

Langdon Reagan

Ivory, Reagan Chosen as Elite of South Plains

Lyndell Ivory and Langdon Reagan have been named to the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal's All-South Plains Six-Man Football Team.

Both Silverton players were chosen for the defensive team, Ivory as a defensive end, and Reagan as a linebacker. Both are seniors.

The Owls ranked third in points allowed among area six-man teams, yielding only 121.

Although Ivory made a bushel of eye-catching plays, Reagan at middle linebacker may have meant more to the Silverton defense.

Reagan had the dubious chore of filling the shoes of first-team all-state linebacker Bradley Brunson and did so with aplomb. Reagan recorded 127 tackles during the regular season, intercepted a pass and recovered three fumbles.

Darren Jones of Guthrie was chosen as Player of the Year, and Dickie Turner of New Home was selected as Coach of the Year.

Coach Clyde Parham faced off against state-ranked McLean and Lazbuddie in the regular season, but called the Jaguars' workhouse "probably the most impressive kid we played against all year long."

"Pound for pound, he's probably the best in the Panhandle—or even anywhere close to the Panhandle," Coach Parham said. "He's not very big, but pound for pound, he's probably the best there is."

Others named to the defensive team were Jason Hodnett, Eric Herm and Aaron Cowley, all of Sands, and Michael Cirilo of Whitharral.

Named to the offensive team were Efrain Guillen, Three Way; Jason

Miles, Amherst; Jones, Guthrie; Blaine Fillingim, New Home; Matt Cozbey, Lazbuddie; Bobby Medlin, Loop.

Specialists chosen were Pank Grigg, Sands, and Matt Hogg, Klondike, as kicker and punter.

Swisher Electric Refunds Capital To Members

Charles Kay, president of the board of directors of Swisher Electric Cooperative, announced today that the Cooperative is refunding over $270,000 in members' capital for the years 1958-1964.

Current and former members of Swisher Electric who received electric service between 1958-1964 will be receiving a refund check based upon the amount of electricity they purchased during these years.

Kay commented, "Capital credit refunds are one of the advantages of being a cooperative member and receiving service from an electric cooperative. Membership and ownership are one-and-the-same with a cooperative. Margins in excess of revenue belong to the member and are credited to his or her account. We are pleased to refund capital credits when financial criteria specified by our lenders is met," Kay said.

Swisher Electric is a non-profit cooperative business, assigning any operating margins to its members based upon a percentage of sales to each member every year. These capital credit assignments are retained by the Cooperative for operating reserves until refunds can be made in compliance with mortgage agreements.

Hoot Out Set to Go January 2-3-4

Silverton's annual Hoot Out is set for January 2-3-4 in the school gym.

Teams that will be playing in both the boys and girls divisions are San Jacinto Christian, Patton Springs, Silverton varsity and junior varsity, Groom, Lakeview, McLean and Trinity Fellowship Christian.

The JV Owlettes will play Groom at 9:00 a.m. Thursday, January 2, and the Owl JV will play Groom at 10:30 that same morning.

The varsity Owlettes go against Trinity Fellowship at 6:00 p.m. Thursday, followed by the Owls and Trinity at 7:30 p.m. January 2.

Winners of the junior varsity games will advance to play the winners of the San Jacinto-Patton Springs games, and losers of these games go into the consolation bracket to play the losers of those games.

The varsity teams will advance to play the winners of the Lakeview-McLean games or will go into the consolation portion of the bracket to play the losers of those games.

The concession stand will be open throughout the tournament, and will be serving good home-cooked foods. Plan now to attend and eat with the S-Club while enjoying some good basketball games.

Workers for the tournament may be found elsewhere in this issue of the paper. Please note your assignment so you will not require someone else to work an extra shift in your place. If you cannot be there, you are responsible for finding a replacement for yourself.

Reagan Home Is Judged Best

The home of Carolyn and Langdon Reagan was chosen as the best decorated and lighted of the Christmas season in Silverton.

Winning second-place recognition was the rural home of J. E. and Mary Jane Patton.

Third place went to Eloy and Erma Reyna, whose large two-story home was outlined with lights in addition to having a Christmas scene in the yard.

The contest was judged by out-of-town judges and was sponsored by the Briscoe County Activities Association.

Apology —

Marsha Brunson, L. O. A. Junior Study Club and the Briscoe County News would like to extend a public apology to Bessie Garrison, Garner, Dorcas, Curt, Cole, Christa and Kina Garrison for the omission of their names from the Christmas Greeting Page.

These names were turned in and their money paid about two weeks before the deadline, but through a mixup they were not printed on the special page.

This family also extended their best wishes for a happy holiday season.

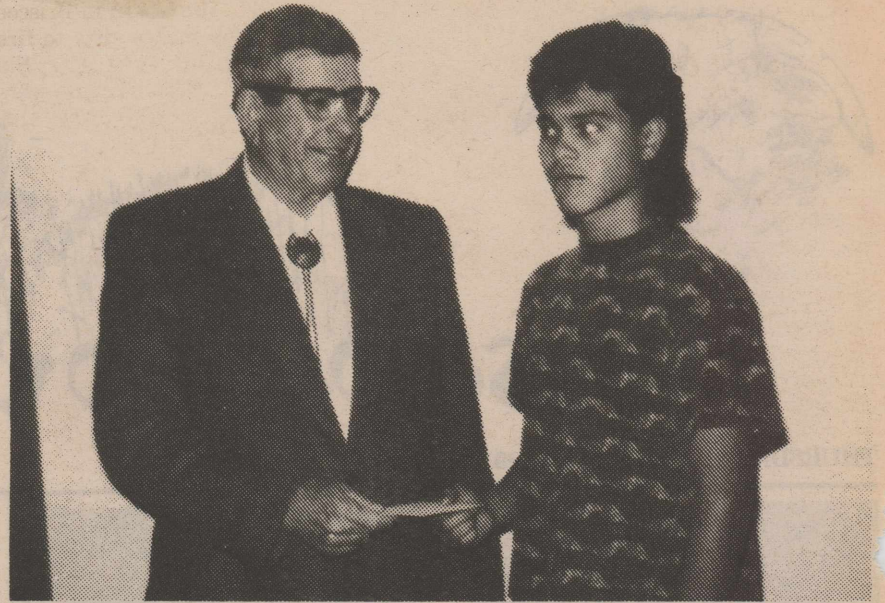

The error is regretted very much.

Dear Santa,

I love you. I want a doll house, Barbie and Barbie clothes, a little Christmas tree, a picture of you. Bring Mommie a watch (a Mickey Mouse one) and daddy some clothes.

That's all.

Thank you, Santa,
 Amanda Kay White

Members of the Eighth Grade Class presented the money they would have spent on exchanging Christmas gifts with one another to the Silverton Cemetery Association last Friday. Phil Patino (right) makes the presentation to Clifton Stodghill.

Handling Grief During Holidays

by Johnny Harrison
Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors

The holiday season is a happy time for most of us; but people who have lost someone who played a vital role in their enjoyment of the season may dread seeing it approach. Instead of anticipating joy, they expect pain.

Since we in the funeral profession are acutely aware of the impact grief has on the families we serve, at this time of year our thoughts turn to the families we know who have lost someone dear to them during the past year . . . and years past. Grief doesn't have to be fresh to be painful at the holiday season, experts in the field of grief counseling tell us.

We funeral directors don't claim to be grief experts, counselors or therapists, but we do have a special interest in keeping up with what experts in the field write about handling grief. Recently I came upon some information I want to share with you as the holiday season approaches. When a family loses one of its members, the holidays become particularly stressful because memories of the loss grow stronger and more upsetting.

Bereaved families might like to enjoy the traditions established through the years, but they may be apprehensive about facing reminders of the reality that someone they miss very much will never again be a part of their traditional activities.

If you have suffered a recent loss, or if the memory of an earlier loss still causes you pain, you may be dealing with several different feelings about the season ahead. You may anticipate pain on the once-joyous holidays; fear making the preparations for the, and possibly wish to avoid the whole season.

You may feel pressure regarding what you think others expect of you, and worry about making decisions as to the traditions you will continue to observe. You also may be anxious because you don't know what to do, and feel that none of the options you are considering will be the right one.

Friends may expect you to participate in holiday parties at the office, church, school or in their homes. Or the opposite may happen. People may leave you alone, not knowing what to say, or believing you want to face your grief by yourself.

You may find the pressure-causing situations easier to take if you, first, realize that they are going to happen, and second, handle them one at a time. For example, wait until the day of an office, church or school party to which you have been invited, see how you feel at that time about going and making your decision then.

Or if you are invited to a private party, it's okay to say, "I hope you understand that the holidays are difficult and I'm trying to take care of myself and the family by not planning too much. May we come at the last minute if we feel we can handle a party that day?" Most people will understand.

In making plans for the holidays, look realistically at your past experiences. What was really enjoyable and what could you have done without? What was really enjoyable and what could you have done without? Choose to do only the things you believe you will truly enjoy.

This may be the year that you will want to give something to a charity or a church, either your time or something tangible. You will find that if you reach out to others who have the same human needs that we all have, you will feel better about yourself. Part of the difficulty in dealing with grief is that the loss changes your whole concept of yourself and how you feel about others.

Regaining some of your identity and putting yourself back in the mainstream of life is a necessary part of healing. During those moments when you are shopping for a toy to give to a needy child, helping a lonely elderly person enjoy the holidays, or giving food to a hungry family, you may realize that you are doing just what is needed to lessen your grief.

You'll be refocusing your mind, from the pain of your loss, to the satisfaction of helping others.

Fix it Fast

Deluxe Nacho Platter

This cheesy party platter is so easy to fix. All the spices you need, except for a touch of cumin, are already included in the package of Lipton® Rice & Sauce — Spanish. The addition of this spicy rice makes your nachos more substantial while adding the perfect blend of seasonings.

Serve the Deluxe Nacho Platter when the gang comes over to watch football or at your next holiday gathering. An ice cold beer, margarita or iced tea is a refreshing accompaniment.

Deluxe Nacho Platter

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 2 cups water
- 1 package Lipton Rice & Sauce — Spanish
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cumin (optional)
- 2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese (about 8 oz.)
- 1 can (4 oz.) chopped green chilies, drained
- 1 bag (7 oz.) corn tortilla chips
- 1 cup chopped tomato
- 1/2 cup sliced pitted ripe olives

In medium saucepan, melt butter and cook onion with green pepper over medium-high heat, stirring occasionally, 3 minutes or until tender. Stir in water, rice & Spanish sauce and cumin and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, stirring occasionally, 10 minutes or until rice is tender. Stir in 1 cup cheese and chilies until cheese is melted; let cool slightly.

In large round shallow broiler-proof baking dish or pie plate, layer 1/2 of the chips, rice mixture, tomato, olives and 1/2 cup cheese; repeat layering, ending with cheese. Broil 1 minute or until cheese is melted. Garnish, if desired, with chili peppers, sliced avocado, sour cream, fresh coriander (cilantro) and additional cheese. Makes about 8 servings.

Microwave Directions: In 2-quart microwave-safe round casserole, microwave butter, onion and green pepper, uncovered, at HIGH (Full Power) 3 minutes. Stir in water, rice & Spanish sauce and cumin and microwave 14 minutes or until rice is tender. Stir in 1 cup cheese and chilies. Let stand covered 5 minutes. In glass pie plate or 9- or 10-inch glass plate, layer nachos as above. Microwave 2 minutes or until cheese is melted, turning plate once. Garnish as above.

The main hostess gift to the couple was a vacuum cleaner which was displayed in the center of the room.

Special guests were Eber's grandmother, Mrs. John Lee Francis, and Ima Nell Francis, both of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Frank of Amarillo.

Hostesses were Bobbye Bean, Mary Jane Patton, Barbara Cawley, Jimmie Sue Estes, Diamond Williams, Carrie Dickerson, Pat McJimsey, Teresa Sutton, Melinda Sutton, LaQuetta Schott, Vivone Arnold, Lanita Cantwell, Faye Perkins and Glenda Francis.

LET US ENJOY THIS HOLIDAY AND REMEMBER ITS MEANING

The hall is decked, the shopping's done,
And presents lie beneath the tree,
All gaily wrapped; a time for fun
And holiday festivity.
Our friends and relatives will call,
As well as neighbors we invite;
A happy time for one and all
When distant loved ones reunite.
But even as we celebrate,
Let's not forget that we should pray,
As lessons of our faith relate
The message of this holiday.
Our House of Worship will explain
The meaning of the Savior's birth:
The love He gave that will remain,
Along with hope for peace on earth.

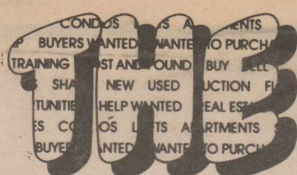

— Gloria Nowak

*Peace on the earth,
good will to men,
From heaven's all gracious King.
— The Angel's Song*

*"Every good gift
...is from above."
— James 1:17*
